

Large voter turnout predicted Saturday

18 candidates for 6 city, school seats

Another record turnout possibly will cast ballots in Saturday's city and school elections.

Election judges are gearing for an exceptionally large number of voters, based on the absentee ballots which were cast.

Polls, to be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m., will be located at Kidwell Elementary and Bradford Elementary for both city and school balloting, and also at the West Wichita Co-op at Valley View for the trustee election.

Election judges made their predictions for a large voter turnout after looking back to last year's second-highest vote count and comparing the absentee votes cast.

There were 855 total votes cast in the city election last year, including the 32 absentee ballots.

After the absentee voting deadline passed Tuesday, 52 had been cast at city hall.

Of the 922 votes counted in the 1990 school election, 16 were absentee. This year 44 have been cast at the administration building.

The community's record voter turnout was in 1978, when 1,056 total ballots were cast in the city election, and 1,347 in the school's.

Another reason election observers are predicting a large turnout is the number of candidates in both elections.

Eighteen candidates in all are seeking the six seats, three each in the city and school.

Of the 18, only three are incumbents, and of the three, one is not being challenged.

CITY COUNCIL

Incumbent Virgil Woodfin is seeking his third term as city alderman in Place One. He has drawn opposition from Bob Birk and Ira Hambricht.

Place Three on the council is being vacated by Johnny Coker, who is the dean of the council in tenure.

Candidates for Place Three, in the order they will appear on the ballots, are Bob Hamilton, Bill Guthrie and Bud Mercer.

Also not running for re-election on the council is Alderman Diane Robnett, who has occupied Place Five, and it's that position which has drawn the largest number of candidates on the city's ballot.

Place Five candidates include Sherry Wood, Mark Raby, Jo Lynn Cockrum and Bruce Palmer.

Woodfin earned his seat at the council table in 1987, when he defeated Keith Fisher 199-156.

Merger is the only candidate who has previously served on the council. He ran unopposed in 1986 and '88, but lost last May to Charlie Helms, 557-275.

This will be the Hambricht's third attempt to win a council seat. He lost 140-94 to Robnett in 1989, and last year was edged by former mayor Johnny Crawford 308-278.

Running a close third to Crawford and Hambricht last year was Raby, who polled 244 votes.

The 10 council candidates listed on the election application forms as their occupations and years of constant residency in the city as: Woodfin, retired, 45; Birk, insurance agent, four; Hambricht, business owner, 14; Hamilton, publisher, 21; Guthrie, insurance sales manager, 20; Mercer, retired electrical contractor, 31; Wood, assistant director Friendly Door, six;

Raby, self employed, 17; Cockrum, patient account insurance clerk at Bethania Hospital, 25, and Palmer, student, six.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Only one incumbent on the school board is unchallenged in this election, Sheri Kennedy, Place Three. Mrs. Kennedy is a homemaker who has lived in the district 19 years.

Place Two incumbent Wendall House has drawn opposition from Max Henderson.

House, who defeated Jerry Gholson 182-152 in 1987, lists his occupation as an independent oil producer/contractor, and though he was born here, he lists his recent constant residency in the district as 14 years.

Henderson is a statistical technician at Cryovac with 28 constant years residency in the district.

The only trustee not seeking another term in office is former school principal John Sibley, who occupies Place One.

Five candidates have filed for the Place One vacancy, including Buddie Bridwell, Walter Beeman, Martha Dudley, Sandra Lehman and Carmen Lozipone.

Lozipone is one of two candidates for the school board who has previously sought an office. He ran third behind Denny McCarthy in 1989 and fifth behind Randy Catlin last year.

Mrs. Dudley served several terms of office on the board, and has previously been the superintendent's secretary.

Trustee candidates listed as their occupations and years of continuous residency in the district as: Lehman, homemaker/bookkeeper, 19; Bridwell, investigator, 15; Beeman, aircraft mechanic, 18; Lozipone, insurance sales, 15, and Dudley, buyer at Cryovac.

Bids, speed limits on city agenda

Besides canvassing the results of Saturday's election, the city council's meeting Monday night will be highlighted by awarding a number of bids, as well as considering increasing the speed limit on West Magnolia.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Those who are elected to the council who are not incumbents will not be sworn into office following the canvassing of election results, because of a new procedure mandated by the state.

The new procedure, which was overlooked by the city last year but observed by the school board, requires certification forms to be signed by the newly-elected which are forwarded to the secretary of state for verification.

Once returned from the secretary's office, the new aldermen will be administered oaths of office.

Virgil Woodfin, the only incumbent seeking re-election, will remain in his seat, however, even if successful in his bid for another term.

Administrator Gary Jones is to explain the new procedure to the council.

Action on five bids received in response to advertisements run by the city are on the agenda. Two relate to the Recreational Activities Center, and the other three to street work.

Bids have been received for heating and air conditioning at the RAC, as well as vinyl wall covering.

One of the street projects is to rebuild Vogel, between Third and Fourth streets, with concrete. This would complete a long-term project initiated by the previous council several years ago, which was to rebuild with concrete Third Street, part of Fourth, and the same block on Van Horn, all of which have been completed.

A federally-funded street project of overlaying existing asphalt with another coat of asphalt is on the agenda.

Also listed is action to purchase materials for this summer's project of slurry coating asphalt streets, continuing an aggressive project initiated last year and utilizing equipment already purchased.

In response to a proposal made last meeting, an ordinance will be considered to increase the speed limit on Magnolia, from West Highway to near Johnson Road, and establish speed limits in school zones.

The administrator will request permission to advertise for, and accept bids for a tractor at the water treatment plant, according to the agenda.

The administrator will propose authorization to purchase filter media for water treatment plant drying beds.

The mayor is to read a proclamation declaring May 12-18 as "National Police Week" and establishing May 15 as "Police Memorial Day" in Iowa Park.

An executive session is listed on the agenda, during which the council will meet behind closed doors to discuss a topic of "real property."

Burglar strikes twice while residents sleep

Two nighttime thefts, while owners were asleep nearby, were reported in the same neighborhood Thursday night, according to the police blotter.

One of the thefts reportedly took place in one of the units at Woodbriar Apartments, while two occupants were home, and the other was at a structure in the 1600 block of Karen.

While a couple reportedly slept in Unit 101, someone entered the apartment and took a bottle of prescription pills and a purse.

The pill bottle was found later on the apartment grounds, but it has not been determined if all its contents were still in it.

The thief apparently dumped the contents of the purse on the walkway in front of the apartment, selecting to take a calculator and gold business card holder. All the rest of the contents were left at the scene.

That theft was reported to police at 6:19 a.m. Friday.

A resident from the 1600 block of Karen called police at 7:25 a.m. to report the theft of a weed eater from a small structure next to the back yard's swimming pool.

Other items, such as chemicals and detergents, were also removed from the structure and poured into the pool, all while the occupants were asleep in the home.

Three arrests were listed on the week's blotter entries, as well as one officer assisting a state officer make an arrest.

Responding to a domestic disturbance call in the 300 block of East Lafayette at 2:47 a.m. Thursday, police arrested Jonathan Neal Womble, 25, on a charge of public intoxication. He was released at 7:18 a.m., according to the blotter.

William Michael Ellard, 41, was arrested in the 100 block of South Wall at 11:15 p.m. Thursday on two charges, public intoxication and unlawful carrying of a weapon.

The public intoxication charge was dropped, but the weapon charge landed Ellard in county jail, where he was later released on a $500 bond.

Police arrested Randy Lee Gregory, 25, in the 800 block of West Highway at 1:30 p.m. Saturday after it was determined the county sheriff's office had a warrant against him.

Gregory was wanted for bond forfeiture and theft over $20 but under $200, according to the blotter entry. He was later turned over to a sheriff's deputy.

Officer Mike Stark responded to a call for assistance from a Department of Public Safety officer at 12:46 p.m. Saturday, and assisted him in arresting the occupants of an automobile at the weigh station west on US 287.

The DPS had been alerted to a possible kidnapping, with a weapon used in the commission, and had stopped the vehicle containing four men and a woman.

Stark remained until other DPS officers arrived.

A resident in the 500 block of West Clara filed a complaint with police Monday evening that a 15-inch gold rope necklace valued at $400 had been stolen.

The owner of a vehicle parked in the 900 block of Foley reported to police Saturday evening that someone had shattered a window of the vehicle.

Iowa Park police filed a formal charge against Robert Lee England, 19, of Electra in relation to the April 4 theft of a hand gun from a vehicle while it was parked in the 1600 block of Karen.

The gun was confiscated within 48 hours in Vernon from a resident there, and investigation led to the Electra man, according to investigator Ray Smock.

England was arrested Monday.

EIGHTH STRAIGHT YEAR!

Band earns Sweepstakes

Iowa Park High School band for the eighth consecutive year earned the coveted Sweepstakes in University Interscholastic League competition.

To earn Sweepstakes, a band must receive Division One ratings in the fall during the marching contest, and again in the spring for concert and sight reading.

The band is directed by Greg Miller, who is assisted by Ed Hefti.

Hefti also directs the junior high band, which received a Division One rating in sight reading and Two in concert.

On April 13, the high school jazz ensemble, under Hefti's direction, competed in the Plainview Jazz Festival at Ardmore, Okla., and was named Best in Class.

The ensemble received Division One ratings in both stage performance and sight reading.

All the bands will participate May 16 at the Iowa Park High School auditorium in their Spring Concert.

April big permit month

Spring apparently stimulated a desire for home improvements in the community, according to the list of building permits issued by city hall.

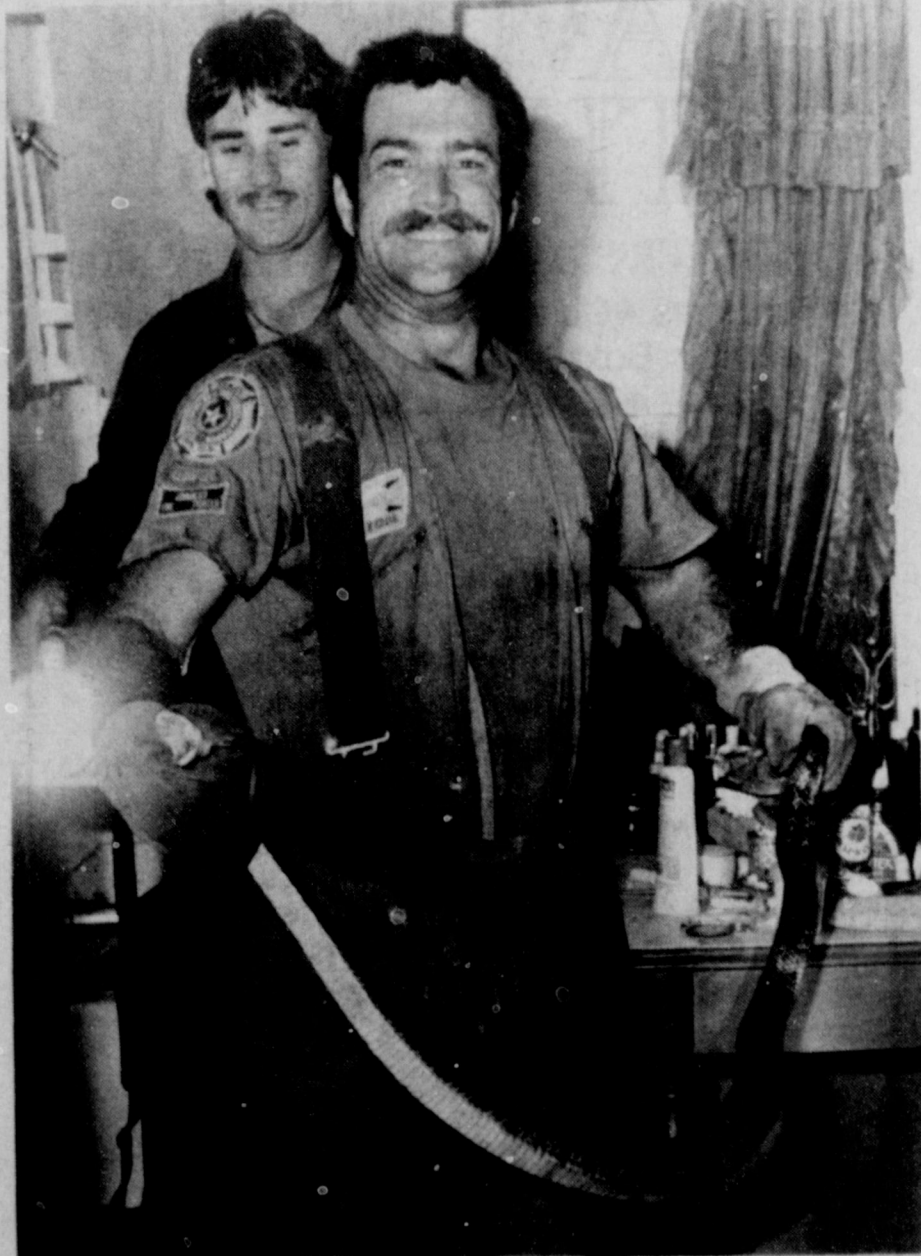

There were no permits issued for new home construction, however. Many of the repairs were for roofs, following a hail storm that struck part of the city.

April's permit total of $97,003 elevated the year's total to $164,970, and was the highest amount for a month thus far in 1991.

Permits issued included: Wal-Mart, West Highway, repair, $25,000. Harold Stucki, 1108 Lincoln, alteration, $750.

Carson Crume, 213 E. Garden, alteration, $500. State National Bank, 104 W. Park, alteration, $4,500. Ruth Richardson, 600 W. Texas, storage shed, $220. Phillip Staggs, 1119 W. Louisa, garage-siding, $6,504. Phil Welch, 2 Surrey, repair, $2,000. Jesse Johnson, 113 James, repair, $1,020. Laverne Wakefield, 413 W. Aldine, carport, $1,900. Mrs. Fred Parkey, 105 W. Washington, garage, $3,168.

'LOOK WHAT I GOT!' - Iowa Park Volunteer Fireman Mark Wicks grins as he extracts a four-foot king snake from the bathroom of a home on Horseshoe Lake Road last week. Because the unwanted reptile was termed "beneficial," it was released in a nearby field. Wicks and his fellow firemen later said the action was "simply in the line of duty."

News Briefs

Students to launch sub campaign

For the third consecutive year, members of the Iowa Park Junior High School band will be selling subscriptions to the Iowa Park Leader as a fund-raising project.

Besides earning commission on each subscription sold for the band program, special prizes will be earned by the student with the greatest overall sales, most new subscriptions sold and most renewals sold.

The project has been officially approved by the board of trustees.

Students will begin their annual sales campaign Friday afternoon and continue through May 11.

Presentation of awards will be made during the band's Spring Concert on May 16.

Appreciated rain just not enough

Though the .36 of an inch rain that fell in Iowa Park Wednesday, April 24, was appreciated by most residents, it still was far short of moisture needed. Virgil Woodfin reported the measurement.

Most residents were resuming watering of their yards and gardens by the weekend.

Farmers have generally agreed their wheat crop will produce so little grain that it may not yield enough to justify harvesting, because of the lack of moisture at the required time.

Does your subscription to The Leader expire this month? Check the list on page 4.

Williams, Munsch vows solemnized recently in Wichita Falls

Steven Michael Munsch and his bride, the former Necia Suzanne Williams, are at home in Wichita Falls following their marriage April 11.

The couple exchanged wedding vows at Rephidim Church in Wichita Falls. Dr. Ronnie A. Killingsworth, pastor, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Williams of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Munsch of Wichita Falls.

For her wedding, the bride chose an ivory brocade suit designed with fitted bodice, low vee neck and long sleeves. It featured a peplum at the waistline that extended to a deep back ruffle over the straight tea length skirt.

She wore a fingertip veil of white illusion attached to a wide band of white silk forget-me-nots.

Her all silk cascade bouquet of open peach roses, white rosebuds, and white stephanotis was accented with peach pearls and gray and peach ribbon streamers.

She carried her bouquet on a white Testament that had belonged to her paternal great-grandmother and was carried by both her mother and sister in their weddings.

The bride's veil and bouquet were hand fashioned by a close family friend, Mrs. Donna Chandler of Mineral Wells.

"Something old" was the antique Testament she carried, her costume was "something new", "something borrowed" was a pearl drop necklace, a family heirloom belonging to her close friend, Lisa Hunter of Strawn, and she added the traditional blue garter and a sixpence in her shoe.

Mrs. April Anderson served as her sister's matron of honor. She wore a slim cut dress of polished cotton with peach, pink and green floral print on a white background.

Her dress was styled with a large ruffled scoop neckline and peplum skirt. She wore a corsage of open peach silk roses.

Andy Anderson, the bride's brother-in-law, served as best man. Ushers were brothers of the couple, David DeWayne Williams and Christian Munsch, and Russell Hardin.

The groom was attired in a black tuxedo with black cummerbund, white tuxedo shirt, and white bow tie outlined in black.

Mrs. Williams chose a silver gray street length georgette dress with long lace sleeves and a rounding neckline. The bodice was covered with gray lace embroidered with tiny gray pearls.

The groom's mother wore a deep pink georgette street length dress with rounding collar, long sleeves and open jacket with a pink sequined camisole.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Michael Munsch
(Necia Suzanne Williams)

Large potted palms in brass containers adorned with peach bows accented the front of the church. A large arrangement of peach, ivory and bronze silk flowers in a brass vase stood on a cubical pedestal to form the background for the podium.

On opposing sides in front of the podium were large white vases containing tall pyramid shaped arrangements of fresh white gladiolus, peach gerbers, white cushion mums, spring emi and flat ferns. These rested on tall white Roman columns.

Peach bows and streamers marked the pews. The inner foyer of the church was decorated with a five-branched brass candelabra intertwined with Boston fern and containing peach votive candles. A gray ceramic vase containing an arrangement of peach silk flowers was flanked by crystal candelabra with peach votive candles. Clusters of clear crystal bells hung over the candelabra.

The registry table was covered in antique white lace over a peach cloth and held the bride's book, a peach plume pen, the couple's engagement photograph in an ornate silver frame, and a pair of cutglass double candelabra with peach tapers. The double candelabra were used in the bride's parents' wedding.

The reception immediately followed Bible class and the ceremony.

White lace over a peach cloth covered the bride's table that was centered with an impressive cascade bouquet of peach and white silk roses. Peach napkins inscribed with "Necia and Michael," silver hearts, and the wedding date were used.

The bride's multilayered cake with two triple graduated round layers and a third layer supported by white Grecian columns was topped by a heart shaped layer. An arrangement of peach and white roses and white wedding bells were on the layer on which the columns rested. The top layer was decorated with clusters of peach and white roses that held a contemporary gray glazed porcelain bride and groom ornament. White frosting was used with cascades of pastel peach frosting roses, white ruffled borders and twisted ropes adorning the sides of the cake.

A silver punch service and antique heirloom crystal bowls with nuts and wedding bell shaped peach mints completed the setting. The bowls had belonged to the bride's maternal great-grandmother. Mints were handmade by Mrs. Susie Bates, the bride's lifetime family friend.

The groom's table was covered with ivory lace over a peach cloth and was centered with unique crystal candleholders holding peach tapers and peach votive candles. These were displayed on a mirrored tray and intertwined with strands of tiny pearls and a scattering of small silk peach blossoms.

Peach plates and gray napkins and an a silver coffee service were used. The rectangular shaped groom's cake was chocolate and was frosted with chocolate bordered by peach and ivory roses.

Two large hearts were intertwined and outlined with ivory roses accented with greenery. The hearts were inscribed with "Michael, April 11, 1972" and "Necia, April 12, 1972." Written in script beneath the hearts were the couples married name and wedding date. Antique cutglass serving pieces matched those on the bride's table.

Miss Alice Kindred of Temple, Okla., registered guests. Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Donna Chandler of Mineral Wells and Miss Beth Moldenhauer of Lakeside City.

Mrs. Susan Moldenhauer of Lakeside City and Mrs. Lisa Hunter of Strawn presided at the groom's table.

Other members of the houseparty were Nita Gillis, Mrs. Debra Hardin, Mrs. Susie Bates, Mrs. Sally Perkins, and Miss Leisa Bates.

Misses Julie Campbell and Hayley Campbell, the bride's cousins, distributed gray and peach rice bags from baskets decorated with peach bows.

Immediately following the reception the couple departed for a honeymoon in Oklahoma City.

Both attended Midwestern State University and are employed by Wilson's Office Supply in Wichita Falls. They are working on restoring their two-story home located in an historic district of Wichita Falls.

Out of town guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell of Lake Whitney and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Arrington of Nocona, and the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Les Clark of Denver City and Mrs. Ursula Munsch of Nocona.

Other special guests were the bride's great-aunt Mrs. Wanda Pearce Chase and her uncle Dale Williams and children Cody and Melody.

Others from out of town were Moses Arrendondo of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Campbell of Hurst, and George Day of Nocona.

Mrs. Otto is honored

Tracy Otto was awarded the "Ritual of Jewel" Girl of the Year award Saturday at the annual Founder's Day banquet of Beta Sigma Phi. The event was at the Woman's Forum in Wichita Falls.

The award is based on participation, dedication, and service to the organization. She is a member of the Alpha Tau chapter of BSP.

Mrs. Otto also was inducted into Kappa Delta Pi, an Honor Society in Education, Friday evening at Midwestern State University.

She is a graduate student working toward a Master's degree in Special Education. She has maintained a 3.88 grade point average.

Mrs. Otto has taught special education for seven years, with the last two as Early Childhood teacher at

BUCK VOYLES

'He's a good ole boy'

By Myrna Smith

Mention the name Buck Voyles and the majority of people have the same comment, "He's a good ole boy."

These comments aren't confined to just people in Iowa Park where he has lived for more than six decades.

His "good ole boy" ways, his outgoing personality, ready wit and willingness to help people are pretty well known by many people throughout Wichita County.

Buck retired in 1980 after serving 32 years as county commissioner from Iowa Park. Prior to running for this office in 1948, he worked several years as dredger operator for the Wichita County Water Improvement District, with Carl Sullivan as his foreman.

He had an opponent in his first commissioner race and there was a run-off. He said, "I really didn't much think I would be elected." But, that was the beginning of the many times he was a candidate, without drawing an opponent. It also was the beginning of people thinking of him almost as a permanent fixture at the county courthouse.

"There was a lot of difference in that first election and several of them after that," Voyles commented. He said the last few years he sat in front of the television to see how the votes were coming in.

That first year, he recalled, "The streets in the middle of town were roped off. There was a band on a truck and the celebration went on until one or two o'clock, with the town full of people."

Buck didn't choose to run in 1980. "After all, I was pushing 70, and I felt I had reached the age when a younger person should be in the office."

He continued, "The county needed long-range planning and I realized a younger person would have better vision and foresight. After all, when you approach that age, you can't tell how much longer you will be able to look ahead and envision the needs of the county and determine what is best for the people like a younger person can."

Voyles said the job was a challenge to him until the last day he was in office. "One of the things I liked most about it was that it gave me an opportunity for service and to accommodate the people," he commented.

He pointed out that there was a lot of difference in what he could do for the people in his precinct when he first was elected and several years later. "There was not as much 'politics' involved then as there was in later years," he explained.

For the first 10 or 12 years after he was elected he maintained the streets for the city, because at that time there was not a street maintenance department.

"One of the best parts at that time for me was that I could help to make things easier for people by helping them in some ways with their property. Then I could maintain the school yards, and the area around the schools. I built every ball field in Iowa Park."

"Now that there is more politics involved, it is against the law for the commissioner to do this type of work."

Buck said the people were always cooperative. When he purchased the right-of-way for the 287 freeway to come through, and for the rights-of-way for farm to market roads, he never had any problems obtaining them, because the property owners were always agreeable. He is proud of the fact that he never had to file a condemnation suit for a right-of-way.

He moved here from Childress with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Voyles in 1928. Buck was born in Megargel and was given the same initials as his dad, but they didn't have the same names.

On Nov. 2, 1940, Buck was married to Theda Brittain, a native of Burkburnett who had moved to Iowa Park, and who, incidentally was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Brittain.

From 1942 until he was discharged in 1945, Buck served in World War II in the U.S. Army, 7th Infantry Division, 17th Regiment, serving in the Asian-South Pacific Theatre. On May 17, 1945, he was wounded in Okinawa in an artillery explosion.

He has several ribbons and medals from his service, including the Philippine Liberation medal, a good conduct medal and a Bronze Star. But he wouldn't say what he did "beyond the call of duty" to receive the Bronze Star.

He did recall that he went 11 months one time in the army without a pay check. "But that probably wasn't 'beyond the call', since there was no place to spend it where I was," he said.

Since Buck's retirement he has helped other local veterans find work and he still gets calls from those who have been wounded in service, asking how to go about getting their compensation.

Through the years Theda has been a Merle Norman Cosmetic representative, and until the first of the year she was working at the Merle Norman shop in Sikes Senter Mall. Now, she considers herself retired.

The Voyles have a recreational motor home and they do quite a bit of traveling. They have spent some winter months in Arizona, but they prefer to stay in Texas.

Each summer they go to the Rio Grande Valley and into Mexico for a while. Also during the year they attend several musical jamborees.

A favorite is at Glen Rose. Buck says the park there is beautiful and family oriented. There is always seven or eight Bluegrass bands there, and usually there are one or two that are nationally known.

Another reason he probably likes it so well is that they give him something to do. They made him sheriff, with all the trappings, complete with badge. He collects fines from those who break the rules and the money is used for a "big feed". Buck also is the official greeter. That figures, since he had plenty of experience greeting people during his 32 years in a political job.

They enter several activities other senior citizens do, and Buck is a member of Senior Citizens, but with tongue in cheek, Theda says she is waiting until she gets old enough to join. He responded, "And I can hardly wait."

Theda is ready now to do some traveling, but Buck is waiting on the weather. He just recently completed a cellar and hasn't got to use it. "If it doesn't thunder seriously before long, I just think I'm going to sell the thing," he joked.

What else does he do with all of his spare time? "Well, I made the bed this morning, and I always take my nap right after lunch, just like the doctor told me I should," he said.

"Yeah, after lunch is the only time he is quiet," Theda remarked.

He said "She likes a few television programs, and I always watch the news, and one or two talk shows. As far as I'm concerned they could move the TV out and I wouldn't miss it."

"Theda is artistic," Buck commented as he noted several clown dolls on the mantel that she had made, "but all I do is make the blocks for the clowns to sit on."

Another regular activity Buck is a participant in, is a regular afternoon domino game with a few of his cronies. But, he wouldn't say where their meeting place is located. "We don't want to advertise it," was his reason for not saying.

"Theda and I work out at the cemetery some," Voyles said, adding "its got to where it like a reunion, so many of our friends are residents out there."

Both Theda and Buck were active in social and civic organizations for many years. He was a member of the Noon Lions Club for 35 years.

They were especially active in PTA when their children were in school. One year they attended an international meeting in the company of Gladys James, and the late D.O. James. "That was a ball," he remarked.

Now he is active in the Iowa Park Masonic Lodge No. 713, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. They also are active members of First Baptist Church.

The Voyles have four children, Danny and Ranny, both of Wichita Falls, and both employed at Sheppard Air Force Base; Joe, who is in construction work in Dallas, and Mrs. Jerry (Leslie) Pruett, who works at the Wichita County tax office. They also have six grandchildren.

Buck thoughtfully comments, "I have no remorse and no regrets, it's been a good trip."

As I See It. ■ ■ ■ By Bob Hamilton

It's been weeks since the school reform bill was passed, but just what all the effects will have on individual districts is still unknown.

Who's surprised? Anyone who kept up with House Bill 72 and other legislation relating to public education in Texas should know that it takes time, and more time, for all the interpretations of intent to be defined and determined, and then handed down to the local levels.

"The good news about S.B. 351 passed and signed into law on April 15 is that school districts know approximately how much money to expect from the state next school year," says Iowa Park Superintendent Glen Mitchell.

But he goes on: "The bad news is that the legislature is still in session and they will be considering bills that may require additional mandates that would take the additional money that school districts expect to receive from the state next year."

Then he puts on the zinger, "The really bad news about the bill is that the only way that it can be financed is through a state income tax."

Based on this year's average daily attendance figures, Iowa Park should receive between $250,000 and $300,000 more state funds for the 1991-92 school year.

That's a big should. Mitchell also expressed concern about the effect of Iowa Park being placed into a county-wide county education district, along with Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and Electra, which has already been mandated.

Some people feel that new district will be responsible to collect the mandated minimum tax levy of 72-cents (and that doesn't include the local 11-cent bond retirement tax).

But Mitchell reports others feel the individual districts will be allowed to continue to collect the taxes as in the past.

The local administrator joins others around the state in worrying about the legislation's mandate of 180 days of school, a five-day increase.

And they have multiple reasons for their concerns. Mitchell points out the additional five school days will increase the cost of operating the buses, cafeteria and buildings.

He then points out the legislation calls for an additional 40 hours of inservice for teachers --- to be accomplished during the school day.

"This will require early dismissal time throughout the year or employing substitute teachers, while teachers receive inservice training," he says.

Another of Mitchell's concerns is, "The ability for the state to prorate the amount of money each school district will receive if there is not enough money available to pay school districts because of a short fall of money."

State Rep. Rick Williamson was recently quoted in the Wise County Messenger, "Right now, there are no ideas about where to raise the money."

Another legislator, Rep. John

Smithie, was quoted in the Canyon News, "There is a fallacy. People are saying 'yeah, we're getting $2 million.' What they don't realize is this isn't pennies from heaven. It's got to come from somewhere and Texas is broke."

Now is when most school districts are putting together their 1991-92 year budgets, so they can hold the required public hearings and make adjustments some taxpayer might prove necessary.

Well, Dr. Wayne King of Hamlin told the Hamlin Herald, "Any budget planning would be premature at this point...If there is no funding available, we could be faced with only seeing a pro-rated share of state funds and would be no better off than we are now."

Concerning the county-wide taxing districts, the Bowie News quoted the Bowie superintendent, Dr. Bobby Bain, "Bowie ISD has been in a holding pattern under $1 (tax rate) since its inception. Meanwhile, every school in Wise County and most in Montague County are well over the $1 mark...As a result, after running a tight ship financially and keeping the tax rate low for citizens, Bowie ISD will suffer in the amount of state funding they will receive."

But, all this concern over the bill may be for naught, despite what Judge McCowan says.

You see, the constitutionality of the reform bill apparently will be challenged by school districts with large tax bases.

Among other points, they plan to base their appeal on a 1931 ruling of the Texas Supreme Court on the "Love vs. Dallas" case, which prohibited taking money from one district and giving it to another.

An example of the "Robin Hood" attack on local school districts was given by James Pennington, superintendent at Andrews.

He recently told his board the legislation could mean his district could lose two out of every three cents of local taxes collected.

But for now, we'll just have to wait and see. Hopefully, it'll all be for the better.

Mrs. Greg Graves

A native of Alexandria, La., and now a resident of Electra, Dee Dee (Mrs. Greg) Graves, has never stopped craving Cajun food. In fact, when she came in the Leader to interview for "Cook of the Week," she brought her favorite Cajun recipes, and seemed to enjoy talking about home and the food they prepare there.

Although the food in this part of Texas is quite different than what you find in Alexandria, she said she's adapted pretty easily. She noted that it is difficult to find some of the ingredients for Cajun cooking, and some of what you can find is expensive.

She compared Texas "convenience store burritos" to buying back home what they call "Boudin," a mixture of dirty rice and ground meat in a casing.

Dee Dee moved to Texas six years ago while working in retail. She and Greg, a former Iowa Parkan and now coach at Electra, married three years ago. The couple have a daughter, Maegan, 18 months old.

Dee Dee teaches gymnastics to youngsters at the RAC, and attends VRJC, working toward a degree in physical education.

She said she started taking gymnastic lessons when she was six or seven, and by the time she was 10, began helping her coach out with the younger students. She competed on her high school gymnastics team, and began teaching again while going to college.

When she has time, Dee Dee says she enjoys water skiing and sports.

Shrimp Creole

- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 large bell pepper, chopped
- 1 large can tomato sauce
- 3 cans water
- Parsley flakes
- Hot, cooked rice
- 3 lbs. raw shrimp, cleaned
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped
- 2 stalks celery, chopped
- 1 small can tomato paste
- 2 Tbsp. oil

Put oil in skillet. Add chopped ingredients and cook until tender. Add tomato sauce and paste and water. Put lid on and bring to boil. Lower fire and simmer 1 hour. Add shrimp and simmer 30 minutes longer or until thick. Serve over rice.

Barbecued Shrimp

- 10 lbs. fresh cleaned shrimp (preferable with heads)
- 2 lbs. butter or oleo
- 2 cups olive oil
- Garlic to taste (squeeze through garlic press)
- Freshly ground black pepper to taste
- 2 tsp. oregano
- 4 bay leaves
- 4 or 5 lemons
- 2 cups cooking sherry
- Salt to taste

Combine above ingredients, except shrimp. Spread shrimp in large baking pan; cover with sauce mixture; place in broiler about 5 inches from heat. Stir frequently. Cook about 10 minutes. Serve with hot French bread.

Cook of the Week

Dirty Rice

- 1/2 lb. ground meat
- 1/2 lb. ground sausage
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 stalks celery, chopped fine, including leaves
- 2 Tbsp. parsley
- 1 1/2 cup rice, cooked
- 3 Tbsp. fat
- 2 slices stale bread
- 1 clove garlic, minced, if desired
- 1/4 of large bell pepper, chopped fine
- 3 Tbsp. green onions
- Salt, pepper and poultry seasoning to taste
- 1 cup chicken broth

Brown the ground mixture. Add celery, bell pepper, salt, pepper and poultry seasoning. When well browned, add about 1 cup of chicken broth. Let cook until tender. Should have the consistency of hash. In the last 10 minutes of cooking, add the green onion and parsley. Cook rice the usual way and mix with ground mixture while both are still hot. Best way to mix is to take a large bowl and put some rice in it and take some of the ground mixture and mix. Add more rice and more ground mixture. This should make the rice brown and will be moist

Creole Chicken Sauce Piquante

- 1 (3 lb.) frying chicken, cut up
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 cup sliced mushrooms
- 1 (16 oz.) can whole peeled tomatoes, chopped
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
- Flour
- 1 green bell pepper, chopped
- 3 garlic cloves or 1 tsp. minced garlic
- 1 (6 oz.) can tomato paste
- 1 (8 oz.) can tomato sauce
- 1/4 tsp. black pepper
- 2 Tbsp. chopped parsley or flakes
- 1/4 cup olive oil

Season the chicken pieces with salt and pepper and dredge lightly in flour. Brown chicken well on all sides in olive oil in a skillet. Add all ingredients except mushrooms. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cover and simmer slowly for 1 hour. Add the mushrooms and cook 15 minutes more. Serves 4. This recipe should be served over rice.

Local members, students honored at district PTA awards banquet

During the 63rd Annual Spring Conference for District 13 PTA held recently in Wichita Falls, local members and youth were honored at an awards banquet held at the Women's Forum.

PTA members receiving Texas Life Memberships included Linda Horton from Bradford Elementary School for her outstanding work and service for the six years she had been a member at both Bradford and Kidwell PTAs.

Gayle Cleghorn, a teacher at Kidwell Elementary also was honored from her PTA for years of faithfulness.

Winners in the Reflections Contest for K-3 division were Trish Costello, first place and J.W. Adams, third place. The 4-6 division winner was Amanda Roberts, third place. Both students are from Bradford Elementary.

Winning in the Environmental Poster Contest from Kidwell were Paige Armstrong, first place in the second grade division, and Bobbie Gilmore, second place in the second grade division. Paige's and Trish's entries will be submitted to state competition.

PTA members from Iowa Park attending the conference in addition to Mmes. Horton and Cleghorn were Anita McShan, Galyia Kasperek, Sandra Lehman, Susan Dillard, Sheri Kennedy, Ron Woods, Barbara Padgett, and Becky Lovelady.

Also attending were the first place winners' family members.

Workshops held Tuesday were attended by Sheri Kennedy, president from Kidwell PTA, and Sandra Lehman from Bradford PTA. Workshop subjects were "Sparkling the Imagination", "Self Esteem", and "New PTAs".

Representatives from the State PTA who presented workshops were Dixie Surratt, first vice president, Larry Trout, program chairman, and Lisann Peters, Region Eight vice president.

Mrs. Kennedy also was representing the newly organized PTA at Iowa Park Junior High School as president for the 1991-1992 school year.

Ferguson returns home

E-2 Earnest Ferguson III is back from Saudi Arabia, where he has served in the U.S. Army the past four months.

He called his parents Thursday after arriving at Fort Bliss, and is to be home this afternoon.

While overseas, he served with the First Armored Div. in a guard unit for support units.

A 1989 graduate of Iowa Park High School, he joined the Army in September. His parents reside at 405 East Aldine.

Butterflies topic of Garden Club program

Mrs. Deryl James presented a slide program entitled, "Butterflies in Harmony With Nature," when Iowa Park Garden Club met Friday morning at the TU Reddy Room.

Mrs. Gene Young gave the thought for the day, "If Nobody Smiled."

During the business session Mrs. Vern Mikkelson announced that the May 24 luncheon will be held at the Woman's Forum in Wichita Falls. At that time new officers of the club will be installed.

Mrs. Ray Copening told members that several bags full of trash and dead tree limbs had been picked up at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library during Clean-up Fix-Up Week.

A lavender and white peony was brought by Mrs. Mikkelson for the horticulture specimen display.

Mrs. James stated that of all the countless creatures that belong to the insect world there are none as beautiful and interesting as those in the order of insects the scientists call Lepidoptera, from the Greek meaning, "scaly-winged".

She explained that "scaly-wings" are made up of two primary groups, the butterflies and the moths.

"The butterfly is most active by day, has a long, slender body, antennae that are long and knobbed at the end, and rests with wings up like sails," she said.

She described the moth as "most active after dusk, has a heavier body, antennae that are short and either fuzzy or feathery, and rests with wings either flat out or back across its body."

She continued, "The creatures are called "scaly-winged" because if you touch a wing, a substance that appears to be like a soft powder is left on your fingers. Actually, the grains of powder are loosely attached iridescent scales, overlapping like scales of fish."

Members viewed the various stages of development of the butterfly and learned of its migration habits. The butterfly has plenty of natural predators, and because of this, only about one percent of butterfly eggs reach the adult stage.

Mrs. James said that the activities of modern man poses the ultimate threat to the butterfly's survival. The free-flowing streams and fields of flowering wild plants that are part of the required habitat of the butterfly are rapidly disappearing because of what is perceived as human needs.

The speaker challenged members to plant flower gardens, prepare hanging baskets, or window boxes that provide flowering plants for the butterflies.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Avis Wilson and Mrs. Gene Young. Sixteen members were present.

The serving table held a peach and blue silk flower arrangement.

"My heat pump's so efficient it saves money. And it's a clean system. I like what it means for the environment."

—Elta Chandler
Park Board Member

Elta Chandler cools and heats her home with a heat pump because it saves money and energy. And since it's electric, it's "wonderfully clean."

A heat pump uses the energy in the air to keep her home comfortable all year. Even on cold winter days there's heat in the air. A heat pump captures that heat and uses it.

And it costs less to operate than a gas furnace. It's so efficient that for each unit of energy it uses, it creates two to three units of heat.

In the summer a heat pump becomes a high-efficiency air conditioner, capturing the heat inside the home and removing it.

For more information, call a heat pump dealer or TU Electric. It's your chance to save more than money.

Buckmaster enlists

David F. Buckmaster, a senior at Iowa Park High School, has assured himself of a fair-sized nest egg for college.

Buckmaster has enlisted in the U.S. Army through its Delayed Entry Program at the Army's recruiting station in Wichita Falls.

In pre-enlistment testing, he qualified for the Army College Fund as well as the Montgomery GI Bill.

Sgt. Robert Rivera, who recruited Buckmaster, says he enlisted for two years and asked for training as a Light Wheel Vehicle/Power Generation Repairer.

Buckmaster will remain at home for his high school graduation ceremony and then report June 3 to begin basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

His advanced individual training at a specialized mechanic will also take place at that post.

Buckmaster' two-year enlistment means that he will have $17,000 for college when his service ends. He will only be required to contribute $100 per month the first year of his enlistment.

He is the son of Ramona K. Buckmaster of Iowa Park.

Building permits are needed any time the property owner is covering square footage of the property and/or when repairs change the physical appearance of a structure. Minimum charge is $10. Permits are available in the Public Works office at Iowa Park City Hall.

I would very much like to serve you, my neighbors, and my community, as an Alderman on the City Council.

I have no grievances or issues to take into the office, only the desire for continued growth and improvement of my community through economical yet effective governmental practices.

Having covered every meeting of the city council, except possibly as many as four, over almost 22 years, I have some knowledge of our city government, including the background for actions taken by previous councils. And I have a reasonable knowledge of municipal law, under which our council operates.

I feel strongly that our city council should have on it a member of our local business community.

Service to my community has always been my aim, through my work in the Iowa Park Lions Club and Iowa Park MuleSkinners, as well as participation with Little League Baseball, Booster Clubs (athletic, band, choir), and Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

And, to satisfy those who may have felt my being on the City Council might be a conflict of interest, because of my position on the newspaper, I can only say this: I thoroughly researched the law before filing, and there is no conflict; and I did not give up my right as an American Citizen when I became a Newspaper Publisher.

Former Head Hawk Len Williams was in town for a brief visit Tuesday afternoon. He's now head coach at Waco Connally. Williams had two reasons to be in the area: his father suffered a "mild" heart attack recently and he wanted to visit with him; and his final night class of the semester at Midwestern State Univ.

Two errors concerning Hawk baseball were in last week's edition of the Leader. First, Tony Lozipone is in fact eligible to play ball this final six weeks, having made up incomplete work in time to earn a passing grade. Second, the Hawks' game with Vernon was in fact not played Friday, as scheduled. A decision was reached last Wednesday to postpone the game. Now, the game reportedly must be played by Saturday, as mandated by the UIL.

Two years ago, the Canyon school district had a falling out with West Texas State Univ., after the latter demanded the public school pay something like $5,000 per game to use the university's stadium. In the past couple of months, WTU has cancelled its football program. Last week, WT gave the Canyon ISD a 99-year lease, at $1 per, to take over Buffalo Stadium.

Breckenridge edges Hawks

The Hawks played another one-point ball game Tuesday at Breckenridge, but this time is wasn't in their favor.

Iowa Park had won their previous three games by one-point margins. But the Buckaroos avenged their 8-7 earlier loss to the Hawks by winning 2-1.

The Hawks, now 5-2 in district and 14-9 on the season, will travel to Bridgeport Friday, and then host Vernon Saturday.

Breckenridge scored both runs in the third inning, and the Hawks got their's in the next frame.

Four of Iowa Park's seven hits were by Tony Lozipone and Todd Pulley. Lozipone had a double, the only extra base hit of the contest.

The Buckaroos were able to get only five hits off J'Bill Merrick's pitching.

Breckenridge is now 4-3 in district play and 16-5 for the season. This is the first time since the Buckaroos began playing baseball three years ago the team has won more than 14 games in a season.

Iowa Park came from behind to beat Bridgeport 10-8 in their earlier meeting here. And, before Tuesday, Vernon was the only 4-AAA club to post a win over the Hawks. That was a 2-0 decision in the conference opener.

Iowa Park and Vernon were scheduled to have played here Friday, but the game was postponed.

Knight, Green qualify for state track meet

Iowa Park High School will be represented by two athletes at the May 10-11 University Interscholastic League state track and field meet in Austin's Memorial Stadium.

Qualifying last weekend at the Region One meet were sophomore Erica Knight and senior Gary Green.

This will be the second year for Knight, who placed third in both the triple jump and 100-meter hurdles as a freshman. She returns in both those events, as well as the high jump.

Green will be making his first trip as a contestant, having qualified in the shot put.

The Lady Hawks' 1600-meter relay team was bitterly disappointed after being disqualified in Friday's preliminaries for allegedly running out of lane.

Coach Lorna Klinkerman said the team of Christi Welch, Dee Ann Warren, Kerri Dornier and Knight has set a new school record in the qualifying race with a 4:06.10, but a lane judge charged that Knight had stepped three consecutive times on a lane stripe.

Klinkerman said she had instructed the athletes before the race not to "run yourselves out by pressing, and save your best for the finals." She expressed confidence the foursome could have run under four minutes in the finals, and qualified for the state trip.

Dimmitt's 1600-meter team finished one-tenth of a second ahead of Iowa Park in the preliminaries, and went on to win in the finals.

The same runners make up the 800-meter relay team that finished in fourth place with a clocking of 1:46.55.

Knight won the high jump with a school record leap of 5-6, and placed second in the triple jump with a 37-11 on her final attempt to surpass an entry from Marble Falls by one-quarter of an inch. A Tulia contestant won with 38-0.

The sophomore sensation actually tied with a contestant from Amarillo River Road for first place in the hurdles, when both were given identical timings of 15.34.

Though given equal points, the two flipped for first and second place medals, and Knight won.

Green was felt to be the strongest contender at the meet in the discus, and did in fact break a school record of 172-7, set in 1979 by Kip Fuller, with a 176-10.

But that only earned him third place.

A new state Class AAA record was established in the event by Ken Blackman of Abilene Wylie, who sailed the platter 196-5. The old record was 195-7.

Second place was earned by Canyon's Matt Spears with a 192-2.

Green's heave of 53-6 1/2 in the shot put earned him his trip to Austin along with a second-place medal.

Blackman also won that event with a 54-11 1/2, and Spears was third with a 52-11.

Now Green is shooting at the other IPHS record in the weights, set in 1980 by Mike Ray with a 56-10 1/4.

Apparently still suffering from a painful knee ailment, senior Kerri Dornier failed to qualify for the state meet in her three individual events.

She placed fourth in the 200-meter dash with a 26.48; was seventh in the long jump with a 15-11, and did not make the finals in the triple jump, having only a 31-foot-plus leap in the prelims.

Jennifer Ricks did not qualify for the finals in the discus, and Gina Inman finished 16th in the 800-meter run.

Despite their many disappointments, the Lady Hawks still amassed enough points to finish in third place at the regional meet.

Patrick Birk's 2:01.48 in the 800-meter run was a personal best, but earned him only seventh place.

The effort he expended in the race apparently made him ill, and he ran a disappointing time in the 1600 shortly after, finishing well behind the point earners.

The third Hawk competing at Odessa was pole vaulter Joey Boyd. He leaped to a personal best of 12-0, but only placed fifth in the competition.

Boyd was hampered by the fact he broke his regular pole the week following the district meet, and was still adjusting to the new instrument.

An unusual situation developed during the discus competition, Coach Tim Clark said later.

Three times during competition, Green's disc struck highline wires that were strung across the course. "They never thought anyone would hit them out that far," Clark explained.

Twice when he hit the wires, Green scratched. But he didn't scratch the other time, and was given another throw.

"That one would have been more than 180 feet," Clark said, adding that Blackman and Spears were actually throwing their discs over the wires on their distant tosses.

Green competed at the regional last year in the shot put, placing fifth with a toss of 49-10.

To reach state last year, Knight
