Cloud watchers work Tuesday

Weather watchers were called to action for the first time this season Tuesday, when threatening clouds moved over the area.

A brief but heavy shower was accompanied by small hail and hard winds, but no damage was reported.

Iowa Park received .62 of an inch precipitation from the first wave of rainfall that afternoon and an additional .36 during the early morning hours Wednesday, for a total of .98.

The measurement was reported by Virgil Woodfin, who said his gauge caught 2.38 last week, bringing the five-day total to 3.36 inches.

For the first 14 days of March, Woodfin has measured 4.04 inches.

Recent rainfall has contributed to a significant rise in the water levels of Lake Buffalo and Lake Iowa Park.

The city's water department keeps record of lake levels, and from Feb. 20 to Tuesday, Lake Iowa Park has risen six feet, to overflowing, and Lake Buffalo has risen five and a half feet.

Buffalo is still well below the overflow spout, however.

The city takes almost all the raw water it processes from Lake Buffalo.

City will ask Corps for floodway study

Iowa Park will ask the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to conduct a "feasibility study" in the northeast part of town in an effort to provide relief to residents of that area.

The decision was reached Monday night at the city council meeting, after hearing from a number of residents living in that area.

Once completed, the study is intended to provide a guideline on work which will relieve present and potential flooding in the low lying areas in that part of the city.

After being designated as a floodway and floodplain by the Corps, the city was provided by the government an ordinance for adoption.

The ordinance, which has been the source of problem for residents in the designated area, prohibits any improvements to homes and land which can cause flooding problems to their neighbors, unless a prohibitively-expensive engineering study is first completed and approved.

However, without the adoption of the ordinance, homeowners living outside the floodplain would not be eligible for flood insurance.

The council several years ago adopted the ordinance.

Mayor Tim Hunter explained the public hearing to receive input from residents in the affected area was necessary before the city could make its appeal for the Corps' study.

While some residents of the area said they felt the cleaning out of the shallow creek area, and under the bridge on Victoria, might be sufficient, all appeared to agree that the study should be made.

Responding to a timetable in which the study might be completed, Mayor Hunter said, "It could be 18 months, but likely nothing (corrective work) would be done in four years."

In requesting the study, the city is committed to paying 50 percent of the study's cost.

However, the work which could follow the study could be cost-prohibitive, the landowners were told. The total cost of the project could possibly cost as much as $5-million.

The council voted to authorize Administrator James Barrington to advertise for a number of bids, including materials for a boat ramp project at Lake Buffalo, materials for a water line extension on East Cash, bids to construct a new Recreational Activities Center, and laying of a sewer line from US 287 to Lake Iowa Park.

Also authorized was a proposal to request a parks improvement grant and a proposal to hold an auction to sell surplus city-owned items.

The Lake Buffalo project will be partially funded by a state grant. It is to include improvement of a boat ramp on the west side of the lake, a vehicle parking area, and improvements to the road from Burnett Road.

The city's water line on West

Cash from Bond to Bell is not adequate for firefighting, according to state inspectors. Barrington explained the cost of the line will easily be saved by homeowners in a short period of time, as it will affect the cost of insurance throughout the city.

As a result of several months of study, the council decided to advertise for bids to build a new RAC on the city-owned land between Third and Fourth streets, known as "Block 31."

The decision was reached after it was pointed out the cost of bringing the old RAC structure up to city code would be approximately $30,000. The projected cost of a partially completed, but usable, structure would be $100,000.

When asked which parks the council wanted included in the grant application, the mayor stated flatly he wanted the George Hammond Park area at Lake Iowa Park as the sole project. The council agreed.

The park is an area adjoining the recently-paved parking and boat ramp on the east end of the dam. While it will not be developed with landscaping, playground equipment and a pavillion are the major improvements.

CITY, SCHOOL ELECTIONS

Filing deadline is Wednesday

No new hats were tossed into the local political ring during the past week, as the March 21 deadline for filing approaches.

Thus far, two of the three city council positions are contested, but as of Wednesday, one of the two seats on the school board was still without a candidate.

Incumbent Mayor Tim Hunter is being challenged by Wayne House, while Incumbent Alderman Bud Mercer has drawn a challenge from Charlie Helms for Place 2 on the council.

Place 4, currently held by Bud Burch, has attracted only one candidate to date. Burch has said he will not seek re-election, and Ira Hambricht is hoping to replace him.

Keith Fisher is the only candidate yet to file for a position on the school board of trustees.

Fisher is completing the unexpired term of Gary Fielding, who resigned last year, and now seeks a full term on the board.

However, Don Decker, whose term expires this spring, has not indicated whether he will run again.

Candidate applications are available at city hall and school administration building, for the respective races.

The election will be held May 5.

WET WELCOME HOME - Iowa Park's new pumper truck arrived in town during a light rain Saturday morning, driven by Chief Danny Skinner and Mark Wicks from a factory in Florida. Most of the members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department were on hand for the arrival. Cost of the new unit is $137,000.

News Briefs

Pre-registration of children set

To aid in planning the total school program for the 1990-91 year, Kidwell Elementary is pre-registering children who will be three to five years of age on or before Sept. 1.

Children who are five by that date are eligible to attend Kindergarten this fall.

Commodity distribution slated

U.S.D.A. food commodities will be distributed from 12-noon until 6 p.m. Thursday, Mar. 22, at the First Christian Church.

Distribution this month will include butter, peanut butter, vegetarian beans, canned pork and green beans, according to Marian Andersen.

Circus coming here March 29

Tickets are now on sale for the King Royal Circus, to be held here Mar. 29 under the sponsorship of the Iowa Park Lions Club.

The tickets, $5 for adults and $3 for children 11 and younger, are on sale at Settle Drug, Parkway and Iowa Park Leader, as well as at the Finishing Touch and Ace Sewing Center in Wichita Falls.

The tickets will be for admission to either the 4 or 7 p.m. performances, where the audience will be entertained by elephants, lions and daring acts.

This is the same circus which performed here some eight years ago.

City has supply of dog tags

Dog owners can purchase tags for their animals at city hall which will implement their return in case they get out of yards and are picked up by the city animal control officer.

Owners can voluntarily purchase a tag for $2 each, on a one-time basis, at the public works department, according to Mike Price.

Downes-Parker nuptials exchanged Saturday evening in Waco

Miss Cathy Denise Downes and Cecil Philip Parker IV married Saturday evening at Park Lake Drive Baptist Church in Waco in a double-ring candlelight ceremony. Rev. David Shutlesworth, pastor, and Rev. Gregory Brumit, pastor of Kendrick Lane Baptist Church of Waco, officiated.

Miss Downes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Downes of Kamay, and Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil David Parker III.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was radiant in a formal gown of white bridal satin featuring a fitted bodice embellished with hand-embroidered appliques and beaded with pearls and crystal sequins. The sweetheart neckline was scalloped and the long sleeves of the gown were puffed at the top and accented with appliques down the length of the sleeves.

The fitted waist went to a V in the front and featured a candy box bow at the back. The full skirt, featuring applique insets and a scalloped hemline, went to a chapel length train. She wore a chapel-length veil detailed with a scalloped edging, secured by a wreath of white flowers and sprays of pearls.

A colonial bouquet formed of white roses, tiger lilies, carnations and stephanotis, accented with iridescents and sprays of pearls added the finishing touch to her attire.

In keeping with bridal tradition, the bride wore a pearl choker belonging to Mrs. Cecil Parker Jr., for "something old" and "something borrowed," her wedding gown for "something new," and the

Mrs. Cecil Philip Parker IV

"something blue" garter. She also wore a lucky penny in her shoe, given her by her father.

The groom was attired in a charcoal gray tuxedo with a tailed coat, white pleated shirt, and tea rose cummerbund and bow tie, complimented with a white rose boutonniere accented with pearl loops.

Kimberly Rice and Randal Bostick, both of Waco, were honor attendants.

Miss Rice wore a royal blue crepe back satin floor-length gown featuring a sweetheart neckline, and dropped waist, centered with a candy box bow at the back. Tiers of ruffles extended down the back of the skirt. She complimented her gown with a hairpiece made of dusty rose sweetheart roses, white roses, pearl loops and sprays and royal blue ribbon loops.

She carried a nosegay bouquet of dusty rose sweetheart roses, white tiger lilies, royal blue forget-me-nots and dusty rose and white ribbon loops and streamers.

Bostick wore a charcoal grey tuxedo with a regular coat, white pleated shirt and tea rose cummerbund and bow tie, complimented with a boutonniere of dusty rose sweetheart roses and royal blue forget-me-nots.

Bridemaids were Sarah Meredith of Buffalo, N.Y., Tracy Harris of Waco and Renea Edwards of Kamay.

Each of the attendants were dressed identically to the maid of honor and carried identical bouquets.

Daryl Downes of Kamay, brother of the bride, and Jeffrey Parker and Craig Parker, both of Waco and brothers of the groom, were groomsmen, and wore tuxedos identical to that of the best man.

James Burroughs, James Lowe, Tim Hutson and David Netherland, all of Waco, and Stacy Ward of Kamay, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

Misses Velvet Ann Middleton and Tara Parker of Waco, cousins of the groom, were flower girls. Each of the girls wore tea-length versions of the bridesmaids dresses, tied with sashes at the waist, and featuring bows at the shoulders. Each wore a hair piece of small roses and ribbons. They carried baskets decorated with rose, blue and white flowers and ribbons, filled with rose petals.

Ian Bradford of Vernon, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. He wore a charcoal gray tuxedo styled similar to the groomsmen, and carried a pillow that had been used in the weddings of the groom's parents and grandparents.

The couple exchanged nuptial vows before an altar centered with a 15-branch candelabra, intertwined with greenery and accented with a rose-colored satin bow, holding burning votive candles. The couple's unity candle, featuring a carved pillar candle in the center flanked by white tapers, stood in front of the candelabra.

Spiral candelabras with burning votives stood to either side of the altar, and greenery interspersed with rose-colored bows completed the altar setting. Royal blue bows marked seating for family members.

Carl Shamburger, organist, provided prelude music for the ceremony, and accompanied Dot McGraw who sang "Only God Could Love You More," before the bride entered the sanctuary.

Bill McGraw offered "There is Love" during the ceremony, and the vocalists presented a duet, "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow," just prior to the close of the ceremony. The bridal party entered to the "Bridal Chorus," and the "Wedding March" was played for the recessional.

Mrs. Downes chose a dusty rose jacquard tea-length dress styled with a blouson bodice with front tucks, a cummerbund and a flared skirt, complimented with beige suede pumps.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Parker wore a royal blue jacquard two-piece suit with a jeweled neckline and flared skirt.

Mothers and grandmothers of the couple complimented their attire with corsages formed of white satin roses and dusty rose sweetheart roses accented with pearl loops and sprays on a white lace fan.

Fathers of the couple wore charcoal gray tuxedos with regular coats, white pleated shirts and tea rose cummerbund and bow ties, complimented with boutonnieres of white roses and blue forget-me-nots.

A reception, hosted by the bride's parents, was held following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride's table, covered in white linen and lace, held the bridal cake, punch bowl, mints, nuts and the bridal bouquet.

The bridal cake was an elegant creation based on four heart-shaped satellite cakes extending up to three raised tiers, each separated with Grecian posts. Tiny blue flowers intertwined the posts, and rose-colored roses decorated each of the white-iced tiers.

A miniature bride and groom standing inside a gazebo decorated with rose-colored tulle at the bottom and iridescents and touches of blue forget-me-nots over the top added the perfect touch to finish the confection.

Presiding at the bride's table were Dora Litton, Delores Rosenfelder, Ina Aeri and Sue Smith.

The groom's table was covered in blue and held a large German chocolate cake inscribed with the couple's initials in the center, and a silver coffee service. A model of a Jaguar centered the table and a collection of "Hot Wheels" cars belonging to the groom added further interest at the table. Mishal Parker and Sara Syer, cousins of the groom, served.

Ladies of the Park Lake Baptist Church were members of the house party.

Tammy Harris directed signatures of the guests at the round registry table covered in blue with a lace overlay. The table held the bride's book, a plume pen, and a votive candle surrounded by blue flowers.

The gift table was covered with a rose-colored cloth and centered with a floral arrangement. Baskets holding rice bags and a portrait of the bride completed table appointments.

Pam Brumit distributed rice bags to guests.

Special guests for the wedding were grandmothers of the couple, Alice Downes of Kamay, Geraldine Middleton and Mrs. Cecil Parker, Jr., both of Waco, and Mrs. Cecil Parker, Sr., great-grandmother of the groom.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bradford, Ian and Evan of Vernon, Mrs. Willie Mahan and Mr. and Mrs. Al Stevens, all of Mineral Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albert of Conroe, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alvert, Mr. and Mrs. James Syers, Nathan and Sara, all of Houston.

Also, Tim Parker and Tara of Phoenix, Ariz., Marcus and Mishal Parker of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dunlap of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackson and Stephanie, and Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Echols, all of Wichita Falls, and Royce Echols of Bowie.

The groom's parents were hosts for a rehearsal dinner Friday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The tables were covered with white cloths and blue table runners, and held rose-colored candles and baskets of flowers.

When the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Austin, the bride was wearing a floral spring dress designed with a sweetheart neckline and dropped waist, and pink silk shoes. They will make their home in Waco.

The new Mrs. Parker was graduated from Iowa Park High School, where she was salutatorian of her graduating class. She is a senior at Baylor Univ., majoring in religion.

The groom was graduated from Waco High School and attended McClennan Community College.

Epsilon Eta collects $110 for telethon

Members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority again conducted the satellite pledge center in Iowa Park for the Easter Seal telethon benefiting the North Texas Rehab Center.

A total of $110 was pledged locally during the telethon. The home of Mrs. Bud Mercer was pledge center headquarters.

The sorority members conducted various events throughout the year to benefit the Rehab Center and presented a check for over $495 during the telethon.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha International is a national corporate sponsor of Easter Seals.

Ron Buffum, telethon chairman, expressed appreciation to all Iowa Park residents who made donations. When the event went off the air, $126,263 was recorded in proceeds.

Weight Loss Pill 'Baffles' Scientists

WASHINGTON - Scientists are baffled by a new weight loss formula that causes people to lose weight even though they don't change the way they normally eat.

Studies published in respected scientific journals such as The British Journal of Nutrition say that cymopsis tetragonolobus, an ingredient often used to thicken ice cream, can cause permanent weight loss without dieting or exercise. Although several explanations for the weight loss are suggested, the most likely according to scientists, is that the ingredient seems to "trap" high calorie fat particles, decreasing their absorption in the intestines.

Scientists at National dietary Research, an organization committed to the research and development of nutritional solutions to world-wide health problems, have successfully isolated and incorporated cymopsis tetragonolobus into an improved formula that greatly enhances the potential for weight loss over the ingredient alone. Called Food Source One, the revolutionary new formula provides a three-way scientifically designed process to help prevent caloric absorption.

The mechanism by which Food Source One works to decrease body weight is a complicated process called nutri-bonding. When chewed and swallowed immediately before meals, high calorie fats are replaced with lower calorie nutrients, thereby providing optimum nutrition and a minimum number of fat calories as explained in an instruction sheet that accompanies the tablets. The instruction sheet should be followed for optimum results.

Food Source One is unlike any other product on the market and is available immediately because it is not a drug and only contains natural ingredients already known to be safe. Physicians and pharmacists are praising Food Source One as a natural, drug free alternative for the treatment of obesity.

Food Source One is available at:

Gunter-Armstrong exchange vows in church ceremony

LOOK WHO'S NEW

A son, Nolan Ryan, was born Tuesday, Mar. 6, in an Irving hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams. He weighed seven pounds, 12 ounces, and is their first child.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Williams and Jay Cosstick, all of Iowa Park, and the late Loretta Cosstick.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd Duncan of Iowa Park are the parents of a seven pound, one ounce son, Hagen Travis, born March 12 at Wichita General Hospital. The baby has a brother, Heath Hodges, seven and a half years old.

Mrs. Duncan is the former Cathy Cosstick of Iowa Park.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Duncan of Iowa Park, Jay Cosstick of Iowa Park and the late Loretta Cosstick.

Fellowship meets

The Jessie Mae Owens Fellowship of First United Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Mary Rinehart. Mrs. Carlene Carlene Bennett led the program entitled "Women of Hope." She was assisted by Evelyn Thompson, Mary Mixon and Rowena Miller.

Nine members were present.

Keva Maylene Gunter and Peter Lee Armstrong were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the Country Chapel on Wellington Lane and Highway 287. Dr. John Ward, minister, officiated the double-ring ceremony for the children of Mr. and Mrs. George Gunter of Valley View and Mrs. Jean Armstrong of Iowa Park.

The chapel was decorated with two seven-branch candelabra entwined with greenery and white bows, and arrangements of white silk roses, peonies, carnations, lilies and jonquils in black baskets.

Music for the ceremony was furnished by Mary Helen Schell, organist, and Brad Lewis who sang "Wind Beneath My Wings" and "Wedding Song."

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a gown of beaded white Chantilly lace over white satin. Designed with an extended bodice, the gathered skirt extended to a chapel train held with a large bow outlined with beads. She wore a white satin picture hat, trimmed with white roses and a veil of tulle. She chose a cascade bouquet fashioned of silk jonquils, roses, carnations, orchids, and baby's breath with ivy streamers.

In carrying out bridal traditions, the bride chose for "something old" her shoes; "something new" her wedding gown; "something borrowed" was a pearl ring belonging to her mother, and the "something blue" garter.

Mrs. Wendy Meador of Wichita Falls was matron of honor, and Miss Julie Phillips of Burkburnett was bridesmaid. They wore black street-length dresses with tiers of ruffles on the skirt and sleeves. They each carried two long-stem white roses.

Meagan Matthews of Electra was

Mrs. Peter Lee Armstrong

flower girl and wore a red dress and carried a white basket filled with silk flowers.

Will McCarthy of College Station served as best man, and Steve Catlin of College Station was groomsman. Ushers were Mike and Mark Phillips of Valley View. James Armstrong of Iowa Park, brother of the groom, served as usher and candlelighter.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a cropped jacket, pleated trousers and white cummerbund. His boutonniere was composed of red roses. The male attendants were dressed in black tuxedos with cropped jackets, pleated trousers and red cummerbunds. They wore white carnation boutonnieres.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table, covered with a cloth of white lace, held the three-tiered cake, a lovely confection in white, adorned with red icing roses. The cake was mounted over a lighted fountain with flowing red water. An arrangement of assorted flowers in red and white complemented the table decor. Miss Beth Meisel was in charge of serving the guests.

Miss Toni Oswald of Wichita Falls directed the signatures of the guests in a white leather book with "Mr. and Mrs. Pete Armstrong" inscribed in silver letters. A picture of the bride completed the appointments on the registry table.

The bride is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and attended Midwestern State Univ. The groom also graduated Iowa Park High School and is a student at Southwestern Oklahoma State Univ.

The bride chose a black and white checked dress and black shoes to wear on a wedding trip to Marble Falls. Following their return, the couple will live in Weatherford, Okla., where both will attend Southwestern Oklahoma State Univ.

Out-of-town guests include: Mmes. and Messrs. Mike McKinstry of Albuquerque, N.M., Jim Townsend of Brownwood, R.C. Gunter of Azle, Bill Faught of Cleburne, Dearl King of Jacksboro, and Dr. and Mrs.

Ty Cagle of Mexia. Also C.D. Stovall of Comanche, Billy Senter of Arlington, Francis Clayton of Jacksboro, and Larry King of Fort Worth.

Psychologist to speak for PTA

Dr. Tracy L. Menard will be guest speaker for the Kidwell PTA meeting at 7:00 p.m. next Tuesday in the Kidwell Elementary cafeteria.

Dr. Menard is consultant psychologist and coordinator of psychological services for Region Nine Educational Service Center. He also has a private practice in Wichita Falls. The topic of his talk will be "Disciplining Your Child."

Cook of the Week

Family gatherings on weekends are a favorite activity of Connie (Mrs. Jeff) Nolen, our Cook of the Week.

She said that quite often family members get together at the home of her husband's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Crawford Sr. Everyone brings a food dish for a luncheon, and just enjoy being together.

Some of the recipes that Connie has submitted for our readers are ones she uses for these gatherings. She said the recipe for "Fruit Dip" is especially good for holiday events.

Formerly Connie Fitzgerald, she is a native of Iowa Park. After graduating from Iowa Park High School, Connie lived in Arlington while she attended Bauder College. She and Jeff lived there two more years after their marriage and moved back to Iowa Park.

Jeff also grew up in Iowa Park and is a graduate of Iowa Park High School. He is the owner of X-Pert Weed Control.

The couple has a two and a half year old daughter, Lexie. Connie said she especially enjoys the time she spends with her daughter.

The family enjoys traveling, swimming, and going to the lake in the summertime. They belong to First Baptist Church where Connie and Jeff are members of the Adult II Sunday School Class.

Mrs. Jeff Nolen

- 1 egg
- 1 lb. ground meat
- 1 bell pepper, diced
- 1 onion, diced
- 2 cans tomato sauce
- 1 can tomato paste
- 1 can tomatoes
- 1/2 tsp. oregano
- 1 tsp. basil
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 pkgs. Mozzarella cheese

Brown ground meat, saute onions and pepper with meat. Add tomato sauce, tomato paste, and spices. Cook one hour. Cook noodles according to package directions; mix cottage cheese and egg together in separate dish.

When sauce is done, layer in casserole dish: noodles, cottage cheese mixture, sauce, and grated Mozzarella cheese. you should have enough to layer twice. Top with cheese and bake 30 minutes at 300 degrees.

This is good to prepare and freeze for later use.

LAYER SALAD

- 1/2 head lettuce
 - 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
 - Water chestnuts
 - Celery
 - Green onions
 - 10 oz. frozen peas (half cooked)
 - Swiss cheese
 - Cheddar cheese
 - 1 pint mayonnaise
 - 4 tsp. sugar, sprinkled on top
- Layer each ingredient, in the order listed above, in a glass bowl. Cover with Saran Wrap and refrigerate overnight.

GREAT CHEESE SOUP

- 1 qt. finely diced carrots

- 1 qt. finely diced celery
- 1 qt. finely diced onions
- 2 qts. chicken broth
- 1 gal. milk
- 2/3 lb. margarine
- 7 oz. cornstarch
- 4 1/2 lbs. grated processed cheese
- Salt and pepper to taste

Cook vegetables in chicken broth until tender; add milk (heat first). Melt margarine and add cornstarch to make smooth paste. Add to soup mixture. Slowly add cheese, stirring constantly. Cook over low heat until cheese is melted. Season to taste.

Makes large quantity. You may halve recipe if desired.

FRUIT DIP

- 1-8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1 container Cool Whip
- 1/2 can Eagle Brand milk
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla

Mix together and chill. Great with your favorite fruit - sliced bananas, apples, mandarin oranges, strawberries, etc.

Fund benefits Iowa Parkan

A fund has been established to assist in paying medical bills of Johnny Owen, 29, Iowa Park native who remains in critical condition with burns in Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas.

Donations can be made at Sunbelt Savings under an account number 4409652686, according to his mother, Mrs. Tinie Owen of 403 S. Victoria.

Owen was unemployed but was applying for a job with the city of Wichita Falls at the time he received the injuries in a Feb. 21 mobile home fire in Wichita Falls that took the life of an eight-month-old infant.

He has no insurance, according to his mother.

Mrs. Owen said local friends have already contributed love offerings, sent cards, and most of all, have remembered the victim in their prayers.

Former resident Electra's chief

Former Iowa Park resident Herb Edwards was named interim chief of police at Electra last week.

Edwards, who moved from here to Burkburnett last year, has worked part time for the Electra PD since 1987. He operated a video movie rental business here.

He was hired after Scott Burton submitted his resignation as chief, effective Monday, Mar. 12.

He was quoted by the Electra Star-News as having "no plans at the present time to move to Electra."

Edwards' salary was set at $1,600 a month until a permanent chief is named. He is a former trooper of the Department of Public Safety.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

It's finally happening. The fear that was expressed several years ago, when Wichita County commissioner precinct lines were redrawn, observers predicted the eventual attempt to consolidate more power in Wichita Falls.

As a result of the voters' right act passed by congress in the 1970s, precinct boundaries in the county were changed in an effort to balance the number of people in each precinct.

Because Wichita Falls has most of the population, the precincts were designed so as all four took in parts of the larger city.

And it was then that the prediction was made that eventually commissioners would be residents of the city.

Traditionally, each precinct was represented, because of the boundaries outlining each commissioner's area, by residents in Wichita Falls, Iowa Park, Burkburnett and Electra.

Precinct 4 had always been Electra's. In order to reach Wichita Falls, its boundaries were changed to include all the western part of the county, and then reaches into Wichita Falls by taking the southern part of the county, from FM 367 south.

So where's the beef? Well, just look at the Democratic Party's primary results. A runoff is to be held between Bill Davis, an Electra resident, and Harold White Sr., of Wichita Falls.

Davis drew 1,104 votes and

ments to be developed, if the grant is approved.

Restroom facilities possibly will be included in the application, if the council approves a bid to lay a sewer line from the highway to the area.

However, some aldermen sought and received assurance the bids were only to determine the cost, and the vote was not final approval of the proposed project.

A large list of surplus items the city will sell at an auction on April 5 is being advertised in the classified section of the Iowa Park Leader. A printed list also is available at the city hall.

Aldermen also voted to not permit an individual to hold an ATV safety course at the city's landfill, after it was pointed out the classes could be every weekend for several months.

Political Column

The following is the list of candidates who are seeking offices subject to the Democratic Party elections.

State Representative, 80th District

Charles Fennell
Pol. Adv. paid for by Charles Fennell Campaign, Don Talley, treasurer, Holliday.

Judge 30th District Court

Perry Wesbrooks
Pol. Adv. paid for by Perry Wesbrooks.

White 1,296. So they're in a runoff.

White is taking advantage of his support among Wichita Falls residents, as well as his son's position as county chairman of the Democratic Party.

I doubt very seriously he knows anything more about the rural part of Precinct 4 than where the voting boxes are located.

Besides being a resident of Electra, Davis is a long-time employee of that precinct, and knows the area like the back of his hand.

So why should nonresidents of Wichita Falls have any concern over where a precinct commissioner lives?

Power.
Our cousins in the largest city of the county are always concerned about power, and they doubtlessly see the potential power of having two of the four commissioners living within their own city limits.

Of course, there are two Republican candidates for that position who could possibly be considered. They are Electra mayor Gene Minderman and Buck Buchan, who also are headed for a runoff.

But the likelihood of a Republican defeating a Wichita Falls Democrat is shaky.

So, it appears that people who want to retain the community representation balance in Wichita County need to get interested in the runoff election.

Obituaries

John Paul Conkling

Graveside services for John Paul Conkling, 80, were Wednesday morning in Childress Cemetery with Monroe Hackler officiating.

He died Tuesday. Conkling was born Dec. 7, 1909, in Cotton County, Okla., and had lived in Childress 20 years, where he owned and operated a gas station.

He is survived by his wife, Kathryn; two sons, Joe E. of Childress and James Paul of Iowa Park; a granddaughter; and two great-grandchildren.

Frances Thomas

Services for Frances Bernice Thomas, 63, were held Tuesday morning at Owens & Brumley Funeral Home with evangelist Marion Warren and Rev. Harold Meeker, associate pastor of Lone Oak Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Holiday Cemetery.

She died Saturday in Garland. Mrs. Thomas was born Nov. 28, 1926, in Iowa Park. She was a graduate of Holiday High School and a member of WICS for many years.

She and Raymond Thomas were married in 1946. She was a housewife and a member of Bethel Baptist Church in Norman, Okla.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, Ron of Garland and Robert of Hurst; a sister, Peggy Kendrick of Azle; and four grandchildren.

SCIENTIFIC RED FACES!
As almost everyone knows, the Earth is supposed to be almost 5 billion years old, while man has been around only some 3 or 4 million years. These estimates are pure speculation, based upon dating methods that are grounded in evolutionary assumptions. There is NO hard-core test that can determine the age of the Earth. Most people believe this simply because they accept what is presented in various medias.
Several years ago some scientists discovered human bones buried under thick deposits of mud in California. The bones were submitted to "competent" authorities who declared them to be about 75,000 years old. Unfortunately, however, as they dug deeper, they found an old United States Army button. Now, maybe the United States had an army 75,000 years ago - or just maybe the scientific dating methods are not all that reliable!
Recently an archaeological excavation team, led by professor Mitsuo Kawaga of Beppu University, discovered drawings on the wall of a cave on the Japanese island of Kyushu. The excited scientists announced that the drawings were from 10,000 to 30,000 years old. Alas, a lifelong resident of the area came forward to confess that he had often scribbled on the walls of the cave with charcoal when he was a boy. The "scientists" had only missed it by about 99%!
Why is it when "scientists" say that something is billions of years old, the average person believes it as if the object had a date carved upon it?
When Christians accept the dates which are a part of the evolutionary system, they are playing right into the hands of infidelity.

Bressie enlists

Pvt. Michael T. Bressie, a 1989 graduate of Iowa Park High School, has completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Ca.

During the 13-week training cycle, Bressie was taught the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill.

Garden Club has program on lawn maintenance

Mark Terning from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Chris Powell from C&L Service Center presented a program on lawn care for members of the Iowa Park Garden Club, Friday, in the TU Reddy Room. They were introduced by Mrs. Don Decker.

Their program, entitled "Don't Bag It," included a slide presentation by Terning. It was designed to educate homeowners on ways to reduce or eliminate the amount grass clippings being disposed of in our nation's overloaded landfills.

It was pointed out that grass clippings alone take up 20 to 30 percent of the landfills in our nation. By mowing frequently, removing no more than one third of the leaf surface at any one time, and by using a proper watering and fertilizing plan, grass clippings will never need bagging again.

A proper fertilizing plan would require the use of a fertilizer that has at least one half of its nitrogen in a slow release or slowly soluble form, and applying the fertilizer at the appropriate time of the year.

A proper watering plan would call for the lawn to receive about one inch of water every five or six days during the driest periods of summer.

Following the slide presentation, Chris Powell showed the group a Toro Recycler lawnmower. He explained how it finely cuts grass clippings, giving the result of a clean lawn which looks as though it has been mowed with a bagging mower.

Mrs. Gladys James, president, called the meeting to order, and members answered roll call by naming their favorite cactus. Mrs. B.J. Gilmore gave the thought for the day.

During the business session, arrangements were made by members to attend the District II spring convention in Stephenville on Wednesday.

Mrs. Vern Mikkelsen announced that the Friendly Door Senior Citizen Center will have its annual Easter Bazaar from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on April 1, and encouraged members to attend. She said the proceeds from the bazaar will be used to purchase a new van for the center.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. John Clapp and Mrs. Oscar Wells. Mrs. Decker, program chairman, announced that the next meeting will be March 23 at the home of Mrs. Norma Fortner.

Clark-Klinkerman wed in candlelight ceremony Saturday

Miss Milete Clark and Marc Konrad Klinkerman exchanged wedding vows in an impressive candlelight ceremony Saturday, at the First Baptist Church of O'Donnell. Johnny Johns of Lubbock officiated the double-ring nuptials.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Clark of O'Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Klinkerman of Iowa Park.

Vows were exchanged before a 15-point brass sunburst fan candelabrum holding white cathedral tapers, intertwined with leather leaf and jade greenery. This was flanked on each side by spiraling candelabras and large floral arrangements of white gladiolas and statice in brass urns.

The unity candle, enhanced with white satin bows and white and teal streamers, centered the setting.

Massed greenery composed of bakers fern, jade and leather leaf covered the choir railing and filled the background.

The bridal aisle was lined with white satin bows with white and teal streamers, and Gypsophilia and greenery marked the family pews.

Music for the wedding was furnished by organist, Elaine Pearson, and vocalists Stephanie Geyer, cousin of the groom, who sang "Parent's Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer," and Donna Forbes, cousin of the bride, who sang "Through the Eyes of Love" and "Evergreen."

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage for both parents, the bride was attired in an exquisite gown by the designers of Bonny Bridal fashions.

The white satin gown featured a traditional neckline with a sheer yoke and a wedding band collar. Full length taper sleeves, adorned with schiffli lace encrusted with pearls and white iridescent sequins, added to the traditional styling of the gown. A fitted bodice with a dropped torso waistline allowed the full ballgown skirt to float gracefully to the floor and sweep into a mid-cathedral length train. The rich beading of the bodice was carried through with elaborate beadwork on the skirt and on the train. A bustle bow of satin decorated the back of the hip line.

The bride's veil of silk illusion was gathered at the crown to a pearlized headpiece.

To complement her attire, she carried a cascading cresent of gardenias embellished with stephanotis, sprays of pearls and iridescent leaves, and showered with satin and lace streamers tied in love knots.

Miss Rhonda Forbes of Austin, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a full length gown designed with a black velvet bodice and ming green satin skirt. The bodice featured a sabrina neckline and full length tapered sleeves. The neckline ended with a deep V at the back. A fitted basque waistline allowed the softly gathered skirt to fall to the floor. A bustle bow with a peplum created a back attraction.

Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Kathy Barton of O'Donnell, Miss Leslie Legg of Lewisville, and Miss Donna Huckabay of Houston. They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor, and all the female attendants carried a single long-stemmed dusty pink silk rose with gypsophilia and greenery tied with satin and lace streamers and pearls.

Tonya Forbes, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and was dressed the same as the bridesmaids. She wore a wristlet of shaded pink roses and carried a basket of pink and white silk petals.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with tails and a black bowtie and vest. His boutonniere was composed of white stephanotis from the bride's bouquet.

Wesley Klinkerman of Iowa Park served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Frank Johnson of Plainview, Dan Gainey of Plainview and Brant Baugh of Lubbock. Serving as ushers were Wayne Barton of O'Donnell, Kelly Sanders of San Angelo, Monty Klinkerman of Houston and David Childs of Arlington. Jared Vogler of Lamesa, nephew of the bride, and Robert Klinkerman of Iowa Park, brother of the groom, were candlelighters.

The male attendants wore black tuxedos with teal bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnières were made of white silk roses and gypsophilia.

Seth Vogler of Lamesa, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer and wore a white tuxedo with tails.

The mothers of the couple and grandmother of the groom wore white orchid corsages complimented with pearl sprays and iridescent leaves.

The bride presented her mother and the groom's mother with a long-stemmed dusty pink rosebud upon entering and exiting the auditorium.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride's table held a two-tiered Italian Cream cake decorated with teal and white flowers and featured a flowing fountain underneath. Two sweetheart cakes were placed on each side of the fountain. Silver appointments completed the table decorations.

Mahler-Collier vows solemnized Saturday

Miss Darlene Rose Mahler and Andrew Ray Collier exchanged nuptial vows Saturday afternoon at Grace Church in Wichita Falls. Rev. Tom Rodgers, pastor, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The couple are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Mahler of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Otis R. Collier of Wichita Falls.

The sanctuary was a picture of simple elegance, with candelabras used to enhance the solemnity of the ceremony. Two tree candelabras with burning votive candles were placed at the entrance of the church, and the altar was centered with an archway candelabra. White podiums, holding baskets filled with pink and white gladiolas, carnations and baby's breath, flanked the altar.

White bows were placed on the pews to mark seating for the guests.

Weldon Fraker of Wichita Falls provided organ music for the service including the bride's selections of "Prelude in Classic Style," and "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty," in which the congregation sang. "Pictures at an Exhibition-Promenade" was played for the processional.

During the ceremony, the congregation sang the hymn "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee." "Water Music-Allegro Maestoso" was offered for the recessional.

For her wedding day, the bride wore a formal white satin gown overlaid in lace fashioned with a scalloped lace neckline and fitted waist. The back of the gown was enhanced with a candy box satin bow from which a chapel length train flowed. The entire gown, made by the bride's mother, featured hand-sewn seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She wore a headpiece designed of silk roses with puffs of tulle net to secure a waltz-length veil.

A bouquet of white enchantment lilies, roses and English ivy completed her attire.

For her bridal traditions, Miss Mahler chose to carry a handkerchief in her bouquet belonging to her maternal grandmother for "something old;" her wedding gown for "something new;" the sixpence she wore in her shoe, belonging to her sister, Aquilla Carillo-Miranda, for "something borrowed;" and her garter for "something blue."

Carrie Mahler-Cassell of Grand Prairie, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a rose-colored satin gown with a lace overlay, and carried a colonial nosegay bouquet of enchantment lilies and roses in shades of pink with English ivy accents.

Kyle Collier of Wichita Falls, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Andrew Ray Collier

Ushers were Robert Driver, Mark Dudley, Barry Hanks and Paul Larence, all of Wichita Falls.

A reception honoring the couple was held in the Activity Hall of the church following the ceremony.

The bride's table, covered in white cloth with a lace skirt, held a three-tiered cake separated with Grecian columns. Iced in white, each tier featured roses in shades of pink encircling the tops of each layer and rosebuds and scrollwork around the sides. A porcelain bride and groom, used at the bride's parent's wedding reception, topped the cake.

A four-branched silver candelabra encircled with an arrangement of freesia, carnations, pink roses and white chrysanthemums, centered the bride's table.

The groom's table held a chocolate sheath cake and a floral arrangement composed of freesia, carnations, pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Valerie Dillard and Miss Lisa Parks presided at the tables.

Members of the house party were Carolyn Richter, Fran Davis and Mary Barwinkle.

Miss Anita Humphries registered guests at a table holding the bride's book and a ceramic basket.

Following a honeymoon trip to San Antonio, the couple are at home in Wichita Falls where both are employed by KFDX-TV3.

Miss Mahler is a graduate of Iowa Park High School, and Midwestern State Univ. with a Masters Degree in voice.

The bridegroom will graduate MSU in August with a bachelor's degree in mass communications.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ressel

Anderson-Ressel wed

Julie Diane Anderson and Roy Ressel were wed March 5 at a private ceremony in the chapel of First United Methodist Church.

Rev. John Mollett, pastor, officiated the double-ring ceremony for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Anderson of Iowa Park and the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ressel of Randlett, Okla.

A lighted gold cross at the altar provided the background setting for the exchange of vows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a tea-length cream silk dress, and carried a single long-stemmed red rose wrapped with baby's breath, and pearls that belong to her grandparents.

Parents of the bride were the couple's honor attendants.

The couple reside in Iowa Park. Miss Anderson is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and attended Midwestern State Univ. She is employed by InveStar, Inc. Property Management of Dallas. She is a member of The Texas Board of Realtors, National Board of Realtors and the Dallas Apartment Assoc.

Ressel was graduated from Randlett High School and Oklahomas State Univ. He is employed by the City of Wichita Falls Health Dept., and is a member of the Texas Environmental Health Assoc., the National Environmental Health Assoc., and the Texas Animal Control Assoc.

Asthma & Allergy Medications

Millions of Americans suffer from asthma and allergy and take medication to relieve their symptoms. However, as with any medicine, it must be taken properly. So, if you, or someone you know, take asthma or allergy medicines, remember:

- Know your medication by generic name, brand name, dose, and when to take it.
- Know the possible side effects.
- Have prescriptions refilled when three fourths empty.
- Keep extra medicine where you might need it.
- Know your medicine's expiration date(s).
- Learn exactly how to use your inhaler.
- Don't take your medicines in a darkened room.
- Don't take theophylline with coffee, tea or cola drinks.
- Color code the bottles and keep a check list if you are taking several medicines regularly.
- Do not take any new medication without first checking with your doctor.

Last innings tough on Hawks

The baseball Hawks dropped two games during the past week, losing them both in the final innings.

Burk Burnett scored two runs in the sixth Monday to beat Iowa Park 6-4, and Friday, the Wichita Falls Coyotes outscored the Hawks 3-2 in an extra inning to win 6-5.

Both games were played away from home.

And what made it even worse, the Hawks had led earlier in both games.

In Friday's game at Wichita Falls, the Coyotes had scored twice in the first inning, but the Hawks tied them in the second, and then took a 3-1 lead in the third.

But the hosts tied the score in the bottom of the third, and the two clubs battled through the regulation six innings tied 3-3.

In the top of the seventh, Iowa Park scored twice.

But errors accounted for two of the three runs by the Coyotes after that, ending the contest.

Jimmy Duggins relieved Danny Tatom after two innings and was credited with the loss.

Jimmy Nicholson had a home run, while Tatom went two-for-four, scoring twice. Hits were also credited to Robert Denton, Chuck Brown and Wayne Chitwood.

After allowing the host Bulldogs a run in the first inning at Burk Burnett Monday, the Hawks racked up four scores in the next three frames for a 4-1 lead.

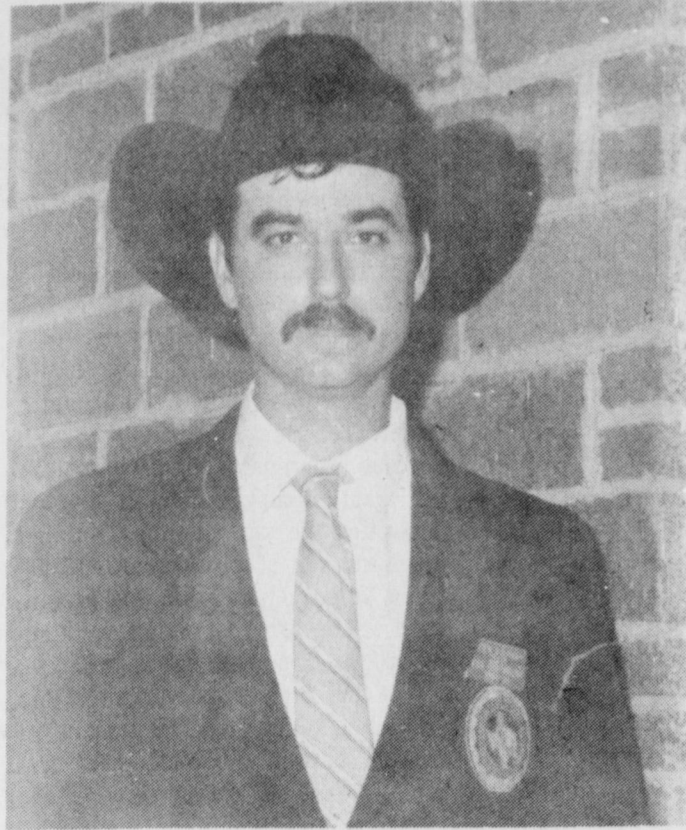

But the 'Dogs scored three in the fifth to tie the score, and two more in the bottom of the sixth for the win.

Tatom relieved Duggins in the third and took the loss, as the Hawks committed three errors to Burk's two.

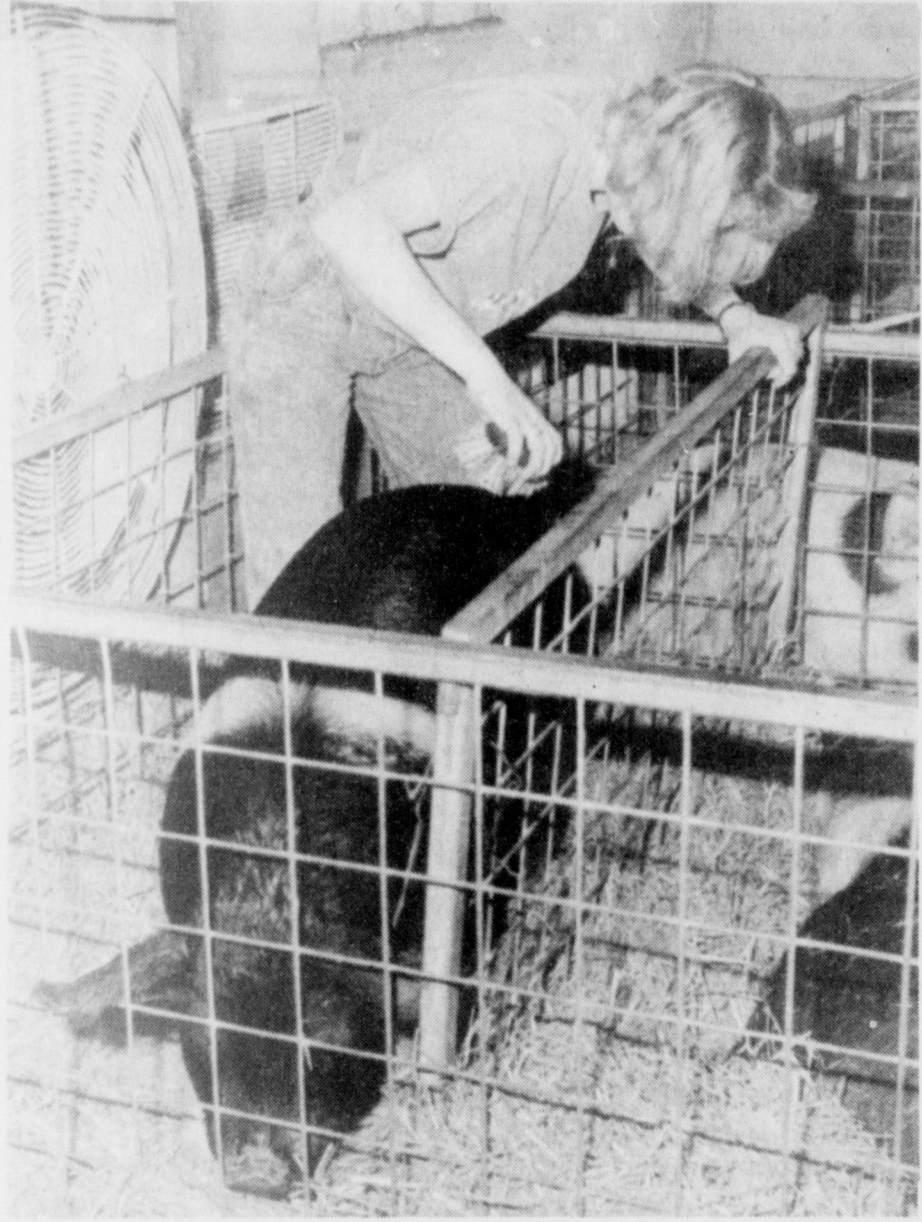

Duggins was two-for-four at the plate and scored one run. Kelly McClure and Bunkie Imboden both were one-for-three. McClure scored one run and Imboden twice.

The Hawks will carry their 1-2 record with them into the Wichita Falls Classic which starts today and finishes Saturday.

Tuesday they are slated to host Frederick at 4 p.m.

Booster Club donates $6,800

Iowa Park High's baseball field and expanded fieldhouse are to benefit from all the hard fund-raising work of the Iowa Park Athletic Booster Club.

At an executive meeting Wednesday, Booster leaders committed $6,800 to those facilities.

The baseball field is to receive a flag pole, flag and banner, trees planted behind the outfield fence, and a public address system, from an $800 expenditure.

Some $6,000 will be used to begin outfitting the weight room of the fieldhouse when that project is completed. That is expected some time this summer.

An American flag that has been flown over the capitol building in Washington, D.C., and a Texas flag that has flown over the state capitol are being donated by Bob Luney, vice president of the Booster Club.

Financing of the fieldhouse expansion was approved by taxpayers of the district in a bond election last fall.

The Booster officers also planned for a membership drive to begin this summer, according to Bobby Davenport, president.

As is the case of all funds donated to the school by booster clubs, the money is given directly to the school and put in its general fund. This is in strict compliance with state law.

However, there is a general understanding that a like amount of money will be spent on the designated projects.

MELODY GRAY SLOSHING HER WAY AT ELECTRA MEET SATURDAY

Lady Hawks win at Electra

The Lady Hawks swept all three relays and added four more individual first places on their way to winning their division of Saturday's annual Electra Tiger Relays.

Miserable conditions cut short the day's competition, as officials decided to use times set in preliminary races to place the athletes.

Heavy rains delayed the meet twice early in the day, leaving pools of water not only everywhere on the ground, but also on the paved track.

Conditions were so bad that the triple jump competition was called off.

The Hawks, short-handed after some members of the team had left on spring break trips, finished in fourth place, with 50 points, behind Jacksboro, Clarendon and Boyd.

The Hawk JV garnered 37 points to place sixth.

In winning the 400-meter relay, the Lady Hawks were clocked in 51.83, more than a full second ahead of Childress' 52.89.

The 800-meter relay team was more than five seconds ahead of Childress, 1:49.67 to 1:53.25.

And in winning the 1600-meter relay, Iowa Park was seven seconds ahead of Bowie. The Lady Hawks had a 4:30.63 to Bowie's 4:37.37.

Kerri Dornier and Erica Knight each won two individual events.

Dornier easily captured first place in the long jump with a 16-4 1/2. Second place was a 14-9. She also won the 200-meter dash in 28.60.

Knight's two wins were in the high jump (5-1), and the hurdles (16.30).

Deann Scobee cleared 5-0 in the high jump to finish in a tie for second, and Dee Ann Warren ran a 68.34 in the 400-meter dash to place third.

In dominating their division, the Lady Hawks amassed 118 points, while Childress had 88 for second.

Most of the Hawks' 50 points, which earned the team fourth place, came in the high jump and 3200-meter run.

Don McIlroy won the high jump by clearing 5-8, while Jonathan Imboden finished 20 seconds ahead of a Clarendon runner to win the two-mile event.

Imboden's 11:00.04 also was 20 seconds faster than his time in the Hawk Relays, despite the difference in weather conditions.

Third-place points were earned by Patrick Birk, 2:08.52 in the 800-meter run, and Stephen Brown, 15.85 in the high hurdles.

Little League signup to end

With Little League baseball and softball seasons about to get underway here, league officials are encouraging players to register by Saturday.

Registration, weather permitting, will be at the baseball fields on West Magnolia.

Saturday will be the final day girls can register to play in the softball league this summer.

While it is supposed to be the last day for registering for baseball play, Ray Dillard has said players can also register during tryouts which will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, also at the same fields.

Should weather not permit Saturday, registration will be held at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Does your subscription to the Leader expire this month? check the list on page 4.

CLASSIFIEDS

Project Show winners

Judge Mike Coburn had his hands full Thursday night, deciding which of the 94 entries in the swine division of the annual Iowa Park 4-H and FFA Project Show was the best.

He finally decided on Brady Taylor's champion market crossbreed as the class of the show.

Ross Dillard was named outstanding showman of the swine division, which, according to Vo-Ag teacher George Martin, was the largest here in five years.

Jimmy Kaufhold was selected the Outstanding Exhibitor of the two-night Project Show which is sponsored by the Wichita County Young Farmers.

Trophies which are presented to all winners are provided by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners.

The first night of judging, held the previous Tuesday, included horses, dairy goats, market lambs and cattle.

Locals dominate county show

Iowa Park area youth continued a tradition of dominating the annual Wichita County Junior Livestock Show, held over the weekend in Wichita Falls.

Besides the grand champions the area exhibitors had at the show, the major key in the domination was the number of animals they placed in Monday's premium auction.

Iowa Park had 59 percent of all animals in the auction, with 103 lots offered.

Police have quiet week

Except for false burglar alarms, complaints of dog bites, close watches on homes while residents are out of town during spring break, and watching stormy weather, work at the police station during the past week was relatively light.

Three windows of a vehicle left parked over the weekend at Bradford Elementary were shattered. The culprit was thoughtful in leaving a red ribbon bow atop the vehicle.

An undetermined number of

Besides sweeping the divisions for rabbits, lambs, broilers and turkeys, as well as three of the seven breed champions in the huge swine show, an area youth had the "Best of Show" entry in the 4-H Project contest.

LeAnn Jordan of the Iowa Park 4-H Club, earned the honor with her entry in the photography division. She entered a photo series depicting the progress from the field to fabric, and it was chosen the best among 144 projects in the show.

work tools were reportedly taken from a garage in the 1300 block of Mockingbird Lane. The report was filed Monday morning.

Police arrested Jitty Man Harmon, 39, at 1:20 p.m. Wednesday of last week after determining the driver had an outstanding warrant issued by the Department of Public Safety.

Harmon was released after paying a $154 fine, according to the police blotter.
