Water problem averted

For a few hours Monday night, city officials were seriously concerned about an adequate water supply for the community.

The municipal raw water treatment plant has been undergoing refurbishment and has not taken water from a lake in over three weeks.

Then, about 8 p.m., a leak of undetermined dimensions in the transmission line between here and Wichita Falls was discovered.

But, by Tuesday morning, both problems had been resolved, according to Gary Jones, city administrator.

Around 7 p.m. Monday, two young boys discovered an unusual amount of water in a field just east of the end of Alameda, and reported it to their mother.

The woman contacted the police station, and an officer found the water. At the same time an unusual "spewing" sound was observed.

The officer notified one of the city's workers, and he confirmed it to be a problem.

Jones, who was attending the city council meeting, was informed, and Mike Price, public works director, went to the scene to access the situation.

Jones told the council of the problem, and said city workers would be dispatched to complete a raw water line's connection at the treatment plant, to get the plant back into operation.

Water in the ground storage tank was pumped into the overhead tanks to insure adequate pressure, and both ground tanks were filled, before the transmission line was shut down.

Workers completed the raw water line connection about midnight, and the treatment plant began receiving a supply for treatment.

Tuesday morning, workers uncovered the concrete transmission line that carries treated water here from Wichita Falls, and determined a covering, or clamp, could cover the problem. And that was accomplished.

Jones said there were several small holes in the pipe, which was installed some 20 years ago, but they could not determine how long the problem had existed.

Throughout the evening's situation, Jones said there was never a lack of water pressure in the city's lines.

City changes health insurance plan

Continuing its movement to self-insure employee benefits, the city council Monday night approved a proposal to join the City of Wichita Falls for medical and dental coverage.

Two resolutions concerning the issue were approved. One established an employee benefit and the other an inter-local agreement with Wichita Falls for the coverage.

Wichita Falls has a self-insurance program for its employees, and that city's staff will administer the program for Iowa Park, under the agreement.

Composing the trust committee will be the city administrator, finance director, city attorney and plan administrator. No elected official will serve on the committee.

The city's health insurance policy has been with Security Life. A notice had been received that a significant increase in premium cost would be charged for next year, which becomes effective July 1.

An alternate full-coverage plan by Blue Cross and Blue Shield also was considered by the council.

Basically, city employees, as well as retired employees and employee dependents who enroll in the program will receive the same health benefit coverage they had with Security Life, with the addition of dental coverage.

The minimum cost to the city under the self-insurance plan is $41,311, according to information provided the

Three youths injured in multi-vehicle crash

Three Iowa Park teenagers received serious injuries as a result of a multi-vehicle accident Friday evening in Wichita Falls.

Jamie Kaspar, 19, is reportedly in critical condition at Bethania Hospital, while in Wichita General Hospital, Angela Hatfield, 16, is described as serious but stable, and Michelle Neves, also 16, is satisfactory.

Wichita Falls Police Officer Forrest Murfield gave the following account of the incident:

A Ford Escort, driven by Gina Inman, 16, of Iowa Park, was travelling east on Northeast Drive, and at the intersection of Loop 11, struck a Chevrolet Beretta traveling south on Loop 11, driven by a Wichita Falls man.

The Escort spun around and was struck in the rear by a Ford van, also traveling south on Loop 11 and driven by another Wichita Falls man.

Jamie Kaspar, one of three riding in the back seat of the Escort, was apparently ejected through a shattered window onto one of the north-bound lanes of traffic.

A pickup traveling north struck Kaspar.

Also riding in the front seat of the Escort with Miss Inman was Jeffrey Kaspar, 16. Neither of the two in the front seat was injured.

None of the occupants in the Escort was wearing a seatbelt, according to Murfield.

Jamie Kaspar was described by his father, Tim Kaspar, a science teacher at Iowa Park High, as having been in a coma until Sunday. Because of a tube in his throat, he is having to communicate by writing notes.

Among Kaspar's injuries are a crushed pelvis.

His father says the family is encouraging visitors.

A female passenger in the Beretta also was ejected from her vehicle and sustained injuries.

Officer Murfield said investigation of the accident is continuing, and no citations have yet been issued.

Taxpayers to vote July 25 on bonds

A special election is expected to be held Saturday, July 25, to allow taxpayers of Wichita County to vote their preferences on a $9 million bond issue that would partially finance development of a Multi-Purpose Events Center in Wichita Falls.

A similar election also is expected to be called by the City of Wichita Falls, on a $4 million issue.

County commissioners and Wichita Falls city council members had previously indicated they wanted to both issue certificates of obligations in the same amounts, to fund all but $7 million of the $25 million facility.

However, petitions were circulated in both Wichita Falls and throughout the county, calling for the special election. A minimum of five percent of registered voters was required to force an election.

There were 5,027 signatures on the petitions turned in to the county, and County Clerk Vernon Cannon verified more than the 3,020 needed to force the election.

As of Tuesday morning, more than a week after the petitions were turned in, verification of the 3,279 signatures presented Wichita Falls reportedly had not been completed. Only 2,260 were needed.

The remaining $7 million of the $25 million needed to develop and construct the facility reportedly would come from private sources.

Certificates of obligation do not require voted approval of taxpayers, and may by law be obtained by elected bodies to fund such projects.

The proposed site selected is located to the north of the county courthouse in Wichita Falls. It would be bounded on the south by Fifth Street, on the east by Scott, north by Wichita and all on the west, except three blocks for parking, by Burnett.

Two structures, the coliseum and exhibit hall, would be built on the south side of the Wichita River, and the agricultural arena on the north side.

The site is approximately 100 acres in size.

County Clerk Cannon has issued a statement on "emergency voter information due to special election."

The message concerns primarily voters who have not received their new blue and white voter certificates.

Those certificates, if not received, will be cancelled after Aug. 15, which would make the voter ineligible to cast a ballot in the general election next November.

"Some of the voters signatures who were not counted on the petition were showing a registration number that had been cancelled already," he said. "This could have occurred through some form of investigation that was not answered in a timely manner or through duplicate registration."

Cannon said there will be 7,384 voters in the county whose certificate will be cancelled in August, due to a lack of update on voter records.

"You not only risk eligibility of voting in the Events Center Election but that of the President in November," he said.

Cannon emphasized that voters who want to cast ballots in the July 25 election, if that is the date set on the Multi-Purpose Events Center issue, and need to update their registrations should contact the Voter Registrar's office by today, either in person or by mail.

The mail address is Voter Registrar, Box 1679, Wichita Falls, 76307.

Police solve cases with name on wall

The proverbial "handwriting on the wall" helped police solve two cases of criminal mischief this week.

A patrolling officer Sunday discovered the concession stand at W.F. George Field on West Magnolia had been entered and vandalized.

The stand had only recently received a new coat of paint on the inside. And it was there that the investigator's major clue was found.

A youth had chosen to use his finger to write his name in the drying paint.

Sunday morning, Sheri Kennedy, manager of the Recreational Activities Center, discovered upon her arrival at the city-owned facility that two planter pots had been destroyed and the plants pulled out by the roots. The act apparently was committed Sunday night.

During questioning of the young suspect whose name was on the concession stand wall, it was admitted that he and four others had not only attacked the concession stand, but the RAC plants as well.

Parents of the youths have agreed to pay compensation for the damages, but the youngsters had to report first to the police station with their parents.

Police arrested Daniel Gabriel Carazales, 32, in the 100 block of West View at 10:05 p.m. Wednesday, on a charge of violating a protective order, according to the police blotter.

Carazales was transported to county jail the following morning. It was the second time he was arrested for violating the order, and should it occur a third time, the charge will be escalated to a felony offense, according to police.

A resident in the 700 block of West Louisa told police Thursday morning that several envelopes left Wednesday on the mail box to be picked up by the postman had been taken, and pieces

Near inch rain during week

Iowa Park received almost an inch of rainfall during the past week, with most of that being delivered by a harsh windstorm early Saturday morning.

According to measurements taken at the city's wastewater treatment plant in the southwest part of town, .86 was the week's total.

Extremely high winds out of the north struck the city during the pre-dawn hours Saturday. No major structure damage was reported, but broken tree limbs were evident throughout the city after sunrise.

Over half an inch, .56, of rain accompanied the storm.

An additional .20 was measured at the treatment plant Sunday morning (rainfall is recorded there each morning) and .10 from a brief shower Monday morning.

Swan, Smith nuptials exchanged Saturday evening in Fort Worth

Marriage vows were pledged Saturday evening at 7 o'clock by Lana Katherine Swan and Kenneth Wayne Smith. David Rogers, minister of Midtown Church of Christ in Fort Worth, officiated the double ring ceremony.

Following the ceremony and reception, the couple left for a honeymoon in Hawaii.

Scene of the wedding was Thistle Hill, a historical mansion in Fort Worth. The unity candle was placed before a background of banked greenery at the top of a wide staircase. Garlands of greenery, tied with bows of tulle, draped the balustrades.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Swan of Iowa Park and the groom's parents are Nan Smith and Howard Smith, both of Fort Worth.

Prelude musical selections were presented by a harpist, who also played "Ave Maria" during the seating of the mothers.

Michael Cinatl of North Richland Hills, soloist, sang "Evergreen", followed by Elaine Stephens, soloist, who sang "All I Ask of You", as sung by Barbara Streisand, prior to the entry of the wedding party.

"Trumpet Voluntary" was presented by the harpist as the groom entered the nuptial area, and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" was played for the entrance of the maid of honor and bridesmaids.

"Bridal Chorus" was played by the harpist for entry of the bride as she was escorted by her father, who presented her for marriage. Before the couple exchanged vows, Mrs. Stephens sang "There Is Love", and after they repeated their vows, she sang "My Love and I", which she had composed as a gift to the bride and groom. For the recessional the harpist played "Ode to Joy."

For her wedding the bride chose a designer gown fashioned with asymmetrical waist accented with a bow and sheer fabric flowers. The sweetheart neckline was enhanced with flowers of sheer fabric at the right shoulder. The lace bodice was encrusted with pearls and sequins and the pattern was repeated down the leg-of-mutton sleeves. A softly gathered skirt swept to a chapel train that was edged with lace and sprinkled with pearls.

Her veil of illusion was caught to a small jeweled headband. She carried a cascade of white orchids, gladiolus, freesia and greenery, interspersed with sprays of baby's breath.

The bride carried a handkerchief that had belonged to her grandmother for "something old", "something new" was her wedding gown, "something blue" was her garter and for "something borrowed," she wore her mother's pearl necklace. She added a sixpence in her shoe to complete the sentimental tradition.

Mrs. Kenneth Wayne Smith
(nee Lana Katherine Swan)

The bride was attended by her sister, Stacy Swan of Denton, as maid of honor. She wore a gown of royal blue styled with shirred asymmetrical waist, short shirred sleeves with satin rosette trim, and full skirt with graduated hemline.

She complemented her attire with royal blue satin shoes and a pearl necklace with the royal blue pearl enhancer given to her by the bride. She carried a short cascade of yellow astro lilies, red roses, purple statice, blue agapanthus, white freesia, pink gerber daisies, baby's breath and greenery.

Brenda Brookman of Kansas City, Mo., sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Her costume and bouquet was identical to the honor attendant's.

Tama Swan of Iowa Park, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Her attire was like the other attendants, except she wore a silver necklace accented with a blue topaz.

Laura Brookman of Kansas City, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She was dressed as the junior bridesmaid and wore a halo of flowers in her hair. She preceded the bride and scattered paper hearts in spring colors from a white wicker basket decorated with spring colored flowers.

Michael Cinatl was best man. Groomsmen and ushers included Oscar Lopez of Dallas, Dean Smith of Burleson, Frank Duffy of Denton, the groom's future brother-in-law, and Nathan Brookman of Kansas City, nephew of the groom, who served as junior groomsman.

The groom wore a black tuxedo, white shirt with wing-tipped collar, black studs and cuff links, black bow tie and cummerbund. His boutonniere was white freesia on English ivy.

Male attendants wore similar attire except they wore royal blue cummerbunds and bow ties.

Mother of the bride wore a pink street length dress with flowing pink crepe skirt and a pink floral brocade jacket. The jewel neckline was accented with pink lace.

The groom's mother wore a street length dress of blue. Both mothers wore corsages of alstermeria lily, dendrobium orchids, white roses and freesia, tied with satin bows and each carried a single rose tied with a hot pink bow.

The dining room of Thistle Hill mansion was setting for the reception. Spiced tea was served in the solarium. During the reception, the harpist played special selections.

The bride's table was arranged in the parlor of the mansion. The fourtiered white cake was elaborately decorated with white and pastel pink and blue confection stephanotis, lilies and roses. The pedestal stand separating each tier was embellished with lace edging and topped with a large arrangement of confection flowers.

The bride and groom cut their wedding cake with the same knife that the bride's parents used to cut their wedding cake. Chantilly lace and white satin draped the bride's table and the food table.

The groom's cake was served from the morning room of the mansion. Coffee was served from a silver service.

The two layer chocolate cake was decorated with fresh strawberries dipped in chocolate, and shaved chocolate was scattered over the tiers. Sugar-coated grapes surrounded the base of the cake. The groom's table and other tables in the reception area were covered with white chiffon laid over white satin.

The food table was lavishly laden with assorted cheeses, fresh fruits and quiches. Royal blue napkins were engraved with a pair of swimming swans, and engraved in silver with the lettering, "Lana and Wayne, June 20, 1992."

Centering the table was a tall silver container of spring flowers. Greenery and the same floral selections were used to edge the fireplace mantel in the dining room. Beverly Wiggins, cousin of the bride, and Cassandra Barnes served as hostesses.

Photographs of the bride and groom from childhood until the present were displayed in the library of the mansion.

Following the reception, the couple left in their wedding attire to enter a white horse-drawn carriage decorated with blue flowers and pulled by two handsome white horses.

Wedding guests tossed blue potpourri at the couple as they departed. A white wicker basket, decorated with spring flowers, held the potpourri that was distributed to guests by Melissa Brookman.

The groom's mother was hostess for a rehearsal dinner at Tours Restaurant in Fort Worth.

The new Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and Texas

Women's University. She is employed by Casual Corner.

Smith holds a master's degree in Rehabilitation Counseling from the University of North Texas. He is a member of National Rehabilitation Association, Association of Handicapped Services in Post-Secondary Education, American Deafness and Rehabilitation Association and Texas Society of Interpreters for the Deaf.

The couple will make their home in Carrollton.

Smallwood winner in audition

A former Iowa Park student was a winner in the recent Star Search auditions held in Wichita Falls.

She is Christy Smallwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Richardson of Wichita Falls and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Perry.

Currently a sophomore at Holliday High School, Miss Smallwood won the 13-17 age group with her vocal rendition of "Hoplessly Devoted to You." Her air fare to Los Angeles, Cal., in July was her prize, besides qualifying for the national finals.

Miss Smallwood has not competed in a talent contest before, but is an 11-year veteran of pageants. She is to compete in July in the Miss Teen Texas contest.

As I See It. . .

By Bob Hamilton

There comes a time in the life of every column writer, when a subject is not in the forefront of his thoughts.

That's my problem as I sit down to my trusty computer for this issue.

Over and over, I've tried to come up with a subject I feel strongly enough about to put my thoughts into words.

After a fruitless 20 minutes of sitting here, eyes glued to the screen, I wasn't able to come to a usable subject, and got up to do something else.

That done, I'm back, and still: nothing.

Every topic I've come up with is either recently written about; just about to become timely enough to write about; I haven't done enough research on, or just don't feel strongly enough about it to feel it's worth the effort and space.

Maybe this week, I should paraphrase an old television ad and state: "We write no columns before their time."

But I've accomplished something, if nothing else. I've filled a space I didn't think I was capable of, by saying what I've said. Surely, an inspiration will reach me before this time next week.

Upon reading today's Leader I was appalled to see that our city fathers have gone back on their word again. Last year all of Diamond Street except the West 400 block were on the list for seal coating. I talked to Mr. Price, Mr. Jones, and Mr. House, all three assured me that the 400 block was going to be added. When they ran out of funds Diamond had not been seal coated. I was told that it would be one of the first to be done this year. Now the list comes out without Diamond even being listed anywhere and it is now rough as a washboard after being dug up to lay water-lanes.

I also noted that of 29 total streets listed, the first 15 were on the North side of the tracks. Pecan was listed 16th. No other South side street was listed until #24 when the last 6 listed streets were on the South side. Again, the city is discriminating against this section of town as, like in the past few years, they know that all the streets can not possibly be coated due to weather, funds and time.

The North side gets concrete and seal coat, we get ruts, potholes, and concrete dips that have to be redone 2 to 3 times to get them right. I am tired of being treated like a second class citizen when I pay the same tax rate as the people on the North side of town.

SS checks to be on time

Social Security checks for 42 million beneficiaries will be delivered Friday, July 3, but Social Security offices will be closed on that day.

"While that Friday is the date that federal offices are closed for the Independence Day holiday observance," said Greg White, Wichita Falls district manager.

"The U.S. Postal Service will deliver mail as usual on July 3," he added. Beneficiaries who have direct deposit also will have their July payments deposited on July 3.

Supplemental Security Income recipients will receive their checks on the first day of the month.

"Anyone who has a question about Social Security check delivery or deposit should call our office, at 322-5215," White said.

During a discussion on the cost of the proposal, of which $9 million would be pledged by Wichita County, Mayor Wayne House said he had been informed by Judge Nick Gibson that half the county's contribution to the Iowa Park fire department would likely be cut by 50 percent for the coming year.

The mayor pointed out that far more than half all fires fought by the local volunteer firemen are outside the city limits, and the county's contribution is vital to the department's funding.

The Employee of the Month, Robert "Pappy" Snyder, a dispatcher for the police department, was recognized.

Dustie Kay Householder
Iowa Park connection at Bryan

Though it was never announced to the public, there was an Iowa Park connection at the recent graduation exercises of Bryan High School in Bryan.

Dustie Kay Householder received her diploma from Bryan school trustee John Sykes.

The Iowa Park connection was the fact that Miss Householder is the daughter of the former Iowa Park High graduate Brenda Gibbs.

And John Sykes also is an IPHS graduate, who attended classes here about the same time as Miss Householder's mother.

Miss Householder not only was graduated with honors, but is the recipient of a $10,000 scholarship from the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, through the 4-H Foundation.

The scholarship was the result of academics and numerous 4-H projects such as showing horses and swine, community service and public speaking.

Miss Householder, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Householder, works as an intern at the Bryan television station and plans to attend Texas A&M Univ. in the fall, where she will major in agricultural journalism.

Notter, Robertson wed in western ceremony

Martha Moore Notter became the bride of Stanley Paul Robertson in a western style ceremony Saturday afternoon witnessed by close friends and relatives.

The Silver Square Room in Wichita Falls was setting for the nuptials performed by Judge Janice Sons.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tod Moore, Iowa Park Road. Robertson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Neil Robertson of Wichita Falls, formerly of Archer City.

A yellow, black and white color theme was used throughout the room and in the decor.

Presiding at the bride's book was Jeanette Parker, sister of the groom. Displayed on the table, along with the bride's book, were pictures of the bride and groom as children.

A black felt cowboy hat was filled with small bags of bird seed, symbolizing bags of gold dust. A bag was given to each guest to throw at the couple as they left the room.

The western theme was continued through the selection of county-western music.

Guests were seated to the song, "Leap of Faith". The bride was given in marriage by her father and accompanied by her three-year-old daughter, Heather Notter. The three walked down the aisle together to the song, "Love Can Build A Bridge".

The daughter of the bride stood between the bride and groom as they exchanged their vows before a large cactus plant and western boots. As the couple was pronounced man and wife, they picked up the bride's daughter and each one kissed her on the cheek, signifying they had become a family.

As the couple left the nuptial area to the song "Look At Us" the bride gave a red rose accented with black and white ribbon to the groom's mother and the groom gave an identical rose to the bride's mother.

The bride wore a blue denim dress with white lace on the sleeves, down the back of the dress and around the neck. Accents of tiny pearl buttons were used. Her bouquet was yellow, white and black wild flowers, complemented with cowprint ribbon and rope.

The groom wore blue jeans, a western shirt, black felt hat and boots.

Maid of honor was Charmae Moore, sister of the bride, and Rhonda Holdbrook of Fort Worth was bridesmaid. They wore white jeans, black boots and matching bright colored western shirts. Each carried long-stemmed yellow and black wild flowers accented with white ribbon.

Groomsmen were Dennis Holdbrook and Jeff Davis, both of Fort Worth. They were dressed in matching jeans, hats, boots and shirts.

The bride's white cake was topped with a second layer that was in the shape of a horseshoe. A bride and groom in western attire sat in the middle of the horseshoe shaped cake that was trimmed with black and

Thornberry to assume pastorate

Word has been received from Esther Thornberry Gallup of Ellenwood, Ga., formerly of Iowa Park concerning her son, Milo (Mike) Thornberry.

Thornberry will become pastor of the Aldersgate United Methodist Church in Juneau, Alaska Sunday, July 5.

The former Iowa Park resident leaves his post as director of the Mission Resource Center in Atlanta, Ga., to serve in the Alaska Missionary Conference.

Active in the United Methodist Church in Iowa Park, Mike graduated Iowa Park High School in 1955 and entered the Christian ministry.

He received degrees from Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth, Perkins School of Theology at SMU, the Taipei Language Institute in Taiwan, and a Th.D in Missions, Ecumenics and World Religions from Boston University School of Theology.

Thornberry was ordained and became a member of the Central Texas Annual Conference. While in school, he pastored several churches in the Cleburne District and was Youth Director at First United Methodist Church in Garland.

A United Methodist missionary

Upon returning to the United States, Thornberry taught new missionaries at the Missionary Orientation Center in Stony Point, N.Y.; served as the Coordinator for Hunger Concerns at the National Council of Churches; and, from 1979-1989, was director of Alternatives, an ecumenical organization in Ellenwood, providing resources for responsible living and celebrating.

In 1989, when the United Methodist General Board of Global Ministries established the Mission Resource Center in Atlanta, Thornberry was selected as its first director. His primary responsibility was for the training of new United Methodist missionaries.

The Center is a joint effort of the General Board, Candler School of Theology at Emory University, and Gammon Theological Seminary at the Interdenominational Theological Center.

white flowers. "One Love Shared By Two," was inscribed on top of the cake.

The bride's table was covered in white and accented at the corners by black rope bows. Cow print cowboy boots filled with wild flowers, were touched with rope and black and white ribbon.

Adding to the table decor were champagne glasses painted by the bride in cow print with names of the bride and groom on each. These were placed near the punch bowl with black napkins, that had the couple's names and wedding date inscribed on them.

The groom's table was covered in white and centered with a black boot filled with black and white flowers. A chocolate cake was decorated with candy boots.

Attendants at the cake and punch tables were Twyla Weatherford, aunt of the bride, Jenny Powers, Kelly Majors, and Opal Parker, great-aunt of the bride.

Out-of-town special guests were Inez Robertson, grandmother of the groom, from Archer City, Elton Harwell, Corpus Christi, uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Weatherford, Dallas, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Miss Kelly Majors of Wichita, Kans.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harwell, grandparents of the bride, were hosts in their home for a western style dinner for the bride and groom, the wedding party, and out-of-town guests.

The bride attended Rider High School and is employed by Winn-Dixie. The groom attended Archer City High School and is employed by Oxford Company.

After a wedding trip to Oklahoma City, the couple will make their home in Arlington.

THE CLOCKS ARE STILL WRONG

Hal Lindsey made a fortune in the 1970's by the selling of millions of copies of his book, "The Late Great Planet Earth." According to Mr. Lindsey, the rapture was to be in 1981 and the return of Jesus in 1988. Old Testament prophecies were to be fulfilled by the Soviet Union, etc.

Have things changed? Well, the Middle East is now the center of attention again focusing on Saddam Hussein. An avalanche of books is again hitting the market place predicting the end times, the imminent return of Jesus, and 1,001 other such things. Many of the so-called "scholars" are getting out their "time clocks" again. Many of these folds are getting their fanciful ideas by dreaming up their own private theories concerning the book of Revelation in the New Testament.

When will these "scholars" ever learn? The crucial Russian "Bear" is now tame. Gorbachev won the Nobel Peace Prize and Yeltsin is now in control. "Russia's Hordes" are no longer feared. How can these authors rewrite their scripts?

Even an internationally famous preacher has been in the "Clock Business." In 1950 he stated, "We may have another year, maybe two years." In the 1970's a leading monthly magazine interviewed this famous preacher in which he advocated the 1981 and 1988 theory. As all of us know 1981 and 1988 have both come and gone. Interestingly enough the same man has learned a great biblical truth and now has been quoted as saying, "I do not know the hour, the month, or the year. God alone knows."

THINK! Of what comfort to persecuted Christians in the first century to know the Soviet Union would fall in 1990? Obviously this is neither the purpose nor the content of Revelation. We need to do our biblical homework better.

Man does not know, cannot know, and does not need to know what day our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ will come. The Scripture speaks plainly, "Of that day and hour knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, neither the Son, but the Father only." (Matthew 24:36).

God is still on the throne! Trust, pray, and be faithful to God and then pray, "Lord Jesus, come soon!"

Mrs. John Brown

Ina Brown refers to herself as "John's wife, her children's mother, and a grandmother." She is the glue that holds a family together, a very important responsibility in today's world of changing values.

Ina and her husband, John, both grew up and graduated high school in Munday and both were members of large, close-knit families. They dated five and a half years before they married.

When they married, John was working for Exxon Oil Co. They lived in New Mexico and had moved to Snyder when John decided he wanted to be a trooper with the Texas Department of Public Safety.

When he completed his schooling, the family moved to Wichita Falls, then to Graham for 11 years, before moving to Iowa Park in 1971. They left for a while when John was sent to Corpus Christi and Waco, but moved back in 1988. Now retired, John was the DPS Safety Education Officer for this area.

Their three children are graduates of Iowa Park High School. Randy is a fireman in Wichita Falls. He and his wife, Amy, and nine-year-old daughter, Johnna, live in Iowa Park. Suzan is married to Lowery Bartow, who is an assistant coach and math teacher at Olney. They have a three-year-old son, Matthew. Scott, who has four children and lives in The Colony, is a full-time computer engineering student at North Texas State Univ.

Ina worked several years for Shamburger Lumber Co. in Wichita Falls, but she said now she just fills in for employees when they go on vacation.

This gives her more time to work on her hobbies of oil painting and ceramics. She does some sewing, but not as much as she use to.

Ina is a member of the Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association, and she and John are members of First Baptist Church where she teaches in the Four-Year-Old Department and works with the Girl's Auxiliary. She says they like to travel and spend time at their lake cabin.

Ina said that her children didn't care much for sweets when they were growing up, but they did like the fried pies she made for them. Now when they come home, they ask her to make the "Fried Pies". She started making the recipe for "Barbecue Sauce" as a way to entice the children to eat meat when they were young, and she said "Texas Hash" is a recipe that has been in John's family for years.

Texas Hash

- 1 large onion
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 can tomato soup
- 2 cups cooked kidney beans
- 2 large sections garlic
- 1/2 tsp. oregano
- 1/2 tsp. parsley
- 1/4 tsp. celery seed
- Salt and pepper
- 1 pkg. spaghetti

Put chopped onion in small amount of fat. Add meat and brown. Add soup, 1 can water, garlic, oregano, parsley, celery seed, salt and pepper. Simmer about 15 minutes. Add beans and simmer 10 or 15 minutes. Boil and drain spaghetti. Mix spaghetti and hash well, and serve piping hot.

Fried Pies

- Crust:
- 2 cups flour
 - 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1/2 tsp. soda
 - 1/2 tsp. salt
 - 1 Tbsp. white vinegar
- Add desired water

Filling:

- 1 cup fruit
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup flour

Cook, cool and fill crust.

Quiche for Brunch

Place buttered toast in flat casserole dish to line bottom. Crumble fried sausage on top. Alternate layers of 2 small cans green chilies, 1 1/2 cups half and half, 10 slightly beaten eggs, and one and half pounds grated cheese.

Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Can be made and refrigerated for use the next morning.

Blackeyed Pea & Rice Casserole

- Brown:
- 1 lb. hamburger meat
 - 1 onion, chopped
- Add:
- 1 can Rotel tomatoes
 - 1 cup cooked rice
 - 1 can blackeyed peas
 - Grated cheese

Season meat with garlic salt and pepper. Pour into dish, place cheese on top and cook until cheese melts.

Poppy Seed Dressing

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/3 cup vinegar
- 1 1/2 tsp. onion juice
- 1 cup salad oil
- 1 1/3 tsp. poppy seed

Combine sugar, mustard and salt in mixing bowl. Gradually beat in oil, vinegar and seed. Excellent for grapefruit, combination fruit salads or just lettuce.

Gingerbread

- 1 1/4 cup butter
- 1 cup Grandma's dark molasses
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 4 cups flour
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. allspice
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. baking soda (dissolved in buttermilk)
- 2 tps. ginger
- 1 cup sugar
- 4 eggs

Cream butter and sugar; add eggs, syrup and milk alternately with flour which has been sifted with spices and salt. Bake in tuffin pans at 350 degrees.

This will keep indefinitely in refrigerator. Use only Grandma's Molasses, do not substitute.

Barbecue Sauce

- 1 cup catsup
 - 2 Tbsps. brown sugar
 - 2 Tbsps. white vinegar
 - 2 Tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 tsp. mustard
- Use for all meats.
