HAWKS VS. BUCKAROOS

Only unbeaten district members to meet Friday

The leading contender for the Dist. 6-AAA title will be determined Friday night, when Iowa Park travels to Breckenridge.

Matched will be the defending champions, the Buckaroos, and the 1986 runners up, the Hawks, who go into the game with identical 2-0 district and 6-1 season records.

And, as if the challenge of the district title weren't enough for the Hawks, Breckenridge's play-at-home record is another. The Bucks haven't lost a district game on their home field since 1984.

This will be the ninth meeting between the Buckaroos and Hawks in 18 seasons, and they have each won four times. Iowa Park has a slight scoring advantage in those eight games, 147-134.

But the similarities between the two school teams go deeper than their games with each other:

- * both have state championship trophies in their display cases and long records of outstanding teams;
- * their colors are green and white;
- * even their school songs are to the same melody.

The 1987 Buckaroos, though earning a 6-1 record, have not lived up to their pre-season billing, however. They've not dominated their opponents as many expected.

They edged Abilene Wylie 7-0 in the season opener, and then barely got by Coleman 28-20.

In their third game, they outscored Graham 27-6, but Iowa Park beat the Steers 33-14. And then the Bucks had a hard time beating Class AA Stamford 27-13.

Breckenridge lost its last non-conference game to Stephenville, a Class AAAA school, 19-14. Iowa Park beat Vernon, 16-14.

The Bucks gained 413 yards rushing in their 44-14 conference win over Bowie, but Iowa Park had 412 yards rushing and beat the Jackrabbits 66-0.

And last week's game against Jacksboro has district observers scratching their heads, wondering if the Tigers are as good as the score indicates or if the Buckaroos are not as good as they were thought to be.

Breckenridge scored on the first play of scrimmage, a 74-yarder, and then fought to hold on to win by only 7-3.

Russ Grissom, son of fourth-year head coach Bill Grissom, ran that touchdown, and is the team's leading ground gainer with 593 yards on 84 carries, averaging seven yards per try.

Workhorse of the club is Jackie Cooper, who has been called on 140 times this season and gained an average of 3.82 with 535 yards.

Cooper finished the season last year with 725 yards and Grissom 723.

Against Bowie, Grissom had 210 yards and scored three touchdowns, Cooper had 115.

One of the reasons for the team's close games with Stamford and Coleman was turnovers. The Bucks lost the ball four times on fumbles in the Coleman game and three against Stamford.

The Bucks turn to quarterback Rich Kitchens when they want to loosen the opponents' defense. He has completed 43 of 81 pass attempts for 585 yards.

Kitchens' favorite target has been Rich Stephens, who has 26 receptions for 381 yards and two touchdowns.

Offensively, the Hawks will counter with fullback Jim Cummings and tailback Joel Galloway, both seniors.

Cummings is averaging 7.9 yards this year, having carried 121 times for 959 yards. Galloway, who exceeded the century mark for the first time last week with a 147-yard performance, has carried 60 times and picked up 451 yards.

The Hawks lost their fifth player of the season Friday night, when it was learned George Howell had suffered a chipped bone in his neck.

Howell, who is a backup defensive end, is the one who has been snapping the ball for extra points and field goals.

While his injury does not require surgery or a brace, Coach David Baugh said he was lost for the year.

Dan Fannin, who was pressed into the starting quarterback role when Jeff Huff broke his arm, is on the questionable list for tomorrow, said Baugh, with a leg injury.

Baugh raided the junior varsity for help to replace Howell. He brought up Don Eadesma, a junior, who has been quarterbacking since Jimmy Duggins was elevated to the varsity.

Backup quarterback, and the sophomore will start tomorrow in case Fannin cannot answer the call.

Baugh said he had also been working with wingback Billy Kenyon this week as quarterback, in case he was needed.

While the Hawks have amassed 2,617 yards offensively this year, the Bucks have gained 1,373. The two clubs have similar defensive records, however. Iowa Park has allowed its opponents 1,412 yards, and the Bucks have given up 1,281, indicating a defensive battle is imminent.

Iowa Park fans can expect to see a lot of green and white in the stands across the field. That team's booster club is encouraging Breckenridge fans to not only wear their green and white, but also to have with them green and white bandanas that have been distributed at the last two home games.

The Harris Rating System, which has ranked the Hawks fifth among Class AAA teams in the state, has labeled the game as the AAA spotlight game of the week.

Harris figures the Hawks a seven-point favorite over the Bucks.

He also predicts Decatur will beat Jacksboro by 23 and Bridgeport a 22-point favorite over Bowie.

Harris ranks the top 10 teams in the classification as Cuero, Southlake Carroll, Gladewater, Daingerfield, Iowa Park, Springtown, Littlefield, Newton, Kirbyville and Linden-Kildare.

Pep rally this afternoon

Because the Hawk football team will have to leave earlier than usual Friday to travel to Breckenridge, the pep rally will be held this afternoon, according to Principal Richard Davis.

Davis said the team will leave at 3 p.m., which was too early to start a pep rally with the student body.

So, Davis announced the rally will begin at 5:30 this afternoon, at the football practice field.

He emphasized the rally is open to the general public.

HAWKS ON RUN - Joel Galloway follows blocking of his team mates on one of his four touchdowns Friday in Iowa Park's 66-0 romp over Bowie. Galloway and Jim Cummings will be the two Breckenridge will be watching for the most when the Hawks take on the Buckaroos Friday in a battle to determine which team will remain undefeated in Dist. 6-AAA.

Man faces charges after rampage

A 27-year-old Iowa Park man faces at least three criminal charges and possibly more, when he is released from the state hospital in Wichita Falls, as result of his actions Monday afternoon.

Police were alerted that Johnny Owen, 403 S. Victoria, had taken an overdose of phenobarbital, a sedative, and left the house afoot.

He was described as wearing jeans and tennis shoes, but shirtless. He was also said to be armed with a set of "num-chucks," a lethal Oriental weapon.

Members of the police department and volunteer fire department were called to search for the man, because an overdose of the drug can depress respiration, lower blood pressure and leave a victim comatose.

The search centered in the southeastern part of the city.

Owen was reportedly found at 5:50 p.m., when he rushed out of a growth of brush in the area of Lafayette and Victoria, chasing a television camera crew with a knife in his hand.

The man is alleged to have chased the two-man crew, which had been warned not to enter the area because of the man's condition, to their van where he broke out several windows and then began throwing rocks at them.

The cameraman was Iowa Parkan David Brott, who reportedly received minor cuts in the face from glass.

As officers, searhcers and on-lookers converged on the scene, Owen reportedly threatened them with a knife. Officers drew guns, and Owen is said to have had enough of his wits to lay the weapon on the ground and give himself up.

He was strapped to a back board used for transporting injured patients, and taken by ambulance to Bethania Hospital in Wichita Falls.

The department received a call at 8:45 p.m., asking for assistance to transport Owen to the state hospital. According to the police blotter, the officers arrived there at 9 p.m., and took him to the state facility at 10:40.

Owen, according to Chief Alan Sheffield, will be arrested upon release from the hospital, on charges of carrying a prohibited weapon, criminal assault and criminal mischief.

Other police activity during the past week included receiving reports of two thefts, arresting a person sought for theft by check and killing a rattlesnake.

Police received a report Thursday of a bicycle being stolen from 410 S. Bond, and Tuesday of a battery being taken from a student's pickup while it was parked at the high school.

Friday, officers arrested Lafette Hughes Galyean, 37, on a warrant from Archer County for theft by check. She was transported to Wichita County jail.

A call for help was received at 1:40 p.m. from Mary Messer, 309 W. Crystal, asking the police to shoot a rattlesnake in her yard.

Sgt. Mike Stark responded, but killed the reptile with a garden hoe.

Aldermen face lengthy agenda Monday night

While the agenda for Monday's city council meeting is lengthy, aldermen will not need much time to work through it, City Administrator James Barrington predicted.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

An ordinance will be proposed to raise the water meter deposit for customers living outside the city limits to $100.

Barrington said the vast majority of "charge offs" for the past year were outside-city customers, and the increase was needed to offset demonstrated losses.

Three ordinances also on the agenda deal with abandoning portions of street right of way.

Another ordinance deals with the city's retirement system.

Three resolutions will be considered.

One would authorize Barrington to execute an "abandonment of water right or claim" with the Texas Water Commission which was received but not used after developer Rip Smith decided not to purchase effluent from the waste water treatment plant to irrigate a proposed golf course.

The other two resolutions call for making final payment for two projects, the water line improvement in the south part of town, and street construction.

The council will consider authorizing purchase of two police cars, two pickup trucks and a trencher, which have been advertised for bids.

Authority to advertise for bids to purchase a motor grader and a scraper will also be sought.

Barrington will discuss a proposal with the council from Burlington

Northern Railroad to raise the speed limit through the city from 30 miles per hour to 40.

The administrator will also discuss entering into a contract with a firm to conduct an incinerator system study. This was discussed at the last meeting and tabled.

Also to be discussed are authorizing improvements on the library grounds, street work for 1988, and a proposed "Employee of the Month" program.

Marching band contest is Saturday afternoon

The Iowa Park Junior High and High School bands will be competing in the University Scholastic League Marching Contest Saturday afternoon.

Although the scheduled times for the bands to march are 4:13 for the junior high band and 4:40 for the high school, Greg Miller, director, said there is a possibility the bands will march earlier.

Rated second in the state last year, the high school band, also known as the "Mean Green Marching Machine," will be competing against nine other Class 3-A bands, three from this district, and six that will be competing in Abilene that morning, to be one of the two chosen to go on to regional competition.

Although the band has lost 10 marchers to the no-pass, no-play rule, Miller said replacements for those marchers have been made.

Chamber to launch membership drive

"I can see us doubling our membership," Chamber of Commerce President Robert Palmer told his board of directors at the group's monthly meeting Monday.

Palmer sought, and received, approval to hold a major membership drive in the near future.

The Chamber has 70 members, and Palmer said an aggressive drive, soliciting both businesses and individuals to join, could well double the present membership.

He emphasized participation was especially important because of the city's observance of its 100th anniversary in 1988.

A committee to organize the drive was appointed. Dr. Richard Carver was named chairman, and he will be joined by Dee Blackwell, George Smith and Sam Laird.

Annual dues are $24 for individuals and $120 for businesses.

Palmer also said he had received a lot of favorable comments on the Chamber shirts and caps some of the members wore during the Whoop-T-Do.

A suggestion that each Chamber member be contacted and given an opportunity to purchase the articles was approved.

In other business, directors approved sponsoring a public auction at some future date; heard a report that the organization grossed $680 from the Whoop-T-Do; set the next board meeting Nov. 9, which will be one week before the annual all-member business luncheon; named Keith Aulds, Joe Hughes and Glen Mitchell to the officer nominating committee, and heard a report from Bob Hamilton, chairman of the centennial committee, announce that group's first meeting will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the office of the Iowa Park Leader.

Low grades cuts ranks of groups

The results are in and the grades have been posted - but not without a few fatalities.

After the first six week grading period, a total of 143 of the 548 Iowa Park High School students received one or more failing grades, and will be ineligible to participate in extracurricular activities the next six weeks.

Any grade below a 70 is considered failing.

According to Richard Davis, high school principal, it's about normal for failures to be higher during the first six weeks.

Broken down, vocational agriculture was the hardest hit with 29 students ineligible to participate. The band also took a blow with 10 students ineligible, with the U.I.L. Marching Contest to be this weekend. The choir deemed 14 students to be ineligible.

The varsity football team lost not one player to failing grades, but the freshman football program lost 10 players, while junior varsity lost five.

Hankins, Cray nuptial vows exchanged Friday

An impressive early fall wedding took place Friday evening at the Cashion Baptist Church, between Wichita Falls and Burkburnett, where Rev. Lee Jones, pastor, performed a double-ring ceremony, directing Miss Lori Ann Hankins and Gary Doyle Cray in exchange of their vows.

The bride is the daughter of Johnny Hankins and Ann Johnson of Iowa Park and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Cray of Burkburnett.

Wedding guests were impressed with the beautiful candlelight altar setting which featured white tapers burning in a fan-shaped candelabra flanked by spiral candelabra, each holder traced with sprengeri fern studded with burgundy pixie carnations. The choir rail was lined with votive candles tied with hunter green silk bows.

A medley of favorite wedding selections played by Mrs. Michael Sargent, organist, and a vocal solo, "Wedding Song," sung by Miss Paula Mashburn set the mood for the service. The organist played Wagner's processional to signal the entrance of the wedding party, accompanied the vocalist for her rendition of the "Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony, and played Mendessohn's recessional during the exit of the wedding party from the church.

The lovely bride walked gracefully down the aisle with her father who presented her for marriage. She was a romantic picture in a formal gown of imported white satin by Jasmine of Taiwan embellished with Venise lace, Schiffli embroidery, pearls and iridescents. The gown was fashioned with a natural-waisted pleated bodice enriched with lace and pearls, a high neck of English net trimmed with lace that showed an exquisite off-the-shoulder look. The puffed sleeves were covered with fitted net and lace appliqués that extended the length of the chapel train.

The bride complemented her gown with a derby-style hat of white satin, embroidery and pearls featuring a neck length veil of bridal illusion and a French face veil. She carried a distinctly creative bouquet, a cascade interpretation using fresh white roses, phalaenopsis and dendrobium orchids, stephanotis, baby's breath and English ivy.

Following tradition, the bride carried an heirloom handkerchief of her late great-grandmother for "something old," wore her wedding gown for "something new," her mother's diamond earrings for "something borrowed," and her blue sapphire engagement ring for "something blue."

Kidwell P-TA hears Halloween program

The Kidwell P-TA met Tuesday evening to hear a program, "Halloween Happenings," given by the first grade classes of Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Rinehart. Music was provided by Mrs. Schell.

The devotion was given by Larry Washburn, pastor of the Pacific Avenue Missionary Baptist Church.

Following the meeting, a bicycle was awarded to Courtney Collins as a part of membership drive project.

MRS. GARY DOYLE CRAY

Mrs. Jeff Lawson, sister of the bride, took part in the wedding as matron of honor. She wore a smart hunter green moire taffeta tea length dress designed with ruffled V-neck, double ruffles across the shoulders and basque waist. She wore a novel hunter green pointed cap accented with a black French silk bow at the back. She carried burgundy roses in a unique-shaped wicker basket with a handle threaded with hunter green ribbon.

The groom wore a black-tailed tuxedo with matching bow tie and vest, white shirt, and a white rose taken from the bride's bouquet. Wayne Cray, brother of the groom, the best man, Jon Hankins, brother of the bride, and Joe Parkey, her cousin, the ushers, and fathers of the couple, wore black tuxedos with regular coats. Sweetheart roses were used in the fathers' boutonnieres and the others wore burgundy and baby's breath boutonnieres.

The mothers of the couple wore corsages of burgundy roses tied with hunter green ribbon. Mrs. Johnson wore a cranberry silk tea length dress and Mrs. Cray wore a chemise-style green brocade street length dress.

Preceding the wedding, Miss Stacy Grace directed registration of guests at a lovely mahogany table in the church entry. It held a bud vase of fresh burgundy roses and alstroemeria lilies, the plume pen and book.

The bride's parents hosted the wedding reception at the church. They were assisted with the duties of serving by Miss Janelle Webb and Miss Jennifer Gorham.

The refreshment table was covered with a white embroidered cutwork cloth and centered with a seven-branched table candelabra decorated with sprengeri fern, alstroemeria lilies and baby's breath.

The sides of the table were appointed with a silver punch bowl to match the candelabra and the cake, a three-tiered structure iced in white and ornamented with cascades of white frosting roses and pale mint green leaves, two sets of Grecian posts, and a "Precious Moments" bride and groom top piece. The white bridal napkins were printed in silver with the names and wedding date of the couple.

The groom's parents were hosts for a buffet rehearsal dinner Thursday evening at their home.

The couple will live in Burkburnett following a wedding trip to Oklahoma City. After the bride dressed for travel, she tossed a bouquet of white silk roses and baby's breath.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and is employed as assistant manager at Worth's Fashions. The groom was graduated from Burkburnett High School and is employed by Coca-Cola.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

If you're planning to make the two-hour trip to Breckenridge tomorrow for the big football game, I hope you'll take along all the green and white clothing you can wear and carry.

The Breckenridge fans are being primed by that team's booster club to do the same thing.

If you like competition, this will be a trip well worth making. The games between Iowa Park and Breckenridge are always exciting.

Remember my comments of the past couple of weeks, about the TEAMS testing and the curve applied based on numbers of minorities, low income families and a couple of other factors?

Well, I found a beautiful example of just how it works.

When the seventh graders at Henrietta in 1986 took the TEAMS test, that outstanding group scored 100 percent mastery.

You can't do any better, can you?

Well, based on the raw score, it was good enough to rank that campus 65th among 5,329 campuses across the state, and first among the 120 campuses in Region Nine.

But...because Henrietta is much like Iowa Park in its enrollment, with very few Hispanic and black students, few low income families, and so on...after the "curve" was applied, Henrietta was ranked 170th in the state and only second in the region.

I call that reverse discrimination.

I'm much more concerned about how the public's perception is concerning the recent stock market decline than I am about what it means to the economy.

Sure, it broke all kinds of records as it fell, but it climbed almost at the same rate, and is now back to about where it was only a year ago.

The public's perception about the nation's economic health, after all the media has stated, repeated, and repeated over and over again comparing this to the market's crash in 1929 is what I worry about.

I figure fewer than five percent of our local population has any stock investments, so it's doubtful anyone here was hurt.

I figure we're still a long way from $1-a-day wages, 10-cent hamburgers and selling apples and pencils on the street corners, so things ain't all that bad.

Wichita County Commissioners' Notebook

Health care proposals were opened Monday for the county jail. Due to the complexity of the proposals the commissioners took the bids under advisement to analyze, and will be awarded at a subsequent date.

Louise Hunter, Larry Lambert and J.B. Holt were reappointed to the Mental Health Mental Retardation Board, and Thomas C. Seebo III and Conrad Staley were appointed to the same board, two-year terms. Ron Goldstein, Jackie Hall, Linda Weber and Michael Lambert were reappointed to serve two-year terms on the Mental Health Mental Retardation Public Responsibility committee. All terms expire Aug. 31, 1989.

The Department of Human Services was authorized by commissioners court to add to the existing county building at 401 Burk Burnett Road in Wichita Falls, which is used by that department to provide services to county residents.

~~business manager for the department,~~ they have outgrown their space at the location. He added that the construction project would cost the state over $11,000 and would add about six or eight new employees. The project is expected to be completed by March. Commissioners approved a paid-up lease for a period of 11 years for the Department of Human Services' use and occupancy.

Although the wild turkey has enjoyed a reputation as being the smartest of our North American game birds, I believe the mourning dove rivals that claim to fame. Since mourning doves provide the number one sport for North Texas shotgunners, I am sure there are plenty of outdoorsmen who agree with my assessment. Doves are smart, there's no doubt about it.

So far this season, I have put a grand total of 14 doves in my game bag. I have shot less than three boxes of shells, and obviously, I am no great threat to the mourning dove population. I'm such a poor dove hunter I don't even make a good argument for bleeding heart environmentalists who think my breed is causing the eradication of endangered species.

Actually, the good I do by pumping money into the economy for guns, ammunition and camouflage clothing more than offsets the tiny dent I make in the mourning dove population.

Back to the point about the mourning dove's cerebral blessings. As I said, doves are smart. After all, they find their way back and forth between Kansas and Mexico each year, passing through North Texas just long enough to torment the thunder out of me and thousands of other hunters.

To begin with, doves are fast flyers and they've got more moves than a belly dancer. I can't recall exactly the top speed at which a dove has been clocked, but it's fast; something like 50 m.p.h. On top of that, a dove can turn corkscrews and di-dos that would make a fighter pilot jealous.

While speed and agility are the dove's primary defenses, they also have great eyesight and an unsurpassed ability to judge distances. Most shotguns used for such upland bird hunting have a practical killing distance of 30 to 40 yards. Some guys use their full choke duck guns to bring down doves out beyond that, but I try to limit my shots to the shorter distances.

A dove knows exactly how to measure 60 yards. I've seen them do it thousands of times. You're out there hunting, and you see a dove 500 yards away flying straight toward your position. You keep your eye on the bird, get ready and watch him as he continues to track straight toward you. Then, at about 60 yards away, just barely out of range, the dove makes a sharp right turn and disappears toward the horizon.

In some respects, dove hunting is a lot like fishing. Sometimes there will be droves of doves flying across the same spot, perhaps 100 yards to your right. So you move down to that spot, figuring to get some good shooting from the hot traffic. But as soon as you get to the new spot, the doves start crossing over the location spot.

However, there are certain tricks a hunter can employ to draw a dove in closer. If you follow these techniques, I guarantee doves will fly over so close that you could knock them down with a good, long two by four.

One way to draw doves in closer is to find a nice shade tree. A big, bushy mesquite works well in this part of the country. You need to settle in next to the trunk. Sit on your bucket or ice chest, lean back against the tree trunk and get real comfortable. This technique works best when you're about half asleep. When you get all relaxed under the cool shade of the mesquite tree, that's when the doves will start zipping past you. Of course, by the time you see him and get your smoothbore shouldered, he'll be halfway to Possum Kingdom Lake.

Another good way to draw doves in closer is to get a snack to eat and something refreshing to drink. Anytime you put down your shotgun and occupy your hands with something else, it's guaranteed to attract doves close to your position. When this happens, you drop your drink in the dir and smear that Snickers candy bar all over your shotgun while the dove continues to sail south.

One of the best ways to draw doves in close is to shoot one of their buddies who crashes in tall weeds. Most hunters hate to lose birds, and they'll search the ground for an hour looking for a bird they've killed. You're tromping around through the sunflowers, cuckleburs and rag weeds, you head down, looking for the dead bird, and dozens of his pals will come loping by just to tease you for revenge.

If all of those techniques fail to draw the birds in closer, there's one more, surefire method of bringing them in. It's never failed me yet. Just answer the call of Mother Nature. Mourning doves can hear the sound of zipper five miles away, and it gives them unparalleled satisfaction to shoosh past a hunter caught with his pants down.

LEWIS SIMMONS
Clay County Leader

In 1909, a new school principal, Leon W. Rogers, came to McGregor High School. He invited boys out to play football and they responded. He raised money from among the town's merchants for suiting the team.

In 1909 a touchdown counted five points, an extra point was one point.

The quarterback on this first team was Bill Schepers, who later became a railroad telegrapher in McGregor and whose wife, Mrs. Ella Schepers, still lives here.

Schepers had a great memory. Talking about the early-day football, I remember hearing him say:

"I can still remember our plays and how I called them. In fact, sitting here in the stands, I still feel like I could play football --- until I stand up."

The directors of the Ranger Loan Fund decided in 1981 to take the interest earned on this fund and give it to current PHS graduates in the form of cash scholarships.

This year the fund distributed $5,750 and since 1981 a total of $28,000 has been given to these young people.

Last year there were 11 PHS graduates who received $6,250 from the Ranger Loan Fund. Two of these young people sent thank-you notes.

Letters to the Editor

Springtown response

Dear Sir,
Please print the attached letter in the next edition of your paper. The letter is in response to a letter published in the Springtown Epigraph. Thank you, Jan Lusk, secretary, Springtown Band Boosters.

Dear Mr. Bowman and Iowa Park Fans:

The Springtown Band Boosters would like to apologize for the treatment while attending the football game in our city.

There are several things over which we have no control. The first thing was our lack of experience in operating a concession stand. The women who have accepted this challenge are not only new at the job but hold full time jobs as well. People were already at the windows when we arrived to prepare for the game.

The concession stand on the visitor's side was ready to be opened for the Iowa Park game. However, we were busy for the time the gates were opened and could never relieve anyone to operate the visitor's stand.

Mr. Bowman, we never expected the large number of Iowa Park fans. The supplies used in the one opened concession stand had been purchased for sale at three games. We were sold out before the end of the game. No amount of coaxing could get our coffee pot to work faster or to keep the coffee hotter.

We have no control over the gates at either end of the north end zone. We have been told that UIL rules require the area to be clear of people during football games. We agree a fence on the other side of the walk would help but only if people do not congregate along the fence.

We are disappointed that a Springtown (person) was sarcastic and rude. Your letter is why the gates are now manned by school officials.

The color of a person's hat or his affiliation to the visiting team has never been a factor over who gets served as people come to the window. But knowing who is next is sometimes obliterated by the crush of people. The people who work our concession stand are friendly people. Those "children and acquaintances" could have just as easily been visitors like yourself.

We may have lost $1,000 but our loss of good will is the greater loss.

Lastly, Mr. Bowman, we know you paid to see 60 minutes of football and we are sorry you did not. Every home game we have parents who paid to get into the game who never see third quarter. They are responsible for serving a well deserved refreshment to the bands who support the football teams and who entertain during halftime. The color of the uniform doesn't have any precedence. As in our concession stand -

~~Thank you for your criticism because it was taken constructively and our performance has improved.~~

The Band Booster Executive Committee

Applauds band's work

To the Editor,

Saturday, October 17, 1987, there were many young folks who spent much time at a chore I am sure they did not enjoy near as much as other activities they could have chosen. I am referring to the school band members who picked up trash from the street rights-of-way about town. They were virtually everywhere. Their efforts were not only reflected through the vastly improved appearance of these rights-of-way, but the numerous bags, bulging with collected debris, which they deposited along the way to be gathered later. The quantity of bags also reflected the magnitude of their undertaking.

Their initiative and success is to be applauded and should serve as a reminder to all who travel the streets how unsightly they soon become when litter, regardless of how small the amount, is disposed of carelessly. With so little effort, trash can be disposed of properly and this clean-up task will not need to be repeated by this, or any other group, in the future in order to again restore the attractive appearance these areas now present because of this group's unselfish act.

Each and every one of those who participated is to be commended for their civic pride, a pride I hope each and every one of us will develop to the point we become continually conscious of the way we dispose of our litter.

Iowa Park can remain litter-free and retain this clean appearance if each of us does our part.

Grades

seven players were lost on the freshman team, three on the junior varsity and one on the varsity.

While the cheerleader squad will stay intact with no failing grades among their members, the pep squad lost nine members.

While the number of students ineligible to participate in extracurricular activities may seem high, there will be duplications, with some students in more than one of the activities.

Davis said, "We have more students that fail that are not involved in anything than those involved in something...that speaks highly of extra curricular activities."

Davis attributes most of the failing grades to a lack of time management, poor study habits and failure to set proper priorities. "School work and school has to be the number one priority," Davis said.

He also noted that not many students needing the help take advantage of the tutorial program, which is of no cost to the student or the parent.

The junior high reported the number of students failing for the football teams, with 10 members of 43 ineligible on the seventh grade squad; and 11 out of 44 on the eighth grade squad.

Look Who's New

A daughter, Alyssa Rae, was born October 3 to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pittman of Conroe. She weighed seven pounds, 14 ounces. The new baby has a brother Justen, two years of age, and her mother is the former Kay Alvey of Burkburnett.

Nation's constitution is subject of program

To mark the bicentennial of the United States Constitution, the 23 Study Club chose "We the People" for the theme of the Americanism program presented Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. China B. Smith, leader, and three other club members, formed a panel to give a most informative program on the forming of the Constitution, which is considered to be the most brilliant document for human government in world history.

Mrs. Smith introduced the panel discussions and stated that many contend that the United States was not born in 1776, but in the late spring of 1787 when delegates from 11 of the original states gathered in Philadelphia, then America's largest city. Some of the men who gathered were George Washington, James Madison, Alexander Hamilton and Benjamin Franklin. They sweated with others through four months of arduous, inspired, sometimes bitter and almost disastrous deliberations to help forge the framework of the nation for the next 200 years.

The panel discussions brought out the need for the United States to have a Constitution despite the glorious strike for freedom in 1776 and the victorious War of Independence. One of the main needs was listed as the inefficiency of the Articles of Confederation governing the land. James Madison, who worked harder than anyone else to bring the states together in the constitutional convention, described the Articles of Confederation as "nothing more than a treaty or amity and alliance between independent and sovereign states."

Mrs. John Mollett described how the dispute over oyster beds between the fishermen in Maryland and Virginia could not be settled by the Articles of Confederation, and this showed to be one of the problems that pointed to the need of a Constitution.

Mrs. Lowell Short discussed the "Secrecy" of the convention, which was first urged by Rufus King of Massachusetts. This was one of the many things that the 55 delegates, with their diverging appetites, ideals, and interests wrangled with for four months.

Miss Frances Park, who has studied and taught the Constitution for many years, discussed the "Destiny." She gave emphasis to the last important points that the convention haggled with, which were reducing the power of the President by enabling Congress to override a veto by its legislation of two-thirds vote, and the inclusion of the Bill of Rights.

"Finally the Constitution was written and Benjamin Franklin looked and smiled as the assembled delegates walked to sign it as it lay on a table in front of George Washington; and the last step to make the Constitution the plan of government for the United States of America required nine of the thirteen states to ratify which was done June 21, 1788," she concluded.

The patriotic music for the program was presented by Mrs. Joe Singer, soloist, and Mrs. John Rentschler, pianist, and featured "Give Me Your Poor" and "God Bless America."

Mrs. Travis Smith and Mrs. D.O. James were hostesses for the meeting at the home of the latter. During the social hour, refreshments were served from a table draped with a cutwork embroidered cloth purchased in the Bahamas and decorated in a Halloween motif.

Mrs. Margaret Carter of Nacogdoches, a former member of the club, was a special guest.

Cook of the Week

A meal planner's creed that must fit Peggy (Mrs. Richard) Luna is this: "My family's enjoyment of food is my responsibility; therefore, I will increase their pleasure by planning for variety, for flavorful dishes, for attractive color, for appetizing combinations."

Her recipes this week suggest that she spares no effort in planning the right kind of food for her family. They also show the importance she places on vegetables for their mineral and vitamin riches, and her respect for mushrooms in the family diet.

Mushrooms have been popular with civilization for many centuries. They were called "food of the gods" by ancient Egyptians who believed they had magic powers because they grew overnight. They were so important to the Romans two thousand years ago that they had a special pot for cooking them. They called the mushrooms "balots" and the cooking vessels were called "boletaria." If 20th century cooks have a special pan for them it is the casserole.

Today, 2,000 species of mushrooms are eaten throughout the world, the kinds varying according to the eating habits, and, of course, the available species of each area.

According to Food by Waverly Root, the ants were the first cultivators of the mushroom and one entomologist paid tribute to their work as cultivators. The first human cultivators of the mushroom were probably the Japanese, who have been raising them for 2,000 years. The ancient Romans and Greeks did not cultivate them but simply encouraged them to grow.

Mrs. Luna, the former Peggy Hall, was graduated from Iowa Park High School. She married soon after graduation and chose being a homemaker for her career. Her husband is a mail carrier in Wichita Falls. Both of them belong to the National Association of Letter Carriers and to the Red River Bluegrass Club with their two sons.

She is a teacher in the beginners' Sunday School at the Pacific Avenue Baptist Church, and is secretary-treasurer of the church auxiliary. She said that her church and family came first with her, but she does like to sew and she enjoys crafts.

She has six children: Mike Price and Ramona Adams of Iowa Park, Randy Price, stationed with the United States Navy in South Carolina, Anita Riley, who lives in Okinawa while her husband is in the Air Force there, Rici Luna and Chuck Luna, both of the home.

Christianity flourishing in South Korea, group told

Mrs. C.L. McKinnon introduced the study of "The Land of the Morning Prayer" by Eric Bridges for the Night BW of First Baptist Church Monday.

The background for the study was South Korea, the country that has made a great come back and is preparing for the 1988 Olympics.

The main emphasis of the study was how Christianity is flourishing in South Korea and the factors responsible for one of the most remarkable movements in history.

Mrs. McKinnon used posters to emphasize the factors which were: revival, the Korean character, no history of religious colonization, prayer, persecution, evangelism and stewardship.

She said that Southern Baptists, who have a major part in evangelizing the country, had 130 spiritual leaders in South Korea last year. She acknowledged that Christianity had many problems but the people and the leaders had a willingness to work to overcome them.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson led the period of prayer for missionaries on the birthday calendar for the day. Mrs. V.I. Woodfin directed the business session, when it was voted to make a monetary contribution to the local food pantry for the outreach project.

Mrs. J.A. Berg and Mrs. Riley Thompson were hostesses for the meeting at the church. Sixteen members were served refreshments at a table centered with a witch stirring her brew and decorated with black cats, ghosts, pumpkins set among colorful fall leaves.

Officer speaks at UMW meeting

The guest speaker for the Tuesday morning meeting of the United Methodist Women was Mrs. Johnnie Harris Schmidt, treasurer of United Methodist Women's Conference.

She gave a program of slides and narration on "Celebrating God's Mission" which happened in Louisville, Ky. at the Global Gathering. More than 4,000 United Methodists from every annual conference in the country and from other nations joined together to worship learn, be challenged and rejoice.

The speaker explained that the gathering was planned and sponsored by the Global Board of Global Ministries to celebrate the divine ways people are called to be partners in God's mission.

Eleven members were present.

POWER OFTEN LIES IN THE HANDS OF AN UNKNOWN FEW.

They hold no public office. Yet, their duty is to serve and protect us all.

They're all part of the team of men and women at your electric company who go to work when the lights go out.

The job of finding and fixing a break in a power line isn't an easy one. It takes people to answer your call. Dispatchers to direct the crews to the problem. And, finally, a select group of Troublemakers and Servicemen who must be able to complete their task even in high winds and thunderstorms. Or, on occasion, when wires are brought down by the weight of ice and snow. It takes people who can get the job done, no matter what the time of day. Or night.

The team responsible for restoring your power is just part of our commitment to service. And that's something you can count on.

MIDGET HAWKS 30 SEYMOUR 0

Cory Thompson, Casey Moser, Ryan Pettitt, Stan Tigrett, Bowie Farr, Jeremy Kingcade and Brent Brown provided a rushing attack that pushed the Hawks' season record to 6-0.

Thompson scored the Hawks' first touchdown from two yards out, and Farr's extra points made it 8-0. Kingcade later scored on a 34-yard run and a 14-0 lead.

In the third quarter, Brown's 39-yard run and Tigrett's extra points lifted the score to 22-0. Iowa Park's final score was a five-yarder by Brown and Tony Lozipone ran for the extra point conversion.

The stingy Hawk defense, led by Blevins, Simpson, Mayo, Hollis, Lucky, Castles and Kingcade, held the Cougars to a minus 42 yards.

The Hawks host Holliday next week.

MIDGET EAGLES 54 QUANAH 0

Holliday's Eagles proved Midget football can be exciting as they rolled up 416 yards total offense in their lopsided win over the Quanah Warriors and won 54-0.

"About the only resistance we had was verbal," said Holliday Coach Gary Gribble.

The Eagles opened scoring on their first play from scrimmage, with a pass from Blake Belcher to Cory McClendon, good for 53 yards. Robert Dean ran for the extra points.

McClendon scored again, early in the second quarter, on a five-yard run, and Belcher passed to McClendon for a 17-yard TD, followed by Byron Gravitt added a two-pointer for a 24-0 halftime lead.

McClendon opened the second half scoring on a four-yard run set up by a 12-yard Belcher to Skylar Kowalick pass. Then, Josh Bobbitt passed to Kowalick for the two-pointer.

Bobbitt scored next, on a three-yard sneak, followed by a McClendon run for a 40-0 score.

Bobbitt threw to Turner for a 44-yard touchdown and McClendon hit Belcher for the two-pointer.

The final score was a one-yard sneak.

Belcher led all runners with 100 yards, and Gavitt had 78, McClendon 23 and Bobbitt 14.

McClendon paced the aerial show with four catches for 87 of Holliday's 201 yards through the airways.

The Eagles had 15 first downs to Quanah's two. Quanah completed two of 15 pass attempts, but Turner was credited with three interceptions, and Cory Hogue, McClendon and Travis Anderson had one each.

Coach Mel Belcher said, about the upcoming game with undefeated Iowa Park, "They've been sending us messages daily. They've begun taunting us, and we'll be ready."

For the third year in a row, an undefeated Eagle team faces an undefeated Hawk team in the final game of the season.

They'll play Saturday night.

Frosh, Jayvee set stage for Varsity's Friday win

Iowa Park's Junior Varsity and Freshmen Thursday set the stage of Friday's whopping 66-0 Varsity win over Bowie, by sweeping their games at the Jackrabbits' own lair.

The Freshmen held 7-6 and 20-13 leads before breaking the game wide open in the fourth period, to win by a 40-13 margin.

The JV, after taking advantage of a Bowie fumbled punt return, scored first and then held a 14-0 lead in the second. They widened the lead to 28-6 in the third quarter, and held on for a 28-14 victory.

Both clubs will host Breckenridge this evening at Hawk Stadium, where the Frosh will kick off at 6 p.m. and the JV following at 7:30.

Zundy sweeps doubleheader

Zundy Junior High swept Iowa Park in two games Monday afternoon.

The schedule was changed Friday. They had been slated Tuesday.

Zundy shut out the Seventh Grade 25-0 and thumped the Eighth Grade 22-6.

Greg Ethridge scored Iowa Park's only touchdown on a three-yard run. Another touchdown, by J. Frank Springer on a pass interception, was nullified by a penalty.

Iowa Park is to travel Tuesday to Jacksboro for a double header, with the first game starting at 5:30 p.m.

Chili, bean supper for football fans Friday

A chili and bean supper will be served as a fund-raiser by the Kiwanis Club of Breckenridge before and after Friday's ball game there.

The Kiwanis will be serving all-you-can-eat, $3 for adults and $2 children, from 5 p.m. to game time, and after the game is concluded, in the high school cafeteria which is next to the stadium.

Hawks 66 - Hares 0

It was a blowout the likes of which Hawk fans haven't seen in 17 years, when Iowa Park blew the Bowie Jackrabbits off the field Friday with a 66-0 Dist. 6-AAA shutout.

Not since 1970, when the Mean Green hosted Bowie and won 70-0, have the Hawks so dominated an opponent.

And it could have been worse, because Coach David Baugh played his reserves throughout the second half.

The win raised the Hawks' season record to 6-1, but more importantly, left them undefeated in conference play.

Tailback Joel Galloway had his biggest night of his career, scoring four touchdowns while racking up 147 yards on only seven carries and another 63 yards on a pass reception. The senior scored on runs of five, 67 and 30 on the third, fifth and sixth times he was handed the ball, and sandwiched in his scoring pass reception between the two long runs.

Fullback Jim Cummings carried only 10 times, but racked up 126 yards and scored on runs of five and four yards.

Those two didn't do all the scoring in the first half, however. Sophomore Marc Cruz returned a Rabbit punt 68 yards at the end of the first period.

Cruz, who was elevated from the junior varsity only recently, also scored on a 17-yard run in the third quarter.

Another sophomore who also was brought up from the junior varsity, Jimmy Nicholson, scored the final touchdown with 54 seconds remaining in the game, on an eight-yard plunge.

The remaining points were credited to the talented toe of kicker Toby Brown, who had a perfect night. He not only split the uprights after each touchdown for extra points, but booted a 25-yard field goal in the fourth period.

The Hawks scored every time they got their hands on the ball during the first half. Billy Kenyon was called on only once to punt the ball away, and that was in the third quarter of the game.

But Galloway and Cummings weren't the only backs who gained yardage that night. Cruz was called on nine times and picked up 67 yards. Nicholson, Raul Swanson and Gary Tatum each carried five times and gained 32, 26 and 25 yards, respectively. And Kenyon ran twice for 17.

Tatum intercepted a Jackrabbit pass on the Bowie 43 and returned it to the 12 yard line, setting up Galloway's first touchdown.

The Rabbits also suffered another turnover, a fumble, that was covered by Gregg Young.

Big defensive plays were credited to Jimmy Kirkhart, who made three tackles behind the line of scrimmage, Tommy Fowler, Mike Lubinski, Tony Taylor and Brown.

Coach Baugh was also pleased with his team's punt returning of the evening. The Hawk backs were credited with 152 yards on the six punts they returned.

About that 49-point first half production, Bowie News editor Lance Winter wrote in his Sunday edition, "The only thing that could be worse than the first quarter (21-0) was the second quarter."

Reserve quarterback Jimmy Duggins completed four of nine pass attempts for 101 yards. Kenyon caught a pair and Tim Martin the other.

It was also a big game for the Mean Green defensive platoon, which allowed the visitors only 87 net yards rushing and 73 passing, 50 of those coming on one completion.
