Vol. 20, No. 17 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 Thursday, January 5, 1989

Council to meet Monday

Leasing land, increasing plumbing permit fees and collecting fines are the primary topics on the city council's agenda for Monday night. Aldermen are to convene at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Authorization for the city administrator to enter into a lease agreement for a 6.25-acre tract of land southeast of Lake Iowa Park will be considered by the council. Council will also consider an ordinance amendment which would increase the fees for plumbing permits, according to the agenda. Collections of fines from individuals who cannot, or will not, pay fines levied against them has long been a problem for the city.

A policy will be proposed on the subject, so the council's wishes can be applied equally by city workers. A proposal will also be studied by the council, concerning applying for reimbursement of expenses for the E 911 emergency telephone space provided by the city.

Also to be considered is a request for authorizing travel to Austin for the Texas Municipal League's legislative briefing, to be held Feb. 13.

NO INJURIES resulted from a two-vehicle accident west of Iowa Park on US 287 Thursday afternoon. Iowa Parkan John Warnock was driving his station wagon, in background, east when he was struck from the rear by a non-resident. The woman was ticketed by a DPS trooper for failure to control speed.

Finnell prepares for session

State Rep. Charles Finnell has his staff at work preparing for the start of the 71st session of the Texas legislature.

Chuck Waters, former information officer for the Employees Retirement System of Texas, is Finnell's administrative aide and Martha Hartzog, an experienced researcher and legislative aide, manages the capitol office.

Both have extensive experience in the communications field.

Peggy Shepherd, the Clay County native who staffs Finnell's Holliday office, will continue to handle district office responsibilities.

As the Jan. 10 opening of the session nears, Finnell is meeting with constituents and elected officials from throughout his nine-county 80th House District, discussion the legislative agenda.

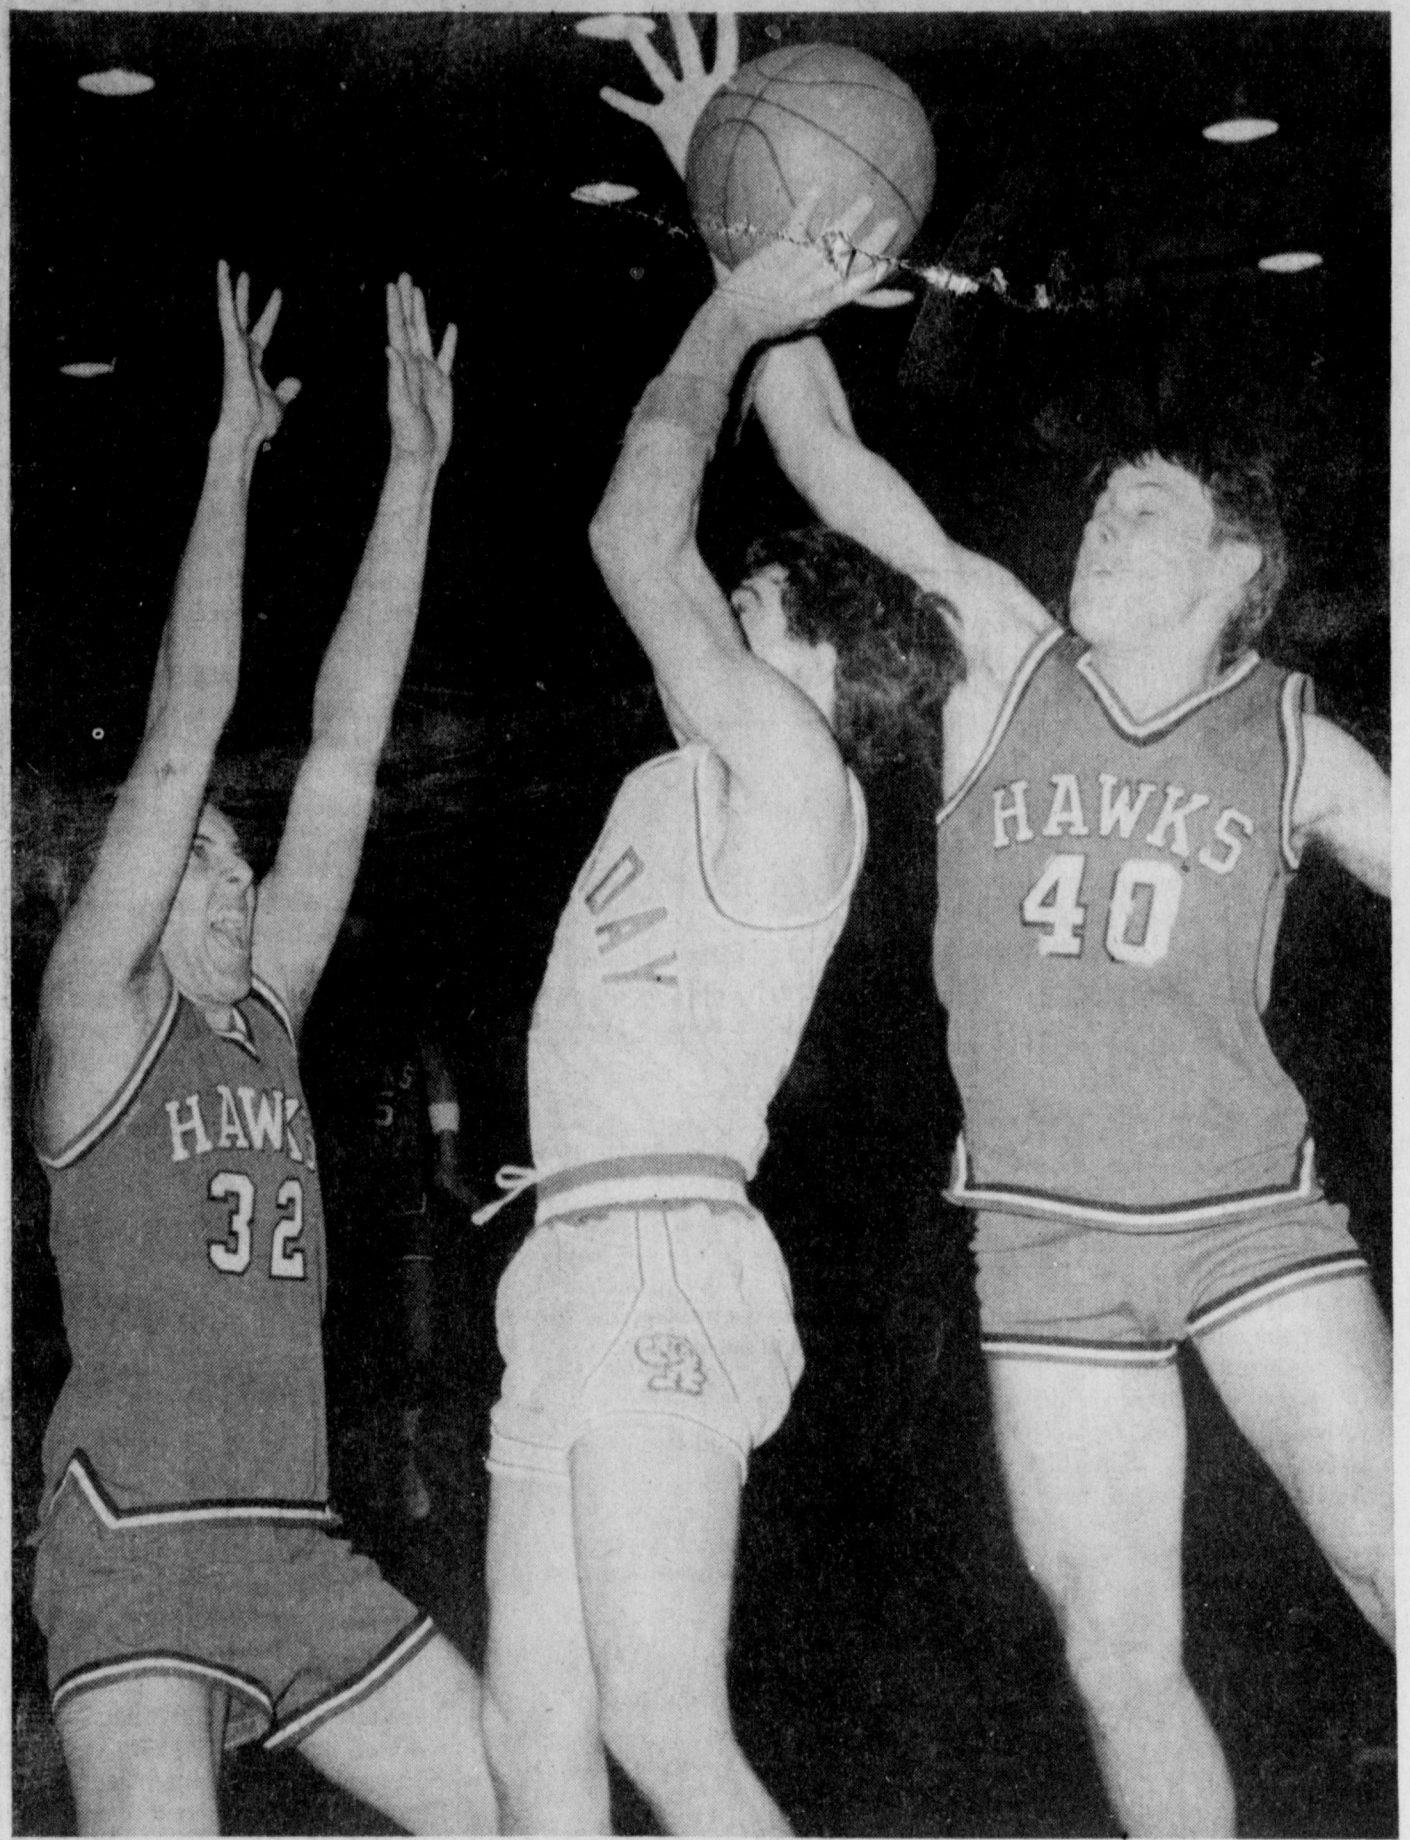

Finnell predicted House Speaker will be reelected by a landslide vote to the powerful House leadership role. Lewis is currently working with his staff and legislators to determine committee assignments for the session.

Concerned constituents who wish to know the status of any legislation that has been introduced in the Texas House or Senate may call toll-free 1-800-252-9693 to learn about any bill or resolution that has been filed.

Finnell has decided to retain the third-floor office in room 355 of the Capitol's West Wing (512-463-0526). The district office will continue to be located directly across the street from the post office in Holliday.

DEFENSIVE PLAY BY HAWKS TUESDAY LED TO WIN OVER HOLLIDAY'S EAGLES ... Jeff Floyd, 32, and Brian Luney, 40, make shooting by Eagle difficult.

Lady Hawks to open district play Friday

Iowa Park's Lady Hawks will open Dist. 5-AAA play here Friday evening, but the Hawks will have to wait another week before they meet their first conference opponent.

Bowie will be here for a three-game series, varsity, junior varsity and freshman, starting at 5 p.m. tomorrow. The girls will travel Tuesday to Decatur for another three-game series.

The Hawk varsity and JV are scheduled to play Saturday at Burkburnett, starting at 4:30 p.m., and Tuesday they will go to Henrietta, where the varsity, junior varsity and freshmen will start play at 4:30.

First conference game for the Hawks will be Jan. 13, when they host Graham.

LADY HAWKS

Holliday revenged an earlier 53-35 loss to Iowa Park Tuesday night by defeating the Lady Hawks 43-41.

Playing at Holliday, the score was tied at 41-41 and Iowa Park was going for the final shot of the game, but lost the ball on a turnover.

Holliday scored with 13 seconds remaining on the clock. Iowa Park lost the ball again on a turnover, as time expired.

The Lady Hawks jumped to a 21-11 halftime lead by outscoring their hosts 10-1 in the second quarter, but Holliday came back to lead 33-32 as the third period ended.

Kerri Dörner was high for the Lady Hawks with 12 points.

The Lady Hawks lost 53-45 to Crowell Thursday, in the opening round of the Archer City tournament, but defeated Burkburnett 38-35 in overtime to advance into the consolation final, where they lost 56-37 to Windthorst.

Dörner was high-point against Crowell and Windthorst, with 12 and 11 points respectively. Amy Payton and Shonna Weaver had seven apiece against Burkburnett.

The Burk game was extremely close throughout, with the Lady Hawks trailing 6-7 at the end of the first quarter, 16-17 at the half, but leading 26-25 going into the final period, which ended at 31-31.

HAWKS

Sporting a new offensive look, the Hawks defeated the Eagles Tuesday at Holliday, 63-54.

Iowa Park, which had twice lost to the Eagles, 63-45 in the Holliday tournament and 49-47 here, moved Jimmy Duggins from forward to point guard.

Though the 6-2 junior didn't score as many points as he usually does, 20 on the night, the move apparently opened the field for Wayne Chitwood and Jeff Floyd.

Chitwood scored 17 points and Floyd had 10.

The Hawks led 15-11 after the first quarter and 33-24 at the half. At one point late in the third period, Iowa Park held a 19-point edge, but the hosts cut that to 14, 47-33.

The Eagles went on a rampage in the fourth, and trailed by only four, 58-54, with 1:08 remaining in the game.

But a bucket by Duggins was followed by a driving layup and free shot by Chitwood to extend the margin of victory.

The Hawks defeated Crowell 78-70 in the first round of the Archer City tournament, but then fell 81-56 to Burkburnett and 66-55 to Quannah in Saturday's game for third place.

Quannah jumped out to a 17-4 lead in the first period, and held a 34-19 margin at the half. But Iowa Park made a game of it in the third quarter by outscoring the Indians 17-10 to trail by only eight, 44-36.

Duggins was high point player in all three games for the Hawks, with 14 against Crowell, 13 in the Burkburnett game and 26 against Quannah.

Floyd also had 14 against Crowell and Chitwood had 10 in the Burkburnett contest.

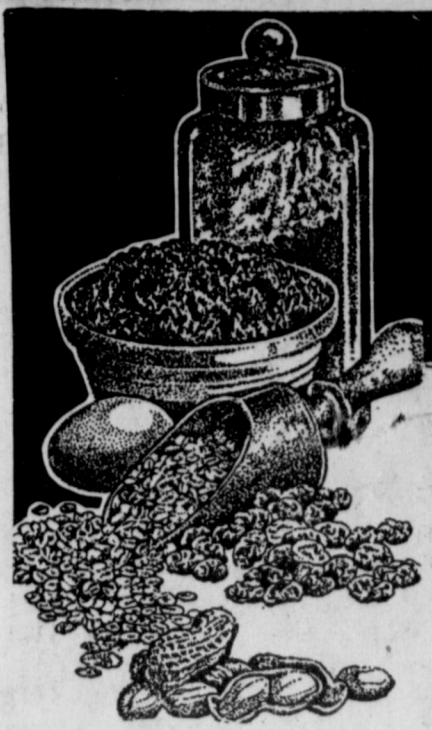

THERE'S A BALL AROUND HERE SOMEWHERE, IF WE CAN JUST FIND IT' ... Lady Hawks Misty Murray, 33, and Angie Turner, 25, battle Holliday players.

School trustee meeting delayed

Iowa Park's board of education will hold its monthly meeting next Thursday in the administration building, Supt. Glen Mitchell said.

Trustees normally meet on the second Tuesday of each month, but decided in December to delay this month's meeting two days.

Does your subscription to the Leader expire this month? check the list on page 4.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Dan Love

Although Ruby (Mrs. Dan) Love has only lived in Iowa Park two years, she is already deeply involved in the affairs of the community.

Every week she takes members of the Friendly Door to Wichita Falls for their Friday bowling session. It could be called a labor of love, for she is an avid bowler herself. She is a member of two bowling leagues, and frequently bowls games of over 200.

Born and reared in Wardell, Missouri, Ruby has lived in Germany, Japan, and several large cities, but says she prefers the pace of small town living.

She met her husband, Dan, in Abilene when he was working on the construction of a bank. They moved to Iowa Park from El Paso one and a half years ago when he retired from the construction business.

Ruby has three children, Kay Fisher of Iowa Park, Debi Walker of Irving, and Leroy Scott of Hendersonville, Tenn., and four grandchildren.

Her recipes have been tested by time and family approval. Her favorite cookbook is one she received when she was 17 years old. The recipe for Date Nut Rice Krispies is one of her mother's recipes.

Ruby thoroughly enjoys visits from her grandchildren. Not only does she provide good entertainment for them, but it gives her an opportunity to prepare some of these excellent recipes.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

I can't deny that I love advertising. Without it, those of us in the news business would not exist. But there are some forms of advertising that I don't like, and people should be aware of them.

I cast a concerned eye at some of the "money-back guarantees" and "rebates."

I'm sure most of them are as legitimate as they can be. But many should never be for public viewing.

Have you been noticing all these money-back guarantee promotions on television recently? I speak mainly on products to help you stop smoking, recordings and weight-losing programs.

I have a feeling much of this stuff isn't worth the wrapping it's mailed in. To you, that is.

Why do they advertise it then, if they guarantee to refund your money?

Well, the outfit gets the use of your money for a period of time.

Now your $29.95 (plus $4 mailing charge) might not sound like much to you. But consider thousands of others sending in their money at the same time.

We're talking big money here.

Consider also, that when a large amount of money is deposited on short-term certificates of deposit, like maybe 32 days, and this fund is kept up over a year's time, the outfit stands to make well over 10 percent on your money.

And besides the interest, there will be those who opt to not return the useless or undesirable item, just because of the hassle of mailing.

Rebates are the greatest advertising gimmick of the century. They can make a purchase sound like the price is nearly nothing, which it sometime is.

One advertisement I read recently was on an item costing $1.50. With the 75-cent rebate, the item's cost was only half price to you. Right?

Wrong. It costs you 25-cents to mail in the rebate form. And that doesn't include the cost of your own envelope, or time.

Ever thought about that rebate you are offered on the purchase of a car?

Let's look at that one.

You buy a car for $12,000, and get a $500 rebate, compliments of the manufacturer.

Not a bad deal, except if you have financed, say, $10,000 on the purchase.

Your cost of financing the deal will be considerably more than the amount of the rebate.

I advise you to consider carefully anything you might be tempted to purchase, if there's a money-back guarantee or rebate involved.

There's no free lunch, but for some reason we keep looking for it.

Holiday weekend quiet for police

Other than a few complaints of juveniles misbehaving, a couple of public intoxication cases and an apparent attempted suicide by overdose, the New Year's weekend was quiet for Iowa Park police.

Complaints were registered from residents of Rebecca and Coleman streets Friday and Saturday evenings that some youngsters were using shoe polish on cars and houses, as well as firing off some fireworks.

An 18-year-old female was taken to a Wichita Falls hospital Sunday, after an apparent suicide attempt.

Theft of several small personal items and $6 in cash was reported Sunday by a resident in the 600 block of South Park.

Police arrested Victoria Beth

Boren, 29, Tuesday evening on a charge of disorderly conduct, according to the police blotter. She was released an hour later after posting a cash bond.

Worth Quoting

Wal, whaddye know?

A small glimmer of common sense in both the federal court and the district court peeked through this week.

In the past it's been mighty easy to be critical of courts in this country as they moved into the arena of making laws rather than interpreting them. They've poked their snouts in civil rights, in athletic contests, in private matters, into prisons and even school grading.

But this week, the news revealed a glimmer of hope on the horizon that maybe, just maybe, the courts both federal and district, decided judges weren't the incarnate of King Solomon, Jesus Christ, and God Almighty rolled into one berobed figure.

First on the federal level!

After 11 years, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the disciplinary actions of the National Collegiate Athletic Association are not generally subject to judicial review.

The justices, in a 5-4 decision, rejected the challenge by University of Nevada -- Las Vegas basketball coach Jerry Tarkanian to the suspension ordered 11 years ago by the NCAA. The suspension was held up by state courts that found the disciplinary action violated Tarkanian's constitutional rights of due process.

The decision concluded that the NCAA directive to the University to suspend Tarkanian did not constitute "state action" and thus was not covered by the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

In other words, the disciplinary action taken by the NCAA against its members is not an appropriate matter for the courthouse.

And on the district level, surprise, surprise, surprise.

The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals in Austin, handed down a decision this week that found for the defendant in the Edgewood vs. Kirby school district case.

The appellate court roled that state District Judge Harley Clark erred in concluding last year that education in Texas is a "fundamental right."

The majority opinion states: "A rather patched up and overly cobbled system of administration and finance for public education has evolved in this over the past 100 years.

"The system does not provide an ideal education for all students nor a completely fair distribution of tax benefits and burdens among all the school patrons. Nevertheless, under our system of government, efforts to achieve those ideals come from the people through constitutional amendments and legislative enactments and not through judgements of courts."

The appeals court found that the people of Texas "intended to set up a school system retaining a significant amount of local control. The scheme of local financing that evolved is not wholly irrelevant to the goal of local control."

According to the opinion, determining whether the system is efficient "is essentially a political question not suitable for judicial review."

Amen!

Poor school districts in this state do need help and it is the legislature's job to see that they get it. But it's the people and their representatives in Austin who should make the change--not judges.

Now if we could just get the judges out of athletic contests in this state, perhaps a level playing field could be developed for all teams, all participants.

But it's nice to see that a little common sense, rare that it is, can occasionally rear its head in both Austin and Washington despite the weight of those judicial robes.

Gasoline tax 'illogical'

Levying additional federal taxes on motor fuels to reduce the federal budget deficit would further strain Texas' struggle toward economy recovery and destroy the user-tax concept for financing highway improvements, Robert H. Dedman, chairman of the state highway commission, said.

"A 30-cent increase would put 525,000 persons out of work by the end of 1990," he said.

The commission passed a special resolution condemning the scheme at its December meeting.

"When Texas is struggling to recover from a depressed economy, it is illogical to consider such a plan," Dedman added.

Congress continues to search for ways to cut the federal deficit. Some proposals would raise the existing federal excise tax on gasoline by as much as 30-cents a gallon to reduce the federal deficit.

Dedman charged that Texans would be harder hit by higher federal gas taxes than residents in many other states.

"The American Automobile Association (AAA) found that the increased burden of fuel taxes for drivers in Texas would be 70 percent higher than that of drivers in the Atlantic Northeast who do not have the long distances to travel that we do," he said.

Dedman cited other studies which found that 78 percent of persons making less than $10,000 a year must commute to work by car. Rural residents and those who live in small towns seldom have any kind of public transportation available to them.

Congress' own budget office in 1987 found a gasoline tax for deficit reduction would be a regressive tax, Dedman said. "It would hit the poor much harder than others."

For example, a person making less than $5,000 a year pays eight times more of his available income in gasoline taxes than those earning more than $50,000, he said.

The lower income group pays 1.6 percent of its income in motor fuel taxes, while such taxes take only 0.2 percent of the higher group's available income, according to the Congressional Budget Office study.

AAA commissioned Wharton Econometric Forecasting Associates to study the economic impact of the proposals.

In addition to job losses of 225,000 in 1989 and 525,000 by 1990, Wharton found a 30-cent increase would raise the consumer price index by one percent; cut personal savings by almost eight percent; reduce automobile production by more than four percent, cut housing construction by 2.4 percent and cut income tax revenues by almost $2.7-billion annually.

State highway programs would suffer, since earmarking taxes on gasoline for deficit reduction would go against long-standing dedication of motor fuel taxes to highway purposes.

In 1956, Congress established the federal highway trust fund using motor fuel taxes to provide most of the money needed to build the Interstate Highway system, Dedman recalled.

"The intervening years have demonstrated the wisdom shown by Congress by dedicating gasoline taxes for highway purposes," he said.

"Users of the highways have come to trust that federal motor fuel taxes will be used only for transportation improvements," Dedman said.

A NEW BEGINNING

John Callender was an officer under George Washington in the Revolutionary War. He failed miserably during the battle of Bunker Hill and was dismissed from the army for behaving as a coward. To his credit, Callender allowed his shame and embarrassment to move him to try to make up for what he had done and to redeem his good name. He re-enlisted in the army as a private and so conducted himself at the Battle of Long Island that Washington reinstated him as a captain and revoked his earlier sentence.

The world is full of people who need to turn their lives around and start over. For various reasons they have failed miserably and need to begin again.

The Bible offers hope to such a person. James 4:6 "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble." In verse 10 "Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up."

Through repentance and baptism, God has provided a way for man to turn his life around and begin anew. "Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also walk in newness of life." (Romans 6:4). God has given you a chance to become a new person. Have you taken the opportunity?

AREA OIL & GAS NEWS

West Landrum of Burkburnett has posted first production figures for a pair of new wells in Wichita County Regular Field, two miles southeast of Clara.

The wells are designated as the Nos. 1-L and 2-L Fred Thom.

The No. 1-L showed ability to pump 16 barrels of oil per day plus 25 barrels of water and bottomed at 1,885 feet, while the No. 2-L pumped 16 barrels of oil daily and 27 barrels of water and bottomed at 1,750 feet.

Production intervals will be in the Cisco Sand with perforations ranging from 1,662 to 1,692 feet into the wellbores.

The wells were located in a 40-acre lease 475 feet from the south line and 150 feet from the west line of Blk. 6 and 775 feet from the south line and 150 feet from the west line of Blk. 6 in the HT&B Survey, A-480, respectively.

At a location three miles north-northeast of Clara, Tri Core Oil and Gas of Irving has finished a new oil producer in Wichita County Regular Field.

The well is designated as the No. M2RT Dickinson, pumping 20 barrels of oil per day plus 68 barrels of water.

Location is in a 79-acre lease 2,650 feet from the south line and 435 feet from the east line of Blk. 18 in the Specht Colony Lands Subdivision Survey, A-9.

Wichita County Regular Field gained a new oil producer when Williams Petroleum of Burkburnett completed the No. 27 Murphree Estate two miles southeast of Fowlkes.

The well indicated ability to pump three barrels of 39-gravity oil and six barrels of water per day. It was taken to a 1,000-ft. bottom and will produce from a set of perforations in the Cisco Formation, 911 to 923 feet into the wellbore.

The operation is in a 640-acre lease 1,090 feet from the north line and 500 feet from the west line of Blk. 1 in the SA&MG survey, A-276.

Tri Core Oil and Gas of Irving has posted first production figures for three new wells in Wichita County Regular Field, three miles north-northeast of Clara.

The wells are designated as the Nos. 1401, 1402 and 1403 Kelly.

The No. 1401 showed ability to pump 10 barrels of oil per day plus 15 barrels of water and bottomed at 1,685 feet; the No. 1402 pumped 25 barrels of oil daily and 18 barrels of water and bottomed at 1,690 feet; while the No. 1403 pumped 25 barrels of oil per day and 20 barrels of water and bottomed at 1,691 feet.

Production intervals will be in the Cisco Formation. Perforations will range from 1,595 to 1,628 feet into the wellbores.

The wells are located in a 228-acre lease approximately 3,750 feet north and 350 feet east of the southeast corner, 3,500 feet north and 650 feet east, also 3,400 feet north and 1,020 feet east of the southeast corner of Block 19 in the Lewis Powell Survey, respectively, A-242.

Williams Petroleum of Burkburnett has re-entered the No. 43 Tidewater in Wichita County Regular Field, reporting four barrels of 39-gravity oil and 15 barrels of water.

The well is located two miles southeast of Fowlkes. It was originally completed in August of 1988, pumping seven barrels of oil daily plus 73 barrels of water from perforations in the Cisco Formation, 1,620 to 1,624 feet into the wellbore.

New production is from the Cisco formation, 928 to 938 feet into the hole. Total depth was 2,000 feet.

The well was located in a 158-acre lease 2,720 feet from the north line and 2,508 feet from the east line of Blk. 4 in the SA&MG Survey, A-430.

Tri Core Oil and Gas of Irving has given up on its efforts to make a producer out of the No. 1203 Kelly. It was a developmental try in the Wichita County Regular Field. The location was three miles north-northeast of Clara. Drillsite was in a 228-acre lease 4,550 feet north and 1,250 feet east of the southeast corner of Block 19 in the Lewis Powell Survey, A-242.

J.F. Hood of Fort Worth has abandoned two undrilled locations in Wichita County Regular Field. Located 1.5 miles south of Fowlkes, the wells were known as the Nos. 2-A and 3-A Texaco-Sun "A." They carried permits for 2,000 feet of hole.

The wells were located in a 40-acre lease 150 feet from the south line and 810 feet from the west line, also 860 feet from the south line and 1,520 feet from the west line of Blk. 12 in the H&GN Survey, A-432.

Jr. Lady Hawks sweep Barwise

Both junior high girls' teams beat Barwise Tuesday night, but the undefeated Eighth Grade was forced into a double overtime to keep its record unblemished.

The Eighth Grade edged Barwise 30-29, while the Seventh Grade had a much easier time, winning 38-6.

Missing starter Erica Knight, who suffered a broken collarbone in a holiday skiing incident, the Eighth Grade was led in scoring by Michelle Robertson, 17, and Cheri Halady, 10.

Brande Overman had eight, Gina Inman six and four each were scored by Nikki Williams, Lauren Gossett and Jennifer Ricks, for the Seventh Grade.

Arbor Day is Jan. 20

By DAVID FINLEY
County Agent

Do you know what day Arbor Day is? Well, if you don't, it's Jan. 20 and on that day, I predict that a lot of trees will be planted.

The past couple of years, I have assisted elementary age students with planting trees in the school yards. The kids really get into the planting and even volunteer to dig the hole and fill it back up.

Arbor Day is an excellent means to promote planting trees in schools, cities, parks and countryside. It is a traditional day that is set aside to place emphasis on not only planting trees, but planting the right tree in the proper location to improve the environment, commemorate an event or improve the aesthetic value of both public and private property.

This day originally began with plantings of trees at schools such as I have been associated with the past couple of years. But, since that time, other organizations such as garden clubs, city parks and recreation departments, scouting programs and other youth organizations such as 4-H have become involved.

Homeowners really get into the spirit of Arbor Day as well. Take Bryan and Mattie Lynn Stine. I know of no other individuals that enjoy planting trees and partaking of their beauty than these two. Evidence of this can be seen as you drive to their farm on Bailey Road in the Frieberg-Cooper Community. They have trees, trees and more trees and if I were to guess, are not through planting yet.

A newly organized Tree Awareness Committee, made up of representatives of both state agencies and private organizations is committed to helping Texans better understand how to plant and care for trees as well as the many resulting benefits they provide in local communities.

Agents of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve on this committee and all County Extension Agents in Texas have information that can be used when planting trees. For further information on tree planting and Arbor Day, contact my office at 766-0131. Happy Planting and have a happy and prosperous New Year!

Foundation offers free trees

Ten free trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during January 1989.

The free trees are part of the non-profit Foundation's efforts to encourage tree planting throughout America.

The ten trees are the Sugar Maple, White Flowering Dogwood, Pin Oak, White Pine, Red Maple, Birch, American Redbud, Silver Maple, Red Oak, and Colorado Blue Spruce.

"These trees were selected to provide benefits every season of the year: lovely spring flowers, cool summer shade, spectacular autumn colors, and winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

The trees will be shipped post-paid at the right time for planting between February 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six- to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to Ten Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Jan. 31, 1989.

A Pioneering Approach To Catastrophic Problems

A single catastrophic illness or injury such as a severe stroke or major head injury, can easily cost upwards of $100,000 in medical expenses, not to mention its immense emotional impact upon the victim and family. But health insurance is coming to the rescue in a new way.

In an effort to promote more comprehensive care, some health insurance plans are becoming increasingly involved in certain catastrophic cases, by contributing more than just money to pay the bills. The idea is called Medical Case Management (MCM).

When a person suffers a specified catastrophic illness or injury, an MCM coordinator gets involved right away. A healthcare professional with experience in case management and insurance practices, the coordinator helps develop a range of medical and rehabilitative options for the victim. For example, the coordinator can identify specialized alternate care facilities like rehabilitation centers or burn units of which the attending physician may not be aware.

The coordinator can also provide a plan of needed support services for the family. These could include special counseling, home care training, or local support groups. The coordinator is the central link uniting the patient, family, attending physicians, employer, and specialized providers into a single, coordinated timely effort to help the patient and family.

Medical Case Management is part of The Equitable's new group health insurance program designed to provide the utmost in care and cost-effective health insurance coverage and services. ☐
