Two-truck collision kills highway worker

An accident Wednesday afternoon involving a pickup and dump truck, midway between Peterson Road and Bell Road on US 287, took the life of one man.

Iowa Park Police Department received notice of the accident at 4:13 p.m., and volunteer firemen, emergency medical technicians as well as local police were rushed to the scene.

A pickup driving west in the outside lane struck the rear end of a dump truck, pinning a man afoot between the two vehicles. He was apparently killed upon impact.

The pickup driver was unofficially identified as Raymond Long of Iowa Park.

Names of the dead man and the driver of the dump truck were not known at presstime.

It was unclear whether the dead man had been assisting the dump truck driver in spotting dirt deposits, or working as a flag man.

The truck was dumping dirt on the shoulder of the new pavement. It was apparently going to be smoothed out to prevent a sharp dropoff, resulting from the thick layer of asphalt overlay.

A Department of Public Safety trooper on the scene noted that there were no tire tracks to indicate the pickup's brakes were applied before impact.

The pickup's driver was treated at the scene by EMTs and then taken by ambulance to a Wichita Falls hospital.

Trustees deny appeal request from teacher

In a called meeting Tuesday evening, members of the school board sustained a decision by a committee which did not include high school choir director Allen Andrews on the list of teachers to receive career ladder salary bonuses.

Andrews had asked for a hearing in his appeal to be included on the list.

It was the first appeal filed locally since the career ladder was implemented.

Following a closed session during which time trustees discussed the Youth hospitalized after bus accident

An eight-year-old boy remains in Wichita General Hospital after being run over by a school bus during the height of the tornado threat here Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Michael B. McCarty II sustained a broken thigh bone, fractured ankle and another bone in his foot in the accident.

His leg is in traction, where it will remain about seven more weeks, according to his father.

Wanna Hunter, driver of the bus, said she watched the youngster get off the bus, walk across James Street and get on the curb before she turned to watch another student disembark.

The youth's mother, however, was on the opposite side of the street, having gone there when the tornado siren sounded to take cover. She had called her son to join her.

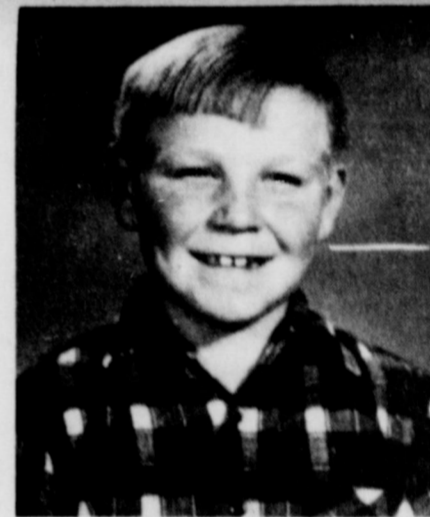

The youth had reached the front of the bus, unseen by Mrs. Hunter, when she started the bus.

The bumper knocked him to the pavement. After the front wheels rolled over him, Mrs. Hunter was not aware of the accident until the rear wheels also passed over him.

He was given emergency treatment by Emergency Medical Technicians until an ambulance arrived to carry him to the hospital.

The youth is in room 322 at Wichita General.

City, school meetings scheduled next week

Both the city council and school board will meet next week.

The city's meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers Monday, and the trustees are to meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building.

Four ordinances will be considered Monday: rezoning block 31, Texas Addition from residential to public use; amending the code to provide for minimum house sizes; a replat of portion of Lot 16, First Addition, and abandoning a portion of right of way of East Park.

Under the agenda topic of "bid actions," aldermen will be asked to consider authorizing the administrator to advertise bids to remodel the exterior of city hall; purchase a tractor/loader for the sewer plant, and contract for maintenance of city grounds three years.

The aldermen will discuss a proposal for drainage work between Park and the Old Highway on Colorado.

Three topics from previous meetings to be discussed include a leasing of land at Lake Iowa Park for a model airplane landing field, working out an agreement with Daryl James to trade some property, and permitting Lonnie Scott to tap a raw water transmission line.

Also on the agenda is a request to authorize the girls' softball league to construct a concession stand at its fields, and a discussion of construction of a community center.

School board members will hear a request from local jeweler Louis Sefcik to permit him equal access to students for the purpose of selling school rings.

Another proposal will be for the Band Boosters to be permitted to operate the football concession stands again next year.

Also on the agenda are consideration of accepting resignations; appointment of trustees to committees, approving a student transfer list and consideration of some bids on the addition to Kidwell Elementary.

Assault charge is filed here

Police arrested a man on an assault charge Tuesday, and continue an investigation reported Sunday.

Danny Haynes, 32, was taken into custody at 12:06 p.m. Monday, according to the police blotter, on a Class A misdemeanor assault charge, alleged to have occurred on a minor.

He was taken before Justice of the Peace Virgil Hill, ordered held under a $3,500 bond, and then transferred to Wichita County jail at 2:24 that afternoon.

James Brookshire informed police early Sunday that his home at 309 E. Emerald had been burglarized and vandalized.

According to the report, loss of articles and damage amounted to $4,595.

Comments, recommendations from Consumer Survey

The crux of a report filed by Dr. James Mallett of Texas A&M Univ. after interviewing a cross section of local and surrounding residents in a Consumer Opinion Survey were their general comments and his recommendations to implement suggestions made by the interviewed.

Copies of the report are on file at both the Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the survey, and also at the Tom Burnett Library.

Part of the report is as follows: Some comments made by the citizens interviewed, but not included in the specific categories of groceries, restaurants, clothing and shoes, furniture and appliances, hardware, lumber and garden supplies, drug stores, recreation, entertainment and sporting goods, automobile dealers, automobile repairs and parts, general repair and maintenance, health care and emergency services, banking and financial services, gifts, music, photography and office supplies, public services, facilities and communications, and community beautification, were:

- The leaders of Iowa Park are to be commended for this survey.
- When I first came here, the town was very friendly and after two years I decided to buy.
- Iowa Park is exactly what I want, friendly people, outstanding schools and churches, enough services that I can get what I want, and close enough to a large center if you need something special.

- Very pleased with the library, it has created community pride, not many small communities can touch the Iowa Park library.

- You hear that taxes are higher here but by comparison I don't believe they are.

- I am concerned about the tax structure; the council voted to spend $500,000 to extend the water system, I believe the people should have a vote on it; we need to move ahead but not so fast that taxes will be increased to a point that will prevent people from moving here.

- People that move here are surprised about how much they get for their money in the way of housing and community services.

- After 10 years, I know everyone, not so when I first arrived.

- I found just the opposite, I didn't work and I knew everyone real quick.

- We need a "newcomer's club"; maybe the Chamber of Commerce could help out in setting one up.

- The churches and religious activities are outstanding.

- When people say they are going to town, they mean they are going to Wichita Falls; we need to promote Iowa Park.

- We live here because we like the people and a very good school system; we moved to Iowa Park for the school system; I'm selfish and don't want it to grow too much; the music program is well known; our kids come out of here and can play with symphony bands, even without private lessons.

- Wal-Mart probably did more to get people to shop at Iowa Park than anything else; I never thought I would see a Wal-Mart in this small community.

- Some shopping in Iowa Park is built on convenience and not service but you have to stand in line in Wichita Falls too.

- Over the last five years Iowa Park has greatly improved; Wal-Mart improved the shopping and I think keeps people here with their sales taxes.

- However, Wal-Mart may have led to the closing of other stores.

- Store hours are good and bad; Parkway True Value Hardware stays open until 6:00 and two grocery stores and Wal-Mart stay open late.

- Overall business sector is very good, good service, hours O.K., clerks treat you as you treat them, very seldom are you not treated nice.

- Good town of friendly people.

- We have the Whoop-T-Do, an art show, but no theater.

- We have the benefits of a small town, not much traffic, see your friends often, but we need better community spirit.

- I got a good house at a good price plus all the small community aspects of the town.

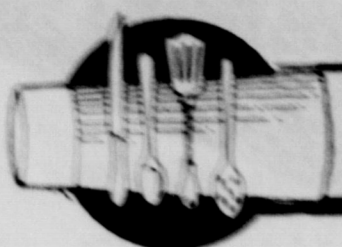

RECOMMENDATIONS

These recommendations are based upon the perceptions of consumers and their suggestions and comments. This report attempts to organize the information and suggestions provided by local citizens in such a manner that local leaders and officials can work with the community in bringing about desired change and improvements. Since these observations and recommendations have been based upon information provided by the citizens of Iowa Park, only the citizens and leaders of Iowa Park can determine the degree of their validity and the appropriate steps for improvement that will be most acceptable to the community as a whole. Hopefully, the community dialogue and interaction in examining the results of this survey will lead to a consensus regarding the method and focus for further development.

There seems to be a broad base of support for improving facilities and opportunities for recreation and entertainment. "Eating out" is closely associated with social and recreational activities in a community. Similarly, community festivals, event and activities are mutually supportive of the two previous mentioned concerns. The successful establishment and operation of a family style restaurant or cafeteria is a private sector enterprise that can best be addressed by the business community. It appears there is significant support for this type of development.

Recreation facilities and entertainment opportunities requires both facilities and programs. It also involves the private sector, community organizations and the public sector. Other communities have successfully achieved development in this area through a recreation council with representation from the community organizations, city government and the private sector. The council or an overall steering committee helps to promote communication among the different groups, can help delineate responsibilities which eliminates duplication of effort and conflict of interest, and provides for coordination and cooperation for more rapid progress. Community organizations have successfully cooperated with city governments who can

Cook of the Week

Kay (Mrs. Keith) Fisher says that Shrimp Salad is one of her favorites, and chances are that many people who like shrimp will agree with her. In the United States, shrimp is the most popular of all crustaceans, followed by crab and lobster.

The shrimp city par excellence in the United States is New Orleans. The Shrimp Boil and Beer Bust, according to Howard Mitchum, is equivalent to the New England clam bake. It is said that you can tell a native of New Orleans by the speed and dexterity with which he peels a shrimp.

There are one or two other places in the world where shrimp have become almost as much of a cult as in New Orleans. In Denmark white push carts at street corners offer, instead of ice cream, slices of buttered bread covered with a multitude of tiny, pink delicious shrimp. In southwest France, one can see people eating shrimp from a cone.

The Chinese were the first to preserve shrimp. Their know-how was imported to the United States by a Chinese who came from Canton to New Orleans. He went into the business of shrimp drying and his business became so successful that he was joined by others. Their products were sold all over the world until refrigeration knocked dried shrimp off the market.

Keith and Kay and their daughter, Cassie, who is in junior high school, came to Iowa Park in January. They are Baptists. They own the K&K Quick Stop on Johnson Road. They are delighted with the town and the people and have nothing but very complimentary words that show that they are very happy here. This is a challenge for Iowa Park to show that it is indeed the "Town of Friendly Living."

Kay is a native of Marlow, Okla., and was graduated from high school at Stevens Point, Wis. She has had experience running a convenience store since she was 18 at Marlow and Chickasha, Okla. During that time, she helped put her husband through Cameron Univ. She prepares sandwiches and salads for their store here and plans to add a variety of each.

She is an avid reader, when she has time, and likes to cook. She brought a sample of her good cooking to The Leader when she came for an interview and picture, and from the taste of those delicious Watermelon Rind Preserves, Muffins, she is an excellent cook.

CHINESE SPRING CHICKEN

2 stalks broccoli
4 green onions minutes. Serve over Chinese noodles. Approx. 4 servings. Excellent on hot days.

WATERMELON RIND PRESERVE MUFFINS

Then add:
2 cups flour
1 tsp. soda
1 egg
1 cup pecans
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. salt
Mix together. Bake in small greased muffin tins at 350 degrees 25 to 30 minutes. These stay well. Always double recipe and always serve at Thanksgiving and Christmas buffets.

PRIME RIB ROAST

3/4 cup soy sauce
1/2 cup vinegar
1 T. castor
1 tsp. garlic salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
5-5 lb. prime rib roast
Mix first five ingredients well. Rub cracked black pepper into prime rib roast, then pour sauce over it. Cook at 300 degrees till roast is done to your likeness. (We always have this for Easter.)

KAY'S FAMOUS PEANUT BRITTLE

1 1/2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. water
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup water
1 cup light corn syrup
3 T. margarine
1 lb. Oklahoma shelled unroasted peanuts
Butter 2 cookie sheets. Combine soda, 1 tsp. water and vanilla set aside. Combine sugar, 1 cup water and corn syrup in large pan. Cook to 240 degrees on candy thermometer, stirring occasionally. Stir in butter and peanuts, cooking, stirring constantly, to 300 degrees. Watch carefully because it will burn quickly. Remove from heat, stir in 1/2 cup mixture. Pour half of mixture into pans about 1/4 inch thick. The "key to brittleness is thickness." Cool. Break into pieces. Always give this as a Christmas gift.

Foreign lands program topic

"Marketing the Message" in foreign lands was the topic of the program for a meeting of the Night BW of First Baptist Church Monday, Mrs. C.L. McKinney was hostess for the meeting held at the church.

Mrs. D.K. Reg was program leader. She was assisted by Misses Billie Cherry, J.T. Parker, M.G. Woodruff and Sam Hill in showing how the gospel was being proclaimed through the media of television, radio and telephone in Columbia, Venezuela, Ecuador, and jungles of South and Central America.

Wm. Roy Smith directed the business and Wm. E.T. Patterson was in charge of the missionary birthday calendar.

Seventeen members and one guest, Wm. Dorothy Morris of Waco, were present.

During the social hour, members chose shells and coral gathered in America Junction and sent by Wm. Eleanor Bell, a volunteer missionary there.

Happy Birthday,

Over the past few months, many changes concerning the library have occurred. With the move in January to our new building, many opportunities are available to us. We have room for new books, space to hold workshops and meetings, and potential for the forming of many programs for the community to become involved in. We hope that we have only scraped the surface as far as providing new reading material and programs is concerned. The expectations for our future are being set with these expectations in mind.

So with summer approaching, the spring programs and activities will be rearranged to meet the demand of busy summer schedules, and some new programs will be added that hopefully will be of interest to a variety of people.

Watch the Library News in the following weeks to find out new times for the summer schedule of events. A brand new program will get underway on May 31, for youth between the ages of 8 and 12 years. This is the first annual Summer Youth Theatre. This summer's production will be "Tom Sawyer." Parents who have youth wishing to participate should have them at the library at 3:00 on May 31, for the tryouts. This is an amateur event and all youth are welcome to be a part of this program. Also, youth should call the library or come by and sign the participation sheet if interested.

In addition to this program, Saturday morning, May 31, from 9:30 - 12:00, the Texas Summer Reading Program will have its Registration Day Celebration. Much preparation has gone into this event so please set this morning aside and have your children here to participate.

We would like to say a special thanks and recognize the Amity Study Club for their generous donation of new books to the library.

Whiskers & Rhymes by Arnold Lobel, in honor of Mrs. Walter Robbins.

KoKo's Kitten by Dr. Francine Patterson, in honor of Mr. James Barrington.

Susanna of the Alamo by John Jakes, in honor of Dr. Llerena Friend.

When the Phone Rang by Harry Mazer, in honor of Mr. Leo Thames.

Shakespeare Stories by Leon Garfield, in honor of Dr. James Edwards.

Reasonable Doubt: An Investigation into the Assassination of John F. Kennedy by Henry Hurt, in honor of Mr. Alton Yeakley.

I Read Signs by Tana Hoban, in honor of Mrs. Margaret Soell.

Texas: A Salute From Above by T.R. Ferenbach, in honor of Mr. Robert Palmer.

We have also received our new supply of video tapes from the North Texas Library System:

Adventures of Robin Hood, Anderson Tapes, American Heroes,

Bananas, Blue Hawaii, Breaking Glass, Dr. Seuss Video Festival, HUD, Jazz Festival, Karate Kid, Old Yeller, On Golden Pond.

Also, One On One, Philadelphia Story, Rose, Shirley Temple Festival, The Shootist, Star Trek: Menagerie, Time After Time, 20,000 Leagues Under The Sea, Under Western Stars/In Old Santa Fe, Young Frankenstein, Air Sea Battle-Atari, Armor Battle-Atari, Space Invaders-Atari.

Also the library has available information to help cut the high cost of summer utilities:

High Summer Utility Costs Can Be Cut

Another sizzling Texas summer is approaching. For some consumers, that means paying high utility bills or enduring uncomfortable homes. In the typical Texas home, most annual utility dollars are spent on summer cooling. However, there are some uncomplicated measures which will help alleviate this problem.

An energy conserving lifestyle and an investment of time and money in home energy projects can yield savings on utility costs without affecting comfort. Anyone planning to build a new home should take advantage of the opportunity to generate long-term energy savings. A house which is designed, oriented, constructed, and operated properly may use half of the energy required to operate the typical Texas home of the same size.

The Tom Burnett Memorial Library is joining with the Energy Efficiency Division of the Public Utility Commission of Texas to inform Texans about the savings possible through residential energy efficiency. The public is invited to come by the library for brochures and information on saving energy in the home or building a new home for energy efficiency. For specific questions on energy efficiency topics, call the Energy Hotline, 1/800/643-SAVE. There is no charge for the brochures or the phone call. This project is a public service of the Tom Burnett Memorial Library and the Energy Efficiency Division of the Public Utility Commission.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

This week's column will be a lot shorter than usual, because everything I wanted to tell you is in my front page story about a group of us feeding the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train.

Folks, don't miss it when it comes to Wichita Falls. I'm sorry I can't find my schedule, but it will be in June.

Visiting with Pat and Preston Giles was great, because they both have some great stories coming out of so many days and miles on the train.

Pat had an interesting comment about life after the train.

She had quit her job to join Preston in San Antonio, and everyone had expected her to just go back to work late this summer. That's all either of them has ever known, working.

Well, Pat says if she does anything, it will be to reopen her studio at the house.

She explained she doesn't feel a need to make the kind of money she did before joining the train.

"You learn to live with a lot less when you've lived like this a few months."

It was something to watch this grandmother climb up the side of her stock trailer and rearrange the bales of hay they carry there. She got around better than most teenagers.

We had the usual, and some not so usual, delays in setting up our camp to cook Friday night. And as it wound up, we didn't get to bed until after 2:30 a.m. Saturday morning, and got up around 5:30.

Bill Spruiell came up with a one-liner that was appropriate for the occasion: "It sure didn't take long to sleep last night."

I'm one of those who always gets a lump in his throat whenever I hear the Star Spangled Banner played, and about any sort of patriotic event of the sort.

We'll let me tell you, I got a real large lump as I watched that beautiful collection of wagons, most of them flying the national and state flags, rolling down the road toward our camp Saturday afternoon.

Some might consider Preston, Pat and the others in the train kinda foolish, taking off from making a living, living like pioneers and braving the elements. It's certainly not an easy life.

But I admire each of them, and would give anything, other than everything I own, to have made the trip with them.

What they're doing is making history, of a sort. And it's patriotic.

How many of us can say we have been part of an historical event?

Primary absentee voting dates, rules

Absentee voting in the Democratic and Republican party primaries will be held from May 28 through June 3, according to Vernon Cannon.

Voters of Precincts 32 and 33 will be able to cast their ballots at the school tax office, located west of Kidwell Elementary School.

All others can vote absentee at the county clerk's office in Wichita Falls, Cannon said.

Those requesting absentee ballots will have until May 30 for Cannon's office to receive the requests.

To be qualified for mail ballots, Cannon said a voter must be one of the following: 65 years or older; religious beliefs; confinement in jail; disability; or absent from county election day and during all hours of absentee voting in person.

appeal, board chairman Jimmy Howell assured Andrews that he and the rest of the board felt he was doing an excellent job and the decision had nothing to do with their evaluation of his job performance.

Supt. Glen Mitchell told the board the committee was bound to make its decisions of which teachers were added to the list, based on an evaluation sheet compiled by principals.

He said some of the areas on Andrews' sheet were left incomplete, apparently due to an interpretation by former principal Bob Dawson, who had indicated the questions did not apply to Andrews' area of instruction.

Andrews pointed out, however, that junior high principal Jimmy Alsup had marked those same areas Dawson had left unchecked.

"In my five years," Andrews told the board, "it's obvious what my classes do (as demonstrated) in their performances. ... not a once-in-a-while standard." He was referring to all the honors and sweepstakes his choirs have earned in competition.

"Perhaps I should have challenged Mr. Dawson last year, but I remembered this was a new ball game," he said.

As he explained the board had to follow the decision of the committee in the evaluation, Howell mentioned he was not at all in favor of a career ladder in the first place.

At the end of the hearing, Andrews told the board: "Thank you for listening." He had earlier said his attorney was to have been present, but he didn't.

Five teachers were put on the career ladder, Mitchell told the board.

Annual Rabies Clinic set Saturday

Members of the local Future Farmers of America chapter will hold their annual Rabies Clinic Saturday, offering rabies shots for household dogs and pets.

To begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 1 p.m., the clinic will be held at the Vocational Activities building, located on the east end of the high school campus.

Students assist a veterinarian in administering the shots.

Volunteers needed Saturday at library

The grounds around Tom Burnett Library will get a big facelifting Saturday, if enough volunteers will show up to help with the work.

Between 500 and 600 bedding plants and shrubs will be planted, according to Mrs. W.A. George, president of the Friends of the Library.

She is asking as many volunteers as interested to be at the library "as early as possible," to get the work accomplished.

Volunteers are asked to bring their shovels and other tools with which to work.

Stewardship Week underway

"Conservation's New Frontiers" is the theme of this year's Soil and Water Stewardship Week, May 4-11, according to Fred Dwyer, district chairman.

"The focus is especially appropriate as our survival depends on each other, other living things and the basic necessities of soil and water," Dwyer said.

"Together we must work for the good of all to utilize, conserve and properly manage those resources in our care. Participation in Soil and Water Stewardship Week activities offers an opportunity to reflect on the nation's natural renewable resource problems and consider actions to resolve them or reduce their impact," he said.

"Basically it is the district's responsibility to provide technical assistance when requested relative to proper soil use and threatment, erosion control practices, solve drainage problems and assist farmers and ranchers with soil, range and pasture-land management," Dwyer stated.

Biddy, Weaver dominate high jump at Odessa

Just like the Dist. 5-AAA meet, Iowa Park dominated the boys' high jump competition at the Region One championships Friday at Odessa. Kevin Biddy won the event and Scott Weaver was runner-up. Both will now compete in the state UIL meet May 16-17 in Austin. But winning the event was not as easy and clear-cut as in previous meets for Biddy, who has lost only once this season.

At the end of the finals, Biddy, Weaver and an athlete from Crane were tied. Each had cleared 6-4, but neither was able to go over the 6-6 bar without knocking it off.

The two Iowa Parkans, however, were named the winners, because the Crane jumper had more misses.

So a rule for the regional meet was invoked, providing for a jump-off between the two finalists to determine first and second places.

Again, they went for the 6-6 bar, and this time Biddy cleared but Weaver didn't.

Biddy has cleared 6-8 this season and 6-6 is a regular height for him. For Weaver, the 6-4 matched his career best.

Cindy Clanton, who won the regional title last year, had to settle for fifth place after clearing 5-2.

Weaver, who qualified in three other events, didn't qualify in the 200 meter sprint, but finished sixth in the finals of the 100 meters, with a 11.10 clocking. He was also fifth in the long jump, measuring 22-0 1/4.

The junior sprinter set a school record in the 100 meter preliminaries when he was clocked in 10.90.

Despite the fact he was unable to work out the first of the week when he was struck by a virus, his long jump stood in second place until the last jump by the competitors. The winning distance was 23-10, and 22-7 was set in the final leap for second place. Third and fourth was a tie at 22-3 1/2.

Brett Hale, who discovered a week before the meet he had a stress fracture in a foot, withdrew from the 1600-meter event, but went ahead and competed in the 3200 meters, finishing 15th.

Clanton had also qualified in the hurdles, placing second at district, but was scratched in the preliminaries when she jumped the starting gun.

Points earned by Biddy and Weaver put Iowa Park seventh among the 40 schools represented at the meet.

Hawks split outings

The Hawk baseball team now stands at 1-1 in the second half of Dist. 5-AAA play, having beaten Springtown Friday, but falling to Vernon Tuesday.

After winning the first half, with a 3-0-1 record, the Hawks are now tied with Vernon, and Coach Daryl Frazier says if his club can win its next two games, they'll have the 5-AAA title outright.

They'll play their last home district game Friday, hosting Bowie at 4 p.m. Next Thursday, the club will play a makeup game at Bridgeport, that one also starting at 4 p.m.

Robert Adams got his fifth win of the season without a loss Friday, after relieving Billy Kenyon in the second inning, to win 4-3.

Tuesday's game at Vernon was not one the Hawks want to remember, as they lost 10-0. In their first meeting here, it was Iowa Park winning by the 10-run rule, 16-6.

Shawn Price worked the first two innings, and Adams went the rest of the distance on the mound. The two gave up 11 hits, while the Hawks had only one the entire game.

"Everything we hit was straight at someone," Frazier recalled. And the Lions were credited with only one error in the game.

"We just played flat, and they were pumped up after losing last week to Bowie," Frazier commented.

Well, here it is, the end of another school year and I have finally decided either no one is dissatisfied or everyone is waiting for someone else to speak up.

I've heard grumbling noises but as of yet, no outbreaks of rebellion. The subject I'm writing about is the incredibly poor quality of the school photos Mike King, Inc. seems to dish out year after year. Oh, at first I thought it was just one of those things, just because my eldest son has reached high school with only one photo a real keeper, it's a stroke of bad luck.

WRONG!!!

Now I know my youngest son is not the most tidy, most intelligent looking in his second grade class but I'm convinced a buck toothed clown grin, mussed hair and misdirected eyes is not a typical schools days picture he will love and cherish.

Now mind you, these "things" are taken by a "professional photographer." I know because the prices on these lovely portrait packages indicate so.

This outfit is getting the opportunity of taking two sessions and a class picture every school year! Ugh, ten more years.

If others are not satisfied, surely we could find someone who would care about the quality of his work rather than quantity and would proudly stamp each picture package with their name.

I believe something is amiss here, we have a lousy system of awarding the privilege of making these gut wrenching disasters to the same Clicker year after year.

Who makes this decision. Is this person or group aware of these insults called photos? Does this person care? Maybe it's a matter of a "Good deal". I sincerely believe we can do much better and more economically.

Sincerely,
Mary Jane King

Locals feed supper to Sesquicentennial Wagon Train riders

By BOB HAMILTON

It was a good swap, feeding more than 300 people to participate a little bit in history, and have a chance to meet the folks who are doing more to observe Texas' 150th birthday than anyone else.

That's what the Iowa Park Mule-Skinners and a group from Holliday did over the weekend.

The group travelled all the way out to a playa lake between Midland and Lamesa to feed Saturday supper to the participants of the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train.

Financed by the city, Chamber of Commerce and a host of area businesses, the group formed a small caravan of three motor homes and a trailer-pulling truck, leaving Friday afternoon to arrive at the destination that evening.

The 30-odd briskets were put on a portable smoker built by Chick Ayers of Holliday about midnight, to make sure they were done when the pioneer-type parade arrived.

To go along with the meat, the group cooked some 60 gallons of red beans and a potato salad made of 150 pounds of potatoes, not to mention several jars of pickles, pounds of onions and 100 loaves of bread.

Shortly after sunrise Saturday, the advance workers arrived at the site to mark out the camp grounds for the wagons and their support vehicles.

Then, around 9 a.m., the support vehicles, which includes campers, motor homes, stock trailers, started forming a circle around the dried lake bed.

One of the early arrivals was Pat (Mrs. Preston) Giles, who set up her rig next to the cook camp. After her greetings with the Iowa Parkans, she immediately set to feeding the two mules Preston was resting that day and had hauled in her trailer.

The Giles will be remembered as the former owners of Discount Foods here in Iowa Park.

Preston, he later told the group, is one of only 13 on the train who have not missed a single hour since the train pulled out of Sulphur Springs Jan. 2.

Support vehicles continued to arrive throughout the day, as the train made its slow trek northward to the evening's campsite.

A number of 18-wheel trucks and large trailers were not permitted to pull off the highway right of way, the ranch owner apparently fearing greater damage from their size to the parched land.

About 3:30 p.m., the wagon train reached the view of the camp occupants, looking much like what must have been seen in the pioneering days, except for the large, fluttering flags most had attached to their wagons.

As they arrived at the lake bed, the wagons pulled into a tighter circle than that formed by the support vehicles, all having passed directly by the cook site.

A public address vehicle blared the information as the circle continued to fill, "Supper will be served by the Iowa Park Mule-Skinners, between 6 and 8. Please bring your own plates and utensils."

Immediately as each wagon was stopped, the driver would get down and start unhooking the team, seeing to it they were fed and watered.

Many of those who tended to their chores and washed up early formed at the cook site to talk with the cooks. They liked to visit.

They were people like the 75-year-old adventurer from Perryton, J.W. Jines. And an outrider from Georgia, who proudly sits atop his Tennessee Walking Horse and likes to do that almost as much as he likes to talk about Georgia.

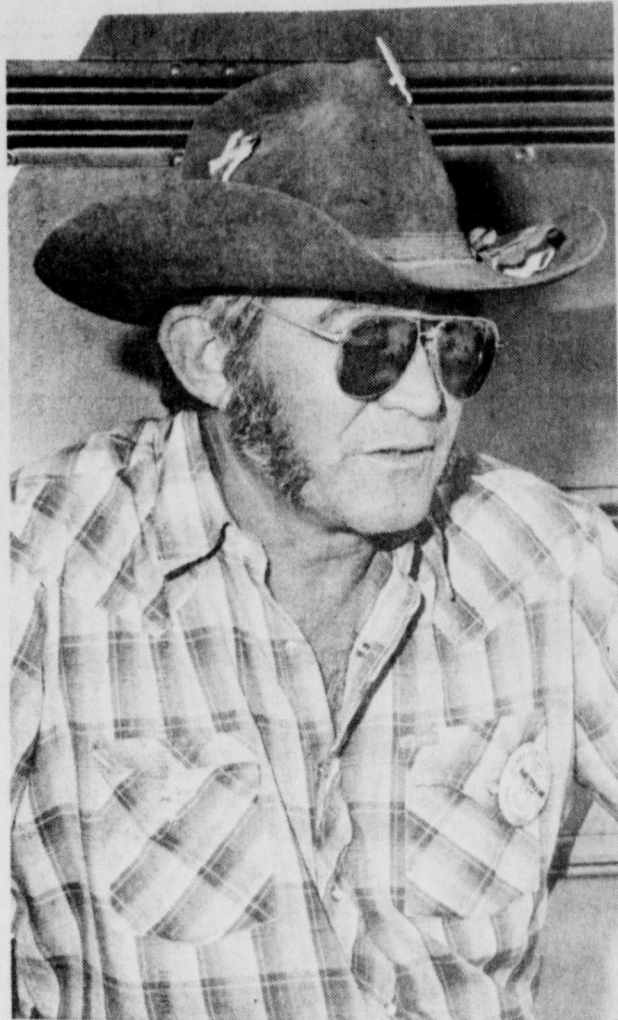

There was a surprising number of small school children, who get their schooling from a teacher who is on the train.

There were also about 17 older boys of school age, who are from a boys' ranch in South Dakota and spend a couple weeks each with the train as an experience and opportunity to learn responsibility.

Preston Giles was one of the early arrivals at the cook site, wanting to visit his old friends from Iowa Park. He looked to have lost about 20 pounds and, like his wife and all the others on the train, well-tanned.

Those who knew Giles when he operated his store before the fire, know how he likes to tell stories. And after 2,000 miles of travelling over the state with the train, he has a lot of them to tell.

A man and his wife provided entertainment for many of the wagon train people, playing the guitar and singing. But as soon as the sun hit the horizon, they headed for their sleepers and went to bed.

Just before the local cook crew went to bed, they were gathered for a word of appreciation by the wagon master, who brightened their day by telling them "That was the best barbecue we've put our forks in."

He praised the group for making the long trip to feed the group, and acknowledged such a venture took both time and money, and his people fully appreciated it.

The train will continue its northward travel to Amarillo, then cut southeast to Abilene, and then head toward Wichita Falls, where it will be camped in Lucy Park.

From there, it will travel through Nocona to the Denison area and then head south, in order to be at the old Fort Worth stockyards by July 3.

Besides having the opportunity to participate in such an historical event, the local delegation also got some good publicity for the community, such as mentions in articles in the Lamesa and Midland newspapers, as well as radio stations in Fort Worth and Wichita Falls.
