IOWA PARK LEADER

28 Cents

Vol. 18, No. 39 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 Thursday, June 11, 1987

EATING 25 WIENERS ISN'T ALWAYS AS PLEASURABLE AS THOUGHT... especially when it's in competition, and for a record.

Summer park program records established

Many records were set and friends made at the "World of Records Day," part of the "Summer In The Park" series, last Thursday in the city park.

With a crowd attendance of about 150 people, things were stuffed, thrown, bobbed and spit, all in the name of setting a record to be challenged next year.

In the brick throwing, Joe Fairchild topped the adult division with a record hurl of 80' 2"; Ronald Sewell tossed the brick 31' 1" to win the youth title.

Cecil Gilmore won the adult division of card throwing with a record of 18' 5" and Justin Rusk is top youth in that event with 14' 6".

Cecil Gilmore set another record in adult frisbee throwing with a 182' 10" attempt and Jason Winkler topped the youth division, gliding the frisbee 114' 1/2".

It was Cecil Gilmore again to win apple bobbing with a record 15 apples successfully nabbed.

Belinda Stevenson topped the winner's list at bubble gum blowing with a 6" bubble.

In hot dog eating, Bruce Murray won the event after eating 25 hot dogs in 15 minutes and 38 seconds. Tim Horton spit 238" to top the tobacco spitting event.

Cecil Gilmore's team was the victor of the "Most People in a Volkswagon" contest with 24 people.

Frances Krause stuffed a record 26 marshmallows in the adult division of the marshmallow stuffing event and Amy Dietrichson was youth winner of the same event with 11 marshmallows.

The largest human pyramid event was won by Scott Byrd's team with 23 people.

Finally, Mike Price went 100 yards in 17.93 seconds to capture the title in the bathtub race.

Allan Sheffield, Iowa Park Chief of Police, was Master of Ceremonies for the events.

The next program of the series will be a patriotic watermelon supper to begin at 5:30 p.m. July 2.

Police make four arrests

Iowa Park police during the past week made four arrests, investigated a hit and run report, and another of assault.

Two of the arrests were made Friday, according to the blotter.

Jeffrey George Barwell, 40, was taken into custody at 12:24 a.m. at West Highway and Bell, on outstanding warrants from the Department of Public Safety at Mineral Wells.

The warrants were for speeding,

FATALITY - An Albuquerque, N.Mex. man was killed and three other occupants of a compact car were injured west of Iowa Park early Friday morning. DPS officers are still looking for a vehicle that reportedly bumped the left rear of the vehicle near the southbound weigh station, causing the driver to lose control and the car to roll. Dead was Jeriah Johnson, 36, and injured were Celeste Mathis, 30, the driver, and her teenage sons.

WAYNE HOUSE

TU Electric manager retiring in August

After more than 40 years' service with the Texas Electric Service Division of TU Electric, Wayne House will retire Aug. 1 as local manager of the company's Iowa Park and Electra offices.

Born in Rosie, Ark., House came to Iowa Park at an early age. He was graduated from W.F. George High School, where he lettered in basketball and received a scholarship at the old Hardin Junior College, now Midwestern State Univ.

School days over, House joined the electric company as a serviceman at Iowa Park on Mar. 5, 1947, and nine years later was named manager.

He was given additional responsibility as manager of the Electra office in January of 1981.

Active in many local organizations, House is past president of the Evening Lions Club and served on the boards of the Industrial Development Corporation, Chamber of Commerce and Iowa Park Library.

He was one of the key individuals responsible for encouraging the W.R. Grace leadership to locate the Cryovac plant in Iowa Park. It is now the community's largest employer, with more than 550 on the payroll.

He currently is a director of both the Iowa Park and Electra Chambers of Commerce and is vice chairman of the Industrial Development Corp.

House was named "Citizen of the Year" in 1963.

He has worked as a Scoutmaster, served as chairman of the Camp Fire

Girls and is a past president of the Little League Baseball program.

House has worked in various areas of the Iowa Park First United Methodist Church and is a past chairman of the board.

He and his wife, Geneva, have two children: a son, Wendall (who is in his first term as a trustee of Iowa Park schools), and a daughter, Betsy.

House said he has no plans for retirement. "We'll probably travel some, and I'll play a little golf. I'm just going to take it a day at a time."

He is sure of one thing, however. "I will not make any trouble calls and I'll sleep through storms," he said.

To hear test results

Iowa Park school trustees will hear a report of results of this year's Texas Education Assessment of Minimum Skills testing Tuesday.

The board's meeting, normally held the second Tuesday of each month, was postponed until 7 p.m. next week, and will be held in the administration building.

Action is expected to be taken on bids to purchase portable classroom buildings, needed to meet the state-mandated teacher-pupil ratio at both elementary campuses.

Action will also be taken to accept resignations and employ new personnel, according to the agenda.

Other than the monthly reports on taxes, transportation and cafeteria, trustees will hold a public hearing on expenditures of Chapters One and Two; establish the bank depository for the next two years; appoint a representative to the Region Nine Service Center joint committee, and recognize students who competed on the state UJL level.

RACING PIT AREA at Lake Iowa Park was a bee hive of activity Sunday, as drivers and crew made ready their boats for competition. For results of the races, which attracted drivers from four states, turn to page 13.

IOWA PARK was featured in a booth erected by the Chamber of Commerce in last week's Fallsfest in Wichita Falls. Janice Newman served as a hostess Saturday morning, and others from the community took turns to welcome visitors and tell them about the virtues of living in Iowa Park.

Streich, Hill nuptials are solemnized in Saturday evening ceremony

Honeymooning for one week on an Eastern Caribbean cruise and for another week in Cancun are Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Joe Hill II, who recited double-ring vows in a formal wedding Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church in Wichita Falls. The officiant for the ceremony was Dr. Morris Chapman.

The bride, the former Miss Susan Gayle Streich, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Streich of Wichita Falls and the late Mildred Joiner Streich. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Hill of Iowa Park.

An abundant use of cathedral candles provided the candlelight setting for the wedding. The eye-catching arrangement of one hundred and forty candles started at altar extremities and reached a peak of lighting perfection at a Swedish steel fifteen-branched pyramid candelabra topped with a heavily-detailed floral arrangement of large fresh white roses, snapdragons, Gerbera daisies, gladioli, peach iris, brodea and willow branches.

The pyramid candelabra in the center was flanked with three spiral candelabra entwined with the fresh flowers and based with large arrangements of the chosen floral ornamentation, and extended to potted ferns at the sides of the altar.

The profile prayer bench which bespoke of the place of prayer in a marriage was garlanded with sprengeri and accented with a peach silk bow. The same style of decorations marked the unity candelabrum dedicated to hold the candle that the bride and groom lighted to seal their vows, which was a beautiful finale to the ceremony.

The center aisle of the church was covered with a white cloth and reserved especially for the bride and her father to walk to the altar. On either side of the aisle, every other pew was topped with a peach silk bow.

As guests arrived at the church for the wedding they were invited to sign the wedding book that lay on a table covered with peach satin by Rebekah Caldwell. In addition to the book the table held a white feather pen and a majestic arrangement with a light and airy, high-style look in a ceramic container. The flowers featured wedgewood blue iris, white Gerbera daisies, freesia, willow branches, Hahn's ivy, bear grass and sprengeri.

The wedding music provided by Mrs. Bill Boucher, organist, Mrs. Tom Bacus, pianist, Mrs. Jim Norman and Rich Affanito, vocalists, enhanced the sacred mood of the occasion.

The prelude selections played by the organist and pianist included "How Great Thou Art," "The Majesty and Glory of Your Name," "My Tribute," and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." They accompanied the vocalists for their duet numbers, "Household of Faith" and "Together" and Mrs. Norman for the "Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

The members of the wedding party entered the sanctuary to the strains of "Trumpet Voluntary," and "Wagner's processional" was played for the bride and her father to walk the path to the altar.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Boucher and Mrs. Bacus played a medley of sacred hymns and Mendelssohn's Wedding March for the recessional.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She was the essence of elegance in her formal white satin designer gown lavishly trimmed with reembrodered Alencon lace, pearls and iridescents. The gown was fashioned with a dropped bodice, the front luxuriously covered with the lace, pearls and iridescents, and the back was sheer and buttoned to the waist. The beauty of the long satin Juliet-style sleeves was enhanced with the lace and pearls and buttons at the wrists.

The full skirt of the gown captured attention with a deep hem of lace and pearls that extended to cathedral length train heavily appliqued with lace and pearls.

The bride chose a popular pointed headpiece of silk roses and pearls with bridal illusion flowing to waltz length. Her delicately beautiful bouquet was a creation of white roses, chosen in memory of her late mother, stephanotis, baby's breath, English ivy and camellia foliage.

To complete her wedding costume, she kept bridal traditions by wearing her late mother's diamond earrings for "something old," her wedding gown for "something new," carrying her maid of honor's mother of pearl Bible for "something borrowed," and a garter for "something blue."

The sextet of bridal attendants and junior bridesmaid presented a charming picture in their Wedgewood blue satin ballerina length dresses designed with tight-fitting bodices accented with overlapping bows at the top. They wore Wedgewood blue satin gauntlets and shoes dyed to match.

They carried arm bouquets fashioned with a look from "grandmother's day" consisting of peach Gerbera daisies, blue delphinium, white snapdragons and brodea held together with a peach silk bow. The junior bridesmaid's bouquet was a smaller version of the large ones.

Miss Betsy House of Iowa Park took part in the wedding as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Dana Trantham of Wichita Falls, Miss Lisa Boeselt of San Antonio, Miss Brenda Copas of Iowa Park, Mrs. Bill Streich and Mrs. Joe McGee of Wichita Falls. Miss Seana Streich of Wichita Falls was the junior bridesmaid.

Callie McGee of Wichita Falls, the flower girl, wore a Wedgewood blue satin dress designed with a lace-covered front bodice and the back of the skirt was ruffled with lace to the floor. She wore a halo of fresh baby's breath and carried a white lace basket filled with blue delphinium and brodea.

Kyle Streich, the ring bearer, carried a heart-shaped white satin pillow.

The groom wore a solid white tuxedo with tails and a white rose, stephanotis and ivy leaf boutonniere.

The ring bearer, best man, groomsmen and fathers were attired identically in black tailed tuxedos, white wing-tipped shirts, vests and ties, and wore pale peach roses and ivy boutonnieres.

Phillip Davis of Iowa Park was best man, and the groomsmen, all from Iowa Park, were Charles Perry, Jay Yeakley, Clarence Hill, James Barrington and Lee Roach. Ryan Streich of Wichita Falls was the junior groomsmen.

The ushers were Bill Streich, Lee Birk, Craig Whisnand, Robbie Wilson, Alan House, and Mike Dilbeck of Fort Worth. They wore black tuxedos with regular coats, white wing-tipped shirts, black cummerbunds and ties.

The mothers of the couple complimented their dresses with high-style corsages of white glamelia, roses and English ivy. Mrs. Streich wore a light blue chiffon dress accented with horizontal rows of light blue lace, and Mrs. Hill wore a long peach chiffon dress.

Mrs. W.A. Streich and Mrs. P.A. Collier, grandmothers of the bride, were special wedding guests and wore corsages of peach roses and stephanotis.

Following the wedding, guests went immediately to the Wichita Falls Country Club where the bride's parents hosted a reception highlighted by decorations and arrangements on a grandiose scale.

Live ficus trees and two dozen Boston ferns were scattered throughout the room.

The bride's cake table, draped with peach satin encircled with garlands of smilax caught up with white wedding bells and ribbon, stood apart by itself with the spectacular cake stunning the eyes of the guests. The Lady Windemere-style cake featured four stacked tiers, sets of sugar pillars that supported four smaller tiers, all decorated in exclusive taste with luxuriant large white orchids, cascades of white and peach roses, petunias and bridal trumpets with slight accent of Wedgewood blue. The floral ornamentation on top further enhanced the magic of fairy tales look of the cake.

The groom's table was covered with peach satin and its appeal ranged from the large chocolate amerrito cake adorned with dark fudge frosting with the letter "H" carved at different places on the sides and topped with chocolate shavings, to appointments at each side. These were silver champagne holders filled with blue iris, Gerbera daisies, freesia, bear grass and willow branches.

The coffee and punch tables were covered with white satin.

The punch tables were appointed with silver bowls and five-point silver candelabra bedecked with flaming candles and centered with bouquets of flowers and greenery chosen by the bride for her wedding. In addition to the candelabrum, the coffee table held the bride's late mother's silver service.

The napkins used were white, peach and blue engraved with "H" bordered on one side with "Susan and Kendall" and on the other side with "June 6, 1987."

At each end of the reception room, S-shaped tables held an assortment of finger foods and hors d'oeuvres. The tables where guests sat to eat refreshments were covered with white cloths and centered with bouquets of peach and white flowers, and the table reserved for the grandmothers had bouquets of blue flowers.

The guest book table at the reception held special interest because a portrait of the bride in her wedding gown stood on an easel beside it.

During the reception, Mrs. David Stockwell and Mrs. Steve Penney served the bride's cake and Mrs. Alan House served the groom's cake. The punch was served by Mrs. Robbie Wilson and Miss Sylvia Brown and Miss Danae Huddleston served at the coffee table.

Rocky Arnold provided piano entertainment at one end of the stage during the evening. The opposite end of the stage held a fountain surrounded by ficus trees.

The groom hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Woman's Forum. The head table was centered with a votive and flower candelabrum.

The bride and groom were graduated from Iowa Park High School and are students at Baylor Univ. in Waco. In high school, the bride was valedictorian, Homecoming Queen, named Best All-Around Girl and Who's Who in chemistry, English, history and biology. At Baylor, she is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, Gamma Beta Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta, Baylor Marketing Association and has been named to the Dean's List.

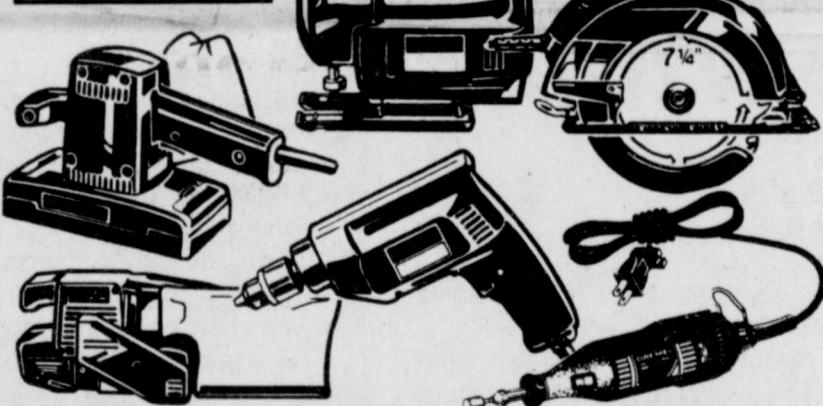

In high school, the groom was selected for the All-District football team, Who's Who in government, Outstanding Agriculture Student and Mr. Iowa Park High School. At Baylor, he is a member of the Marketing Association.

The couple will live in Waco where they will continue their education.

PARKY TrueV HARDWARE

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

There's a lot of talk nationally about whether or not morals should be taught in public schools.

I'm all for it, if one of the main chapters in that text is vandalism.

I can hardly remember what it was like to live in a community where there was no vandalism.

The first I ever saw, I must have been about 13 years of age. It was at Hereford, and the doors and roof of a restroom in a state park had been destroyed.

I couldn't understand why anyone would do it then, nor can I understand why it's done today.

I honestly believe the worst act of vandalism I've ever done was to put soap on business windows on Halloween night.

In times when I was tempted to do other, more damaging acts, my mind immediately tuned in to "The Golden Rule." And I wouldn't want someone to do to me what I thought I might like to do to them.

It's not hard to visualize what wonderful facilities we could have for the public, were it not for vandalism. Nor is it difficult to realize how little the costs would be to do more for our children and ourselves.

Let me give you some instances: just a couple of years ago, the Mule-Skinners spent dozens of manhours and lots of dollars, building a new concession stand and scorekeepers area at the Senior League field. And to make things even nicer, restrooms were added.

Well, the locks and hasps didn't last the rest of the summer. They were replaced and again taken.

The same thing happened to the concession stand at the Minor and Major fields on West Magnolia. The doors were forced open and heavy damage inflicted.

Lights at the fields are shot out by BB guns or thrown rocks. That costs several hundreds of dollars each year, just to replace the bulbs.

The schools put up coin boxes for a while at the junior high tennis courts, so people could play at night, but not at taxpayers' expense. Well, it didn't take long for that box to be completely demolished.

Nets at the courts, wherever they are in the community, seldom last an entire season.

Restrooms are being constructed at the high school baseball field. Before they're completed, someone knocked down the building blocks, using a vehicle to do the damage.

Remember the heavy, concrete picnic tables that used to be in the city hall park? I don't know how it was done, but those things were totally destroyed.

We can't always blame the kids, though most of the minor acts are apparently done by them.

The city was told by a state office to not allow driving on any of the city-owned lake dams. Barricades put up, always of heavy pipe, would not last an evening, most of the time.

We've got a choice: cut down on vandalism through education and by prosecution; or wind up without any public facilities to enjoy.

Letters to the Editor

Still remembers home

Dear Editor:
Just thought I'd send this magazine along to you. Perhaps our accomplishments are newsworthy. I am a 1949 graduate, formerly Pat Trigg. My parents are Lee and Lois Trigg and we lived at No. 2, Wichita Valley Farms. I recall the wonderful Supt. W.R. Bradford and how he loved us all to sing "Ham & Eggs" in our assembly in the old auditorium.

We've been living here, since March 1972, in Springfield, Mo. I do go visit friends and relatives in that area each year. My parents live here too at Fordland, Mo. and I took them to the Valley Farms Reunion in 1985, where I took lots of snapshots only to discover I'd failed to put film in my camera.

Worth Quoting

Texas is the second largest food producing state in the Union, but only six percent of the food and fiber consumed in the state is processed in Texas. According to a Trammell Crow company study, tons of onions are shipped out of state and are processed, packaged and frozen and shipped back to Texas for sale in grocery stores. Texas grows one-third of all the nation's cotton, but only one percent of all cotton cloth manufactured is done in Texas textile mills. Anderson Clayton Co. uses the equivalent of all the soybeans grown in the state for its vegetable oil products, where Texas soybean producers ship their products to be processed.

Why has all the agriculture product processing moved out of the state of Texas? The answer is cost. It is cheaper to move agricultural products out of the state by deregulated interstate freight rates than move the costs of shipping agricultural products in line with interstate rates. The Texas producers are at a disadvantage when they try to sell their products in the state.

HOW TO AMEND YOUR TAX RETURN

Taxpayers can correct mistakes or omissions they made on tax returns they have already filed by completing and mailing a Form 1040X to Internal Revenue Service.

The correction can be submitted within three years of the due date (including extensions) of the original return, or two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later.

The IRS says that taxpayers can receive copies of Form 1040X by calling the toll-free number 1-800-424-FORM.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She was the essence of elegance in her formal white satin designer gown lavishly trimmed with reembroidered Alencon lace, pearls and iridescents. The gown was fashioned with a dropped bodice, the front luxuriously covered with the lace, pearls and iridescents, and the back was sheer and buttoned to the waist. The beauty of the long

Cook of the Week

Organization must be the key factor in Susan (Mrs. Ralph) Dillard's life, because she certainly has enough to do to keep anyone on their toes.

The mother of four children, Susan is also the secretary of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, where she began her duties in April.

Her duties there are diverse and range from corresponding with people interested in making Iowa Park their home to helping organize the annual Whoop-T-Do.

Although she likes her job, she hasn't yet had a taste of all of it, such as the Whoop-T-Do held in the fall, but she is looking forward to it.

Some of her other duties as secretary include organizing the monthly Chamber board meetings, the annual Chamber banquet, city-wide clean up week, keeping a list of rent houses available in Iowa Park, helping in the organization of the United Way campaign, welcoming newcomers to the city, and most recently, putting together a booth for the Falls Fest in Wichita Falls last weekend, just to name a few.

Susan's husband, Ralph, is employed by W.A. Moncreif, and their children are Ralph Jr., 12; Jake, eight; Johnny, six; and Christine, four.

Having grown up in Iowa Park, she is a graduate of Iowa Park High School. When she isn't working or attending soccer or ballgames, she enjoys fishing and reading.

The recipes she submitted this week are said to be tried and true family favorites.

Berry receives award

Malcolm Berry, executive director of Dallas Rehabilitation Institute (DRI), received a special award during the DRI's annual employee awards luncheon from Robert Marx, regional director of Texas Rehabilitation Commission (TRC).

The award was presented in recognition of Berry's contribution to the handicapped people of the state of Texas.

Berry is the son of Mrs. Louise Berry of Iowa Park and is also a graduate of Iowa Park High School.

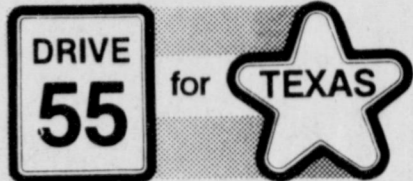

In presenting the award, Marx said, "For several years I have worked closely with Malcolm Berry. We have worked on individual patient issues, financial issues and political issues. The result of our work together has been positive.

"DRI has accomplished its goals and TRC has accomplished its goals of rehabilitating disabled individuals.

The relationship is unique because it represents the best of the private and public sector. Malcolm Berry has had a profound influence on this success."

A graduate of the University of Texas and Washington Univ., Berry has been employed with DRI since 1982. He was instrumental in the design and construction of DRI's new 120-bed facility, one of the most modern freestanding rehabilitation facilities in the country.

Dallas Rehabilitation Institute, a physical rehabilitation hospital, is a subsidiary of Rehab Hospital Services Corporation of National Medical Enterprises, Inc.

Trustees okay repairs

HOLLIDAY - During Monday night's meeting of the Holliday school board, trustees awarded a bid for repair of the elementary school building and approved the band budget for the next school year.

Finnell named to IOCC commission

Rep. Charles Finnell was appointed by Gov. Bill Clements this week to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

Finnell will serve with Texas Land Commissioner Gary Mauro on the Public Lands Committee of the I.O.C.C., an Oklahoma City based commission of gubernatorial appointees from each of the 35 petroleum producing states.

"Since oil and gas are vital to our entire North Texas economy and to the 80th District in particular, I am glad to serve," he said.

Of the five Texas state representatives appointed to serve on the Compact, founded in 1935, Finnell is the only commissioner from North Texas.

The I.O.C.C.'s function is to ascertain the methods, practices and conditions which promote the conservation of oil and gas.

Menasco Roofing Co. of Wichita Falls got the nod from board members to repair the roof of the elementary building. Supt. Dan Owen said the repair work is expected to begin within the next week and be completed by the start of school in August.

Trustees approved the band budget of $24,444 for the 1987-88 school year.

In other business, First State National Bank of Archer City was selected as bank depository. The bank held the bid last year. The other bidder was Windthorst National Bank.

Seniors will require 23 credits to graduate next school year under a new plan. Senior in the advanced program will require 25 credits to receive a diploma. The program, under HB 72, has been implemented over the last three years.

Other business discussed was:

*Board voted to accept bids for the construction of a driveway in front of the elementary building to be used for buses, and the repair of the parking lot by the auditorium.

*Board voted to accept bids for a new phone system. At the present, the school is leasing a phone system.

*Trustees discussed the cost of purchasing possibly 20 new computers for the classrooms. No action was taken.

*Walter Lemmons gave a report on the TEAMS Test taken by third, fifth, seventh, ninth and 11th grade students. Owens said the scores were higher than the average and the board is satisfied with the results.

Tennis tourney this weekend

The Adult Summer Fun Tennis Tournament will be played Saturday and Sunday at the high school courts, with the first match slated to get underway at 8:30 a.m.

Events, if a minimum of four entries register, include men's and women's A and B singles and doubles, mixed doubles and men's over 40 singles.

Trophies will be awarded to first and places in each event, according to Pan Bowerman, chairman.

Evening play is expected, now that the courts are lighted, according to Mrs. Bowerman.

Bowerman wins at Southwest

Iowa Park's Jenny Bowerman walked through the Girls 18 Singles Regular Division of the 20th annual Southwest Junior Tennis Championships in Wichita Falls.

She defeated Renese Sherman of Longview 6-3, 6-1 in the quarter-finals, Teri Hoerster of San Antonio 6-0, 6-0 in the semi-finals, and Anna Love of Canyon 6-1, 6-0 in the finals.

Bowerman, who will be a senior next fall, was the district and regional singles champion in UIL play, but was ousted in her first match in the state tournament.

MuleSkinner tourney to start tonight

Play will get underway at 7 this evening in the eighth annual Mule-Skinner Open Slowpitch Softball Tournament at Burnett Field.

Twenty teams are expected to play in this year's event, and will include four local entries.

Tonight's play is expected to last until 11 p.m., with play the same hours Friday. Action will begin at 7 a.m. Saturday and continue until well after midnight, and resume early Sunday, with the final game starting about 1 p.m.

SMALL BOAT SKIMS ACROSS WATER AT LAKE IOWA PARK IN SUNDAY'S RACES

Races attract entries from four states

Boat racing returned Sunday to Lake Iowa Park, attracting entrants from four states and turning a small profit for the sponsors.

And the event brought back memories for at least two of the drivers who competed in the last races held at the lake, 25 years ago.

Receipts from the gate, one of the concession stands and advertising in the program benefitted the Bertha McDonald Memorial Scholarship, which is the primary project of the Iowa Park Athletic Alumni Association, which sponsored the races.

Two who competed in the last races held at the lake were Leo Voss, senior and junior.

The elder Voss, who was born and raised in Wichita Falls, expressed disappointment at the small crowd watching from the dam when he remembered thousands lining the shore the last time he was there.

"Maybe the crowd will be larger the next time, if there is one," Voss, who now lives in Tulsa, Okla., said.

He served as the official weight measurer and safety director.

The younger Voss, who drove all the way from Wichita, Kan., to compete said his last race here was his first in competition. He placed in two events Sunday, and said he had a very good time in returning.

Iowa Park's father-son combination earned points Sunday, despite some problems with a hole in one of their boats.

Bill Perry Jr. collided with Rick Miller in a practice run in their "A" Class Hydros Saturday, but made the repairs needed to compete Sunday.

And Bill Sr. loaned one of his boats to a visiting driver, Mike Dillard, to run in the 20SS Hydro Class. The prop shaft gave way, losing the prop with less than 200 yards remaining, and failed to finish. He was leading when he lost the prop.

World speed record holder Barry Viola of Arkansas City, Kan. developed a hole in his "B" Modified Hydro entry during a hot heat, but still managed to win the event, hole and all.

Points earned at the races here are applied to national rankings.

Results of the meet, including points earned, include:

Wichita County Commissioners' Notebook

Upon the Juvenile Board's recommendation the Commissioners Court took action to terminate the Child Welfare Unit contract with the Texas Department of Human Services effective Sept. 1.

One main concern of the Juvenile Board and the Commissioners was the liability exposure for various kinds of suits that might be involving Wichita County which will not be liability exposure for any of the other Texas counties.

In any event, the Council will continue funding various items for Child Welfare in order to assist them.

Juvenile Probation is out of money for residential care for probationers.

Family Court Services Administrator Bill J. Ballard informed the Court that in order to allow children who are currently in placement to remain there throughout their probationary period and in order to allow for some additional placements, the Court would have to create a new line in the 1987 budget.

As a result, the Commissioners Court declared an emergency and amended the 1987 Juvenile Probation budget creating a "Residential Care and Treatment" line funding it from within Family Court Services budget in the amount of $43,050.

Commissioners approved modifications to the agreement with the Maskat Temple. Minor changes were made to this agreement which authorized the County law enforcement personnel to use the Provost Guard Firing Range to qualify.

County law enforcement personnel are required to have fire arms and night fire qualifications twice a year.

Other action taken by Commissioners Court was the opening of bids for road materials, which were taken under advisement until the June 29 meeting.

Work on FM 369 is announced

Two major projects are in the works for FM 369 next year, according to an announcement from the area State Department of Highways and Public Transportation office.

The farm to market road will be widened, construct surfaced shoulders and apply overlay from US 287 to FM 367.

Broken down into two phases, the stretch from the expressway to Loop 370 (Old Iowa Park Road), will cost an estimated $122,900, and from Loop 370 to FM 367 an estimated $172,000.

The program, known as 1988 Consolidated Rehabilitation Program, includes 325 projects covering more than 1,600 miles and costing an estimated $300-million, according to Raymond Stotzer, engineer-director of the highway department.

Cancer of the Mouth

Probably no operation leaves a patient more psychologically devastated than that which disfigures the face. The face is said to be the initial focal point as the world looks at an individual.

Cancer of the mouth not only leaves a person with the specter of less than a 35 percent survival rate hanging over his head, but also the possible loss of part of the jaw bone, tongue, muscle and lymph nodes.

Better surgical management, early diagnoses and extensive use of plastic surgery have gone a long way toward eliminating much of the psychological stress victims of cancer of the mouth suffer. Still, in many cases it is a drastic operation, but one whose after-effects could be reduced still further if people would pay more attention to their mouths.

Approximately eight percent of all cancers detected are found in the mouth. The most common site for cancer of the mouth, unfortunately, is under the tongue. No one really knows why that area is so susceptible to cancer, but possibly it is because that is the part of the mouth where chemicals collect. It could also possibly be the type of tissue found in that area. Further, there is the plentiful supply of blood in the mouth which furnishes a pathway for spreading of the cancer.

One of the main causes of cancer of the mouth is the use of tobacco, along with alcohol. When the two are combined the rate of mouth cancer increases significantly. While cigarettes are a prime cause, the use of chewing tobacco also contributes, with the damage being done by the temperature caused by smoking and the chemicals found in the tobacco. Any sort of chronic irritation can cause cancer. The healthier the condition of the mouth, the less likelihood there is of cancer starting.

Since it is relatively easy to see into your own mouth, regular self-checking is a good preventive method. Large, rough white patches, velvety red places or a mass (lump) of any color may indicate cancer and should be checked by your family doctor. As in the case of any form of cancer, the earlier it is detected the better it can be successfully treated.

Calcium and BP

Although there is still controversy about the value of dietary calcium in affecting osteoporosis risks, there is growing support for calcium's value in reducing blood pressure.

A report in the American Journal of Epidemiology summarized two different studies from the Netherlands which found that (in 2,300 people) the more calcium in the diet, the lower the blood pressure.

Another study showed calcium supplementation can lower blood pressure in young people with mild hypertension.

The Dutch scientists recommended people reduce risks for hypertension by obtaining proper amounts of calcium (800 mg/day) and by eating such foods as cheese, dairy products, broccoli and dark green leafy vegetables.
