Price of water tops city council agenda

The cost of water will be a major item on Monday's meeting of the city council.

Council meetings in May have been changed from the regular second and fourth Mondays and will be the first and third this month.

Monday's meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Three resolutions are on the meeting agenda concerning pricing of water.

The first resolution would authorize the city administrator to accept a contract amendment from Wichita Falls for a rate increase to buy treated water.

The other two resolutions would authorize the administrator to negotiate contract agreements with two major non-city purchasers of water from the city.

One is Wichita Valley Water Supply Corporation and the other is with Sereno Lago, the housing development at Horseshoe Lake. Both have been purchasing water from Iowa Park several years, and when rates are changed, contracts must be amended.

A personal appearance has been granted to James Moore, who will seek a four-way stop sign at the intersection of Mary and Rita streets.

The only ordinance on the agenda to be considered would amend the code concerning electrical fees, bonding and test procedures.

Authorization for the administrator to purchase a tractor and mower is on the agenda. Bids were considered at the last meeting, but action was postponed while equipment offered in the bids was evaluated.

Two proclamations are to be noted by Mayor Tim Hunter during the meeting. One concerns the success of the recent city-wide Clean-Up Week and the other recognizes the 10th birthday of The Friendly Door.

The agenda lists seven items under the administrator's report. They include:

- * scheduling the annual council goal-setting workshop;
  - * selling the Recreational Activities Center;
  - * a request to make repairs to The Friendly Door building;
  - * landfill options, rates and alternatives;
  - * authorizing participation in the ICMA Retirement Corporation 457 plan;
  - * authorizing travel expenses to Mayor and Councilmembers Institute in El Paso;
  - * and authorizing travel expenses to Texas City Management Association annual meeting in Laredo.
- An executive session is included on the agenda, for the subject of "pending or contemplated litigation or settlement offers." Action as result of the closed session is also listed.

SQUEEZE PLAY GONE AWRY - Jeff Huff's attempted squeeze play bunt in the third inning of Thursday's Dist. 6-AAA opener against Bowie didn't go exactly as he planned. The ball was popped up, caught, and turned into a double play for the 'Rabbits. The Hawks, however, went on to win, 11-1.

School trustees sets facility needs study

A tour of all campuses and workshop to determine priorities for school facilities will be held Tuesday by members of the Iowa Park board of trustees.

Board members are to meet at 6:30 at the administration building, from where they will depart to look over facilities at each campus, a trip that is expected to last as long as two hours.

Following the tour, the group will hold a discussion session at its regular meeting room.

Trustees will also hear a proposal from Bill Spears of Wichita Falls, who will explain his program for conserving utilities.

A list of needs and desires was provided to the board by principals and administrators at the board's meeting earlier this month. At that time, Jimmy Howell, president, proposed the work session.

Supt. Glen Mitchell said Don Daugherty, architect, will have a list of projected costs on each of the items on the lists, to give trustees an opportunity to know costs as they set their priority list.

Proposals submitted by the principals included:

- HIGH SCHOOL
Re-roof entire high school (bids for doing the original gymnasium are to be available for consideration); build a classroom inside the general

- construction building; move the agriculture farm facilities to the high school campus; additional dressing rooms for the field house; build a 24x60 metal building for storage of football, track, baseball and tennis equipment, as well as storage for equipment; and construct restrooms for baseball and tennis areas.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Either remove and rebuild walls and ceilings in the blue metal building or construct a new six-classroom wing with restrooms on the north side of the west wing and use metal building for storage; remove old wooden building north of west wing and move weight room and storage to present General Construction Building.

BRADFORD ELEMENTARY

Build five classrooms and restrooms to meet the 22-1 ratio required by HB 72; cover all outside windows except two in each classroom.

KIDWELL ELEMENTARY

Enclose front porch for PE classes or build a 24x20 building for PE classes because the room now in use for PE will be needed next year; cover all windows in each classroom with metal siding; build a canopy to cover the remainder of the sidewalk under the north canopy.

GENERAL FACILITY

Build a 30x60 metal storage building at the administration building for storage of records and materials (structure is now full); rebuild maintenance and bus barn facility (the buildings now in use have deteriorated and are not repairable. The buildings and grounds at this facility are not adequate. Proposed building would be made of pipe frame and metal skin. The present facility could be sold and the new facility would be built south of the high school).

CHAMPIONS TO ODESSA - Iowa Park High's boys' and girls' tennis teams, both champions of Dist. 6-AAA, left Tuesday morning en route to Odessa, where they were to compete Wednesday and today in the Region One tournament. Winners there qualify to advance to the state tournament in Austin.

In conjunction with the "Respect for Law Week," the Iowa Park Optimist Club will host a banquet for all Iowa Park Police personnel Saturday evening.

To begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center, a steak dinner will be served and special award certificates presented, according to Ken Schlaud, chairman of the project. "Respect for Law Week" is the first week in May and is designated by Optimist International to recognize and honor those people involved in law enforcement all over the United States.

"This will be our club's way to say 'thank you, Iowa Park Police personnel,'" Schlaud said.

Rabies clinic scheduled May 9

The Iowa Park Chapter of Future Farmers of America will conduct a rabies clinic in the Iowa Park High School agriculture building Saturday, May 9, beginning at 9 a.m. FFA members and Veterinarian

Dr. Thurman Reitz will conduct the clinic.

Offered will be shots for rabies, DHL and parvo. All interested pet owners are urged to attend. A fee will be charged.

Bogus bills bilk change machines

Police are investigating use of bogus money paper to extract change from machines and another rash of criminal mischief which were reported during the past week.

Two Iowa Park businesses that offer use of coin changing machines were hit sometime Friday night, according to the police blotter.

Approximately $60 was taken from the machine at Davis Laundry and $10 from Catlin Car Wash.

Wichita Falls Police Department reported receiving complaints from businesses in that community also on Saturday morning.

No actual count was available, but numerous vehicles were hit by egg throwers Saturday night. Complaints were received from owners on Fourth Street, Rebecca and Westridge, according to the blotter.

A similar case was reported two weeks ago.

Two other cases of criminal mischief were reported. Desmond Carazolos, 110 Westridge, reported the window of his front door being broken sometime Saturday.

Sunday evening, Kenny Gregory said someone poured sugar in his car's gas tank while it was parked at 407 Valley Drive. Also Sunday, Julia Berry, 510 W. Washington, reported the theft of a lawn mower.

Police took Eric Wayne Perkins, 32, into custody Saturday evening in the 800 block of West Highway, on outstanding warrants from Bowie.

The warrants, according to the blotter, were for possession of a weapon, no liability insurance and failure to appear.

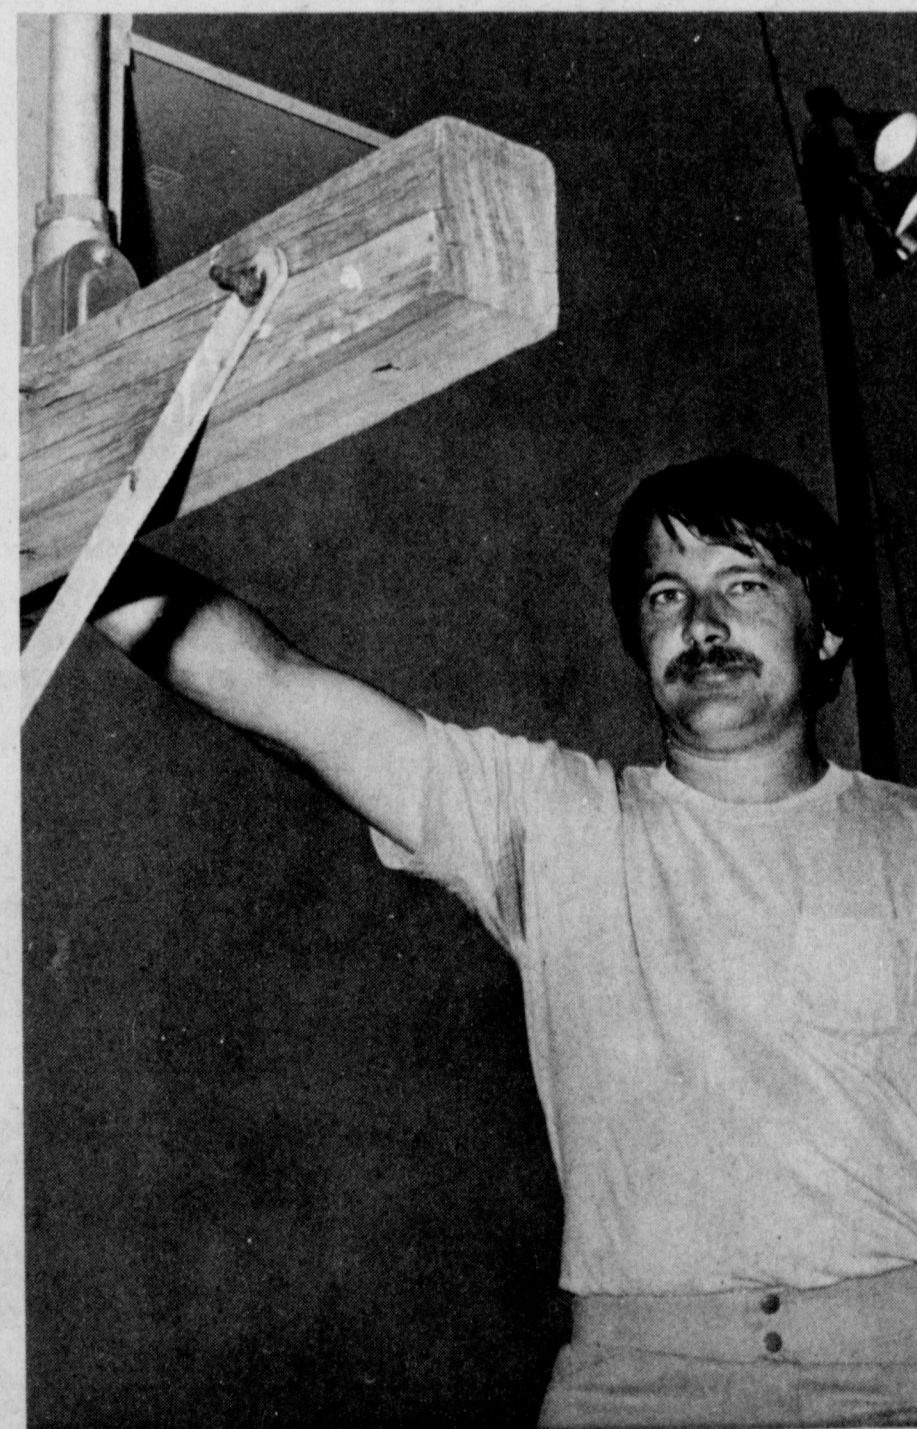

Perkins was turned over to a Wichita County deputy.

Jack Bowerman, who resides on Coleman Park Road, told police he found pins in frozen orange juice he had purchased in Wichita Falls.

Police explained it was outside their jurisdiction, but transmitted the information to the Wichita Falls Police Department.

Kerby places second

Jerel Kerby, pharmacist at Wal-Mart Pharmacy, placed second among more than 1,000 entrants in Saturday's 22-mile bike race at Muenster.

SWITCHES ON LIGHTS - Little League treasurer Pat Kennedy switches on the lights for the first time Monday, after the new units were installed. Volunteers completed the installation Sunday. Five lights, however, are yet to arrive after having been lost in shipment, Kennedy said. League officers deemed the old lights unsafe after a couple of poles broke in recent winds, and the amount of light on the fields was also not desirable.

Cook of the Week

When Dee Dee (Mrs. Alan) Forney came by the Leader office to be interviewed for the Cook of the Week, she brought one of her favorite wedding presents, a cookbook (which she holds in her hand in the picture).

The cookbook was compiled by her sister, Dorothy Freeman, and contains favorite recipes of her mother, two sisters, mother-in-law, sister-in-law, aunts and grandmothers on both sides.

The former DeeDee Whitehead was graduated from Wichita Falls High School and from Midwestern State Univ. with a BS degree. She has taught social studies for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Bonham Elementary School in Wichita Falls three years, and her enthusiasm for teaching shows that she is a dedicated teacher.

She attends Christ the King Catholic Church. She is a member of TSTA and Epsilon Eta chapter of Epsilon Sigma where she was recently installed as secretary. Her hobbies are fishing with her husband, who is employed at Cryovac, tennis and reading.

One of the recipes that DeeDee chose from her favorite cookbook for us to use this week was Dilly Bread which calls for dill seeds to give it flavor. The seeds are a by-product of dill, an aromatic herb having foliage and seeds that are both used to flavor a variety of foods.

Dill does invite enthusiasm in many countries. Someone wrote that dill is the most frequently used herb in Polish cooking in soup, boiled potatoes, and mixed in with the vegetables. It is used lavishly in regions addicted to it and not at all elsewhere.

In Europe, the Poles are joined by the other inhabitants of the colder central and eastern countries in their veneration of it. Russians are fond of it. Hungary is the continent's chief producer of dill seed oil. Scandinavians dote on it. In Asia, it is cultivated most often in India.

The United States has adopted it to preserve cucumbers and gherkins so generally that it is the seasoning not the main ingredient. In addition to being used for pickles, dill often gets into potato salad and sauerkraut. It also goes with cabbage, fish, stew, soup, vegetables, sauces, etc.

DILLY BREAD

2 1/2 to 3 cups flour
2 Tbs. sugar
1 Tbs. instant minced onion
2 tsp. dill seed
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. soda
1 pkg yeast
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1/4 cup water
1 Tbs. butter
1 egg
Butter, softened, and coarse salt.

Combine 1 cup flour, sugar, onion, dill seed, salt, soda and yeast. In saucepan, heat cottage cheese, water and butter until mixture is warm. Add egg and warm liquid to flour mixture. Blend at lowest speed until moistened, beat 3 minutes at medium speed. By hand, stir in remaining flour to form a stiff dough. Cover, let rise in warm place until doubled in size, about an hour. Stir down batter.

Turn in a well-greased 8-inch casserole (1 1/2 or 2 qt.) Cover, let rise in warm place until light, about 30-45 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees 35-45 minutes until golden brown. Brush with butter and sprinkle with coarse salt, if desired.

CRISPY FISH FILLETS

2 eggs
1/4 cup French mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 lbs. fish fillets
Instant mashed potato flakes
Salad oil or melted shortening
Beat eggs, mustard and salt together. Dip fish in mustard mixture; roll in potato flakes. Fry in hot oil or shortening 3 to 4 minutes on each side or until fish flakes easily and is golden brown. 4 serv-ings.

CREAM PUFFS

1 cup water
1/2 cup butter
4 eggs
1 cup flour
1/4 tsp. salt
Put water and butter in saucepan and heat until water boils. Pour flour and salt into hot mix and beat thoroughly. Stir and cook over low flame until mixture forms a stiff ball. Remove from fire and add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each egg. Drop by spoonful on greased baking sheet. Fill with custard filling.
Temp: 450 degrees 20 minutes. Then 325 degrees 20 minutes.

CUSTARD FILLING

2 cups milk
1/4 cup flour
1 Tbs. cornstarch
3/4 cup sugar
1 egg
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 Tbs. butter
Scald milk in top of double boiler. Mix the flour, cornstarch and sugar in bowl. Stir these and gradually pour hot milk over them. When well mixed, return to double boiler. Stir and cook until mixture thickens. Then cover and continue cooking 15 minutes longer. Add butter. Beat egg and add salt to it. Add this gradually to milk mixture, stirring vigorously while combining. Stir and cook until egg is thickened. Cool and stir in the flavoring.

POTATO CASSEROLE

6 large potatoes, boiled in jackets
1 large small curd cottage cheese
2 small sour cream
2 bunches onions, sliced with tops
Grated cheese to garnish

Peel potatoes, cut and arrange in baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients except grated cheese and spoon over potatoes. Cook in 350 degree oven about 30 minutes (until bubbly). Top with grated cheese, return to oven until melted. Serves 6 to 8.

ZUCCHINI AND MUSHROOMS

1 lb. zucchini
1 Tbs. cornstarch
1/4 cup vegetable oil
2 cloves garlic, chopped
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup chicken broth
8 oz. mushrooms
1 Tbs. water
1 medium onion, sliced
2 Tbs. soy sauce

Cut zucchini lengthwise into halves; cut each half diagonally into 1/4 inch slices. Cut mushrooms into 1/4 inch slices. Mix cornstarch and water.

Heat wok until 1 or 2 drops of water bubble and skitter when sprinkled in wok. Add oil and rotate wok to coat side. Add onion and garlic; stir-fry until garlic is light brown. Add zucchini, mushrooms and salt. Stir-fry 2 minutes. Stir in soy sauce. Stir in chicken broth, heat to boiling. Stir in cornstarch mixture, cook and stir until thickened, about 10 seconds. Makes 4 servings.

Income investments is Lioness Club topic

Betty J. Cole, investment broker and financial consultant for A.G. Edwards & Sons, presented a talk on "Investing for Income" for the Iowa Park Lioness Club Thursday evening in a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Homer Blalock. Mrs. W.E. Karstetter was the co-hostess.

Mrs. Cole introduced the informative talk by saying that anyone who has ever purchased a home, automobile, jewelry, antiques, furniture, had a savings account or a CD is an investor.

"One does not have to be wealthy to be an investor and today's investors are mostly average income people. There are appropriate investments for everyone no matter what his status in life is," she said.

She explained that investing for income simply means to put money to work in an investment which pays regular interest or dividends monthly, quarterly or semi-annually. She remarked that how much money one has to live on and how much his estate will be worth depends a great deal on the amount and kind of financial preparation he is making now.

Mrs. Cole gave a brief outline of different types of income investments including: tax-free municipal bonds, mature funds, certificates of deposits, fixed annuities, government securities such as T-bills, and treasury notes, also corporate bonds, preferred stocks and utility stocks.

In closing, she said that individuals should review their investments and be willing to make changes when there are changes in tax laws, interest rates and overall economics. "Check into all investment options available to help you get the best return on your money," she advised.

Mrs. Dave Davis gave the meditation on "He Never Forsakes."

Mrs. D.O. James conducted the business when members voted to make a monetary contribution to the local Food Pantry and to the Volunteer Fire Department's Life Pak monitor project.

She appointed an audit committee composed of Mmes. Sam Hunter, Riley Thompson and Sam Hill, and named Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. C.L. Thompson to serve on the by-laws committee with her.

During the business, it was voted to become a chartered Lioness Club.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

It was really gratifying to see so many citizens out cleaning up public areas of the community last week. They did a great job!

Actually, one group was so enthusiastic, they did another's area while they were out.

The Future Farmers of America were asked to do the south side of East Highway, from Wall to Bell. They did, and cleaned up the north side to boot.

That displaced the Future Homemakers members, who really wanted to participate. So, they were asked to police the high school grounds. And they got right on it.

Frustration: it's the pits to work in such a project, and drive the route the next day or two and see where some unthinking has already littered it all over again. And it happened.

I can just about guarantee you, that once you've worked on a clean up project, you wouldn't think of throwing something out your car window again.

That's why more people need to participate in the future.

Have you ever noticed how some men use an initial in their name as a status symbol?

You may not notice it, but we in the news business catch it all the time.

I have to use my "proper" name on some legal papers from time to time. Robert M. Hamilton. I adopted the M. for such occasions because I don't care for the name Marion, even if it is my grandfather's name.

Sorry, PaPa, where ever you are, but Marion is just too much like Marian, my first girlfriend's name.

Nope, Bob sounded just fine to me, once folks stopped calling me Bobby.

Actually, I guess I got started with the Robert M. bit back in the military: "Sir, last name, first name, middle initial, reports for pay."

Guess if I ever get that chain of 30 newspapers I'll feel important enough to go back to the Robert M. name.

I always liked a poem I read when a youngster. Think it was entitled "Just Plain Bill:"

Mama calls me William, Papa calls me Will. Sister calls me Willie, But the fellers all call me Bill.

I can see how some men would want to use their middle initial if there were someone else with a similar name, either in town or in a business. It might better identify them.

But the use of an initial as a tool of prestige is just silly to me.

And it becomes even worse, to me, if the man has adopted his middle name and still wants to use an initial.

Can you imagine addressing me as R. Marion Hamilton?

You've got to want to use an initial badly to use the first initial.

The use of both names isn't as silly as using an initial. Actually, it's a part of the southwest, to have two first names.

After all, who would want to go to Billy B's or B Bob's?

Letter to the Editor

Job well done!

Dear Bob, When a group of people unite for a single cause, mountains can be moved with ease and such was the case with last week's Clean-Up project.

On behalf of the City of Iowa Park, I want to thank all of the volunteers as well as yourself for the success in this anti-litter campaign.

The new approach to getting more clubs involved was just what the doctor ordered. People were allowed to work at their leisure and there is no doubt that is what led to the terrific participation this city saw.

Those groups that gave of themselves were able to accomplish in a few hours each day what city crews could not have begun to accomplish due to a heavy work load, although it did allow us more time for brush and rubbish pick-ups.

Through these volunteer efforts we have bore some of the clean-up cost ourselves as well as received the benefit of having a beautiful community.

Once again, Iowa Park stands above other communities in their civic pride. Our hats are off to you for a job well done.

Favorite executive food was seafood by 39 percent, followed by meat, Italian and poultry. Wine and Scotch tied as favorite drinks and Cadillac, Mercedes and Lincoln rated in that order as the top three executive mobiles.

Favorite hobbies were golf, reading and boating/sailing, respectively.

As for this Canyon "executive," I'll stick to family vacations to Six Flags in a Plymouth mini-van, complete with a tennis racket tucked under the back seat.

BRAD TOOLEY Canyon News

I know why they call her Mother Nature! She's a typical woman - teasing just enough to get you interested and then the cold shoulder.

Now easy, feminists. I don't want to be considered a male chauvinist. I believe in women's rights and all that good stuff. If gentlemanly manners upset you, I won't open the door for you or stand up when you enter the room.

I believe in equal pay for equal work and sharing duties around the house - my wife cooks dinner and I eat it!

We're just comparing fickle Mother Nature to the "old image" women used to have.

I love spring except Mother Nature toys with it the first month. She gives us just enough warm sunshine to create the mood for gardening, golfing and goofing. Then, she dumps a cold spell in our laps -- usually on a weekend.

Last weekend we cleaned a winter's supply of leaves and broken limbs from the yard. We mowed down the weeds, put out the yard furniture and made ready to enjoy our first spring in this beautiful county.

Monday's winds came and I again have a yard full of limbs, leaves and turned over lawn furniture.

That's what you get for not learning the ways of Mother Nature and I knew better. An old West Texas rule of thumb is never count winter out until the mesquite blooms. That old thorny shrub rarely lies. When the mesquite-freckled oil patch begins to bloom, you can bet your thermometer spring is here.

And, if I remember my mother's wisdom right, we're due another cold spell in April. She always said, "If it thunders in February, it will freeze that same day in April."

I forgot the exact day of February thunder, but I think I'll keep my coat handy until May.

Worth Quoting

I've been confused numerous times in my life, but never more than I was on Thursday evening when I heard the program and the questions regarding the new immigration bill.

The new law, which is a monstrosity of exceptions and deadlines, and some contradictions, will have an enormous effect on three groups of folks -- ranchers (and some farmers); the US Border Patrol; and last, but certainly not least, the Mexican (and other) aliens who seek to come to America in search of a better living.

It's a far cry from the good old Bracero program of the 1950s and 60s, which enabled temporary Mexican workers to be processed and legally come to US farms to work.

The law carries rough penalties for violation, which is bad news for the ranchers; it's hard to interpret, and therefore tricky to enforce, which is bad news for the Border Patrol; and it's got an enormous amount of red tape, which will make things pretty awful for the aliens who are trying to comply with it.

Rancher Phillip Schneemann and I discussed the law some after the meeting, and he said he thinks I have a good understanding of the situation when I asked if it wasn't really the brain child of the labor unions up north and in California who don't care what happens to agriculture (especially ranching) in this area of the nation.

I sat next to Jerry Puckett during the meeting, and Jerry said he could be quoted as saying this new immigration law is the worst thing to come out of congress since that august body voted to regulate the price of interstate natural gas at the wellhead.

He knows what he's talking about, because he's suffered from both -- as a gas royalty owner, and as a rancher.

They don't encourage non-resident ownership of property in Bermuda.

We looked through a realty tract and found that the Bermuda government sets an annual tax on property for non-residents.

This rate is done every five years and right now the annual tax is $37,500 for a house and $13,500 for an apartment if you are a non-resident.

Land is prohibited for sale to a non-resident. We found prices in Bermuda somewhat high, even higher than Hawaii.

The hotels have a cozy way of mining tourist dollars by putting a six percent daily tax and then a daily charge of $8 per person to cover gratuities for housekeeping, bellstand and dining room personnel.

Then there is a $10 per person departure tax at the airport.

It all adds up. HAROLD HUDSON Perryton Herald

Although the pressure's not real intense in Canyon that one be required to "dress for success" as in the big leagues, we found interesting a recent article (some of it tongue in cheek) in The Wall Street Journal, "Cut From the CEO Cloth."

According to the author, James P. Sterba, it takes a $1,000 suit and lots more to make it to the top in today's corporate environment.

"What we are talking about here is packaging," says Sterba, "that expensive game of visual trickery long associated with the Cheshire cat and annual reports."

As always, Sterba asserts, ascent rates depend on looks, not deeds. Though for men, marrying the boss's daughter remains a strong move.

There's a fine line between dullness and flamboyance for the successful businessman, says Stern, and the rising executives must be able to "mold the basic dull look into their own fashion statement and pay exorbitant sums to achieve it."

The safest suit in America is made in Chicago by Oxford Clothes (price range: $875 to $1,295).

For shirts, Sterba says "Paying through the nose is the best policy." Proper custom made shirts should range from $58 to $130 each (egads).

If you must wear "off-the-shelf shoes, buy them at Brooks Brothers, suggests Sterba. But again, custom-made is best, preferably from John Lobb of Paris. Dip into your children's education fund, Sterba suggests. Lobbs cost around $500 each. No, not each pair. Each foot.

And don't hesitate to spend $50 to $100 for a nice tie (I thought $20 was expensive!). Only buy silk. For that matter, never wear any clothes made out of petroleum, only things made by sheep, plants or worms."

And just when you were finally convinced that yellow is the "power color" in ties, Sterba says absolutely not.

Dark blue, burgandy and power red are in. "Wall Street money shufflers can still get away with yellow (very 1985)," claims Sterba. (And I didn't purchase my yellow power tie until mid-1986). Bow ties are making a bit of a comeback, Sterba warns.

What else is in for the rising young executive?

The Wall Street executive survey in the same edition reports the following findings about the executive lifestyle.

San Francisco, followed by London and New York rated as favorite city; New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, respectively, rated as "cities to avoid when possible."

Top three favorite vacation areas were Florida, then Eurpoe and the Caribbean. American rated as favorite airline.

Seventeen percent of the CEOs said their IQ ranges from 130 to 145 and The Reckoning was listed as the most important book read in 1986, followed by The Hunt For Red Oct-

Wichita County Commissioners' Notebook

Dedication ceremonies for the Wichita County War Memorial monument will be held at 2 p.m. May 16 on the courthouse lawn.

Clyde Fillmore, a World War II veteran and member of the Lost Battalion, will be guest speaker and James Lonergan, publisher of the Times and Record News, will be master of ceremonies.

In describing the reaction of persons viewing the monument, Johnny Watson, chairman of the War Memorial Commission, said "They get misty-eyed."

"We want to help out our neighboring counties without additional taxpayers' money." That was County Judge Nick Gibson's statement when he presented to commissioners court a contract to help Archer County prisoners.

The contract, wherein Archer County agrees to pay Wichita County $35 per day per prisoner, was approved by the commissioners upon a space-availability basis, and will be effective May 25.

The final Federal Revenue Sharing funds in the total sum of $7,081 were allocated by the commissioners court in a budget hearing. $5,000 was allocated to United Way and the balance of the funds was placed in the County Improvement Fund for a copy machine for Justice of Peace, Precinct 2.

In an effort to update and upgrade their departments, the following elected officials will be attending work-related seminars: County Court at Law Judges Jim Hogan and Tom Bacus will attend a Criminal Justice Conference; the Sheriff will attend a Police Management and Seminar Series; the Public Defender will attend a DWI Defense Seminar; and the Precinct 1 Constable will attend a Justice of Peace and Constables seminar.

The wheel loader bid for Precinct 2 which was taken under advisement at the last meeting was awarded to Construction Agriculture Supply Equipment. This was the low bid in the amount of $36,770.

The next commissioners court meeting will be held at 10 a.m. May 11 at the courthouse.

Watermelons For Hot Summer Days

Many of us are more experienced in eating watermelon than we are in growing it. The main problem is having enough space for this vegetable (yes, watermelon is a vegetable) to grow well.

A single hill of watermelons requires at least 24 feet of space to produce a satisfactory crop. Their root systems are so massive that they often extend out as far as the vines and go more than 4 feet down into the soil. Thus, it is obvious you need to work your soil well if you are to be successful at growing watermelons.

Watermelons grow best in a deep, loose soil. Several weeks before planting time, till the soil to a depth of at least 8 to 10 inches. If your soil is tight and heavy, loosen it up by incorporating a generous amount of organic matter. Be careful to not over-fertilize watermelons; doing so can cause an internal fruit disorder called white heart.

Of course, the watermelon is a warm-season vegetable and should be planted after all danger of frost has passed and the soil temperature at the seeding depth is at least 70 degrees. This means that planting time in Texas can start as early as February 1 in the valley and continue through the end of May in the panhandle. Most of the state can plant between the middle of March and the middle of April.

Plant watermelons in hills spaced 4 feet apart in rows that are at least 6 feet apart. If possible, it is good to leave even more space between the hills. Place three or four seeds in each hill, covering them 1/4 to 1 inch deep with soil. Firm the soil over the seeds.

Two weeks after the seedlings emerge, thin each hill to two of the strongest plants. Pinch the unwanted watermelon seedlings is particularly important because too many plants will create crowded conditions and cause the plants to compete with each other for necessary light and nutrients.

To determine if the watermelon is ripe, first be sure the size of the melon is what it should be for its particular variety. Second, check the area of the melon that has been in contact with the ground. It should be a dull creamy color. Third, the tendril, or tail, should be dried and withered.

Finnell says budget by House 'fulfills'

Rep. Charles Finnell said this week the appropriations bill before the House of Representatives "fulfills the major priorities of the people of the 80th House District."

But Finnell stressed that key provisions in the house bill were still at risk and subject to amendment during debate on the House floor.

"Given the present economic realities, the bill comes close to being the best we can do, but it is certainly not ideal," Finnell said.

Despite some reservations about the House spending bill, Finnell expressed satisfaction with appropriations that will preserve projects important to North Texans.

"It is essential that we continue the funding levels for vital North Texas programs such as our senior citizens nutrition program, vocational education, and the 4-H and Youth Development Program supervised by our county agents through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service," Finnell commented.

"Our 31 independent school districts, Vernon Regional Junior College, and Midwestern State Univ. would also be funded at previous levels thereby allowing the 80th District to maintain the quality educational programs for which our area is known.

"And thus far we have staved off attempts to weaken the retirement systems of our retired state employ-

Tanner recognized

Air Force Master Sgt. Ronald L. Tanner, son of Mrs. Bettye Tanner of Holliday, has been named senior non-commissioned officer of the quarter.

Tanner is a material support supervisor with the 33rd Component Repair Squadron at Elgin Air Force Base, Fla.

The selection was based on his exemplary duty performance, job knowledge, leadership qualities, significant self-improvement and other accomplishments.

His wife, Beverly, is the daughter of Joyce Holding of Rt. 5, Wichita Falls.

Tanner is a 1968 graduate of Hirschi High School.

ees and educators," Finnell added.

After much consultation with each member of the House Appropriations Committee and constant monitoring of hearings that reviewed the operations at the Vernon State Hospital, Finnell said he was pleased about helping defeat a motion that would have eliminated part of the facility's program.

"Undeniable financial realities have exerted great pressure on the legislature to streamline every state program and agency," Finnell said, "so I am pleased the vital programs and institutions of our North Texas District have withstood such critical scrutiny."

Finnell warned that many obstacles still lie ahead in the 70th Legislature's regular session, which adjourns June 1, but he remained optimistic about the prospects for these and other priority items of the 80th District.

TO YUGOSLAVIA

Iowa Parkan journeys to see 'apparitions'

by KARI COLLINS

Deacon Patrick Burke of Christ The King Catholic Church journeyed to Medjugorje (Med-u-gory), Yugoslavia recently to check out for himself reported apparitions of the Virgin Mary by six children of the village since June 24, 1981.

Burke stressed that he went as an individual and not as a part of the church.

He said the Yugoslavian Bishops Conference and the Vatican have asked not to have official church sponsored visits to Medjugorje until a ruling (of validation) has been made by the commission. He also said, "The Catholic Church is very slow to approve any type of revelation like this."

Yugoslavia, although a communist country, is one of the most liberal. Burke said people there are allowed to practice religion, but it is controlled to a certain extent.

The children, now ranging in age from fifteen to twenty-two, reportedly see the apparition in a small room in the rectory by St. James Parish, where Burke visited, in Medjugorje at 6:40 every evening. They say she brings a message of peace, a call to pray, fast, do penance, reform and live their lives according to the Gospel.

Although no one else can see this apparition, thousands of people from America, Italy, Spain, Germany, Portugal and Canada, to name a few, come to the parish to see the children and pray.

Other than the apparition, one of the major sights that draws people there is a 14-ton cement cross atop Krizevac Hill.

The cross, which Burke made the trip, by foot, to see, stands 50-feet high and was erected by villagers in 1933 to commemorate the anniversary of Christ's death, and was dedicated to God for peace.

Burke went to Medjugorje with a tour group of 250 people from New Orleans, where he is originally from, and they stayed in the homes of villagers. He said the government receives 70 percent of money paid to the villagers for lodging.

Burke said he decided to make the trip to Medjugorje, although skeptical, after reading some books and articles about the sightings. He did say, however, that he came back personally convinced the apparitions were real.

While in Medjugorje, Burke had a chance to speak to Rene' Laurentin, author of a book he had read entitled "Is The Virgin Mary Appearing at Medjugorje?" Laurentin was there doing further research on the apparitions.

Medjugorje is the collective name of a cluster of five villages in the Croatian mountains. The terrain is rocky and barren and its main source of revenue is tobacco and grape crops and raising sheep, and according to Burke, the women of the village do the most difficult work.

Burke also said that it is difficult to get work in Yugoslavia unless you are communist, so many men go to Germany to get jobs.

The diet in Yugoslavia, which was not much to Burke's liking, consists of a lot of pork, leafy vegetables, potatoes and eggs.

Some of the homes the group stayed in had no electricity or indoor plumbing. Indoor plumbing, according to Burke, who was fortunate enough to stay in a home with it, was nothing more than a "porcelain hole in the ground."

At the close of the eight day trip the groups went to Dubrovnik, a 10th century city in Yugoslavia, where they spent the day visiting some of the 44 catholic churches located there.

Dubrovnik has been rated a zero-class city, better than first class, and means that it is one of the best preserved of all medieval cities.

Burke stressed that his belief in the phenomena was strictly personal and in no way reflected the belief of his congregation or the Catholic Church.

Hawks open district with win over Bowie

The Hawks will be gunning for their second win in Dist. 6-AAA play tomorrow, after humiliating their first opponent Tuesday.

Iowa Park travels to Bridgeport Friday for a 4 p.m. start against the Bulls.

The Hawks opened conference play at home Tuesday, and knocked off Bowie's Jackrabbits with an 11-1 score.

Tuesday's game was called in the fifth inning on the 10-run rule.

When the game was called, Iowa Park had only one out and three men on bases.

Robert Adams went the distance for Iowa Park. The run of Bowie's was unearned, as the senior hurler had his way against the visitors.

Because only three schools in the district have organized baseball, only four home-and-home games are scheduled. Iowa Park is slated to travel to Bowie May 8 and host Bridgeport May 15 to wind up regular season play.

Locals speak at seminar

Two Iowa Park area residents will be involved in a seminar this evening in Wichita Falls.

The seminar, to begin at 7:30 at the 4-H Auditorium, 1626 Midwestern Parkway, is intended to assist homeowners in beautifying lawns with little or not trouble.

Jimmy Howell, who works for Estes Chemical, will speak on post merge weed control.

The former VoAg teacher who now serves as president of the Iowa Park school board, will discuss treatment for winter weeds and weed control later this summer.

And Dean Kirkpatrick, assistant high school football coach who has made Hawk Stadium a showplace for football field turf, will discuss different types of grasses that grow well here.

Also on the program will be Jim Anderson, Wichita Falls Country Club, speaking on herbicides for grass, Travis Meyer, agronomist at Sheppard AFB, and Ed DeWhitt, Lawn Doctor of Wichita Falls.

FIRST FOR IOWA PARK - The first organization in Iowa Park to enroll in the state's "Adopt a Highway" program were members of Pack 7 and Troop 7. The youths joined thousands of others over the state Saturday to pick up their "adopted" stretch of highway, which is the first two-mile area east of the city on the Old Iowa Park Road.

Business loans available for Texas Rural residents

Authority is available to guarantee loans for Texas rural residents for use in creating new business or expanding existing enterprises, J. Lynn Futch, FmHA state director, said.

"Although the Farmers Home Administration guarantees a loan made by a commercial lender, we are interested in the economic health of our rural communities and welcome inquiries about this program," Futch said. "Our business and industry program was created primarily to provide jobs in rural communities and towns up to 50,000 in populations.

"There may be many people in rural area of Texas who are not familiar with the opportunities available under the B&I program, especially the fact that we can guarantee loans for a variety of sizes of business, including family-size enterprises," he added.

"We are especially interested in anything we can do to help improve job opportunities for farmers who are trying to find new occupations."

Futch said information about the program can be obtained from the FmHA office located at 309 Federal Building, Wichita Falls, telephone number (817) 767-6121.

Blowing Off Steam

Among the ways to live longer is to eat the right diet, exercise enough, imbibe at a moderate pace, and avoid repressing anger.

So says Dr. Mara Julius, a psychosocial epidemiologist at the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

Dr. Julius studied the relationship of anger and disease and found that people who swallowed their anger were twice as likely to have died (after a 12-year period) than those who expressed their feelings.

Habitually suppressed rage, Dr. Julius said, often sets off an unhealthy chain reaction, including heavy drinking, poor eating habits and insomnia. These reactions may eventually disrupt the body's biochemical balance and make it vulnerable to disease.

Rather than blow up, Dr. Julius stated, the best way to deal with anger is to acknowledge it, cool down, and then try to solve the problem that's the cause of the rage.

10 tracksters competing at region

Iowa Park High tracksters will be competing in the Region 1 track meet this weekend at Odessa, vying for tickets to Austin and the state championship meet.

Ten green and white athletes, the largest contingent in recent years, will be representing Iowa Park at the region.

The delegation includes seven females and three males.

Leading the Lady Hawks will be two-way qualifier Lori Allen, a junior, who holds school records in both the shot put and discus.

Two relay teams qualified, as did a second individual, hurdler Laurie Espinoza.

The 400-meter relay team, composed of Valeria Wariner, Stacy Boren, Angie Turner and L. Espinoza, competed Saturday in a qualifiers meet at South Lake Carroll.

While the team qualified for the finals, despite the absence of Turner, it did not place because the baton was dropped during a handoff.

The 800-meter relay team did not qualify against some very stiff competition. That team is made up of Shonna Weaver, Amy Payton, Wariner and, normally, Turner.

Espinoza didn't qualify for the finals Saturday, but is expected to make a strong showing against hurdlers of her own school classification.

Allen, who was far below her usual performance at South Lake, was fifth in the discus and failed to qualify in the shot.

Scott Weaver, who qualified in three events at region, was Iowa Park's only first-place winner Saturday.

He won the long jump, though his 22-3 leap was well below most of his recent winning distances.

Weaver placed third in the 100-meter dash with a 11.19 clocking but did not place in the high hurdles.

David Meissner lowered his school record in the intermediate hurdles with a 39.39, but placed second against athletes from larger schools.

Senior Hawk distance runner Brad Huff has learned since the Dist. 6-AAA meet that he is now qualified in both the 1600- and 3200-meter events even though he wasn't first or second in district, according to Coach Barry Lucy.

Huff's qualification came about because those who finished ahead of him in district have been disqualified because of grades.

He placed fifth Saturday in the 3200 with a 10:58 time.

Lucy pointed out that Weaver has now earned 240 points in meets this year, well above the 210 he finished with last season. Meissner has 127 points.
