Council praises resident with resolution

A resolution approved Monday by the city council recognized a citizen, Paul Duffey, "for his actions preventing further damage to his neighbors' property."

Mayor Wayne House explained Duffey had detected a problem with sewer backing up at his 1310 Sunset home, and took action to prevent similar damage to neighboring homes.

According to the mayor, the problem developed a couple of weeks ago when a contractor was removing water from a new landfill pit (a state requirement), and was depositing it into the sewer line on Park Plaza.

Mud picked up with the water was apparently clogging the sewer line, causing it to begin backing up into homes in the neighborhood.

Duffey, the mayor pointed out, was quick to recognize the problem, and went to several neighboring homes where he opened the cleanout valves, preventing damage inside the homes.

"He saved his neighbors, as well as the city, a lot of damage and money," House proclaimed.

Council to begin work to name administrator

The city council Monday night decided to hold a called meeting next Monday, to select from a field of 70 applicants those they want to interview for the office of city administrator.

Because individual abilities will be included in the discussions, and no other topics to be taken up, most of the meeting is expected to be held in executive session. It is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Mayor Wayne House has asked each alderman to study copies of applicants they have been provided, and have their selections narrowed down to their top 10.

A second meeting date was discussed, but not officially set, because Alderman Johnny Crawford said he would be out of town a few days, including Monday, and House stated he desired all council members to be present when the finalists were decided.

The position has been vacant since the first of the month, after James Barrington resigned to accept a similar position in Florida.

Discussion of progress on the new Recreational Activities Building took more time than any other topic of the evening, but no action was taken. Members of the RAC board were on hand to answer questions.

The mayor had proposed partitions for three smaller meeting rooms in the structure to be built by a contractor, but Crawford said the proper order of finishing the interior of the building would be to first have the ceiling installed.

House said his main interest was to continue work on the building, and he thought the partitions were next in order.

No action was taken on what work would next be done, but a discussion was held on a contract between the city and the RAC for use of the building which is owned by the city.

A change in the contract discussed requires full RAC board approval, so that document was not finalized at the meeting.

Also during the lengthy discussion, Crawford, himself a construction contractor, said he had told the RAC building committee he would provide cost estimates as well as use of his equipment for installation, at no cost.

Alderman Diane Robnett said she felt there should be no more delays in work on the building, and moved that the city contract for work to complete the ceiling.

The motion passed, 4-1, with Crawford voting against it.

Two ordinances were approved by the council. One concerns the requirement of bonds for certain contractors and the other the residency of key city employees.

A local requirement for refrigeration and air-conditioning contractors to take out bonds to work on projects in the city was cancelled, when it was noted those same contractors also are required by the state to have the same type bonds, which is a duplication.

The other ordinance amendment now requires the city administrator, police chief and public works director to reside inside the city limits.

Previously, only the city secretary had been under such a requirement, and that is provided by state law.

Aldermen approved a "tracer test" at the water treatment plant, to determine how long chlorine stays in the plant. Required by new state law, the test will be conducted during the summer and will cost between $10,000 and $12,000, aldermen were told.

Two arrested during week

Two arrests were reported on the police blotter during the past week, but neither was related to three criminal mischief complaints that were filed during the same time period.

A domestic disturbance Saturday night in the 200 block of West Aldine resulted in the arrest of David Mark Spruiell Jr., 22, on two different charges.

Police responded at 9:52 to that address after receiving a call concerning a fight taking place in the yard.

Spruiell was initially taken into custody on a Class C assault charge.

But, upon arrival at the police station, where he was to be kept in the city's temporary jail overnight, he refused to allow his personal items in his pockets to be removed for inventory, a common practice by police.

Upon his refusal, a "minor" tussle reportedly ensued. Spruiell was subdued, but two officers sustained minor injuries as a result.

Consequently, at 7 a.m. Sunday, when he would have been released on bond, a charge of "resisting arrest/search" was filed against him. Spruiell was then transported to county jail, according to the blotter.

The other arrest was filed in the

BY CHAMBER

Citizens are recognized

Those are the names of the four Iowa Parkans who were recognized Saturday night during the annual Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Price was named Outstanding Citizen of the Year; Mrs. Lowe the Outstanding Senior Citizen; Davis the Outstanding Educator, and Isbell the outstanding Agriculturist.

Each was presented a plaque, and their names will likewise be engraved on permanent plaques displayed at the Chamber building.

Joe Hughes was installed as the new Chamber president, by outgoing president Harold Smith, who also served as master of ceremonies for the evening.

First vice president is now Gene Jordan, and Larry Dutton took the office of second vice president.

Ron Mertens, president of the Wichita Falls Board of Commerce and Industry, was the principal speaker of the evening.

Observing the banquet's decorations theme was in observance of the 50th anniversary of Sheppard Air Force Base, Mertens said the base contributed approximately one-third of the overall economic activity in the immediate area, which accounts for $230-million.

And can only increase, he added, with the closure of Chanute AFB in Illinois, sending the majority of its training programs to Sheppard.

Muted comments were noticeable among those in the audience when the speaker stated the area's second-largest employer was the State Mental Hospital in southern Wichita Falls.

On whatever economic effect the national recession might have on the area, Mertens said, "We had a vote at the BCI recently, and elected not to participate in the recession."

President Hughes, upon accepting his installation to office, said, "We're going to continue to promote the activities that bring business to town, support Sheppard Air Force Base, and initiate a couple of new promotions."

He did not elaborate on what the new promotions might be.

The applause given by the audience at the end of the program provided by the North Texas Men's Chorus indicated approval of its performance.

While it was noted several members of the chorus were present or former residents of Iowa Park, Darrell Dick, the director, also pointed out two of the members, Dr. Erwin Soell and Dr. James Edwards, had both previously served as presidents of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Outstanding Citizen of the Year is the director of Public Works for the city of Iowa Park. He is a life-long resident of the city, and was graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1973.

Price began working for the city while in high school as a laborer. "Few other individuals of Mike's age (35) have contributed so much to the community, and few of any age have been so involved in making Iowa Park a better place to live," said Gene Jordan in making the award announcement.

A member of Baptist Church, Price has either served as an officer or member of Little League Baseball, Rotary Club, Ducks Unlimited, Iowa Park Trap Club, Chaparral Assembly and Texas City Management Association.

Whenever there is a worthy project, either as an activity or fund-raising for the Friendly Door, Mrs. Lowe is always one of the hardest workers, said Larry Dutton when he surprised the recipient of the award.

Not mentioned, however, was the fact that for many years, Mrs. Lowe served the community each year dressed as Santa Claus. To this day, there are very few people who were aware.

"There are many others who deserve this award, also," said Davis after accepting his award from Glen Mitchell.

Davis joined the Iowa Park faculty as a classroom teacher in 1970, and advanced into administration to now serve as principal of Bradford Elementary.

Isbell is the District Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, and during the past 13 years has assisted farmers in the planning and construction of water ways and terraces and, in general, improving conservation of the land in Wichita County, stated Gene Jordan as he was announcing the Agriculturist award.

"He has initiated programs within the public schools to teach all students the value of water and soil conservation. Numerous farmers, businessmen, teachers and students have won county, regional and state awards for conservation because of the assistance provided by Mike," said the announcer.

Trustees to narrow coach applications

A called meeting of Iowa Park school trustees will be held Monday night, with the primary purpose of narrowing down the field of applications for head football coach and athletic director.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in the administration building.

Most of the meeting will be held in executive session, while trustees discuss the merits of applicants for the post vacated by the resignation of Len Williams.

One additional topic is on the meeting agenda. That is to act on bids for furniture to be used at the junior high school.

Board members expect to call the coaching finalists for interviews.

Though no date for naming a new coach has been set, board members in a general discussion mentioned Feb. 15.

New postal rates start Sunday

New postal rates will go into effect Sunday, Feb. 3, according to an announcement by the U.S. Postal Service.

That is when a letter will require 29-cents postage and cards 19-cents.

Letters mailed that date or later can use a 25-cent stamp with either the "make up" stamp or four one-cent stamps.

The 15-cent post card will also require the "make up" stamp or four additional one-cent stamps, since it will require 19-cents.

There is also a new "flower" stamp which can be used for first class letters. It does not have the monetary denomination printed on it, but is valued at 29-cents.

Both the "make up" and "flower" stamps will remain in circulation until new 29-cent stamps can be printed, the Postal Service stated.

Both can be used for mail to U.S. addresses and APO/FPO military addresses, but neither should be used for international mail, including letters and cards to Canada and Mexico.

International mail requires stamps with a printed numeric value.

Disney, Teel wedding vows solemnized recently in Dallas ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. John Hampton Teel have established residence in Oklahoma City following their marriage Jan. 12 in Dallas and a honeymoon in Orlando, Fla.

The bride is the former Moneita Lynn Disney, daughter of Charles and Gwen Disney of Dallas. Teel is the son of M.H. "Bud" and Barbara Teel of Wichita Falls.

The couple exchanged marriage vows at Central Church of the Nazarene at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in a ceremony that was written by them.

Officiating ministers were the groom's grandfather, Rev. T.O. Parsons, retired Nazarene elder, and Rev. Orville Jenkins, Jr., pastor of the Dallas church.

Sanctuary decorations were planned to compliment the stained glass windows on either side. Staircases where the attendants descended and criss-crossed to take their places were along side the windows. Hot pink and teal bows cascaded down the staircases from the balcony of the church.

A large white basket filled with assorted white flowers decorated with a large white bow formed the altar background. Large green plants with white bows were placed at the altar extremities. Hurricane lamps lined altar railings that were trimmed with hot pink and teal iridescent bows.

Twin seven-branched candelabras, trimmed with greenery, white flowers and large white bows, accented either side of the communion table that was covered with a cloth of white Battenburg lace.

The table held a silver chalice inscribed "This Do In Remembrance of Me" and a silver bread tray completed the communion elements. A pearl white unity candle was etched with a seed pearl heart design and held a black inscription of love.

Pews were marked with hot pink bows and family pews were marked with larger hot pink and teal bows.

Dr. Ronald A. Hough, professor of organ at Midwestern State University, presented the prelude composed of some of the bridegroom's favorite pieces from Dr. Hough's repertoire. Teel had been a student of Dr. Hough's since he was a sophomore in Iowa Park High School until he transferred from MSU last year.

The bridegroom accompanied soloist Shelly Grindstaff as she sang "Wind Beneath My Wings" preceding the ceremony. Rosemary Byrd of Oklahoma City served as pianist for the remainder of the ceremony.

As the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. T.O. Parsons, was seated and mothers of the bride and groom approached the communion table with lighted family candles to place in the unity arrangement, the pianist played "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring".

The wedding processional was "The Trumpet Voluntary." After the bride was presented to the groom by her father, they paused at the base of the stairway while Lydia Little, cousin of the groom, sang "We Are Standing on Holy Ground." At the close of the song and as the couple proceeded to the altar, the congregation sang "Now Thank We All Our God." During the ceremony the congregation sang "A Christian Home," and the choral response at the close of the ceremony was the "Doxology."

Shelley Grindstaff sang "The Glory of Love" after parents of the bride and groom had promised to love and pray daily for their "new" child. During the ceremony a special reading that the bride had for the groom was read by Rev. Jenkins, and at the close the groom sang "I Will Be Here" to the bride.

During communion and lighting of the unity candle, Rosemary Byrd played "The Lord's Prayer." The recessional was Toccata from "Organ Symphony # 5" --C.M. Widor. During the time pictures were made entertainment was provided by Dr. Hough and Rosemary Byrd, who played a number of tunes from the "Disney" theme.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of bridal satin and illusion embellished with lace designs sprinkled with seed pearls. The fitted bodice featured a Victorian neckline and puffed sleeves that terminated in a point over the wrists. The bodice came to a deep V in front and was closed in the back by tiny satin covered buttons.

Ruffles accented the back of the skirt that ended in a cathedral length train. The bride's pouf veil of illusion was caught with a large bow etched in pearls to a floral and pearl headpiece of layers of tulle and sprigs of flowers and pearls. She carried out the tradition of "something old, new, borrowed and blue." Her jewelry was pearl, ruby and diamond earrings, a gift from the groom on their wedding day.

The bride carried a cascading arrangement of roses, tiger lillies, lily of the valley, gladioli and English ivy. Pearls and satin ribbon were intertwined through the bouquet and from the handle satin streamers were tied in love knots.

Melinda Wilkerson of Bethany, Okla., served as maid of honor. She wore a black tea length gown of moire taffeta styled with puffed sleeves and a scalloped neckline. Front of the bodice was closed with jeweled buttons and featured bows at the shoulders.

She carried a long stemmed bouquet of hot pink roses trimmed with teal and hot pink streamers.

Jennifer Teel of Wichita Falls, sister of the groom, was junior bridesmaid.

She wore a floor length dress of white moire taffeta designed with a v-shaped dropped waist. Cuffs of the puffed sleeves were caught with white moire taffeta rosettes.

Back of the skirt was tiered with ruffles and a large bow marked the waistline. Her headpiece was a floral and pearl wreath with long white satin streamers from the back. Her bouquet was a small replica of the bridal bouquet with accents of teal.

Bridesmaids were Julie Kneir of Duncan, Okla., Shelly Grindstaff and Christy Grindstaff, both of Dallas. They were identically attired as the maid of honor.

Jill Cox and Dawn Wilson of Dallas acted as candelighters. They wore black tea length dresses and corsages of tiger lillies and English ivy.

Flower girls were twin sisters, Danae and Danielle Herbert of Dallas. Their costumes were of hot pink moire taffeta styled with puffed sleeves and dropped waists.

Skirts of the dresses were double ruffles with bows and rosettes at the waistline. They each wore a headpiece of floral wreaths with white and teal streamers at the back.

Each carried a heart shaped white lace trimmed basket with teal bows filled with teal and hot pink pot-pourri. They completed their attire with ruffled hot pink Mickey Mouse socks.

Ring bearer was Adam Little of Wichita Falls, cousin of the groom. His scroll collared black tuxedo with teal bow tie and cummerbund was identical to the other male attendants. He wore a Mickey Mouse lapel pin.

David Turnbow of Wichita Falls served as the groom's best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Brian Diamond, Wichita Falls, cousin of the groom, Clayton Disney, Dallas, brother of the bride, Eric Sanderson and Dean Sanderson, both of Topeka, Ks., and Tommy Morgan of Oklahoma City.

Their boutonnieres were hot pink roses with touches of teal.

The bridegroom wore a black double-breasted scroll collared tuxedo with a white bow tie and cummerbund and a boutonniere of white roses and baby's breath. He completed his attire with a Mickey Mouse gold Seiko watch, a gift from the bride on their wedding day.

As the couple left the sanctuary at the close of the ceremony, the groom presented the bride's mother with a long stemmed white rose, and the bride presented his mother with an identical white rose.

Parents of the couple hosted the reception in the church parlor. The bride's chosen colors of hot pink and teal were used in the decorations. Baskets of flowers in these colors were used throughout the room.

The tables were appointed with silver candelabras with hot pink and teal candles, a silver punch bowl and serving trays filled with wedding bell mints. Napkins were inscribed with "Moneita and John--January 12, 1991."

The bride's three tiered cake featured a layer of Italian Cream, one of strawberry and one of chocolate. The tiers were separated with white columns trimmed with flowers and lace. A tiny black etching of frosting decorated each of the layers.

The groom's table was laid with a white lace and black cloth. It held a chocolate and pecan cake, nuts, mints and the groom's grandparents' silver coffee and tea service.

Reception assistants included Norma Bradley, Mrs. Johnny Strohm, Mrs. Jim Crump, Kim Wilson, Mrs. D.E. Stroud, Mrs. David Levrette Jr., and Alessia Coleman.

Nancy Froese, cousin of the bride, presided at the guest registry. The table was decorated with pictures of the bride and groom as three-year-olds, a large basket of pink tulips, the bride's favorite flowers, and a white plume pen.

A large bouquet of two dozen hot pink, teal, black, and Mickey and Minnie Mouse helium balloons with ribbon streamers floated next to the table in the church foyer.

Mother of the bride wore a black faille dress with jeweled neckline and black accessories. Her corsage was of white and hot pink rosebuds.

The groom's mother was attired in a black and white faille dress. She wore black and white accessories and a white and hot pink rosebud corsage.

For travel to the Walt Disney resort in Orlando, the new Mrs. Teel wore a blue and cream faille dress with cream accessories and a corsage of rosebuds, lilies of the valley, baby's breath and English ivy.

She graduated Skyline High School in Dallas and currently is a student at Southern Nazarene University in Bethany. She is employed in Oklahoma City by Things Remembered.

Teel is a graduate of Iowa Park High School, attended Midwestern State University and is a senior at Southern Nazarene University. He is employed as organist for Trinity Baptist Church in Oklahoma City.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Rev. and Mrs. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. F.D. Little, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Little, Kyle and Landon, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wigginton, Mrs. Jeff Little, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Strohm, Nancy Padgett, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mitchell, Melissa Logan, Dee Ann Todd, Bill Benson, Greg Bellah, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bellah, Ron Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Estel Jameson, Rev. and Mrs. Gary Scarlett, Tiffany, Michael and Joshua.

"Stress Management" program heard by Evening Lioness Club

Elizabeth Burke, adjunctive therapy director at HCA Red River Hospital, presented the program for the Evening Lioness Club Thursday evening at the Lions building.

Mrs. Alan Bennett, vice president, introduced the speaker, a certified recreational director of the three units at the hospital.

Speaking briefly about the projective and chemical problems of those who are treated at Red River Hospital, the therapy director said they also receive occupational and recreational therapy.

She concentrated on her subject for the evening, "The Importance of Understanding and Managing Stress."

"Stress," the therapist said, "is a necessary part of everyday living. However, there is a fine line between stress that works for you and stress that works against your good mental health." She emphasized that learning to recognize stress signals and adjusting one's behavior are important steps in minimizing the destructive qualities of stress.

To take more control over stress, the therapist gave the following suggestions: make time an ally, make a constructive worry list, and make use of relaxing techniques.

Other suggestions included, talk nicely to, instead of chastising yourself each day, interact with people with whom you do not work, limit the number of major changes in life at any one time, eat well-balanced meals, say "no" and feel good about it.

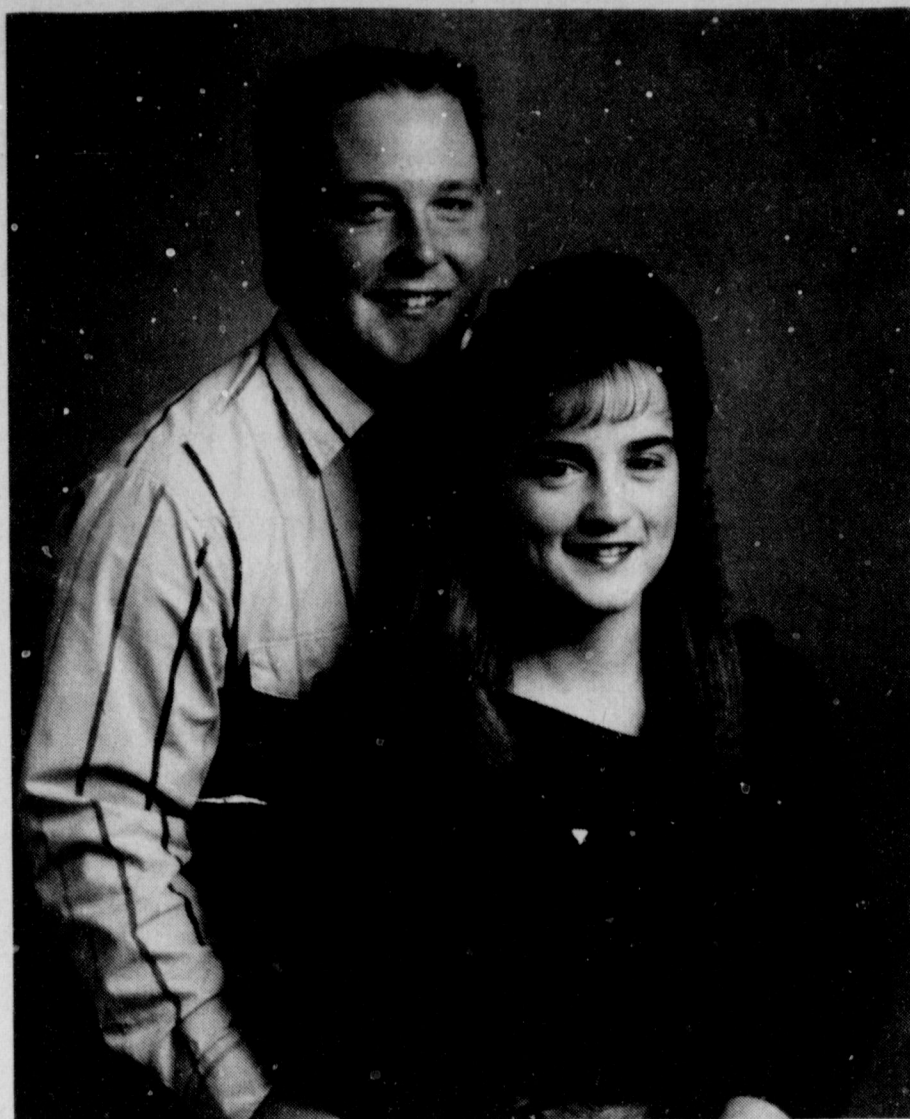

Mrs. Gerry Thurlo gave the meditation on "Habit of Complaining" from "Words That Hurt, Words That Heal" by Carole Mayhall.

Mrs. Bennett directed the business following the program. It was highlighted by the presentation of a bronze key pin to Mrs. Lem Tate, a member of the Century Club, for her donation to the Children's Crippled Camp. Her husband was recognized by the Evening Lions for his donation. Mrs. Sam Hunter made the presentation to Mrs. Tate.

Tentative plans for the style show March 14 were discussed.

Mmes. Grover Cleveland, Riley Thompson and Homer Blalock were hostesses for the meeting.

The next regular meeting will be March 28 at the Lions building.

As I See It... ■ By Bob Hamilton

"A statewide property tax for education. The plan, which was backed by Gov. Ann Richards Thursday, would tax all property owners $1 per $100 of assessed value and distribute it to districts based on student population."

That's a quote from Tuesday's issue of the Dallas Morning News concerning the most popular program being considered in Austin by the legislators to comply with mandates from the state supreme court on financing of public school education.

Sound familiar? It should, if you recall my comments in this space last Sept. 27.

"All the legislature has to do is to require equal funding, from the state, on a per pupil basis..."

Of course, I had no idea how the state would come up with the money, especially after the voters abolished the old state ad valorem tax program several years ago.

But, from all I hear and read coming out of Austin, this is just what the legislators plan to do.

And they might allow local contributions for "local enrichment," but most likely with a cap on how much.

To have the state paying all or most of the education costs is only fitting, since the legislature has been continually adding mandate after mandate that adds to costs, but funding less and less.

Today, the state pays 40 percent or less of the cost of public education.

But, though it may be fitting, the changes have many pluses and minuses, all of which may or may not balance.

For one, the more the state funds, the more control elected officials expect and demand. There aren't many people around who don't want local control of their schools.

And there may be more unanswered questions than have been considered.

One question I have is whether, if the plan is adopted, will the state pick up all the bonded indebtedness incurred by districts for facility construction? And also, would the state pay for construction that was needed but bonds to do the work not approved by voters of the district?

I've said often that the state should pay for public education, but I must admit I have some reservations about that. I can envision all the trips school superintendents and representatives would have to make, with hats in hand, to Austin to plead their cases to bureaucrats, whenever there is a real need to be addressed locally.

And, if all spending is to be equal, what happens to those districts which, for one reason or another, offer above state base bonuses to attract quality teachers?

On the topic of allowing local districts to supplement district revenue, what would be the limitations? There will be a lot of well-trained, hard-working people in district taxing offices who could well be hunting for jobs if the change is made.

I've read where the large city school districts already have their lobbyist in place and attempting to affect legislation. This is unfair. Even more unfair than what the state's highest court has charged to be unconstitutional. The practice likely is what caused the whole problem to start with.

Another thing I mentioned in that Sept. 27th column was to question the authority of State District Judge Scott McCowan's threat to appoint a "master" should the legislature not come up with a "constitutional plan."

I had the opportunity to pose that question to the new attorney general, Dan Morales, at a meeting Saturday. I asked by what authority such an appointment could be made.

Morales could not quote me the authority, but rather began reminding me of the federal court's appointment of a master over our state prison system.

Since I've come home, I think I may have realized where that authority came from.

I'm aware the Texas Education Agency has the authority to put a master in place in districts that do not bring their programs and facilities up to the standards dictated by the state.

That is likely the same authority the judge would use, I guess.

Anyway, the changes coming in the funding of Texas public education funding are likely to be the subject of numerous columns in the future.

Bressie in Persian Gulf

I do not live in Iowa Park, but my children went to high school there, Michael and Michele Bressie.

Anyway, my son Michael Bressie is in the USMC serving in the Persian Gulf and I would like to let people know that he has been promoted from PFC to lance Corporal.

Please could you put this in your paper? He graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1989 and has been in the Marine Corps since Oct. 9th of 1989. He has a lot of friends there and misses them very much.

He is on the USS Gunston Hall. Everyone knows him there as he worked for Kings Food Store before he left for the Marines.

Thank You.

Dundee hatchery expansion is major project

Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday announced last week the multi-million dollar expansion of the Dundee Fish Hatchery into the state's largest facility of its type will mean an economic "shot in the arm" for Archer County and the surrounding area.

"At a very similar project in San Marcos, contractors employed as many as 100 workers on any given day throughout the construction phase," Finnell said.

Construction is expected to begin in the summer, and will continue the next two years.

Finnell said construction will include complete renovation of the 90 ponds at the hatchery and the erection of a new 40,000 square foot building to house offices, labs, storage and four 60-foot spawning raceways.

According to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept., the renovation and modernization of the hatchery will increase the quality, quantity and variety of fish for stocking Texas waters.

Upon completion of the project, the Dundee hatchery will be the largest operating fish hatchery in the state.

Finnell said he has been told the number of permanent employees at the state of the art facility will also be increased to 18 workers. Thirteen are now employed there.

Production is expected to increase to five million striped bass fingerlings and six million striped bass fry for stocking waters each year.

Furthermore, the hatchery will also begin producing largemouth bass, walleye, rainbow trout and catfish.

MEMBER TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Don Decker

Dee Decker may well be classified as one of the busiest people around Iowa Park.

If she isn't busy with some phase of work for one of the clubs in which she holds membership, she may be busy with the Iowa Park 4-H Club, or perhaps she will be attending, or studying for one of her classes on Vernon Regional Junior College campus at Sheppard Air Force Base.

A former Wichita County Home Demonstration Agent for nine years, she worked with both youth and adults. When she and the Wichita County Agent, Don Decker, decided to marry 12 years ago, one of them had to quit their job.

Later, Don retired and now is an assistant vice president at State National Bank and Dee says she doesn't have a "paying" job. Her "jobs" are just those she enjoys doing.

Dee is leader of the Iowa Park 4-H Club, which is one of the largest in the county. She credits that to the fact that so many parents are involved and interested in what their children are doing. "That is what makes the club excel in many things," Dee said. Both of her children, Scott, a high school senior, and Julie, a sophomore, are members of the club.

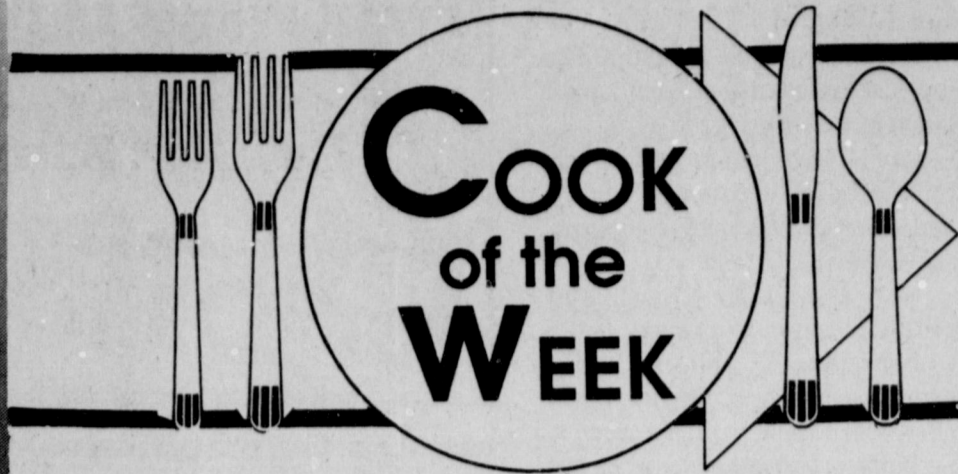

She has been named one of three outstanding Wichita County 4-H Leaders by the County Extension staff.

Mrs. Decker is a member of the Recreational Activities Center board of directors, serves as president of Altrusa Club of the Red River, a women's service organization, and is treasurer of the MADD Chapter, recently organized by Myrna Sharpe of Iowa Park.

She also is a member of the Iowa Park Garden Club and Philia Study Club, and she and her husband are members of First Baptist Church.

A native of Orange, her father was in the Air Force, so she has lived many places, but has always called Texas home.

Dee received her degree in Vocational Home Economics from Henderson State University in

COOK of the WEEK

Arkadelphia, Ark. She taught kindergarten a few years in Japan and one year in Abilene. She also taught Homemaking in Oklahoma.

A little more than a year ago, Dee received her Masters Degree in Clothing and Textiles from Texas Womens University. Her thesis to complete her work on her degree was on "Successful Home Based Businesses."

Currently she is attending computer courses at VRJC two nights a week. This is "so I'll know what I'm doing with my home computer."

She may decide to return to college and work on her doctorate sometime in the future.

Mrs. Decker likes to do needlework, particularly counted cross stitch.

She has done a lot of wood painting in the past and plans to take up this hobby again in the future.

Right now, she is looking forward to a trip on which she and her husband will be taking a group to New Orleans and other southern points in April.

The trip, sponsored by the bank, is part of Decker's duties with public relations. She always accompanies him and gets to make three or four trips a year.

She enjoys cooking, but says "Don doesn't like anything but chicken." She vows that some day she is going to write a recipe book on "One Hundred Ways to Prepare Chicken."

"Most of my favorite recipes have been given to me by friends," Dee says. The following one for Apple Dip was brought to a 4-H covered dish meal and was the favorite of the night.

She said every time she takes it somewhere" it is a big hit and so easy to do."

Apple Dip

- 12 oz. cream cheese
- one-half cup margarine
- one-half cup slivered almonds
- one-half cup sour cream
- one-half cup sugar

The Watermelon Patch

Owner - Denise Henderson

one-half cup golden raisins
grated rind of two lemons

Mix ingredients thoroughly. Best if made the night before and refrigerated. Slice apples (different colors make a pretty arrangement). Soak apples in pineapple juice until ready to serve. You can also serve with strawberries and pineapple chunks.

Seasoned Crackers

Dee found this recipe in a magazine and it was a good alternative to chips.

- three-fourths cup salad oil
- one-fourth tsp. lemon pepper
- 1 env. Hidden Valley Original Ranch Salad Dressing mix
- one-half tsp. dill weed
- one-fourth tsp. garlic powder

Mix together the first five ingredients. Pour over 12-16 oz. plain oyster crackers, stirring to coat. Place on baking sheets and bake at 275 degrees for 15-20 minutes.

Quick Cheese Soup

Dee said one of the cold winter days her neighbor, Myrna Sharpe, gave her this recipe. "It is super easy and very good!"

- 2 cans (14.5 oz.) clear chicken broth
- 2 cans (10 three-fourths oz.) can cream of potato soup

1 lb. Velveeta Cheese (less may be used according to taste)

- one-fourth cup grated carrot
- one-half cup sour cream

Heat broth and potato soup, add grated carrot. When warm, add cheese (cut into small cubes). Add sour cream just before serving. Serves four to six.

Easy Sugar Cookies

Dee said when the Iowa Park Garden Club visited the rose gardens of Mattie Lynn Stine, she served sugar cookies that were a hit with everyone.

Since her husband had worked for Kraft Foods for many years, she insisted that Parkay be used in the recipe.

"I like the cookies because I cannot make rolled sugar cookies and even I can make these," she said.

- 2 sticks margarine
- 1 cup regular sugar
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 2 eggs
- three-fourths cup vegetable oil
- 4 cups flour
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. cream of tartar

Cream margarine with sugars, add the oil and slightly beaten eggs. Add flour with soda and cream of tartar. Mix well. Chill. Roll in small balls and flatten with a drinking glass. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 minutes.

Green Pea-Asparagus Casserole

Yeada Gunter brought this delicious and easy casserole to a progressive neighborhood dinner held in the Pleasant Valley Estates. Dee said, "I have enjoyed taking it to many covered dish suppers."

- 1 can green peas (drained)
- 1 can asparagus (drained)
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- one-half stick butter
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
- three-fourths cup cracker crumbs

Layer peas, mushroom soup, and asparagus in a two-quart casserole dish. Dot butter on mixture. Spread cheese over top, then spread cracker crumbs over cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until bubbly. Serves six to eight. Can easily be doubled.

Campfire candy sales begin Friday

For the fourth consecutive year the Camp Fire Council of North Texas will be selling chocolates, as a fund-raising project.

Three varieties, almond clusters, almond roca and chocolate covered mints, will be available. In addition, natural fruit delights, a low calorie fruit candy, and almond nuts in a jar also will be available.

Each kind sells for $3, and the sale begins Feb. 1 and ends Feb. 17.

"This sale is our one large council-wide fund raiser," said Bettye Ricks, executive director of the council. "Besides helping the council in a monetary way, the children are taught to sell and accomplish goals, meet deadlines, make and close sales, meet the public, and manage money."

"We hope to sell lots of candy this year. Customers will receive an excellent product for their money and certainly help our youth agency in a very positive way," she said.

Candy sellers will be knocking on doors in neighborhoods and going to businesses. Camp Fire members are easy to recognize in their red, white and blue uniforms and a Camp Fire identification sticker on their coats.

Peggy Kaspar is candy chairman for Iowa Park.

Breckenridge has hired Jerry Taylor as the new head coach and athletic director, replacing Bill Grissom. Taylor has been head at Odessa High the past five years. Among notable points of his background are: he was the one who reported on UIL rule violations at Odessa Permian; he was an assistant under Gordon Wood and Bum Phillips; he was also an assistant at Spearman, Amarillo Caprock, Abilene High, and head at Hereford and Stamford (1976-83 when the Hawks didn't play that school).

Houston's Astrodome had the nickname of "house of pain," now the gym at IPHS could have the title of the "house of blood." In consecutive games, Friday and Tuesday, basketball players required stitches for injuries. J'Bill Merrick's head was gashed Friday when he fell to the floor and was stepped on, requiring more than 20 stitches from his left eyebrow upward to the hairline. Tuesday, in the boys' JV game, a Bridgeport player was injured (damage is unknown), and Coy Bridwell's left ear lobe was bitten almost into, requiring stitches.

Lady Hawk JV extends streak

The Lady Hawk Junior Varsity won both its last two games, defeating Vernon 57-36 Friday and Bridgeport 36-24 Tuesday.

The club will try to extend its record to 25-2 Friday when the team travels to Graham.

Christie Catlin led in scoring against both Vernon and Bridgeport, hitting 15 and 13 points, respectively. Laura Davis also had 10 against Vernon, while Lisa Wiggins and Davis contributed six each in the Bridgeport contest.

Lady Hawks lose conference lead

The Lady Hawks' quest for the Dist. 4-AAA championship took a setback here Tuesday night, when their shooting was as cold as the weather outside the gymnasium.

Iowa Park lost 36-25 to Bridgeport, a team they had defeated 50-42 on the road in the first half of district play.

The Lady Hawks had finished the first half of the round robin schedule in a three-way tie with Bridgeport and Graham.

The loss left Iowa Park with a 2-1 second-half record, the same as Bridgeport. Graham also has at least one loss in the second half.

But Iowa Park must play its final two regular-season contests on the road, traveling Friday to Graham and Tuesday to Bowie.

Coach Jimmie Cain's club now has a season record of 20-8.

The locals jumped out to a 7-2 lead early in the first period, which ended in a 7-7 tie. The Sissies took command in the second period, which ended with the visitors leading 20-12.

Things didn't get much better in the third frame, as Bridgeport led 30-20.

Besides their cold shooting - Iowa Park's top scorer was Melody Gray with eight - the Lady Hawks also drew 22 personal fouls during the contest. And the scoring spread could have been worse, had the Sissies not missed 12 shots from the charity line.

Friday was a different outcome, as Iowa Park shot down Vernon 43-31, thanks to a 29-point (12 from the foul line) effort by Kerri Dörner.

Iowa Park rebounded from an 8-4 first quarter deficit to lead 16-15 at the half, and extended that to 27-22 before the start of the final quarter.

BRENT WINEINGER, ON TOP, FIGHTS WITH BULL FOR BALL HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Hawks overcome Bridgeport

Despite numerous unforced turnovers, the Hawks defeated Bridgeport here Tuesday night, 47-37.

Coach Earnie Reusch said it was the turnovers that held down Iowa Park's command of the game. His club had posted a 22-point victory, 58-36, earlier in the Bulls' home gym.

Iowa Park is now 1-0 for the second half of the round robin Dist. 4-AAA schedule, and travels Friday to Graham and Tuesday to Bowie.

Tuesday's game came on the heels of a strong showing by the Hawks, who lost by a single point, 61-60, Friday to Vernon.

To demonstrate the significance of that game, Vernon defeated Graham, 77-76 earlier, and the Steers posted a 77-59 in the first half of district play.

Iowa Park had an opportunity to pull the Vernon game out of the fire, but missed two shots near the basket in the final four seconds of the contest.

Three Hawks scored in double figures against the Lions. Brent Wineinger hit 18 and Jon Hankins and J'Bill Merrick each had 10.

Merrick had to leave the game some four minutes into the final period when he was injured, but still managed four free shots in that quarter.

Vernon had taken a 19-12 lead by the end of the first period, but the Hawks, thanks to a 22-14 second quarter, held a 34-33 lead at the half. They were tied at 48-48 going into the final eight minutes.

Iowa Park led 10-6, 25-22 and 35-28 at the end of each of the first three periods against Bridgeport.

Again, three players scored in double digits: Hankins 13, Wineinger 12 and Jeremy Carroll 11.

One of the Bulls' seven varsity players was not suited out for Tuesday's game.

Joel McIlroy canned 19 points, including five three-pointers, to lead the Hawk JV past Bridgeport 51-33.

After next Tuesday's game at Bowie, the Hawks will still have two more regular-season games: Feb. 8 here against Breckenridge and Feb. 12 at Vernon.

'Firsts' in 1991 marked by Methodist minister

By Myrna Smith

A number of "firsts" will be marked in 1991 by Rev. Karl Klaus of Iowa Park's First United Methodist Church.

In March he will mark his first wedding anniversary, the latter part of April he will mark the birth of his first child, and November will bring the first anniversary of his appointment as a senior pastor by the North Texas Conference of Methodist Churches.

The affable young minister, he's 33, is exuberant as he talks about his new work. "It is very exciting for me to be able to preach every Sunday. I've been used to delivering a sermon about every six months."

He added that he and his wife, Kimberly (he calls her Kim) are thrilled with his appointment to Iowa Park.

"We like a small town. Our grandparents lived in small towns and we both loved to visit them and enjoyed the friendliness and community spirit we found there. I have always preferred country wisdom to big city arrogance," he mused.

Rev. Klaus (pronounced to rhyme with house) added, "Kim and I love it here. We can't believe how wonderful the church members and townspeople have been."

Though of young age, and serving his first full time senior pastorate, the minister is far from being a novice. He has had 15 years experience in different phases of ministerial work.

Just prior to coming to Iowa Park he was an associate pastor at First United Methodist Church in Richardson, a 6,500 member church. He also was president of the Richardson Ministerial Alliance.

Klaus also had worked with Ridgewood Park United Methodist Church in Dallas. He did membership, evangelism and pastoral work. He worked with singles and older groups and performed weddings and funerals.

At one point while studying at Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Klaus was on staff at First United Methodist Church in Dallas, from 1980-1982, and worked with the now infamous Walker Railey.

During his internship he was director of music and Youth Choirs and worked with the Youth Worship at some of the churches.

Remembering his time with Ridgewood Park church "working up to his present status," he laughingly remarked, "During my two years and three months there, we changed secretaries four times and janitors five times, and guess who got to fill in until new ones were hired. I made a in answering the telephones, setting up tables and chairs, dusting, mopping floors and cleaning restrooms. I was on my own in this phase, I didn't have training for those jobs."

Klaus says "You might call me a Cajun," alluding to the fact he was born in Louisiana, but his parents were originally from Iowa.

He comes from a strong German Methodist heritage and "grew up" in the University United Methodist Church in Baton Rouge.

His father, now deceased, was professor of music at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge for 30 years.

During his first 18 years, Klaus did not have in his mind to become a minister. In fact, it came as sort of a surprise to him. He studied architectural drafting in high school. He had his heart set on becoming an architect and had planned to major in that field when he enrolled in college.

But, while he was on a Methodist Youth Retreat, "I got my call," Klaus said. He graduated Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge with a bachelors in music and vocal performance and from there he enrolled in Perkins School of Theology at SMU.

He sings solo sometimes now at the worship service. Many times when he has performed wedding ceremonies and when the point in the service comes for "The Lord's Prayer," Klaus has sung it.

He has a brother, Kenneth, who has a PhD in music, and is a professor of choral music at Nicholls State University in Thibodaux, La.

Klaus does not contain his enthusiasm for the future of his 472-member church. "I'm naturally an optimistic person, therefore I am optimistic about the work of the church here."

He commented that the bishop of this district has set forth a geographical plan to reach unchurched people, so he knows he has his work cut out for him. "I believe we can increase the membership of the church here and I have some great plans in mind," Klaus says. "I like to think, "If you shoot for the sun and hit the moon you're still out of this world."

It is easy to tell that the minister will be even more enthusiastic when his wife is able to join him here.

She was manager of Casual Corner, a $2 million volume store in Richardson, and it was impossible for her to come with him in November because of Christmas, end of their fiscal year and inventory.

Now, she is to be manager of the County Seat in Sikes Center and will have to go through a brief training period before she can move, probably within two weeks.

Mrs. Klaus received the bachelors degree in art from Baylor University, with a specialization in print making.

As might be expected, for someone reared in an area where bodies of water are plentiful, Klaus loves to fish, boat and water ski. He also likes to snow ski.

But, he loves anything to do with flying and has 20 hours of flying time to his credit. He says he can fly the plane but cannot navigate yet.

His wife loves to cook and according to him, she can make the best brownies from scratch you've ever eaten. "They will melt in your mouth. She makes wonderful desserts as well as other dishes," he said, and added, "In fact I gained 10 pounds after we were married."

Another hobby of Kim's is reading. "But, I have to read as a job now, and I like to get outside when I have a chance," Klaus said.

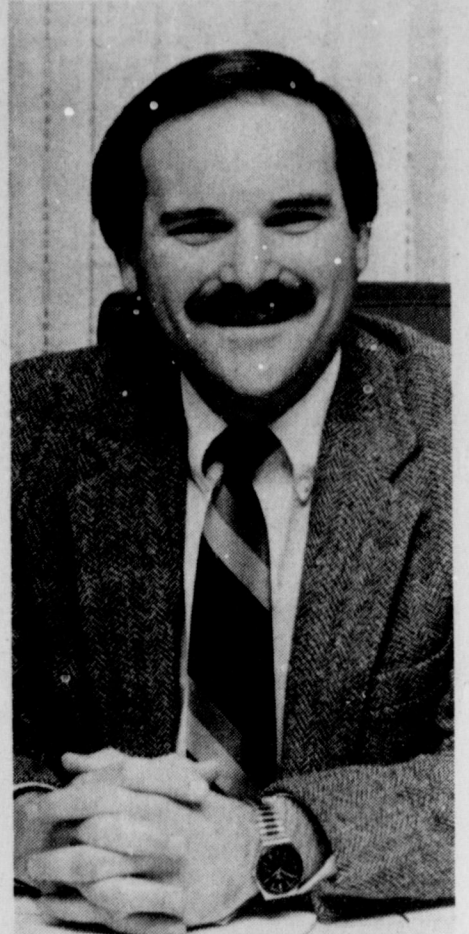

He admits he is very ecumenical, and some of the wall displays in his church office confirms. Every thing has a special sentimental meaning to him.

He has many wall plaques that have an inspirational or scriptural message that have been given to him by special people. He has books in his shelves that were given to him by a Methodist minister who had terminal cancer and he wanted Klaus to have them.

There is a rosary hanging on the wall given to him by a Catholic priest, and interior and exterior photographs of a Catholic church that a friend of his made and enlarged for him, because he knew he was interested in architecture.

Among other special mementos is a Methodist hymnal on a side table that was printed in the early 1800s, before there were notes to accompany the hymns. This also was a gift from an elderly friend.

Townpeople will soon have a better opportunity to become acquainted with the couple when they really get settled into the parsonage. Klaus is moving some more of their furniture here this week in preparation for Kim's arrival.

Heritage Manor Activities

The nursing department has made a prayer tree for the troops overseas. Jina Miller, R.N. and Rita Henderson, FSS, decided on a red, white, blue and yellow theme.

Carmen Morgan and Angel Ervin, CNAs, made bows and with the help of Patty Neher, LVN, and Darel Ervin, NA, decorated the tree and main entrance of the building. Four white doves were added to symbolize peace.

We would like to invite you to come by and place the name of your loved one or even a special prayer on our tree.

Hannah Cooke, CNA, has made yellow ribbon tags. Feel free to pick one up and wear it with pride.

We would like to welcome Carl Lawson to our facility. He owned and operated a store in Vernon for many years. He moved here to be closer to his daughter.

Bingo winners last week were Bettie Smith, Loree Dunegan, Cora Lewis and Roberta Spears.

The Red River "Blue Grass Band" played Monday night. Our residents enjoy music and this is one of their favorite groups.

Robbin Isbell on Dean's List

Robbin Elaine Isbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Isbell, qualified for academic honors at Texas Tech Univ., based on final grades reported for the fall semester.

The senior majoring in elementary education was named to the Dean's List, which requires a 3.5 to 3.9 grade-point average during the semester while enrolled in at least 12 credit hours of class work.

Christian concert slated Thursday

Award-winning Christian recording artist, Jeff Hunt, will perform at 6 p.m. next Thursday at the Women's Forum in Wichita Falls, sponsored by the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Hunt has received the International Angel Award and was nominated for the "Country Gospel Album" and "Male Vocalist of the Year" awards. He is currently touring North America in a full-time gospel ministry.

The Seventh Day Adventist Church is sponsoring the concert and banquet to raise funds for "Project 2000," a phase planned growth outreach to include upgrading and adding to the present facilities. It will also help provide various program such as stop smoking seminars, nutrition classes, money management, marriage and parenting seminars, among others.

Tickets may be purchased by phoning 766-4737, days; and 592-5484, evenings.

We would like to extend our sympathy to Charlene Parks and family on the loss of their loved one, Mae Raglin. Her little burst of sunshine will be missed by all of us.

The February birthday observance will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. We would like to invite you to come by and join in the fun and entertainment.

In closing, I would like to remind everybody to remember the troops fighting overseas in your prayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Smith of Iowa Park are the parents of a seven pound, three ounce daughter, Shelby Catherine, born Jan. 28 at Wichita General Hospital. She is the couple's first child.

Mrs. Smith is the former Raylyn Compton of Iowa Park.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Mike Compton, Carl Smith and Cathy Smith, all of Iowa Park. Curtis, Rogers vows read Saturday afternoon

Faith Baptist Church was scene of the Saturday afternoon nuptials that united Vicki Rogers and Curtis Martin. Rev. Greg Ammons, pastor, directed the vows before families of the couple and close friends.

Parents of the bride are JoAnna and Cecil McWilliams of Wichita Falls and the groom's parents are Jim and Noma Martin, Iowa Park.

Seven-branched gold candelabra set with white tapers and decorated with swags of greenery accented at intervals with blue ribbons were placed on either side of the altar. In flanking positions were cascading ivy plants with blue and white roses and blue ribbon set on gold stands.

A gold stand held the unity candle, a white candle centering the arrangement was lit by the couple. Blue candles on either side were lit by mothers of the couple.

Blue bows marked family pews. The bride, presented for marriage by her brother, Billy Rogers, wore a gown of satin styled with fitted bodice overlaid with lace. It featured a high lace band at the neck and bridal illusion yoke between the band and the scalloped lace edged portrait neckline. Satin sleeves were full and gathered just below the elbow where they joined all over lace that terminated in points over the hand.

Skirt of the gown was of satin, trimmed at the hemline with a wide band of lace. Her headpiece and fingertip veil of bridal illusion edged with scalloped lace were made by the groom's mother. The headpiece was fashioned of white silk illusion rosebuds and stephanotis.

To carry out the tradition of "something old, something new" the bride wore a pearl drop necklace belonging to the groom's mother for something old, a gold chain accented with pearls, a gift from the groom, for something new and she borrowed a strand of pearls from Becky Martin, sister of the groom. She added a blue garter and wore a good luck penny in her shoe.

The bride carried a large nosegay styled bouquet of blue and white rosebuds and open roses in a bed of iridescent trimmed net and scalloped lace, accented with a blue bow.

Linda Burgoyne, pianist, presented processional and recessional selections, and prelude music, including "You Light Up My Life," "We've Only Just Begun," "Can't Help Falling in Love," "If," and "You Needed Me." She also played "The Rose" as the bridesmaids entered the sanctuary and accompanied Charlene Taylor of Pottsboro, cousin of the groom, who sang "Annie's Song."

Tami Rogers attended her sister as maid of honor and Debbie Fuller

Mrs. Curtis Martin

was bridesmatron. They wore sleeveless gowns of blue satin designed with fitted bodices and full skirts caught up at the hemlines with self bows. Scooped necklines of the gowns were edged with a wide double ruffle. Their bouquets were similar to the bride's.

Best man for the groom was Jerry Smith of Iowa Park. Jeff Martin of Wichita Falls, brother of the groom, served as groomsman. Ushers were Keith Parker, brother-in-law of the groom and Paul Hubner.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with white shirt and blue bow tie and cummerbund. Male attendants wore black tuxedos with white shirts, black bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnieres were a single blue rosebud.

All of the bouquets, boutonnieres and the mothers' corsages were made by the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jeff Martin of Wichita Falls.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of navy blue sheer styled with tucked bodice and long sleeves.

Mrs. Martin wore a long sleeved street length dress of royal blue. The bodice featured a drape from one shoulder to the waistline that was marked by a black cummerbund.

Peggy Martin, sister-in-law of the groom and Heather Noles, his niece, presided at the groom's table.

The buffet table was centered with dolls dressed as a bride and groom standing before blue wedding bells. Serving were the groom's aunt, Lavene Taylor of Pottsboro, and his cousin, Linda Ward of Jolly.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday night in fellowship of the church.

The bride attended schools at Petrolia. A graduate of Iowa Park High School, the groom is employed by Jim's Truck and Trailer Equipment in Wichita Falls.

When the couple return from a wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns, the Petrified Forest and Grand Canyon, they will reside at Lake Side City East.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were sister of the bride and family, Alice, Mark and Marty Seaton of Ozark, Mo.; the bride's uncle and family, Bobbie, Christana, and Chasta Rogers of Lubbock; the groom's aunt and family, Lavene, Doug, and Charlene Taylor of Pottsboro; the groom's cousin and family, Farrell, Lorie and Emily Fenner of Nocona; his aunt, Cleo Shofner of Carrollton, and his grandparents, Hettie and James Goen of Nocona.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

With the mild temperatures we've had the past week, both evenings and days, it's hard to not turn your thoughts toward springtime activities.

Several folks around town have done exactly that. They are planting some early vegetables in their gardens, or at least working up the soil in preparation for planting.

I even heard a mockingbird in my neighborhood as I was walking in the house from work Tuesday afternoon.

And my golf clubs have had three workouts already.

But, I wouldn't carry all the firewood back to the stack yet. I'm keeping a supply out of the weather, just in case.

The worst blizzard I've ever experienced was in early April, when we were in Dumas in 1958.

I don't care what all the scientists say about the ozone layer being depleted and the earth's temperature warming up.

It's not past freezing this early in February in Texas yet!

The first time I really got fooled by thinking early spring was one Saturday when I had just become a teenager.

With a couple of my friends, we were walking one Saturday evening along the Terra Blanca Creek that passes on the south side of Hereford.

There's a favorite swimming hole, right by what is now number three green on the golf course, that looked particularly appealing that afternoon.

The sun was warm, and we'd been walking several miles. Gosh, it would be great to take a dip, we mutually agreed.

So off we shucked our clothes and, in unison, hit the water all at once.

As best as I can remember, there was not a ripple caused by any of us.

We were out on the bank and back into our clothes in a blink of an eye. That water was ice cold, and it didn't take any time to figure it out.

So don't let the warm sun and mild temperatures fool you. It's still some time yet before winter is over in Texas.

Letters to the Editor

'Thanks, Mr. Davis'

As a student in the Iowa Park school system for twelve years, I was fortunate to have been taught by many excellent teachers. Flossie Nunn Thompson, Betty Cash, and Valer Mae Jones are just a few that come to mind. But when I heard that Kenneth Davis had been selected as "Outstanding Educator of the Year," I was thrilled. Mr. Davis taught Texas History when I was in junior high and was assistant principal during my high school years. I feel fortunate that Mr. Davis was a part of my education. I only wish he was going to be teaching when my daughter is older. I just wanted to say to Mr. Davis "Thank you!"

I will always remember a statement he made in Texas History. If all the snow and ice in Alaska melted, Texas WOULD be the largest state in the U.S.

Congratulations, Mr. Davis!

Still supports Kirkpatrick

Three years ago I wrote a letter to the editor questioning the school board's decision in passing over Coach Kirk for the position of head coach. I felt then and I feel now it is senseless to go outside our own system to hire a head coach when the best man for the job is in the Iowa Park system already.

I no longer have a student in Iowa Park schools (or any other) but I will always be appreciative of Coach Kirk's influence and support when we had children in the Iowa Park schools.

I now live in Holliday but still have property in the IPCISD on which taxes are paid so I feel I still have a voice in the system.

Coach Kirk is the best candidate for the head coach position at IPHS. How many times will the school board overlook him? Until another school "grabs" him from under their noses.

Last time I wrote it was supposed to be to get favors for my child, I was told. I wonder what the reason could possibly be this time. I'll tell you. I'd like to see Dean Kirkpatrick given the chance to prove he is the best coach for the job.

Thank you,
Frances Reasor

Junior varsity wins district

The Lady Hawk Junior Varsity finished the season Tuesday night with a perfect 10-0 record against Dist. 4-AAA opponents, and an overall record of 26-2.

Iowa Park edged Graham 41-36 Friday, and wound up the season with a 39-31 win over Bowie.

Dee Ann Warren had 16 points and 11 rebounds against Graham, while Michelle Robertson had 11. In Tuesday's finale, Robertson canned 20 points. Laura Davis added nine points in both contests.

It was "a very good team effort throughout the season," commented Coach John Hoelter.

Team members include Davis, Warren, Robertson, Lisa Wiggins, Lychelle Monday, Kristi Ring, Rhonda Jones, Amy Hessinger, Christie Catlin, Kathy Crockett, Jennifer Hutchinson and manager Jolene Hodges.

Three named to key UW posts

Three Iowa Parkans were elected 1991 United Way officers during the organization's board of directors meeting Wednesday of last week.

Ron Barnes was re-elected chairman of the long range planning committee; Sam Laird re-elected to a three-year term as director, and Bob Aulds re-elected to a three-year term on the executive board.

Mac McGee will serve the second of his two-year terms as president, and former state representative John Gavin was elected 1991 campaign chairman.

Building permits slow for month

Building permits issued by city hall started off slowly, for the first month of 1991, amounting to only $17,694.

Permits included: Regency One, 704 W. Highway, office, $2,000; Fred Cheek, 810 Vogel, alteration, $10,000; Clara Kerley, 124 James, storage

Worth Quoting

If we were the president of the United States and watching the current debate in the House and Senate, we'd throw up!

And if we were Saddam Hussein, making like the former Lyndon Johnson, by watching four televisions showing the live debate of Congress on networks, we'd be slapping our thighs and roaring with laughter.

And if we were the servicemen in the Middle East, watching the same network coverage, we'd stalk off in disgust and seek out the nearest poker game.

After listening to the debate Monday and Tuesday on the floors of both the House and Senate, we're convinced statesmanship is an extremely rare commodity among our representatives in Washington.

And after listening to Senator Ted Kennedy's speech on relying on economic sanctions to force Hussein out of Kuwait, we're thankful he is not standing at his older brother's side during the eyeball to eyeball confrontation with the Soviet Union over the missile crisis in Cuba.

It seems to us that many of the senators and congressmen, along with a lot of other misguided souls, are missing the point in the Middle East crisis.

It has absolutely nothing to do with the price of oil now or in the future. It has absolutely nothing to do with protecting the seiks or high potentates of Kuwait or any other Arab country.

The core of the problem is simple: a huge war machine in the hands of an intelligent but highly irrational dictator. And left intact, Saddam Hussein and his military might is a serious threat to all of us.

And any solution that does not ultimately destroy his capability for war is no solution at all.

To us, it's a matter of biting the bullet now or paying an even greater price in human life and materials at a later date. And given a two or three year respite from the current confrontation, coalition forces very well could face sophisticated nuclear weapons at an even greater cost in casualties, property, and destruction.

It's not a problem peculiar to the Middle East. The existence of a gigantic war machine and war capability in the hands of a irrational person anywhere on this planet is a threat to us all.

If a country like Turkey, Ethiopia, South Africa, India, Pakistan, the Philippines, Venezuela, Argentina or others around the globe developed a massive war machine with strides toward nuclear capability and were ruled by a dictator with an elephant-size ego, the powers of the world would have to move against him. It's a matter of self-preservation.

Dr. Jerrold M. Post, professor of psychiatry at George Washington University, has studied Hussein's life and political career, focusing on the 22 years the man has been in power in Iraq.

Doctor Post has determined that Hussein has four traits that produce a dangerous personality disorder.

* He is extremely self-absorbed and grandiose. He can only think of himself and has an inability to empathize with the pain or suffering of anyone else.

* He has no conscience. His only loyalty is to Saddam Hussein. He will eliminate any individual or country that gets in his way. Kuwait, after all, was a strong ally during the Iran-Iraq war.

* He uses aggression to service his personal needs. Hussein is unconstrained in his use of violence. He has used -- and would use again -- weapons of mass destruction if it serves his needs.

* He has a paranoid outlook. Hussein is always ready to blame someone else for his troubles. He sees himself as surrounded by enemies and views his aggression as defensive. For instance, he said Kuwait had declared economic warfare on him and was threatening his sovereignty.

The psychiatrist noted that during the Iran-Iraq war, Hussein wanted a cease-fire. But Khomeni had said there would be no peace until Hussein no longer led Iraq. When Hussein pressed his cabinet for ideas, his minister of health said Hussein might consider stepping down temporarily -- resuming the presidency once peace had been achieved. Hussein thanked him for his candor -- and had him killed.

And this is the man against whom some believe economic sanctions will work?

No sane, rational person in this country or abroad wants war. The real question is whether the cost in casualties, human suffering, and material will be less now than later.

It's a question Congress should fact up to.

JAMES ROBERTS
Andrews County news

In the past month, two 15-year-old boys have been arrested for allegedly participating in robbery-murders in neighboring Collin County, and they may never be held accountable for their crimes.

Although teenagers are just as capable of robbing a store and killing someone as an adult, the justice system treats them with kid gloves. A juvenile, even one who is accused of murder, has to be certified as an adult before he can be tried by a jury and sentenced to prison.

The system also protects the identity of juveniles accused of felonies. That's why you won't read the names of these teenagers -- until and unless they are certified as adults.

I don't know what qualifies a juvenile as an adult in the justice system's eyes. Killing somebody, however, is the ultimate crime, and people accused of murder, not matter what age, should be held accountable.

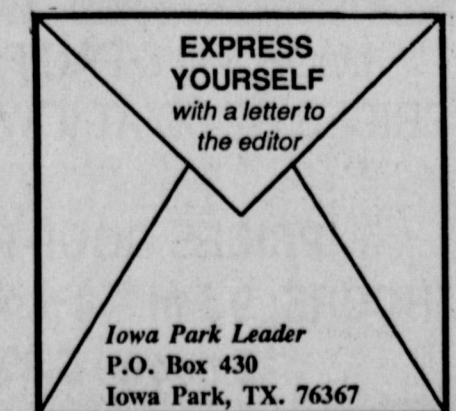

Don't get me wrong. I'm speaking of cold-blooded murder. Juveniles can make mistakes, and they shouldn't be locked up for accidentally killing someone while showing off dad's gun.

No, I'm referring to the kinds of murders that occurred near Celina last month and in Plano last week.

Law enforcement officials apparently have enough evidence to believe the 15 year olds were involved. If that's the case, they should be certified and tried as adults.

With more and more teenagers committing crimes like these, our legislators also should consider revising the justice system. Nobody should have the opportunity to get away with murder.

Only one arrest during week

Besides numerous calls from residents concerning possible prowlers in yards, the past week was one of very light activity for the local police force.

Benny Joseph Martin, 27, was arrested in the 700 block of West Highway at 10:54 p.m. Friday on a charge of public intoxication. He was released at midnight on a personal recognizance bond, according to the blotter. A resident in the 700 block of East Ruby told police Tuesday that someone had stolen two "debit" cards sometime around the middle of January.

Debit cards are used to withdraw funds from a bank's teller window.

The resident said the cards had been used to make withdrawals from a bank in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Rick Cowsert

Our cook of the week this week is Erin Cowsert, a relatively new resident of Iowa Park. She and her husband moved here six months ago.

Both Erin and Rick grew up in Oklahoma. She was raised and attended school in Oklahoma City. He grew up in Laverne.

Erin attended Independence College in Independence, Kans., where she was a music and theater major. Her husband has a degree in Business Administration from Northwestern State University in Alva, Okla.

The couple met when they both worked for a furniture rental company in Oklahoma City.

They have been married two and one-half years and have a 9 month old son, Zack.

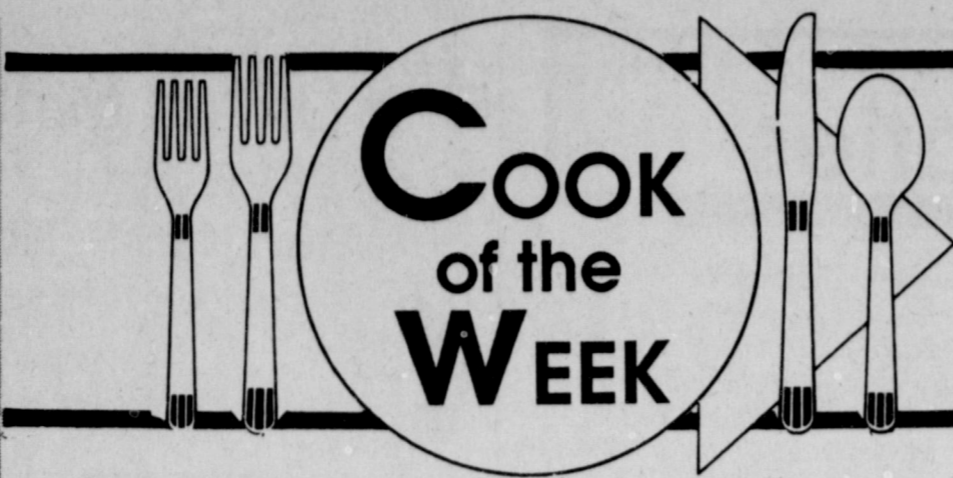

The rental company transferred them to Norfolk, Va., but after Zack was born they decided to move back to this area.

Rick is manager of Ken's Pizza and Erin stays home with Zack. She says he takes up most of her time.

She likes to sew and cook and she and Rick like to play golf. She hasn't had a chance to join any groups or get very well acquainted with people here because of her husband's work schedule, and the fact that she stays busy with Zack.

Erin says when they married she did not know how to cook. She learned how from Rick's mother.

And the recipes she shares with the Leader's readers this week sound as if she has collected some good ones while she continues improving in the culinary art.

Erin likes the quick or easy recipes and these she has shared fit that description.

The first one, Strawberry Pizza, isn't served at her husband's place of business, she says.

Judging teams earn placings

Two judging teams from the Iowa Park High vocational department placed well Saturday at contests in Fort Worth.

The horse judging team, composed of Lori Kyle, Melissa Motl, Tiffany Stephens and Shane Perry, placed 16th among 48 in competition.

Placing ninth in a field of 15 was the range judging team of Danielle Tubbs, Josh Johnson, Brad Payton, Chuck Vergauwen and Cindy Sargent.

Three local students named to honor rolls

Three students from Iowa Park were among 199 students named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the fall semester at Wayland Baptist Univ.

Among the honorees is one student, Bruce Hammonds, who maintained a perfect 4.00 grade point average (GPA) during the term. He is a freshman occupational technology major and the son of Annabel Hammonds.

Other students named include Scott Davis, senior physical education major with a GPA of 3.60, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis; and Wesley Toller, senior music education major with a GPA of 3.75, son of Mrs. Joan Toller.

Mrs. J.T. Parker directs Baptist Women program

Mrs. J.T. Parker directed the monthly program Monday night for the Thelma Smith Baptist Women of First Baptist Church.

Program material was taken from the Royal Service magazine on "People Reached by Missions Education." The purpose was to show how Woman's Missionary Education organizations inspire young and old to become career missionaries or witness in their own communities.

Organizations include Mission Friends, Girls in Action, Acteens, Baptist Young Women and Baptist Women.

Mrs. O. S. McLemore and Mrs. Eleanor Bell spoke for a regional director of cooperative mission in east central Florida, and the vice president of Baptist Bible College in Pineville, Ky., who were impressed to be missionaries through Girls in Action and Acteens, respectively.

Mrs. Elmer Singleton spoke for a Japanese war bride who "found the Lord" in a Baptist Women's meeting in a church in Oklahoma and presently is serving as a missionary to Japanese women in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. S.B. Reaves told how a mission worker on two college campuses was inspired to get involved in missions when she was a young girl and a member of Acteens.

Mrs. Parker gave the concluding topic, "The Special Person Is You" which emphasized how all Christians have the opportunity of being missionaries in their own home town.

During the business directed by Mrs. V. I. Woodfin, members voted to write cards and mail them to their respective state senator and representatives urging them to vote against state lottery.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson gave names of missionaries who observed their birthdays that day, and their fields of service.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Singleton and Mrs. Bell. The refreshment table was attractively decorated in a Valentine motif featuring a floral bouquet, candles, hearts, candies, valentines and other novelties in pink and red hues. Fourteen members were in attendance.

Junior NHS installation held

The National Junior Honor Society held a candlelight induction ceremony Jan. 24 at the Iowa Park Junior High library.

The ceremony was attended by Supt. Glen Mitchell, faculty, parents and grandparents, and other family members.

Officers installed were: Casey Moser, president; Brandi Catlin, vice president; Kelli Thompson, secretary; Lori Kasparek, treasurer, and Rusty Downs, reporter.

Other members include Karlee Barrington, Sue-An Benson, Eric

Bodnar, Darin Cash, Bobbi Coburn, Kassie Dutton, Dani Goin, Lisa Green, Tony Grogan, Anita Higdon, Philip House, David Ivey, Mandy LaBrier, Jody McQuerry, Christy Matthews, Emily Monday, Kathy Monday and Tiffany Ogerly.

Also, Cory Parham, Catherine Parker, Connie Scherschel, Clint Scobee, Chad Simpson, Brian Spruiell, Jennifer Spruiell, Dustin Tahmahkera, Aimee Trantham and Heath Ward.

Catholic Church to begin second season of RENEW

Members of Christ the King Catholic Church will celebrate the beginning of the second season of RENEW Sunday with a Mass, followed by a pot luck dinner.

The church began the RENEW program last fall in coordination with all the Catholic parishes in the Fort Worth Diocese. Focus of the program is to promote spiritual growth with small group Bible study and also with large group activities planned to bring the entire church membership together.

Theme for the six-week program beginning Feb. 10 is "Our Response to the Lord's Call." According to the small group coordinators, 86 church members already have signed up to participate in small group Bible studies.

Coordinators of the RENEW program are also planning a special dinner March 16 as the season comes to a close. Dan Luby, director of RENEW for the diocese of Fort Worth, will be guest speaker for the evening.

The six-week RENEW program will coincide with the Lenten season, which begins with Mass on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 13.

Each Thursday evening during Lent, the church will offer a Rosary service. Way of the Cross services will be held each Friday evening. All week night services will be held at 7 at the church building.

Rev. Patrick Burke has encouraged all members to attend these special services during Lent.

GOD'S AMAZING GRACE

"For by grace are you saved through faith; and that not of yourselves. It is the gift of God." (Ephesians 2:8). "Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus." (Romans 3:24). "By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God." (Romans 5:2).

It is quite obvious that salvation is by the grace of God. Do we really appreciate what grace is? Do we understand the concept of grace and its implications for our lives? It has often been said that grace is the unmerited favor of God. That it certainly is. It is a "gift" given "freely." It has also been said that grace is receiving what you need instead of what you deserve. This carries greater significance. What we deserve is death because we have all sinned and the wages of sin is death. (Romans 3:23; 6:23). "God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8).

Salvation is only possible when God made available, through Jesus, that which we in no way deserved or in no way could have procured on our own. If it were not for God's grace, salvation would be impossible!

There is more to salvation than simply God's grace. God's grace has been made available to all and God desires that all be saved (2 Peter 3:9) but not all shall be saved (Matthew 7:13, 14). That is where the "through faith" part comes in from Ephesians 2:8. God's grace demands man's response. That response is an obedient faith (James 2:14-20).

Have you been saved by grace through faith?

Iowa Parkans return from Saudi Arabia

exciting than the one in August.

Trejo drove them to the airport, but since their flight was delayed, he returned home and went to bed.

Suddenly, while waiting for their plane, the airport was shut down, with no explanation to the many waiting passengers.

About 4 a.m. a neighbor woke Trejo and told him what had happened at the airport. He immediately drove there to check on his wife and daughter, but there was so much confusion and so many people he had trouble finding them.

"It was bedlam," Karen said. "It really gave you an eerie feeling because they just closed the airport and didn't tell us anything. Rumors starting flying about if you left the country you could not come back, and you would not have a job if you could come back. Of course, none of these rumors were true, but we really didn't know what to do or think," she added.

Trejo had vacation time coming so he booked a flight for later in January, but had to buy his ticket in order to assure him a seat. He arrived here Jan. 29 and will return to Saudi Arabia Feb. 20.

He explained that there are only about five commercial flights out of the International Airport now, rather than the 100 or more a day a short time ago. This is because the airport has been converted to military use.

Armando, originally from El Paso, is employed by Saudi Arabian Airlines in the Engine Test Cell where engines are tested for performance and given the okay to be put back on the wings.

He first moved to Iowa Park in 1968 and worked at Sheppard Air Force Base in 1968. He stayed here until 1974 when the men were asked who would like to go to Saudi Arabia to work. Trejo decided to go and stayed there until 1978 when he came back to SAFB, but returned to Saudi Arabia in 1980.

Karen is from Blackpool, Lancashire, located on the Irish Sea on the northwest coast of England. She is a registered nurse and went to Saudi Arabia in 1982 on a two-year contract to work in a hospital in Jiddah.

On her arrival there she met her future husband. He was the second person she asked for directions to where she wanted to go. "I was completely lost," Karen said, "but he came along and asked if he could help me."

When her contract was up and she returned to England, she and Armando kept in touch. She later returned to Jiddah and in 1987 they were married. She continues to work at the hospital part time when she is needed. So many have left the country now, that is getting to be more frequent.

Women in Saudi Arabia are not allowed to work in public places such as Kentucky Fried Chicken or Safeway supermarkets. All sales clerks are men. This is because it is against Islamic law.

However, Armando says, the country has undergone a lot of transformation since he first went there in 1974. Then you could not go into a store and buy bread, meat or milk. He told of an enterprising woman who began making bread at that time and selling it from her home, a few years ago.

"We live in a cosmopolitan compound," Armando pointed out. It is a city centrally located within the city of Jiddah, and is called Saudia City.

He continued, "We have a three bedroom, two and one-half bath villa, furnished to us by the company I work for. Everything, all of the furniture, appliances, utilities, everything but the telephone and pieces such as lamps and other things of individual choosing is furnished us. Even our transportation to and from work is provided."

Trejo said the walled compound is pretty well known among the military there. Families were asked to invite them into their homes and they did. He is very sports minded and he with a group of others organized softball teams. They have had the military people for meals, especially at holiday times.

The compound has its own water supply, three fine restaurants, several stores, and banks.

He said you do not pay taxes in Saudi Arabia until you have an income of $90,000 annually or more.

Armando pointed out that religion cannot be practiced there, at least not openly. But, the Saudi men can have as many as four wives. Most of the older ones have two or three, he said. But, most of the younger ones have only one wife. Many of the men have married American women and they are becoming more Americanized all of the time.

Trejo says a lot of the Saudi people are leaving for London or the United States. There is a closeness between them and the Americans. "They love Americans," he says. So many of them have been educated in the United States and most of them speak English.

Armando and Karen speak a little Arabic, enough to understand those who use that language.

"Over here we tend to think of Saudi Arabia as just sand and camels, however, there are areas that have a mountain range and evergreen trees. You see a lot of camels and nomadic desert tribes, but not as much as most people think there would be.

He told about taking Karen's parents on a trip, south of Mecca, while they visited them at Christmas, to show them a mountain range and trees. He mentioned that before one gets to Mecca, that anyone not of the Muslim faith must take what they call the Christian Highway, because they are not allowed to go through Mecca.

Karen proudly says, "I am a permanent resident of Texas, meaning she is now using her green card, a prerequisite to becoming a United States citizen."

She plans to bring her parents here as soon as she has her citizenship papers, then her husband can be their sponsor. Her parents are anxious to move here. They have visited the Trejos and like Iowa Park, Karen said. Her mother has arthritis and the dampness in Blackpool is not good for her.

Karen loves Texas and has no longing to return to England to live. She says it is home to her, as well as in Saudi Arabia.

For a time the Trejos owned a home in England and spent some time there when Armando was on vacation. But they sold their home there last year.

Now they just have their home in Jiddah and here. "This really is more Buddy's home than ours," Karen said, referring to Trejo's son, Armando Jr., who prefers to be called Buddy. He just recently graduated Midwestern State University.

Mrs. Trejo and Samantha will remain in Iowa Park until her husband thinks it is safe for them to return to Saudi Arabia "I love it here, but I also love my home in Jiddah," she said.

Trejo said "My main concern at this point is terrorist attacks. So I want to go back and see how things are before the wife and daughter return."

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - The beleaguered Texas Legislature, facing a $4 billion deficit, a court-ordered school funding deadline, and an ethics cloud over the House Speaker, last week trimmed $140 million from current spending and called for a full audit of state government.

As Gov. Ann Richards signed the emergency measure, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said a tax increase is inevitable.

Meanwhile, a copyright story in the Houston Chronicle indicates House Speaker Gib Lewis may have broken state ethics laws by failing to report a loan from an Austin lobbyist, but both the speaker and the lobbyist say the promissory note never existed.

Remember the emergency cash transfusions to the state welfare department last summer in the middle of the campaign?

Last week National Heritage Insurance Co., which suspended Medicaid payments for a month claiming the state owed it $117 million, said it will return $190 million in overpayments paid by the state agency.

The agency head, Ron Lindsey, called for a meeting with the highest state and insurance company personnel.

Loan from Lobbyist

According to deed records, in 1983 House Speaker Gib Lewis gave a promissory note to one of the Capitol's most powerful lobbyists and in seven years has never reported it as required by state law.

State law requires lawmakers to report all outstanding loans on a personal financial disclosure form filed each year with the secretary of state.

Attorney Allen Hill, representing Lewis on two misdemeanor ethics charges, said neither Lewis nor lobbyist L. Dean Cobb could recall details of the transaction and both doubted the note ever existed.

Close friends, roommates

In 1982, Lewis and Cobb together bought a 563-acre ranch located in Burnet County by signing two notes totaling $386,000 to the landowners.

They were lawmaker-roommates in the 1970s, and both took the now infamous vacation to Mexico paid by a San Antonio law firm.

But Lewis, elected speaker in 1983, promised to sever his business ties with Cobb after he caught media and legal flak for the close association.

Mired in Notoriety

After that vow, Lewis then assumed both ranch notes and gave Cobb a $30,619 note to buy Cobb's share of the ranch, according to deed records.

The controversial ranch has since mired Lewis in notoriety at every turn.

Media reports disclosed he developed it with exotic game provided by the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department for unclear compensation, and questioned its basis for agricultural-use property tax exemptions.

Loan Details Unclear

While Lewis and Cobb may doubt the loan paper ever existed, the promissory note was reported mentioned in the sale deed and in a deed trust which Lewis filed then to create a lien in Cobb's name against the property. The lien has never been released by Cobb.

Allen said Lewis explained he bought out Cobb by trading his equity in their Austin condo, plus a check for $5,000.

Taxes in Your Face

New state taxes are staring lawmakers in the face, even if voters approve a new lottery this spring, according to Bullock, who declined to predict which taxes or how much.

"It's as big as the House and Senate want to make it, and it's as big as the needs of Texas are," he said. "I would imagine it will be a rather large one."

Bullock also said the proposed lottery is "a sleazy way for government to raise money."

State Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, has a plan to bring back the old state property tax, but poor school districts oppose it, fearing voters will reject the necessary amendment.

Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison, a Republican, leads a faction which fears funding dominated by the state would mean loss of control over local school agendas.

Umphey Confirmed

A Senate panel approved Gov. Richard's controversial nominee to the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, Beaumont attorney Walter Umphey, despite warnings from a hometown legislator.

Rep. Al Price, D-Beaumont, asked senators to hold action until allegations of anti-environmental practices by Umphey could "be checked out more thoroughly."

Afterwards, GOP chairman Fred Meyer said the panel officially confirmed Richards' first departures from two campaign promises: to protect the environment and to avoid government for sale.

Richards received more than $350,000 in campaign funds from Umphey and his law firm in the recent election.

Other Highlights

Attorney General Dan Morales asked a federal judge to end his 18-year control over the Texas prison system which court-ordered millions in new prison construction.

The State Board of Insurance, spurred by Gov. Richards, delayed action on a proposed 29.1 percent increase in auto insurance rates. Board Chairman James Sexton said the rate case would be shelved until March 14 so that board auditors can verify the accuracy of evidence submitted by the industry.

Large FFA delegation headed toward Houston

To some, it may appear the entire Iowa Park FFA Chapter has entries in this year's junior division of the Houston Livestock Show, when they see so many blue corduroy jackets with the chapter's name on it.

But in fact, there will be only 35 showing their animals during the Feb. 16 though Mar. 3 event.

In all, the Iowa Park Chapter will have 53 of some 13,000 entries in the junior show, which will be held in the Astrohall.

George Martin and Ray Dillard are advisors of the local chapter.

The local entry list includes 24 market barrows, 12 market turkeys, six each market lambs and market steers, three commercial steers and one each market poultry and beef heifer.

Entries in the junior division, combined with the open division and horse show, make the Houston Livestock Show the world's largest.

The four market animal categories represent animals raised by the exhibitor as food sources. Top animals in each of the categories are eligible for their individual market auction.

Total money paid in 1990 at the four junior show auctions exceeded $2.7-million.

"The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is committed to benefiting youth and supporting education. We feel we accomplish these goals through the active role we take in supporting the second week of livestock competition, our junior show.

"This second week features the livestock projects of youngsters from all over the state and we're proud of the dedication and hard work they give to each of their animals," said Steve Woodley, assistant manager.

In addition to the show competition, a series of lectures, seminars and live animal demonstrations again will be on the calendar for the month of February - the International Stockmen's School.

Held Feb. 14-16, at the Sheraton Astrodome Hotel, the school focuses on lectures and seminars delivered by agricultural experts from throughout the world.

New cattle shows scheduled for the open show division are Texas Longhorn, Piedmontese and Penzgauer shows.

All net proceeds from the annual show and rodeo provide funds for scholarships and research projects throughout the state.

Currently, more than 1,000 students receive some form of show-sponsored financial assistance, with 30 research projects funded.

More than 9,000 volunteers ensure the success of each year's event.

Support of the nation's fighting forces now serving in the Middle East is demonstrated by American flags that have been sewn on the uniforms of Iowa Park Hawk and Lady Hawk basketball players.

The Decatur Lady Eagles, former long-time district member, clinched the playoffs Friday when they defeated Aledo 53-38, raising their season record to 23-6 and 12-1 in district.

Iowa Park reportedly will contribute some of the 150 entries expected to enter in the mar. 7-9 Wichita Falls Regional Golden Gloves. The tournament will be held at the Central Boys Club.

Lady Hawks among 3 in playoff tournament

There is parity among the girls' teams that make up Dist. 4-AAA. Iowa Park, Bridgeport and Graham share the conference championship. Those three schools tied with 4-1 records after the first half of the district's round robin schedule was completed, and then tied along with Vernon, all with 3-2 records, in the second round.

So now, there must be a three-team tournament to decide which teams will represent the district in bi-district play as the champion and runner-up, it was decided Wednesday at a meeting of the league's coaches in Graham.

Iowa Park drew a bye for the first round of the playoff tournament. Graham and Bridgeport are to play at 7 p.m. Friday in D.L. Ligon Coliseum at Midwestern State Univ.

The Lady Hawks will take on the winner of that game at 2 p.m. Saturday, also in Ligon Coliseum.

A win would advance Iowa Park to bi-district as the district's first place team, and the loser advance as the runner-up.

A loss would send the Lady Hawks back into competition at 6 p.m. Monday, also in Ligon Coliseum, against the loser of the Bridgeport-Graham game. The winner of that game would advance to bi-district as the conference's runner-up school.

After losing Jan. 29 to Bridgeport and 39-35 Friday at Graham, the Lady Hawks were in a must-win situation

Tuesday when they closed out their regular season schedule at Bowie.

There, they won handily by a 51-39 margin.

Iowa Park had led 30-21 at the half, but Bowie had pulled to within three points late in the third quarter. But a three-point shot by Kerri Dornier, who finished the evening with 21 points, gave Iowa Park a 37-31 lead going into the final period.

The Lady Hawks outscored their hosts 14-8 in the fourth to earn their 21st victory against nine defeats for the season.

Melody Gray also had 12 points in that game.

In defeating the Lady Hawks 39-35 Friday night, Graham became the only conference school to beat Iowa Park twice this season. The Lady Blues won 52-43 in their first meeting here.

Graham had jumped out to a 15-6 lead by the first official rest period, but Iowa Park outscored the hosts 12-8 in the second, to trail only 23-18 at the half.

The Lady Hawks narrowed the margin to four with an 8-7 third quarter, and both teams matched each other in the fourth, 9-9.

Dornier was Iowa Park's leading scorer, but was limited to only eight points.

Tri-Star winners announced

Placings in the annual Iowa Park Optimist Tri-Star Basketball Contest were determined Saturday afternoon in the junior high's girls' gymnasium.

There were 76 entries in the eight age divisions, which was open to both boys and girls ages six through 13.

Skills were determined in passing, shooting and dribbling.

Plaques were awarded to the top three scorers in each age group:

6 Year Old - 1st, Adam Case; 2nd, Mark Prince; 3rd, Jenny York.

7 Year Old - 1st, Brandon Lane; 2nd, Ryder Goins; 3rd, James Hinton.

8 Year Old - 1st, Chase Wright; 2nd, Jimmy Miller; 3rd, Lindsey Hancock.

9 Year Old - 1st, Troy Tatom; 2nd, Randy York; 3rd, Wade Miser.

10 Year Old - 1st, Bo Williams; 2nd, Nathan Ables; 3rd, Brian Miller.

Hawks facing final two opponents

The Hawks have two more opportunities to improve on their 6-17 season and 2-6 district records.

Their final home game will be at 8 p.m. Friday, when they host the Breckenridge Buckaroos. Then Tuesday, they close out their schedule on the road, at Vernon.

The club took a 73-50 defeat Friday at Graham, and then lost 63-46 at Bowie Tuesday evening.

Against Graham, the Hawks were still in the game at the half, trailing only 36-27. And they were still within 13 points going into the final period, but the Steers went on a 20-10 spree to cinch the win.

Jeremy Carroll and Scott Skinner each had 11 points for Iowa Park, and Brent Wineinger added 10.

Bowie's Jackrabbits apparently found their home court more to their liking Tuesday, than when the two clubs played here Jan. 18. In that game, Bowie escaped a one-point winner, 61-60.

But at home, the Hares jumped all over the Hawks in the opening period, which ended 23-8, and cruised to a 36-18 halftime lead.

The second half was almost even, as the Hawks outscored their hosts 12-10 in the third, but Bowie had a 17-16 final quarter edge.

Wineinger had one of his better nights, racking up 23 points.

8th Grade girls win tournament

The Eighth Grade girls won their own tournament by defeating Notre Dame 30-17 and Holliday 35-22.

In other games, the team wiped out Henrietta 46-16, but the "A" team was edged 42-39 by Vernon and the "B" team also lost to Vernon 33-18.

The Seventh Grade "B" team was edged 17-16 by Vernon, but the "A" club turned it around and beat Vernon by a 39-37 margin.

Monday night, the Seventh "A" was edged by Henrietta 35-33.
