Vol. 17, No. 19 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 1986

Chamber unique set Saturday night

The annual Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce banquet, largest social event of the year in the community, will get underway at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the high school cafeteria.

On tap is entertainment, a big steak dinner, the commanding officer of Sheppard Air Force Base and recognition of four individuals.

Entertainment, featuring a pianist and the award-winning high school choir, will last until the meal is served at 7.

Saturday's menu, provided by the MuleSkinners, is charcoal-cooked steak, slaw, baked potato, hot rolls and pie.

Maj. Gen. Richard W. Phillips, who was a fighter pilot in Vietnam among numerous other duties since his graduation from West Point, has not announced the topic of his talk.

The general is a command pilot with more than 5,000 flying hours, including 211 combat missions in F-4s while in Southeast Asia. He is a native of Harrisburg, Pa.

One of the more popular portions of the annual banquet is the presentation of awards to citizens who, in the opinion of an anonymous committee, contributed greatly to the community during the past year and years.

The original recipient of the Outstanding Citizen of the Year was Mrs. D.O. James, in 1971. She was followed by Dr. Gordon Clark, 1972; Mrs. Frank Harlin, 1973; Ralph Beall, 1974; Wayne House, 1975; Darrell Dick, 1976; Lita Watson, 1977, and Mrs. Charlie Lee in 1978.

Then in 1979, the recipient was Bill Steger, followed by Gordon Griffith, 1980; Buck Voyles, 1981; Bill Gilmore, 1982; H.M. Nipper, 1983; the entire Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department, 1984, and Grover Cleveland, 1985.

Previous recipients of the Outstanding Senior Citizen Award are: Fenton Dale, 1976; Mrs. W.F. George, 1977; Arch Hughes, 1978; Charlie Metz, 1979; Mrs. Bertha Thompson, 1980; Mrs. C. O. ... 1981; Mrs. James Sewell, 1982; Lester Brooks, 1983; Riley Thompson, 1984, and Mrs. Homer Blalock, 1985.

MAJ. GEN. RICHARD W. PHILLIPS
... banquet speaker

Virgil Woodfin was the first to receive the Outstanding Agriculturist Award in 1978. He was followed by Loys Barbour, 1979; Ray Hicks, 1980; Rex Wells, 1981; Barry Mahler, 1982; Louie McCarthy, 1983; Dewey Spruiell, 1984, and Robert Wilcox, 1985.

The Outstanding Educator Award was begun in 1979. Recipients have been John Sibley; Miss Ethyle Kidwell, 1980; Linda Ayres, 1981; Bob Dawson, 1982; Earnie Reusch, 1983; Mrs. Delbert Todd, 1984; and Mrs. James Edwards, 1985.

... remain on sale at the Chamber Office, at $8 per person, as well as at the door Saturday night. Gene Jordan is ticket sales chairman.

State requires voting booths

Voters in Iowa Park city and school elections will finally have some privacy when marking their ballots during elections.

Instead of voters sitting at tables where no dividers were available, booths will now be available for marking of ballots.

Myra McDaniel, secretary of state, mailed a memorandum Dec. 11 to all political subdivisions informing them of a change in the law, requiring voting booths, would become effective Jan. 1, 1986.

The memorandum states "... unscreened tables will no longer be acceptable."

acceptable."

Rules for "voting stations" are:
"Sec. 51.032. VOTING BOOTHS. (a) Voting booths that provide privacy for voters while marking their ballots shall be provided at each polling place.

"(b) The entrance of the voting booth may be open or it may have a door or curtain that a voter may close while occupying the booth.

"(c) A voting booth may be used without approval of the secretary of state if the booth:

"(1) is rectangular, with at least three sides of opaque material beginning not more than three feet from the floor and extending to a height of at least six feet from the floor;

"(2) has inside dimensions at least 22 inches wide and 30 inches deep; and

"(3) has a shelf for writing."

Wichita County acquired voting machines several years ago, but the shields on the sides of the portable machines would not comply with the height and dimensions spelled out in the new requirements.

Supt. Glen Mitchell said he had received the memorandum and said work is underway to comply. He had not decided whether to recommend to the board of trustees whether to purchase or build the booths, however.

James Barrington, city administrator, said "We're going to build our own." The city will have at least six, and possibly 10 booths, he said.

"I'm not particularly pleased they're (state) mandating it on such a short notice," Barrington said, mentioning the annual city election will be called by the council at its Monday meeting.

With tongue in cheek, Barrington added "I appreciated the check they sent along with the memorandum to pay for it (work on booths). No new (state) taxes."

About the spring city election, Barrington said the first day of filing had already passed, even though it has not officially been called.

He said Mayor Tim Hunter and Alderman Bud Mercer had already filed for places on the ballot, but Bud Burch, who is filling the unexpired term of Don Decker, has not yet indicated whether he will seek election to a full term.

CONCERNED HAWKS, COACHES WATCH OVER RAY SEFCIK AT VERNON ... senior guard was temporarily knocked out in fall.

Tough week for basketball

It was a rough week for Iowa Park varsity basketball teams: four games, four losses.

The Lady Hawks lost 48-66 Friday to Vernon, closing out the first half of round robin play in sole possession of second place and dropping out of the top 10 standings in the state after only one week in the rankings.

Then in the opener of the second half of the district schedule, the girls lost Tuesday 54-67 to Bowie, the team they had beaten 54-53 earlier.

Vernon manhandled the Hawks, 48-66, but the boys came back for a close one against Bowie, bowing 46-50.

The Vernon girls, defending state champions, finished the first half of play undefeated. Iowa Park was 4-1, Bowie and Decatur were 2-3 and Bridgeport and Springtown finished 1-4.

Vernon cinched a playoff berth by winning the first half. Now the other five girls' teams are battling for the other playoff position.

The Lady Lions had it all their way Friday, jumping out to a 20-7 first-quarter lead and extending that to 43-18 by the half. The hosts' full-court press caused repeated turnovers and fouls by the Lady Hawks.

Lori Allen was the only Iowa Parkan to finish in double figures, scoring 10 points. Sherri Schweiss and Laura Parker each had eight.

Iowa Park led 14-13 after the first quarter against Bowie, though the Lady Hawks had led 10-5 at one point.

Bowie took command in the second period to hold command 34-26 at the half and 49-34 going into the final quarter. The Lady Hawks cut the lead to eight points, 51-59, with 1:52 left in the game, but Bowie scored nine points from the foul line after that to insure the win.

Schweiss finished with 15, Allen 10.

The Hawks were hitting from the outside in their game at Vernon, and even though the Lions were much taller, trailed only 25-29 at the half.

But depth, and more especially control of the backboards, made the hosts more than the shorter Hawks could handle. Stephen Bidy had the hot hand for Iowa Park, scoring 19 points, and Ray Sefcik scored 11. Both were hitting well on long shots.

After trailing 22-26 at the half, the Jackrabbits changed their transitional play, fast breaking on rebounds and inbounds and beating the Hawks to the other end of the floor. It paid off and Bowie trailed only 38-40 going into the final quarter.

Again facing a much taller team, the Hawks lost control of the backboards and trailed 44-49 with 1:11 left in the game. Mike Sikes made it 46-49 with 43 seconds, but the Jackrabbits' stall, which they went into at the 3:33 mark, effectively kept the ball out of the Hawks' hands and forcing them to foul.

Bowie missed a free shot with 15 seconds remaining, but put the game out of reach with two seconds, again at the charity line.

Bidy was Iowa Parks only double digit scorer with 14 points. Steve Johnson had eight and Sefcik seven.

The teams travel to Decatur tomorrow night. It will be the first meeting between the boys, but Iowa Park edged Decatur 43-40 in their first game.

Tuesday, both teams travel to Springtown. In their Jan. 10 meetings here, the Lady Hawks won 53-49, but the Porkys edged the Hawks 41-39.

Police thwart wreck of train, stalled car

Iowa Park police had to call the railroad company shortly after 1:30 a.m. Saturday to stop a train before it struck a car stalled on the tracks in the city.

But the car wasn't at a crossing. It had been traveling north on Texowa, according to police, disregarded the dead end and ditch and stalled on the tracks just east of the Victoria crossing.

Then the couple in the car, reportedly from Burkburnett, got out on the tracks and continued their fight, witnesses said.

The fight had stopped by the time police arrived on the scene. And because the woman, who had a laceration on the back of her head, refused to press charges, the man was not arrested.

He and the woman were transported to Wichita General by ambulance, treated and released. Two men were arrested, one Friday and the other Saturday during early morning hours, on driving while intoxicated charges.

Mark Joseph Ruskin, 31, was arrested on US 287 near Johnson Road only 21 minutes after midnight Friday, and Francisco Vasquez Gonzales, 32, was taken into custody at 2:10 a.m. Saturday in the 600 block of West Highway. Both were turned over to Wichita County Sheriff's Office personnel.

Two other men were taken into custody on warrants from departments other than Iowa Park.

Guy Earnest Stutsman, 27, was taken into custody Thursday afternoon on West Highway when it was learned he had an outstanding warrant from Wichita County Sheriff's Department for "violation of probation (robbery)." He was turned over to county deputies.

Sunday evening, police took Johnny Hernandez, 25, into custody when it was determined he had two outstanding warrants on him from the Department of Public Safety office in Midland. He was released after paying an $81 fine for failure to "signal lane change" and "failure to appear."

Jimmy Dale Smith was taken before Justice of the Peace Virgil Hill Wednesday of last week on a charge of making a "terroristic threat." Judge Hill placed him under a bond of $5,000 and he was taken to county jail where he was later released after posting bond.

Land common topic on council's agenda

Four different actions concerning land in the city will be considered by the city council when it meets at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers.

An ordinance will be considered to accept the final plat of Shiloh Four, a strip of land that fronts Johnson Road.

Two property owners are to propose changing the size lots of their original plats.

Verris Wardell is proposing to increase the width of his lots on a block and a half of land north of West Magnolia. Bill Swan will seek to narrow the width of lots he owns in the 700 block of W. Louisa.

And Andy Arrington is proposing to trade a five-foot strip of property for a similar strip owned by the city. The owner of Country View Mobile Home Park, on the east edge of the city, will seek to have his facility rated as an industry, in an effort to lower his minimum monthly water bill. At present, each lot in the park has an individual minimum bill, and the city will be asked to consider the park as a whole for one minimum bill.

City administrator, James Barrington, will ask the council for authorization to seek bids on a fence to be constructed around the sanitation truck garage.

Also on Monday's agenda, Haswell Tank Truck will request permission to purchase raw water from Lake Iowa Park

Cemetery Association sets meeting

A called meeting of Highland Cemetery Association will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Red River

Harley Davidson, Bell and U.S. 287, according to Mrs. D.O. James, publicity chairman.

Free enterprise is program topic

Mrs. Erwin Soell, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Free Enterprise chairman, was coordinator for a program on "Free Enterprise" at a meeting of the 23 Study Club, held in the home of Mrs. Sam Hill Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Joe Singer was co-hostess and presiding officer.

Mrs. Soell explained that the Free Enterprise started several years ago with the purpose of promoting private enterprise and that each GFWC president had considered it important enough to designate it as a President's Special Project. She said that Cities Services and Proctor and Gamble were the two giant companies that sponsor the project, and that more than 500,000 club members are kept informed by the GFWC Clubwoman magazine.

A panel composed of Mmes. L.E. Brooks, Howard Marlur, B.G. House and Miss Ethyle Kidwell discussed the five-point program and goals of the project.

The five points were: club education, legislative oversight, community action, youth education and media. The goals brought out were: to broaden public understanding, encourage GFWC members to become actively involved in legislative programs and to inform their representatives in government how they feel, and to promote economic education in schools.

Each participant wore a Free Enterprise cap and Mrs. Soell showed posters, buttons, tote bags connected with the project.

Mrs. Delbert Todd, a junior high school teacher and member of the Backdoor Theatre where she has won numerous awards for her performances, was the guest soloist. She sang three selections from "Annie" "I Think I Am Going to Like It Here," "You Won't Be An Orphan Long" and "NYC." Mrs. House furnished piano accompaniment.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. William LaBrier

Someone has said that preparing food pleasing to the eye and pleasing to the palate can be as satisfying as the artist's creation on canvas, so it is reasonable to assume that the appearance of food is almost as important as its taste.

The recipes shared by Mary (Mrs. William) LaBrier this week certainly sound like they would be pleasing both to the eye and to the palate. Two of her dessert recipes and one salad recipe call for pineapple, a favorite fruit of many Americans. The pineapple, a native of South America and the West Indies, was brought to Hawaii by an Englishman, and it is the second largest (sugar is first) product of our 50th state today.

Mary LaBrier is a native of St. Louis, Mo. and finished high school there at Festus High School. She attended Jefferson College at Hillsboro, Mo. She and her husband, who is a technical consultant for Professional Communications, came to Iowa Park in 1974. She worked for a time at Wichita Falls Computers Service.

She is a member of First Baptist Church where she is a member of the sanctuary choir and a teacher in the first grade Sunday School department. She is a member of the Modern Music Study Club. She was a member of the Civic Chorus of Greater Wichita Falls six years and plays the piano. She is a former secretary/treasurer of the Iowa Park Soccer Club and a member of the Ostomy Association. In PTA, Mary has served as program director and health chairman, and she has been a home room mother or assistant mother three years. Her hobbies are music, crewel work, ceramics and house plants.

The LaBriers have two children, Mindy 9 and Andrew 6.

Homework! It's something many students view as a big annoyance - something they'd rather forget about and sometimes do. But in reality, it's a very important part of your child's education. It serves a variety of purposes: from providing necessary practice in a skill, to enriching class materials through research.

Students, however, frequently hand in incomplete assignments, incorrectly done assignments, or no assignments at all. Failure to turn in homework is one main reason for low or failing grades for some students. Following are several suggestions which might help students and parents when faced with difficulties dealing with homework.

First of all, it's very important that your child write down the details of each homework assignment. Be sure that your child has some type of booklet or note pad on which to write his/her assignments. He/she should be encouraged to listen carefully when assignments are given and ask for clarification when necessary. Also, if there are subjects in which no assignment was given that day, that should be written in the assignment book, too. Each subject should have something written beside it daily. The assignment book should also show the date each assignment was given.

The assignment book can be used as a checklist for the child as he/she prepares materials to take home at the end of the day and as each assignment is completed at home. The list should come home with the youngster each day after school to be used as a solid reminder of what needs to be completed.

The child should have a regular time each evening to do homework.

It might be helpful to have a schedule that the child helps to develop that includes time not only for homework but also allows for free time activities and chores.

After a time is established, parents and child should decide on a reasonably quiet place for doing the assignments. If possible, this should be away from TV, playing siblings, and active places in the home. If your child keeps all materials and books in the study area, he/she will be less likely to forget anything the next morning when leaving for school.

With a basic organized framework in which to work, it is ultimately up to your child to take the responsibility for completing and handing in assignments on time. It is important to show an interest in what your child is doing and to assist him/her when feasible. But remember, it is a learning and practicing time for the child. Encourage the child to be attentive in class and to ask the teacher if he/she does not understand a concept or an assignment. If these study habits are developed in the child's early school years, the child will be a much more responsible student when he/she reaches the higher grades.

DIET FOR HYPERTENSION

Some people with hypertension may be able to stop taking their medication if they lose weight and reduce their sodium intake.

According to a multi-center study headed by Dr. Herbert G. Langford of the University of Mississippi Medical Center Jackson, withdrawal from anti-hypertension medication can be done if the patient, who has been taking medication for five years or more, loses about 10 pounds or restricts intake of sodium.

Diet control was all that was needed to keep blood pressure within the normal limits among long-term, mild to moderate hypertensives who were studied in this trial.

Need a place to spend free time? Come by and visit our library. Being open late on Tuesday and Thursday evenings has been very worthwhile because many people have taken advantage of our extended hours.

I would like to remind all senior adults who are interested in literature to come join us for Senior Adult Night, which will begin on January 28 at 6 p.m. The session Folktales of Texas will be read and free time for browsing through the library will be available as well.

Also a special thanks to all children who helped make the first Children's Hour program a success. Please come back and bring a friend this Saturday. Beginning at 9:30 a.m. K-Third grade will be watching two films. Maurice Sendak's "Where the Wild Things Are" and "Ben and Me." Then at 11:00 the 4-6 grades will be watching two films also, "Ben and Me" and "Sara's Summer of the Swans." So come on and bring your friends!

January 28th a new program will begin for students grades 1-6 who need to be involved in a tutorial program. This session will be held at the library and is meant to be a supplementary program for students at Bradford and Kidwell not to take the place of the existing programs at the schools.

Grades 1-3 will have tutorial beginning January 30 from 5:00-6:00. Grades 4-6 will have tutorial beginning January 28th from 4:30-5:30.

Teachers have been notified about this program and should be able to notify parents whose children could benefit from this supplementary program.

Letter to the Editor

To the E.M.T. men and women of Iowa Park and the Iowa Park Police Department:

Thank you for your quick response to our call on 12 Jan. The response was outstanding and very reassuring. The word "professional" is not strong enough to describe these dedicated people. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

ALL-STATE LINEMAN - Shawn Price was named last week by the Texas Sportswriters Association to the first-team defensive platoon for Class AAA players of the state. The senior Hawk was a mainstay for Iowa Park's Bi-District championship team as a defensive end, and was the only player from Dist. 5-AAA on the first team.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

Mother Nature is sure playing tricks on us. Whoever heard of 84-degree temperatures at this time of the year around here? That's what we had summer for some areas. Of course, lots of people were wondering if those temperatures we had in early December were going to be all the winter we'd have this season.

Monday. People were out working in their gardens like it was April, kids (and some adults) were running around in shorts and t-shirts, and there were lines at the car wash businesses.

Four Hawks recognized

Four members of the Bi-District championship Hawk football team were recognized Saturday at the annual football banquet.

- They were:
Shawn Price - Most Outstanding Player;
Dennis Phillips - Ball Hawker;
Robert Adams - Hustler Award;
Chad Felding - Jackie Denton Memorial Award.

Golf course still possible

The dream of a golf course for Iowa Park is still not dead, but it may be if the latest effort by developer Rip Smith fails.

Smith at first offered the property in far northwest portion of the city as a country club, and then to major share holders. Both attempts fell short of the participation he felt necessary to finance development of the course.

Now he is proposing to set up a corporation and sell 200,000 shares at $10 each. This would more than finance the first nine holes of the course, and the carryover would be used to begin expansion for a full 18-hole course.

The corporation would be established with 500,000 shares available.

Those purchasing 1,000 shares would receive lifetime golfing privileges as long as the purchaser held the shares, Smith explained.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Pat Cravens, leader of the Valley View 4-H Club, was elected secretary of the Wichita county 4-H Adult Leaders Association at the group's meeting Tuesday evening held at the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce office.

Vice president Shirley Cravens and County Extension Agent Donnie Peters conducted the meeting. Eddie Nan Turlington presented a program on horse projects.

The next meeting of the association will be Feb. 11.

1985 was a safe year

By JOHN YOST
Iowa Park Fire Marshall

I hope your Holiday Season was as nice and memorable as it was for the Iowa Park Fire Dept. We wish to congratulate you, Iowa Park, for we have jointly been able to have one of the safest, most productive years, in 1985.

1985 had a total fire damage loss of approximately $53,000. This being approximately half of the total fire damage for the year before. As you can see, fire runs and property damage was lowered considerably.

The Iowa Park Fire Dept. would like to contribute the big drop to you. Fire Prevention plays a big part in the amount of fires, property damage and the safety of everyone of our community. We have worked many hours of many months on helping to show and teach you fire prevention and fire safety.

The department also contributes the drop in property damage to you as well. This, also, indirectly falls in fire prevention. Your concern and observations on detecting and finding fire hazards and notifying us is preventing a possible fire, and could have been deadly fire.

Your concern and ability to understand the need for a more active fire department has just started to show and pay off. Thus, with you helping us by practicing fire prevention, fire safety and equipping your home, auto, etc. with proper fire detecting devices, we can expect to see another decline for 1986, hopefully.

I, for one, am very proud to not only be a citizen of this fine community, but being a member of the fire department as well. For your support and appreciation lets us as firefighters know that we have people that do care and understand.

We would like to wish everyone we serve, a very productive year and one that is safe. Again, congratulations and thank you. For, if not for you and your concern, all this and many other things could not have been possible.

During a lengthy meeting of the Holliday city council held at Erma Barton Auditorium, Mayor Don Duke read a letter of intent to reside in Holliday, controversy developed over the newly-formed Parks and Recreation Board, and members of the Holliday Chapparral Riding Club came forward to discuss the lease agreement between the city and the club that it holds in Stonewall Jackson Park.

When Mayor Duke moved outside the city limits for temporary residence until the Baptist Church he purchased was ready to house both his business and family, he was required, according to Administrator Brown Hudson, to sign a letter of intent to reside in Holliday in order to maintain his position as mayor.

In his opening remarks, Duke read the letter of intent to reside. It reads as follows: "It has been necessary to temporarily move my residence to Turkey Ranch Road which is outside the City of Holliday. I have negotiated an agreement with the First Baptist Church to purchase their old building. However, the new church building will not be ready for occupancy until March, 1986. It is my intention to continue my residence and business at the old church location as soon as possible."

"My Post Office address remains and will continue to serve as my permanent location. Also, my insurance business continues in the City of Holliday. It is my intention to continue my residence and business in the City of Holliday by the end of March, or sooner if the old church building should become available."

During the departmental report section of the meeting, Parks and Recreation Board chairman Ken Potts gave the council a report listing the findings and recommendations of the board. Also included in the report were a list of receipts and itemized activities for items, including locks and keys for gates, signs and posts for Girl Scouts, long distance calls, mileage at 25-cents per mile and check-order charge, to name a few, for a total of $433.66 and showing receipts for only $140. This, based upon Pat Parker's written statement to the Mayor and Board, stating that these "seem reasonable as justified cost elements in the performance of the Board's activities."

Alderman Elizabeth Gorman protested the statement, pointing out that the board had virtually no receipts for the expenditures that there could have been estimations on some of the costs, and finally, that the board had no authorization from the council for expenditures.

Duke stated, "I will take responsibility for all the expenditures listed." Further stating that there was a misunderstanding when the board was formed, that it was originally formed to do a fact-finding survey. The council then tabled the matter for further study.

Many members of the Holliday Chapparral Riding Club turned out to discuss the lease agreement on land in Stonewall Jackson Park used for the club's arena. The Chapparrals, a 90-member club, took out the original lease agreement in 1968, then updated the contract in 1978 to be good for 25 years, stating that the club will pay $1 per year for the lease.

Larry Cunningham, speaking on behalf of the riding club members, addressed the council concerning its consideration of renewing the lease with the Holliday Riding Club, stating, "It is our belief that we have a lease already." He said there was never a question about the lease until the Parks and Recreation Board was formed.

He said, "We got word that the new park board was going to tear down the arena. . . that they chained off a road in the park leading to the lease. . . and that a member of the board had asked police to arrest members of the riding club who were on the lease." This apparently stemmed from an allegation that the riding club had abandoned the lease, which they stated they had not.

Cunningham further stated, "This is an inept group acting in an inept and illegal fashion. I am against the cavalier way the board handled the situation."

Duke responded to Cunningham's remarks saying, "I don't feel that it is anyone's intent to impose a hardship on the club. We need to build things up not tear things down." He added that hearsay wasn't the best way to gather facts.

It was agreed by the council that the actions of the Parks and Recreation Board needed to be investigated. Later in the meeting a motion was made by Alderman Jim Virdell to dissolve the board and "start over." However, the council's legal advisor, David Gorman, suggested further investigation into the legality of dissolving the board.

Both matters were tabled pending the lawyer's review and are expected to be discussed at a called meeting some time next week.

OTHER BUSINESS

The City of Holliday will be required to have constructed new voting booths, according to a law that went into effect Jan. 1. The law states that unscreened tables will no longer be acceptable.

In accordance with the law, the city will need three new booths, the city and county will require 19 booths, together, and the city, school and county will need 24. The council tabled any action in order to look into which method of purchase would be more cost effective.

Aldermen passed an amendment changing payment of water bills from the 25th day of the month to the 15th day in order to get a faster turnover on the money. This includes a $1 charge on bills payed after the 15th.

Don Brackeen, who is building a new home in Holliday, addressed the council on an ordinance prohibiting the placement of a meter any larger than 3/4-inch on one lot, passed to prevent the overcrowding of structures on a lot. Brackeen told the council that a 3/4-inch meter would not supply an adequate amount of water pressure to his home since the water line would slope uphill from the meter location. He asked that the ordinance be changed in order to permit him to install a 1 1/4-inch meter on his lot.

Brown Hudson recommended that in this particular case, a 3/4-inch meter would be sufficient in supplying water for residential use. Adding that it is important that the owner construct a 1 1/2-inch line to serve the property.

On a consent item asking for the authorization to work with the city council of Lakeside City in purchasing traffic signs and animal control activities, the council agreed to pursue negotiations with Lakeside City. Lakeside city council requested animal control services of Holliday since the city is not large enough to employ a full-time animal warden.
