School, city meetings have continued topics

Ongoing subjects are again on the agendas of the school board and city council, when those two groups hold their next meetings.

Major repairs and long-term facilities needs will highlight tonight's gathering of school trustees, which is to begin at 7:30 in the administration building.

And city aldermen, who are to meet at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers, will, for the third time, consider retirement benefits of previously-retired volunteer firemen.

When trustees take up their review of facility needs for the fifth time, they will likely consider "a time line leading up to calling of a bond election."

Besides considering construction of classrooms necessary to meet the growing needs of Iowa Park's increasing enrollment, one of the major expenditures that could be included in a bond issue would be to completely re-roof the high school building.

Numerous repairs have been made since the structure was completed 20 years ago, but administrators point out that, based on damages lately, repairs are no longer adequate.

Bids will be considered tonight on repair work on the brick walls of the high school gymnasium.

Expansion joints must be cut into the walls to prevent the entire roof from collapsing, when the metal supports react to severe changes in temperatures, according to experts.

Trustees will also consider a change in its policy concerning academic achievement, and hear a report on energy management plans from Mike Bowling.

Resignations of personnel will be received, new personnel hired, and trustees will consider the setting of salary schedules.

The council, at its last meeting, rescinded previous action to not act on any changes in the benefits early fire department retirees receive, which is $25 monthly.

More recent retirees are receiving $75 per month, but after members of the department reportedly voted to change the program to which they contributed.

Aldermen have given no indication as to whether they will leave the early retiree benefits the same, or to contribute more annually in order for those benefits to be increased.

Also carried over from the last meeting of the council are the topics of acting on the purchase of a new pumper truck for the fire department, and group medical insurance options for employees.

Bids for a new truck have been under study since they were received last week.

The city's tentative agenda also calls for authorization to close the 100 block of West Cash Aug. 12 for a fire department street dance, and to consider budgeting a contribution to the Highland Cemetery.

Street work gets underway

Some residents who live on or travel certain blocks of Texowa and Texas will experience some inconvenience during the next few weeks, according to Mike Price, public works director.

Contractors were to begin this week tearing up the asphalt surfaces on parts of those streets, in preparation of re-building with concrete.

Work on Texas is to begin in the block between First and Second streets. After that is complete, work will begin between Second and Third will start.

Texowa work is to begin near Bradford Elementary, and about half the distance to Ruby will be finished before the north half is undertaken.

Five inches of concrete will be poured over a four-inch sand cushion on both projects.

Drivers are encouraged not to attempt to drive on the new pavement until all barriers are removed.

In order for concrete that thick to be allowed to cure, at least a week is required after pouring, according to city officials.

Celebrators law-abiding, but mess up lake's shore

The number of fireworks complaints in the city were down, and fewer than normal calls for the fire department were reported, but some city officials still have mixed feelings about allowing fireworks to be set off at Lake Iowa Park.

People celebrating July 4th with fireworks leave a lot of residue behind.

Most celebrators apparently took advantage of the city council's permission to use the lake for setting off fireworks. Especially Tuesday.

But all their launching tubes, wrapping papers, etc. were left on the ground and recently-paved parking area.

Virtually nothing was picked up and placed in available trash containers that were made available, according to James Barrington, city administrator, and Mike Price, public works director.

Because Lake Iowa Park is now inside the city limits, and fireworks of any type are not allowed, by ordinance in the city, the council had to pass a temporary ordinance allowing the setting off of fireworks at the lake.

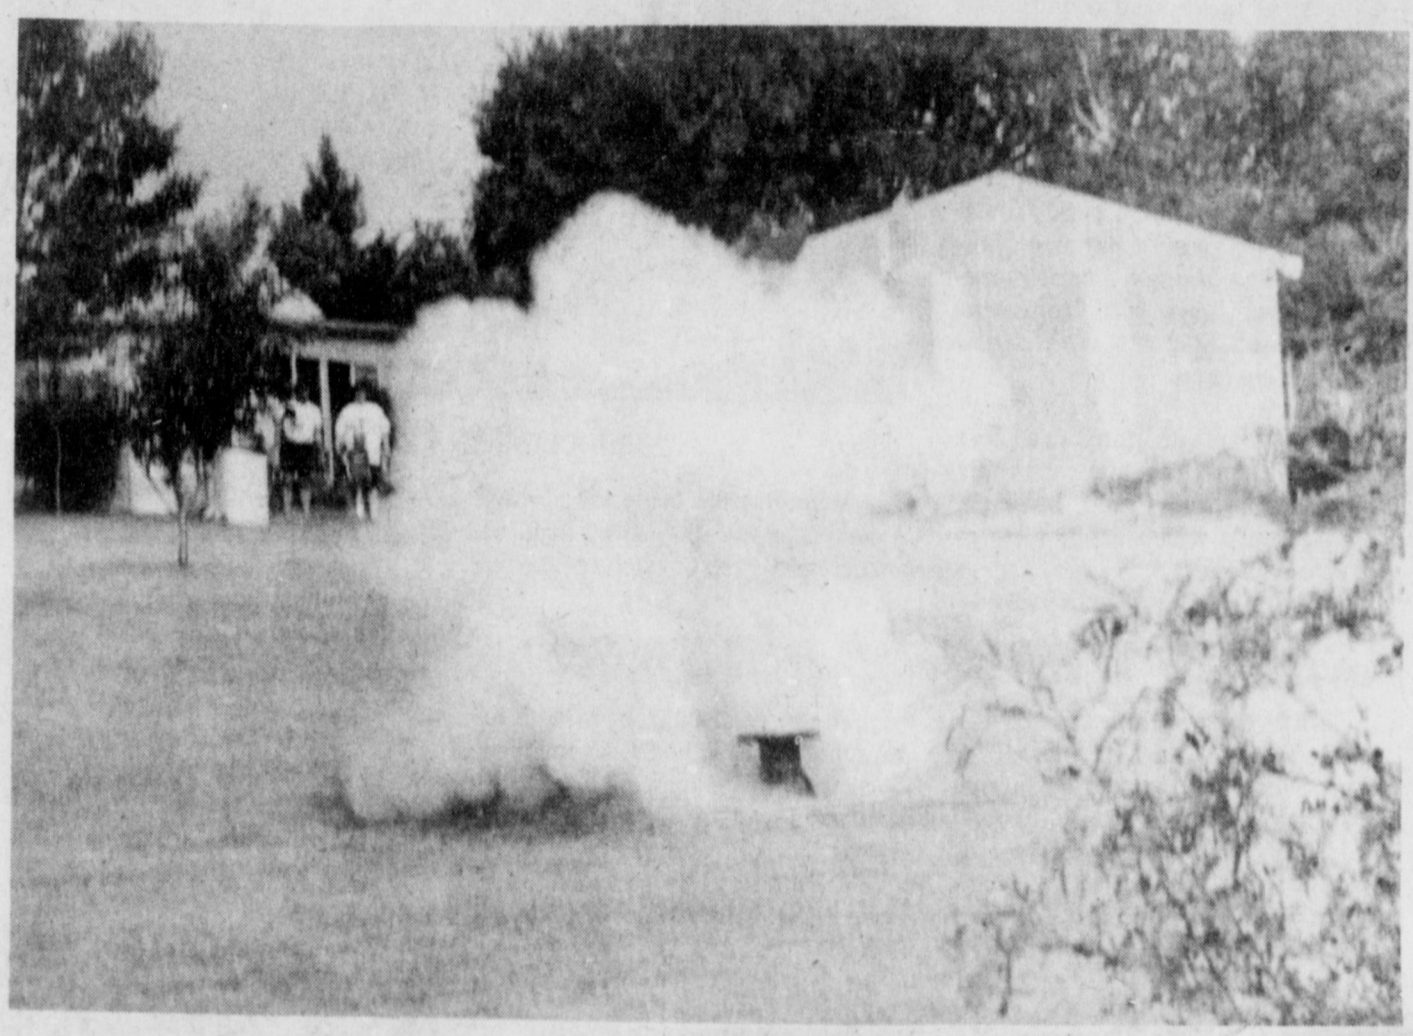

Aldermen passed the temporary ordinance, which expired at midnight

Tuesday, in an effort to hold down the number of complaints elsewhere in the city, as well as possible grass-fires.

It worked, in that respect. Only five fireworks complaints were noted on the police blotter since Thursday.

And Iowa Park volunteer firemen were called out only nine times during the same period. Most of those were well outside the immediate Iowa Park area.

No charges were filed by police against anyone violating an ordinance passed by the council last year which prohibits even the possession of fireworks inside the city limits.

TRADITION CONTINUED - Anyone driving Tuesday in the area of Peterson Road South who thought they heard a sonic boom was mistaken. July 4th is anvil-shooting tradition time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Daugherty. Black gun powder is loaded in a platform over which an anvil, the same one Mrs. Daugherty's father began firing in 1963, is placed. It is set off by an electrical charge. The result is a 20-foot anvil launch, large puff of smoke, and a concussion that makes holding a camera still virtually impossible.

9-1-1 mobile phone call nets hit and run driver

A hit-and-run incident that took place outside the city and reported to 9-1-1 by mobile phone led to the arrest of a suspect in Iowa Park late Sunday night.

The incident was reported to police at 9:39 p.m., complete with description of the vehicle, and police stopped the suspect at Victoria and Ruby.

Mark Swanson, 28, was taken into custody and turned over to a Department of Public Safety trooper, who filed complaints including leaving the scene of an accident, possession of a drug substance and driving while intoxicated.

A pickup that was reported stolen Thursday morning from the 500 block of S. Bond was discovered abandoned just inside Clay County by a sheriff's deputy at 11:32 that night.

The same vehicle was reportedly stolen again, earlier this year. Both times, oilfield equipment was taken from it.

An attendant at a service station on Johnson Road turned over to police a small plastic bag of marijuana he said he found on the floor of a restroom Friday afternoon.

The attendant said he had no idea which of his many customers that had used the rest room that day might have dropped it.

Two men were arrested during the week, in separate instances, when police responded to calls about domestic disturbances. Both were charged with public intoxication.

Jeffery Lee Godwin, 26, was taken into custody at 7:57 p.m. Saturday in the 600 block of S. Bond, and released at 12:20 a.m. after signing a promise to appear in court.

Arrested at 12:12 a.m. Monday in the 200 block of S. Park was Charles Kevin Boykin, 25. He was released at 4:30 a.m. on a personal recognisance bond.

Police are investigating a reported burglary that took place Monday in the 700 block of N. Yosemite. A power saw was alleged to have been taken from a garage.

Also reportedly stolen, in the 1100 block of W. Cornelia sometime Friday, was a bicycle.

Another stolen bicycle case that police received last week was solved last week when it was returned to the yard from which it was taken.

Police took Lelia Kinnett, 21, into custody in the 1000 block of Johnson Road at 1:27 p.m. Thursday on a capias pro fine warrant issued by the Wichita County Sheriff's Office. She was turned over to a deputy at 2:28 p.m., according to the police blotter.

Also arrested, at 6:44 p.m. Saturday in the 400 block of E. Jefferson was Marti Lynn Giovengo, 33. She was wanted on a capias pro fine warrant, animal control complaint, issued by Iowa Park.

CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLE - The Sand Fleas defeated the Spikers in a best two-out-of-three match Friday evening to earn the city's Spring League Volleyball championship. Each team was the best of two 14-team divisions, earning the right to compete for the title. Summer League begins today at the city's two sand courts between Third and Fourth Streets.

Food-handling seminar slated

A food-handling seminar will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce meeting room.

"Anyone who handles food for the public should be interested in this seminar, especially organizations that sell food at the Whoop-T-Do," said Kenneth Via, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Strict enforcement of Wichita County Health Department will be observed, Eddie White, an inspector for the department, has warned.

The Chamber has a special interest in informing organizations of the food handling regulations, because it sponsors the annual Whoop-T-Do, at which non-profit organizations often sell prepared foods to the public.

Commercial food handlers also are encouraged to attend the meeting.

School hosts workshop to save on energy costs

Iowa Park hosted a workshop Tuesday for schools served by the Region Nine Education Service Center, designed to help schools save on energy costs.

It was sponsored by the Energy Management Center for Texas Schools (EMC).

However, only three other school districts besides Iowa Park had representatives present. They were Electra, Chillicothe and Bellvue.

Attending from the local district were Mike Bowling, hired this year to serve as energy-conservation specialist; Robert Palmer, assistant superintendent; Denny McCarthy, member of the school board, and Glen Mitchell, superintendent.

The workshop, which was held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., was entitled "Tapping State and Local Resources to Lower Energy Costs."

Besides salaries, energy is one of the largest portions of the district's annual budget and an area where Supt. Mitchell says he feels a savings can be best realized.

Mitchell said EMC specialists are to return to the local campuses later this year to make a study and provide recommendations for cost savings.

The EMC has already worked with some 269 districts over the state, Mitchell said.

Thursday's workshop explored four areas of interest:

- * common sense actions districts can take with existing staff to reduce energy costs;
- * how interested districts may receive the on-site energy evaluation service provided by the EMC at no cost;
- * testimonials from several area districts which have participated in the on-site program, and,
- * a regional network meeting of school energy managers for the service center.

Feltman, Loggins united in double-ring ceremony Saturday

The Lakeview Church of God was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding uniting Miss Sherri Diane Feltman and Clinton Lee Loggins. Rev. Ole Olds officiated the double-ring ceremony for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Durand Feltman and Mr. and Mrs. O.C. Loggins, all of Iowa Park.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, Miss Feltman was radiant on her wedding day in a formal white gown of shirred taffeta featuring a pick-up skirt over deep lace flounces flowing from a waistline enhanced with a candy box bow in the back. Lace with sequins and pearls trimmed the sweetheart neckline. A pearl headband securing a white fingertip length veil with a blusher completed her wedding ensemble.

She carried a cascade bouquet formed of large white bridal roses with small mauve and country blue roses on a backing of white lace with white mauve and blue ribbons.

Carrying out bridal tradition, Miss Feltman wore a strand of pearls belonging to her mother for "something old" and "something borrowed," her wedding attire for "something new;" and the "something blue" garter. She also wore a new penny in her shoe.

The groom was attired in a silver tuxedo with tails, a white shirt and a silver cummerbund and bow tie, complimented with a boutonniere of two mauve roses.

MRS. CLINTON LEE LOGGINS

Attending the bride were Amy Alderson of Burkburnett as maid of honor, and Teresa Firestone of Byers, sister of the bride, and Remi Thompson of Wichita Falls.

Each wore a floor-length dress of mauve pink bridal satin featuring a basque waist, ruffled shoulders and an acetate and nylon lace overlay on the skirt. To compliment the dress, each carried a nosegay bouquet of large white roses, and small mauve and country blue roses with matching streamers.

Serving as flower girl was Miss Bambi Feltman of Iowa Park, niece of the bride, who presented a charming picture in a tea-length white dress with a lace overlay on the bodice, and tiers of lace trimmed with pearls over the skirt. She carried a white basket holding mauve and country blue roses.

Charlie Stamm of Iowa Park served the groom as best man. Jay Loggins and Larry Loggins of Iowa Park, brothers of the groom, were groomsmen. Jason Firestone of Iowa Park, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Kyle Rickman of Wichita Falls, and Jimmy Feltman of Wichita Falls, brother of the bride assumed ushering duties.

Candlelighters were Shawn Feltman and David Waterbury, nephews of the bride and groom, respectively.

Fathers of the couple, the groomsmen and ushers were attired in silver tuxedos with white shirts, mauve cummerbunds and bow ties and single mauve rose boutonnières.

The ring bearer and candle lighters wore grey slacks with white shirts and mauve bow ties. Mauve rose boutonniere complimented their attire.

The bride and groom exchanged vows before a brass archway intertwined with grape leaf ivy, white gladiola blossoms and white satin ribbon. Two nine-branch candelabras flanked the archway, and were decorated in the same style. Baskets of ivy with mauve forget-me-nots as accents stood on brass stands at the altar extremities.

Pews for family seating were marked with white, mauve and country blue ribbon, centered with mauve and country blue roses.

After the mothers were escorted to the front of the sanctuary, each lit the outer candles of the unity candle.

Sherry Cook, soloist and aunt of the groom, accompanied by Darla Olds, organist, provided music for the ceremony.

Cook offered "You're the Inspiration" after the wedding party was in place. At the end of the ceremony, she sang "Together As One," as the bride and groom lit the center of the unity candle.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Feltman chose a mauve street-length dress fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves, an overblouse with fluted pleats trimmed with lace and rhinestones and pearls down the front of the bodice.

Mrs. Loggins wore a country blue street-length dress with 3/4 length sleeves, a blouson waist and a jeweled neckline.

Kimberly Loggins, niece of the groom, directed signatures of the guests at a registry table covered with a white cloth with a ruffled skirt overlaid in white lace. It held the bride's book, a white pen secured in a candle holder with a mauve candle, and a hurricane globe surrounded by country blue and mauve roses.

The bride's table, covered with a white ruffled skirt and a mauve net overlay caught up in swags with country blue bows, was the focal point of the reception held at the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bridal cake was a three tiered creation iced in white and decorated with an abundance of mauve roses and country blue trim. A bride and groom encircled in a white lace heart and white flowers topped the confection. The table's centerpiece was three mauve hearts topped with white doves and accented with mauve and country blue roses and ribbon and mauve tulle and lace.

A silver punch bowl, frosted candle holders with mauve candles, country blue napkins inscribed with the names of the couple and their wedding date, and crystal serving dishes completed the table setting.

The groom's table was covered with a white ruffled cloth and a blue overlay drawn up at intervals with mauve bows. It held a chocolate horseshoe-shaped cake decorated with pink roses and the names of the couple, a silver coffee service, country blue napkins and crystal serving dishes.

Serving at the tables were Debbie Herder, Judy Edgemond and Linda Cobb, all of Wichita Falls.

The gift table, covered in white lace over a white cloth, held a white basket containing rice bags in blue, mauve and white tied with matching ribbons, the flower girl's basket and ring bearer's pillow.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding include Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Loggins of Humble, Mrs. Robert Patterson, Cody and Kelli of Houston, Artell Blair of Carlsbad, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. F.W. Alexander of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Adair, Tina Adair, Matt and Samantha, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Shephard, all of Oklahoma City.

The couple are graduates of Iowa Park High School.

When they left on a honeymoon trip to Oklahoma City, the new Mrs. Loggins was wearing a floral print tea-length dress fashioned with a deep scoop in the back accented with a large bow, and a corsage of mauve, country blue and white carnations. They will make their home in Iowa Park.

July wedding planned

Miss Mary Jean Harris of Burleson and James Zornes II of Fort Worth will be married July 29 at Joshua Baptist Church in Joshua.

Baptist women meet

Mrs. J.T. Parker directed a program on "Direct Access," which emphasized the priesthood of believers Monday evening at a meeting of the Thelma Smith Baptist Women.

She was assisted by Mmes. Roy Smith, O.S. McLemore and C.L. McKinnon, who represented three missionary women serving on foreign fields with testimonies that show that all men and women have access to the Lord as they engage daily in prayer with Him.

The missionaries and their fields of service were Becky McKinley in Zimbabwe, Missy Moses in Bophuthatwana, Africa, and Patsy Davis in Malawi, Africa.

Mrs. McLemore was in charge of business, where the members voted to furnish needed food items and paper goods for the food pantry for the July missions in action project. Mrs. E.T. Patterson directed the prayer period for 11 foreign missionaries, seven home missionaries and one state missionary whose names appeared on the birthday calendar for the day.

The hostesses for the meeting held in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church were Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Bill Curry. A Fourth of July theme governed refreshment table decorations.

Twelve members and one guest, Mrs. Eleanor Bell of Houston, attended the meeting.

QUESTION: "Is it OK to crush medicines before giving it to my elderly mother?"

ANSWER: "Not always. Many drugs are made with protective coatings, or with special coatings designed for releasing the drug in the intestine instead of the stomach. Some drugs have coatings to assure slow or extended release. Protective coatings are used on bad tasting drugs. When in doubt, ask your pharmacist if crushing a specific medication, or emptying capsule, is advisable."

NEWS BRIEF: Article in Internal Medicine News (21, #19, '88) reports that chocolate can cause heartburn by affecting the valve between the stomach and esophagus. This valve keeps stomach acid from rising and burning the throat. Chocolate was found to raise acidity in the esophagus, a condition that lasted for up to an hour.

Cook of the Week

Vonna (Mrs. Jerry) Walsh told us that she started learning to cook about four years ago, and judging from the recipes submitted, she is quickly becoming a master of the art. She said many of her recipes were given to her by Jerry's mother and grandmother. But the recipe for Banana Nut Bread is a family recipe that she got from her maternal grandmother.

Vonna grew up in Wichita Falls and is a graduate of Rider High School and Vernon Regional Junior College Dept. of Vocational Nursing. She worked in coronary care at Wichita General Hospital a year and a half before going to work for Care Team, where she is a private duty nurse. Her husband, Jerry, is employed by Sear's Automotive in Wichita Falls.

They have two daughters, Tara, six years old, and Ericka, three. The family attends First United Methodist Church.

Vonna's hobbies include aerobics and softball, and she and Jerry play on a slow pitch co-ed team together. Her most important activity, she said, is being a mother.

Worth Quoting

I have always suspected that television advertising, those 30 to 60 blips that cross our home screen, are not as effective as the networks would have us believe. It is hard to believe that a short advertising message, buried within a professional produced program, would change our buying habit or attitudes.

National advertisers seem to be sold on the idea that television sells. They invest $25-billion each year to display their products and services on the tube.

New research by Gerard Tellis, a professor at the University of Iowa, has punctured the overblown sales pitch of the national media marketers.

The conclusion will come as a shock to the national manufacturers that spend an average of $150,000 for production of a TV spot and millions more to air the ad. The facts uncovered in research by Tellis and others points toward the reality that those ad dollars are wasted.

In the Tellis research project, he started from an assumption that consumers do not tell the truth to researchers. All previous consumer buying studies had relied on questions asked of purchasers to determine a link between advertising and buying.

Typically a consumer will be asked if they remember seeing a particular ad, but that recall of advertising is not translated into actual buying of the product. Also people are not honest about why they buy products. When asked they may answer that the soap cleans well or that the toothpaste gets their teeth clean. The real reason may be that mother bought the soap or that the toothpaste makes them feel like a movie star.

In the experiment that Tellis ran, he did not ask the consumers anything about their likes or dislikes, or quiz them about what they bought. Instead he monitored the advertising going into the home and the purchases of the family.

To accomplish this, 250 volunteers in Eau Claire, Wis., were given an identification card to be used at area grocery stores' computerized check out stands. All purchases made by the families in the study were tracked by computer.

Each family had a monitor attached to their television set that kept track of the channels and the times the television was in use. In addition newspapers received by the home were monitored for ad content.

After a year of collecting and comparing data, Tellis came to the conclusion that television advertising has little or no effect on sales. Newspaper ads that featured store specials or coupons, however, resulted in a large boost in sales.

Esther Thorson, an advertising researcher at the University of Wisconsin, interpreted the results by saying that in many homes the television is on, but no one is consciously watching. "Let's face it," she said, "in a typical home, a TV is little more than a talking lamp."

A talking lamp that is costing national manufacturers $25-billion each year for little return.

For our more distant subscribers we can report that this area, having gone through some eight months without enough rainfall to wet the ground, has now had enough.

We seem to have received our yearly supply of rainfall in less than a month, and this came long after the wheat crop was gone.

The ground is saturated and there are playa lakes in this country where they have not been seen in a long time.

If there were some way to spread out this moisture we would be in great shape. As it is, the recent rains have done more harm than good.

And all of us are still trying to total up our hail damage and find somebody to repair it.

The hailstorm of May 6 was devastating in more ways than one and it is a mess to clean up the damage.

I have heard some people say they can make money out of a hailstorm but I have never figured out how, unless you collect a check for damages and then don't make the repairs.

The Internal Revenue Service takes a dim view of this practice and considers that income if you don't spend what you get from the insurance company.

I know a fellow in Spearman who collected a sizeable sum in hail damage some years ago, pocketed the money, made very little repairs, and then was surprised later when the IRS nailed him with penalty and interest for not reporting it as income.

Numbers can make interesting reading unless, of course, you're dealing with government budget items.

You probably read of the baby born at one hour, 23 minutes and 45 seconds past one o'clock Tuesday. The digital readout of such a time of birth translates into a numerical sequence of 1:23.45,6,7,89 which means the baby will have to wait 100 years before the exact sequence comes up again.

Or the matter of 16 years may be of more importance to you as a homeowner in Andrews.

That's how long it's been since the last general hail destroyed the roofs of homes in Andrews. A small portion of homes in the city were hit in 1975 but the general, millions of dollars hail, occurred in 1973.

We read an eye witness report on the Alaskan oil spill by a fellow from Corpus Christi who had just returned from a two months stay up there. He had volunteered to join the Exxon clean-up crews in working the beaches and rocks near Valdez.

He had worked 20 hours a day, seven days a week for eight weeks and had returned to Corpus for a few days off.

Anyway, in connection with the clean-up, we noticed an official report on the actual known fatalities to Alaskan wildlife that is interesting.

According to the Otter Rescue Center in Seward, Alaska, the director, Dr. Jim Styers, reports the fatalities as follows: waterfowl 17,000-plus, sea otters 733, eagles 47, bear 1, owls 1, deer 2, and whales 0.

In light of the fact that the latest figures show Exxon has spent roughly $110-million thus far in the clean-up, that translates into $6,470 per waterfowl.

Add the sea otters, eagles, bear, owl, and deer into one package and it works out to $140,306 per fatality in the latter category.

The Corpus native stated that what burned him up over the news stories concerning the spill was the fact that Alaskan fishermen destroy thousands of sea otters in their nets each fishing season -- but none of media stories carried that fact.

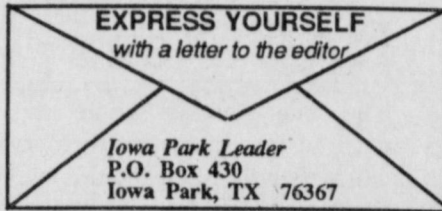

So much for statistics.

A minister was preaching a sermon and referred to the Bible story about Balaam and his talking donkey.

The preacher explained that God had the talking donkey tell Balaam how to better do the Lord's work.

"You might say," the preacher added, "that the donkey was God's Better Business Burro!"

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

Ask me if I was surprised to hear the reaction of one of our state legislators, someone entrusted to writing laws governing Texas citizens, about a proposal to change the U.S. constitution outlawing the burning of the American flag.

No, I wasn't. Because it was made by Houston Sen. Craig Washington, a loudmouth believer that everything should be free and easy.

Washington, who has come up with some of the most liberal bills ever introduced in the state legislature, announced last week a House resolution removing flag-burning from the list of free speech opportunities was "idiotic."

He first pulled a parliamentary maneuver by "tagging" the resolution that was passed by the House and sent to the Senate, which in effect delays any consideration one week.

And then he said he would use his right to filibuster consideration of the resolution, once it does get on the Senate floor, to oppose it.

As I read a report about Texas' gift to the liberal element, the thought occurred to me: Would the good Senator be as adamant about the U.S. supreme court's opinion, had it ruled shooting him with a gun was a free-speech form of making a political statement?

"Our right to freedom of expression is precious. But burning the flag goes beyond the bounds of reasonable protest. We have enough ways to freely denounce our government without desecrating our most cherished national symbol," said my friend State Rep. Charles Finnell.

Bless his heart! We need more like him on our governing bodies.

Washington is completely out of step with the rest of us Texans, as well as Americans.

And that's my free speech thought for the day!

AREA OIL & GAS NEWS

Two 2,000-ft. developmental wells are planned by Tom Swanson of Electra at drillsites two and 2.5 miles south of Fowlkes, Wichita County. The No. 59 Burnett "D" is located in a 140-acre lease, 3,099 feet from the south line and 450 feet from the west line of the SA&MG Survey, A-271. Location of the No. 21 Burnett "E" is in a 90-acre lease in the G.R. Meade Survey A-464. Location is 1,320 feet from the north line and 1,550 feet from the west line of the survey. Both well are in the Wichita County Regular Field.

A Dallas-based operator has staked location for the No. 40-P Burnett-Tidewater, a developmental well to be located four miles south-east of Fowlkes. With projected total depth of 2,000 feet, the well is in a 184-acre lease in the Wichita County Regular Field, HT&B Survey A-507. Location is 550 feet from the north line and 570 feet from the east line of the survey. The operator is Petra Research & Exploration.

Cal Jeter of Wichita Falls has filed for permit to drill the No. 7 McDonald, a 1,900 ft. developmental well eight miles south of Iowa Park. Location is in a 160-acre unit in Wichita County's Denton CSL Survey, A-417. Location is 500 feet from the south line and 1,250 feet from the east line of the survey. The well is in the Wichita County Regular Field.

Continental Exploration of Dallas has plugged and abandoned an unsuccessful developmental venture in the Wichita County Regular Field, two miles southwest of Iowa Park. Spudded April 27, the well probed to a dry bottom at total depth of 1,350 feet. The well was known as the No. 1 Lake "A".

Plug-and-abandon orders have been issued for the No. 6-V Prothro in the Wichita County Regular Field. Spudded February 20, the well was taken to total depth of 1,665 feet with no commercial shows. It was located five miles northwest of Burkburnett with Victory Oil & Gas of Dallas as the operator.

The No. 1 Walker-Smith "A", a 5,000-ft. developmental well, is scheduled to be drilled in the Wilbarger County Regular Field. W.T. Waggoner Estate of Vernon is the operator. The well will be spudded in a 485-acre lease 12 miles west-southwest of Harold in the H&TC Survey, A-927. Location is 900 feet from the north line and 1,200 feet from the east line of the survey.

W.T. Waggoner Estate is planning to conduct re-entry operations at the Nos. 773 and 778 W.T. Waggoner Estate "TE" in the Wilbarger County Regular Field. Drillsites are 4.5 miles southeast of Harold in a 388-acre lease in the M. McLaren Survey. Locations are 750 feet from the south line and 800 feet from the west line; and 1,520 feet from the south line and 1,660 feet from the east line of the survey, respectively.

The original operator was Texaco Inc., and the wells were known as the Nos. 773 and 778 W.T. Waggoner Estate "A". The operations were completed as oil producer in 1984 with bottomholes at 2,950 and 2,800 feet.

Trio Operating of Wichita Falls has given up on its efforts to make a producer out of the No. 1HBJV-Turkett. It was a wildcat try in the H&TC Survey, A-1880, Wilbarger County. The location was two miles north of Farmers Valley. Spudded April 20, the well had reached 8,405-ft. total depth. Location was 1,076 feet from the north line and 1,714 feet from the west line of the survey.

Baker & Taylor Drilling of Amarillo has filed first production figures on a new oil well in the South Conley Field, Hardeman County. The No. 1 Brown Ranch "109" showed potential to pump 66 barrels of oil per day plus eight barrels of water.

The operator has 750 acres leased, with drillsite in the W&NW Survey, A-426, five miles west of Medicine Mounds. Location is 1,065 feet from the north line and 290 feet from the east line of the survey.

The well will produce from perforations in the Mississippian Formation at 8,348 feet into the wellbore.

Total drilling depth was 8,457 feet.

Hardeman County's Quana Field gained a new producer when Texaco Production of Midland completed the No. 3 W.G. Walther two miles north of Quana.

The well indicated ability to pump oil at the rate of 102 barrels of water. It was taken to a 9,006-ft. bottom and plugged back to 6,130 feet. Production will be from a set of perforations in the Palo Pinto Formation, 5,900 to 5,910 feet into the wellbore.

The operation is in a 256-acre lease in the W&NW Survey A-1744. Location is 2,425 feet from the south line and 850 feet from the west line of the survey.

Rules govern computer sales telephone calls

The improper use of computers to make telemarketing sales calls can be a source of aggravation to Texans, but Southwestern Bell Telephone customers are protected by consumer laws that govern these machines and the firms that use them.

"Most complaints about computerized telephone sales fall into one of two categories: calls made at odd or inconvenient hours and calls that do not disconnect after the called party has hung up," said Dan Adams, Bell area manager.

Virtually all computerized telephone calls are made by automatic dialing and announcing devices, or "ADADs." The machines are capable of either storing telephone numbers to be called or producing telephone numbers to be called with a random or sequential telephone number generator. Once a call is made and answered, the ADAD then dispenses a pre-recorded message to the called party.

In Texas, use of ADADs is regulated by the Texas Public Utility Commission. ADAD users operating in Texas must obtain a permit for each ADAD and specify how the machine will be used. State law prohibits the use of ADADs for random or sequential telephone number dialing.

To further reduce public annoyance, ADAD use is restricted to the following hours: Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Sunday, 1:30 to 9 p.m.

When ADADs are used for collection purposes, calls may not be made at any hour that collection calls would be prohibited under the Federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act.

"For those telemarketing firms licensed in Texas, the pre-recorded message must state the nature of the call and the name, address and call-back number of the person, company or organization making the call," Adams said. "The call also should disconnect no later than 10 seconds after you hang up the phone, even if you hang up in the middle of the message."

Southwestern Bell Telephone has the authority to disconnect or refuse to connect service to any person using an ADAD that does not disconnect from a called party's line within 10 seconds.

Failure to obtain an ADAD permit and/or abide by PUC regulations is punishable as a Class C misdemeanor under state law.

The rules are applicable only to those ADAD users operating in Texas and not to ADAD calls originating outside of Texas.

Southwestern Bell Telephone customers should call their local business office listed in the white pages directory to register a complaint against telemarketing companies suspected of violating the rules.

"The PUC is very vigilant about contacting these companies and explaining the consequences of non-compliance," Adams said. "Unfortunately, the PUC cannot control calls made outside of Texas."

Bell customers who want to reduce the number of telephone solicitation calls they receive from national companies should write the Direct Marketing Association (DMA). Although this will reduce calls from many national advertisers, it will not eliminate all calls, especially those that originate in Texas.

To use the DMA's telephone name-removal service, write to: Telephone Preference Service, Direct Marketing Association, 6 East 43rd Street, New York, NY 10017. Your name, address and telephone number (with area code) should be in your letter.

Tax seminar set July 11

A tax seminar designed specially for owners and managers of new Texas businesses will be held Tuesday in Wichita Falls.

"Most new business owners have lots of questions about their responsibility as Texas taxpayers. These seminars will help new taxpayers understand the state tax system, and it will familiarize them with tax returns and other forms," said a spokesperson for the state comptroller's office.

Dan Cremeens, enforcement officer, will be at the comptroller's field office, 3108 Fre Mar Valley, from 7 to 8 p.m.

Seminars are held at each of the field offices four times a year.

TOURNAMENT TIME

Iowa Park to host area major league

It's all star tournament time for Little League Baseball, and Iowa Park will host the area major league meet, starting next week.

The area tournament will be played on the W.F. George Fields on West Magnolia. Besides Iowa Park, teams entered will be Burkburnett and Sheppard AFB.

Activities are to begin at 7 p.m.

with pre-game events including the playing of the national anthem, introduction of players, and the Little League oath.

Iowa Park takes on Sheppard immediately following.

The 13 year old all stars are to take on Sheppard at 5:30 p.m. Monday, at Burkburnett.

Also in the tourney are Brazos Valley, Olney and Burkburnett.

Senior League all stars begin their tournament against Burkburnett July 17 at Olney, starting at 5:30 p.m. Teams from the same towns as are in the 13 year old meet are entered.

Girls' softball major league all stars will play Sheppard AFB at the base field, starting at 5:30 p.m. Monday. Graham, Jacksboro and Olney also are entered.

Senior league girls' softball all stars will hold their tournament also at Sheppard, starting July 15.

Iowa Park takes on Jacksboro in the first game. Graham, Jacksboro, Sheppard and Iowa Park are the only teams entered.

Iowa Parkan member national champ team

Iowa Parkan Norman Williams is a member of the Texas Roughnecks, winners of the U.S. National Senior Olympics volleyball tournament played June 21-22 in St. Louis, Mo.

But that wasn't new. The same team won the tourney in 1987.

Williams, who lives at 100 E. Aldine, is employed as an accountant by Kadane Oil Co., and has been playing noon volleyball at the YMCA in Wichita Falls the past 25 years.

But his team mates aren't those with whom he plays at noon. Rather, he has joined senior players from east and south Texas, to make up their championship combination.

The national tournament format consisted of pool play, with two teams from each pool playing single elimination for the finals.

"We didn't lose a game throughout the tournament, taking the gold medal by beating Michigan in the finals," he commented.

Enroute to the finals, the Roughnecks bested teams from New York, Tennessee, Minnesota and Oklahoma.

Williams was selected to the all-star team both 1987 and 1989.

How many more titles will the tall and talented accountant seek? Maybe not any.

"I'm thinking seriously about hanging them up," Williams said.

McQueen elected TPA president

Roy McQueen

Roy McQueen, publisher of the Snyder Daily News, was elected president of the Texas Press Association during the group's annual meeting held in Arlington, June 22-24.

McQueen succeeds Fred Lowe, publisher of the Lampasas Dispatch Record, who becomes chairman of the board.

Founded in 1880, the Texas Press Association includes 518 newspaper members. McQueen, a member of the TPA since 1968, has served as a director of the organization twice, as well as vice president.

McQueen, 44, has been in the newspaper business for 30 years. He began his career as a sports reporter for the Andrews County News in 1959 when he was in the 8th grade. While in high school, he worked for the semi-weekly newspaper and filled the role of news editor his senior year when the news editor resigned to take a position with the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

During those years he was also editor of the high school newspaper, and worked after school at the Andrews County News. Still using hot type production, it was here that McQueen was introduced to hand-set headlines and page make-up.

When he graduated from high school in 1963, McQueen was awarded a journalism scholarship from the West Texas Press Association, a regional press organization of which he later became president. As a freshman, McQueen attended North Texas State University. The following year, he commuted to Odessa College and worked full-time at the Andrews County News.

In 1965, he transferred to Texas Tech University and went to work nine months as an information specialist in Germany.

In 1970, McQueen returned to the Seminole Sentinel. In December of that year, the newspaper was changed to semi-weekly. While in Seminole, he was president of the Industrial Foundation and Seminole Rotary Club.

In 1976, McQueen and associates in Roberts Publishing Co. purchased the Snyder Daily News. During his 13 years as publisher of the 6-day daily, the company has built a new modern facility complete with 6-unit Goss Community press. McQueen also writes a daily front-page column and directs a staff of 21 employees.

In Snyder, he has been active in the chamber's economic development committee. He was active in successful efforts to secure a 1,000-bed state of Texas prison in Snyder which employs approximately 350 persons. The efforts of McQueen and the Snyder Daily News resulted in the newspaper being awarded the Community Service award from the TPA in 1988.

McQueen also is a member of the Snyder Lions Club, and a deacon of the 37th Street Church of Christ. He is a former member of the Snyder school board and is currently a member of the board of managers of Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Married to Bettie Harmon, also of Andrews, the couple has one son, Marc, who is a sophomore at Texas A&M University. Bettie, a business education graduate of Texas Tech University, is dean of instruction at Western Texas College in Snyder.

McQueen also serves as a director of the Vernon Daily Record, Lovington Daily Leader, Seminole Sentinel, Hereford Brand, and North Plains Printing Co.

for O.G. Nieman at the Slaton Slatonite. On the weekly newspaper, McQueen handled both news and advertising.

In 1966, McQueen joined the editorial staff of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. Most of his stint at the Avalanche-Journal was in sports, both as a reporter and deskman. He also served one year as managing editor of the University Daily and taught the reporting and editing lab for the school's journalism department.

Upon graduation from Texas Tech in 1968, McQueen became publisher of the weekly Seminole Sentinel. In October of that same year, he was drafted into the U.S. Army and took a leave of absence from the newspaper.

In the army, McQueen served as a public information specialist and was editor of the Fort Bliss Monitor. He also spent
