

Events center bond issue faces voters on Saturday

The fate of the proposed $25-million Multi-Purpose Events Center in Wichita Falls will be decided at the polls Saturday.

Polls are to open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Having already attracted what has been described as a record turnout of early voting, election officials are expecting to be busy at the polls throughout the day.

There were a total of 4,872 early votes cast in the county, of which 462 were at the poll here in Iowa Park, according to the county clerk's office.

One of Saturday's polls in Iowa Park has been changed. Voters of Precinct 33 will cast their ballots at the First Presbyterian Church, rather than at Faith Baptist Church as originally announced, according to Vernon Cannon, county clerk.

The other polls voters in this area will be using include: Precinct 32, Wichita County Agriculture Building, 220 W. Park. Precinct 34, West Wichita Coop Building at Valley View. Precinct 35, Chaparral Baptist Assembly, 3784 Church Camp Rd.

Precinct 42, City View School, 1023 City View Drive.

Precinct 44, Country Chapel, 3404 Wellington Lane.

Wichita County ballots ask voters to decide yes or no to the question, "The issuance of $9,000,000 of certificates of obligation." Repayment of the certificates would be made over a 20-year period.

Residents of Wichita Falls actually will be voting twice on the multi-purpose events center. Besides their voting in the county issue, they also are being asked to approve $4,000,000 by the city of Wichita Falls.

The Wichita County commissioners court and Wichita Falls city council each pledged $9 million toward the funding of the events center. The remaining $7 million is to be raised through private donations.

Elected officials of both the city and county said if either of their elections fail, the center will not be built.

The proposed center is about 100 acres of land located on both sides of the Wichita River, directly north of the Wichita Falls downtown business district.

In general, it is bounded on the south by Fifth Street, on the north by Wichita Street, on the east by Scott Street, and all but three blocks on the west by Burnett Street.

Three structures to be constructed, including a coliseum and exhibit hall on the south side of the river and agricultural arena on the north.

The coliseum would seat 7,500 and have the ability to expand an additional 2,500 seats, to be used for large concerts, rodeos and other special events.

The exhibit hall would have meeting rooms and banquet areas for 3,000.

It also would contain kitchen facilities and a foyer.

The agriculture complex would contain a livestock building, show arena, practice arena and stall facilities.

Total parking space on the two sides of the river is designed for almost 5,000 vehicles.

Proponents of the center say it would meet the needs of the area, based on recommendations of various organizations that were expressed during a series of meetings.

Opponents have expressed concerns about the cost, location and need.

Coach Gamble resigns; Clensay named new AD

Iowa Park school trustees, in a called meeting Thursday evening, accepted five resignations, hired nine new personnel, and named a new head coach and athletic director.

Among the resignations was that of Lucky Gamble, who was hired in spring of 1991 as head coach and athletic director.

Though no reason was given for Gamble's resignation, one authority said he was alleged to have forged the name of another coach on a check and cashed it.

In the motion to accept Gamble's resignation, which was effective Friday, the board also approved paying him one month's severance pay.

Gamble's first assistant, Robert Clensay, was then named as head coach and athletic director, setting his salary at $38,000 for the one-year contract, plus $100 per month travel expenses.

The action took place following an executive session that lasted an hour and five minutes.

Other resignations accepted included: Michael Bean, fourth grade teacher; C.D. Knobloch, junior high social studies and coach; Carey Roberts, high school homemaking, and Matthew Haddock, high school and junior high choir director.

New personnel hired included:

Timothy Bartram, high school auto mechanics, no teaching experience, store/service manager at Tune & Go, Corpus Christi, Automotive Certificate 1984;

Cindy Hambricht, high school cosmetology, no teaching experience, director of Aladdin Beauty College, instructor certificate;

Trey Morgan, junior high life science/coach, one year teaching experience, Water Valley I.S.D., B.S. degree from Angelo State Univ.;

Shelli Morgan, fourth grade teacher, three years experience, Water Valley I.S.D. and San Angelo I.S.D., B.S. degree from Sam Houston State Univ.;

Lisa A. Brackeen, kindergarten, seven years experience, Megargel I.S.D. and Navasota I.S.D., B.S. degree from Eastern Illinois Univ.;

Leslie A. Wilson, kindergarten, two years experience, Palestine I.S.D., B.S. degree from Stephen F. Austin;

Deirdre L. Fomey, third grade, seven years experience, Bonham Elementary in Wichita Falls, B.S.E. degree from Midwestern State Univ., and Todd Ward, Texas history teacher, junior high athletics and high school girls' junior varsity basketball coach, one year experience, Gruver I.S.D., graduate West Texas State Univ.

Because of the number of persons in the audience, the meeting was moved after the executive session from the administration building to the junior high library, where it was resumed.

Assistant Supt. Robert Palmer gave the board a report on the Norm-Referenced Assessment Program for Texas testing that was taken by all grades three through 11.

Grades three through eight each had 15 scores, while grades nine through 11 each had 10 scorings.

With a national norm of 50, 55 of the 90 scores for grades three through eight were above the national average. The most consistent areas where students failed to reach or surpass the norm were in vocabulary, punctuation, word usage and expression, and total language tests.

The third grade, however, had only one grade that did not exceed the norm.

The three high school classes graded exceptionally well against the national average, Palmer pointed out.

Only one class test of the 30 grades received was below the norm. That was a 49 for the 11th grade in concepts and problem solving.

Palmer also presented a report on Chapter One Improvement Results, which indicated campus improvement plans will be required at Kidwell in language arts and mathematics skills.

The board also took action on recommendations concerning acceptance of bids for cafeteria items and equipment and parking lot repairs.

The balance of the evening was spent working on the 1992-93 budget. It was also decided to continue studying the budget, campus-by-campus, the following Tuesday evening.

Action on the budget is expected sometime in August.

Besides continuing their study of the 1992-93 budget Tuesday night, the board also took action on two other subjects.

Margaret Batson was hired as a home economics teacher at the high school. She has two years teaching experience, at Sabine, and holds a B.S. degree from Stephen F. Austin College.

The other action was to accept a maintenance contract at the junior high school. The only bid received was submitted by Valley Main Saw Co., owned by Gary Lyles, for $18,500.

The contract is for one year and must be renewed annually, it was pointed out.

Council to consider hiring police chief

The city council will hold an executive session, closed to the public, during part of Monday night's regular meeting for the purpose of discussing appointment of a new police chief.

No interviews are planned at that time, despite a report Wednesday in the Wichita Falls newspaper.

City Administrator Gary Jones denied he told the reporter, during an interview Tuesday, that he had said the council would be interviewing retired Department of Public Safety Trooper Kenneth Garrett for the position.

Jones did say, however, that he would recommend Garrett, a long-time resident of Iowa Park, for the position recently vacated by the resignation of Wayne Parsons.

Parsons' resignation is to become effective Monday, Aug. 3. Because the letter of resignation was submitted Wednesday of last week, and no regular council meeting has been held since that time, official acceptance of the chief's resignation is to precede the executive session.

Parsons was appointed chief May 21, 1990.

Action on an appointment could be taken, following the closed meeting, because it is listed on the meeting's agenda. The city's police chief can only be hired with a majority of the council's approval, according to ordinance.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Three other items are listed on the meeting agenda.

An ordinance will be proposed for consideration of abandoning four feet of width in an alley in the Manes Sub-

THE GOODPELL FAMILY
...Rachel, Emilee, Sarah and Jeff.

Back to the basics

Family prefers 'the good, simple life'

By Myrna Smith

A family determined to get back to the basics of family living, and who prefers the good and simple life, is using their decision as a learning experience.

To the Jeff Goodells the most important thing is for their two daughters, Emilee, four, and Sarah, three, to grow up in a family-oriented situation, and they are attempting to get back to the "nature way" of doing things.

Goodell, an X-Ray technician, is an enlisted Staff Sgt. in the Air Force. He was stationed in Utah where he met Rachel, his future wife, who was raised as a "military kid".

Shortly after their marriage Jeff was sent to the Azores stationed at Lajes Field for three and a half years, where both of their daughters were born.

Goodell was reared in Southeast Iowa. "When I got my assignment to Sheppard, we got some brochures from this area and when I read about Iowa Park and how it got its name, we decided this is where we wanted to live," he said.

They lived in Wichita Falls a year before they found the kind of place they wanted in Iowa Park that they could buy. They will have lived here a year in September.

A devout member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Rachel commented, "We are Christians and we feel the Lord provided us the opportunity to buy this place so we can get on with the things we believe is the right thing to do."

Neither Jeff nor Rachel like big cities. They like small towns and a place where they can raise a garden and some farm animals. They have two acres in their place and have some ground rented from a neighboring place.

"We've been called 'country-siders,'" Jeff said, "but we love it here. We prefer a quiet, simple type of life, where we can get closer to nature. And, we have nice neighbors. People are friendly and always offering to help."

Goodell didn't grow up on a farm, but he did work on farms during his high school and college days.

The Goodells are now on the first leg of his long-time dream "I always dreamed of raising sheep," he said, "and they also go along with mine and Rachel's dream of 'back to basics'."

Under the city administrator's report, Jones will remind aldermen of their plans to hold a third budget work session at 5 p.m. Tuesday, and updating the council on Texas Water Commission regulations regarding sanitary landfills.

The city's Employee of the Month for June also is to be recognized.

They have 12 sheep, five ewes and some lambs. Jeff hand shears them himself. He has crossbred Rambouillet and Suffolk because of the yields of long, fine wool. There also is a reason behind why he started out with the particular breed.

"I would like to eventually get into raising sheep for their wool. There aren't any of the synthetic materials that can improve on the natural fibers of cotton and wool," Goodell said.

That is another facet of the couple's desire to do things the way they used to be done. They hope one day to spin their own wool. Something else they will have to learn how to do.

Jeff said, "I never wanted to be a farmer, but I have always been interested in sheep. In 1979 I went with a Christian Mission Performing Group to New Zealand and Australia. I had opportunity there to visit a sheep station and that made me more interested in thinking some day I wanted to raise sheep. It is an animal you can profit from without having to kill it."

Goodell said he has learned so many things he didn't know about sheep. "In addition to their wool, if you want to go to the extra work, you can sell their manure, and they can be milked. I couldn't believe it when I learned how much sheep cheese is imported to the United States."

The Goodells raise a few chickens, and get plenty of eggs for themselves and enough to sell two dozen a week. Two ducks also belong to the family of animals.

They raise some rabbits, now

Week's rainfall almost full inch

Iowa Park has received almost an inch of precipitation during the past fiscal week.

A rain-producing system moved over the area Thursday, depositing .60, and a brief "cotton shower" Tuesday added another .25, bring the week's total to .85, Virgil Woodfin reported.

Mrs. Dennis Campbell

A graduate of Vernon High School, Stella (Mrs. Dennis) Campbell moved to Iowa Park when her father, the late Ray Washburn, was assistant manager of Chaparral Baptist Assembly.

For the last three years, Stella has worked in the cafeteria at Kidwell Elementary and is now assistant manager.

Her husband, Dennis, is employed by PPG, and does taxidermy as a hobby. He is a native of Petrolia.

The Campbell's are the parents of two children. Their son Shaun is a member of the 13-Year-Old All Star baseball team and will be participating in play-off games in Abilene this weekend. He will be in the eighth grade, and is active in all sports. Carla, their 11-year-old daughter, likes to play basketball and will be in the sixth grade.

Stella says that her favorite way to spend leisure time is playing softball and volleyball. She also likes to sew and read.

The family enjoys outdoor activities such as camping and fishing. They are also fans of the Texas Rangers baseball team and attend many of their games. They are members of Faith Baptist Church.

Stella feels that family and friends are the best source for recipes because they have already been tested and tried by someone you know. The recipes she submitted are a sampling of the ones that have become family favorites.

Baptist Women have meeting

Ten members of the Thelma Smith Baptist Women of First Baptist Church attended the meeting held Monday evening at the church. Mrs. O.S. McLemore served as hostess.

The business meeting where Mrs. V.I. Woodfin presided was opened with the customary missionary birthday calendar of prayer observance led by Mrs. E.T. Patterson.

During the business, members discussed plans for assisting the Girls Auxiliary of the church with "Christmas in August" gifts for a prison hospitality house in Huntsville. Letters of thanks were read from the president of the Valley Baptist Academy for the labels from Campbell's products that helped to buy several items for the classrooms, and from the Baptist Student Union at MSU for the preparation and serving of a meal.

Mrs. Jim Wright presented the current mission program taken from the Royal Service magazine. The topic was "Through the Window of My Home" and the content showed how growing a church is like gardening.

The interest center featured a table filled with things that are necessary for growing a garden such as a book on gardening, miniature tools, water sprinkler, fertilizer, work gloves, with a large rake standing at one side.

Mrs. Wright said "growing a garden is an ongoing process and requires seeds, water, soil, sunshine, elbow grease, people digging, raking, and adding a mixture of growth stimulant." She used Linda Clark, a church planter and missionary in Wyoming as an example, inspiration, and challenge for Christians everywhere to look from the windows in their homes and see gardens where God needs love to be planted in fertile soil, then take an active part in the ongoing gardening for Christ's kingdom.

Adams attends state workshop

Johnna Adams, Iowa Park teacher, was among hundreds of educators from around the state who recently attended a leadership training workshop in Austin.

The meeting was sponsored by the Association of Texas Professional Educators.

Training included site-based decision-making, outcome-based education, technology in the classroom, and how to become politically active.

Among those who addressed the group was Lionel Meno, commissioner of education.

Slack, Chambers exchange wedding vows in candlelight ceremony

Miss Shea Leigh Slack became the bride of Shawn Lee Chambers in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

Scene of the double ring vows was Iowa Park First Baptist Church sanctuary with Rev. Howell Farnsworth, pastor of First Baptist Church of Floydada and former pastor here, directing the recitation.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gowdy Slack of Wichita Falls. The groom's parents are Eddie Chambers of Graham and Donna Chambers of Wichita Falls.

A lovely backdrop for the ceremony was provided by candles burning in a central 15-branch candelabra and two seven-branch candelabras garlanded with lemon leaves and springer fern and dotted with fuchsia bows.

Twin white pillars holding large arrangements of fresh stargazer lilies, fuchsia carnations, roses, alstromaries, and springer greenery completed the nuptial setting.

Fuchsia bows marked the family pews.

The program of music included "Chances Are," "Theme from Ice Castles," "When I Fall in Love," "The Wedding Song," and "Honestly," by Jeanette Hoover, pianist; "In This Very Room," "Jesus In Your Eyes," "We've Only Just Begun," and "I Will Be There," by Valerie Porter, soloist; "Unchained Melody," flute solo by Jennifer Welch, and "Wedding March."

Mr. Slack presented his daughter for marriage.

Her elegant bridal gown of poly-satin was lavishly adorned with lace, simulated pearls, sequins and crystal clusters. The basque bodice featured an open sweetheart neckline with stand-up collar, and pearl, lace and sequin trim. More of the trim accented the long puffed sleeves with insets of lace and pearl and crystal danglers just above the elbows.

The pearl, sequin and crystal trim and cut-outs of lace embellished the scalloped hemline and full flowing skirt that extended to form a chapel length train.

Her Juliet-style bridal cap of simulated pearls and sequins held her finger-tip length veil and pouf of nylon net.

She carried a cascade bouquet of fresh white roses, stephanotis and English ivy accented with pearls.

For sentiment, the bride wore a gold heirloom wedding band handed down to her great-grandmother from her great-great-grandfather and then to the bride's mother. She wore shoes borrowed from her matron of honor that she had worn for her wedding.

Matron of honor was Jennifer Duggins of San Antonio. Bridesmaids included Amy Arledge of Plano, Sarah Sternadel of Burkburnett, Schondra Conyca, Paula McGinty, and Jennifer Voelker, all of Wichita Falls. Julie Wineinger of Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The bride's attendants wore identically styled gowns fashioned of fuchsia moire taffeta. They were styled with long skirts, princess seamed tops with open back detailing, sweetheart neckline and a peplum.

They also carried identical cascade bouquets of fuchsia carnations, ranunculus mauve roses and fern.

Rowdy Robertson of Iowa Park served as best man. Groomsmen were Jay Chambers of Graham, brother of the groom, Shane Hadaway of Haskell, Don Hammonds of Wichita Falls, Monty Moellar of Bowie, and Joe Slack, Wichita Falls, brother of the bride. Junior groomsmen were Cole Earles.

Serving as ushers were Jimmy Duggins, San Antonio, Jason Welch, Iowa Park, Cody Newsome of Graham, and David Bolton of Phoenix, Ariz.

Jonathan Porter of Dalhart was ring bearer. He wore a black double-breasted tuxedo with fuchsia tie and cummerbund.

Flower girl was Whitney Gentile of Houston, cousin of the bride and Keith Wineinger was candlelighter.

The bride's mother wore a fuchsia brocade two-piece suit styled with sweetheart neckline, jeweled buttons, peplum and knee length skirt.

Mother of the groom wore a multicolored one piece dress of purple, fuchsia, and black and white print silk, with puffed sleeves and scoop back.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Guests were registered by Jennifer Craighead and

Mrs. Shawn Lee Chambers
(Shea Leigh Slack)

Angelia Hrcirik in a white bride's book with eyelet pages and wedding bells.

Tables were covered with lace cloths and decorated with lemon leaves, springer greenery and fresh flower arrangements of the chosen bridal flowers and colors and accented by silver candelabras.

The bride's all white three tiered cake was entitled, "Royal Wedding".

The bottom tier was decorated with a canopy trellis with bells inside the canopy and clusters of roses entwined in the trellis.

The bottom two tiers were stacked and the top tier was separated by Grecian pillars. The top tiers were draped with seed work and garlands with small clusters of rosebuds between each garland. The cake was topped with two satin bells set atop a lace covered disc encircled by a heart-shaped archway.

The groom's cake was a double layered round chocolate cake with chocolate icing and the initials SLC surrounded by fuchsia roses.

Presiding at the groom's table were Shonna Weaver and Rhonda Weaver.

Kelley Hickey and Jennifer Craighead presided at the bride's table.

Other members of the house party were Elaine Wineinger and Linda Gray.

For travel, the bride chose a fuchsia backless sundress with fitted waistline and gold button trim.

The couple left for a honeymoon in San Antonio and Puerto Vallarta, Mexico.

Special out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mac Bolton of Phoenix, Jim Slack of Red Lodge, Mont., and Cecil Cleveland of Long Island, N.Y.

The bride is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and is attending Midwestern State University where she is a member of Chi Omega Sorority.

The groom also graduated Iowa Park High School, attended Howard College on a Rodeo Scholarship and MSU. He is employed by Southern Farm Bureau Insurance.

The couple will make their home in Wichita Falls.

Lyme Disease

- Lyme disease results from bacteria transmitted to humans from a deer tick.
- In its early stages, the disease is characterized by a circular rash and flu-like symptoms. If left untreated, Lyme disease can become severe, involving heart palpitations and arthritis.
- More than 1,500 cases of Lyme disease are reported annually, and the number is rising.
- The bacteria-infected tick is commonly found in wooded and grassy areas along both coasts, beginning in May and continuing through September.
- To lessen your chances of contracting Lyme disease, avoid tick-infested areas if possible.
- When hiking in the woods, protect extremities with clothing. Pull socks over the bottoms of pants so ticks don't have an entry onto the legs.
- Walk in the middle of paths.
- Check for ticks after every walk.
- To remove a tick, put some gasoline or kerosene on a cotton ball and tape it loosely over the tick for 15-20 minutes. If the tick does not back itself out, use a fine pair of tweezers and grasp the tick and pull it slowly straight out. Use a magnifying glass and make sure you've got the tick's head.
- Contact your doctor immediately if you are unable to remove the tick, or if you see symptoms of the disease.

Letters to the Editor

Opposes MPEC

TO: The Editor,
The "Wichita Multiple Activities Center" was initially conceived over ten years ago, not recently as some would have you believe. It was planned not so much as a people place but more as an urban renewal project to benefit a few wealthy real estate owners with property in the downtown area. Tax money, both local and federal, has been thrown at the downtown with absolutely no results. Downtown Wichita Falls is now at the Kell-Kemp, Sikes Center, Southwest Parkway area. The individuals, families, and real estate interests with property in the old downtown have been left with empty, non-producing properties.

Now the old scheme, a downtown activities complex, has been resurrected by a committee appointed, I feel, because it was known that they would go through the motions and come up with a recommendation that would be what the special interests desired. In fact, those special interests were represented on, even dominated, the committee. Of course, the Wichita Falls City Council and the Wichita County Commissioners quickly embraced the recommendations because, after all, they were exactly what was to be expected considering the makeup of the committee. Both the WF City Council and the Commissioners quickly tried to rush through enabling financial policies before citizens had time to study the proposal, discuss it, examine whether it is practical and needed, and decide whether or not they favored building this large and extremely expensive complex. The right of our ordinary citizens to decide was almost denied had not a hard working and dedicated small group of people initiated a petition demanding a referendum. Even after collecting enough signatures, we in Wichita Falls were almost denied on a technicality, the opportunity to vote by a hostile city administration.

I am a homeowner in the area to be purchased and cleared for this complex. At no time during the whole process was I or any of the other 80 homeowners contacted by the city, the designated purchasing agent. Only by calling the city property agent did I learn that we would be appraised and forced to sell at that appraised price and no relocation expenses would be forthcoming. Is this fair?

A very expensive media campaign has been launched. Color newspaper ads, television commercials and radio spots by the mysterious committee supporting the center are everywhere. In contrast, we, the opponents of this bailout of the rich, have had only our pocket change and some donated public service radio time.

You, the county taxpayers, are now being asked to pay additional taxes to finance this downtown Wichita Falls porkbarrel project. It is a tax increase because sometime this summer the eight percent tax dedicated to pay for county jail improvements will expire with bonds paid off. Approval of the activities center will mean this tax will be continued for twenty more years!

Federal, state and local taxes are almost certain to go up this year. Do you want this additional expensive and unnecessary albatross hung around your and your children's necks for the next twenty years when so many needs are going unmet?

Vote "Against" on July 25 for your own sake!
George H. Kelsey

Questions MPEC figures

Supporters of the multi-events center have said it will broaden the tax base. How will it do this? Is title to the center to be vested in private hands or is the city and/or county going to place the center on the tax rolls and pay taxes on it? The city and county do not pay property taxes.

Various tax abatements and other such tax reductions granted in the past coupled with the current depressed real estate values have reduced the tax base in Wichita County by $200,000,000 in the past four years. The same tax rate brings in less money than it did four years ago. To maintain the same income for the city and county requires a higher tax rate. Property owners will pay more. The reduction in the tax base affects income of city, county and the Wichita Falls School District.

The county has for two years allowed expenses to exceed income by approximately $1,000,000 and taken care of the deficit by lowering the county reserve funds by that amount and thus avoided a tax increase for two years. If this policy is continued, the reserve fund will be critically low and a substantial tax increase will result. The commissioners have mentioned an increase of 8% may become necessary.

The city plans to take the future income from selling water to the utility to pay obligations for the events center. That amount will have to be recovered from some other source, if the same level of net income is to be maintained. Again, more taxes to be required.

Proponents say the hotel and room tax income will offset these losses in the city. Such conclusions are based on making certain assumptions in a study or by comparison with other cities experiences, providing the cities being compared are similar to Wichita Falls.

In a study, assumptions are made as to the number of events each year; length of each event; the number of people to attend each event; the number of people to remain overnight at each event, etc. I have not heard of such a study.

Therefore I conclude the comparison "with cities having centers method" has been used. The Times-Record News in an editorial on July 17, 1992 cited centers in Houston, Austin and Abilene as supporting the center. Such a comparison is like comparing peanuts with coconuts and means nothing. It's like comparing Wichita Falls with Jolly, Harrold and Charley, Texas.

Events centers in Abilene and Belton were mentioned in the Times-Record News half page story on July 19 but it mentioned only the Abilene Center had 125,000 paying customers. What happened to the Belton Center? It is not discussed. Belton area is much more comparable as to population than the Abilene area.

One item never mentioned by proponents of the center is "population" in the immediate vicinity of such a center. Of all centers cited, other than Belton, the majority of population from twice to perhaps ten times that of Wichita Falls. There are far more potential patrons in a population of 200,000 to 1,000,000 than in an area of 100,000 to 150,000.

Events centers in cities comparable to Wichita Falls seem to indicate that about 30% to 50% of the time they do not break even and require tax money subsidies of fancy bookkeeping procedures to keep them going. Witness the local Farmers Market.

In conclusion, voters supporting the center are encouraging deficit spending by taxing agencies and higher future spending. You are buying a pig in a poke.
Roy D. Thompson Jr.

Chamber directors approve resolution on MPEC funding

Directors of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, by a narrow 7-5 margin, approved a resolution opposing the use of county funds to build the proposed multi-purpose events center in Wichita Falls.

Though there was little discussion on the subject, the resolution, offered by Bob Hamilton, stated, "The Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce opposes the use of county funding to build the multi-purpose events center."

In other action, the board approved continuation of the same fees for booths at this year's Whoop-T-Do, which will be held Sept. 19.

No decision was reached on whether the organization would sponsor a project booth during the event.

The annual Crazy Day Sale and Community-Wide Garage Sale will be held Aug. 15, Gene Jordan, Chamber president, said.

In other business, Jordan said the recently-completed landscaping project at the Chamber building cost $670, and new director Ray Youngblood, manager of the Cryovac plant, was introduced.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

If you're not among the 462 who cast early voting ballots here, on the issue of the county spending $9 million to help pay for that multi-purpose event center in Wichita Falls, I hope you find the time to vote Saturday, election day.

With all the thousands and thousands of dollars spent in drumming up support for the center through advertising, I'm concerned that those who may be opposed to the issue might feel their vote wouldn't count.

If you've read one or more of these columns during the past month or so, you should know that I'm in opposition to the center, as it is proposed.

I'm opposed to its location, I'm concerned about people who don't live in Wichita Falls having to pay a big share of the costs, and I feel it is an urban renewal program for Wichita Falls that, if it is to be built, should be totally funded by that city.

If they want county-wide funding, put it in an area that is more centralized and accessible to those who are paying for it.

Has anyone ever figured out how much total money from county taxes would be used to pay that financing?

Unless that financing arrangement is different from a home mortgage, when the $9 million and interest is paid 20 years later, the final figure will be $18 million or more.

I'm concerned about the security of that area. One of the major complaints about trying to continue holding the county fair at the Wichita Falls activity center, in the downtown area, is the security. Would it be even better at this site?

The location was finalized by a committee of volunteers. I don't doubt that fact. But it's a fact that every one of those volunteers either lives or works full time in Wichita Falls. They sure didn't ask anyone who lives and works in Burkburnett, Iowa Park, Electra, Kamay or Punkin Center to serve on it.

I can't argue that such a facility would attract a lot of people to a lot of events. But I do have doubt that any economic benefits would be felt by those of us outside Wichita Falls.

In an attempt to promote the center's livestock facilities to those of us who don't live in Wichita Falls -- and that's been the main thrust of the newspaper advertising -- most of the appeal has been for livestock shows.

It's true that the county livestock show and cattle show do attract a lot of Wichita County residents. And it also is true that the present facilities are lacking.

But it's also true that the total number of days those two events are held annually might reach eight. Put that on a per-day bases over 20 years and the rural people would be paying a hefty amount for its use.

There's also the fact that those of us in the other business communities outside Wichita Falls are fighting for our economic lives.

For us to contribute through taxes to build something that attracts our people from our towns and to Wichita Falls, where they can do some shopping they need to do in their hometowns, just makes no sense at all.

I suppose I've gained a lot of scars and lost a lot of friends who support the center. But, as long as I'm at this desk, I'm going to speak for those things I believe to be good and worthy, and against those things that I feel are not good and detrimental to my community.

Again, I oppose the county's funding of a multi-purpose event center in Wichita Falls.

Street work is scheduled

After spending this week cleaning street surfaces for slurry application, the city's crews have scheduled streets to be worked during the next week and a half.

Street surfaces must be cleaned in preparation for the asphalt sealing application, Mike Price, public works director, explained.

He said if weather does not interfere, the schedule of streets to receive slurry applications will be:

- Monday, July 27, 900 and 1000 Louisa;
- Tuesday, July 28, 1100 Louisa;
- Wednesday, July 29, 1100 Cornelia;
- Thursday, July 30, 900 and 1000 Cornelia;
- Friday, July 31, 900 and 1000 Lincoln;
- Monday, Aug. 3, 1100 Lincoln;
- Tuesday, Aug. 4, half of Wood Circle;
- Wednesday, Aug. 5, other half of Wood Circle.

Residents of the blocks to be worked are asked to have their vehicles off the streets from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., by either parking at the ends of the blocks or in the alleys, throughout the day.

READ MY LIPS NO NEW TAXES
DON'T LET THEIR MAGIC ACT BLIND YOU TO THE TRUTH!

THE SHELL GAME
HOCUS POCUS - NOW YOU SEE IT...NOW YOU DON'T

That's the shell game the City and County shills want to play with your tax dollars and reserve funds. They pledge "there will be no tax increases to pay for the Events Center."

They're proposing to spend all of our available monies for the Center and then have to RAISE TAXES TO FINANCE NECESSARY SERVICES that these depleted money reserves and tax rebates could have paid.

In addition, the City's $4,000,000 and the County's $9,000,000 in Certificates of Obligation would be secured by and payable from 1) the NET revenues of the Events Center. (There won't be any net revenue after expenses have been paid)... and 2) the LEVY AND COLLECTION OF AD VALOREM TAXES. (See "Proposition," Section 8 of the City's Notice of Election. See "Proposition" in the County's Notice of Election.)

If there will be "no tax increase," then why are they providing for the LEVY AND COLLECTION OF AD VALOREM TAXES in the "Notices for Election???"

THEY'RE USING A LITTLE 'HOCUS' TO 'POCUS.'

THE MAGIC POTION THAT WILL "CURE OUR FINANCIAL ILLS"

The proponents of the Events Center think that building a new, large, TAXPAYER-FINANCED Events Center is the magic potion that will "Cure Our Ills."

The thing that will cure our ills is NEW INDUSTRY - not a new Events Center. Businesses and industry look for locations with ample City services and low tax rates.

Increased taxes or reduced City services necessary to pay for an Events Center will DRIVE AWAY the very businesses and industry we hope to attract!!

Neighbors, a tax-subsidized Events Center would not cure our financial ills, but could become THE CAUSE OF THEM!!

THE DISAPPEARING ACT
WHERE DID OUR NEIGHBORS' HOMES GO?

Would you want your parents or neighbors to be evicted from their homes that they worked all of their lives to pay for, so that you could watch a bull being paraded in an arena a few times a year?

How, in good conscience, can proponents of the Events Center have their priorities so mis-directed?

There are alternative locations for an Events Center that would:

- 1) be more humane by greatly reducing (or eliminating) the need to uproot and relocate so many of our neighbors.
- 2) better serve and be more equitable to the citizens of all four cities.
- 3) allow the people to feel more secure when attending events.
- 4) be less expensive to acquire and make ready for construction than the proposed site.

HOW MANY MORE TRICKS DO THEY HAVE UP THEIR SLEEVES???
We Do have ALTERNATIVES.

Heritage Manor Activities

HI, from Heritage Manor. How is your summer going? We have had a good time since last you heard from us.

We had a big watermelon feast on the Fourth of July and I feel everyone had their fill of watermelon.

On the 14th we had an old fashioned homemade ice cream supper for our quarterly Family Night.

Our residents sampled several recipes of different flavors of ice cream and decided they all were great. I want to thank those who brought ice cream and those who helped serve the ice cream. A fun time was had by all.

WE ARE grateful to a group of ladies from the Cash Street Church of Christ who are doing our mending for us. I realize it is a thankless job, but ever so needed.

OUR BINGO winners these past few weeks have been Jackie Gee, Floyd Bloodworth, Jessie Johnson, Cora Lewis, Bettie Smith, Omie

Clifton, Leola Dodd, Marion Gray and Oleta Pendergrass.

WE WANT to thank the ladies from the Church of Christ for bringing our birthday party for the month of July. A great time was had by all.

WE LOOK forward to having a new group of volunteers come to our nursing home. The Rebekah Lodge will be having our August birthday party. We would like to welcome them to our volunteer program. We look forward to a long association.

WE HAVE lost some dear residents the last few weeks: Aurora Mixon, Fred Cheek and Irene Cole. They will be greatly missed.

MARY PARKS recently celebrated her 89th birthday and allowed our residents to join in the celebration. It was held in the dining room after church services. Everyone stated they had a fine time and were pleased to be included.

FORMULA FOR A SUPER MARRIAGE!

Several years ago Paul Faulkner, renowned Christian counselor, set down eight principles that can insure a winning marriage. The principles are:

1. Think positively! Don't try to improve your marriage by giving up bad habits, but emphasize the addition of "good" things!
2. Be careful about the past! Build on it, don't dwell on it!
3. Check your goals! Winners have a definite sense of purpose and "clearly stated goals." Make them realistic and have them touch all concerns, "physical, mental, and spiritual."
4. Take care of the little things! Little inexpensive acts of kindness build the foundation of trust to see you through the big battles of life. Be an encourager!
5. Act up! Act your way into a better way of feeling. Do the right thing even when you don't feel like it. Do right and feel right!
6. Who's on first? Your mate, that's who! Be the initiator and risk doing sweet things even before your mate does it for you!
7. Don't just talk, communicate! Make sure the other person understands by specific, clear, and adequate information. After this, invite questions for clarification! After all, no one is a mind reader.
8. Add growth, not just anniversaries! Read good books, go to seminars and classes on a better marriage. Don't stop dating each other! Get a baby sitter and get out of town, just the two of you! What is more important - your money or your marriage!

Investing your whole heart in your marriage with a giving spirit is a wise investment!

State Capital
HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — After hanging Gov. Ann Richards' bright star over the nation, Texas delegates to the Democratic National Convention returned from New York to woo independent voters and Perot supporters.

Texas Republicans, also courting the moderate bloc, are excited about hosting their national delegates next month at the Astrodome in Houston.

Is it back to political business as usual, now that Ross Perot is gone? Not exactly. The hundreds of Texans who were Perot volunteers are, this week, a greatly disappointed group of some of the finest citizens in the state.

Leaderless, they still represent the backbone of the disenchanted, beleaguered but still standing and fighting middle ground.

You probably won't see them rushing to catch the political late train; their influence is destined to be house to house, neighbor to neighbor.

They're still what is best for Texas.

Revised Southern Strategy
Perot's candidacy, perhaps weakened by his misstep in hiring Ed Rollins and Hamilton Jordan, may have been given the coup de grace by the Democrats' revised Southern strategy.

With Arkansas and Tennessee heading the ticket, they stand a great chance of winning back the once-solid South.

Those 170 electoral votes for Clinton and Gore would have ensured the presidential election would be decided by the Democrat-dominated Congress. Perot has no party support there.

With Perot out of the race, the Democrats' political eggs are all in one Southern basket; they had convinced other Democrats across the nation to go along for a three-way race.

Now it's a Southern gamble.

Certainty, Uncertainty
Like the stock market, political campaigns ride on certainty and falter on uncertainty.
The Southern strategy risks an

Political Column

The following is a list of candidates who are seeking offices in the November General Election, and who have paid for the political advertisement.

State Senator,
30th District
Steven A. Carriker

unknown, according to an aide for Garry Mauro, Clinton's Texas campaign manager.

"What we don't know is how independent Northern voters will react to an all-South ticket. When our black and Hispanic voters see all those blondes up there on the platform, will they lose hope and enthusiasm?"

Speaking of stock markets, U.S. trading gained following Perot's departure; in Mexico, his withdrawal drove the market up three percentage points on buyers' renewed hope for passage of a free trade pact with the U.S.

No Pass, No Play

Ironically, the no pass, no play school rule which Perot drove through the Legislature in the mid-1980s surfaced again as an issue needing fine-tuning.

The rule mandates that students receiving a "F" are banned from extracurricular activities for a minimum of six weeks.

Carolyn Crawford of Beaumont, chair of the State Board of Education, wants to permit failing students to attend practices and rehearsals, while they work to bring their grades up.

Another proposal is to shorten the competition ban to three weeks for the first offense, but keep the rule's full force for subsequent offenses.

Summer School Solution

Elementary students in danger of being kept back a grade instead could be required to attend summer school to catch up under a proposal made last week by Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno.

"Many youngsters, particularly in the early elementary grades, need more than 180 days in order to be successful," Meno said.

Meno will present his proposal in September to the State Board of Education, which will decide whether to recommend it to the Legislature.

Prison Suit Pact

Hammered by Texas Attorney General Dan Morales, a Democrat, and U.S. Attorney General William Barr, a Republican, plaintiff lawyers for Texas prison inmates signed a settlement which should end the courtroom prison reform battle.

The presiding judge still needs to approve the pact which will eliminate all prison population caps in new prisons and allow the use of tents in prisoner book camps.

Morales comes off a winner. He rejected an earlier pact, drawing flak from the prison board, but he got his terms.

Other Highlights

■ Official votes of the Texas delegation at the national Democratic convention: Bill Clinton, 204; Paul Tsongas, 20; Jerry Brown, 4.

■ Genie D. Short, U.S. Federal Reserve Bank vice president, said the Texas real estate market is strongest in Houston, weakest in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

■ In Austin, irate citizens protested the American-Statesman newspaper's printing of a (paid) wedding notice and picture of a lesbian couple. The issue pitted the publisher and gay and lesbian leaders against ministers and traditional family value groups.

■ The National Council on Problem Gambling has recognized two legislators for sponsoring lottery legislation that set aside $2 million annually for treatment of compulsive gambling. The awards went to state Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, and state Rep. Ron Wilson, D-Houston.

Juveniles get in home, trouble

Five juveniles got themselves into trouble with the law Sunday evening, when they entered a home in the 300 block of Kathleen and attempted to take some items.

Residents of the home are on vacation, and are not expected to return for a few more days to determine if all the possessions taken had been returned.

Police were called at 10:18 p.m. by a neighbor who said he had seen the youths carrying items out of the house, had stopped them and made them return the items to the house.

Upon investigation, officers identified the youths, including two females 13 and 14 years old, and three males ranging in age from nine to 13.

Police held consultations with the parents of the juveniles. The girls will be referred to the county juvenile probation department and the boys possibly will be referred to another county department.

Det. Ray Smock said the house was resecured after his investigation. He added there were no signs of a forced entry.

Police arrested Paul James Heckman, 28, in the 500 block of North Yosemite Saturday evening on a charge of public intoxication. He was later released after signing a personal recognition bond.

Each year Tarleton graduates a large percentage of the state's agriculture teachers. Department chairman Dr. Don Knotts, left, and Associate Professor Dr. David Drueckhammer met with the supervisors to evaluate last year's teacher certification program and make plans for next year.

Cryovac personnel changes announced

Several personnel changes have been made at the Iowa Park Cryovac plant, according to Manager Ray Youngblood.

Kenny Jones, who for the past several years has been manager of bags quality control, has retired. Jones was among the initial staff that moved here when the plant opened in 1975, and had been in sales prior to that time.

The quality control function at the plant has been restructured and two promotions have occurred.

John Furrh has been promoted to the position of quality assurance superintendent - bags, from his previous position as statistical process control coordinator.

Furrh has been employed with Cryovac since May, 1985.

Linda Wood has been promoted to the position of quality assurance supervisor - films. She has been with Cryovac since December, 1977. The Iowa Park resident held the position of statistical process control technician in the films department.

Other recent hires at the plant include Stacey Powell as occupational health nurse and Allen Taylor as buyer.

Powell has a bachelor of science in nursing degree from the University of Tulsa and prior work experience as an emergency room nurse.

Before his employment, Taylor was with 3M and Johnson & Johnson in sales and purchasing.

SPORTS

Former Chico superintendent of schools Raymond Trotter may be better known to coaches and fans as a starter of track meets. He's been the alternating starter at the state UIL meet several years. Trotter was recently fired from his job as superintendent at Slocum, in East Texas, where the board of trustees there allege he did not use a $1,327 check to purchase bus tires as intended. A federal grand jury has now indicted him. But he is defended by Brady school superintendent Douglas Moore, who has hired him as a classroom teacher.

SS SS SS SS SS

Breckenridge varsity football team, and their opponents, will travel approximately 2,050 miles to their regular 1992 season games, according to the Breckenridge American. The Bucks' closest opponent is Graham, 35 miles, and most distant is Sonora, 250 miles. Other non-conference games and mileage are Abilene Wylie, 60, Stephenville, 70, Sweetwater, 95, and Burkburnett, 100.

Sarpalius' rep to visit Monday

A representative of U.S. Rep. Bill Sarpalius is to be at the Iowa Park city hall from 1 to 2 p.m. Monday.

The representative is to be available to assist with questions, comments and federal problems residents may have.

"I have always believed that to be an effective public servant you have to go to the people and hear their concerns and ideas," Sarpalius said. "I was elected not just to represent my district, but to serve. That's why I have this mobile office."

Emergency loans available

Emergency loans for farmers and ranchers are available through county offices of Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), according to Thomas Spencer.

Spencer asked that those who need farm credit as a result of freeze between Oct. 1 and Nov. 30 of 1991 in Wichita and Wilbarger counties make their needs known at the FmHA office in Vernon.

Applications for assistance in the disaster stricken counties will be accepted by Farmers Home until Feb. 22, 1993 for physical and production losses.

FmHA loans covering actual physical and production losses may be used to replace installations, equipment or buildings (including homes) lost through the disaster.

Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts.

"Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," Spencer said.

Applicants that certify that other credit is not available may receive loans covering actual losses at an interest rate of 4.5 percent and are scheduled for repayment as feasible consistent with the applicant's ability to pay.

IOWA PARK GIRLS' SENIOR LEAGUE ALL-STAR SOFTBALL TEAM

All-Star teams hit roads

Iowa Park all-star teams are hitting the roads this weekend for tournaments.

The Senior League All-Star boys are playing in Midland, Major League All-Star boys in Abilene, and Senior League All-Star girls' softball team to Weatherford.

The Senior League boys will be playing their first game, against an as-yet unknown opponent, at 12-noon Saturday on Simons Field.

Coach Howard Klinkerman said the opponent would be from the Farmers Branch region. The tournament is a double-elimination format. Eight teams are entered.

To earn their ticket to Midland, Iowa Park knocked off Electra 9-1, Burk Burnett 14-1, and then two wins over the Olney-Seymour club, 10-3 and 4-3.

That final game was a hard-fought eight-inning contest.

After winning the area tournament with lopsided scores (18-1 over Electra, 18-6 over Sheppard and 8-2 over Burk Burnett), the Major League All-Stars went undefeated in last week's district tournament.

They first outscored Knox City 19-11, behind the pitching of Ken Cox and Jonathan Clubb.

The next day, Tuesday, they knocked off Graham 13-3, in a game that featured 14 strike outs by Brandon Brown.

In Friday's final, Justin Terry had 10 strike outs in a dramatic 5-4 win over Graham, which had fought its way back in the losers' bracket.

Iowa Park was trailing 4-1 going into the bottom of the final inning, and Graham walked in four runs.

Home runs were credited to Brandon McLemore and Brandon Brown in the tournament.

The team is to take on the All-Stars from Garland, at 8 p.m. Friday, at Abilene's Cal Young Park.

A victory would send Iowa Park back on the field at 8 p.m. Saturday, but a loss would schedule the club two hours earlier.

Only four teams are in the tourney, with Abilene and Arlington filling out the card.

The championship game is to be played Monday, and another possibly could be required Tuesday.

Winner of the tournament earns a spot in the state tournament at Waco.

Because the other teams withdrew from their tournament, Iowa Park's Senior All-Star girls earned a bye into the five-team sectional tournament at Weatherford.

Without the area tournament, the local club has not yet played a game since its members were named.

Iowa Park takes on Weatherford at 8 p.m. Friday. The other teams are Waco, Dumas and Garland.

A win would send Iowa Park back on the field at 8 p.m. Saturday, but if the club should lose tomorrow, it would next play at 4 p.m. Sunday.

The Weatherford tournament also is a double-elimination format.

Clensay ready for season

When Iowa Park school trustees elevated Robert Clensay to the position of head coach and athletic director last week, they were asking him to fill some big shoes on short notice.

Clensay has served only one year in that capacity during his career, 1990-91 at Deweyville, a smaller school than Iowa Park.

The resignation of Lucky Gamble came only weeks before the start of preparations for the 1992 football season, and no time to launch a search for someone with more experience to fill the vacancy.

Clensay's elevation was not a surprise to those who have followed his career and know the importance of continuity in the program, however.

The new AD has served under Gamble several years before taking the Deweyville job and joining him here last year. And he had worked with most of the current staff before the 1991 season, also, so he is no stranger either to them or the program established during the past year.

"I think I'm speaking for the staff. We're all excited and think this can be a good year," Clensay said this week. "Lucky had built a good program, and it is just a matter of keeping a good thing going."

Though his hiring was approved by Iowa Park trustees in April of 1991, he was unable to gain a release from his contract at Deweyville until the end of that school year. Thus, he missed spring training with his new athletes.

After a shaky nonconference stretch of the '91 football season, during which the Hawks won only one of five starts, the staff became better acquainted with their players, made some changes in position assignments, and Iowa Park went on to win three of their five Dist. 4-AAA contests.

Clensay is looking forward to the year, during which time he will coach three sports. He was the head track coach last spring.

The high school football staff will remain the same as last season, less Gamble, Clensay said.

He, Rick Barker and James Skeeler will be coaching the varsity, Steve Stewart and David Furhman the junior varsity and Jimmie Cain the freshmen, Clensay said.

The staff is to attend the state coaching school at Dallas only one day, on Friday, July 31. They will be going over plays and assignments, as well as preparing for Aug. 6, when they will begin issuing equipment to the players who will start two-a-day practices the following week.

numbering 17, and use the manure, as well as sheep manure, to fertilize their garden.

Emilee and Sarah help take care of all of the animals. "This is a good way for the girls to learn about life and death the natural way," Rachel commented.

The Goodells have a large garden where they grow organic vegetables. They grow as much of their food as possible and their garden has produced beyond their use of eating fresh vegetables and freezing or canning. So, neighbors have had the privilege of helping them enjoy their garden this year.

They soon will begin planting a fall garden. "That's the neat thing about this part of the country," Jeff commented, "weather conditions here allow you to have two gardens a year. In Iowa we can have only one."

Rachel works in the garden and tries to keep the bugs at bay. They do not want to use any pesticides or chemicals on anything they grow. The Goodells have planted a few fruit trees, so the family can have fruit they know has not been chemically treated.

Her family moved around so much while she was growing up, that her mother didn't can food, so Rachel has had to learn how to can.

In addition to canning, Rachel makes her own bread, noodles and tortillas. She always lets the children help her, and they make their own loaves of bread.

Rachel's father has been in the military 26 years and is a Chief Master Sergeant with the Air Force.

She has lived in California, Hahn, Germany, Washington state, and Utah. While they lived in Germany she was an exchange student to France twice. She hopes when her girls are old enough they can have the experience of being exchange students.

The couple enjoyed their years in the Azores. "I thought we were going to have a nice long honeymoon there, but mostly I just had babies," Rachel jokingly commented.

But they both did enjoy being there. "We lived in a very small house," Jeff said. "You could put it in two rooms of this house," he added.

"We had a kitchen, bath, and bedroom-living room," Rachel explained. She added that they used kerosene heat, but needed very little heat even in the winter.

"It was very humid in the summer, but we have many good memories of our time there," Rachel said.

Jeff supplied some of their good memories. He said, "The people were very friendly. In the morning you could hear the natives driving a herd of cattle over the cobblestone streets, moving them from one area to another."

"You had to maneuver down the streets among the cows and it was too bad if one was hit, they had the right-of-way."

"A lot of times we would be awakened in the morning by vendors driving a horse and wagon or donkey and cart, hawking their wares. They had fish carts, milk wagons, bread wagons, in fact carts for almost every edible item."

"Their culture had advanced maybe enough to compare it with the 1950s in the states. The countryside was beautiful and land was fenced with stone or rock walls, very similar to the countryside of Scotland and Ireland."

The Goodells have their walls and rooms decorated with things they acquired in the Azores. However, most of their home decorations are what they have made themselves, either Rachel's handcrafts, or Jeff's woodwork.

Currently, Rachel is planning to teach her two girls at home rather than sending them to public school. "I have nothing against the schools. I think they have good schools here and good teachers, in fact, that is another reason we wanted to live in Iowa Park."

"But, I have been reading a lot about parents who are teaching their children at home, and I believe that is the thing I should do," Rachel continued.

"I have talked to my sister-in-law who has a Masters in Education and she agrees with me that it might be better the first few years. I am still going to do some studying and praying about it before the time comes," she added.

The Goodells have a home computer and Emilee is beginning to learn use it.

They are a musical family. Rachel began playing piano when she was three years old. She loves classical music. She doesn't have a piano now, but hopes before long to have one so she can begin teaching Emilee and Sarah.

In addition to piano, Rachel plays the violin, banjo and guitar and Jeff plays bass guitar. They all sing.

Jeff plays occasionally for special numbers and some times he sings in the choir at Faith Baptist Church.

However, they really enjoy singing as a family.

"In our simple lifestyle, we find things we can do together as a family. If it isn't something a family can do, we don't do it either," Rachel explained.

Goodell is attending Wayland Baptist College two nights a week at the SAFB campus. He is working toward his bachelors degree in Vocational Education, Corporate Training and Development, which he is due to receive in December. "I hope to be able to teach at junior college level sometime. This will give me an alternative if for any reason our plans don't work out," he said.

In addition to being an X-Ray technician, Goodell currently is teaching a course at Sheppard AFB for doctors, nurses and medics on how to construct a field hospital. They come as a group from other places to Sheppard for this course.

He really enjoys his work and says it gives him another opportunity for learning experience, as well as what they are learning from him.

Rachel and Jeff have a small home business, Down To Earth Home Crafts. Rachel has been making teddy bears several years and has sent them to Austria, Holland, Geneva, Alaska, Hawaii, and many other states.

When they were going to craft shows in Dallas, Houston and Amarillo, she was making 30 to 40 teddy bears a week. But, they are not making the shows now, since most of them are on weekends and she will not work on the Sabbath.

Rachel makes the bears from both old and new fabric. She has found some old fabrics at antique shows, such as drapes that are still in excellent condition. She has bought some of these and makes them into durable teddy bears. The bears she makes are non-allergenic and can be thrown in the washer. "They come out like new," she says.

She does not make a face on the bears, because she doesn't want to something on them that a child could swallow or hurt themselves some way.

"This way, the children can imagine the bear's face the way they want it to look," Rachel said. She has had people bring their children's baby blankets to her to make teddy bears from them for keepsakes.

Jeff does some wood working, though not as much as he did before he cut off the end a finger. He is now learning to cane chairs. His stepfather has been caning many years and is teaching Jeff how.

And if they should be "bucking too many odds" in what they are hoping to accomplish and if all of their plans don't work out, they probably will continue to have the philosophic attitude, "Oh well, we're still learning."
