Landfill dispute Owner files to evict city; city responds with offer

The ongoing rift between a property owner and the city, concerning the sanitary landfill, appears to be nearing a climax.

During the past week, the city has made an offer to purchase part of the land, and Mrs. Mabel Karstetter, the owner, has filed a petition seeking to evict the city.

Following a decision by the city council to have the property southwest of the city appraised and then to make an offer to purchase the tract, Mrs. Karstetter's lawyer filed a petition Nov. 23 in Justice of the Peace Arthur Bea Williams' court in Wichita Falls for "forcible detainer action."

Judge Williams set a hearing on the petition for 3 p.m. today in her court, but little is expected to come out of that hearing, it now appears.

Iowa Park's attorney, Jay Cantrell, has filed in the same court a motion to dismiss the petition. It is Cantrell's contention that the filing was made in an inappropriate court.

Cantrell's contention is that such a petition should have been filed in the court of the Justice where the land is located, which would be in the court of Justice of the Peace Virgil Hill, here in Iowa Park.

A hearing will be held at the appointed time today to consider Cantrell's motion.

If the original motion is dismissed, it will have to be refiled in Hill's court. If it is not dismissed, today's original hearing will be rescheduled.

The petition, filed by Chuck Rowland, associate in the law firm of former Iowa Park resident Bruce A. Martin, "requests the justice court to issue a writ of possession, which authorizes the sheriff to forcibly evict the tenants - the city - from her property."

Mrs. Karstetter has sought for several months to get the city off her property, alleging the city has violated its contract to use her land as well as state regulations for the operation of a landfill, and also that the city had caused the death of some of her cattle and stole some 500 truckloads of topsoil.

In the meantime, the city has made an offer to purchase a 53.07 acre tract of the Karstetter land, where it now operates the landfill.

An offer was sent by Cantrell Monday by certified mail to Mrs. Karstetter, as well as Bobby N. Knecht of Iowa Park and Karla J. Panter of Wichita Falls.

Cantrell contends the city does not intend to vacate the land, and in the event a purchase settlement can not be reached, condemnation proceedings will be initiated.

The letter states:

"As you know, we represent the City of Iowa Park, Texas (the 'City'). We have been authorized to tender you an offer on behalf of the City to purchase 53.07 acres of land, more or less, (the 'Lands') out of Block 24, Tarrant County School Lands, Abstract No. 282, Wichita County, Texas. The Lands are more particularly described by the field notes attached to this letter. The City of Iowa Park is willing to pay $576.50 per acre for a fee simple title to the Lands for a total price of $30,594.86. This amount will be net to you, as owners, with the City paying for any title assurance, surveys or other costs in connection with the purchase. This offering price is based upon the valuation of the Lands for ad valorem tax purposes.

"The City is currently using the Lands for a sanitary landfill for its citizens. The City intends to use the Lands for this same purpose upon acquiring title thereto.

"In the event: (i) you wish to accept the City's offer, (ii) you wish to discuss the offer, or some portion of the offer, or (iii) you wish to have additional time in which to consider the offer, please contact our office on or before noon on Friday, December 4, 1987. If we do not hear from you by that time we will assume the City's offer has been rejected, in which case the City will petition a court of appropriate jurisdiction in Wichita County, Texas for appointment of appraisers and proceed with condemnation of the Lands."

City Administrator James Barrington explains that the city has too much at stake to vacate the property at this time.

The recent investment of a new pit, which cost $68,000, is more than matched by costs of coring the soil as required by the Texas Health Department.

To move to another location is also expensive and time consuming, he said. Once a suitable location is found, the state requires a $12,000 filing fee, plus an additional $5,000 over the following two years, and that does not include an annual $1,000 fee charged for inspection of the site.

An alternative to maintaining the city's landfill would be to contract with a private commercial firm or with another municipality, it has been pointed out in council discussions.

The 53-acre tract of land should satisfy the needs of the city some 20 years, Mayor Tim Hunter said. And if the council should decide to build an incinerator, which it has been studying this year, the tract's useful lifetime would be extended five-fold.

SANTA CLAUS and the Hawk mascot were the featured guests Monday night at the program held downtown to turn on lights in the Christmas decorations. More than 100 children were on hand to place their orders, and also receive some candy from the North Pole resident.

Pancake feed set Saturday

The Iowa Park Future Farmers of America Booster Club will host an all-you-can-eat pancake feed from 6:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at Kidwell Elementary School.

The meal will consist of pancakes, sausage, bacon, coffee, orange juice and milk.

Tickets, available in advance at Scobee's Mini Mart or from a booster club member, will be $3 for adults and $2 for children five years old and under. Adult admission at the door will be $4.

Booster members will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the vo-ag building to make final preparations for the feed.

Ordinance would charge penalty for late-payers

Besides an executive session to discuss the city's landfill problems with the property owner, the Monday council meeting will also include a proposal to penalize residents who don't pay their utility bills promptly.

Aldermen will meet behind closed doors with the city's attorney concerning court action to evict the city from land leased from Mrs. Mabel Karstetter, and the city's offer to either purchase the land or initiate action to take the land by eminent domain.

Council members heard a report from Administrator James Barrington at last week's meeting in which costs the city incurs trying to collect bills from a certain group of residents should be borne by those who cause the problem.

Barrington said a small portion of residents create a cost that must be shared by everyone, unless a penalty is adopted by ordinance which would absorb those expenses.

He was instructed to draft an ordinance for consideration at Monday's meeting.

Also to be considered will be a proposal to authorize purchase of radio pagers for volunteer firemen, and a request to renew a grass lease at Lake Buffalo with Charlie Helms.

One more public hearing has been scheduled on an application for a community development grant from the Texas Community Development Program.

Barrington said last week the second hearing was adequate, but has since learned a third is required.

The money from the grant, if it is approved, would be used to correct water tower elevation problems in the city which, since the Johnson Road tower was constructed, renders the original two towers virtually useless.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Three persons arrested

Three persons were arrested during the past week on outstanding warrants from outside the city, and a car registered to an Iowa Parkan was found burned.

All three of those arrested on outstanding warrants were taken into custody Monday, and two of them had the same last name.

Deborah Elaine Sargent, 22, was taken into custody after it was determined warrants from the Wichita Falls Police Department were outstanding for speeding, no motor vehicle liability insurance and a warrant fee.

She was released after posting a $269 bond.

Four hours later, Lester Thomas Sargent, 23, was taken into custody after police learned warrants from Wichita Falls Police Department and Wichita County Sheriff's Office were outstanding.

The warrants were for running a red light, a warrant fee, and a $750 bond forfeiture.

Sargent was released to a Wichita Falls city marshal to be transported back to that city.

Monday morning, Gary Ruff Steger, 40, was arrested because of outstanding warrants from the Department of Public Safety in Archer City for speeding and failure to appear. He was released after posting a bond of $89.

At 3:20 a.m. Sunday, according to the police blotter, Wichita County Sheriff's Office called to ask about a vehicle found burning in a rural area that, according to its registration number, was owned by a Deanna Hagemann of 1207 N. Pacific.

The owner was contacted and officers were told the vehicle was left the previous evening at Stetson's in Wichita Falls.

Don Milligan reported Sunday a theft from Mini-Con Storage Unit 70.

News Briefs Christmas tour of homes scheduled

A Christmas tour of homes is being planned by the Iowa Park Recreational Activity Club.

The tour will be from 10 a.m. until 12-noon and 1:30 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 12.

Tickets are available at the RAC or from any of its board members.

.14 precipitation measured here

Iowa Park received .14 of an inch precipitation, with a small amount of hail, Tuesday, according to a measurement reported by Virgil Woodfin.

School board meeting changed

The regular meeting of the Iowa Park school board has been changed from Tuesday until Dec. 15, Supt. Glen Mitchell announced this week.

Supt. Mitchell explained that some trustees would not be able to attend the meeting on its regular second-Tuesday date.

Santa letters to be published

It's time for those Letters to Santa. They'll be printed in Iowa Park Leader issues before and including Dec. 24, but must be received no later than Dec. 22.

Letters addressed to Santa Claus can be mailed at the Iowa Park Post Office, and after they're printed, they'll be sent on to Santa.

163 families need help

Needy families in the Iowa Park area will enjoy a happier Christmas with the help of youth groups from 10 Iowa Park churches.

The Iowa Park Ministerial Alliance's annual Christmas food drive will be from 9 a.m. to 12-noon Dec. 12 with members of the youth groups to go door to door collecting canned food and/or money to assist the 163 area families that have requested help for Christmas dinner.

The Ministerial Alliance also reported that good toys are needed for over 100 children who reside in the Iowa Park School District.

Two recepticals will be located at city hall through Dec. 18 in which toys can be deposited.

Churches participating in the toy and food drive are Assembly of God, Christ the King Catholic Church, Church of God, Cornerstone Pentecostal Church of God, Faith Baptist Church, First Baptist Church, First Christian Church, First Presbyterian Church, First United Methodist Church and Lakeview Church of God.

MR. AND MRS. LESTER STEVENS

Couple to observe golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stevens will be honored at a reception to commemorate their 50th wedding anniversary.

The reception will be hosted by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Stevens and family in the Fellowship Hall of Kamay Baptist Church from 2 to 4 p.m. Another son, Michael Stevens and his family of Hollywood, Calif., will be unable to attend the reception but plan to spend the Christmas holiday with the honored couple.

Lester Stevens and Eba Lee Koonce were married Dec. 8, 1937, in Altus, Okla. They lived in Iowa Park 10 years, then moved to Kamay in October 1947 where they lived 40 years. They have recently retired in Wichita Falls. He worked for Kadane Oil Company 35 years, retiring in 1980, and she owned and operated the Kamay Beauty Shop 35 years and retired in 1987. They are active members of the Kamay Baptist Church.

In addition to their two sons, the couple have five grandchildren.

Mrs. Sibley PTA speaker

Mrs. Florence Sibley was guest speaker for the Bradford PTA meeting Tuesday night. In keeping with the Christmas theme, she spoke on "Six Priceless Gifts We Can Give Our Children."

The colors were presented by Sweetheart Bluebirds led by Debbie Williamson, and Rev. Jerry Miller, pastor of Faith Baptist Church gave the devotion. The musical program "A Christmas Carol" was presented by the fifth grade classes under the direction of Mrs. Karen Lamberth.

Darlene Barrington, president, was in charge of business when plans were finalized for Christmas activities. A meeting was also scheduled to begin planning for the District 13 spring convention which will be hosted in Iowa Park by Bradford and Kidwell PTAs.

Backdoor Theater's history reported

Mrs. Delbert Todd gave the history of the Backdoor Theater Tuesday evening for Epsilon Eta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha in a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Marvin Robertson. She was introduced by Mrs. Bud Mercer and Mrs. Leslie Clapp.

Mrs. Todd said that the first home of the theater was in the basement of the old Weeks mansion and got its name from the entrance being at the back door. She said before it got to its present location on Indiana Street in a house given by Earl White along with a generous monetary gift, it had been located in an old building on Monroe Street, a building on Travis Street that is now a church building, and in an old ice house.

Mrs. Todd, a member and performer of the Backdoor Theater, said that she had been interested in plays since she was very young and always wanted to perform in them. She made all of the costumes for the Kismet and Greater Tuna productions.

She said that the theater is a non-profit organization and is governed by a 12-member board.

During the business conducted by Mrs. Howard McDowell, the members were given information about the chapter's part in a project for the state disaster fund. Connie Hrcirik reported that two members of the chapter had part in a video at the recent state board meeting where ESA members formed the word "Texas." The video will be given to the state president.

Mrs. Robertson made assignments for work hours at King's Food Dec. 12 during the taking of Santa Claus pictures and said the money received would be given to the Rehab Center. Mrs. Hrcirik said that the chapter will sponsor a visit from Santa Claus at the center Dec. 13 and that pictures of about 50 children will be taken at that time.

In other business, it was voted to give $50 to the Mental Health Mental Retardation center and $50 to the Maternity Cottage. Plans were also discussed for the Christmas party Dec. 15 at Mrs. Hrcirik's home.

Judy Drew was a special guest at the meeting.

UMW elects new officers

Mrs. Don Owens, outgoing president of the United Methodist Women, conducted a business meeting and installed officers for 1988 during a meeting held Tuesday morning in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Nineteen members attended.

The officers installed included: Mmes. Dan Davis, president; Gene Owens and C.L. Thompson, vice presidents; China B. Smith, secretary; Bernice Compton, treasurer; John Mollett, coordinator of Christian personhood; Allan Bennett, supportive community; and S.B. Keeter, Christian global concerns.

Others installed were: Mmes. Gerry Thurlo, Christian social involvement; Travis Smith, secretary of program; Compton, chairperson of nominations; Hazel Trammell, chairperson on membership; Eldon Thompson, leader of Jessie Mae Owens circle, and R.E. Waters, leader of Bertha McDonald circle.

Mrs. Owens presented each one she installed with a hyacinth bulb and these were planted in a front flower bed following the service.

During the business session the budget for 1988 was adopted following a complete treasurer's report by Mrs. Vernon Gilbert. It was voted to send additional money to the district treasurer. Cakes were requested for the Wichita Falls State Hospital and for the bake sale to be held along with the pick-up items ordered at the Alternative Gift Fair between 2 and 4 Sunday.

Members were asked to help with an open house at the parsonage Dec. 13 from 3 to 5 p.m.

Announcement was made that a covered dish meal and play entitled "Christmas Memories" will be held Sunday night in the Fellowship Hall. The cast for the play includes Robin and Connie Robinson.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

Well, if you're like me, you'll be finishing off the last of last Thursday's Thanksgiving turkey tonight: turkey ala king, I think they call it.

I hope your holiday was as nice and enjoyable as our's.

With the exception of Kay, our daughter who's completing her boot camp training in the Navy this week in Florida, we had the whole family at home.

I recognize more every day how difficult it is for many families to do this, and sympathize with those who can't. In time, we will likely be so spread out that our gatherings will be less and less frequent.

Of course, I've got the attraction that helps bring our's together, so far.

Besides Dolores' cooking, I have the kids bring the grandchildren in on Thanksgiving, to take their picture

Nothing gets a mother's attention quicker than having her child's picture taken...especially if will be published for all the world to see.

We had so much fun, visiting and eating, that we really didn't have an official recognition of how fortunate we all are. We didn't discuss it.

But in the days following, more and more stories were reported about the plight of others who are less fortunate. And they made me realize what we had forgotten to discuss while we together.

For instance, over at Ardmore, Okla., the other day a company put out the word that it was going to hire 200 new employees. About 2,000 were on hand to fill out applications.

Some young men were interviewed, concerning their thoughts of being hired. These were obviously clean-cut, educated men, and their responses included being married, having children, no encouragement of being hired at this time of year, and facing the possibilities of losing what little they still had.

This made me realize that, if we have gainful employment, and are able to make our payments, how fortunate we are.

We often take such things for granted: here I am world, I'm good and a hard worker, and I plan to raise my family, pay for my home, and retire.

It doesn't always work out that way.

Next Thanksgiving, I don't think I'll wait until after the event to count my blessings. I'm going to do it when our family is together. That's the appropriate time.

Worth Quoting

The customers always write, or call, and sometimes I just talk to myself...

Citizen Margie Williams sounds like a sensible lady. And she says she does not think of herself as overly sensitive.

"But I feel insulted when a newscaster on TV says TGIF. Like they sure don't want to be talking to me tomorrow."

She also says she enjoys reminders of Oklahoma's smalltown, Main Street life, and asks, "Are there any that still have iron rings in the cement curbs to hitch your horse to? I am curious about this because they are still in a little town 15 miles west of Wichita Falls, Texas. It is Iowa Park, Texas. I hope they leave them there."

"The horse may come back."

True. When horses come back here they will have to be hooked to the parking meters. And when the meter expires, where do they put the ticket?

FRANK BOGGS
Daily Oklahoman
Aug. 22, 1987

I'll admit that I almost conceded the game during halftime at Weatherford last Friday night.

As you will vividly remember, the score was 0-17, and our Bulldogs had been generous to a fault during those first 24 minutes. They moved the ball, but they had seen their drives stopped with penalties, a fumble and an interception that was returned 89 yards for a TD. Iowa Park's tough-running fullback even slipped through the center of the Bulldog line for a 38-yard scoring run.

At halftime I walked over to visit with Bob Hamilton, publisher of Iowa Park Leader. He and I over the years have had some interesting contests on golf courses at newspaper conventions, but this was the first time our favorite football teams have met.

I remember commenting that we were making too many mistakes to make a game of it. After talking shop for a few minutes, I left him with the comment, "Unless we make a spectacular comeback in the second half, I wish you luck."

And you know what happened in the second half. I still don't know what the coaches said to their players, but it was a different ball game. The Bulldogs did play up to their capabilities. And the result was spectacular!

All of us can have empathy for the Iowa Park fans who no doubt were already looking forward to next week. We've had that happen to us, and understand the dull, empty feeling left for the trip home -- and later.

The last time was a couple of years ago when Pilot Point came back in the second half to erase a two TD margin. On the last play of the game the PP kicker barely got a wounded-duck field goal through the uprights to win by a single point.

McGregor fans will be returning to Angelo State Stadium this Saturday night with similar memories. In 1982, the Bulldogs had marched through the best that northeast Texas had to offer, including Daingerfield, and were taking on Littlefield in the semi-finals of Class AAA.

Deep in the fourth quarter on a cold, muddy night, the Bulldogs were leading 22-18. As time was running out, Littlefield seemed to be stopped. Then, the quarterback lofted a long pass that seemed uncatchable in the end zone. A Bulldog defender bumped a Littlefield player, and the flag for interference went down.

Littlefield got the ball on the one yard line, and seconds later the game ended with the Texas team on the big end of a 24-22 margin. The next week Refugio edged Littlefield by one point. That's how close the Bulldogs came in 1982.

This is the third week of playoffs, with the regional title on the line. The first week there were 64 teams, next it was 32 and this week 16 are in the elimination struggle. Competition is so fierce and preparation so intense that teams don't have time to look forward. At least, they had better not.

TOM MOONEY
McGregor Mirror

(Editor's note: McGregor beat Kermit 30-6, and will have a rematch with Waco LaVega, the team the Bulldogs fought to a 14-14 tie to share the Dist. 7-AAA title with, Friday in Baylor Stadium for the quarterfinals.)

Do you think you have had a bad day? Every now and then I have a "bad day," everyone does. Things just don't go right. The only suspense is waiting to see what will happen next.

I thought some of my "bad days" would stack up against the best, but last week I talked to a friend of mine who owns a well servicing business near Midland. He will remain anonymous for obvious reasons, no insurance agent in the state would handle his business after the story of "Black Monday" was told.

It all started normally. The oilman arrived at his usual hour, 7 a.m., to begin a new work week. As he pulled into the parking lot of his office building, he noticed his four-wheel-drive truck parked in the lot.

This aroused his suspicions. The truck's normal resting place was at the oilman's New Mexico cabin. Quickly refreshing his memory, he recalled that he had given one of his hands permission to use the cabin for his honeymoon over the weekend.

Calling the hand into the office, he asked him what the truck was doing in the parking lot. The man told him that his car had broken down and he borrowed the truck to get back from the mountains in time for work.

The oilman said that was fine and went to the truck to move it inside. Crawling into the cab he noticed that the four-wheel-drive shift lever was in the four-wheel-drive position.

A quick check confirmed his fears. The hand had driven his two-year-old truck all the way from the mountains to Midland in four-wheel drive. The transmission was locked up tight and the truck would not move.

After a hasty consultation with the hand and issuance of a final check, the oilman called the local dealership to come tow the truck in and fix the transmission.

As he made the call the oilman looked out his office window and attempted to lower his blood pressure by studying at the tranquil view of the golf course that adjoins his office complex.

As he counted to 10 and regulated his breathing, he noticed a golf course maintenance cart loaded with practice golf balls rounding the curve in front of his building. Trying to make the curve a little too fast, the cart went up on two wheels and flipped on its side, dumping its load of golf balls into the parking lot.

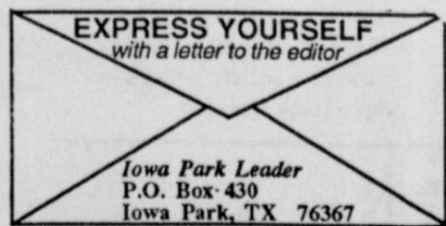

Staring in disbelief, the oilman watched helplessly as over 1,000 golf balls bounced toward his office window. According to his description, the aftermath of the Beirut bombing was mild in comparison, compared to the damage to his office. Broken windows, glass everywhere and golf balls scattered all over the floor was a brief description.

After calling his insurance company, the oilman dusted off his chair and sat down to smoke a cigarette and relax. Leaning back in his chair, he pulled his lighter out of his pocket and spun the ignition wheel.

Kaboom! The lighter exploded and the metal top rocketed through the office ceiling.

Sitting in shattered office with ceiling dust dropping on his head, frantically trying to put out the flaming remains of his lighter, the oilman found a new definition of the term "Black Monday."

How was your day?

AREA OIL & GAS NEWS

Tri Core Oil & Gas of Irving has revealed plans to drill two 2,000-ft. developmental wells in the Wichita Regular Field. The operator has 79 acres leased, with drillsites in the Specht Colony Land S/D Survey, Blk. 19. The wells have been designated as the No. 4 Dickinson "JM" and the No. 82 Dickinson. Drillsites are three miles north-northeast of Clara.

The No. 4 well will be located 2,900 feet from the south line and 990 feet from the east line of the lease, while the No. 82 well will be drilled 2,900 feet from the south line and 1,890 feet from the east line of the lease.

The No. 54 Burnett "D," a 2,000-ft. developmental well, is scheduled to be drilled in the Wichita Regular Field. Tom Swanson of Electra is the operator. The well will be spudded in a 140-acre lease two miles south of Fowlkes in the SA&MG Survey, A-271.

The well will be situated 3,105 feet from the south line and 450 feet from the west line of the lease.

Two 1,999-ft. developmental wells are planned by J.C. Wells of Burkburnett at drillsites one mile south of Clara. The locations are in a 66-acre lease in the HT&B Survey, A-474. Wells' designations are the Nos. 12-W and 13-W Ella Shulz. They will be drilled in the Wichita Regular Field.

Drillsite for the 12-W well is 150 feet from the north line and 2,275 feet from the east line of the lease. The No. 13-W is to be located 150 feet from the north line and 2,755 feet from the east line of the lease.

Havins Energy of Burkburnett has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 C. Birk, a 1,850-ft. developmental well in the Wichita Regular Field. Location is in a 79-acre lease in the BS&F Survey, A-334, two miles northwest of Clara.

The well will be located 850 feet from the north line and 150 feet east of the southeast corner of the lease.

The Wichita Regular Field gained two producers when KWH Oil of Dallas completed the Nos. 17-B and 19-B W.F. Ramming "B" two miles southeast of Clara.

The wells indicated ability to pump oil at the combined rate of three barrels per day, plus a combined 69 barrels of water. Total drilling depths were 1,748 and 1,729 feet, respectively. The wells will produce from perforations in the Gunsight Formation, ranging from 1,555 to 1,620 feet into the wellbore.

The operations are in a 123-acre lease in the HT&B Survey, A-476.

The No. 17-B well is located 1,900 feet from the north line and 500 feet from the west line of the lease, while the No. 19-B is located 1,821 feet from the south line and 2,100 feet from the west line of the lease.

Mack Knight of Wichita Falls issued plug-and-abandon orders for the No. 68 Kempner "R," a developmental well in the Wichita Regular Field. It was located 2.5 miles east of Kamay in a 108-acre lease in the KWVFL Survey, Blk. 45. It was spudded Oct. 12, and bottomed dry at 1,207 feet.

The well was located 825 feet from the south line and 1,980 feet from the west line of the lease.
