Council calls April 4 election

City aldermen Monday night officially called an election for April 4 to fill three places on the council. All three incumbents have filed for re-election.

Johnny Coker, Place Three, had filed last week. Before Monday's meeting got underway, Diane Robnett filed for Place Five. Tuesday, Place One incumbent, George Hammonds, turned in his application to be on the ballot.

Deadline for candidates to file for the election is Feb. 18. A drawing for position on the ballot will be held the following day.

Though the absentee clerk can begin mailing absentee ballots that have been requested as soon as they are printed, absentee voting in person is not permitted until Mar. 16.

Vol. 18, No. 20 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 Thursday, January 29, 1987

BY COUNCIL

Boat racing proposal support is indicated

Though final approval has not yet been made, city aldermen assured a representative of the Iowa Park Athletic Alumni Association that nothing they'd heard so far would prohibit them from okaying a proposed boat race this summer at Lake Iowa Park.

The boat race, which already has verbal commitments to participate by eight past and present record holders, would be held June 7, according to Jerry Spruiell.

Spruiell made his second appearance before the council Monday, after complying with the council's request for the group to provide an insurance policy to cover the event.

Administrator James Barrington told the council he had forwarded a copy of the policy to City Attorney Jay Cantrell for assurance coverage met city needs.

The policy, Spruiell said, is the same as is used by numerous racing events over the nation. It is issued by the General Liability United States Insurance Group, and the local organization's one-day premium is $2,500.

Spruiell suggested the city or some other organization might sponsor a "Lake Day" the day before the races, a Saturday, to make a full weekend's entertainment for boating enthusiasts and others who enjoy outings at lakes.

On the day of the race, Spruiell said the lake would be closed to the general public, and a $1-admission fee would be charged.

Additionally, to offset the cost of the insurance, advertising for a program which would be handed out will be solicited.

The organization hopes to raise most of its money with sales from its concession stand.

Funds from the project, and others put on by the organization, go toward financing the Bertha McDonald Memorial Scholarship.

An ordinance will be considered at the next meeting which would grant a waiver allowing the use of the lake for fund-raising.

Responding to another public appearance before the council, this one by Bill Mayfield of the Civil Air Patrol, aldermen approved a request to hold a simulated plane crash exercise at Lake Buffalo.

The exercise would be a full search and rescue operation, with evaluation by Sheppard AFB personnel, April 3-4.

Three ordinances were approved. One calls for an election April 4 to elect three aldermen. Another prohibits dumping in the landfill anything that causes a fire in the pit. The third adopted a standard gas code which regulates plumbing materials for transmitting natural gas.

Barrington explained the latter ordinance was brought about when it was determined a homeowner had used a rubber hose for a gas line, and said it was an extremely dangerous usage.

The council approved two resolutions authorizing the administrator to submit applications for funding of two police department programs.

One request would be for the fourth year funding of an investigator. The city would pay 60 percent of the cost, $14,001, and the state the balance, or $9,335.

The second request is for funding for a crime prevention unit, in which the city seeks half the funding from the state.

Chief Alan Sheffield explained the one-year program would be to hire an entry-level officer who would coordinate such crime prevention efforts as Neighborhood Watch, put on public education programs, and purchase films and a projector to use in the program.

Very little response was received on another bidding project, to sell "surplus" property, aldermen were told.

Bids were received, and accepted, on only 27 of 39 items offered, generating only $196.22, it was reported.

Concerning an ongoing problem concerning state demands on how the landfill is operated, Barrington said a state official invited, at city expense, to tour the site had been turned down, so a delegation will go to Austin in an effort to reach an agreement.

Barrington, who had already planned to be in Austin this coming Monday for the Texas Municipal League Legislative Seminar, said he would be joined by city engineer Kerry Maroney and Alderman Bud Mercer for the meeting.

At the Jan. 12 meeting, aldermen were told the cost of the landfill operation could increase almost 100 percent, if Iowa Park were to comply to the letter the demands made by the state office.

Postponed banquet slated Monday

The Extension Service and Soil and Water Conservation District awards banquet has been rescheduled for 7 p.m. Monday in the Wichita Falls Activities Center.

The event, to be held in Room 213, was postponed because of bad weather.

AWARD RECIPIENTS AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET SATURDAY NIGHT . . . Freddie Daume, James Barrington, Carl Sullivan, Greg Miller and Frank Gossett.

Chamber recognizes individuals, business

James Barrington, Carl Sullivan, Greg Miller and Freddie Daume.

Those four names were even more deeply entrenched in the history of Iowa Park Saturday night, when they were named recipients of awards by the Chamber of Commerce.

Barrington was named Citizen of the Year, Sullivan Outstanding Senior Citizen, Greg Miller, Outstanding Educator and Daume Outstanding Agriculturist.

Besides the plaques each received, their names have been engraved on appropriate plaques which are displayed on the walls of the Chamber office.

Additionally, a new award of the Chamber's which will be presented annually, was announced.

The Outstanding Commerce Award was presented to Cryovac, for its contribution to the community's economy. Manager Frank Gossett accepted the award.

Approximately 250 persons were on hand for the banquet, held in the high school cafeteria.

Guest speaker was Jack Powers, Director of Human Resources for Cryovac, who used his home spun humor to explain reasons why the huge corporation chose Iowa Park for its plant site.

"What we got," he said, "was super cooperation. You made us feel like we were really wanted."

The plant, which has undergone expansion six times and now employs 600, is a $62-million investment and last year paid $977,000 in taxes.

Powers, who was one of the Cryovac officials who selected Iowa Park for the new company site, mentioned the employees here were not unionized and commented there has not been a layoff either here or at the Simpsonville, S. Carolina plant.

"We've received full support from the community, employees and stockholders," he said.

CITY WORKERS this week erected two covered bench rest areas in the median area of the 100 block of West Park. The redwood structures, which will have flowers planted nearby, are part of the business area improvement project begun last year, and were financed jointly by the Park Board and Independent American Savings.

Help for underprivileged explained to 23 Study Club

The 23 Study Club program Thursday afternoon related to the Public Affairs department of General Federation of Women's Clubs and emphasized involvement in alleviating the problems of the homeless, abused and needy in the United States, Wichita County and Iowa Park.

The meeting was held upstairs in the Tom Burnett Memorial Library, and the hostesses were Mrs. Keith Auld and Mrs. Sam Hill. Mrs. C.L. Thompson was program leader.

Mrs. C.L. Metz presented the devotion on "Seasons of Life." She likened 1987 to a jigsaw puzzle with 12 parts and four pieces representing the months and seasons. She said that each season has its own beauty and purpose just as the stages of life from babyhood through senior adulthood have beauty and purpose. She closed with a poem, "God Is Passing By."

Mrs. John Rentschler played a piano selection "Canadian Summer" for the performing arts number.

Mrs. L.E. Brooks introduced a panel discussion with "How Do We Find a Roof for Everyone?" She said that shelter is the basic need that is going wanting in virtually every city in the United States, and experts say that homelessness needs an institutional response, an united effort by government, the private sector, and the public.

She further stated that according to many experts that it cannot simply become an accepted institution with responses that meet only emergency needs, but that it must include services to bring the homeless back into the mainstream of the community.

Mrs. Brooks said that the most important need for the homeless was affordable housing, but since low income housing has disappeared and federal housing programs have shrunk, a house is often difficult to find. She also said that even when housing is found, the most successful programs for the homeless are those that offer a range of services, and the intensive, multi-faceted programs take time and money.

She continued to say that such programs that took time and money raised the question, should the programs be shared by the federal government, states and communities alike?

During the talk, Mrs. Brooks told how successful steps were being taken in the fight against homelessness in Memphis, Los Angeles, New York City, Seattle and other cities in the United States through shelters, rehabilitation, counselling and job preparation centers and health-care clinics.

Mrs. B.G. House discussed the help available to Wichitans when their cupboards turn bare. She mentioned first the Texas Employment Commission which provides two basic services: unemployment insurance and benefits. Then, the Department of Human Resources which provides food stamps and aid for families with dependent children.

She said while people are waiting for their benefits, several agencies can step in and fill the gap to a certain point.

These are: Interfaith Ministries, which offers two or three days of food and a $50 limit on assistance with utility bill-termination and medical expenses. Another is Faith City Mission which offers free meals, spot labor placement, limited rent and utility assistance, some clothing and temporary shelter.

Another is the Salvation Army which gives clothing and food assistance, some financial help on utilities and rent and assistance with medication. The last agency Mrs. House mentioned was the Libra Foundation which offers clothing and household items but does not serve meals except on Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Mrs. John Rentschler told how Iowa Park is helping to alleviate the food needs of residents of the city through the Food Pantry. An order of food to last a family three days is given, with a limit of three boxes in a six-month period. It helps until a family can get food stamps, unemployment or other long term government assistance.

The Pantry is stocked with food or money donated by the churches that participate in the Ministerial Alliance, as well as service clubs. The Senior Girl Scouts have a door-to-door food collection each year as a community project, and the youth of several churches often collect food as their projects.

Money is received to buy perishable foods for the Pantry and to help the transients from the community Easter and Thanksgiving services offerings. Each participating church has a representative who is responsible for the Pantry a month at a time. Their duties are to meet at the Pantry the first Monday of the month with the other representatives to determine needs, and to stock and clean during the month they are responsible for. They are also on call to fill orders for food and to deliver them. Mrs. Reba Snow is the present coordinator of the pantry.

Mrs. Joe Singer conducted a short business meeting following the program.

Protect Your Heart

It is essential today that we are aware of heart problems. Much has been learned about how we should strengthen and protect our hearts. We know that smoking to excess is bad for the heart.

Exercise is good for the heart. After all, it's the most important muscle in our body. Physical fitness is beneficial to overall good health and jogging or running has become an increasingly popular way to achieve it. Recently, however, many prominent heart specialists have favored WALKING over the more strenuous exercise, particularly for people with a history of heart problems. Consult with your doctor, and establish an exercise program that is right for you.

Cook of the Week

Our cook for this week is Janna (Mrs. Darrell) Monday, wife of the new pastor of First Baptist Church.

The former Janna Bertrand of Floydada, she was graduated from high school there, received a bachelor's degree from Texas Tech Univ. and a master's degree from Tarleton State Univ. where she majored in secondary education with speech and English. She has taught school at Eastland.

As a member of the International Crusades, Janna recently spent 14 days with an evangelistic team in the Soviet Union. She is already teaching a young women's Sunday School at the First Baptist Church here. She plays the piano and organ, and her hobbies are reading, sewing and handcrafts.

Dr. and Mrs. Monday have three daughters, Lychelle, 12 years old, Kathy and Emily (twins) nine years old.

One of Janna's recipes this week is Artichoke Dip, and it is either the first, or one of a very few recipes, that calls for artichokes that we have used since the Leader started the Cook of the Week feature.

The artichoke was first introduced in Europe in the 15th century. In all probability it was a native of Sicily - to be precise, Carthage.

It was introduced into California by the Spaniards when they arrived there, but seems to have departed with them, to return in significant quantities about a century ago. The state now produces the country's entire commercial crop of artichokes, 70-million pounds per year. The large globe variety virtually accounts for the total production in California.

The average French and Italian like artichokes very much. They have been inexpensive there and considered a humble vegetable. Catherine d' Medici, who had a fondness for them, is credited with introducing the artichoke to France.

Mrs. Darrell Monday

Heavy vehicles damage paving at cemetery

"Don't be surprised if you try to go into the cemetery sometime when we have bad weather and find the gates locked," said Bill Gilmore.

The president of Highland Cemetery said pavement at the facility has been collapsing during the recent wet winter weather.

Additionally, some careless driver have been cutting across corners and making deep ruts on the edges of private lots, he explained.

Moisture encroachment under the pavement, coupled with alternate freezing and thawing, has made the old surfacing susceptible to damage from heavy vehicles.

"We've got to protect the property for the public," Gilmore said. "So when it's bad weather, we've just got to lock the gates until traffic won't destroy what we've got."

"Let's Talk... It's The First Step"

Wills topic of speaker

The Iowa Park Lioness Club program Thursday evening featured a devotion by Mrs. Keith Aulds and a talk by Don Campbell, a lawyer of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Aulds used "Things We Need to Give Up," a timely topic for the first meeting in 1987 when people are making New Year's resolutions. She suggested that everyone could live a happier and more useful life by giving up grumbling, judging, hatred, fear, worry, speaking unkindly words, a night of watching television to visit the lonely and sick, and criticism.

Campbell talked on wills, durable power of attorney, and living wills where a person gives a directive to his physician and family that he does not want his life prolonged artificially when he is terminally ill.

The speaker discussed the holographic, trust, bypass trust wills, probating a will and what happens when one dies without a will. He explained the benefits of the durable power of attorney when one becomes incapacitated in the areas of financial management, personal matters and health care.

Mrs. C.L. Thompson introduced the speaker and directed the business.

Hat decorating meeting program

Nineteen members of the Iowa Park Garden Club attended a workshop meeting Friday morning where they were given instructions on decorating hats by Mrs. Dorwin Wooten and Mrs. Billy Gilmore.

The meeting was held at Texas Electric Reddy Room and the hostesses were Mrs. Michael Hodson, Mrs. D.O. James and Miss Ethyle Kidwell. Members answered roll call with their favorite hobby.

David Finley, county agent, will give a program on "Gardening Tips" for the Feb. 13 meeting.

Information about your changing telephone service from Dan Adams, Manager-Community Relations

SWBT plans for emergencies to ensure public safety

No one likes to think about the unthinkable. However, to protect public safety, Southwestern Bell Telephone employees not only think about disasters, they plan for them.

Under the direction of the company's National Security Emergency Preparedness (NSEP) group, employees of Southwestern Bell Telephone stand ready to provide telecommunications services in the event of natural or man-made disasters, national emergencies or critical government requests.

The NSEP group was created in 1984 as a result of divestiture and works closely with other Regional Bell Operating Companies to provide comprehensive emergency services formerly directed by AT&T.

In Texas — a state known for its unpredictable and violent weather — Southwestern Bell Telephone employees make every possible effort to maintain telephone services during floods, tornadoes, hurricanes or ice storms. Likewise, they do all in their power to restore service after man-made calamities such as large-scale accidents.

Because thousands of lives may depend on Southwestern Bell Telephone's quick response in an emergency, employees participate in annual full-scale exercises designed to test the company's ability to recover from disaster.

Drill tests employees, emergency procedures

The most recent drill, held last month, challenged Texas employees to restore telephone service after fictional tornadoes and floods knocked out telephone service in several communities across the state.

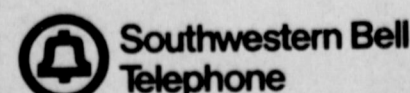

For eight hours, employees charted strategies that quickly re-established service to the affected locations. As the day-long exercise progressed, the situation changed — just as it would in a real disaster — requiring employees to adapt their plans and methods of operation in response.

As a result of the exercise, the company now has a better idea of how its employees and procedures might fare in a real crisis and is adapting its plans accordingly.

When not preparing for disaster, Southwestern Bell Telephone employees may also be involved in filling special requests from the federal government. In the past, this has included providing telecommunications services for the president, NASA and visiting dignitaries.

For its outstanding service to the government, the company has earned five official commendations, including one from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Although accolades are welcome, the company will never become complacent about emergency procedures and will continue to look for ways to improve crisis response time. The men and women of Southwestern Bell Telephone believe that when it comes to public safety, nothing should be left to chance.

When you keep your car running well, you can feel the difference. But what about your auto insurance? For all the money you put into it, your coverage still could be badly out of tune. And you might not even know it.

Maybe it's time to compare policies. Auto rates and coverages aren't the same at every company, and lots of folks are finding out they get a better deal with Allstate.

Our office is nearby, so why not bring in your auto policy or give me a call? I'll help you compare your coverage and rate. And maybe you'll drive out with a better value. You're in good hands with Allstate.

Worth Quoting

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This column appeared in the same issue with a story about how the Brownfield city council was considering passage of an ordinance prohibiting smoking in any public place.)

"I think you should editorialize ... smoking is bad for everyone...I should not be forced to breath other's smoke simply for their gratification" ... a reader.

"I think you should editorialize ... if I choose to smoke that's my business ... no one should be allowed to tell me where and when I should or should not smoke ... I do not tell them to smoke ... they should not tell me not to" ... a reader.

I am not sure I have seen an issue draw more local comment than that of the smoking ordinance now being considered by the Brownfield city council.

To my way of thinking the issue deals more with manners than legislation. Being a smoker I have tried to be more considerate of non-smokers, yet we have all seen those who could care less. They are going to light up no matter where they are or who is present. The demon weed is a must and in their minds they have the right.

Now comes a more militant group of folks who say, "Wait a minute, you may not care if you kill yourself with that nasty habit, but I have to breath the air you are polluting and I do not choose to die with you."

So comes the rub. Where does an individual's rights counteract the rights of another individual? There must be two answers, in private there is the rights of the person who's privacy is being interfered with. If a smoker is within his territory, a non-smoker has no alternative but stay or leave. In public however a non-smoker should have the right to expect his share of clean air. Here again, however, another question begs answer.

What is to be considered public and what private?

Does a person unlocking his front door and opening a business for the day lose his privacy by doing so, or is he able to maintain control of his space under the theory that customers enter at his invitation?

Does he enforce a rule and tell a good customer, you may not smoke here, so if you plan to buy something from me please put out your smoke and buy it, or come back after you finish your smoke, and buy it? Actually the big question for the merchant is will the offended smoker do either?

Perhaps the tact that should be attempted is one of volunteerism and education, instead of legislation and mandatory rulings.

Signs placed voluntarily saying "Please do not Smoke" would be easier for some to obey than a sign which states "Don't Smoke," or "No Smoking under penalty of law."

All the questions are tough ones. For many, though, it becomes more than just a matter of smoke or no smoke, it becomes a matter of rights or no rights. Granted, many may think it is a silly precept to consider participation or nonparticipation of a bad habit a major rights issue, but it may well turn into one.

"I am not going to stand for Gestapo tactics declaring areas of no smoking in private business." Then almost as an afterthought this same person looked at me and said, "That may sound strange because I don't smoke." Comments like this have been heard around town and battle lines seem to be forming. Again not to fight for a bad habit but to fight for rights.

It seems to me that smokers might as well remember the old saying, "the world she is a-changing," and the old practice of lighting up when the urge hits is passe. If for no other reason than common old-fashioned manners.

These few words certainly will not change attitudes of either side and that's all right because in the end the compromise will be reached in a half smoked filled room.

Ol' Wailin' Willie has done it to us again!

We're not talkin' about the pig-tailed, guitar-pluckin' Willie Nelson who we can stomach but the U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice of Tyler who we cannot.

The latest ruling from the Tyler thorn came when his honor ruled that illegal aliens cannot be denied benefits if they are otherwise qualified to receive them.

The ruling can force the state of Texas to ante-up millions of dollars to certain aliens despite the fact they are in this country illegally.

The ruling stemmed from a 1983 complaint filed by Fidel B. Ibarra Jr. of Mexico.

Ibarra was denied unemployment compensation after being laid off from his sawmill job in 1983. A caseworker told Ibarra that he had no right to compensation because, at the time, he was an undocumented alien.

The ruling not only forced the Texas Employment Commission to pay off Ibarra but, as part of the settlement, ordered the TEC to seek out the 10 affected categories of aliens by publishing in both English and Spanish advertisements in print and broadcast media in 17 major cities.

Cubans, Haitians, refugees, political asylum applicants from Central America and other aliens who were denied Texas unemployment benefits from 1983 to 1986 may be included in Justice court order to pay benefits to those qualifying under the 10 categories.

The Texas Employment Commission's published notices said the new policy makes aliens from the 10 categories "eligible to receive benefits, regardless of whether they possess or possessed employment authorization from the U.S. Immigrations and Naturalization Service."

The new immigration law will permit millions of illegal aliens in this country to qualify for amnesty, and government benefits.

This is on top of the fact that currently, this nation allows more legal immigration, 600,000 a year, than all the rest of the nations of the world combined.

Between the actions of members of OPEC on the oil economy of Texas and the action of Ol' Wailin' Willie on Texas prisons and illegal aliens, we might have been better off to have lost the battle of San Jacinto.

Since federal judges are appointed for lifetimes, Judge Willie will ultimately do more damage to the state of Texas than mesquite, Johnson grass, or Congress!

Thefts reported to police

Two thefts, one act of criminal mischief and an intoxicated juvenile were the primary entries on the police blotter during the past week.

E.H. Green, 410 W. Magnolia, Friday reported the theft of some checks.

A $300-value battery charger was reportedly taken Monday from the front yard at 902 E. Park. Debbie Kuhn filed the report.

A father of an Iowa Park High School student told police a tire on his son's car was slashed Wednesday of last week while it was parked at the school.

Officers took into custody at 11:51 p.m. in the 400 block of West Park a 15-year-old male juvenile on a charge of public intoxication. He was released to a parent at 12:40 a.m., according to the blotter.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

I've noticed that there are three players on the Hawk basketball team wearing knee braces, and all of them are on the left knee.

The same situation was true last year, as I recall, but then it was the Lady Hawks. Again, they were all worn on the left knee.

I think I've got it figured out.

None of them apparently drive vehicles with standard transmissions.

They don't have to wear those braces on their right knees. That is obvious, because they use those right legs for the accelerator and sometimes their brakes.

Driving modern vehicles is one reason why the football players have to lift weights.

All the vehicles today have power steering, so their arms don't get the workout they would experience if they were guiding a cranky old unpowered system.

A lot of folks I see walking along the streets, getting their exercise, are of the age I'm sure swore when they were public school students that they'd never walk anywhere again once they could afford a car.

In my day, those who drove cars or pickups to school were admired.

I worked in the evenings after school and athletics, at places like the picture show, in cafes and in drug stores. But what I made wouldn't keep me in gasoline and repairs at the same time. And more often than not, my car was in the shop.

So I walked.

I can vividly remember walking home on cold winter evenings, making plans to keep myself riding in cars the rest of my life. No more of that walking stuff for me.

And I had a lot of time to dream those plans, too. It was more than 20 blocks from downtown to my house, and winter nights in the panhandle can get downright cold. Especially when that wind is blowing.

But I had it better than some of my fellow students and athletes.

Take, for instance, a fellow named Neely Kimbrew.

Neely lived on a small farm about eight miles east of Hereford. His stepfather was a hard worker, and he didn't think too much of Neely's participation in athletics.

But Neely participated. He was outstanding in football, basketball and track, all of which kept him in town until dark and after.

Because he had no support from his stepfather, Neely also had no transportation. So he had to either hitch rides (none of the other athletes lived his direction), or walk. And when he got home, he still had his chores to do.

Not to bore you with my old school chum, Neely also had a birth defect, which produced only half a shoulder, from which an almost useless arm dangled.

Maybe Neely's stepfather was smarter than I gave him credit.

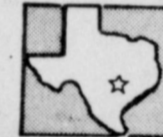

Through it all, Neely was a straight A student, president of the student council, all district two years in football and basketball, and the district 880 champion two years in track.

Maybe all that walking wasn't so bad, after all. Maybe I should have spent more time thinking about my grades and chores at home, than about how I was some day going to ride everywhere I went.

Discipline Management Plan

Representatives from all segments of the local education community were involved in developing and reviewing the district's new Discipline Management Plan. The goals of public education cannot be attained unless all students attend school on a regular basis and cooperate in following the rules and regulations of the schools. It is the desire of the school district to work with students and parents to help remove the obstacles that so often cause student discipline problems.

Epsilon Eta gets awards

Mrs. Howard McDowell conducted the business for Epsilon Eta chapter of ESA in a meeting held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Leslie Clapp.

She also gave a report of the recent district meeting and the awards the chapter received. These were: second place for civic hours; third place for service monies; and honorable mention on donated goods. The chapter also received second place educational award on the October program on "Sound Investment" and second place on "How to Give an Education Program" in December.

Mrs. McDowell was elected district vice-president at the meeting and she will be installed in April.

At the meeting Tuesday, Mrs. Marvin Robertson gave a program on "CPR", giving the members detailed information on what to do when one is found unconscious. Plans were also made to make love bags for the Children's Home in Wichita Falls.

truancy, dropouts, and delinquency.

The following excerpts from the Code of Conduct are being printed in an effort to familiarize both students and parents with their rights and responsibilities as outlined in the plan.

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF STUDENTS:

Student responsibilities for achieving a positive learning environment at school or school-related activities shall include:

1. Attending all classes, daily and on time.
2. Being prepared for each class with appropriate materials and assignments.
3. Being properly attired.
4. Exhibiting respect toward others.
5. Conducting themselves in a responsible manner.
6. Paying required fees and fines, unless they are waived.
7. Refraining from violations of the code of student conduct.
8. Obeying all school rules, including safety rules.
9. Seeking changes in school policies and regulations in an orderly and responsible manner, through appropriate channels.
10. Cooperating with staff in investigation of disciplinary cases and volunteering information when the student has knowledge relating to a serious offense.

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF PARENTS:

Parents have the responsibility to:

1. Make every effort to provide for the physical needs of the child.
2. Teach the child to pay attention and obey the rules.
3. Be sure their child attends school regularly and promptly reports and explains absences and tardies to the school.

4. Encourage and lead the child to develop proper study habits at home.

5. Participate in meaningful parent-teacher conferences to discuss their child's school progress and welfare.

6. Attend parent training workshops for home reinforcement of study skills and specific curriculum objectives.

7. Keep informed of school policies and academic requirements of school programs.

8. Participate in school-related organizations.

9. Be sure their child is appropriately dressed at school and school-related functions.

10. Discuss report cards and school assignments with their child.

11. Bring to the attention of school authorities any learning problem or condition that may relate to their child's education.

12. Maintain up-to-date home, work, and emergency telephone numbers and other pertinent information at the school.

13. Cooperate with school administrators and teachers.

14. Be sure their child attends school tutorials when required or as the need arises.

15. Submit a signed statement that they understand and consent to the responsibilities outlined in this plan.

16. Control their child. Under Family Code 33.01, a student's parent is legally liable for property damage proximately caused by A) the negligent conduct of the student if such conduct is reasonably attributable to the negligent failure of the parent to exercise that duty, or B) the willful or malicious conduct of a student who is at least 12 but under 18 years of age.

Decatur fights off Hawk rally for win

Decatur's state-ranked Eagles fought off a last-period rally Tuesday by the Hawks, to win 62-58 and snap their six-game winning streak.

Besides remaining undefeated in Dist. 6-AAA competition, the win will likely insure Decatur's ranking of fourth place among AAA teams in the state.

Playing before the largest crowd thus far this season in the local gym, the Hawks jumped out to an early lead. But a series of turnovers led to the Eagles taking the lead, 11-10, with 3:35 remaining in the first quarter, which ended in Decatur's favor, 21-12.

From that point on, the Hawks were playing catch-up, and trailed 39-28 at the half and 52-43 going into the final stanza.

Led by Steve Allen, Brad Huff and Marc Johnson, the Hawks ate away at the Eagle lead in the last quarter until the score was tied with 1:21 left on the scoreboard clock.

Allen hit a pair of field goals and a free shot and Huff put in four points to draw within four, 58-54.

Then Johnson hit a long jumper and a pair of free shots in a 35-second stretch to knot the score at 58-58.

And when the Eagles' leading scorer of the season, Lance Aldridge, missed a free shot at the 1:15 point, it appeared the Hawks might be able to pull the game out of the fire.

But Aldridge returned to the charity line twice more in the final minute of play, sinking all four points for the victory.

Allen finished with 15 points, Sean Robinson had 14 and Huff 10.

Wins Friday and Saturday, 72-50 over Bridgeport and 70-50 against Jacksboro, kept the Hawks in the title hunt.

Bridgeport had hung close three quarters, and trailed only 46-39 going into the final period.

Huff was high scorer in the game with 20 points. Allen had 14 and Robinson 12.

Playing their makeup game Saturday at Jacksboro, the Tigers gave the Hawks more competition than the final score indicated.

The hosts led 34-30 at the half and trailed by only two, 45-43, going into the last period. Iowa Park caused some of its problems, however, when the Hawks sank only 22 of 36 shots from the foul line.

Bill Chandler hit 24 points for Iowa Park, Allen had 15 and Robinson 13.

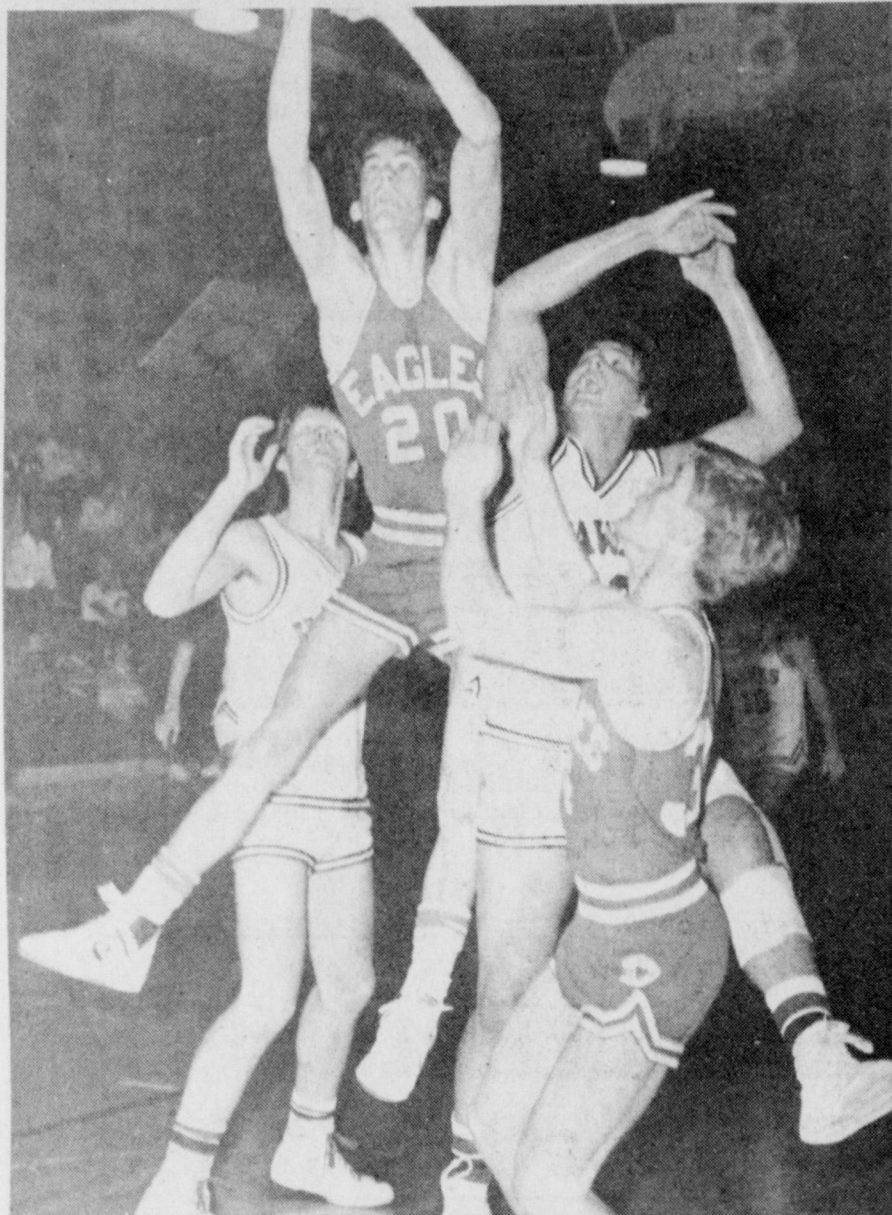

The Hawks close out the first half of their district's round robin schedule Friday at Bowie. The Jack-rabbits' only district loss so far was also to Decatur.

Tuesday, Iowa Park returns home to host Jacksboro for the first game of the second half.

The Hawks now stand 3-1 in district play and 9-6 on the season.

Girls drop 3 games

Victory eluded the Lady Hawks in all three of their Dist. 6-AAA contests played during the past week.

Losses of 72-55 Friday to Bridgeport, 72-55, Saturday to Jacksboro, 39-37, and Tuesday to Decatur, 49-

34, dropped the Lady Hawks to 7-14 for the season and 1-5 in district.

In the Bridgeport game, where Iowa Park trailed only 29-25 at the half, Lori Allen produced 18 points, Wendy Trantham 14 and Paige Knight 11.

Seventh Grade girls win own tournament

The Seventh Grade girls won their own tournament last week, and the Eighth Grade club placed second. After edging Burkburnett 20-19 in the first game, the Seventh Grade blasted Vernon 25-12 for the championship.

Cassi Beall led scoring against Burk with six points, followed by Leslie Miller and Randa Wood, four apiece, and three each from Marcy McCarthy and Rachael Reed.

Reed had the hot hand in the Vernon game, scoring seven. Miller and McCarthy had six, while Leisa Bates, Woods and Katie Yow had two.

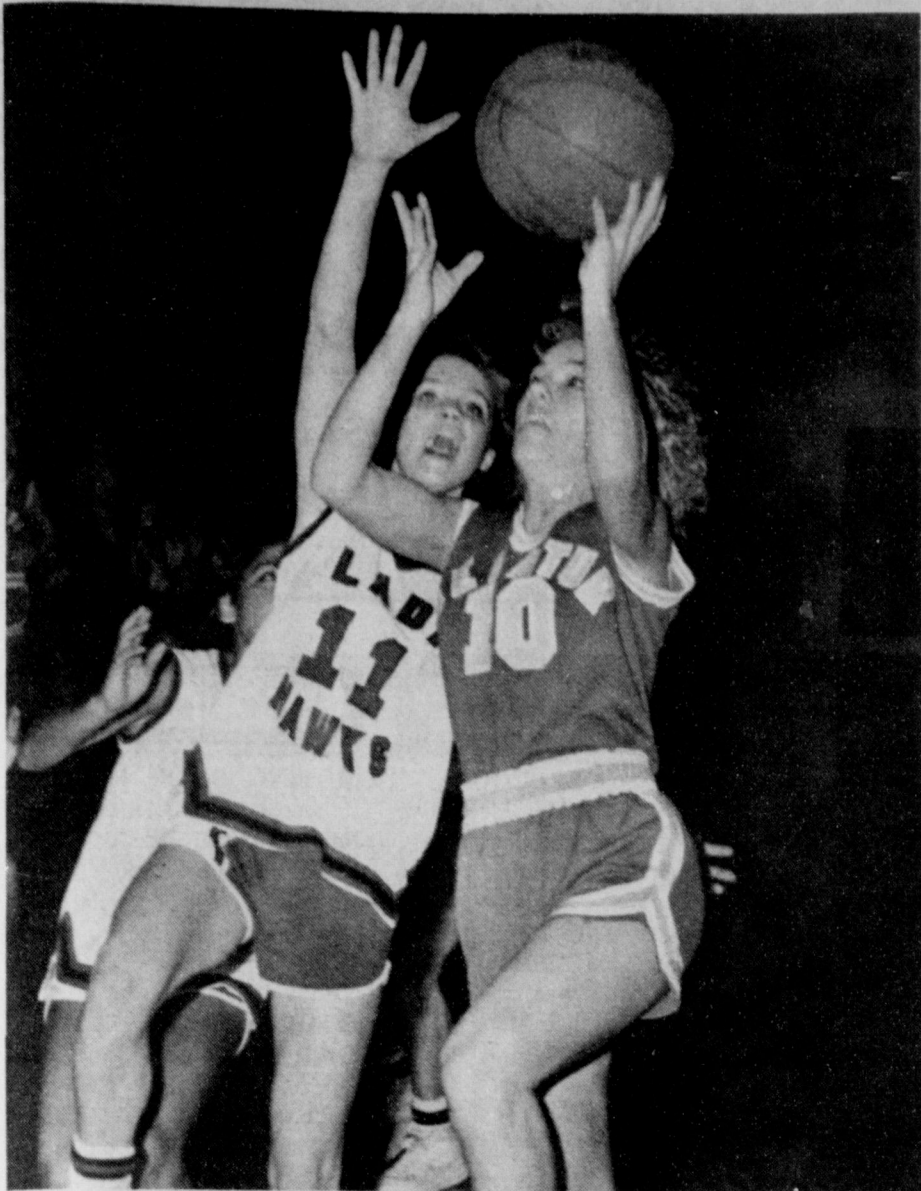

The Eighth Grade's game with Burkburnett in the first round was equally tight, with Iowa Park winning by a single point, 25-24.

Chasity Sims had 10 points, Michelle Cannedy eight and Julie Short the remaining seven.

City View edged Iowa Park 18-17 for the championship.

Kerri Dorner and Sims had four each, Cannedy three, Kelly Winter, Misti Murray and Short each had two.

The Seventh Grade team will carry its 10-1 season record to City View this afternoon for its next action.

Nutrition Knowledge, Practice Specially Important for Elderly

The NIH Institute on Aging stresses the importance of nutrition education for senior citizens, who, because of aging, illness and/or lifestyle, may not be eating a nutritionally adequate diet. Here are nutrition tips for the elderly:

- 1 - Although older people need fewer calories to maintain their weight, they still require the same balance of nutrients (carbohydrates, fats, proteins, vitamins and minerals) as they did when they were younger.
- 2 - Weight control (loss of excess pounds) can reduce the older person's risks for heart disease and high blood pressure.
- 3 - Older people should choose fresh foods, rather than prepared (eg. TV dinners) ones to avoid excess intake of sodium and sugar.
- 4 - Limiting fat intake may protect against breast or colon cancer.
- 5 - Older people have reduced taste sensitivity, and may overuse salt (and sugar).

Flavoring agents of choice include lemon, pepper, herbs, spices, onion or garlic.

Barkers buy 3-M Cafe

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McClendon have sold the 3-M Cafe to Otto and Pete Barker, effective Feb. 1.

Otto Barker is no stranger to Wichita County, having lived here most of the past 50 years. And his son, Pete, was raised in Wichita Falls.

The elder Barker is the former superintendent of Valley View school and has been an administrator at Chillicothe, Electra and Wichita Falls, as well as in New Mexico.

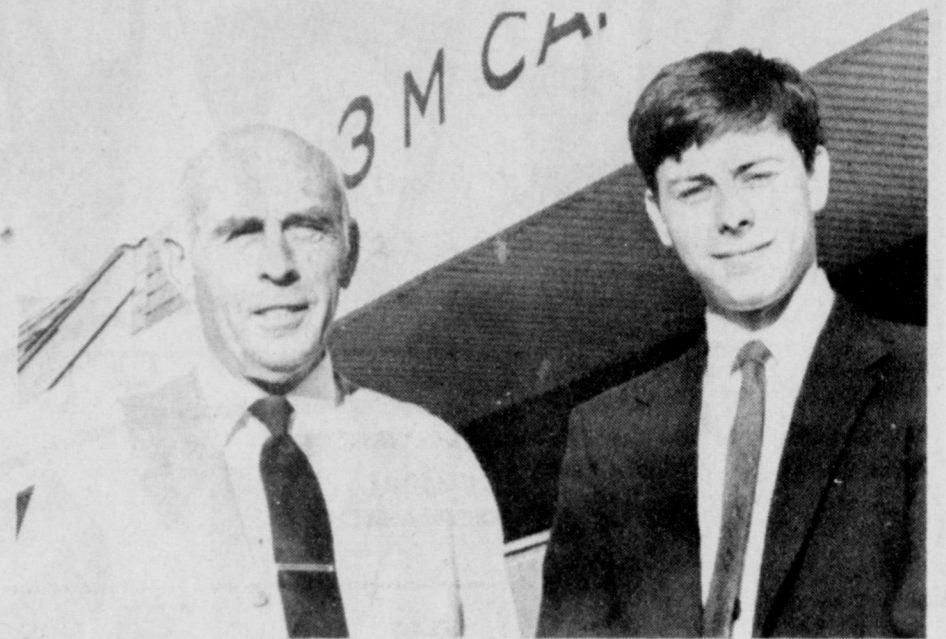

He retired last June, as did his wife, Bonnie, who for the past 15 years has taught cosmetology in Wichita Falls schools.

Pete, 24, has been managing the Burger King on Sheppard Access Road. He is a graduate of Wichita Falls High School and Midwestern State Univ. He also has food service experience at other Wichita Falls establishments and in New Mexico.

Otto and his wife have three other children. Craig and his wife are country-western music performers at Taos, N.M.; Lou and her husband, Toby Baggett, operate a restaurant in Red River, N.M. (he was formerly a practicing CPA and she taught high school English in the McAllen-Mission area); and Kathy, a junior at Wichita Falls High.

Pete's wife is also a 1985 MSU graduate and is teaching second grade at Milan Elementary.

The two new owners say they plan no changes in staff or business hours, at the present time.

4-H CLUB NEWS

A LOOK AT 4-H MEMBERSHIP

There are 305,000 Texas youth between the ages of nine and 19 that are members of the action oriented, "learning by doing" program called 4-H, points out Bethann Oswald, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

4-H is the youth share of the educational efforts of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, established in 1915 to diffuse among the people practical information relating to agriculture and home economics.

However, 4-H goes back farther than that. 4-H actually had its beginning in 1908 in neighboring Jack County when a boys' corn club was organized to help grow better corn. Shortly thereafter, girls got involved as organized groups such as tomato clubs, canning clubs and poultry clubs.

4-H in Texas has grown from an organization for farm boys and girls to one that is quite diverse in its make up, Oswald points out. Girls and boys are about equal in number in the program. Current figures shown 152,499 girls to 152,533 boys. About 66 percent of today's 4-H'ers - - 203,447 - - come from towns and cities larger than 50,000 people.

More than 33,000 still live on farm and ranches while more than 46,000 live in small towns and rural non-farm areas. Another 22,000 live in towns and cities with a population of 10,000 to 50,000. Of these 4-H'ers, more than 62,000 are active in 1,887 community 4-H clubs. The remaining 243,000 4-H'ers participate in 4-H through a number of different programs.

Assisting county Extension agents and the Texas 4-H staff to carry out effective learning activities and programs are some 21,000 volunteer leaders, says Oswald. 4-H relies heavily on volunteer leaders to organize 4-H activities and to conduct worthwhile learning experiences for 4-H boys and girls. Volunteer leaders are a vital cog in the total program, from recruitment to providing expertise in teaching various subject areas. Of course, 4-H welcomes any interested individuals to join the volunteer leader ranks.

Finnell gets appointments

State Rep. Charles Finnell has been appointed chairman of the House General Investigating Committee by Speaker of the House Gib Lewis.

"I am humbled and challenged to be serving in the post of chairman of the House Investigating Committee. This is a very necessary and historic function of the Legislature," Finnell stated, "and I appreciate the caliber of legislators chosen to serve on this committee."

The five committee members, who have a total of 55 years of service and experience in the Texas House of Representatives, are Finnell and Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, Gregory Luna of San Antonio, Jim Parker of Comanche, and Larry Don Shaw of Big Spring.

The General Investigating Committee has the authority to investigate matters deemed of importance to the Legislature and the people of Texas.

The committee has broad statutory powers including the authority of subpoena to deal with state agencies, boards, and commissions.

Finnell will also serve on the Committee on Retirement and Aging, and the Committee on County Affairs during the 70th Texas Legislature.
