

Christmas lights go on tonight

The city's Christmas lights will be officially turned on tonight.

A brief ceremony will begin at 7:00 at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library, and the switch will be thrown.

As the ceremony winds down, Santa Claus is to make his appearance. He will go into the library and visit with each of the youngsters wishing to tell him what they want for Christmas.

Entertainment during the ceremony will be provided by members of the Iowa Park High Mean Green Band, and the Rockin' Hawkettes.

City crews began putting the lights and decorations up this week, and all is expected to be ready for tonight.

Residents will notice the addition of several new fixtures around town. Five additional blocks of decorations have completed West Highway, all the way to US 287; one block on Pacific, near the expressway; two blocks on South Wall, and three more poles lit in the Post Office area.

The new lights, as well as all those that have been on display the past few years are purchased by voluntary donations of Iowa Park residents.

Those donations are in the form of at least 10 cents added to each month's city utility bill. Many residents, however, have increased their monthly amounts.

Besides purchasing of additional decorations each year, there is a major expense necessitated for the replacement of bulbs.

The purchases and decisions of where decorations will be located are made by a citizen committee headed by Mrs. Phil Welch.

Harold Smith, TU Electric manager, explained a fuse blew out, leaving the northeast and southeast portions without service "about 10 minutes."

"Luckily, we had a service man who was pretty close, and he was able to get it (fuse) replaced quickly," Smith said.

No cause for the fuse to blow has been found, and Smith said it apparently was the result of a worn-out fuse.

It will be closed, however, Dec. 22 and 30, for the Christmas holidays, but reopened Jan. 5.

The public is asked to use the west parking lot, and enter through the doors nearest the swimming pool.

Coach John Hoelter is in charge of the gymnasium, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell.

Trustees set Dec. 16 meeting

Iowa Park school trustees will deviate from their regular second-Tuesday meeting dates until March, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell. This month's meeting will be Dec.

The changes were made in order for board members to attend varsity basketball games.

Garin Jackson badly injured

Garin Jackson is in the intensive care unit at Wichita General Hospital suffering from injuries sustained when he was struck by a vehicle driven by Chad Boyd Patterson.

Jackson, 26, is a 1983 graduate of Iowa Park High School. Patterson, according to a school spokesman, dropped out of the school as a freshman.

The incident took place in the parking lot of Fast Eddie's, at 1621 Enterprise, in Wichita Falls.

About 12:30 a.m. Saturday, Patterson's Monte Carlo reportedly struck Jackson, severely injuring his head.

Patterson reportedly left the scene, and a pursuit ensued with city, county and state officers joining in the chase that ended in Clay County after two tires were shot out.

Patterson was released Saturday after posting a $15,000 bond.

Anyone wishing to assist the Jackson family, with food and money, can contact Mary Bidy at 592-4302.

Police arrest two men

Police arrested two men during the past week, and are investigating the theft of a car.

Danny Wayne Carter, 32, was taken into custody at 4:20 a.m. Sunday on a charge of public intoxication.

During a check on his records, it was determined an outstanding arrest warrant had been issued against Carter by the sheriff's office for indecency with a child.

He was transported to the county jail.

Police arrested Ronald Wade Arenas, 25, at a local business Monday afternoon after a woman had filed an assault charge against him.

The alleged assault reportedly took place Thursday afternoon at Woodbriar Apartments. The victim was treated and released from a Wichita Falls hospital.

Icy road blamed for wreck

A mild winter storm struck Sunday, preceded on Friday by high winds.

Freezing rain began falling just before sunrise on Dec. 1, and turned into light sleet.

The only accident attributed to the freezing wet conditions, according to local law authorities, was early Monday morning.

A four-wheel vehicle driven by Andy Cravens, with Jolene Hodges, began to spin as it crossed the FM 368 bridge over the Wichita River, and crashed into a tree.

Miss Hodges sustained minor head injuries when she struck the windshield. She reportedly required a few stitches in her chin.

Both live in the Valley View area and are students at Iowa Park High School. The incident was reported at 8 a.m.

Shortly after the accident, a highway department sanding truck arrived on the scene. The driver explained he had not been able to reach that particular crossing earlier.

While most of the frozen precipitation on the ground thawed Sunday, the ice on trees, fences and roofs wasn't melted until Monday.

Virgil Woodfin reported he measured .25 of an inch of moisture from the precipitation.

Winds gusting higher than 50 mph Friday uprooted at least two large trees in the city. They were in yards on Pacific and Dosa.

Neither fallen tree caused major damage.

Landfill stickers may rise

The ever-increasing cost of throwing away garbage will be one of the topics on the city council's agenda Monday night.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Aldermen will consider an ordinance increasing the fee for a landfill permit sticker for residents to $12. The fee has for several years only been $2.

Bids to purchase two vehicles will be considered. One vehicle will be for the Public Works director, while the other will be for the water meter reader.

The third and final public hearing required for annexation of a nine-acre tract of land in the south part of town will be held, followed by action on an ordinance finalizing the process.

Aldermen will consider extension of Park Avenue through the 400 block, now part of Park West Shopping Center's parking lot.

Also to be considered is a proposal to spend up to $5,000 for park equipment.

Since the next regular council meeting would fall two days before Christmas, aldermen indicated at their last meeting an interest to cancel it. Action is called for on this meeting's agenda.

Administrator Gary Jones will discuss at least seven issues before the council, including an updating of landfill regulations, sewer plant, a request for de-annexation, committee formation for Americans with Disabilities Act self evaluation, grant application for sewer upgrading, centralized collection for city taxes, and telephone service improvements.

Yule activities scheduled

Tonight's Christmas decorations lighting is only the first of several different activities planned before Dec. 25 by the city, Chamber of Commerce, Tom Burnett Memorial Library and Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center.

The Old Fashioned Christmas Stroll, first held last year, will be Thursday of next week, a tour of homes Dec. 14, and a Christmas lighting contest.

A large number of merchants will remain open for the Stroll, offering refreshments, drawings and, of course, shopping specials.

In addition, youth groups will be providing appropriate Yule entertainment, and organizers are working on a hay ride with Santa. But that is not yet a certainty.

The tour of homes will be Dec. 14. That will be followed by the library-sponsored Santa's Castle, and Breakfast with Santa will be Dec. 21, sponsored by the RAC.

Deadline for registering to participate in the residential Christmas lighting contest is Dec. 16.

Entries can be registered by contacting the Chamber of Commerce. Judging will be before Christmas by out-of-town guests.

A first prize of $50 in script will be awarded to the winners of two categories: religious and non-religious. The script can only be redeemed with Iowa Park merchants.

Thelma Smith Baptist Women meet

Nine members of the Thelma Smith Baptist Women attended the meeting Monday evening for the Week of Prayer for Foreign Mission in a meeting held at the church. Mrs. Steve Lowe served as hostess and Mrs. V.I. Woodfin was in charge of business.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson gave a condensed review of the five programs prepared for the week on the theme "Called And Sent As God's People In The World." The four short sections for each day were: "Reflection;" "A Chosen People;" "A People Belonging To God," and "Called Out Of Darkness." The four prayer sections included: "Stop To Pray;" "Declare The Praises;" "His Wonderful Light," and "People Of God."

Mrs. Patterson discussed the ministry of a number of Southern Baptist Missionary couples and individuals who have been called and sent to witness in Australia, Guatemala, Europe, East Asia, Pacific Islands, Africa, Middle East and Canada. The scriptural basis for the program was Acts 1:8.

The Lottie Moon offering goal for the Southern Baptist Convention has been set at $88,000,000 and for the goal for the local church is $12,000. All money collected will be spent for foreign missions. Each member of the local church will receive either a red, green or gold plastic bag this week for his or her offering for the Ingathering

Service that will climax Sunday evening's service. The members will go with their families, or separate, to place their bags on a bare tree at the front of the auditorium. A social hour will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the church while the money is being counted.

SCHOOL SCENE

Information prepared by Iowa Park School Counselors

Beginning in January, a new word will be used to help teach an ancient concept - mathematics.

The new word is "Kumon." It was developed in Japan by Toru Kumon, a math teacher, and presently 1.8 million students in 19 countries do Kumon every day.

Bradford students have been individually tested to determine their need for the special program, which will be offered after school. This individualized program begins a student at a lower level than his actual ability to build self esteem and create a positive attitude toward math.

This technique also emphasizes drill and repetition so that students master one level before entering the next. Each set of worksheets is timed.

Creators of the program say that they have seen fantastic results in test scores in schools that have incorporated Kumon into their math curriculum. But more importantly, we hope that this program will reach and teach students who have not been able to progress with other teaching techniques.

There will be a small monthly charge for the program. The students will be bringing home a letter soon with specific information about the program, times and cost.

As I See It. . . By Bob Hamilton

Did I just miss it, or was a major story just left off the front pages of the Wichita Falls newspaper last week?

Naaaaah! Couldn't be!

Not as closely as that news staff covers any and all violations of the University Interscholastic League rules.

Lord knows, Iowa Park's Lucky Gamble certainly got the full treatment.

Not once, but twice. And all he did was to allow his players to go to the field house on a Sunday to view the previous Friday's football game.

I have it from a good source that the Wichita Falls High School boys' basketball coach, Larry Menefee, had to meet with his district's executive committee Tuesday, Nov. 26, for violating a UIL rule.

Menefee allegedly started practice earlier than the UIL allows this year. Seems he used last year's handbook of rules, which had an earlier starting date.

The Lady Coyotes' coach is said to have done the same thing the year before.

Not only did last week's story fail to make any of the front pages of the daily newspaper that I read, but I couldn't find it on any of the inside pages, either.

Does Brand X only exploit the bad news out of Iowa Park, forgetting what is fair and even coverage?

Naaaaah! Couldn't be!

New business boosts permits

Eventhough only seven building permits were issued during November by city hall, the month's total still vaulted the year's total to above three-quarters of a million dollars.

The major contributor was the permit issued for construction of Pizza Hut, the first commercial structure construction here in some two years.

November's total of $182,050 raised the year's sum to $754,959.

Permits issued in November included:

- Phil Booth, 206 W. Crystal, alteration, $350;
- John Chapman, 1009 W. Louisa, repair, $2,800;
- Stan Stephens, 703 E. Jefferson, repair, $250;
- Fugate Enterprises, 414 W. Park, new building, $175,000;
- Mr. Eddins, 607 W. Texas, repair, $800;
- Freddie Simmons, 710 E. Ruby, storage shed, $850;
- John Cummings, 1101 Lincoln, alteration, $2,000.

overnight. One was parked in the 700 block of Clara and the other in the 1000 block of Cornelia.

Some two dozen ornaments were taken during a short period last summer, and were all found in a trash container at Kidwell Elementary.

Most popular of the ornaments taken have been off Oldsmobile, Cadillac and Mercedes automobiles.

Worth Quoting

Every morning, when I make my daily trip to the post office, I am reminded that Christmas is getting closer and closer. No, it is not the decorations in store windows or the changing winter weather. It is the rising number of mail order catalogs that fill the post office box.

Some weeks it seems as if the Brazilian rain forests have been transferred to that small metal square. Slick four color pamphlets, multi-page flyers and various circulars all hawk their wares through the courtesy of the U.S. Postal Service.

Occasionally I thumb through the things before they hit the trash can. As my father used to say about contracts, if you read the document before you sign it, it is enlightening. If you read it afterward, it is educational.

One of the things that continually amazes me about the mail order outfits is the prices. One outdoor supply company sent me a catalog full of gift ideas for the sportsman.

As I glanced through the pages, one item jumped out at me. It was a filet knife for cleaning fish. It was made out of stainless steel and encased in a leather sheath. The asking price was $24.95.

The amazing thing about that price was that I own that particular knife. I bought it last summer at a local retailer and thought at the time that the $11.50 price was a little high.

Looking a little closer at the order form, it became clear that $24.95 was just the starting price. To that I would have to add a $5 handling charge and a $3.50 shipping charge. Those added extras pushed the price up to $33.45!

I can buy the best electric knife on the market for that price. Who says you can get it cheaper through the mail?

But, those catalogs are fun to browse through. One featured a bamboo stick filled with sea shells. When it was turned upside down, according to the promotional copy, a sound similar to rain was produced. For $29.95 (plus $4.50 shipping and $2.50 handling) I think I will just turn on the shower for rainfall effects.

Another item was a stuffed Toucan bird, when fitted with the proper batteries, that repeats everything that you say to the bird. If the price, $99.95 (plus $6.50 shipping and $8.50 handling) did not put you off the produce, one feature sure did. The switch to turn the bird on and off is located at the base of its tail feathers. Now that would draw some strange looks.

Maybe we can start a drive to fill the hole in the ozone layer with all the Christmas catalogs, or even burn them to prevent a new ice age. Thanks for thinking of me this Christmas, mail order companies, but I would rather see, touch and try something before I put it under my tree. (With no shipping or handling charges.)

JIM HUDSON
Perryton Herald

One of the arguments used in support of approving the lottery was the claim that unless the lottery passed, Texas would soon have an income tax.

Well, for the record, Texas already has an income tax.

Last week, the Financial Accounting Standards Board declared that the new franchise tax in Texas is an income tax for accounting purposes.

Texas politicians call the tax a "franchise tax," but starting in 1992, the levy no longer is based on net worth alone -- it has an earned surplus factor based on federal taxable income.

That makes it an income tax as far as most states and accountants are concerned.

UW campaign exceeds goal

Like Iowa Park, the Greater Wichita Falls United Way Campaign surpassed its goal.

At a meeting recently in Wichita Falls, John Gavin, 1991 campaign chairman, said the goal had been surpassed for the second consecutive year, with pledges of $1,556,144.

And contributions will continue to be received from some businesses and individuals expected to renew their pledges from the year before, Gavin said.

Over 250 volunteers contributed countless hours of service to achieve 100.4 percent of the $1,550,000 goal.

Larry Dutton was this year's Iowa Park campaign chairman. He and his campaign workers accounted for a total of $67,646, as of the report.

That was well above the community's goal of $64,200.

Of that amount, Cryovac and its employees contributed $52,000.

Making up the balance of the campaign were:

- Business and Industry, $367,494
- Burkburnett, $55,050
- Combined Federal, $117,795
- Commerce, $349,975
- Enterprise, $35,953
- Oil and Gas, $96,779
- Professional, $96,415
- Public Service, $231,787
- Special Gifts, $137,250

Letter to the Editor

Thanks whomever you are

Dear Editor,

I'm sure Iowa Park has many nice citizens but two of them will be long remembered for their kindness to me.

On Wednesday afternoon before Thanksgiving about 10 miles out of Iowa Park my car blew a radiator hose and I was stranded. Many passed but a wonderful Christian lady and her family stopped and let me ride into town and helped me to find assistance. I wrote down her name but misplaced it -- from memory it was Mae B'Enette.

She drove me to the Fina station just off the freeway where an efficient and very accommodating guy named Pete located parts, took me back to my car, got it repaired and back on the road.

A big thank you to both of these fine people for their care and concern for others.

Lady Hawks lose to WFHS

What a difference a couple of weeks and gymnasiums make.

The Lady Hawks lost 37-26 Tuesday night to Wichita Falls High. Only a couple of weeks earlier, they had defeated the Lady Coyotes here, 62-41.

The Wichitans dominated the second and third periods, 11-3 and 11-5, and the Lady Hawks couldn't overcome the lead in the final period.

Marcy McCarthy led Iowa Park scoring with seven, followed by Misty Cook and Melody Gray, both of whom scored six.

The Lady Hawks will host another Wichita Falls team, Rider, here Friday, following games of the Freshmen and Junior Varsity. Tuesday will be another triple header in the local gymnasium, against Burkburnett.

Following a 48-27 win Tuesday of last week over Archer City, the Lady Hawks competed in the Fantasy of Lights Tournament in Wichita Falls, where they won one and lost two.

They opened play with a 53-30 win over Boyd, but then fell victim to Clyde, 57-31, and Graham, 40-36.

After trailing 30-23 at the half in the Archer City game, the Lady Hawks completely dominated the Lady Wildcats, holding them to only nine points in the final two periods.

Cheri Halady led scoring with nine, while Cook and Dee Ann Warren each chipped in eight.

Boyd stayed close to the Lady Hawks through the first period of the Fantasy opener, trailing only 10-9. But Iowa Park jumped to a 28-13 lead by the half.

Cook, who was named to the All Tournament team, and Halady each scored 10 points in that game.

A super cold second quarter led to Iowa Park's downfall against Clyde. The Lady Hawks had trailed by a single point, 10-9, at the end of the first quarter, but fell behind, 26-11, at the half.

McCarthy scored Iowa Park's only field goal in the second period, and was the team's leading scorer with eight. Warren, Halady and Cook each had five.

Iowa Park lost their 21-17 halftime lead in the third quarter, when Graham surged ahead, 27-24, before entering the final frame.

Gray and Cook scored nine and eight points, respectively.

The Lady Hawk JV extended their season record to 5-1 with a 36-33 win Tuesday over Wichita Falls High. Gina Inman led with 10 points and Cristal Fisch had seven.

Against Archer City last week, the team posted a 35-13 victory behind Cristal Good's 10 points. Mandy Threet had nine and Fisch seven.

MARK CHILDS CHALLENGES WYLIE PLAYER

Hawks will shoot at boosting record

The Hawks will try to improve on the 2-5 season record when they travel to Seymour Friday night.

They won one and lost three in the Fantasy of Lights Tournament last weekend in Wichita Falls.

Friday's contest will follow games by the Freshmen and Junior Varsity teams.

Iowa Park lost 81-65 in the first of four games in Wichita Falls to state-ranked Canyon, despite a 21-point effort by Jeremy Carroll.

The Eagles put on scoring spurts in the first and third periods, topping the Hawks 21-7 and 26-14, respectively. But Iowa Park held its own in the second frame, being out-scored 22-20, and led in production in the final period, 24-12.

That loss apparently led to their second defeat. The Hawks were victims of scheduling, as they had to play their second game with only one hour's rest.

They lost 75-51 to Henrietta, a club they had defeated a week earlier by a 62-55 margin.

"We were just dead legged," explained senior Carroll.

Mark Childs was the only Hawk in double digits, with 10.

In Saturday's first game, the Hawks staged a major comeback in the second half to pull off their second win of the young season.

Clyde outscored Iowa Park 19-3 and 12-11 in the first two periods.

But the Hawks came roaring back with their own commanding quarter scores, 13-7 and 21-12, to win, 53-50.

Robert Denton, Jon Hankins and Carroll led Iowa Park's scoring with 16, 14 and 10 points, respectively.

In their fourth and final contest of the tournament, the Hawks fell victim to Vernon by a 59-36 margin. Carroll was high with nine points.

Tuesday, prior to the tournament, the Hawks almost posted their second victory, but fell short by a single point.

Playing at perennial basketball power Archer City, they lost 53-52.

Denton scored 13, Childs 11 and Todd Pulley 10, against the Wildcats.

Without another game scheduled Tuesday, the Hawks' next competition after Friday will again be at Seymour, where they are entered in a three-day tournament that begins on Dec. 12.

In The MILITARY

Wariner joins Army

Rodney Jason Wariner, a 1991 graduate of Iowa Park High School, has joined the U.S. Army under its Delayed Entry Program.

He is scheduled to report Feb. 4 to begin basic training at Fort Sill, Okla.

The son of Rhonda Shipman of Wichita Falls, Wariner has committed to three years service and has asked for advanced individual training as a cannon crewmember.

Upon completion of his initial training, he is to receive a $1,000 bonus, according to Sgt. Robert Rivera, recruiter in Wichita Falls.

MONDAY NIGHT

Junior high teams split with Vernon

Junior high basketball teams of Iowa Park and Vernon split victories evenly Monday.

Iowa Park's girls won, but the boys lost.

Both girls' games were Seventh Grade teams. The "B" team won 38-2, and the "A" team's score was 16-11.

Lindsey Thompson scored 13, Christie Rauls 12 and Leticia Osborne seven in the "B" game, while Jodi Henderson, Amber Beason and Lori Wiggins each had four points to lead the "A" team.

Both boys' games also were Seventh Grades. The Green Team lost by a 30-18 margin, and the White Team lost 52-24.

Dusty Crawford and Waylon Stewart led the Green Team with nine and five points, respectively.

Green Team players went to the foul line 22 times, but produced only six points.

Casey McShan had nine and Shawn Campbell six for the White Team, which now has a record of 1-2.

The Eighth Grade boys' A and B teams will host Vernon today, with the first game getting underway at 4:30 p.m.

The A and B Eighth Grade girls' teams will travel this afternoon to Vernon, where the first game is to start at 4:30.

Seventeen members of the Hawk football team have been recognized for their efforts during the past season.

Iowa Park placed that many on the first, second and honorable mention All-District Team.

Those recognized were named at a meeting held Nov. 14 by all coaches of the conference.

teams have been eliminated from the playoffs.

Senior Todd Pulley was named the outstanding kicker of the conference, and also was placed on the second defensive team.

First defensive team selections were Greg Steger, secondary; T.J. Bean, linebacker, and lineman Charles Jolly.

In four district games -- he was injured early at Vernon and sat out the balance of the contest, Brewer caught nine passes for 197 points and scored two touchdowns.

Board initiates detailed resource study

Wichita County is among the North Central Plains counties the Texas Water Development Board has initiated a detailed study of ground-water resources, focusing on Alluviums and Paleozoic formations.

The study is in response to the 1985 passage of H.B. 2 by the 69th Texas Legislature, which called for the identification of critical ground-water areas in the state.

A critical ground-water area is one that is either currently experiencing critical problems or that is expected to experience them within the next 20 years.

Along with Wichita are the counties of Archer, Armstrong, Baylor, Briscoe, Callahan, Childress, Clay, Collingsworth, Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Donley, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Floyd, Foard, Garza, Hall, Hardeman, Haskell, Jack, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Montague, Motley, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Parker, Randall, Scorry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Swisher, Taylor, Throckmorton, Wheeler, Wilbarger, Wise and Young.

Major topics to be addressed in the study include the occurrence and availability of ground water, identification of present and potential water resource problems, and estimation of future demands that will be placed on those resources.

Of special interest will be the determination of the occurrence of water-quality deterioration, its extent, and the natural or man-induced cause of the change.

At the conclusion of the study, a report of the findings will be submitted to the Texas Water Commission.

The report will be used by the Commission in its consideration of the creation of an underground water conservation district for the area.

Such districts provide locally-controlled management of the ground-water resources of the area.

Isbell stresses good planning

"Planning can save a farmer or rancher time and money and can increase the value of their farm or ranch," says Michael Isbell of the Wichita Soil and Water Conservation District.

A good soil and water conservation program provides a solid foundation for any farm or ranch improvement.

Erosion and moisture loss through a lack of conservation measures on cultivated land and invading brush and poor grasses on rangeland and pastureland still rob producers of millions of dollars of potential income each year.

The SCS office in Iowa Park can help identify problems and treatment needs.

The recommended treatment alternatives are based on the producer's objectives and the resources available.

Resource inventory data will be developed based on the producer's needs and objectives.

Inventories needed to plan will then be analyzed and evaluated with the producer and final conservation treatment planned will be based on the alternatives selected.

Once the treatment alternatives are determined, conservation is then applied to the land in proper sequence and according to the producer's ability to apply the planned practices.

STIFF NECK!

A stiff, painful neck is a common problem, but one that puzzles most people as to what caused it. Most people just wake up with it. The search for the injury that causes it usually reveals no answers, as it is a "slow injury" that occurs during sleep.

A large study at the Pain Clinic, Alexandria Hospital in Australia in 1986 brought several points to light concerning this type of neck pain. Stiff neck is commonly caused by pinching of facet joints, small pain sensitive spinal joints that can trigger pain in the neck, back of the shoulder, muscle spasm and headache. These researchers found that 71% of the patients evaluated at their clinic proved to have a pinching facet joint in the neck.

In a related study, these researchers found that the simplest and most effective way to diagnose this disorder is by palpation of the joints of the neck. This is the procedure used by chiropractors to detect joint tenderness and movement restriction by feeling the spine with the hands. As stiff neck from facet syndrome is caused by pinching of these small joints, chiropractic manipulation can be very effective in freeing the problem, relieving neck pain, resulting muscle spasm and headache. Exercises are often then used in addition to treatment to improve neck joint flexibility and to improve muscle tone. This treatment program is often effective for both acute and chronic stiff neck.

While position of the head and neck during sleep can allow these facet joints to pinch and cause stiff neck, chiropractic treatment can effectively resolve the pain. Prompt treatment can prevent prolonged suffering.
