

United Way campaign kickoff today

"Win With United Way" is the theme of this year's United Way campaign, which will observe its local kickoff today.

Iowa Park United Way cabinet will observe its campaign start with a hot dog feed at 11:45 a.m.

It will be in the Lions Club Building, 102 West Cash, which is next door to the Friendly Door, one of Iowa Park's two United Way funded agencies.

The other agency is the Recreational Activities Center.

The public is invited, but organizers are asking that reservations be made by calling the United Way office at 322-8638.

The United Way sponsors an annual campaign on behalf of 32 agencies serving Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Shepard Air Force Base and Wichita Falls.

Last year, according to reports of the agencies, United Way served over 5,700 Iowa Park residents with emergency services, counseling, day care, educational programs and recreational services.

Pacesetter companies, which includes Iowa Park's Cryovac plant, reported last week having completed their 1991 drives prior to the kickoff, and raised $321,525.

The pacesetter's contributions gave what amounted to 15 percent of this year's goal of $1,550,000.

SHE'S THE FIRST - Erica Clack, the first female ever elected president of the Texas Future Farmers of America Association, was in Iowa Park Monday to visit the local chapter. Monday also was her first day on the road, as the president must visit each chapter in the state during the year in office. With the Mansfield High School graduate are Iowa Park FFA members Mark Phillips, left, and Lance Short.

BUDGET, TAX RATE ON TAP TONIGHT

Trustees face lengthy agenda

They may have to make more than one pot of coffee for tonight's meeting of the school board. It could last until the wee morning hours, according to the agenda.

The key agenda topic for the meeting, which is to begin at 8 p.m. in the junior high school library, is adopting the official school budget and setting of the 1991-92 tax rate.

At the board's meeting two weeks ago, a "preliminary" budget was approved that called for expenditures of $6,897,614, with anticipated revenues of $7,534,182.

Supt. Glen Mitchell's proposed budget was based on a total tax rate of $1 per $100 valuation. This included a 75-cent rate adopted by the County Education District (CED) and 25-cents local.

All projected revenues were based on a collection rate of 97 percent.

The state legislature mandated that all CEDs in Texas set a minimum rate of 72-cents, and allowed local districts to establish rates above that to retire bonds and for local enrichment.

Iowa Park published a "Notice of Comparable Tax Rates and Revenues" which stated a local rate of 27-cents was being considered, which would generate a total of $3,462 per pupil, as compared with last year's $3,212 average.

Even if the additional two cents, which would make a total rate of $1.02, were adopted, Iowa Park's rate would be the lowest of all districts in the CED, which includes Wichita Falls, Electra, Burkburnett and City View.

Each of the campus principals is to report on this year's start of classes, and the superintendent is to give current enrollment figures.

Board action is called for on the agenda on the following topics:

- * organizations listed by the Commissioner of Education for extra-curricular activities;

- * requests for field trips;
- * requests for fund raising activities;

- * student transfer requests;
- * football stadium and gym concession stand contracts for the school year;

- * use of the junior high gymnasium for a donkey basketball game sponsored by the FFA;

- * early dismissal of classes on Friday, Sept. 13;

- * school board policies including first reading of Update 39, revised state sick leave and local sick leave policies, revised employee complaint policies and vending machines;

- * request from Wichita County Young Farmers to use two school buses for agriculture tour;

- * set cost per mile for transportation and hear operation cost report for that department;

- * approve tax report and adjustments and approve annual tax report.

11 arrests reported here

An unusually high number, 11, of arrests were listed during the past week's entry in the police blotter.

While most were charges of public intoxication, others included indecent exposure, parole violation, disorderly conduct and possession of marijuana.

Police served an arrest warrant Thursday afternoon to Woodrow Blackerby, 37, at 709 North Yosemite, who was charged with indecent exposure.

The warrant was issued after two complaints were received by the department, one on Aug. 30 and the other on Sept. 1.

Blackerby was taken before Justice of the Peace Bill Robinson, who set his bond at $500, and then transported to the county jail.

Larry Green was arrested at 4 a.m. Saturday in the 300 block of East Ruby on a charge of public intoxication. He was also found to have an existing warrant against him by the county sheriff's office for violation of probation.

Green, according to the blotter entry, posted a cash bond on the local charge and was then transported to county jail.

Arrested at 1:59 a.m. Saturday on a charge of public intoxication was Johnny Griffith, 31. He posted a cash bond of $187.50 and was released at 7:45 a.m.

A 16-year-old male juvenile was taken into custody at 1:47 a.m. Saturday in the 700 block of West Highway, with charges of public intoxication and disorderly conduct. He was released at 5:30 a.m. to a parent, according to the blotter.

Arrested at 11:31 p.m. Monday in the 100 block of East Highway was Russell Wade Haney, 33, on a public intoxication charge. He was released at 8:10 a.m. after posting a $187.50 bond.

Police took Thomas Cecil Sims, 24, into custody Tuesday morning during municipal court session on local warrants for displaying a fictitious li-

Council approves Cryovac tax abatement agreement

Iowa Park city council approved a tax abatement proposal with Cryovac during Monday night's regularly-scheduled meeting.

The abatement plan, already approved by the school district and county, gives the company tax relief for additional equipment being installed over a period of seven years.

While Cryovac does not pay property tax to Iowa Park, because it is not inside the city limits, the firm and city do have a non-annexation agreement, for which Cryovac makes payments in lieu of taxes.

Cryovac manager Sam Laird commented, "This is a continuation of a very positive relationship" between the company and city.

No decision was reached on changing of hours the landfill will be open to the public, but one is expected at the next council meeting.

As a cost-saving measure, city staff had proposed the landfill be closed each Sunday and Monday, and remaining weekdays open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays.

However, aldermen suggested the facility should be open both Saturday and Sunday and weekdays hours shifted later, so a proposal was made that an alternate schedule be readied for the Sept. 23 meeting.

Charles Tillery, who was in the audience, said he makes two trips to the landfill a week during grass cutting season, and the hours proposed would be a problem for him.

National Uniform Service was determined to be the lowest of three bids received for providing uniforms for city workers, and was given a contract for the 1991-92 fiscal year.

Requests for water service to two areas outside the south city limits were received from Dr. Erwin Soell and Stanley Watson.

Both requests were approved, with the understanding that all costs were to be borne by the receiving parties.

Also approved was a letter to be sent to the Army Corps of Engineers, informing the organization that the city was declining a proposal for a cost-sharing study to correct flooding problems in the northeast part of the city.

The city's share of the study was projected between $100,000 and $150,000, and based on that study work to correct the problem would have cost the city in excess of $1-million.

"We regret that the City of Iowa Park cannot participate in the feasibility study phase," Administrator Gary Jones wrote in the letter. "At this time, we do not have the funds to commit to the project. We do appreciate your effort to this point. If federal funds become available to fund the city's share of the study, we would welcome the assistance."

A resolution calling for an interlocal agreement with the Houston-Galveston Area County for the purchase of certain materials and services was approved.

The purpose of the agreement is to utilize the volume-purchasing ability of that organization, and the only purchase presently being considered by the city is new base radio equipment for the police department, it was explained.

Aldermen approved a request by Jones to advertise for bids to have the Johnson Road overhead water tower painted.

Alternates in the bid will include lettering both for that tower and the two ground storage tanks, as well as the school mascot on the overhead tank, Jones explained.

Hawks seeking first win

The Iowa Park Hawks will not only be looking for their first win of the young, 1991 season when they travel Friday to Abilene Wylie, but also to even their record with the Bulldogs.

Kickoff time is 8 p.m. After their 24-7 loss to another Bulldog team, Burkburnett, last week, the Hawks are still winless.

But that was the same situation last year. After losing their opener to Burk-

15-3, they were edged 29-21 by Wylie.

This will be the fourth meeting between the two schools. Wylie won in 1988 by a 16-7 score, but the Hawks avenged that loss the following year by wholopping the 'Dogs 48-7.

Iowa Park wasn't the only team to fall victim to Wylie in 1990. The Bulldogs went all the way to the regional level while establishing a record of 8-4-1.

Hawk coaches have been asking themselves all week where Wylie's top ball carrier, Darren Bailey is. He was known to have participated in the club's first pre-season scrimmage, but was absent from last week's 14-14 opener with Breckneridge.

The 160-pound senior running back who has been clocked in 4.7 in the 40 scored 17 touchdowns in 1990, while rushing for 1,150 yards and added 303 more on 21 receptions.

Returning starting defensive back Sha Lang ran in his place Friday.

Best of Wylie's lineman, according to the scouting report, is senior Luke Hurst, who tips the scales at 236.

The Bulldogs are a mature club, with 19 seniors and 13 juniors on their roster. Of that group, 14 are returning lettermen.

Hawk coaches are hoping for the full-time return of Todd Pulley, who has been limited in his playing time to kicking, because of a leg ailment.

Otherwise, all the Hawks appeared hail and ready for competition during early-week workouts.

Facts about the game

If the school board approves a request at its meeting this evening, classes will be dismissed early Friday afternoon.

Students and fans planning to watch the Hawks' game at Abilene Wylie will need the additional time, because that school is on the south side of Abilene.

Two years ago, when the team played last at Wylie, classes were dismissed at 1:45 p.m.

Fans driving there for the first time will want to know they should take the west loop around Abilene to reach the Wylie school campus.

Drivers should continue past the San Angelo turnoff, and turn south on Buffalo Gap Road; continue past a mall until reaching the Wylie elementary school, and turn back west, to the right, to the stadium.

Advanced tickets will be available at Iowa Park High until 1:30 p.m. Friday. Tickets will be the same, $4, for adults either in advance or at the gate. However, student tickets are $2 when purchased in advance, but $4 at the gate, according to Richard Davis, principal.

DEADLINE FRIDAY

Whoop-T-Do booths available

Friday is the deadline for organizations to reserve the same Whoop-T-Do booth activity they had last year, Susan Dillard, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said this week.

Whatever activity non-profit organizations had for booths the previous year remains their option until the deadline expires, according to rules of the annual event established by the sponsoring Chamber's board.

Whoop-T-Do this year will be on Saturday, Sept. 28.

Thus far, 15 non-profit organizations have reserved booth space. There were 34 such booths last year, and Mrs. Dillard said she had provided spaces for 35 this year.

"They're coming in pretty steady this week to reserve their booths," she said, explaining that many reservations made this week were by school organizations.

Only four of the 26 booth spaces for arts and craft exhibitors remain.

Arts and craft booth rental fee is $15. The fee for non-profit organization is a $25 deposit, which is applied to the final fee of 10 percent of gross sales.

"I explain to people that whatever their sales are above $250, they will still owe us (the Chamber) 10 percent above that figure," the secretary commented.

There is still time on the entertainment schedule for individuals or groups who have not yet registered. Time available is from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Organizations this year are encouraged to bring with them trash cans, for which the Chamber will provide plastic bags.

"This way, we can keep the booth areas cleaner," Mrs. Dillard said.

Report signals good business

Business in Iowa Park and Wichita County in general continues to improve, according to the latest sales tax report issued this week by the state comptroller's office.

Iowa Park has received a check for $13,181.57, which is 10.12-percent greater than the $11,969.98 refund received in September of 1990.

For the year, the city's sales tax receipts are running 4.09 percent higher than 1990: $126,933.90 as compared to $121,940.94.

Does your subscription expire this month? Check the list on page 4.

September's checks include taxes collected on July sales and reported in August by businesses filing monthly sales tax returns with the state.

County-wise, this month's checks were 7.82 percent higher than September of last year, and for the year, county municipalities have received 1.59 percent more than at the same time in 1990, according to the report.

Electra has received 10.56 percent more than last year, Burkburnett 7.18 and Wichita Falls 1.10.

Holiday also continues to show a marked improvement over 1990's sales taxes, with a 46.82 percent gain. For the year, that city has received $62,740.47.

Murphy, Posey vows exchanged recently in double ring ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ray Posey have established residence in Wichita Falls following their marriage Aug. 24 and their return from a wedding trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico.

Mrs. Posey is the former Stephanie Gale Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy Jr., of Wichita Falls.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Posey of Burkburnett.

Double ring wedding vows were pledged by the couple in an afternoon ceremony at Fairway Baptist Church in Wichita Falls, with the pastor, Bruce Dane, officiating.

Traditional prelude wedding music was played. During the ceremony "Unchained Melody" by The Righteous Brothers, and "I'll Still Be Loving You," Restless Heart, were played.

Presented for marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of white satin and Alencon lace styled with a sweetheart neckline and puffed swirls of illusion lace at the shoulders.

The basque waist was encrusted with seed pearls and sequins. Front of the skirt featured lace appliques and double tiers of illusion lace at the hem's edge.

Her full skirt extended into a cathedral train covered with lace appliques and seed pearls, terminating in layers of illusion ruffles.

A tiara style headpiece, with seed pearls and rhinestones intricately sewn into a lace pattern, held the bride's veil and was made by her mother. The veil was a gathered pouf of tulle, accented with rhinestones and seed pearls, and fell in layers from the headpiece to the edge of the gown's skirt.

The bride's bouquet of cascade design was fashioned of miniature English ivy, stephanotis, white bridal roses, pink lilies, baby's breath, strands of pearls and burgundy baby's breath.

Pam Frazier of Wichita Falls was maid of honor and Glenda Gwinn and La Donna Johnson, both of Iowa Park, served as bridesmaids.

The honor attendant's mauve teal-length dress was designed with basque pleated bodice and sweetheart neckline with a burgundy bow marking the center back and burgundy satin roses accenting the shoulders. She carried a cascade arrangement of carnations, greenery, baby's breath, and rosebuds.

Bridesmaids wore identically styled dresses with the exception of the back bow and shoulder roses. Their traditional bouquets were of the same flowers as the honor attendant's.

Amber Frazier of Wichita Falls acted as flower girl. Her dress of pink and white lace was fashioned with a full skirt and a large bow in back. She carried a white basket trimmed in lace and bows, filled with pink and red hearts which she scattered down the bridal aisle.

Mrs. Everett Ray Posey
(Stephanie Gale Murphy)

Ringbearer was Jeremy Johnson of Petrolia. He wore a light gray tuxedo with burgundy bow tie and cummerbund.

He carried a crossstitched pillow made by the bride's mother. It was bordered in lace and bows. Top of the pillow was crossstitched with the words, "With this ring I thee wed" -- Stephanie and Everett, August 24, 1991.

Robert Posey of Temperance, Mich., acted as best man. Groomsmen were Greg Posey of Burkburnett and Rick Noorlag of Wichita Falls. Serving as ushers were Doug Murphy of Wichita Falls and Mark Johnson of Burkburnett.

The groom wore a charcoal grey Pierre Cardin tuxedo with tails, a burgundy bow tie and cummerbund and a boutonniere of burgundy and pink roses and baby's breath.

Male attendants wore grey tuxedos with traditional length jackets.

The registry table in the church foyer was covered with a white lace cloth and held an ivory registry book and a burgundy plume pen encircled with a white lace heart. The table also held a basket of silk flowers and a large arrangement of satin rice roses in a white wicker basket. Nancy Wayman of Wichita Falls, secured signatures of guests.

To one side of the table was a large white wicker basket filled with greenery and mauve and pink silk flowers.

Forming a background for this area was the bride and groom's wedding invitation which the bride's mother had crossstitched and framed. This was highlighted by a spotlight.

The middle aisles were marked with pew bows of white ribbon tied with baby's breath and miniature pink, burgundy, teal and mauve roses. Streamers were decorated with tulle netting.

The two outside sections of pews were decorated with smaller versions of the center pew bows and were sealed off with continuous swags of white ribbon running their length.

The nuptial area was decorated with white baskets filled with greenery and flowers on the side of the middle stair. The two bannisters on either side of the church were decorated with greenery, large clusters of pink carnations, white roses and burgundy baby's breath, entwined with tiny clear lights.

The unity candle was centered in a silk floral arrangement and rested on a lace covered table. On each side was a single candle which was lighted by the mothers of the couple before the ceremony. Background for the unity candle was a 40-light fan candelabra entwined with greenery, bows and silk flowers. In flanking positions were two 50-light tree candelabras featuring the same decorations.

The bride carried two red roses down the bridal aisle. She gave her mother one on her way to the altar. The groom presented the other rose to his mother.

During the ceremony, the six attendants each stood on a descending stair. The bride and groom stood on the top stair and faced their guests and each other.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall. The gift table was covered with a mauve cloth, caught up in front with swags of pink ribbon and iridescent cupid's and hearts.

Centering the table were two stuffed bride and groom pigs standing under a white archway, and a pink and white iridescent balloon and globe arrangement.

Beside the gift table was an iridescent mauve and white balloon tree with glitter balloons. A large picture of the bride was encased in a 16-inch frame bordered in mauve.

The groom's table was covered with a teal cloth secured in front with swags of silver ribbon, with bows of silver at each end. Silver confetti was sprinkled on the top of the table.

A four-branched candelabra arranged with teal flowers centered the table. The table also held a crystal punch bowl, silver trays of gourmet mix, hors d'oeuvres, and pastel chocolate mints.

The groom's cake was milk chocolate and dark chocolate. His

New officers chosen for Friendship Class

Officers of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church were elected Monday night in a monthly meeting held at the church.

Included in the slate were Mmes. Eleanor Bell, teacher; C.L. McKinnon, assistant teacher; O.S. McLemore, outreach leader; D.O. James, assistant outreach leader; J.T. Parker, secretary; E.T. Patterson, assistant secretary and treasurer; Homer Blalock, reporter; Clay Davis, F.L. McCoy, Parker and Blalock, group captains; M.E. Goforth, bridge builders chairman; Goforth and Helen Reed, outreach committee.

During the social hour, the refreshment table was especially colorful with a bouquet of fresh garden flowers and a "Happy Birthday" cake made especially for Mmes. V.I. Woodfin, Parker, Patterson and Goforth who observe their birthdays in September.

The hostesses were Mmes. James, Woodfin and Goforth.

college major emblem of engineering topped the cake, along with his monogram and cascades of mauve grapes.

Presiding at the groom's table were Glenda Kohl and Carolyn Stouard, both of Wichita Falls.

Swagged white lace covered the bride's table and featured mauve ribbon and white bows with miniature roses of the four chosen colors.

A four-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table. The layers were separated by tall white Grecian pillars. On top of each tier was a large cluster of mauve and light pink roses. The cake was topped with a miniature groom carrying a bride.

Crystal serving pieces held strawberry shortcake, mixed fresh fruit, whipped cream, gourmet nut mix, pastel chocolate mints and strawberry and champagne punch. A large watermelon basket with criss-crossed intertwined handles was filled with fresh fruit.

The table also held a large arrangement of pink, mauve and teal bridal roses, miniature roses, carnations, pearls and baby's breath.

Back of the table was a white archway covered with greenery and centered with a white wedding bell.

Servers were Bobbie Williams and Margaret Stone, both of Iowa Park.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the El Mexicano in Burkburnett.

The bride is a graduate of Iowa Park High School. Posey graduated Burkburnett High School and currently is a senior engineering major at Midwestern State University.

For six months prior to the wedding, the groom had told his bride-to-be they were going to Dallas and San Antonio for their wedding trip. Upon arrival in Dallas, he surprised her with a trip to Puerto Vallarta.

For travel to Dallas the bride wore a teal two-piece suit with black trim on the jacket collar.

Cynthia Jean Harper and Matthew Ernest Haddock

December wedding planned

The engagement and forthcoming wedding plans of Cynthia Jean Harper and Matthew Ernest Haddock have been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Harper of Iowa Park.

The groom-to-be is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Haddock of Manvel.

A December 7 wedding at Faith Baptist Church is planned by the couple.

Miss Harper is a 1985 graduate of Iowa Park High School and currently is a student at Midwestern State University, where she is a junior Business Administration major. She is office manager at Entex Fabrication Inc.

Firemen elect officer

During a meeting of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Dept. Tuesday evening, John Virgin was elected to succeed Mark Wicks as assistant department chief.

Collections topic of program

Members of Amity Study Club met Monday evening in the home of Cheryl York, with Amy Brown serving as co-hostess.

Roll call was answered with each member naming her secret pal during the past year.

New members Amber Davis, Mary McIlroy and Celeste Reid were welcomed by Dorothy Palmer, president.

A program on Collections was presented by Margaret Denton. She said that American collectors spend $34-billion a year on collections. Coins are the most collected item, and bears, bunnies, colored glassware, political buttons, autographs, rolling pins, greeting cards, Santas, Mickey Mouse, antiques, iron door stops, mugs, stamps and bells are also popular.

She had asked members to bring samples of their own collections to the meeting.

The meditation was given by Marilyn Hale, who read from a book entitled "Come into the Mountains Dear Friend" by Susan Schutz.

Annetta Reusch gave the Federation Counselor's report. In a brief history, given to benefit the new members, she said that there are 1-million members in 14-thousand clubs in the United States. The GFWC, an international organization with 15-million women in 55 countries, started out to be leadership training. It was changed to working in the community to promote education, fitness, recycling and waste control.

Locally, Amity Study Club began in 1979, and federated in 1980. The club has worked to raise funds for the library, Christmas lights, city-wide clean-up week, and adopt a highway. Charter members still active are Margaret Denton, Marilyn Hale, Laura

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank everyone for the food, flowers, cards and visits following the loss of our loved one. A special thanks to Brother Ed Prince and members of the Iowa Park Church of God, Dr. Stutte, Dr. Soell and Steve Lowe. Your kindness and support is deeply appreciated.

The Family of Joe Bowen

Clement, Evelyn Ward and Annetta Reusch.

During the business meeting, it was announced that the fall workshop is set for Sept. 28, and Marilyn Hale will attend.

Plans for Whoop-T-Do were discussed, and the club will again have a face painting and pencil pull booth.

The project of the month was back to school supplies. As the members arrived for the meeting, they dropped supplies into a bag, and the contents will be distributed to the schools to be used as needed.

Following adjournment of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Price teaches tree limb painting

Kathy Price presented the program Tuesday night when the Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association met at TU Electric's Reddy Room. She taught the members how to paint tree limbs to look like Santa Claus for the Christmas season.

President Gail McIlroy conducted the business portion of the meeting in which the Arts and Crafts Show at the Whoop-T-Do was discussed. There will be 13 classes for people to enter in the show, which is open to everyone.

Agriculture students to speak at FFA Booster Club meeting

Hot dogs and chips will be served to those attending the FFA Booster Club meeting Monday night. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Vocational-Agricultural Bldg. at the high school.

For the program, some of the ag students will talk about their projects, and the project shows beginning this fall will be discussed.

The meeting is part of a membership drive, and anyone interested in, or new to agriculture is encouraged to attend.

Kristene Marie Zotz and Jimmy Alan Smith

Announce engagement

Kristene Marie Zotz and Jimmy Alan Smith are announcing their engagement and approaching marriage.

The ceremony, scheduled for Nov. 2, will take place at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Windthorst.

Parents of the couple are Joseph and Lugenia Zotz of Windthorst, and Bob and Joyce Smith of Iowa Park.

Workshop planned for parents of special education students

A workshop for parents of special needs children will be held Saturday, Sept. 21, in Wichita Falls.

To begin at 9 a.m., the session will be held at the Region Nine Education Service Center on Loop 11.

Topic of the workshop, which is free to those attending, is "Transitional planning from school to adult life."

Mary Harris and Charles Byars will be the speakers.

The ABC's of Pain Relief

- Over-the-counter pain relievers contain aspirin, ibuprofen or acetaminophen. One may be better for you than another. Here are a few points on each.
- Aspirin, acetaminophen and ibuprofen all reduce fever.
- Aspirin and ibuprofen reduce pain and inflammation of arthritis.
- Aspirin may reduce the risk of heart attack in people with heart disease.
- Aspirin can cause stomach irritation.
- Ibuprofen has an excellent safety record and relieves menstrual cramps.
- Since acetaminophen doesn't irritate the stomach, it can be used by people with ulcers or aspirin allergies.
- Certain medical conditions make taking pain relievers unsafe. For example, children or teenagers with chicken pox or the flu should not be given aspirin.
- Always consult your doctor or pharmacist before trying a new over-the-counter pain reliever. Make certain that it will not interfere with your diet, medical condition or medication that you are taking.

As I See It

By Bob Hamilton

I'm going to have to break a habit, and it's gonna be tough to do.

No, I'm not yet ready to succumb to the suggestions of my friends that I quit smoking. That's still in the future, if ever.

This habit is one, however, that is about as old as my smoking.

I've gotta start putting on my seat belt every time I get in my car or pickup.

I got the word at the police station Wednesday: officers are going to start strict enforcement of the state law which requires the use of seat belts.

We've read about how state money has been used in Wichita Falls and a few other cities to hire off-duty officers to do extra work enforcing the use of seat belts.

Well, our department isn't getting any extra money for extra enforcement (surprise you?), but you can take my word for it: enforcement is here.

I have for several months been consistent about hooking up any time I got on the highway, where the DPS troopers are known for their efforts on that topic.

But I must admit that I've been lax in doing it here in town.

"Why in the world would I want to hook up to drive from one block to another?" I asked.

"Well, because the same law applies to seat belts as it does to stop at a stop sign, and you always make sure you do that," was the response.

How could I argue?

Officers will be issuing warning tickets to most first-time offenders, I'm told, but that is only for a short time. And second-time offenders can just figure on reporting to municipal court.

Any objections I have to the law will now just have to be directed to our elected state officials.

That statement sounded good, but after what that bunch has been doing to us on other issues, I realize that won't do any good, either.

Oh, well. A word to the wise: BETTER BUCKLE UP!

Letters to Editor policy explained

The Leader receives numerous letters which cannot, for one reason or another, be published.

Letters will not be printed unless they are signed. A typed name will not do. And, for the sake of verification, the writer's telephone should be included.

Should the writer not wish his/her name printed, it will be omitted upon request. However, the letter will be kept on file to be read upon request.

Letters also must be free of libel. If not, they will not be published, because we will not edit their content.

Corrections will not be made if they change the message in any way, but will be edited to enhance their content.

In letters supporting political candidates or issues, the Leader reserves the right to limit their lengths.

We encourage your Letters to the Editor, and offer the paper as your forum for discussions of ideas and observations.

Worth Quoting

Mental lightbulbs are going off across the state concerning the school finance bill and CED legislation.

Many West Texas school districts and a scattering of districts across the state have been howling in protest since the scheme was first introduced.

These West Texas districts were dismissed by the majority because of the oil wealth that was a driving force behind the CED concept. The concept or driving force was to negate the individual tax bases in a local area so that no one district has more property wealth than any other area.

But now others are beginning to see the light . . . this is going to cost taxpayers across the state a bundle . . . and logical, thoughtful people are concluding this will not improve the education of our students.

It is a way to:
1. Force a state income tax;
2. Shift more taxes down to local property owners and taxpayers.

It also is:
1. Socialistic - it takes local taxable value and money from one independent district and gives to another through a complicated scheme of proration from the state;

2. Unconstitutional. It is a state property tax. What the state is not telling you is that local districts will get some monies from the CED, but will see their state allocations cut a commensurate amount.

The lightbulbs are going off around the state now because people are just realizing this aspect of the legislative action. Lightbulbs are also going off because tax rates will rise in rich and poor districts alike.

Here are a few more things you ought to think about.

* The current tax rate for RCISD is 84.6-cents.

* A CED is a separate taxing unit from RCISD. You will pay a local tax on your next tax statement of around 23-cents . . . and a separate CED tax of 77.5-cents.

* The minimum CED rate will rise from 72-cents to $1.00 in four years. At that time you could be looking at a $1.30 to $1.50 tax rate or so. This goes for property rich districts and property poor districts alike. Has this served poor taxpayers?

Reagan County High School was among the first school districts to receive the Governor's Educational Excellence awards. Reagan County was recognized as having an excellent school system to have received this award.

Our tax rate was reasonable. Now, with the prospect of massive tax increases, the question remains. Will we have better instruction and better schools?

Another matter of concern is . . . which local governing entity is next. With the addition of central appraisal units in each county, can control of county government be far behind?

I was recently quoted in a daily newspaper as saying "I would rather give the money to Saddam Hussein than to this CED scheme." That was an accurate, although tongue in cheek quote.

If education is the issue, then the legislature and the courts should allow the new commissioner of education time to implement changes in the system. If this is a matter of control, then someone has their priorities wrong.

There is a grassroots protest in progress. Someone saw a bumper sticker the other day. It read, "Don't re-elect anybody."

That bumper sticker was surely referring to members of the legislature and the courts. If the trend is not reversed, that is the ultimate answer.

DAVID WERST
Big Lake Wildcat

If you believe in the Farmer's Almanac, you had better start looking for a warm winter coat. According to the almanac, the fog that we had in August should lead to a cold and snowy winter.

Even if you do not believe in the almanac, you might still want to consider buying an extra load of firewood. According to the Illinois weather forecasters and meteorologists, the eruption of Mt. Pinatubo in the Philippines will have an impact on our weather for the next few years.

The numerous volcanic eruptions produced the largest gas cloud of the century. At present the gas cloud, known as an aerosol, circles the globe and has covered all low-altitude regions.

The cloud has led to a decrease in solar radiation reaching the ground below the aerosol of over seven percent - what the meteorologist terms a "very significant reduction."

By October or November, the United States will get very vivid sunsets and sunrises announcing the arrival of the aerosol to the mid-latitudes. Big changes in our weather patterns will follow, though they'll be too late to affect this year's crop.

The best way to guess the effects of the aerosol is to assume that the climate has shifted south. Except that the normal climate 100 to 200 miles north of you at any time will be the climate you will experience during the coming year, the meteorologist explained.

Large volcanic aerosols usually reduce crop production in most regions of the world. But the first year following past eruptions has usually benefited the U.S.

The meteorologist's predictions include:

* Over the next two years, there will be a decrease in some key world crops.

* The weather in general will be more variable, with late spring frosts and early fall frosts in the mid-latitudes.

* Winters will be colder and longer and snow should lie on the ground longer.

The forecaster anticipates that those U.S. crops that had a good start probably will not be affected by the volcano. If they were planted late, or were just planted, they may be hurt by the weather of the next few months.

"One thing is certain, this autumn will be much shorter than those of the last three years," the meteorologist said.

The aerosol's effect is expected to have a dramatic effect in California, leading to abnormally higher rainfalls and an end to the drought.

Now go check the caterpillars and the hair on your cat and see if the forecaster is right.

David Robnett

It's not unusual now days for the man of the house to do some, or all, of the cooking. Often when we contact a woman to be Cook of the Week, she will say, "You should be talking to my husband, he's the cook!"

David Robnett said he became the chief cook around his house when his two oldest children were in college and his wife started working outside the home.

David, who is County Executive Director for the federal Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation District, says he does all the cooking now.

His wife, Diane, is a machine operator at the post office in Wichita Falls and often works 50 to 55 hours a week. After serving three terms on the Iowa Park City Council, she chose not to run for re-election this year.

David, a native of Duncan, Okla., and Diane, who grew up at Munday, met while both were attending Abilene Christian College. They were married between their sophomore and junior years.

Following college, David joined the Air Force, and the couple moved 11 times in seven years. They moved to Iowa Park in 1969, and decided this is where they wanted to stay.

Their children are Kevin, 27, an accountant for a grocery store chain in Abilene; Kari, 24, teaches school in Garland, and Kamron is a 16-year-old junior at Iowa Park High School.

The family are members of the Iowa Park Church of Christ where David is a deacon. He also is in charge of the Bible Class program and songleader.

Every summer he says the family likes to spend a week trout fishing in Colorado.

Like most busy people, David said he prefers to use recipes that are easy and quick. After reading over his recipes, it's evident that he is the kind of cook a lot of us would like to have around.

Stove Top Baked Beans

- 1 can pork and beans
 - 4 Tbsps. brown sugar
 - Minced onions to taste
 - 2 Tbsps. sweet pickle relish
 - 2 Tbsps. Bac-O's
 - 1/4 cup Kraft barbecue sauce
- Combine all ingredients; simmer 10-15 minutes in skillet.

Viola's Chicken & Dressing Casserole

- 4 large chicken breasts
- 1 - 10 1/2 oz. can cream of chicken soup
- 1 - 10 1/2 oz. can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 - 8 oz. package herb seasoned stuffing mix
- 1 stick margarine, melted

Cook chicken until tender. Remove from broth. Strain broth and reserve 2 2/3 cups. De-bone chicken and cut into small pieces; set aside. Combine chicken soup with half the broth, mix well and set aside. Combine mushroom soup with remaining broth, mix well and set aside.

Combine stuffing mix with melted margarine. Reserve 1/4 cup for garnish. Spoon mixture into lightly greased 13x9x2 baking dish and top with the chicken. Then cover with the chicken soup and mushroom soup. Bake at 350 degrees 30-45 minutes.

Corn Casserole

- Mix together:
 - 2 eggs, beaten
 - 2 cans cream style corn
 - 1 can whole kernel corn, drained
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
 - 1 small jar chopped pimiento
 - 1 box (8 1/2 oz.) Jiffy corn muffin mix
- Pour into greased baking dish (8 1/2 x 13) and dot with 1 stick margarine. Bake 25-30 minutes at 400 degrees or until lightly browned.

Hamburger/Dorito Casserole

- 1 lb. ground beef
 - 1 onion
 - 1 can mushroom soup
 - 1/2 can green chilies
 - 1 large can evaporated milk
 - 1 can Cheddar cheese soup
 - 1/2 package taco seasoning mix
 - 1 - 9 oz. package taco seasoned Doritos
- Brown meat and onion. Crush Doritos and put half in baking dish. Cover with meat and other items mixed together. Top with other half of Doritos. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

Chicken Spaghetti

- 1 chicken, boiled and de-boned; save broth
- 1 lb. spaghetti, cooked until tender in broth

Add: 1 can cream of chicken soup and most of a pound of Velveeta cheese. Salt and pepper to taste.

You may add mushrooms, if desired.

Vegetable Salad

- 2 cans shoe peg corn
- 1 cup French style green beans
- 1 can English peas
- Large jar pimientos
- 1 1/2 cup diced celery
- 1 cup diced green pepper
- 1 small onion, chopped

Heat to boiling, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup salad oil and 3/4 cup vinegar. Pour over vegetables. Chill overnight before serving.

BROWN-CAVETT BACK & NECK CHIROPRACTIC

DR. DANIEL R. BROOM

HEADACHES

Headaches are the most frequent reason people seek medical care. Pain from headaches ranges from mild to severe to the daily activities of many patients. Causes of headaches are genetics psychological, neurological, vascular, biomechanical, environmental, etc...One of the most commonly over-looked causes of headache is cervicogenic headache or headache related to the neck. Many headaches are caused by irritation to the nerves that exit the spine in the upper neck. These nerves provide most of the sensation to the back and sides of the head and to the forehead over the eyes. When these upper nerves are irritated, headache radiating from the back of the skull to the temple or over the eyes may result. Irritation of these nerves often caused by whiplash injuries, jobs that require one to hold their neck in a fixed posture for long intervals such as a secretary, assembly worker, telephone operator, dentist and factory workers.

The most appropriate treatment for this type of headache is chiropractic manipulation. There have been many studies done on manipulation as a treatment for cervicogenic headaches with the latest being done by researchers at Maribor General Hospital. A group of 100 patients with these headaches were treated with spinal manipulation. Within three weeks of treatment, 75% had a good reduction in the headaches. When questioned after one year, 25% had had no headaches, and 65% had maintained a good improvement in the number and severity of the headaches. These were exceptional results when it is considered that most of these patients had had their headaches on and off for years.

The more that is learned about headaches, the more apparent two facts become. The first is that many headaches are caused by nerve irritation in the upper neck, and the second is that chiropractic manipulation is an effective treatment for this common problem.

I BELIEVE IN YOUTH

One of the things I enjoy most is going to a high school football game, visiting with friends, and cheering for our youth letting them know we are proud of them and will always stand behind them. I love the enthusiasm and optimism of youth. It is always good for the young people of the community to know that we as adults are proud of them and are ready, willing, and able to cheer them on to greater heights.

In addition to the football game, I love to hear the band and see them march. I marvel at the musical ability and talent our youth possess. It always means just a little more to you when those you know and love are performing! When I heard the drum roll, I just knew it had to be Charlie Bradberry! As I watched them perform I was happy for and proud of the accomplishments of Karlee Barrington, Kamron Robnett, Charlie Bradberry and Jason Lytle. To those I do not know, I salute you for your talent and ability.

Our Eternal God is also mindful of youth. In His Word He reveals, "remember now your Creator in the days of your youth" (Ecclesiastes 12:1). Of individuals I have known, none have complained about obedience to God while they were young or ever had any regrets of being mindful of God and His commandments. Paul's words of wisdom to a young man named Timothy are equally vital today: "be an example of the believers in word, in manner of life, in love, in spirit, in faith, in purity." When a person is young, it is difficult to think of yourself as an example or a person whom others look up to and admire. Godly youth are an inspiration to people of all ages!

Mrs. Williams' handwork on display

Three examples of decorative handwork by Phletious Williams will be on display for the next month at three local business establishments.

This is in cooperation with the Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association's commitment to feature their members and some of the work they have learned to do, or have demonstrated in club meetings through the year.

Mrs. Williams will have on display a beautiful and colorful maple leaf quilt, a needlepoint picture of apple blossoms and red birds, and a stiffy basket. Places they will be displayed are State National Bank, Tom Burnett Memorial Library and Sunbelt Savings and Loan.

She enjoys quilting and makes many baby quilts for friends and family. She is in the process of working on a crosstitch quilt and she also likes to applique quilt blocks.

The former Phletious Lemond, a 1947 graduate of W.F. George High School, and Williams celebrated their 41st wedding anniversary Sept. 9. They have two children, Kim (Mrs. Mike) Haire of Vernon, and Kyle of Wichita Falls.

Active in First Baptist Church for many years, she serves as secretary of the high school department and is a member of the Women's Missionary Union. Williams is a deacon of the church.

Hawks fall to state-ranked 'Dogs

Mean Green leads score at halftime

Iowa Park's 24-7 season-opening loss Friday night to Burkburnett might have been a major disappointment in years past.

But, according to the fans who witnessed the traditional battle between the Hawks and Bulldogs, the Mean Green has no reason to not be proud of their outing.

Iowa Park all but played the visiting 'Dogs off their feet during the first half, which ended with the Hawks leading, 7-3.

The knowledgeable fans quickly point to the fact that Burk is not only a much larger school in enrollment, and also was the Dist. 5-AAAA champion that advanced all the way to the quarterfinals in 1990.

After the Hawks scored on a 15-yard pass from Robert Denton to Joel McIlroy and Todd Pulley kicked the extra point to take a 7-0 lead in the first quarter, Iowa Park virtually played the Bulldogs off their feet.

But for a 25-yard field goal early in the second quarter that narrowed the score to 7-3, the Mean Green defense almost totally humiliated Burkburnett.

The 'Dogs were limited to a minus eight yards rushing in the second period, but completed four of 12 pass attempts for 29 yards.

It was the third quarter -- in fact a 4:07

JOEL McILROY SCORES ON 15-YARD PASS AS STORMY McDONALD BLOCKS

period -- that spelled the difference in the game's outcome.

During that narrow time frame, Burk scored all three of its touchdowns: an 11-yard pass to cap a 70-yard drive; a 42-yard pass on its second play of a 51-yard drive; and a two-yard run after taking over on the Dogs' 19 because of a fumbled handoff.

Other than those few moments of that disastrous third quarter, Burkburnett was able to accumulate some impressive statistics on big plays, but was held out of the end zone.

McIlroy's touchdown capped a four-play, 50-yard drive which was highlighted by another pass. That also was a Denton-to-McIlroy connection that covered 38 yards.

"I felt that long (40-yard) touchdown pass really hurt us," Head Hawk Lucky Gamble said later. "If it could have stayed at 10-7, we might have been able to pull it out somehow."

Gamble admitted his team, which is still in the process of learning his new offensive formation, has a lot of improving to do. Especially the offensive line, which allowed four sacks of Denton, the quarterback, and caused him also to rush several passes.

Junior Chris Williams was the Hawks' leading ground-gainer, picking up 43 net yards on 14 carries. Johnny Duggins carried five times for 14 yards, all in the second period.

The Hawks suffered three turnovers, all fumbles. Burk had only one miscue, also a fumble covered by Jason Miller. Neither team had an interception.

Burkburnett backs during the entire first half were actually held to minus yardage, when they tried the interior of the line. One of the major obstacles was middle linebacker T.J. Bean, who's name was called out time and again by the announcer as being the tackler. Burk's only success at running was on two plays outside the ends.

Big defensive plays by Iowa Park included two 10-yard setbacks by Jason Dudley, and Shawn Green and Miller.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Two signs of the times at the Texas Legislature recently:

Gov. Ann Richards signed the new $59 billion budget, complaining there was no way to figure out the "complicated mass of bureaucratic mumbo jumbo."

Speaker Gib Lewis created a 19-member select committee to study the way the House operates. Lewis' critics say the speaker is feeling pressure to return to the House rules used before he and his successor, Billy Clayton, changed them.

Lewis installed state Rep. Ron Wilson as chairman of the committee. Wilson, D-Houston, a powerful voice in the House Black Caucus, is also chairman of the Liquor Regulation Committee.

Critics point out that Lewis stacked the deck by leaving off the House members such as Al Price of Beaumont; Dan Kubiak of Rockdale; Paul Moreno of El Paso; and Billy Clemons of Pollok, all of whom have introduced reform bills.

In the matter of the budget, Richards urged that future budgets be written so that citizens of Texas other than CPAs with code-breaking skills could read them.

In today's Texas government, an official's ability to hide tax money, or to find where it's hidden, is an asset. Especially if one can go back and use it for one's purposes.

Camouflaged Money

Much like parents who know if their teenagers believe the money's not there, they won't ask for it, some high Texas officials camouflage revenues from interest groups and lawmakers below the leadership level.

The practice is so well established that whenever new money is "discovered," there's always speculation as to whether it was "hidden."

Examples which occurred last week involved the treasurer, comptroller, the Senate and the state wildlife agency.

After Comptroller John Sharp, a Democrat, said no money was available for state workers' pay raises, Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison, a Republican who had projected all along a surplus of about $750 million, said the state had a cash balance of $1.005 billion.

Much of the $750 million already had been appropriated by lawmakers for the next two years.

Hutchison said an upturn in certain segments of the Texas' economy resulted in the additional surplus, which Sharp said is enough to fund most of the pay raise authorized by the Legislature. Now the average state worker will get an extra $36 per month.

21% Spending Hike

But at the Capitol, where lawmakers who hiked spending 21 percent with new taxes have been blaming it on new prisons and school finance, the new budget shows increased spending of $39 million (31 percent) for their State Capitol operations.

The House budget was cut slightly, but the Senate's jumped $8.4 million, or 22 percent.

After Senate Secretary Betty King explained that $2.5 million was for two new units in the Legislative Budget Board, a surprised LBB head Jim Oliver told a reporter he knew nothing about that particular funding.

And the Legislature is using for its own purposes the money paid by sportsmen dedicated for fish and wildlife conservation, said Alan Allen, director of the Sportsmen Conservationists of Texas.

Allen said $1.5 million from state fees for licenses and stamps were quietly diverted by state lawmakers, thus jeopardizing $15 million in federal matching funds.

Hutchison Urges Action

As the voters have decreed, the clique of inside money managers at the Capitol is predominately Democrats.

However, voters also put one fly in their ointment: Treasurer Hutchison, a Republican.

Hutchison keeps the books that Richards used to keep, and she has not only been urging the GOP line of restraint on spending and taxes, she's been pointing out ways to save.

Last week, she urged voters to approve bond money for new prisons, and criticized Democrats for not playing harder to remove a court-ordered 95 percent prison occupancy cap.

She said Attorney General Dan Morales should be ready to appeal to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals if the judge refuses relief.

Other Highlights

Richards line-item vetoed more than $800,000 from the Public Utility Commission budget, perhaps the only state agency still dominated by Republicans. "Either it's a partisan political hit by the governor, or we have had a determination that they do not want utilities regulated," said PUC Commissioner Marta Greytok.

TEC assumes Payday Law responsibility

When the 71st Legislature in 1989 transferred Payday Law responsibility from the former Texas Department of Labor and Standards to the Texas Employment Commission (TEC), few realized the enormity of the task ahead.

"The Texas Payday Law was enacted in 1915 to investigate disputed wage claims between employees and employers, and giving the TEC enforcement authority after all these years may have seemed a logical move," says TEC commissioner Mary Scott Nabers,

"but unsettled claims from the Department of Labor and Standards had reached very large numbers, and that was only the beginning of a long line of problems for the TEC."

The 71st Legislature tightened enforcement procedures and strengthened claimants' rights which created more work for an already understaffed program.

New laws required 130 regional TEC offices to begin taking claims and to distribute information about the law to the public, increasing the number of claims filed.

"Greater enforcement and public knowledge of the law meant the need for more investigators, hearing referees, and wage collection and penalty assessment personnel," Nabers said.

"To our dismay Governor Clements signed the legislation, but vetoed the majority of funding for administration of the new law," she adds. "We suddenly found ourselves at a standstill."

What this bit of history means to Texans seeking unpaid wages today is they are in for a long wait.

According to Nabers, in addition to the backlog of approximately 7,000 cases, 900 claims are filed each month with TEC offices, so little relief is in sight.

"We have collected over $1 million in wage claims for employees, but the continually increasing number of claims being filed is keeping us far behind in serving the citizens of Texas. We have been forced to tell claimants that the wait for settling claims could now take as long as 17 months," Nabers said.

IOWA PARK SCHOOL MENU

Fish fry slated

The annual Finnell Fish Fry, sponsored by the Committee for Responsible Representation, will be held Thursday, Oct. 3, at the Holliday school cafeteria.

Although no names have been released, a statewide elected official described as the "leading architect of state government streamlining" is scheduled to give the keynote address in support of Finnell, according to Don Talley, committee treasurer.

The fund-raising event comes on the heels of the end of the special sessions and prior to Finnell's 1992 primary and general re-election campaign.

Finnell's district has been enlarged from nine to 13 counties during the recent realignment action.

Girl Scouts seek members

Girl Scouts are now enrolling members, with programs for members in kindergarten through high school seniors.

Registration can be through the prospective member's respective school or by calling the Girl Scout Service Center at 723-4336.

JV dumps Burkburnett

Iowa Park's Junior Varsity defeated Burkburnett in their season-opener Thursday, but the Bulldogs' Freshmen had too much kick return power and won that half of the doubleheader.

The JV thumped Burk 28-8, while the Frosh were edged 42-21.

Both teams will be in action before home crowd for the first time this season tonight in Hawk Stadium, but they won't be playing the same schools.

The Freshmen are to kick off against Bowie's ninth graders at 5:30. After that contest, the Hawk JV will host Quannah.

Speedsters Brent Brown and Scott Byrd each had a pair of touchdowns in the JV debut.

Brown, who alternated with Tony Lozipone at the quarterback position, scored first on a quarterback sneak, and then repeated for a two-point conversion.

The first quarter ended in an 8-8 tie. But Byrd had two long scoring plays in the second period to give Iowa Park all the scoring they would need for the evening.

He first rounded right end 50 yards, and then came back with a Lozipone catch on a play that covered about 60 yards. Both extra point attempts failed.

Brown apparently mastered the quarterback sneak play, because in the third period he ran it again, and raced 55 yards untouched to the 'Dog end zone.

Byrd ran for the two pointer. The Frosh defense was credited with much of Iowa Park's success.

For instance, Tim Denton, Stan Tigrett, Billy Flippin and Brown each covered Bulldog fumbles. Also, Tigrett had an interception, as did lineman Michael Seigler.

Chris Eaves led the sac corps with two. Carl Rose, Josua Johnson, Byrd and Flippin made up the corps' balance, with one apiece.

Lozipone sidelined Burk's kickoff returner on the opening play with a vicious hit, and Michael Frazier also was credited with a big hit by coach David Fuhrman.

Frosh coach Steve Stewart couldn't hide his disappointment with the loss of the Freshman team, and pledged the club would be working hard all this week on special teams coverage.

Unable to maintain a drive on their first series, the young Hawks punted.

Their coverage was as instructed, with a crowd encircling the ball as it bounced almost still.

But a Bulldog raced into the group, picked up the ball, and ran it back for a touchdown.

The hosts also returned a kickoff for a score, and set up another on a similar play with a return to the Hawk 10 yard line.

Down 35-7 at the halftime break, Iowa Park was credited with playing a much better game the second half, outscoring their hosts 14-7.

Chad Simpson ran for two touchdowns and a two-point conversion. Jason Young scored the other TD, and Clint Scoobe kicked an extra point.

SEASON OPENERS for Iowa Park Junior High football teams were played against Burkburnett Tuesday in Hawk Stadium. The Seventh Grade "B" team, shown here, won 18-6, but the Seventh Grade "A" team lost 22-6 and Eighth Grade also lost, 24-7.

Cheerleaders' Point of View

The football team is up for a big win against Abilene Wylie Bulldogs Friday night. The game will be played in Abilene. We encourage as much of the town as possible to come and cheer the new Hawks on to a victory.

Our theme for the week is "Box the Bulldogs." The student body has been asked to wear boxer shorts Friday to school. Good luck Hawks. Beat Wylie - Win State! We'll see you there!

A Funny Thing Happens When People Put Down A Newspaper.

They Start Spending Money.

Nothing puts people in the mood to buy like newspaper. In fact, most people consider it almost a prerequisite to any spending spree. Because that's where they make their decisions on where to shop and what to buy. Not on tv. And not jammed in little envelopes that come uninvited in the mail.

71% say newspaper is the place they turn for shopping advice. The place where they actually look forward to seeing the ads. And set aside the time to read them. That message comes through in study after study. More importantly, it also comes through in sales. Of course, if you want further proof of newspaper's effectiveness, run an ad and you can see it firsthand.

Newspaper. It's The Best Way To Close A Sale.
