Council reveals goals for improvements

Resulting from a full day's retreat at Lake Kickapoo, Iowa Park city council Monday night announced a seven-point goal of community improvements. And there are still some yet unnamed on the back burner.

The council spent an entire day discussing among themselves, and receiving input from key city personnel as well as civic leaders, what was considered important needs of the community.

During Monday's council meeting, Mayor Tim Hunter told the audience the seven goals.

He listed the goals as: streets, work schedule system, Gordon Lake and Oscar Park, civic center, city hall, downtown development and softball fields. The list was apparently presented in order of priority.

Concerning streets, the list stated: "It is the intent of the Council that a program be begun to dedicate the sales tax revenue to the purpose of upgrading, building, and/or rebuilding at least four blocks of city streets per year. This commitment is to be begun in FY (fiscal year) 1986 with a budgeted amount of $150,000 to $175,000.

"It is further the intent of the Council to purchase a pothole machine and concrete saw to improve the ability of the city to maintain asphalt streets through heating the materials necessary to perform repairs in an effective manner."

Concerning the work schedule system, the goal is "... a system be established and operated that will allow the staff to devote undivided time to specific projects without the constant demands of 'brush fires.' It is further intended that follow-up activities be scheduled and performed to keep the public aware of the reasons for delays in projects, and of the schedule for jobs that are to be done in the specific neighborhood."

Hunter, explaining the term "brush fires," said in the past, city crews have been called off projects to do something else which both hampers completion of the first project but confuses workers as to priorities.

Workers now will complete whatever task they have undertaken before going on to something else.

Concerning the city's original lake and its surroundings, Gordon Lake and Oscar Park, named after the late Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Clark, the council is to "... develop a master plan for the development and utilization... as a major beauty spot and social attraction for the community. A task force will be appointed to develop this plan which may include but not be limited to new pavilion facilities, camping facilities, community center facilities, and related projects.

Included in the plan is the possibility of pumping water from Buffalo and Iowa Park lakes into Gordon to maintain a constant level.

Hunter appointed aldermen George Hammonds and Johnny Coker, as well as Wayne House, to serve on this project's task force.

On the topic of a civic center, the council is "... to develop plans for a civic center for the community that will include banquet and meeting space, and potential for regular use by local agencies and clubs. A task force will be appointed to select alternate sites and develop plans for implementation of construction."

Alderman Bud Mercer and Linda Merriek were appointed to the task force for civic center planning.

"It is the goal of the Council to complete the city hall renovation project by finishing the exterior in a manner consistent with the downtown scheme and uniform around the building."

Plans call for funding of the fourth and final phase of city hall renovation to be budgeted from Federal Revenue Sharing funds during 1986.

Hunter said indications are that next year will be the end of Revenue Sharing.

The first three phases of the renovation project were the development of council chambers, inclusion of the old fire department into office and meeting space, and the third phase, currently underway, is to remodel the original city hall area.

The sixth goal set by the council is to explore ways to encourage the revitalization of the downtown area. Hunter said the council wishes to "improve this area in grand style and encourage businesses to locate here."

Final goal on the council's list is to develop new softball facilities for use of adults (primarily) and children. Burnett Field will remain a dual-purpose facility until the new field is developed.

Coker and Shirley Bridwell were named to the softball field task force.

"We feel the city now has an aggressive direction we can take. The goals won't be accomplished in the next couple of years; more like three to seven," stated Hunter.

He added future councils will need to review the original set of goals, either to adjust or add to them.

Possible additional goals would include moving of city maintenance facilities from the area south of Gordon Lake dam to south of the city, at the old sewer treatment plant site. Also, city-owned but unused property may be offered for use as Little League practice fields, because practice areas are becoming a premium.

Man jailed after seen in couple's bedroom

A 25-year-old Iowa Park man was in county jail under $2,500 bond yesterday afternoon after being charged with burglary.

Mark Allen Swanson was taken before Justice of the Peace R.L. Stewart after being charged by Iowa Park police.

Swanson is alleged to have been in the bedroom of a couple shortly before 3 a.m. yesterday morning. The wife was awakened and called police after the man left the house, reportedly in his bare feet.

A report was not completed to list what Swanson allegedly took.

Three other thefts were reported to police during the past week.

Mrs. Bill Maupin told police Wednesday of last week that someone had broken a window of their pickup and taken a .410 shotgun. Sometime last Wednesday night, Scobee's No. 1 was burglarized for the second time in 18 days. Staple items, such as cigarettes and lunch meats were taken.

Jo Salmon told police Sunday she had returned to her home at 1104 Louisa after being out of town for a few days and finding her front door standing open and some items taken.

Listed as missing was a felter machine valued at $600 and a 20 gauge shotgun valued at $135.

Mayor vetoes council street vote

The paving of East Garden Drive had appeared to be a settled issue when the city council's meeting adjourned Monday night, but was put back on hold Tuesday when the mayor vetoed council action.

A proposal to pave the street has been before the council the past several weeks.

Developer Ray Townsend, at the last meeting in May, said he would pay the full cost of paving, curbing and guttering the street, as required by city policy of new developments, but said he wanted to do it with asphalt.

He said he had proposed to do the street before the council adopted its ordinance requiring all new streets to be paved with concrete.

Aldermen in May first agreed to Townsend's request, but then, stating asphalt would not hold up under the wet conditions of that area, voted to contribute up to $4,000 to pave with concrete. The difference was believed to be, according to Townsend's report, the difference in cost between asphalt and concrete.

Townsend later reported back to the city that his original bid from a contractor had been removed, a new bid was $2,000 higher, and asked the city to share half the increased cost.

Alderman George Hammonds said he was against the city contributing anything toward the street paving, citing a resolution by the council in 1978 that all costs would be borne by the developer.

Hammond's motion to rescind the $4,000 assistance offer and require paving with concrete died for lack of a second.

Alderman Don Decker then moved to hold the city's assistance to $4,000, require concrete paving, and put a time limit of the offer to 30 days.

That motion died for lack of a second, but later it was made again, seconded by Bud Mercer, and passed by a split vote.

Decker and Mercer voted for the motion, Hammonds against and Coker abstained.

Hunter announced the motion had passed, but Tuesday morning issued a statement that he was exercising the rights and privileges of veto, granted in Article 997 of the V.T.C.S., and that action was taken upon advice of the city attorney.

The mayor cited "procedural questions" caused by the vote because the council "... does not recognize in its Code of Ordinances any procedural process such as Roberts Rules of Order."

Hunter pointed to the fact that alderman Diane Robnett was absent, and a 2-1-1 vote without a procedural process being adopted could be questioned.

The mayor was pressed to break a tie vote on another issue, that of permitting water and sewer service to a tract in the south part of town, owned by Andy Arrington, that is not annexed by the city.

Because a house blocks city right of way to the tract, aldermen did not believe the land should be annexed. And the council for a number of years has observed a policy of refusing utility service to land which adjoins the city unless it is annexed.

Coker and Mercer voted to allow the service, at no cost to the city. But Hammonds and Decker voted against the motion. Hunter, in the absence of Robnett and needing a fifth vote, broke the tie in favor of the proposal.

Arrington, who said he had no objections to having his property annexed into the city, plans to place two or possibly three mobile homes on the tract to be rented.

OTHER BUSINESS

Other business taken by the council Monday included:

* approval of the mayor's appointment of Kenneth Via to the Board of Adjustments;

* held a second public hearing concerning application of a community block grant (the city is seeking matching funds of some $135,000 from the federal government to make needed water line improvements in the south part of

* rejected the lone bid, $5,120 by Sam Hunter, for the land at the northwest corner of Fourth and West Highway, after hearing the Wichita County Tax Appraisal District had assessed a value of $25,700 on it;

* approved a contract to hire the City is leader in tax again

Iowa Park continues to lead all three other Wichita County cities in percentage of sales tax increases above this time last year.

According to the state comptroller's report, based on sales taxes reported by May 20, Iowa Park has received 17.83 percent more sales taxes than it had in 1984.

While all the other cities are showing increases, their's is far less than Iowa Park's: Wichita Falls 6.05%, Burkburnett 8.84% and Electra 3.39%.

Iowa Park's most recent check was $9,851.43, as compared with the June 1984 check of $8,617.92. For the year, the city has received $71,207.16, which is 17.83 percent greater than the $50,431.45 received at this same time in 1984.

Valley View Exes to reunite Saturday

The Valley View Ex-Students Association's Biennial Reunion will be held Saturday at Iowa Park High School, with visitation scheduled between 4 and 6 p.m., followed by a dinner in the cafeteria.

Planners for the traditional event will show game films from past Valley View football teams. The meal will be catered by Stanley's Barbecue. More information is available by contacting Anna Dowell, 806 N. Bond, or Hank Phillips, 1003 Lanelle, both in Iowa Park.

Commodity distribution

USDA commodities will be distributed Monday at the First Christian Church, from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

News in Brief

Bloodmobile to be here Monday

The next scheduled visit of the Red River Regional Bloodmobile to Iowa Park is set for Monday at the Faith Baptist Church.

Jim Grove, member of the sponsoring Iowa Park Optimist Club, has announced that the hours will be from 3:30 until 7 p.m. and goal is set for 50 units of volunteer blood.

All residents of Iowa Park and surrounding rural area are encouraged to donate at this next mobile visit.

Appointments may be made by calling any member of the Iowa Park Optimist Club.

Commissioners to meet here Monday

Wichita County commissioners' court will be held here Monday at the ASCS building.

To begin at 10 a.m., such meetings are held annually in each of the non-county seat cities, giving area residents an opportunity to attend.

Monday's meeting is expected to last until approximately noon.

NEW LANDMARK - An 80-foot flag pole was erected Tuesday at Independent American Savings Association, 301 N. Wall, for its special observation Friday. At noon, which is also National Flag Day, a huge 20 by 38 foot American flag will be hoisted. Following the ceremony, the public has been invited to a free meal of cornbread, pinto beans and iced tea. Lights have been installed to highlight the flag during the night time.

NO INJURIES resulted from a spectacular collision Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of First and Magnolia. According to police reports, Frederick Leslie Curtis, 601 Manes, was driving south on First when he was struck by an east-bound car driven by Tine Lea Green, 1316 N. Fourth. The Green car spun 180 degrees and the Curtis car more than 360 degrees. During its spin, the Curtis vehicle struck a 10-speed bicycle being ridden by Stephan Brown, 706 W. Texas. The bike's rear wheel was demolished, but the rider uninjured.

Mason, Henske wedding vows recited recently

The St. John's Lutheran Church at Bellville was the setting for the May 25th wedding of Melanie Alayne Mason and Bradley Charles Henske. The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Willie Rooter, pastor.

The bride, a 1982 graduate of Iowa Park High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Mason of Houston, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Henske of Bellville.

The decorations for the candlelight service focused attention upon a 27 light candelabra flanked by white candles burning in seven-branched candelabra trimmed with wedding greens. Pew decorations were white satin bows accented with lemon leaf and other wedding greenery.

The prelude music for the wedding featured stereo renditions of "Vivaldi: The Four Seasons," and an a cappella arrangement of "This Is One of Those Moments" by Allison White from the church balcony. Bridesmaids entered to "Rhapsody on a Theme from Paganini" by Rachmaninoff.

During the ceremony, Lisa Gray accompanied by Mrs. Carolyn Gray and Allison White, sang "You're My Inspiration." While the bride and groom were lighting the unity candle, Rudy Rodriguez sang "Dulcinea," the love song from "Man of La Mancha." The bride and groom exited from the church following the ceremony to a choral rendition of "Camelot."

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a dream gown by Mary's Bridal Creation of white silk organza with flattering butterfly ruffles for an off-the-shoulder look. The same ruffles complemented and edged the full cathedral train, and the fitted bodice sparkled with crystals and pearls on Venise lace.

The bridal veil of two tiers of illusion that extended to fingertip length was gathered to a crystal and pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of glabella blossoms and buds, red pixie carnations and baby's breath.

She added sentiment to her costume by keeping bridal traditions which included a chiffon and lace handkerchief for "something old," diamond and pearl earrings belonging to Mrs. J.T. Johnson for "something borrowed," a garter for "something new" and "something blue," and a sixpence in her shoe.

The sextet of bridal attendants included Deana Gayle Mason, sister of the bride, the maid of honor, Anne Golden of Little Rock, Ark., Lisa Gray of Burkburnett, Donna Puffer and Allison White, both of Houston, and Kellye Henske of Bellville, the bridesmaids.

They were attired in identical red chiffon dresses over taffeta styled to complement the bride's gown with basque bodices and ruffles edged in white across the shoulders. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of three white glabella blossoms and buds with baby's breath, and the bridesmaids carried two of the blossoms.

Sarah Hancock of Navasota, the flower girl, wore a white organza tea length dress with a red satin sash and a red bow in her hair. She carried a white basket of red and white pixie carnations.

Andrew Fuqua of Pinehurst, the ring bearer, wore a white tuxedo with white vest and red bow tie.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails, white shirt with wing tipped collar, white vest and red bow tie. The best man wore a black tuxedo with tails. The groomsmen's attire consisted of white jackets, black trousers, red cummerbunds and bow ties. The father of the bride wore a pearl gray tuxedo with tails, white shirt with wing tip collar, gray vest and gray striped ascot.

The groom's attendants included John Orange of Bellville, best man, Mark Webber of Pork Lavaca, Lawrence Dunleavy of Houston, Chuck Bundren, Todd Newman, Eric Lyons and Shane Pfeffer, all of Bellville.

The mother of the bride chose a full length silver gray chiffon dress accented with a darker gray flat shoulder bow, complimenting it with a white glabella corsage. The mother of the groom was attired in a gray chiffon tea length dress accented with matching floral shoulder applique. She wore a red open rose corsage.

The bride and groom are both students at Southwest Univ. at San Marcos where they are majoring in journalism. She was graduated from Iowa Park High School and attended Harris County College. He was graduated from Bellville High School and attended Wharton Junior College. Following a trip to Orlando, Fla., they will live in San Marcos to complete their education. The bride wore a white linen dress with dramatic red overlay for travel.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the wedding. All tables in the setting were covered with white cloths featuring red skirts.

The bride's cake was the conversation piece on her table where her bouquet and those of her attendants lent the floral touch to the decorations. The confection of four tiers separated with white columns was covered with snow white icing accented with swags and roses and topped with a contemporary bride and groom encircled with tiny white and red silk flowers. The lingering appeal of the cake will be remembered in six one-layer cakes adorned in similar fashion that were placed around the base.

The groom's chocolate on chocolate cake was H-shaped for Henske and flanked by satellite cakes encircled with silk flowers and greenery. Interest in the table decor was heightened with two cornucopias filled with red satin roses made especially by the groom's mother for the occasion. A silver coffee service was compatible with other appointments.

The bride's book was overseen by the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Jerrell Johnson at a table decorated with three-tiered candelabra that was trimmed with red and white silk flowers and white bows, and held red candles.

Refreshments were served by Doris Frisby, Vivienne Brown, Kathy Derham, Stacy Pfeffer and Kim Hairgrove. Rice bags were distributed by Cindy and Jana Coltrain.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The tables were laid with red cloths and white place mats and decorated with arrangements of red flowers.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Johnson of Bossier City, La., Mrs. Merle Babers of Saline, La., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coltrain of Iowa Park, Mrs. Carolyn Gray of Burkburnett, and Mr. and Mrs. John Golden of Little Rock, Ark.

Cook of the Week

"Tell me what you eat. I will tell you who you are," Brillat Savin said. That statement would have to be qualified because where people live and the kinds of foods adapted to the area determine to a large extent what they eat.

Frozen Fruit Salad is popular with so many people in this area, and maraschino-flavored preserved cherries are one of the favorite fruits used in it.

The cherry tree has an interesting history. It arrived in Italy about 100 B.C. and within the century, cherry trees were found growing throughout the Roman Empire. The Romans took the cherry tree as far as Britain, but it seemed to have disappeared from there during the Dark Ages. However, it was reintroduced by Henry VIII.

English settlers brought the cherry tree to America as early as 1629 and today they are grown in every state. They have been inspiration for poems and songs. Robert Louis Stevenson, the poet wrote "Up Into the Cherry Tree, Who Should Climb but Poor Little Me?" Many people remember a song that their grandmothers used to sing "Can She Bake a Cherry Pie, Billy Boy?"

Carey Dale Roberts, who has taught in the Iowa Park High School homemaking department five years, is the cook for this week and realizes the importance of planning well-balanced meals. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Roberts, she was graduated from Iowa Park High School and from Texas Christian Univ. with a homemaking degree. At the university, she was an officer in Phi Epsilon Omicron, a home economics honor society. She is a Future Homemakers of America sponsor and a cheerleaders

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

- 1 extra large carton Cool Whip
 - 1 8 oz. carton sour cream
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 1 can crushed pineapple, drained
 - 1 small jar maraschino cherries, chopped
 - 3 bananas (mashed)
 - 1/2 cup chopped pecans (optional)
- Mix well and freeze. Thaw about 10 minutes before serving.

SUMMER SQUASH

- 5-6 medium summer squash
 - 1 can mushroom soup, undiluted
 - 2-3 heaping T sour cream
 - 1 medium onion, chopped
- Salt and pepper to taste. Slice squash, cook until tender and drain. Mix remaining ingredients together. Alternate layers of squash and the mixture in baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes, uncovered.

CHOCOLATE MARTHA

- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
- 1 8 oz. pkg. Philadelphia cream cheese
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1 9 oz. carton Cool Whip
- 2 4 oz. pkgs. Jello Instant Chocolate Pudding Mix
- 1 t. vanilla

Mix flour and margarine well and add pecans. Put into bottom of baking dish or pan 9x13x2. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees and cool.

Mix softened cream cheese with powdered sugar. Stir well and add 1 cup Cool Whip; spread on crust. Add milk and vanilla to pudding mix and heat until smooth. Spread over cheese layer. Spread Cool Whip on top of pudding layer. Grate Hershey Bars or semi-sweet chocolate on top. Refrigerate overnight and cut into squares.

Worth Quoting

This desk has had a number of phone calls in recent weeks from people we've never heard of... must be a rash of it because other local residents have related similar calls. These calls are coming from stock brokers, investment brokers and other types of brokerage houses... if they only knew how broke this bloke was they wouldn't waste their time or mine. Any how, they introduce themselves over the phone and immediately set about telling you how you can invest your money with them and they'll make you all this interest.

taxes--still within the allowable time limit for tax payments. He called over to the appraisal district office to ask them how much he owed. Someone in the office gave him a figure of slightly over $500. So, still in the month of January, he sent in his tax payment.

Personally, I have trouble dealing with people I don't know over the telephone... I wouldn't do it at all even if I had any money and we suggest that others follow that guideline. If you're going to entrust your money with someone make sure it's someone you know and trust.

Nothing happened until the following month when he received a notice that his taxes were really $900 plus, and, $30 extra is levied for penalty and interest for the payment being past due.

Of course, if you're like the Thompson clan, Mr. Piggy Bank on the cabinet will hold it all and you can keep your eye on it... at least until Mean Old Mr. Gravity gets hold of it.

The penalty and interest thing went over like a time bomb with Roy and he protested to the appraisal group, pointing out that he, in good faith, took the figures given to him by the office, submitted that, and felt that he should not be penalized the penalty and interest.

While on the subject of money, we ran across some quotes from famous folks concerning the subject.

So Roy fires off a check for the amended amount minus the penalty and interest figure of $30. The check comes back, along with an explanation that the appraisal district is not allowed by law to waive penalty and interest payments, and district office cannot, therefore, accept partial payments on his taxes.

Mark Twain, in one of his more unoriginal thoughts said, "the lack of money is the root of all evils."

Well, since the legislature is in session, Roy is asked to appear before a special subcommittee to consider his plea. And he goes to Austin to testify before the committee.

Oscar Wilde said, "When you are young you think money is the most important thing in life. When you are old, you know it is."

Later, Roy was assured that there is little opposition, if any, to a change in the property tax code that would allow for the use of common sense in matters pertaining to penalty and interest.

But, my favorite is from Lord Halifax who said, "those who are of the opinion that money will do everything may reasonably be expected to do everything for money."

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Every time I read or watch a report about the "terrible heat" people are experiencing in the southeastern part of the country, I have to smile a little.

Gosh, 100 degrees over there was blamed on warping a railroad track causing a derailment, fires burning thousands of acres, deaths and all kinds of problems.

About the only time anyone thinks 100-plus temperatures in this part of the country is worth reporting is when we set new records, 118 degrees, or a national political party holds its convention in the state during the summer.

I guess it's all what you're used to.

It appears we need another anti-litter promotion like the nation underwent back in the early 1970s. At least people who play or attend ball games need it.

I was hopping mad Sunday afternoon, when I was part of a crew that cleaned up after a slow pitch softball tournament at Burnett Field.

People apparently feel that if they play or watch a game, they have the right to litter. Either that, or they are so engrossed in the game they don't realize what they're doing.

I picked up cans, bottles, towels, boxes, papers, bags, socks, wrappers, disposable diapers and I don't know what all else until my temper was worse than my fatigue.

But all that was still on and around the field after it had been cleaned the previous day, as several youngsters picking up numerous sacks full that afternoon to earn Cokes.

I was told it's just as bad when our local kids are playing, but that doesn't make it right. People may be called careless or unthinking if they make that kind of mess at a ball park, but anywhere else they'd be called slob.

There were trash containers placed around the area, but they apparently were used only by the cleanup crews.

Trash along our roadways wasn't a major problem back in the '70s, when the anti-litter promotions were hot and heavy. Most everyone began carrying litter bags in their cars, and used them. But look along our streets and major roads today.

We've got a problem we can't blame on nature or anything else, except ourselves.

Friendship Class to make donation

The monthly meeting of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church was held Monday at the church and hosted by Miss Helen Reed and Mrs. Elmer Singleton. Eighteen members attended.

During the business conducted by Mrs. Singleton, it was voted to make a monetary contribution to the sound system of the sanctuary each month, and to bear the expense for the batteries and tapes needed for the class tape ministry. Mrs. O.S. McEmore reported on articles sent to Faith Missions and made community missions in action assignments.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson presented a devotional program on "Being Content in Every State," and Mrs. D.O. James was in charge of recreation.

ABOUT TOWN

Attending the May 29 graduation exercises at Moody Coliseum of Southern Methodist Univ. in Dallas of Berkner High School's 796 seniors were Mrs. L.L. Watts and Grace Churchman. They are the grandmother and great-aunt respectively of graduates Karina and Melita Watts, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watts of Richardson.

Rathman, Pitifer vows are solemnized Saturday

Miss Lynne Lola Rathman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Rathman, became the bride of Anthony Jay Pitifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pitifer of Lubbock Saturday afternoon in a single ring service performed at Christ the King Catholic Church in Iowa Park.

The celebrant of the nuptial mass was Monsignor Charles King, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Wichita Falls, and the officiant was Rev. Mr. Patrick Burke, pastor of Christ The King Catholic Church. The altar boys were Christopher Burke and Ricky Byrne, and the lectors were Mr. and Mrs. Chris Rathman.

The altar table which held the unity candlestick, where mothers of the couple lighted the outer candles before the service, was flanked by candles aflame in seven-branched brass candelabra trimmed with silk ivy and white bows. Back of the altar table, the center of interest was a wall shelf that held a striking arrangement of five candles shedding soft light through crystal globes banked by burgundy roses and rosebuds, daisies, statice and baby's breath.

The nuptial setting was completed with potted ferns on stands, the bride's gifts to her attendants, and other potted plants.

The registry table in the church foyer where Miss Sherrie Rathman presided was covered with burgundy silk overlaid with white embossed sheer. Decorations featured a five-light votive candelabrum uprising from a bank of burgundy roses, rosebuds and stephanotis with sculptured love birds at the base.

The table held the book which guests signed with a burgundy plume pen.

The bride's father presented her in marriage. The splendor of ivory Chantilly lace made the tea length dress that she chose for her wedding a beautiful creation. Worn over satin, the sleeveless bodice featured a low neckline and dropped waistline with wide satin sash. The soft full skirt ended in a handkerchief hemline.

The bride's matching fingertip

MRS. ANTHONY JAY PITIFER

Chantilly lace veil was gathered to a cap studded with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of ivory silk roses, burgundy silk azaleas and silk and dried gypsophila.

Miss Susan Harlin of Austin was the maid of honor. She was attired in a burgundy candlelight lace tea length dress worn over burgundy silk. In design, the sleeveless bodice featured a shoulder ruffle and a silk belt. She carried a nosegay with a background of lace composed of burgundy azaleas and carnations, ivory stephanotis and gypsophila with matching streamers, and wore a haircomb trimmed with flowers in the bride's colors.

Dresses, haircombs and nosegays of the bridesmaids were identical to those of the maid of honor. Composing the quartet were Mrs. James Pitifer of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the groom, and three sisters of the bride, Mrs. Todd Jones, Miss Karoline Rathman and Miss Mary Rathman.

Rhonda Rathman, niece of the bride, and Alecia Pitifer, niece of the groom, the flower girls, carried brown wicker baskets containing miniature burgundy carnations and azaleas, silk and dried gypsophila. Joev Rathman of Odessa, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The groom wore a dynasty silver tuxedo, candlelight shirt, burgundy tie and cummerbund, and a boutonniere formed of a burgundy silk rose and ivory gypsophila.

Gary Taylor of Odessa, the best man, West Rathman, Mike Pitifer Jr.,

David Jennings and Mark Jarrett were the groomsmen, and the ushers were James Pitifer and Bob Splawn. They were dressed like the groom, and fathers of the couple wore grey suits.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore corsages formed of ivory azaleas, dried gypsophila, burgundy ribbon and net with their dresses. Mrs. Rathman wore a street-length dress of ivory voile imprinted with burgundy roses and green leaves styled with long sleeves. Mrs. Pitifer wore a street-length beige linen dress trimmed with Irish linen lace around the short sleeves and neckline.

Following the afternoon wedding, the MuleSkinners served dinner in connection with the reception held at the Rathman cabin at Lake Kickapoo.

The cakes were served by Misses Kathleen Rathman and Sherrie Rathman. The bride's three-tiered candlelight cake with two sets of Grecian pillars was ornamented with cascades of burgundy roses and a miniature bride and groom standing beneath two lace bells on top. The groom's chocolate cake was decorated like a golf course with plastic greens, a guy with his clubs and balls.

The bride was graduated from Notre Dame High School and Texas Tech with a degree in advertising. She works in pharmaceutical research with Amarc Corporation. The groom was graduated from Lubbock High School, Texas Tech, and is attending Capital City Trade School in Austin where they will live.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents Friday evening at K-Bob's Restaurant.

Conservation
book available

The popular teaching aid Conserving Soil will be reprinted this summer by the National Association of Conservation Districts.

The booklet will be offered for sale to teachers and others before July 30 for a pre-publication price of $7.60 each. After July 30, single copies will sell for $8.50.

Further discount prices will be offered for bulk purchases: 2-9, $7.30 each; 10-99, $6.80 each; and 100 or more $6.40 each.

Conserving Soil was first distributed to schools by SCS a few years ago. It had suggested activities for students, background information, and teaching tools; it was so popular that all available copies were quickly exhausted.

Conservation districts, schools, and others may purchase copies in bulk quantities from NACD for resale at the regular price.

For information, contact the NACD Service Department, P.O. Box 855, League City, Texas 77573.

JUST IN TIME - Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department arrived in time to extinguish a blazing bale of wheat straw in Don Roy Klinkerman's bailer Tuesday afternoon. The fire, in a wheat field about a mile north of the city, was ignited by a pickup. Klinkerman was aided by Denny McCarthy. Damage apparently was limited to the bailer's bearings and paint.

Coping with death trauma

By KARI COLLINS

A fact of life, ironically, is death. The death of a loved one is possibly the most traumatic experience in a person's life. Despite this inevitability, the topics of death and grief are seldom dealt with until the time comes.

"People don't like to think about death. Young people are more scared of death, but as they grow older, they tend to accept the inevitability of it," said Bob Aulds, co-owner and funeral director at Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home.

There is probably no more difficult period than that encountered immediately after the death of a family member or friend. There are tremendous variations in individual reactions to grief.

"Different families and individuals grieve differently," says Aulds. "A lot of the way people cope with grief has to do with religion. People with little or no religious background tend to have a harder time dealing with death, whereas religious people accept death more easily as a fact of life. They feel that their loved one has gone to heaven to be with God."

The process of grief has five stages. These stages include shock, anger, denial, depression and healing (acceptance). As a person works through grief, he goes through each stage. To move on to another stage does not necessarily mean the prior one has been left behind.

Some individuals may go through some stages fast and others slow. Counseling, either by a support group or by a trained counselor, helps the individual work through the first four stages and on to the healing and acceptance. "The job of the counselor is to make the transition from each stage to the next easier for the grieving family and help them get to the healing stage," stated Aulds. Keith and Bob Aulds are trained in grief counseling.

Counseling for grief is available through most funeral directors, most of whom are trained in grief counseling, minister, or grief support groups. One such support group is the Grief Support Group of Wichita Cancer League. This group is located in Wichita Falls and is not exclusive to those who have lost a friend or family member to cancer. This is a non-denominational volunteer service in which the group membership is composed of those who are in the grieving process and those who have been through the process and are able to give support. There are no dues or membership fees.

The Grief Support Group was organized in 1982 by Paula Koncek and Cora Dell Miller as a branch of the Wichita Cancer League. For more information on meeting dates and purpose call 723-1012.

An awkward situation when dealing with a person who has just had a death in the family is knowing what to say or do. Aulds suggests that the best thing to do in this situation is to tell the family or individual that you love them (if you know them well enough), that you are sorry about their loss, that if there is anything you can do, to let you know, and most importantly, just be there for them. He also says that in most cases, talking about the death helps the person to deal with it.

COST

The average cost of a funeral on the national level is $4,000 including the lot but excluding the monument. The last thing a person wants to do after the death of a loved one, especially an unexpected death, is to plan a funeral. Most funeral homes have a pre-need trust plan where an individual can pre-plan and pre-pay his own funeral at a locked price with no interest. The funeral arrangements, cemetery lot and monument can be selected and paid for in this way.

The pre-need plan also makes the death easier on the surviving family both financially and emotionally because everything has already been chosen, arranged and payed for.

Also, Aulds stresses that all funerals are a personal preference. There is no one prescribed for a funeral. A person should arrange the kind of service that best meets his needs.

As in any profession, there are some unscrupulous funeral directors who take advantage of a family in their time of grief. Although Aulds does not know of any in this area, he feels the best safeguard against this happening is to use a funeral home and director that you are familiar with.

The Eyes Of Texans

CAN 30-DAY CONTACT LENSES REALLY BE WORN FOR 30 DAYS?
Long-wearing contact lenses can be a boon to many people but problems can develop if the lenses are removed regularly and cared for. People get into trouble because they see the ad or the term 30-Day Lens. These ads can be misleading because they may imply that a person just has to pop them in their eyes and wear them 30 days. The length of wear for any lens depends on the tolerance of the individual. The extended wear contact lens allows more water and enough oxygen to pass into the cornea so that they can be worn overnight. But any lens has a tendency to degrade over time. Extended wear contact should be checked once a month after the initial fitting period is accomplished. Tiny bits of debris can get into the eyes and damage the lens. Also, some patients have a greater tendency to get deposits on a soft lens. Some folks can wear an extended wear lens 30 days or longer but others may have to remove them overnight, one or two times a month. All extended wear patients should take their lenses out to clean them once a week. With regular checks, the average soft lens should last from one to two years.

County vegetable show set Friday

By DAVID FINLEY
County Agent

This week marks one of the highlights of the year as far as the Extension landscape and garden committee goes. That highlight is the Annual Wichita County Vegetable Show. It will be held Friday at the Farmer's Market located in downtown Wichita Falls on the corner of 8th and Ohio Street.

The displays, booths and other educational activities will be viewed by everyone that comes to the show. Since the show is held at the Farmer's Market, it will give the home owner a chance to purchase fresh vegetables on the spot. Willie Moser, manager of the market, has assured me there will be a lot of variety and quality vegetables present for the home owner to purchase.

We are looking for another large show this year. There will be a junior and senior division that will be judged by Al Alexander, Extension area agronomist from the Research and Extension Center in Lockett. Entries are open to all residents of Wichita County and are free of charge. Home owners and growers alike can enter as many kinds and types of vegetables as they would like but may enter only once per variety.

Registration for the show will be from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. on Friday, and the judging will begin at 10 a.m.

First, second and third place winners in each class will be awarded ribbons. The champion entries in both the junior and senior divisions will be selected and presented a special award.

The entries become the property of the show and will be left on display until 3:30 p.m. on Friday. Entries must be produced by the person making the entry, and they may be brought to the show in any type of container. Participants will be given a two-part entry form that must be filled out properly and handed in at the time of entry. Those that have more than 10 entries are urged to come by the office at 1626 Midwestern Parkway to pick up the blank forms. These will need to be filled out before the show on Friday.

The sponsors for this year's show include the Wichita County Landscape and Garden Committee, Agricultural Division of the Wichita Falls B.C.I., the Farmer's Market and the City of Wichita Falls.

Prizes to be given to the winner of the show includes one home gardener selling stall free for one week. Also, guests will be able to register for one-half bushel of vegetables, courtesy of the market.

There will be numerous publications on hand for anyone to pick up and take with them. Donnie Peters and I will be available to answer any questions that growers might have about gardening.

Landscape and garden committee members that will be helping at the show include: Bryan Stine, John Hooker, Mrs. Mattie Lynn Stine, Mrs. Linda Lowder, Steve Smith, Larry Grauerholz, Ruth Grauerholz, Grady Bonner and Bob Brady.

As can be seen, the 1985 vegetable show is shaping up to be nice. It involves the work of many people but will be worth it. Anyone that is interested in growing, buying or canning vegetables are cordially invited to attend this year's show.

CHAMPS' REWARDS - Members of the Wichita Falls Pumpers walk toward tournament co-chairman Bill Hrcirik to accept their trophies Sunday afternoon after capturing the sixth annual Mule Skinner Slow Pitch Softball Tournament. The former champs defeated the Texas A's in the championship game.

Rep. Finnell cutting costs of operating his offices

The office of Rep. Charles Finnell has taken certain economic steps in light of the financial position of state government.

"As understood by the staff last month, this office will operate with fewer telephone lines and equipment during the interim, and without full time employees at the capitol office until the end of the fiscal year," stated Finnell.

"Every family and business in the 80th district has felt the need to economize, and it is appropriate that our state government follow suit. Hopefully, constituents will understand that all state agencies, including the Texas House of Representatives, must achieve appropriate economies next September due to fiscal constraints. However, the efforts of our office begin now," Finnell said.

The House Administration Committee recently joined this effort in a series of economic measures with which Rep. Finnell heartily concurred:

- 1) not increasing the amount of interim expense funds, which was last set in January of 1983.
- 2) not allowing magazine subscriptions to be billed to the House of Representatives.
- 3) not permitting the acquisition of any new office furnishings.

Finnell, a member of the Texas Conservative Coalition, stated that he was glad that the 140-day session of the Texas Legislature adjourned last month without the imposition of new state taxes.

Connie Mack games slated

Iowa Park's Connie Mack League team, composed primarily of Hawk baseballers, will play a rain-delayed game against Archer City at 2 p.m. Saturday at Hawk Field.

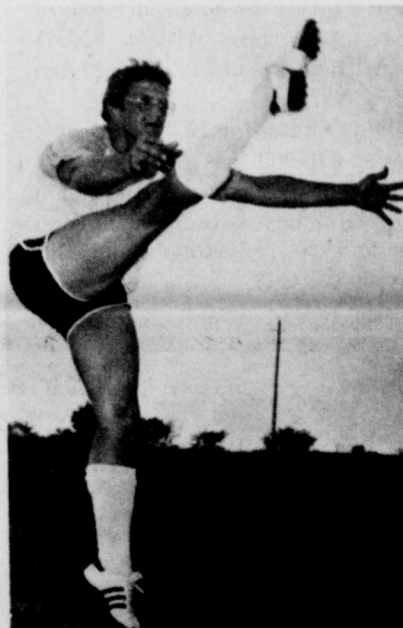

The game was postponed from last Thursday.

Coach Ray Sefcik said his club lost 5-4 in extra innings to Burkburnett and 5-3 to the Wichita Falls Rebels, giving them a 0-2 record.

Tonight at 8:30, the team travels to Burkburnett to meet the Red Sox, and at 7:30 Friday evening, they play the Hobos at Kiwanis-4 park in Wichita Falls.

Monday, according to the schedule, Holliday is to play Archer City at 6:30 p.m., and return to the field at 8:30 to play Iowa Park. Both games are at Kiwanis-4.

Holiday News

Three teachers hired by board

Holiday school board Monday night approved the hiring of three more teachers to complete its selection of personnel for the 1985-86 school year, and superintendent Dan Owen announced the results of a visit from the Texas Education Association's accreditation team.

Trustees hired Jerry Pink for high school English, and Ricky Ledford as new baseball coach and assistant under athletic director Don Lucy, during action taken at Monday's regularly-scheduled board meeting.

The board also approved the hiring of an assistant band director following interviews yesterday and today by Owen and new band director Charles Petty. Tuesday afternoon, Owen stated that two candidates were being considered for the position, and the board approved the selection of either one based on their recommendations.

Ledford, hired to replace Jake Cottrell as the head baseball coach, was a standout at Wichita Falls High School, and Cameron University in Lawton. Cottrell will concentrate his efforts as middle school principal and classroom teacher during the 1985-86 school year, following a successful attempt to add baseball to Holiday's athletic arsenal.

"We are in superior shape," Owen commented concerning the recent "A-Team Assault" from the TEA. A three-man accreditation team from Austin spent three days in Holiday, checking into 35 specific areas concerning everything from the campus grounds to teacher and administrator performance.

Hoeffner assigned to Arizona base

Airman Michael J. Hoeffner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoeffner of Holiday, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force aircraft maintenance course at Sheppard Air Force Base.

During the course, students were taught aircraft maintenance fundamentals to repair and service one and two-engine jet aircraft. Maintenance management and documentation was also taught to assess aircraft readiness capability.

Graduates of the course earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Hoeffner is scheduled to serve at Luke Air Force Base, Ariz.

His wife, Katherine, is the daughter of Monty Knox of Euless, and Margaret K. Navarro of 2 Mill Valley Drive, Wichita Falls.

Owen said the major areas where Holiday received commendation included principals being active as instructional leaders, personnel files being kept in top shape, successful implementation of Chapter 72 and 75 which, according to the TEA officials, was above average when compared to comparable-sized schools across the state.

Other areas where Holiday received good ratings included teachers implementing essential elements of lesson study and planning, above-average tutorials and re-teaching programs, and, compliments concerning the cleanliness of the school buildings and overall campus environment.

Two areas where the accreditation team recommended slight improvements dealt with outdated policies concerning continuing contracts for personnel, which the board inadvertently left in the policy book, and, two teachers not receiving a full 45-minute preparation period in the system. Owen said both areas were dealt with immediately after their discovery.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board approved the Archer County Tax Appraisal District's budget for 1985-86, approved continuation of a full-day, full-year kindergarten program next year, approved the student handbook for the next school year, approved its contract with West-Wichita Co-op, and tabled selection of bank depository until the July meeting.

The Appraisal District's proposed budget is for $165,886, with Holiday I.S.D.'s share totalling $38,966, or just under 24-percent of the total budget.

The board agreed to continue its own collections and maintain a tax office here, declining a proposal by the appraisal district to collect for Holiday I.S.D. for $10,521.

The student handbook was approved as is with the addition of policy changes mandated by HB-72, including discontinuation of students' official leave days.

Slate, Carver wedding held in Wichita Falls

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Clay Carver, who were married Saturday at the Faith Baptist Church in Wichita Falls, are honeymooning in Nassau, and will live in Holiday when they return.

The bride is the former Kathy Lee Slate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Slate of Burkburnett, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Bill Carver of Holliday.

Gil Peters, minister of the Holliday Church of Christ, performed the double-ring service in an altar setting featuring cathedral white wicker wedding baskets filled with yellow and white spring flowers, an archway centered with the unity candle arranged in an antique wicker fern stand decorated with yellow and white flowers. Spiral candelabra entwined with ivy stood on either side of the archway.

The musical selections for the wedding included "To Me," "You and I," "Song of Ruth," and "Wind Beneath My Wings."

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a Queen Anne neckline gown with full sheer billowy bishop sleeves and lace overlay gathered to deep lace-trimmed cuffs. The full lace-lined skirt boasted a taffeta under flounce and swept into a chapel train.

Her sheer nylon illusion veil and blusher were trimmed with polyester lace and mock pearls. She carried a traditional white cascade of roses, morning glories accented with yellow honeysuckle.

The bride's attendants wore identical gowns of white sheer lace over yellow taffeta with spaghetti straps complemented with scalloped lace jackets. They carried nosegays formed of the flowers in the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Lyndon Laseman of Jolly and Mrs. Greg Crawford of Wichita Falls shared the matron of honor duties, and Miss Shelle Shaw served as maid of honor.

Kylie Finnell of Holliday, the flower girl, was dressed in similar fashion to the bridal attendants and carried a white basket of yellow flowers. Christopher Finnell of Holliday, the ring bearer, was dressed like the groom's attendants and ushers.

Kelly Carver, brother of the groom, served as best man. The groomsmen were Bill Finnell, Kenny Slate, and the ushers were Greg Crawford, Lyndon Laseman, Billy Chambers and Woody Bowles.

Benny Ezzell was candlelighter. The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails. His attendants, ushers, ring bearer and candlelighter wore silver gray tuxedos with white wing-tipped collared shirts.

The bride's parents were hosts for the wedding reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church which was decorated with floral arrangements and candles in the bride's colors. They were assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Darby, Mrs. Jackie Powell, Vickie Fennell, Tina Menasco and Marian Umlah.

The cakes were baked by Mary Ann Peterson and served from the bride's table covered with white lace and the groom's table laid with white lace over gray.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at K-Bob's Steak House.

The bride was graduated from Burkburnett High School and is employed by Bethania Regional Health Care Center. The groom was graduated from Holliday High School and is employed by Fennell Oil Co. When they left on their wedding trip, the bride was wearing a blue jump suit trimmed in white with matching accessories.

Young Homemakers elect officers

Toni Mahler was elected president of the Holliday chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas at a regular monthly meeting held recently at Holliday High School.

Other newly elected officers include Yvonne Sternadal, vice president; Vicki Getts, secretary; Connie Pruett, treasurer; and Tina Hofheld, historian. They will begin their duties as officers in September.

Also at the meeting, Robin Calhoun presented a program on energy conservation.

The final meeting of the year will be June 17 at the home of Donna Reynolds. This will be a swim party open to all members.

New officers will hold a meeting June 22 to plan a schedule for the upcoming year. Regular meetings will resume in September.

City's sales tax declines

For the second month in a row, Holliday has received a sales rebate check 20 percent less than the amount taken in during a comparable period in 1984.

The rebate check from the state's comptrollers office for a period ending May 20 of this year totalled $2,361, a decrease of 21.20 percent from the amount received for May, 1984.

This was the second consecutive check showing a decrease, each over 20 percent, following an extended period when checks signalled an increase.

Archer City showed an increase of over seven percent with a $5,541 check, with a total of $49,503 taken in during 1985.

Holliday's total for 1985 is $37,683, just over $10,000 less than 1984.

Other Archer County entities fell in line with Holliday, with Megargel and Lakeside City reflecting 10-percent decreases.
