Busy Halloween planned for 'goblins'

Ghosts and goblins will have a lot more to choose from Halloween night, which is next Tuesday, than door-to-door trick or treating.

One of the new stops for trick or treaters this year will be the police station where, between 5:30 and 8:30 p.m., candy and surprises will be available.

"You may even see Mickey Mouse," one officer commented.

As usual, youngsters are being encouraged to make Heritage Manor one of their stops between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Iowa Park High's Students Providing Advanced Academic and Classical Education will be collecting for UNICEF 7-8 p.m. in various neighborhoods in the community.

UNICEF provides various needs for children around the world, such as food, water, vitamins and immunizations.

Sponsor Candice McKee explained: 25-cents feeds one child for one day in an emergency; 50-cents saves five children from life-threatening dehydration; $1 buys vitamin A for children to prevent blindness, and $5 immunizes a child against six childhood diseases.

For youngsters between age two through the fifth grade, a free carnival will be available 6-8 p.m. at Lakeview Church of God.

And, between 6:30 and 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, children are encouraged to have their costumes judged, as well as playing games and visiting treat booths.

Children and families are being encouraged to attend.

As usual, police are encouraging anyone driving on city streets that night to be extra cautious, because some Halloween costumes are dark and enthusiastic youths are not always careful while canvassing neighborhoods for treats.

And for those wanting to get a warm-up for Halloween, the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center will sponsor a "haunted house" from 7 p.m. to midnight Saturday.

A fee of $1 per person per trip through the scary place will be charged.

And a Halloween party for pre-schoolers will be held Friday, at the RAC, 9-10:30 a.m.

Hawks are reminded of Decatur drubbing

There's a reminder on the chalk board in the Hawks' dressing room about last year's 47-7 drubbing at the hands of Decatur, and the fact that it happened in Iowa Park's homecoming game.

The Hawks are supposed to remember that when they take on the Eagles at 7:30 tomorrow night in Decatur, in an important 5-AAA contest.

Though Iowa Park is 6-1 and Decatur is 4-3 for the season, both clubs are undefeated in district play along with Vernon.

Last year's loss to the Eagles was only the second time in the nine-game series between the two schools since 1969.

The two clubs have been in the same district since 1984. That first year, the Eagles won 14-7, but Iowa Park had the upper hand, 17-7, 26-14 and 24-21, before last year's defeat.

All three of Decatur's losses have been to powerhouse clubs: 20-14 to state-ranked Class AA Pilot Point in the season opener: 38-13 to Class AAAA Justin Northwest, and 36-0 to defending AAA champion Southlake Carroll.

The Eagles shut out Olney, 29-0, and Boyd, 31-0, before entering district play. They had a surprisingly difficult time with Bridgeport, 12-7, and last week humbled Graham 26-12.

An indication of their strength, the Eagles held Gainesville to a 1-1 preseason scrimmage, and it was the Leopards who handed the Hawks their only loss of the season, 20-14.

In that loss to Pilot Point, the Eagles turned over the ball four times on fumbles, but matched their opponents in yardage, 238-237.

The Eagles also lost four fumbles in the Northwest loss, three of which led to touchdowns.

Decatur lost sensational sophomore runningback Artabus Driver via grades, along with two wide receivers.

Driver racked up touchdowns on runs of 21 and 57 yards against the

News Briefs

Time to set back time

It's time to go back to Standard Daylight Time from Daylight Savings Time, and clock-watchers will want to make their changes before going to bed Saturday night.

Clocks will be set back one hour (spring forward, fall back), so those going to bed at 10 will want to set their clocks to 9.

Marching contest Saturday

Fans of the Mean Green Marching Machine will have a chance to see it in the U.I.L. marching competition Saturday afternoon at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls.

Iowa Park High School Band will perform at 2:30 p.m., following the Junior High Band, which will march at 2:15.

The competition will begin about 8:25 that morning, with all area A and 2A bands to march before noon, and 3A, 4A and 5A bands scheduled for the afternoon.

Iowa Park is competing against some 12 bands to advance to area contest.

Absentee voting underway

Voters wishing to cast absentee ballots in the Nov. 7 state constitutional amendments election can do so at the school tax office, on the campus of Kidwell Elementary.

Qualified voters of Precincts 32, 33 and 34 will have until Nov. 3 to cast their ballots, if they wish to vote by absentee.

Absentee voting is also underway at the school administration building for the Nov. 14 school bond election.

Those casting absentee ballots in the bond election will have until Nov. 10.

The administration building is open for absentee voting between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. each weekday.

Bloodmobile here Monday

A Red Cross community blood drive will be held from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Monday at Faith Baptist Church.

"We're inviting all area residents to take time to donate," Ed Anderson, blood drive chairman, said. "Our goal is to collect 50 units of blood. During our last drive, 21 units were collected."

This year, 24,990 units of blood must be collected to meet patient blood needs in the Red River Region.

The number includes a percentage built in to account for units lost through the testing process and is an average of 100 units every working day.

Red River Region covers 42 hospitals in a 35-county area.

Donors must be between the ages of 17 and 70, weigh at least 110 pounds and in good health to be eligible to donate blood.

Police solve theft case

For the second time this month, Iowa Park police have solved a theft case. And as the first case, it involved young people.

The department last week received a report that a wheel and tire, stereo unit and license plate had been taken from an automobile at Sam's Body Shop which had been wrecked by a NATO student pilot from Shepard AFB.

Officer Ray Smock said the tire and wheel and stereo had been recovered, as well as other items that had not been included in the theft report, but not the license plate.

Interviews were held with high school students starting last Wednesday, and resulted in the arrests of six juveniles and one 18-year-old.

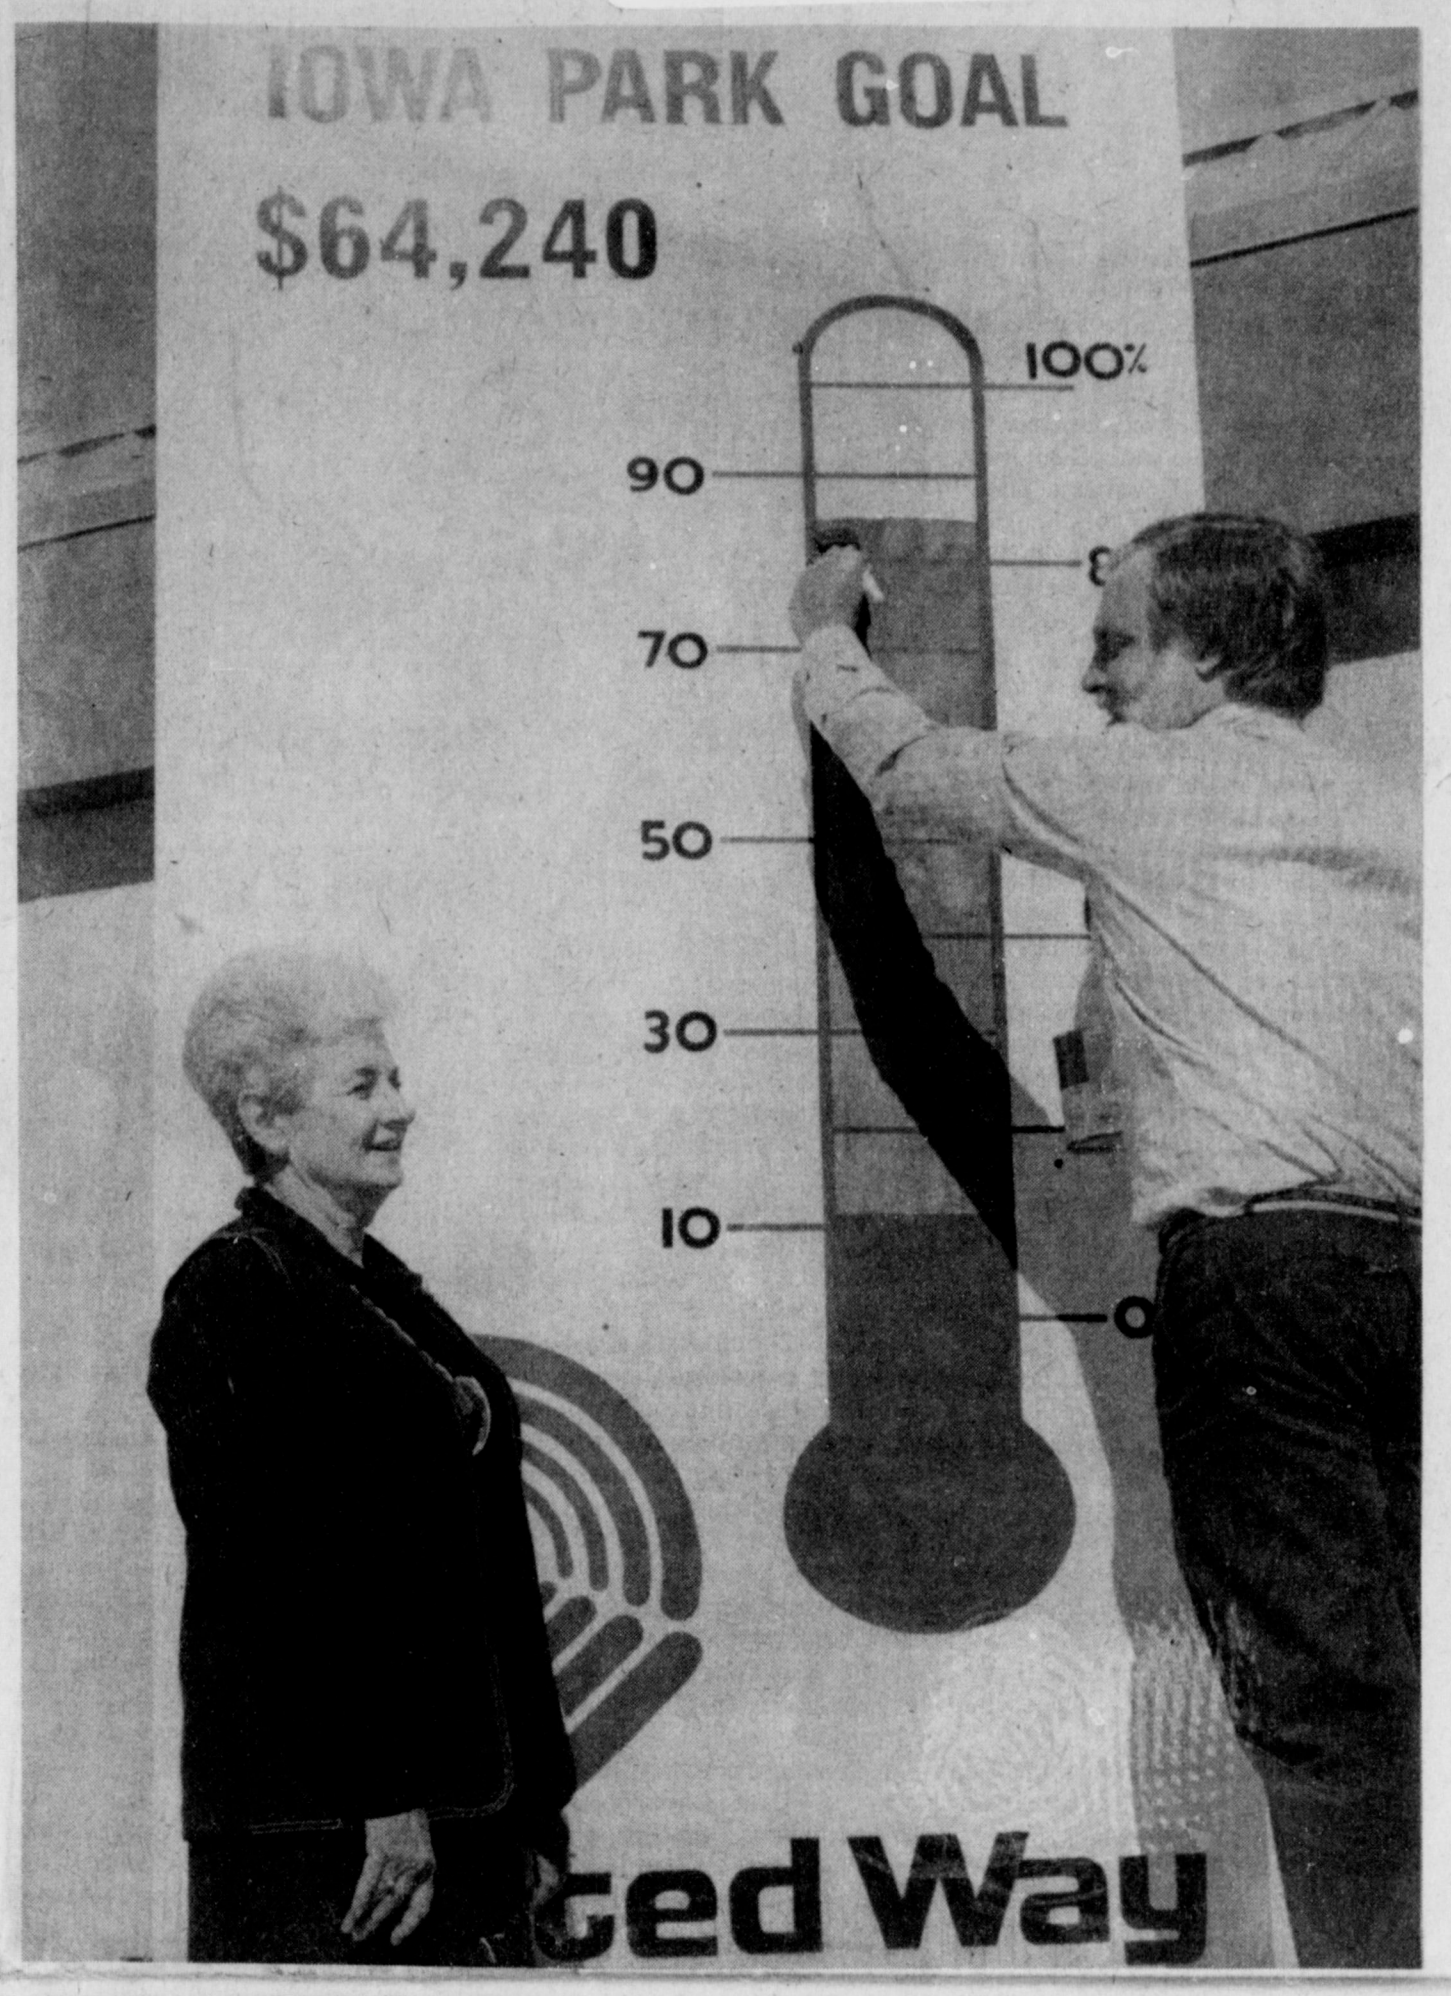

The juveniles were turned over to parents.

Donnie Watson, 18, was charged with theft over $200 Friday, which involved the tire and wheel, and taken to county jail.

The other theft case cleared involved money and personal items from a dressing room at the junior high school.

Smock said his investigation is continuing.

Two persons were arrested shortly after midnight Tuesday night at Bell Road and Ruby, on charges of NEARING THE GOAL - John Mollet's filling in of the United Way goal thermometer posted at the Chamber of Commerce building is viewed by Myrna Robinson. As of Monday, Iowa Park has reached 86.3 percent of its goal, having collected in cash and pledges $55,454. The total includes $50,939 business and industry, $1,626 enterprise, $1,409 public employees, $1,045 professional and $435 gifts.

Council gives approval to four-way stop signs

City aldermen Monday night unanimously approved an ordinance authorizing four-way stop signs to be placed at the intersection of Texas and First Street.

Installation of the signs was requested by residents of the area who said they wanted the traffic to be slowed down.

The council delayed action from its previous meeting while a study was made of the traffic volume and speeds of vehicles traveling that area.

The counter indicated 332 vehicles used West Texas at First during a 24-hour check, and a radar study by police indicated 12 percent of those vehicles clocked exceeded the speed limit.

Alderman Bud Burch and Mayor Tim Hunter both commented the number of vehicles and speeds did not seem to justify a four-way stop.

However, Burch, who made the original motion two meetings earlier did so again, and all members voted approval.

Following the vote, Alderman Bud Mercer told residents of the neighborhood who were in the audience that he voted for it only because the residents requested it, not because he felt it was needed.

No one in the audience Monday spoke against the placement of the signs.

The council, after considerable discussion, approved final payment to the contractor that rebuilt two blocks of West Texas.

Discussion was held concerning an addition of $2,620 for a "change order," which raised the last payment to $11,151.18. The city had already paid $76,780.65.

Council members felt the change order bill was in response to a fine the contractor, Tom McGrath, had been charged, in a situation not related to the paving.

The mayor instructed engineer Kerry Maroney, "You can tell him (McGrath) when you give him the check that we will remember."

The city received only one bid in response to an advertisement to buy a rubber-tired loader/backhoe, but approved the purchase from Case for $25,344 after a $7,500 allowance for trade-in.

The company will finance the purchase up to five years at eight percent interest, as part of the purchase agreement.

Aldermen voiced opposition to a proposal from Andy Arrington that he would give a 25x225-foot piece of land in the south part of town to the city as a gift.

Members said the property would be more a problem than a benefit.

Also rejected was a request from State National Bank that the city reduce fees for monitoring financial institutions' alarms at the police station.

At the request of the City of Woodville, the council approved a resolution to support Proposition Eight on the state constitutional amendment ballot Nov. 7.

The proposition provides for bond issuance for construction of correctional facilities.

Also approved was a resolution to create a steering committee to review a rate increase request by TU Electric. Alderman Bud Burch, who is an employee of Lone Star Gas Co., abstained from voting.

A third resolution to pass with approval of the council was one supporting passage of legislation to require the state to provide funding for mandates to local units of government.

Lyons, Amburn wed in double-ring ceremony

Northside Baptist Church was the setting for a Saturday evening wedding uniting Donna Christine Lyons and Robert Allen Amburn. Earl Correll, pastor, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Lyons is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Lyons of Iowa Park, and the bridegroom is the son of Mary Jo McClanahan and the late Edmond Amburn of Maryville, Tenn.

Escorted to the candlelit altar by her father, the bride was radiant in a white satin gown featuring a fitted bodice with an off-the-shoulder neckline. Sheer lace adorned the neckline and trimmed the hemline, which was caught up on each side with large white satin bows. To compliment her gown, she wore a lace and silver pearl headband to secure a fingertip white lace veil with silver inlays and a large lace pouf in the back with sprays of pearls.

An arm bouquet formed of a dozen white roses added the finishing touch to her attire.

In keeping with bridal traditions, Miss Lyons wore earrings for "something old;" her wedding gown as "something new;" a necklace belonging to Mindy Mowery for "something borrowed;" and a blue comb in her veil for "something blue."

The bride was attended by Janice Mowery of Wichita Falls as matron of honor, who wore a red taffeta tea-length gown fashioned with a black ruffle at the hemline.

Diana Lyons and Charlotte Cook, both of Wichita Falls and sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Miss Lyons was attired in a floor-length red taffeta gown with melon-puffed sleeves accented with petite black bows at the shoulders. The fitted waist went to a full skirt with a ruffle at the hem. Mrs. Cook wore a tea-length gown style the same at Miss Lyons', without the ruffled hem.

Each of the female attendants carried white lace fans decorated with roses, ivy and red and white bows.

Misses Lindsy Correll of Wichita Falls, and Kim and Amy Wynn of Charlie, presented a charming trio of flower girls.

Mrs. Robert Allen Amburn

Miss Correll wore a red dress featuring a two-tiered ruffled skirt, and the Wynns wore identical red and white polka-dot dresses with ruffled hems. Each of the girls carried a white basket filled with red roses and greenery.

Wayne Correll of Wichita Falls served the groom as best man, and Charles Correll of Wichita Falls and Daryl Erskine of Burkburnett were groomsmen.

Brandon Correll of Wichita Falls was ring bearer, and carried a heart-shaped pillow decorated with red sweetheart roses, silver leaves and black and red streamers.

Grady Hallum of Burleson and Michael Baker of Iowa Park were ushers.

Candlelighters were Amanda and Justin Correll of Wichita Falls.

The couple exchanged vows at an altar flanked with white, five-branched candelabras holding burning white tapers. Each of the candelabras were centered with an arrangement of red roses and ivy amid a white bow with red and white streamers. Silver fans with red bows were placed on the walls of the sanctuary.

Seating for the guests was marked with potpourri fans decorated with wedding bells and flowers tied with red, white and black ribbon at the base, and red and white lace on the edges.

Becky Campbell provided music for the ceremony, and piano accompaniment for John Boy Lee who sang "The Best Thing That Ever Happened To Me." Traditional wedding marches were used.

A reception followed the ceremony at TU Electric Reddy Room, where the focal point was the adjoining bride and groom tables. Each was covered in white with white net overlays caught up at the corners with red, black and white bows.

One table featured the two tiered bridal cake. The white-iced confection had a square base with a round tier raised above with Grecian posts. Each tier was adorned with white roses tipped in red, white wedding bells and black bows. The cake was topped with white doves.

White ceramic love birds sat upon the base of a tree, its branches forming an arch, for the table's centerpiece.

Cynthia Boren and Brenda Reasor presided at the tables.

Tania Jenkins secured signatures of the guests.

Special guests for the wedding were Mrs. Margie Byrd of Wichita Falls, great-grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Joyce Hallum of Iowa Park, grandmother of the bride. Other out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hallum and Grady of Burleson, and Melissa Hallum of Lake Jackson.

The bride is a graduate of Iowa Park High School, and is employed at Flowerama at Sikes Senter Mall. Amburn is a graduate of William Blount High School in Maryville, Tenn., and is employed by Blume Tree Service.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

State Rep. Dan Morales of San Antonio visited in the office a while one day last week. It's part of his campaign for state attorney general.

As I told him, I'll give any candidate exposure in these pages, if he will visit in our community and I know about it. But in saying that, I pointed to a large stack of "public announcements" from all the various candidates for offices which will never be seen in print in the Leader.

I'd met Morales earlier, at a meeting in Austin, and must admit I like him, personally. I like most of his ideas. But that may be because he lists himself as a conservative, which is rare among those of the Democratic party and even more so among persons with Hispanic surnames.

We agreed that the state legislature must stop passing mandates on political entities, without funding.

He said a bill calling for that was held up in the last session, after passing in committee, by calendars committee members. A pox on those people!

We disagreed that the governor should add school financing to the agenda of the special session that has been called for work exclusively on the important workers' compensation reform bill.

Nothing, in my mind, should be added to that special session. My gosh, it was the first bill offered in the house of representatives (HB-1), and was never settled in the longer regular session.

We agreed the problem was the stubbornness of the senate in working out an agreement on the bill.

We also agreed on another topic: the present attorney general.

Morales had absolutely nothing kind to say about Jim Mattox, and that guy has been a thorn in my side ever since I met him, which was right after his election to the state's top legal post.

I must admit, Rep. Morales will have my attention when the election is held, regardless of his party affiliation. I'm a Republican, but have been known all my voting life to vote more for the candidate than the party.

That, my friends, is the main reason this country's political situation is in the mess it endures.

And I offer our state's agriculture commissioner, Jim Hightower, as a prime example.

Daughter survives quake

After trying to contact their daughter in California by telephone Tuesday of last week, an Iowa Park couple finally made contact and learned she was not injured in the big earthquake.

Mrs. Loyd Holmes said her daughter, Sherry, lives in the community of Concord, but works in Oakland.

After hearing of the earthquake and damage, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes began trying to contact their daughter without success.

But at 11:30 p.m., she called to report she was unharmed and her apartment was not affected.

Miss Holmes, who moved there last March, works in Oakland as a security guard.

Iowa Park School Scene

...All information prepared by Iowa Park School Counselors

Parents and teachers are partners in an extremely important venture—the education of a child.

Like any joint venture, communication and discussion are extremely important in facilitating a successful outcome. A parent-teacher conference is one means used by schools to give parents and teachers an opportunity to meet in person to discuss the child's education.

Following is a list of important information parents can obtain from the child's teacher during a parent-teacher conference.

-Suggestions the parent can use at home to help the child succeed in school.

-The strengths and weaknesses of the child in relation to academic subject areas (achievement and ability level).

-How much effort has the child put forth in class?

-An explanation of any ability groupings and the child's placement within these groups.

-The social progress of the child (interacting with peers, behavior, perceptions of self).

-An overview of the curriculum which will be taught prior to the next parent-teacher conference (goals, objectives, books and materials which will be used).

-Clarification of classroom rules and policies (discipline, grading, homework).

-A presentation and explanation of standardized test results.

-Samples of work (preferably samples which will show progress and changes).

The parent-teacher conference is also an opportunity for parents to give teachers information which will enable the teacher to more effectively work with the child.

-Any special health needs or problems.

-After school activities, outside interests, and hobbies.

-Students' perceptions about school (likes, dislikes).

-Behavior patterns in the home and interaction with family members.

-Methods of discipline which are effective with the child at home.

-Student's perception of the teacher.

-Study habits.

Tax seminar slated, Nov. 7

A tax seminar designed especially for owners and managers of new businesses will be held Tuesday, Nov. 7, in Wichita Falls.

John Deluna, enforcement officer for the state comptroller's office, will be at the comptroller's field office, 3108 Fre Mar Valley, from 6 to 8 p.m.

"Most new business owners have lots of questions about their responsibility as Texas taxpayers. These seminars will help new taxpayers understand the Texas tax system, and it will familiarize them with tax returns and other forms," said Bob Bullock, comptroller.

Worth Quoting

Often when my mom was really mad at me, she would either be "mad as an old wet hen" or "so mad I can't see straight." I was reminded of that a couple of weeks ago when a pair of friendly deputies walked into the office to hand me some papers in a lawsuit.

"What's it about?" I asked the officers. "Oh, it's just some sort of tax suit," they said. Strange, I thought, because I knew I had paid all my dues to the tax hungry bureaucrats of Wise County.

"The old wet hen" came flogging when I read the suit. The out-of-county lawyers who represent the Decatur Independent School District and Wise County were suing me because I had a judgment against a deadbeat from whom they were trying to collect overdue taxes.

I called my friend Tony Neighbors, the Conoco distributor, because he was also sued along with the banks in Rhome and Alvord and a couple of others. His furor matched mine.

"You have been sued," began the petition in no uncertain terms. "You have the right to consult a lawyer." That sent me scurrying to friendly lawyer Ed Forbis who said the school district and county really weren't suing me to get me to pay this guy's taxes, only to get ahead of me in line to be paid in case he suddenly becomes generous in paying his bills.

Ed assures me this is a perfectly legal ploy. It may be legal, but that doesn't make it right. Those of us named in the lawsuit have to get an attorney to file an answer to the lawsuit.

Those of us who pay our taxes think everybody should pay, and I'm all for the entities suing the deadbeats, but they can darn sure leave me out of the lawsuits.

As far as I'm concerned they can stand in line like the rest of us to get their money from those who can't or won't pay their bills.

Biting my hand, just because somebody else won't feed them, is ludicrous. But it is an indication of the contempt some taxing entities hold for their taxpayers.

Grace income up

W.R. Grace & Co. has announced that its third quarter after-tax income from continuing operations nearly doubled compared to the 1988 period, to $98-million, due to a net gain from the restructuring of the company's energy-related operations. Sales advanced seven percent to $1.5-billion.

On a per-share basis, Grace earned $1.15 in the quarter, versus 60-cents earned in the third quarter last year, according to the company's home office.

For the first nine months of 1989, after-tax income from continuing operations was $173,264,000, or $2.03 per share, compared with $136,574,000, or $1.61 per share, increases of 27 percent and 26 percent, respectively.

Third quarter sales for Grace Specialty Chemicals were $794-million, a five percent gain over 1988.

Grace is the parent company of the Cryovac plant.

Dyer honored at tea Sunday

A tea honoring Betty Dyer, Deputy Grand Matron for the coming year, was given Sunday afternoon at Tom Burnett Memorial Library, hosted by Iowa Park Chapter #42, Order of the Eastern Star. Worthy Matron Jo Gilbert presented Mrs. Dyer with her deputy pin and presided at the guest book.

Youngsters enjoy Halloween party

A Halloween party was given for Candace Michelle Smock, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smock, in her home Saturday afternoon. Hostesses were her sister, Tina, and Chrystle Camp.

Also presented were 25 other Grand Chapter appointees in attendance and their names and titles were placed on a scroll prepared by Jr. Past Matron Sue Tillery.

Worthy Matron Kathryn Sawyers of Wichita Falls Chapter #237 provided background music throughout the tea.

The guests bobbed for apples, played games, and gathered goodies from a ghost pinata. First, second and third place awards were given for the best costumes.

The refreshment table was centered with a "shades of pink" floral arrangement. Pink plates and napkins, strawberry punch, tea cookies and star shaped mints completed the table setting.

Following the games, hot dogs, chips, punch and cupcakes were served.

Eighty guests attended from Quanah, Crowell, Vernon, Electra, Burkburnett, Wichita Falls, Petrolia, Blue Grove, Henrietta and Iowa Park.

Attending were Jessica and Missy Conklen, Joscelyne Tomlinson, Audrea, Eric and Nathan Stokes, and Carl Alfret.

Serving as hostesses were Sue Tillery, Sylvia Ritchie, Arlena Rohrbach, Jean Caudle, Coleta Grubbs, Lib Cabe and Mary Troutman.

HAPPY CHRISTIAN LIVING A WAY OF LIFE

Count your blessings, not your troubles. Other people don't need your troubles. They have enough of their own. Malachi 3:10.
Live one day at a time. You can control and conquer any sin if you will learn to live one day at a time. James 4:13-15.
Learn to say, "I love you." Break the alabaster box of kindness to as many people as possible each day. Mark 14:3-6.
Learn to be a giver and not a getter. If you are failing to get out of life what you want, it is because you are expecting to get instead of give. Luke 6:38.
Seek for good in everyone. Be a good seeker and not a fault finder. Matthew 7:1-5.
Pray every day. Reserve a time in your day to thank God for His many blessings and ask for His guidance. Luke 18:1.
Do at least one good deed each day. Plant the seed of goodness and it will produce after its kind. Acts 10:38.
Learn to count. All things have a place in life. Some cannot keep the important things in first place. Mt. 6:33.
Let nothing bother you. We let too many little things destroy our life. We even allow imaginary things to bother us. Philippians 4:6,7.
Practice the do it now habit. The road to hell is paved with good intentions. 2 Corinthians 6:1,2.
Fill your life with good. Clean out the trash and fill your life with good thoughts and good deeds. Phil. 4:8.
Learn to laugh and learn to cry. Over 70% of all physical ills could be overcome if we could learn these. Romans 12:15.
Learn to practice the happiness habit. Learn to smile and the world will smile with you. Philippians 4:4.
Learn to fear nothing or no one. Think on your powers and not on your weaknesses. Crowd out fears with faith. Hebrews 11:1-6.
Let go and let God take over. The only way to find peace and happiness is to let God take the controls of our life. Psalm 23.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Willie Hastings

The recipes that Rosemary (Mrs. Willie) Hastings chose to share with our readers this week are certain to become favorites with them as they have with her family.

A particular family favorite is the recipe for "Chicken Pot Pie," given to Rosemary by her mother. She said her mother used homemade biscuits in the preparation, but has found that prepared biscuit mix works pretty well.

The recipe for "Rice Casserole" belonged to a friend in Louisiana and is basically a Cajun dish.

Rosemary, an attractive and trim lady, said that she is a lifetime member of Weight Watchers, and her favorite recipe is the one for "Baked Pork Chops."

The daughter of the late Ray and Blanche Low, Rosemary moved to Iowa Park from Kansas with her parents when she was 15 years old.

She and Willie Fred, a lifetime resident of Iowa Park, met on a blind date after he returned home from serving in the Navy. They have been married 35 years.

Willie is a hydrologist for the U.S. Geological Survey, Surface Water Branch, and Rosemary is a supervisor in the Social Security office in Wichita Falls, where she has worked 25 years.

The couple has three children, Greg, who is employed by Texas Utilities and lives with his wife and son, William, in Kamay; Judy (Mrs. Jim) Stevens, a registered nurse, but is now staying at home with her two children, Jeremiah and Jana; and Robert who is an X-ray technician working in the Cardiac Cath Lab at Bethania Hospital and attending classes at Midwestern State Univ.

The Hastings outside activities include bowling, swimming, and travel. Rosemary belongs to a ladies bowling league, and she and Willie bowl together in a mixed league.

Much to the delight of family and friends, they had a swimming pool installed in their backyard a few years ago. Now, many warm, summer days are spent around the pool.

Hawks hobble Bulls, 34-13

The Hawks successfully cleared their second hurdle toward a Dist. 5-AAA title Friday by defeating Bridgeport 34-13. The victory gives the Mean Green a 2-0 conference record, and 5-0 in their series with the Bulls.

Both Bridgeport's touchdowns were scored with apparent ease, on drives of 73 and 72 yards. The Bulls got the Hawks' attention by taking the opening kickoff and driving the distance in only eight plays. And that was the way the first quarter ended.

But the Hawks got it together in the second period, scoring enough points, 14, to have won the game. In fact, they racked up 27 unanswered points before their hosts scored again. Neither team was able to score in the third quarter.

Junior fullback Matthew Blackman rolled up his highest yardage of his varsity career, 199 on 30 carries. In Iowa Park's lone victory of 1988, which also was against the Bulls, he carried 22 times for 139.

But it wasn't all Blackman carrying the ball. Senior tailback Marc Cruz, who entered the game with only 49 net yards on 25 carries, was handed the ball 13 times and responded with 120 yards. That, also, was a career record for Cruz.

It appeared the Hawks were going to be their worst enemy on the field, following the Bulls' initial touchdown. After Cruz broke for a 33-yarder to the Bridgeport 7, Iowa Park drew a motion penalty, quarterback Jimmy Duggins bobbled the ball but fell on it for a three-yard loss, and, unable to pick up a first down after reaching the 5, field goal kicker Kelly McClure hooked his attempt. No points.

Iowa Park held the Bulls, forcing a punt. But on the third play, Duggins was intercepted, as the second quarter got underway. And on the third play, after apparently throwing a Bull runner for a 4-yard loss, the Hawks drew a 15-yard penalty for piling on. Two plays later, Bridgeport was on Iowa Park's 17 yard line.

Then, the Hawks got it together. Tackle Robert Cargal threw a runner for an 8-yard loss, and three plays later, Iowa Park had the ball on its own 19 yard line.

Four plays later, Duggins hit receiver Bruce Palmer on a post pattern with a pass at the 35, and he outran the secondary to score on a 58-yard play.

BRIAN LUNEY AND JIMMY NICHOLSON PUT STOP ON BULL

But problems persisted, as the extra point kick was blocked, and the Hawks trailed 6-7.

On their second play after the kickoff, the bulls fumbled, and Stephen Brown claimed possession on the Bridgeport 39. Blackman scored on the seventh play, from the one, and then ran over left tackle for the two-point conversion, to send the Hawks ahead, 14-7.

Stephen Brown almost earned another TD for Iowa Park before the half ended. On a pass play that covered 48 yards, he lost the ball trying for extra yardage at the Bull 12. He had caught the ball about the 24, and dragged tacklers until he lost hold.

Iowa Park narrowly missed scoring in the third period, but something unusual happened. After reaching the Bull's 2 yard line, Blackman was held without a gain on two consecutive downs, something that has not happened this season in that situation.

Bridgeport punted on the second play of the final period, to the Hawk 29. The drive had two key plays in it before Blackman scored from the 3. The first was a 6-yard run by Cruz that ended with a fumble, but a timely recovery by center Chris Cook. The other was a 44-yard run by Blackman.

Sophomore Todd Pulley kicked the extra point, and then handled the kickoff chore after that. He also made the tackle on that play, at the Bull 37.

A bruising tackle by Gary Green threw the Bulls for a 9-yard loss, and two plays later, line-backer Jimmy Nicholson intercepted a pass at the 37. The 198-pounder could likely have run over a smaller tackler enroute to the end zone, but he chose to fake him, successfully, and scored his first TD since the season-opener against Burkburnett.

Bridgeport attempted an on-side kickoff after scoring with 1:15 remaining in the game, but the alert Pulley caught the lofted ball on the 50 yard line. Blackman ran for 10, Cruze for 13 and 11, with the Bulls being penalized to the 7 on the second carry, and Blackman carried over from that point. Pulley's kick was with 14 seconds remaining.

McClure carried four times during the game and gained 19.

The Mean Green defense held Bridgeport's runners to only 70 yards on the ground, but gave up 133 yards on 11 of 20 passes.

Iowa Park never had to punt because the drives ended either with scores, two turnovers, or that one time when they reached the one yard line and failed to score.

Early-day athlete to be inducted into ACU Hall of Fame

The late Dalton Hill of Iowa Park will be among seven men who will be inducted into the Sports Hall of Fame at Abilene Christian Univ.

ACU's fourth annual Hall of Fame dinner will be at 7 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, in the main room of McGlothlin Campus Center.

The Hall of Fame now includes 27 members after the addition of the seven-member Class of 1989.

Others to be inducted are Earl Young, Wilbert Montgomery, Bob McLeod, John Ray Godfrey, James Garland (Goober) Keyes and Glenn Terhune.

Hill, who died in 1984 in El Paso, was graduated from Abilene Christian in 1928. He was a four-year letterman in football, and he also competed for the Wildcats in basketball, baseball and tennis.

He was a member of the Texas Tennis Coaches Hall of Fame and El Paso Athletic Hall of Fame.

In football, Hill was captain and all-conference center in the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association as a junior in 1926. He was also honorable mention all-conference in basketball as a sophomore in 1925-26.

The Iowa Park native coached tennis, football and basketball at Abilene Christian in 1928-30, and he later coached in high school in Sweetwater, Roscoe, Roby and El Paso.

During his career he was one of the top tennis coaches in Texas.

Hill went through the eighth grade at the Denny School and, because that was as high as the school offered, completed high school in Iowa Park.

His brother, A.C., was the first coach Iowa Park had, according to Elgin Denny, who said he remembered the family well.

ACU started its hall of Fame in 1986 with 10 men. They were A.M. (Tonto) Coleman, Eck Curtis, Elmer J. Gray, Howard Green, Thurman L. (Tugboat) Jones, A.B. Morris, Willard Paine, Lee Powell, Guy Scruggs and J. Eddie Weems.

In 1987, the four added were Oliver Jackson, Jim Lindsey, Dee Nutt and Theo Powell.

Last year's inductees included Earl M. (Pop) Bailey, Garvin Beauchamp, Kendall K. (Ace) Jones, Bobby Morrow, V.T. Smith Jr. and Les Wheeler.

Scores of interest from Friday to Hawk fans include: Vernon 27, Bowie 11, Decatur 26, Graham 12, Castleberry 20, Burkburnett 16, Stephenville 24, Mineral Wells 8, Southlake Carroll 35, Gainesville 7, Abilene Wylie 29, Merkel 13, Breckenridge 29, Boyd 6

Players recognized by the coaching staff after reviewing Friday's game with Bridgeport were: Big Hit - Mike Dungan and Stephen Brown
Defense - linebacker, Jimmy Nicholson; lineman, Dungan; secondary, Don McIlroy
Offense - lineman, Gary Green; back, Marc Cruz; receiver, Bruce Palmer

Leading tacklers Friday night, and their season totals, were: Chuck Brown, 12, 54; Nicholson, 10, 57.5; Dungan, 10, 51.5. Grading highest on defense were: Green, 79%; Kelly McClure, 77%, and S. Brown, 72%; offense - S. Brown, 88%, and Bruce Palmer, 83%.

Coach Len Williams was not trying to rub Bridgeport's nose when he sent his troops after that final TD Friday, but trying to avoid a possible coin toss to break up a tie in the event of a three-way tie at the end of district play. District rules, in the event of a three-way tie and all three beat each other, turn to a point system. "Each team shall receive points in the games played between the schools tied. Points are awarded equal to the point spread in each game. Plus points awarded the winning team. Negative points the losing team. A maximum of 15 points shall be awarded in any one game..." Iowa Park led by only 14 points, 27-13, before scoring that last TD. "It may never come into play," Williams said later, "but I felt like I had to protect the win."

Iowa Park High School's youth gymnasium will be open to the public from 4 to 6 p.m. each Sunday. Those desiring to play are to enter through the east doors, instead of the usual entry from the swimming pool side on the west. Elementary children must be accompanied by an adult.

JV routs Bridgeport in shut out

The Hawk Junior Varsity, which has struggled through this season, claimed its first win last Thursday by blowing out the Bridgeport Bulls, 53-0.

After being shut out by Bowie the previous week, the coaches increased the intensity of practices. Many players remarked how in the warm-ups they were ready for the game.

The Hawks received the opening kickoff, but turned the ball over when Greg Steger fumbled after taking the ball 40 yards to the Bulls' 5.

Steger then redeemed himself in great fashion. The Bulls attempted to pass from the 5, which was tipped, and Steger came down with the ball, taking it into the end zone for the score.

By the end of the first quarter, the JV had taken a 24-0 lead.

The coaches were happy with the win and said each player had one of his best games of the year.

The coaches may have been more impressed with the shutout than the 53 points. Each player was given the head gear award of a black star, which the varsity receives for a shutout.

The JV will face Decatur in Hawk Stadium tonight, following the Freshman game.

Freshmen push to 2-0 in district

The Hawk Freshmen played another solid game on their way to a 25-6 win over Bridgeport here Thursday night.

Iowa Park's defense shut down the Bulls' offense for the first three quarters. Bridgeport's only score came when their tailback broke a long run late in the game.

"Our entire defense played well. T.J. Bean played an excellent game at middle linebacker," Coach Ray Sefcik said.

On offense, the Hawks' front line dominated the game with each score coming as a result of long drives.

Chris Williams had another good game at fullback, but Jason Miller added the fireworks with a spectacular 50-yard run setting up the first touchdown.

Cody Witherspoon also had a good game, both as punter and wingback.

The Freshmen play Decatur tonight, here at 6 o'clock. They will attempt to improve their record to 3-0 as the fight for the district title continues.

Though Iowa Park has not been known for winning at the freshman level, this year's team seems to be the exception.

Most athletes pass grades

Very few Iowa Park High athletes were caught in the no-pass, no-play regulation, when all the six week grades were computed, according to Richard Davis, principal.

Students are ruled ineligible to participate in extracurricular activities six weeks if they fail at least one class, because of legislation passed in 1984, known as HB 72.

Two freshman football players are out for the season, as is one member of the junior varsity boys' basketball team.

None of the players on the varsity and junior varsity football teams failed, nor did any of the girls' varsity, junior varsity and freshman basketball teams.

Also, no members of the literary teams, cheerleaders or Spirit Team failed a class, Davis said.

However, five members of the band, five VICA members and five choir members are ineligible, as are nine members of FHA and 19 FFA.

In some cases, a failing student could be involved in more than one extracurricular event.

Broken down by classes, Davis said 20 of the 141 freshmen failed at least one class, 25 of 144 sophomores, seven of 114 juniors and 15 of 112 seniors.

On the junior high level, one seventh grade and one eighth grade girls' basketball players failed, five members of the band program, and 17 football players, 11 of those in the seventh grade, according to Jimmy Alsup, principal.

None of the junior high cheerleaders failed.

Burkburnett Junior High swept all three football games with Iowa Park Tuesday night.

The Eighth Grade was defeated by a scant 6-0 score, and it was the team's first loss of the season. Iowa Park turned over the ball six times to contribute to the loss.

The Seventh Grade "A" team lost 18-6 and the "B" was shut out 24-0.

Next Tuesday, the Seventh "A" and "B" hosts Graham, while the Eighth "A" and "B" travels to Graham. First games start at 6 p.m.

Iowa Park High improvements told

The first response most people make, when hearing a large portion of the proposed $2.75-million bond issue will be expended at the high school, is "Why that's the newest building we have," and "We used to have more students there than we have now."

Well, it may be the newest building in the district, but the fact is, it is now 20 years old, and some major parts must be replaced.

The building's entire roof must be replaced, at an estimated cost of $121,000. It has leaked for several years, and patches have been re-patched.

Cost of repairs to the interior when it does leak have been major, according to school officials.

Few roofs, especially the flat type, are expected to last 20 or more years.

Some damage to the roof, but certainly not all, has been caused by an almost continuous process of working on the 20-year-old air conditioners.

Those units are now so old, the repair parts are no longer available.

Estimated cost of replacing the air conditioners is $140,000.

It is true, as most residents know, that there have been more students enrolled on campus in the past than are now in class.

But one of the main reasons the school was able to handle all those other students was with an aggressive vocational education program.

When Iowa Park High housed 778 students -- the present enrollment is 513 -- there were five cooperative vocational classes in which students were out of the formal classrooms half a day.

No longer are cooperative programs offered in agriculture, building trades, office education and home economics, nor is the course of auto body repairs.

The loss of those programs, and the increase in the number of courses have more than offset the slack in enrollment.

But enrollment projections by the fall of 1994 at the high school is 620 students. This is based on the fact that largest classes in the district are currently in the elementary grades.

There are currently a large number of teachers on campus without a home room. They are moved around in the building, almost as much as are the students, to hold classes, according to Richard Davis, principal.

As part of the solution, three new classrooms are to be funded by the bond issue, along with a teacher workroom. The addition would be on the southeast corner of the building.

Projected cost of the classrooms and teacher work room is $160,000.

The passage of House Bill 72, which some people labeled the "no-pass, no play" legislation, had a considerable affect on a need for more classrooms.

For instance, it mandated more courses to be taught, to the point the school now offers three different graduation plans: regular, advanced and honors. Each plan requires different classes at each grade level.

Davis pointed out four English teachers were in place when HB 72 was passed, and now six are required.

Additional courses required by the legislation are "introduction to biology and physical science," two courses; math, added consumer math, fundamentals of math, informal geometry, and pre-algebra (increasing the number of teachers in math from three to six), and world geography was also added.

Iowa Park High School

This is the fourth of six articles designed to explain the purpose of the $2.75-million bond election the Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District's Board of Trustees has called for Nov. 14. Next week's article will be on the high school fieldhouse and maintenance and bus barn.

Also added to the curriculum are computer science, and gifted and talented for grades nine through 12.

The legislation created a need for more elective and honors courses, Davis explained. So courses in elementary analysis, chemistry, trigonometry, calculus, biology two and physics were added.

Along with those were speech one and two, debate, theatre arts one and two, show choir, stage band, study skills, journalism, speed writing, and computers for math science and English.

The music department, in which both the band and choir classes are held, has been outgrown, both by the numbers of chairs which must be arranged twice daily, and equipment which must be stored.

A wing would be constructed on the west side of the building, which would be used primarily by the choir and its storage needs, but also when sections of the band are practicing.

Cost of that addition is projected at $130,000.

Included in the work to be done at the high school is remodeling, which like the roof, is past due.

Hall walls would be recovered, lockers painted, carpeting of walk areas in the auditorium, an additional trophy case, major reworking of all restrooms, the office area, and building of a classroom with restrooms in the CVAE shop.

Remodeling costs are projected at $187,492.

To meet federal requirements, an elevator to allow handicapped students to reach the classrooms held in the basement area of the building, an elevator would be put in place, at a cost of $30,000.

Furniture for the additional class and music areas are figured to cost $20,000.

Also in the high school project are barns at the vocational agriculture site on East Ruby for cattle and lambs, estimated to cost $60,000.

A new barn was constructed last year for swine, and for the first time in a number of years, not one animal died because of disease.

Davis pointed out that the old areas in which animals are kept cannot be properly cleaned, i.e. disease.

Also, there are more project animals owned by students who do not live on farms than ever before, hence the need for increased space.

"This is a laboratory situation," Davis pointed out, "and it must be a clean environment."

The overall projected cost of the high school portion of the bond issue is set at $848,492.

Backdoor Theatre topic of 23 Study Club meeting

The 23 Study Club started activities for the 1989-90 club year Thursday morning at a brunch held in the home of Mrs. Erwin Soell.

The co-hostesses were Mrs. Riley Thompson and Mrs. Homer Blalock. Seventeen members, including Mrs. Charles Harrell, a new member, and Mrs. Keith Aulds, an inactive member for three years, who has become active again.

The serving table for the brunch was covered with ecru lace over brown linen and reflected the glory of the autumnal season with its bronze, gold and red flowers and leaves in artistic bouquets that harmonized with the yellow pumpkins and lighted candles.

Mrs. China B. Smith, club president, offered the invocation for the brunch.

Miss Frances Park served as leader for the arts program planned around the theme "Circle The Arts With Creativity."

In keeping with the Texas Trivia which will be a short part of each program for the year, Mrs. C.E. Birk directed a quiz on the Blue Bell Creamery at Brenham.

Mrs. John Rentschler presented an organ solo, "Hello Dolly" by Jerry Herman to precede a talk by Mitch Bauman, interim general manager of Backdoor Theatre of Wichita Falls, a guest speaker. He spoke on "Come Share in the Equation Theme for the New Fall Season August through December," then announced some of the plays for Spring '90.

He said the Backdoor Theatre was organized in Wichita Falls in 1970 by members of several previous community theatre groups and Sheppard Air Force Base personnel. He described it as a versatile and professionally run entertainment center which has something to offer to everyone and everything to offer to many.

Bauman said the Backdoor Theatre began its history in the Weeks Mansion and got its name because the back door had to be utilized to get to the theatre in the basement. It has since been housed at a church on Travis Street and the present location the old People's Ice House on Indiana Street. He said that the parking lot has security now but the theatre is looking forward to a new location.

The speaker said that actors are not paid, there are no membership fees, no experience is necessary, and auditions are open to the public for those who want to try out for an opportunity to participate in the plays. He also stated Backdoor Theatre is in production almost constantly and between the dinner theatre and main stage it was able to produce one show after another.

Bauman described the five shows for this fall as "comedies to make you laugh, a world premiere to amuse you, a chiller to thrill you and a musical to set your toes tapping." Two dinner theatre and one main stage shows have already been shown in August, September and October. They were "A Bad Year for Tomatoes," "Cliffhanger" and "New Play Program." The other shows will be "Runaways," a main stage, in November, and "Weekend Comedy," dinner theatre in December.

Bauman encouraged club members to subscribe to Backdoor and to become season ticket holders. As an incentive for attending the spring shows, he said that they would be "Arsenic and Old Lace," "An Almost Perfect Person," "Camelot," "A Streetcar Named Desire" and "Who's on First."

Mrs. Soell was in charge of the business which was opened by Mrs. Rentschler, federation counselor, who discussed a school room project of General Federation of Women's Clubs to improve the literacy level in all communities.

Mrs. Don Stribling announced the Crop Walk project of the Iowa Park Ministerial Alliance for Nov. 18, and the club voted to contribute $25 to the project.

A nominating committee composed of Mmes. C.L. Metz, Howard Marlar and Keith Aulds was elected. New yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Soell who also announced that a book "Wives of American Presidents" had been placed in the Tom Burnett Memorial Library in memory of the late Mrs. Chauncey Weiler.

The next meeting will be the annual joint meeting with the Amity and Philia Study Clubs Nov. 13 at the library.

Reed explains bond election

Jerry Reed, a member of the board of trustees of the Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District, spoke to the evening Lions Tuesday on the proposed bond election set for Nov. 14.

He said that the school board had called the election for $2.75-million in school bonds because of inadequate facilities and the need for more classrooms on each of the four school campuses, and for adequate storage of the school's buses.

Reed said that school bonds are sold to finance major constructions that are too expensive to include in the school district's annual budget, and that the laws of Texas require that voters approve the issuance and sale of bonds. He showed architectural drawings of the proposed improvements on Kidwell Elementary, Bradford Elementary, Junior High and Iowa Park High School, and the maintenance and bus barn. These were developed by the school board, school building and financial experts after careful study over a period of months.

Reed said, "Our school motto is 'Investment in the Future,' and what better investment can we make than to invest in the future of our young people?" He conducted a question and answer period when he was assisted by Glen Mitchell, superintendent of schools, and Keith Fisher, a school board member. He left brochures that described the proposals for members and guests to study before they vote.

Terry Pruett, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

During the business directed by Gordon Callahan, Edward Prince was inducted as a new member.

Other guests were Mmes. Joe Kennedy, Lem Tate, Riley Thompson, Sam Hunter and Gerry Thurlo, members of the Evening Lioness Club.

Optimists discuss possible Boy's Club

The possibility of local Boy's Club was the topic of discussion at a regular meeting of the Iowa Park Optimist Club.

Ed Anderson, president, and Mickey Boulware gave reports on their meeting with a Boy's Club director, stating that normally the Boy's Club doesn't even consider locating in a town of less than 20-thousand residents, because of the difficulty in raising funds to sustain the club.

They reported that after erecting the club building, the annual cost to run the organization is some $85,000. It was suggested as a project that all local service organizations could be involved in.

Boulware cited the club for having excellent programs for kids, giving them something to do after school and on weekends.

Childhood fascination with dolls keeps woman busy

By MYRNA SMITH

Mrs. Alvin (Dottie) Jeter, 1004 Louisa, has focused on one of her artistic hobbies to the delight of family, friends, and others who have opportunity to view the work her nimble fingers have created.

Her unique "Moments to Remember" doll series translate into reminiscent moments in her own childhood and bring back memories of the viewer's childhood - except perhaps for the style of clothing - but the scenario would be the same.

Some of her dolls are now on display in children's rooms in New York, Mississippi, New Zealand and other places where grandmothers and friends have sent them. Mrs. Jeter's own granddaughters in Mississippi are the lucky recipients of the first dolls of each series.

A native of Odell, Dottie was reared in San Antonio and graduated the University of Maryland with a degree in Sociology. She has been employed as a counselor for several organizations and spent the last several years before retirement as a salesperson. She has resided in Iowa Park since 1964. Now serving a third term as president of the Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association, Mrs. Jeter really began giving expression to her artistic bent after retirement. "I had to do something to keep busy," she said.

Art has many forms and her talent has taken several directions. First she began crocheting and made several afghans and doll clothes, but decided that was not how she wanted to spend her time. Among her dexterous abilities is painting with watercolor and pastels, doing feather painting, and her second favorite craft, calligraphy.

Dottie uses natural materials and watercolor or pastels as a background for framed poems or quotations done in calligraphy. She does certificates and other pieces for volunteer organizations and has taught calligraphy for the YMCA and the Iowa Park Recreation Center. "I prefer to teach Beginners Classes," she says.

According to Dottie her love for dolls developed when she was a child in San Antonio. "My paternal grandmother made cornhusk dolls with no face for me and dressed them in fantastic costumes," she relates. The Moments to Remember dolls are fashioned very similar except their bodies are not made of cornhusk. She has been questioned why her dolls have no face.

"The 'no face' cornhusk dolls, as we called them, took many faces in my imagination as I played with them, even to an Indian Princess as my grandmother would say.

"My grandmother was an American Indian of the Comanche tribe who saw and taught me to see beauty in all things and to enjoy creating and crafting many things from nature." Dottie continued, "My other grandmother was an artist and she wanted to paint faces on my cornhusk dolls, but I didn't want that. I liked my 'no face' dolls best, waiting to be just the person I wanted them to be at any moment."

Each Moments to Remember series has its own individuality, but a continuity exists in all. A rounding collar, suggestive of the "bertha" collar, and the color blue emerge as her trademark. The dolls are completely handmade, from their long or upswept hair to the intricate detailing on their clothing and headdress. Most of the collars are edged in tiny lace and one series has handcut bias tape featuring minute handpainted roses that encircle the full skirts, the collars and sleeves.

Among Mrs. Jeter's Moments to Remember is her Jennifer series that came by the name when her oldest granddaughter was awaiting the birth of a "baby sister" and wanted her to be named Jennifer. That didn't work out, so "grandmother" named the series for her.

One in this series is titled "My Mamma's Hat," depicting a little girl trying on a large brimmed hat with floral trim. Inspiration for that was Mrs. Jeter remembering a "secret" occasion when her mother, a milliner, made herself a beautiful wide brimmed hat from red felt decorated in the latest style of the time. Her mother wore a chignon and Mrs. Jeter recalled how pretty she looked in her hats with ornate haptins stuck through her chignon.

One of the series to which most anyone of the feminine gender can relate is "Be Still," a mother combing a little girl's long hair. Another is a mother and daughter dressed in their best, with the mother holding a very small Bible and giving last minute instructions, titled, "Sunday Morning."

Included in the series are "Ring

A FRAMED CALLIGRAPHY SAMPLE... is displayed by Dottie Jeter.

Around the Rosie," "Jumping Rope," "Growing Up With Baby," "Pioneer Mother," "Mamma and Me," "First Day of School" and her Sally series, which are handcrafted bride dolls, dressed in handmade wedding gowns of satin, lace and beading, complete with train, veil and tiara.

Dottie is joined in her Moments to Remember hobby by her husband, a welder who is retired from International Harvester. He wasn't ready to go into full time retirement either, so when he isn't working at odd jobs for two or three days, he cuts out the dolls' bodies and makes the stands for them.

Revival of Southwestern culture in everything from fashion to interior decorating, to jewelry and arts and crafts, plus her personal interest in the American Indian sparked Dottie's imagination to handcraft "One Little, Two Little, Three Little - -", an Indian Village that earned for her the People's Choice Award in the Arts and Crafts exhibit at the recent Whoop-T-Do held here. Clothing of the Indian dolls is handmade and beaded, and moccasins on their tiny feet were cut and hand-laced to replicate the true Indian moccasin.

Mrs. Jeter loves history and legends. A real desire that never came to fruition was to be an archaeologist. That too was influenced by her mother. When they were small, Dottie, her brothers and mother would take a picnic lunch and go to a gravel pit in San Antonio where they would dig for fossils. But, she does continue to read history and dig into legends and Indian lore.

The gifted lady has a zest for living and a love for beauty, nature and people. This quality is evident in every room of her home, her continuing interest in keeping busy, and sharing her gift with others.

HEALTH NEWS

CHECKING YOUR CHOPPERS: Taking care of your teeth (even if they are not your originals) can extend their usefulness. Brushing and soaking dentures every night and rinsing and brushing them again in the morning will help to cut down on plaque, which could cause sores, infection, or pain. The need for adhesives actually may signal the need for refitting at the dentist, and relining and repairs should be left to the professional, not do-it-yourself kits.

DRY EYE UPDATE: The most common therapy for dry eyes is tear-replacement drops (artificial tears), although overuse can cause a toxic concentration of preservatives in the eyes. A cellulose-based solid tear replacement product thickens the tear film as it dissolves during the day. Moisture-chamber glasses have plastic sides to keep moisture in, and dry-eye contact lenses keep the eyelid from rubbing against the eye. On the horizon is an anti-inflammatory drug that can be used for long periods of time, preservative-free artificial tears, fibronectin (a component of human plasma that aids in healing of tissue), and the immunosuppressive drug cyclosporine, which stimulates tear production.

MAMMOGRAMS AT 40: Eleven professional medical organizations have issued guidelines on mammography screening that include the recommendation that women get baseline mammograms by the time they are 40 years old. In an attempt to find breast cancer at the earliest possible stage, when it is the most treatable, they further recommend annual/clinical examinations with mammography every one to two years up to the age of 50 and both examinations and mammography annually after that.

furnace features an energy saving hot surface ignitor (not an old fashioned pilot light), and a multi-speed blower which quietly circulates warm air.
