Plat's planners sent back to drawing board

While breezing through a lengthy agenda Monday evening, the council hit a snag when asked to approve the final plat of Shiloh Four, which fronts on Johnson Road.

Aldermen had heard preliminary plans earlier concerning the housing addition, which included pared alley entrances to all the residences.

But when Alderman Bud Burch asked where visitors would park, the council began voicing objections to the proposal. Burch offered a motion to reject the plat and Johnny Coker, a resident of the neighborhood, seconded it, and others agreed with their vote.

A deep ditch separates the property and Johnson Road.

Jerry Phillips, representing the developing firm, pointed out the original plan was front entry and the council had apparently liked the rear entrance idea but was now talking the other way.

Mayor Tim Hunter said the council doesn't want to create problems other than what we have from what I've heard, the council wants James (Administrator Barrington) and Phillips to get together and work something out.

He said Coker and Burch were also to work with the other two.

The topic will again be on the Feb. 10 meeting agenda.

The city was approached to change its minimum billing for water sold to Country View Mobile Park, and instead of each lot at the facility having an individual minimum bill, consider the entire park as one customer.

The change would be a savings of between $1,400 and $1,500 for the owner, the council was told. Barrington was instructed to work out an agreement with the owner.

Haswell Tank Truck asked permission to purchase raw water from Lake Iowa Park, offering to pay $15 a barrel per 6,000 gallon load.

When it was agreed that pumping would cease in periods of water shortage, the council agree to the request.

Also approved by the council was renewal of the city's Public Official Liability Insurance Policy, which was increased from last year's premium of $3,500 to $5,711.

A proposal that the city remove concrete curb stops in the business district parking areas, other than along high curb fronts, was approved.

CALL ELECTION

The council officially called the city election for April 5, with absentee voting at the city hall to commence Mar. 1 and end April.

Three positions on the council will be decided this year: mayor and two aldermen.

Hunter and Alderman Bud Mercer have already filed, as has Bud Burch, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Don Decker.

Aldermen did not have any objections to two proposals to change lot sized in two areas on the west side of town. Lots in Block 26, which fronts Magnolia, were widened, and lots in Block 23, were made more narrow. Homes are to be built in both areas.

Aldermen also approved a trading of a five-foot strip of land with Andy Arrington.

Track, classrooms on agenda tonight

Iowa Park school trustees have slated a called meeting this evening to take action on repairing the high school track and set wheels in motion to build more classrooms at Kidwell Elementary.

The meeting, to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building, was called in an effort to open bids on repairs to the track's surface. The early date was desired because, should a bid be accepted, work could be completed in time to make the surface usable for this year's track season.

The track's surface has deteriorated to a point coaches say it is hazardous to athletes attempting to run on the full circle. Deterioration was caused by water damaging the base of the paving.

Trustees are to take final action on plans for construction of four new Kidwell classrooms, necessitated by the state's teacher-pupil ratio of 1-22.

FOUR IOWA PARKANS RECOGNIZED SATURDAY AT CHAMBER BANQUET ...Mrs. W.A. George, Joni Whitis, Mrs. Pauline Singleton and Stanley Williamson.

Chamber recognizes outstanding persons

Four Iowa Parkans were honored Saturday night at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. They were recognized for their efforts supporting the community during the past.

Mrs. W.A. George was named Outstanding Citizen, Mrs. Pauline Singleton the Outstanding Senior Citizen, Joni Whitis the Outstanding Educator and Stanley Williamson the Outstanding Agriculturist.

Numerous acts of leadership were told the audience by LaVena Harlin, when announcing the recipient of the Outstanding Citizen award, but she said the act that stood above them all was her efforts in obtaining the Burnett home and developing it into the Tom L. Burnett Memorial Library.

But, when accepting the award, Mrs. George humorously corrected Mrs. Harlin, pointing out "The main thing I've done is to live with Dutch (her husband) 43 years."

Assistant superintendent Robert Palmer, who announced the educator award, said Mrs. Whitis was a teacher who "made the extra effort" not only in her profession but as a citizen of the community. She teaches at Bradford Elementary.

Rusty Stowe, in recognizing Mrs. Singleton, pointed out the work she does at the Friendly Door, and helping others who need assistance. He quoted her as saying, "What doesn't hurt probably doesn't work anymore."

Williamson, who farms as well as operates the local bank, was recognized as a leading supporter of local and area youth at stock shows.

Also, in making the announcement, Barry Mahler said State National Bank "... could be the only bank in the entire world actively soliciting farm loans."

The high school cafeteria was filled almost to capacity by an audience who heard Maj. Gen. Richard Phillips of Sheppard AFB speak on the effect of the base on the area's economy.

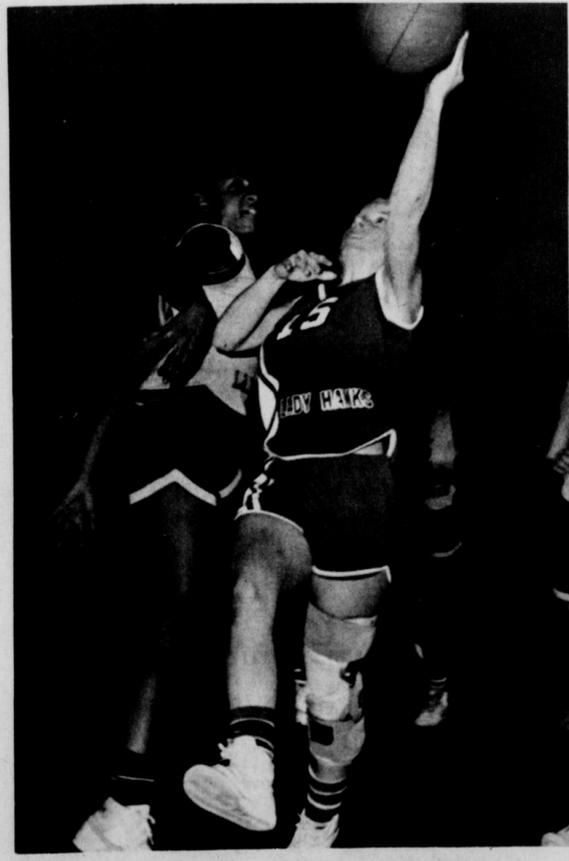

Gen. Phillips was presented a western hat and belt by the Chamber in appreciation for his part on the program.

The steak dinner was prepared by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners. Entertainment was provided by Bob Reams and a special vocal group from Iowa Park High.

New president of the Chamber is Rip Smith. Frank Gossett is first vice president, Robert Palmer second vice president and Dee Blackwell secretary.

Dr. Erwin Soell is the outgoing president.

Elected to three-year terms as directors are Gossett, Jan Clapp, Frank Guyette, Carol Hayslip, Gene Jordan, H.M. Nipper and Harrell Sullivan

LISA SELBY DRIVES FOR TWO POINTS ...in recent game at Vernon.

Varsity teams sweep Springtown Tuesday

The Lady Hawks broke a three-game losing streak and the Hawks reversed an earlier loss, when they traveled Tuesday to Springtown.

The girls won 64-62 on a last-second shot by Cindy Clanton. And the boys, who had lost their Jan. 10 district opener 39-41 to the Porkys, won by a whopping 30 points, 71-41.

The wins came on the heels of Friday's double loss at Decatur, where the girls fell 46-52 and the boys were edged 55-56.

With only two more games on their regular season schedule, the Lady Hawks are still in the running for a playoff spot. They were second to Vernon after the first half of play, and if the Lady Lions win the second half, Iowa Park will have a playoff against whichever team is runner-up in the second half to determine which advances to bi-district.

Vernon, the defending state champion and currently ranked tops among AAA teams in the state, defeated Bowie 52-32 Tuesday and hasn't lost a district game yet.

The Lady Hawks host Bridgeport Friday and Vernon Tuesday.

Coach Ray Sefcik lost a starter and his top reserve, Sherri Schweiss and LaRita Bogart, via grades and is pulling up six from the junior varsity to bolster his eight-player varsity.

He said Becky Brumbløe, Paige

Knight, Karie Davis, Laurie Espinoza, Stacy Boren and Kathy Walker would be in varsity uniforms tomorrow.

In the Decatur game, the Lady Hawks were tied at 34-34 going into the third quarter, but were outscored by 10 points in that period. Their 14-10 rally in the fourth fell short.

Laura Parker was the only Iowa Parkan to finish in double figures, scoring 20 points. Clanton had eight. The entire team had problems at the foul line, sinking only 12 of 24 shots.

With Parker, Lisa Selby and Lori Allen all sidelined by fouls, and the score tied, Clanton canned a 14-foot jump shot to win the game at Springtown. The hosts called time out with only one second showing on the clock, and couldn't get a shot off before the final buzzer.

HAWK GAMES

Trailing 41-45 going into the final period, Iowa Park pulled to within one point of Decatur Friday night, but couldn't pull out the victory, despite a 19-point effort by Stephen Biddy. Brad Huff was second high scorer for Iowa Park with nine.

But Tuesday, the Hawks were in command the entire game, leading 21-5, 35-16 and 56-20 at the three official rest stops.

Biddy was high with 21, Steve Johnson had 13 and Mike Sikes 12.

The Hawks will host Bridgeport tomorrow and Vernon Tuesday, and then travel Feb. 7 to Bowie and return home Feb. 11 to play Decatur in the last game of the schedule.

Decatur won the boy's JV game 73-63 and freshman 59-21. Decatur also won the girls' JV game 50-46 and freshman 41-31.

Politics is topic of Amity meet

Mrs. Earnie Reusch gave the program for a meeting of the Amity Study Club held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Robert Palmer with Mrs. Randy Brown serving as co-hostess.

For her program on "Political Awareness" at all levels of government, Mrs. Reusch questioned party affiliation of members and why each chose whichever party she chose. She said that two-thirds of the voters vote the way they do because it was the way their parents had voted.

She listed the factors involved in party choice which included income bracket, job, location, education, religion, age and sex. She said, for example, young people ages 18-20 are generally liberals and therefore Democrats. However, this was not true in the way they voted in the last election.

Mrs. Reusch gave the characteristics of each of the parties, programs and accomplishments of each since their foundations were discussed. She questioned the voting record of each member and said that less than 10 percent of the registered voters voted in the November election, and that only 40-50 percent voted in the presidential elections. She explained that even then those voting do not elect the president.

She said "Voters elect electors who in turn elect the president," and explained that it is possible to win the popular vote and lose the election on electoral votes. As proof of this, she stated that Andrew Jackson won the popular vote but lost to John Quincy Adams in 1824, Samuel T. Tilden won the popular vote but lost to Rutherford B. Hayes in 1886 and Grover Cleveland lost on electoral vote to Benjamin Harrison in 1888.

Mrs. Reusch said that it is possible to win the 12 largest states by one vote and lose the other 38 states and win the electoral votes. She concluded the program by listing all local, county, state and national offices that will be on the primary ballot and the names of candidates filing to date. Urging people to vote she said, "When you do not exercise your right to vote, you have no right to complain about the type of government you have."

Preceding the program, Mrs. James Barrington gave the meditation, using "Slow Us Down" and "Try Smiling" for topics.

Mrs. Jerry Denton directed the business. A report on Breakfast with Santa was given and the sixth annual book review that will be held in May was discussed. Mrs. Phil Welch was recognized for her work in restoring the Christmas lights to downtown Iowa Park.

A nominating committee composed of Mmes. Brown, Leo Thames, and David Baugh was named.

Class of '76 reunion set

A reunion of Iowa Park High 1976 graduating class is being planned for June 7 at the Hilton Hotel in Wichita Falls.

Names and addresses of class members are being sought so they can be notified. Responses can be made to Candy or Mark Smith by telephoning 817-495-7165 or writing to Rt. 2, Box 45-A, Electra, 76360.

She said from now until spring is a crucial time for birds because of the lack of rain and reminded members that martin houses should be out by Feb. 14th.

Mrs. Hunter showed slides of birds in this area. She said that Iowa Park is officially registered as a Bird Sanctuary which is something that the city can take pride in. She told how the Bird Watchers' Club is building blue bird trails over Wichita County.

Mrs. Aulds invited the club to have a part in the content of the time capsule that will be located on Tom Burnett Library grounds and opened in 50 years.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Americans are proud of their space program, as evidenced by reaction over the country to Tuesday's loss of the Challenger space shuttle.

Shuttle flights were becoming so common recently, that many people expressed a "ho-hum" attitude about launchings. But that wasn't the case when the televised explosion was repeatedly shown through the day following the incident.

Everywhere I went, people were either watching their sets or glued to their radios.

The loss was great, but from where I sit, it was a unifying experience for Americanism. Those lost were truly heroes.

Well, we're supposed to find out today who will be in our school's district the next two years. It's realignment time.

I'm not for sure how the announcements of district alignments have been handled in the past, but there clearly won't be any leaks before 9 a.m. today, if the University Interscholastic League has anything to say about it.

The reclassification and realignment lists are to be released at that appointed hour at each of the Regional Service Centers across the state. A sealed package is to be opened in each of the centers "by an appointed school administrator from that region....and distribute the lists to each school."

Humbug.

This means the majority of weekly newspapers in the state will be scooped an entire week by all those who print more frequently. The Leader, as will all other Thursday publications, will just have to sit and twiddle our thumbs, instead of doing what we're supposed to do: inform our readers.

Usually, release of this type information is made much earlier, so coaches can get their season schedules done. But they can't even nail down anything today, with the knowledge of who is in their district.

Now the UIL has set up a court-like series of appeals, during which districts that feel they haven't been treated right can ask for reconsiderations.

Since the appeals period will last until Feb. 19, no one can contract for a game date until that time. In fact, the UIL threatens anyone contracting a game before Feb. 19 can be disqualified for district honors for up to two years in the sport being contracted, if they violate the rule. One exception, those of us along "borders" can schedule outside the state, but not Texas schools.

The No. 35 Chilson "Shallow" has been finished by Swanner Properties.

It is a developmental well in the Wichita Regular Field, seven miles south of Iowa Park. Drillsite is in a lease in the M. Ramsey Survey, A-471.

Daily potential of 17 barrels of oil was posted with the Railroad Commission. The well went to a 1,890-ft. bottom, and production will be from perforations in the Cisco Formation, 1,803 to 1,808 feet into the wellbore.

Anyway, we'll find out this morning if Vernon will stay in our district, or if Graham will remain in Class AAA.

My worst fear is that both those schools will move up to AAAA, and we'll be put in the district that goes all the way south to Abilene Wylie. That's a lot of traveling.

Cook of the Week

Young housewives and cooks learn early in their married life that "home is where the heart is, and the heart of every home is the kitchen," according to one writer. They have a love for cooking and their creativity sets the flavor for heart-warming meals.

Most young cooks learn early that cookie baking is rewarding and brings cheer and satisfaction to family and friends. Mrs. Danny Coffman, a young homemaker, includes a cookie recipe among those that she shares with us this week. One of the ingredients in the recipe is "2 cups oats," which is a reminder of how important oats, in some form, are in the cuisine of many lands today.

The oat is a cereal grass widely cultivated for its edible seeds. It is described in Foods by Waverly Root as the "Horatio Alger hero of cereals," which progressed from rags to riches, at least, from weeds to health food.

There is some question as to where the oat originated from, but oats have played an important role in human nutrition from as far-back as history can reach. It seems that they were grown in Germany, Denmark and Switzerland in 1000 B.C. The ancient Greeks had a dessert called "plakous," a cake of oat, flour, cheese and honey.

In the U.S., oatmeal, described in the American Heritage as a meal made from oats, rolled oats, ground oats, a porridge made from rolled or ground oats, has increased in consumption since early in the century.

Dawn Coffman was graduated from Quannah High School and received an associate degree in dental hygiene from Midwestern State Univ. Her hobbies are gardening, ceramics and snow skiing. She and her husband, Danny who is the owner of D.C. Auto Parts, have two sons pictured with their mother today, Heath, four years old, and Bryan, one and a half years of age.

Adult reading help available

Residents of Iowa Park can now take advantage of a program to help them improve their reading level.

The Wichita Adult Literacy Council, a non-profit organization located at 301 Loop 11, Wichita Falls, offers free reading sessions with trained tutors.

The Literacy Council matches non-readers or low-level readers with volunteers trained by the Council. They meet in private tutoring sessions at a time convenient to both student and tutor.

The meetings take place twice a week in supervised settings such as a library, office building or church.

If you know of an adult who has trouble reading directions on a medicine label, or canned food label, or cannot fill out a job application or recognize road signs, for example, tell them about this program and call this number, 322-6928, ext. 55, and ask for Kathryn Fisher.

If you are interested in becoming a tutor, or if your business or organization has a facility it will open to the Council, providing a quiet room with a table and two chairs, please call the above number.

CARDIAC CHECKUP URGED TO PREVENT SPORTS DEATHS

High school and college athletes should get a checkup for cardiac anomalies to identify those at risk of sudden death, according to Dr. Barry J. Maron of the National Institutes of Health.

Ideally, cardiac screening should be done by schools and colleges, but the costs of such responsibility for checkups must rest with the athlete's family and their private physician, states Dr. Maron.

Good histories and physicals - including ECG's and, if indicated, echocardiograms - could identify 90% of persons with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy, the major cause of sudden death in young athletes.

A family history of premature heart disease is a major warning sign for the youngster, because hypertrophic cardiomyopathy is an inherited trait, said Dr. Maron.

Man with unusual vocation dedicated to good health

By RAEANN GALLENINE
Feature Writer

Joseph Levine has been a part of the Iowa Park community more than a year.

After deciding to make a change in careers, he also made a change in locations. So, after 12 years selling insurance in California, he settled here.

He is sales manager for Medical and Dental Equipment Repair, which is owned by John Church Jr. and located here in Iowa Park.

The business does more than repair equipment for hospitals. They also do work for nursing homes, dental offices, clinics and ambulance services. The business has been expanded with contract work coming from Wichita Falls, Olney and medical facilities in Oklahoma.

"There aren't enough trained personnel to adequately care for all the equipment used by the medical profession. There are highly sensitive pieces of equipment being used that need competent repairmen to take care of them," explains Levine. "An overcalibrated defibrillator is just as dangerous as an under-calibrated one."

As much as Levine likes his work, he also takes time out for himself. He runs an average of two miles every morning. Starting out on Alameda, he heads north toward the expressway, cuts over a street and circles back. He begins his run at 6 every morning.

"If it's raining or the weather's bad, I skip it, but I like to start my day by running. Some people will plan their day over a cup or two of coffee, but I plan mine while I run. That way, I know what's important and what isn't: if I remember it when I get back, it's important, and if I don't, it wasn't. It's also peaceful in the mornings, and I enjoy the sun rises," he said.

Levine started running 10 years after he had listened to a doctor lecture on running. The doctor stated that four reasons for heart attacks were stress, lack of exercise, being overweight, and smoking.

JOSEPH LEVINE

To train for a marathon, Levine picked up his distance to seven miles a day, five days a week, about two months before the event. A month before the marathon, he added a few long distance runs to his weekly workouts.

A veteran of 10 marathons, he views them not as a contest of being faster than another person, but as a test of each runner against himself.

"I am not a competitor," he explains, "I run for myself. I run an eight-minute mile while a world-class runner runs four and five-minute miles. I run to finish for myself."

While his first marathon took him a bit over four hours to finish, his last took him only three hours.

Looking toward the future, he plans on helping John Church's business grow as much as possible. He feels the potential for growth in the medical repair field is great and he wants to be a part of it.

He also plans on running for as long as he can.

"There was a woman who belonged to the same running club as I in California who was in her 70s and completed a marathon. It took her six and a half hours to finish, but she finished. Several of us waited at the finish line for her as we knew she'd make it," he said.

If some morning, a little after 6, you happen to see Legine out running, give a wave. After all, he's one of us.

Better still, get out beside him. He will tell you running is one of the best things you can do for yourself.

Levine, being a non-smoker, was guilty of the other three. He began running slowly with a goal of a mile a day. He walked part and ran part, giving his body a chance to adjust to the new demands.

As his walking time decreased, his distance increased. Before the end of a year, he had dropped 50 pounds and had entered his first marathon.

One of the high points of his life was finishing that marathon. It took him a little over four hours to finish the 26.2 miles, but finish it he did.

'Spring Fling' slated for people over 55

Where can a person over 55 "get away" for three days and nights of fun filled activities; learning opportunities; other lively, life loving people, fantastic food and special events in natural lakeside surroundings with all the modern conveniences?

There may be other places in Texas that offer such fare, but not many can match "Spring Fling," an Extension Camp for people 55 and over, says Barbara Cornelius, Wichita County Extension Agent - (Home Economics). Five sessions are scheduled for this spring; April 15-18, April 29-May 2, and May 6-9.

Some of the featured educational presentations will include: exploring insurance options, cooking demonstrations, family life, wardrobe coordination, food and drug interactions and plant survival tips.

A variety of learning centers will offer "hands on" experience in areas such as oil painting, wind chime making, archery, needlecrafts and chair caning.

Participants will also have opportunities to go for boat rides, nature hikes or fish on the waters of Lake Brownwood. Card and table games, tennis, horseshoes, billiards, and volleyball will be available at all times.

Evenings will be filled with such special social events as dances, a special theme party, games and a big talent show.

Each camp is limited to the first 100 participants and cost is only $81 per person for three and one-half days of activity, so contact Cornelius for details now!!

In Texas, 98.5% of all the people killed in passenger cars, trucks, and buses in 1980 were not wearing their seat belts.

Be careful selecting tree service firm

By Tim Hunter

Selection of a tree service should be considered carefully. Remember, trees are living entities. Trees and shrubs add beauty and value to your property and deserve the best care.

Start your search for a tree service by consulting advertisements in newspapers or the yellow pages. This gives you an idea of services available.

Pay careful attention to wording of advertisements. Phrases such as "bucket truck available" or "spray referral" may mean the company does not have this equipment or service available. Instead, they may subcontract this work to another company.

References to years experience does not necessarily mean the time the company has been in business. Sometime three partners, each with five years experience, pool their time and advertise "15 years experience."

If you have neighbors who have had tree work done, ask them about availability of the firm they used. Find out if they were satisfied with the work done. If possible, take a look at work that was done. If you are new to an area or don't know anyone who has had recent tree work, call the city parks department, utility company or county extension agent. They probably won't recommend a particular company, but they should be able to give you names of several firms of comparable quality.

Call local tree care firms and ask for named of recent customers. Call these customers and inquire about their job satisfaction. If a company won't supply you with customer names, forget that company.

Be suspicious if a company offers a free estimate. Free estimates don't exist. If you don't pay a fee or service charge for an initial visit to appraise your trees, payment for the call is probably included in the bid. There is normally a charge for consultation, even if no actual labor is done.

Most states have no licensing requirements for tree services. Anyone can purchase an advertisement, buy a chainsaw and claim to be an arborist. Be careful whom you select to work on your trees and shrubs. Keep in mind the following points when considering which professional tree service to hire: 1) Source of recommendation-a satisfied client is most reliable. 2) Years in business-keep in mind that even the best company has to start sometime. 3) Size of firm-if you have a small tree to prune, the small company may be as good as the largest. 4) Affiliation with trade associations-a firm that supports trade associations indicates a policy of keeping informed of the latest technology. 5) Responsibility-look for a firm that carries workman's compensation and property and public liability insurance. Ask to see a certificate of insurance. 6) Established-beware of door-to-door tree care salesmen. Your best investment is a well known, locally established firm.

ACTIVITIES in Neighboring Communities

The Red Cross will be offering an intensive first aid course designed for those people who are responsible for providing emergency first aid care to the sick and injured. This course allows an individual to "challenge" the Emergency Care Attendant test and be certified for both.

The Advanced First Aid Course will be offered on Monday and Thursday nights from 6 to 10 beginning Feb. 10. Deadline for registration is Feb. 7 and the course will be held for a minimum of 12 students and a maximum of 30 students. To register, call 322-8686.

Tips On
Dental Health
 RICHARD CARVER, D.D.S.

MORE ABOUT DENTURES

If you know without being told that you have worn the same denture too long then it is time for a change. If it has been "that long" (seven to eight years) - then there are some things you should know. Some "bad things", and some "good things."

If you have decided on a new denture then some of the "bad" things are 1. They cost money. 2. You may be inconvenienced by the appointment times. 3. They will feel different in your mouth and you will need to get used to the change.

Some of the "good" things possible are 1. By restoring the proper length, it can change your appearance for the better. 2. A proper fitting denture will help prevent unusually rapid bone shrinkage. 3. If the uppers do not stay in place - it can usually be improved. The lower denture does not have "suction," and keeping them in place is something all wearers have to learn by using the cheeks, tongue and lips. 4. If the denture has been worn for several years then a change in tooth shade is called for. Natural teeth change in shade with age, and "white" teeth that are perfectly in line and show no wear really don't look natural for a person forty or more years old.

If you are concerned about dentures then your dentist can discuss them with you in greater detail. Prepared in the interest of better dental health. Dr. Richard Carver, Iowa Park, Tx., Phone 592-5141.

The Eyes Of Texans

EXTENDED WEAR SOFT CONTACT LENSES:
 BLESSING OR CURSE?

There has been a great deal of publicity in the media of late about the trouble some people are having with extended wear soft contact lenses (EWSCL). Problems ranging from corneal ulcers and infections to chronic discomfort. As usual, the problem has been exaggerated but the adverse effects that do occur can mostly be laid to improper care by the patients. For example, the lenses not being cleaned properly or often enough and patients wearing them too long at a time.

The contact lens makers are partially to blame for some of the problems because they advertise directly to prospective EWSCL patients and strongly indicate that these lenses can be worn for 30 days. But the truth is that eye care professionals highly recommend that EWSCL be removed at least once a week for cleaning. Also, while some folks can wear this lens for 30 days (or more) others will need to remove it at night more often. Anyone who is planning on being fit with EWSCL should go to an eye doctor who insists that the lenses be checked once a month for 6 months and then at least every 6 months afterwards. A good patient and a good doctor can virtually eliminate any problems.
