Residents brace for homecoming weekend

Football game is highlight

If the Hawks are to post their second consecutive win of the season tomorrow night, the Mean Green defense will have to control Wellington's quarterback, Clifton Burns.

The 8 p.m. kickoff in Hawk Stadium will immediately follow coronation of Iowa Park High's homecoming queen for 1994.

Hawk fans who traveled north into the Panhandle last season will remember the Skyrocket field general who was as near a team's total offense as he could be.

As a junior who weighed 145 pounds, the shifty and speedy Burns ran for two touchdowns, one of them a 41-yarder, and threw for Wellington's other TD. And in addition, he knifed through Hawk blockers numerous times to sack green-clad runners behind the line of scrimmage.

Though still listed as the Skyrockets' quarterback, Burns recently has been shifted to the runningback position. Normally filled by another senior, Jason Fike, Burns subs when the starter is sidelined with an ankle injury.

The Class AA Skyrockets are having their toughest season this year they've experienced in the past three, win-wise.

Going into tomorrow's contest, Wellington has won only one of its four games thus far. Prior to their loss to Iowa Park last year, the Skyrockets had not lost a regular season game in two and a half years.

But Coach Keith Wood's club is smaller this year than usual, both in numbers and size. Of the 22 players on his roster, seven are seniors and 10 juniors. Only three weigh 200 or more, and the largest, 230, is a sophomore who sees very little action, according to scouting reports.

Wellington opened the season with three consecutive Oklahoma opponents. They lost 27-20 to Hobert, defeated Mangum 44-6, and then lost 8-6 to Hollis. Last week they fell victim, playing in Wichita Falls' Memorial Stadium, 33-18 to Bishop Dunne of Dallas.

Besides making their loyal supporters and former students who have returned for homecoming activities happy, the Hawks have another reason to want another win under their belt.

It would be the first time a Hawk club has won back-to-back victories since 1991, when they beat Bridgeport, Bowie and Breckenridge all in a row.

Friday's contest also is important to Head Hawk Robert Clensay and his coaching staff. It's the final non-conference game of the season, and coaches all acknowledge those games are preparation for their district competition.

Thanks to last week's 38-7 win over Memphis, the Hawks have pulled almost even in their scoring with those of their opponents', 58-71, and now have the same record as Wellington, 1-3.

Despite those three losses, the Hawks have now almost matched their 1993 HOMECOMING QUEEN CANDIDATES are, from left, Nikki Williams, Melinda Mott, Crystal Goad and Kacey Gray. Coronation will be at 7:40 p.m. Friday.

Whoop-T-Do has something for everyone

The 22nd annual Whoop-T-Do promises to be bigger and better than the previous 21, according to Larry Dutton, president of the Chamber of Commerce which sponsors the event.

Thirty three non-profit organizations will have booths of various types and activities, more than a dozen arts and crafts booths are participating, and entertaining will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m.

Most of the booths, as well as the entertainment stage, will be in the 100 block of East Cash, while the arts and crafts booths will be on the sidewalk facing Wall and Cash.

The entertainment will start off at 9 a.m. with the traditional Turtle Trot. Entries are limited to one per youth who are no older than fourth grade. The winner will receive a $25 check from Dutton Funeral Home. Each turtle entry must be plainly marked for identification purposes.

Between 9:15 and 10, the junior high and high school bands will perform, followed by the Iowa Park High Show choir.

At 10:30, the Whoop-T-Do King and Queen will be recognized. At 1:40 will be the Top 'O Texas Cheerleaders; 11:00, Quicksteppers; 11:30, Razzle Dazzle; 12:00, Dee Dee's Dynamics; 12:30, Rockin' Hawkettes; 1:00, Showstoppers by Michelle; 1:30, Gymnastics & More, and 2:30, 4-H Dog Show.

City plans new water tower

The city council took the first step toward a major improvement in water pressure for residents north of U.S. 287, during Monday night's regular meeting.

Developing financing for the construction of a new water tower was begun, with hopes the new facility will be completed by next summer.

Residents, especially in the Shiloh addition, have been experiencing continuing reduction in water pressure. And with additional construction in the neighboring area, improved water pressure is considered imperative by the council.

Estimated cost of a 300,000-gallon tower, a pump station and transmission line was set at $800,000, aldermen were told.

The financing of that project, as well as enlarging of the sewer line from the wastewater treatment plant north to Smith Road at a projected cost of $145,000, was discussed with Kenneth Smith, senior vice president of Southwest Securities.

Smith, who has worked on bond financing previously with both the city and local school, told the council the "market" currently is more favorable for low interest rates than it has been in several decades.

Financing of the general obligation bonds is not expected to effect water and sewer rates, which would pay for the improvements.

Kerry Maroney, who does the engineering work for the city, has explained that the existing water tower on Johnson Road does not have adequate elevation to provide desirable water pressure for the Shiloh area, which is almost level with the tower.

Financing by local banks had been explored, but those institutions could only offer such loans at a "floating" interest rate, according to Gene Jordan, president of State National Bank, who attended Monday's meeting.

Several other water and sewer improvement projects are also being considered by the council, but as yet no decisions on those have been reached.

A resolution authorizing Mayor Wayne House to execute a deed of trust for the sale of the 53-acre landfill site to Bell Processing was approved, with the provision that the city is released from any future liability by the state, in writing.

Bell is to assume possession of the property Friday, which is the same day the firm takes over trash collection duties in the city.

Residents will notice no change in garbage collection from the city's operation, until some time in the future, when all homes will be provided with roll-out containers and the current large containers are discontinued, Price said.

Also unchanged will be the rate residents and businesses are charged for garbage collection, which will be $8.75 and $12, respectively.

Also approved Monday was an ordinance establishing the city's landfill fees, stickers and permits.

Annual dumping stickers will be sold for $5 to residents and $150 to commercial users. For all others, the fees for disposing of refuse will be $25 per load for a pickup or trailer, $50 for a compination of pickup and trailer per load, $60 for a single-axle bobtail truck load and $100 for all other larger equipment per load.

A "convenience center" will be established by the city at the landfill, which will be a large metal container into which trash, other than large appliances and similar items, will be dumped, Price explained.

However, until the convenience center is put in place, Price said trash will continue to be dumped in the existing landfill pit.

In other business, the council accepted a bid to enlarge a sewer line in the south part of the city, wrote off bad utility debts, amended the city code for installation of two traffic signs, and approved two long-term leases of property.

Poteet, Inc. submitted the lowest of five bids for installation of an enlarged sewer line in the south part of town. The firm's bid was $102,087.50, most of which will be paid by a grant.

A 4-1 vote by the council approved a record-keeping practice of writing off $1,943.50 in bad utility debts that accumulated during the past year. Alderman Bob Hamilton voted against the proposal.

The amending ordinance allowed the legal installation, and enforcement, of stop signs on West Park, at Colorado and Pacific intersections.

One of the long-term leases was for land on the north side of the Recreational Activities Center, where the Friendly Door proposes to construct a new senior citizens center. The lease now enables the organization to seek grants for construction of the facility.

The other lease concerned the south side of Smith Road, in the 300 and 400 blocks, where structures were constructed that encroached into the road's right of way.

Jeff Nolen explained he wanted to purchase that property, but a clear deed could not be obtained because of the buildings' locations.

All council members voted approval of the lease except Johnny Crawford, who abstained because he is related to Nolen.

Activities begin today and conclude Saturday

Iowa Park High School homecoming activities will begin tonight, continue through Friday, and come to a climax Saturday evening.

The traditional bonfire will be held at 9 this evening. Friday, there will be a free feed for the public at noon, a parade at 4 p.m., queen coronation and football game that evening which will be followed by an all-student dance.

The dance, for high school students only, will be the annual Ex-Student Association banquet Saturday.

This year's bonfire will be held in the field south of Hawk Stadium. It will not begin until after the Junior Varsity football game is completed.

Approximately 38 floats and other types of entries will be participating in the homecoming parade, which is sponsored by the IPHS Student Council.

The floats and participating units will form at their designated places on Bond, Park and Bank. The route will begin on Cash, travel west to Yosemite, north to Park, turn east on Park, make a "U" back to Yosemite, north to Bank, and back east to disband near the junior high.

Though not an official homecoming event, State National Bank is participating in the big weekend's activities by offering a free hamburger feed from 11 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.

Prepared and served by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners, the central point of the feed will be on the bank's parking lot at Wall and Bank, according to Gene Jordan, president.

This year's homecoming queen will have been elected by the IPHS student body, and coronation will be 20 minutes before the football game between the Hawks and the Wellington Skyrockets, at 7:40 p.m.

Nominees for queen are Kacey Gray, Melinda Mott, Nikki Williams and Crystal Goad.

A dance, for high school students only, will be held from 10:30 p.m. to 1 a.m., co-sponsored by the Student Council and Booster Club.

Members of the Iowa Park Ex-Students Association will have about as many activities as the current students, according to their schedule for the weekend.

According to Judy Calloway Reid, this year's president, a theme of "Good Ol' Days" has been adopted. The Association will have a float in the parade, register ex-students and recognize the "Coming Home" queen that night at the football game, have a reception from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday at the Friendly Door, and wind up the weekend with a banquet at the high school cafeteria.

Registration for the 7 p.m. banquet will begin at 5:30. During the evening, special recognition will be given to all graduated classes whose years ended in "3," and one of the largest turnouts is expected to be the class of 1943, which will be observing its 50th anniversary.

The banquet dinner will be prepared by the MuleSkinners.

Cryovac president supports NAFTA

The North American Free Trade Act got a major boost in Iowa Park Tuesday.

Bill Sturgis, president of Cryovac, spoke during an informal luncheon at the Recreational Activities Center before a small group of local leaders and Cryovac administrators from various parts of North America.

He said Mexico has become a major purchaser of products manufactured from this and one other plant in the organization, and passage of the NAFTA agreement was of vital importance to his firm, as well as retaining jobs here.

Sturgis explained that if NAFTA is not approved, and he admitted it was on "shaky ground" at this time, he feared Mexico would resume a high tariff plan which would in effect close its borders to trade.

Should that happen, the Cryovac CEO said the company would have no other choice than to build a plant in Mexico.

Approximately 30 employees are required to manufacture all the products that are purchased from the Iowa Park plant. That sale lost, those jobs likely would be closed here and hired in Mexico, if the high tariff plan were resumed.

The other plant that would be affected is at Simpsonville, S.C.

Otherwise, Sturgis said "business is good. I don't see any cutting back," referring to how so many other major corporations across the nation are downsizing their employment numbers.

One of the other company officials attending the meeting was Sam Laird, former manager of the Iowa Park facility who now lives in South Carolina.

Man faces two charges

A 29-year-old man who was reported as a suspect in a theft case reported to police Sunday was arrested Monday driving a pickup reportedly stolen in Oklahoma.

Police arrested Harry Skinner Jr. Monday afternoon while driving a pickup that was listed as having been stolen in Grandfield.

Sunday, a resident in the 100 block of East Jefferson reported $900 in $50 bills was missing from its storage place, and Skinner was included in the report as a likely suspect.

He was transported Monday evening to the county jail in Wichita

Garden Club has guest day

Members of the Iowa Park Garden Club observed "Guest Day," when they met Friday morning in the home of Frances George.

Special guests at the meeting were Barbara Ashton, Joyce Givens, Blake Hamilton, Freddie Skinner, Evelyn Thompson and Jerri Thurlo.

Nell Copening read the thought for the day entitled "A Sure Way to Have a Happy Day."

Louise Clapp, flower show chairman, made final preparations with members for the club's annual flower show to be held Saturday at the First Christian Church. The theme will be "Expressions of Nature," and the show will be open to the public, free of charge, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

During the business session conducted by president, Norma Fortner, it was announced that a monetary contribution had been made to Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. for the purpose of landscaping around the headquarters building, which is in the Botanic Gardens in Fort Worth.

It was also announced that a monetary contribution had been made to Highland Cemetery in memory of Gladys James, a former member.

Nell Copening, Homecoming Parade chairman, said that the club would participate in the homecoming parade by decorating a car. The theme this year is cartoon characters.

A slide presentation was presented by Pam James, vice president. Entitled "Pick, Dry, and Preserve," the slides are sponsored by the National Council of Garden Clubs. They showed several methods for drying and preserving flowers, grasses and leaves.

The horticulture display and centerpiece for the serving table was a fresh arrangement of ivy, snapdragons, pinks and kale.

Louise Clapp and Marie Wooten were hostesses for the meeting.

REMINDER

The library will be CLOSED Saturday. Come visit our fish booth at Whoop-T-Do. We will be located in the area of city hall, until we run out of fish.

Announce engagement

The engagement of Tawlee Trichell to Nathan Perry and their forthcoming marriage has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Dannie and Marie Trichell of Iowa Park.

Parents of the groom-to-be are Kent and Linda Richardson of Wichita Falls.

The betrothed couple will exchange marriage vows Nov. 13 in the Holliday Church of Christ.

A 1991 graduate of Iowa Park High School, Miss Trichell is attending Vernon Regional Junior College.

Perry attended Iowa Park schools and is employed at Norco in Wichita Falls.

Anderson promoted to director

April Anderson has been selected as Studio Director and Dance Coordinator of the Wichita Falls Parks and Recreation Program.

There are approximately 150 students in the program. April also instructs their classes in tumbling, ballet, jazz, and tap dancing.

Mrs. Anderson is a life-long resident of Iowa Park and the daughter of Gay and DeWayne Williams.

She has 20 years training, performing and instructing. She choreographed most of the dances for the WFP&R recital in June.

April trained locally with the Lucille Doran School of Dance and Pals Ballet Studio. She also has received training from nationally acclaimed instructors at seminars. She taught 1990-91 at Studio KG in Iowa Park.

Mrs. Anderson recently opened a new business in Iowa Park, STEPS. Instruction will be provided in all dances and tumbling.

While attending Iowa Park High School, April performed with the Mean Green Band in the Flag Corp.

Lioness Club begins new year

Evening Lioness Club members held the first meeting of the new year Thursday at the Lions Building. Hostesses were Gerry Thurlo and Glenna Via.

Ann Jagger gave the devotion on "New Beginning" to open the meeting. She stressed the importance of setting worthy goals at the start of a new year to insure a successful year.

She mentioned growing in membership and taking advantage of services as two important goals, then asked for participation from members.

The business meeting, directed by Mrs. Via, was devoted to making plans for the club's Whoop-T-Do booth where hot dogs, doughnuts and coffee will be sold.

Members who had perfect attendance records for the previous year were recognized. They were Geneva McWhorter, Bea Tate, Faye Woodfin, Wanda Hunter and Olive Blalock.

The next meeting will be Oct. 28 when Jeannette Box will give the program on "Women's Y".

ESA holds Rush Social

Members of Epsilon Eta chapter of ESA held their first Rush Social of the new year in the home of Barbara Hickman. Pat Lincoln, Rush captain, was co-hostess.

Dinner was served to members, including two inactive members, Romona Vaughn and Joyce Henry, as guests, and three prospective pledges, Amy Brewer, Susan Sures and Marie Huckaby.

Members and guests enjoyed ordering their own choice of food from a menu of the four-course meal.

Other members present were Mary Lynn Boyd, president, Skeeter Clark, Dee Dee Forney and Essie Johnson.

The next meeting will be Tuesday for the Model Meeting and program, "Scope of ESA" in the home of Pat Bradley.

RAC NEWS by Jo Lynn Cockrum. Logo for Iowa Park Recreational Activity Club, Inc. with a map of Texas.

Bridge Club

With three tables in play, John Clapp had the high score of 3330 this week. Second high score was reported by Louise Clapp at 3260. Persons interested in joining the bridge club are encouraged to call the RAC office at 592-4471 or stop by on Monday afternoons to visit the bridge players.

Parade Information

The RAC float for the parade will be located at the end of Bond street near Washington. Members of the RAC who would like to help in completing decorations or want to ride on the float are welcome to do so. Students who are riding the float will be required to have a signed consent form. If your class (gymnastics, dance, clogging, RAC-PAC) is to be represented on the float and you have not received a consent form and map, please call the RAC office (592-4471). All participants are to be on the float by 3:45 p.m. Friday.

Pre-School Activities

Attention parents and day care providers... we offer a number of activities for your pre-schoolers at little or no cost. Thus far this fall, we have had little response to our scheduled programs and would like very much to increase attendance. If you have youngsters at home in the mornings, please check with the RAC for fun things to do. If our schedule doesn't match yours, maybe we can adjust. Call Jo Lynn at 592-4471 for further discussion.

Junior High Dance

This Saturday evening we will host the first of our Jr. High School Report Card Dances. The dance will be open to junior high students only. Students who make the honor roll will be admitted free and admission for all others will be $1.00. The dance will be held at the RAC from 7 to 10 p.m. Any parents who would like to assist in collecting tickets or chaperoning the dances are encouraged to call the RAC at 592-4471 before Friday evening. Hope to see you there... we can only offer these dances if the attendance is good!

23 Study Club sponsoring program

At the last meeting of 23 Study Club for the 1992-93 club year held in April, members voted to sponsor "Kids and Kindness," a simple and meaningful program, for a new project.

The new project involves adopting a teacher or teachers where the children in the classroom will receive monthly issues of "Kind News" from September through May.

Club members adopted the second graders in Kidwell Elementary School, who have already received the first issue of Kind News.

Teachers are Nancy Bauer, Debra Brandt, Betty Cash, Gayle Cleghorn, Dianne Hefti, Mickie Moody, Nancy Padgett and Mary Wright.

Students in one of the classrooms have already written "thank you" letters to the sponsoring club.

Kind News is a newspaper students want to read and is also an investment in four areas.

"Literacy", with its focus on animals, the environment, caring celebrities, puzzles and projects;

"A More Responsible Youth", providing students with role models, who are compassionate, empathetic, and caring, and each issue carries at least one anti-drug message;

"On Environment", each issue brings the student up to date information about environmental problems--something no text book can provide;

"Ending Abuse," recent studies have shown that animal abuse in a family is a sign that child abuse may be recurring also and that violent criminals often share a history of animal abuse.

Kind News was recently announced as a first place winner in the 1991 Associations Trends Publication Contest.

The Adopt-A-Teacher program through which Kind News is distributed won the 1990 merit for Collaborative Alliances award from the PIE Journal and it also was the recipient of the Distinguished Achievement Award.

In 1992 the publication was honored by the U. S. Environmental Protective Agency.

Joyce Rentschler is president of the club and members of the youth committee are Bonnie Medlinger, Frances Park, Colleen Roberts and Helen Roberts.

The club will inaugurate activities for the new year Oct. 21 at a luncheon to be held at the Cottage Tea and Antique Shop in Archer City.

As I See It

By Bob Hamilton

The presidents' call for congress to pass a national health care plan has me worried.

And, no, that wasn't poor punctuation I wrote in the first paragraph. We have, it seems, two presidents sleeping in the same bed, thanks to fewer than half the voters who cast ballots in November's general election.

We have Bill and Hillary. Our government dictating health care for all Americans smacks of one thing: Socialism. Give your money to the government, and the government will take care of you.

The theory sounds great. You are issued a health card, and everything's taken care of then, all the way from womb to tomb.

And, as usual, the businesses are the ones who are to pick up most of the tab. Employers are to pay 80 percent of the insurance premium for employees, who are to pay the other 20 percent.

But the zinger isn't mentioned. Not everyone is employed. So all employers and workers will pay an additional tax, to pick up the health care of those who aren't working.

Still doesn't sound too bad, if you are an employee? Well, consider that your boss must raise his prices in order to pay that 80 percent premium and the extra tax for those who aren't employed, so he's gotta raise his prices in order to stay in business. That means you pay higher prices to buy the goods you produce for him.

And, with the government handling the deal, there's gotta be more employed at the federal level, so that's another slice from the pie. Then, based on how much taxes Texans pay into Washington and how much comes back, we all know a portion of that pie stays in D.C.

Actually, I shouldn't let all this get me worked up. Not yet, anyway. The proposal must first be worked out in congress, so what the final outcome will be could very well change from what was proposed by Slick Willie and Hilarious Hillary last week.

At least, it had better change, a whole bunch, before the public is asked to pay for it.

Faced with a health care proposal's cost, added to the new, four-cent tax on gasoline, and other stuff that is still to come to help reduce the national deficit, it appears taking a couple of aspirin just won't correct the problems we are facing in our nation's future.

Police

Falls, where he was to be picked up Tuesday by Tillman County deputies, according to the police blotter.

Five other arrests were made by Iowa Park police during the past week.

Tong Ba Huyen, 28, was picked up in the 100 block of South Wall at 3:24 a.m. Thursday, on a public intoxication charge. He was released at 7:54, after paying a $280 fine.

When a local officer ran a license plate check through the computer at 12:23 a.m. Friday, on a vehicle parked at Gordon Lake, it was determined the occupant was wanted on a warrant issued by the sheriff's department.

The occupant, Carol Jean Wright, 20, was taken into custody and turned over to a deputy sheriff. The outstanding warrant was for theft by check.

The driver of a vehicle stopped at 2:53 a.m. Saturday in the 800 block of West Highway attempted to give the officer an alias, and was arrested on two charges.

Edward Drew Marney, 50, was charged with failure to identify to a police officer, for claiming his last name was Shepherd. And then he was charged with driving while license was suspended, which occurred in 1985, according to the report.

Marney was then transported to county jail.

Police were notified during a telephone conversation Sunday by a man in Oklahoma that his son had run away, and was believed to be at a residence in the 1000 block of Van Horn.

The suspect, Robert Michael Gray, 18, was found at that address. The vehicle he had driven was impounded and Gray was transported to the county juvenile detention center to be picked up, because Oklahoma law does not recognize an age of 18 as an adult.

David Chris Wilson, 35, appeared in municipal court Tuesday on a charge of public intoxication. He told the judge he was unable to pay his fine, and was transported to county jail, according to the police blotter.

Two reports of thefts were received during the past week.

About 20 chains were reportedly taken from a locked box in the 300 block of East Highway sometime between Saturday and Monday. The lock on the box had been broken off. No estimate of their value was reported.

A resident of the 400 block of Valley Drive told police Friday that someone had taken spinners off all four wheels of his pickup.

WORTH QUOTING

A man found a styrofoam ice chest in the middle of the road.

He stopped, picked it up and found it full of ice. He opened the chest and rooted around in the ice and found a bloody big toe.

He rushed home and called the sheriff's office. They told him how glad they were that he had found the missing toe. A farmer had suffered an accident and helpers had lost the ice chest and the toe out of the back of their pickup while rushing him to the hospital.

"I'll rush it to the hospital," said the man who found the chest.

"No, stay right there! We've got someone on the way," the sheriff's dispatcher said.

Within minutes a great big wrecker slid to a stop in front of his house and a bear of a man crawled out of the cab and hurried up the walk. "I'm here to pick up the chest," he said.

"It's right here," said the finder, handing over the styrofoam chest. "Before you go, however, tell me why in the world they sent someone in such a big rig?"

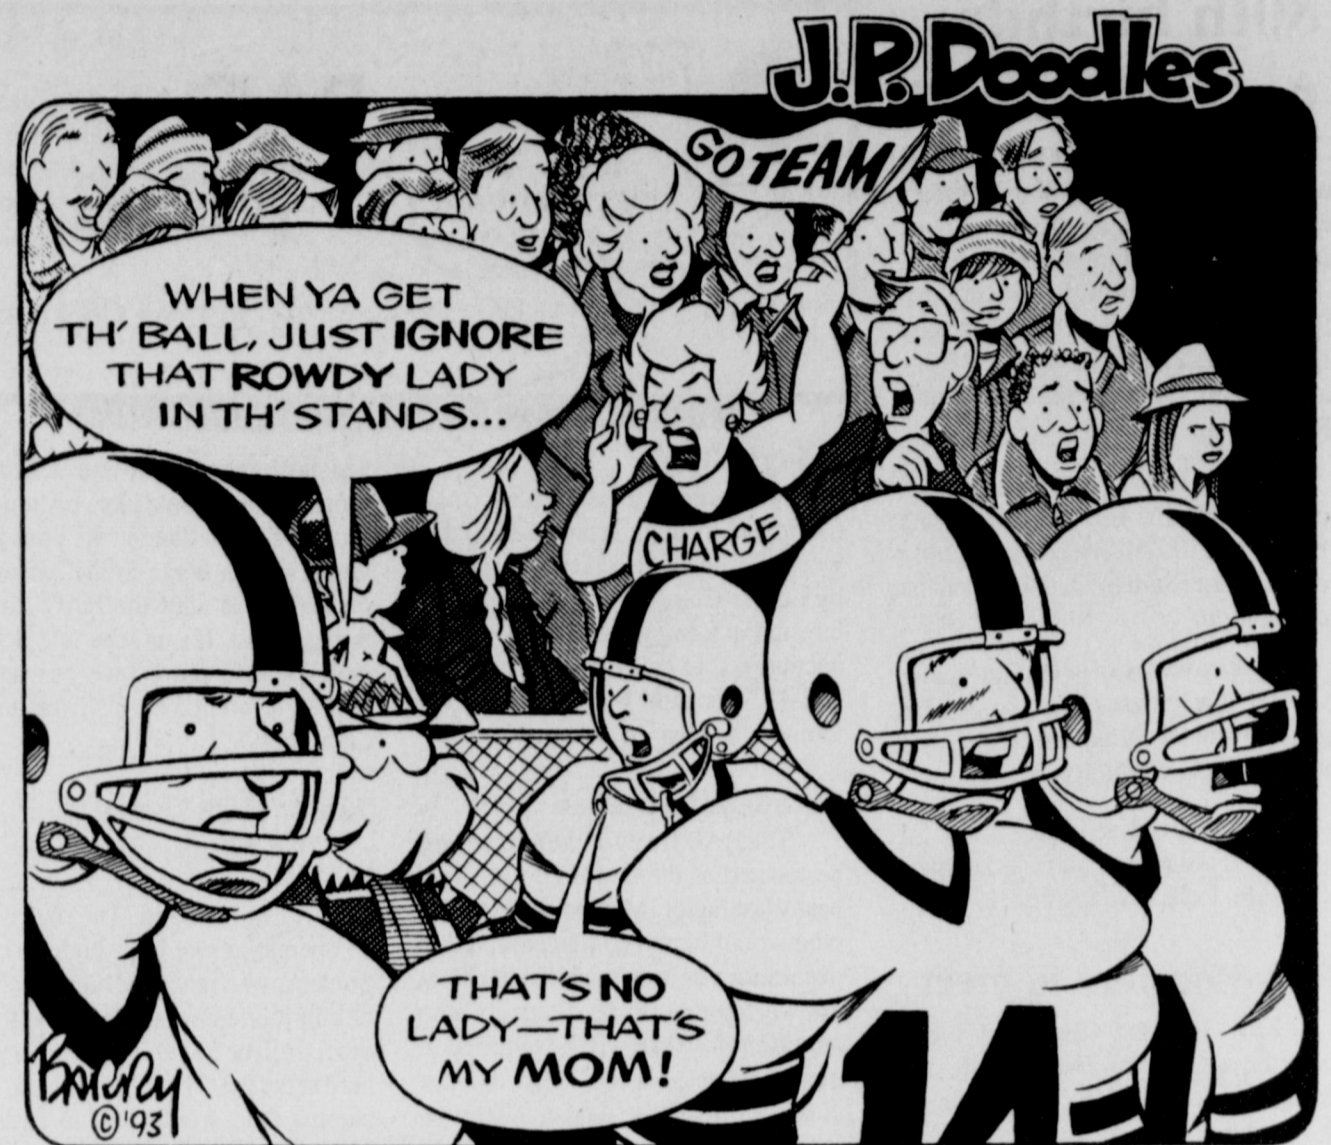

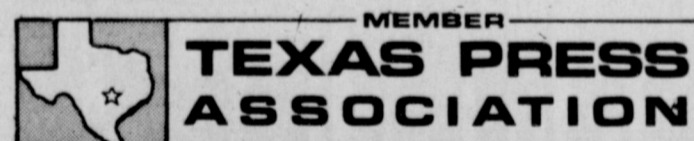

"That's easy!" responded the wrecker driver. "I'm the only big tow operator in the country!"

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Fall is the ideal time for planting shade trees in the landscape.

Cooler temperatures and reduced heat and moisture stress allow trees to establish strong root systems which will result in a better tree next spring.

University testing has proven the benefits of fall planting time and time again. Fall-planted trees are stronger and have a higher rate of survival than summer-planted trees.

Your home and property are big investments which will increase in value and energy conservation with quality landscaping. Trees are one of the most important factors in the overall landscape.

Properly placed trees (i.e. on the southwest side of the home) provide much needed shade during our blistering summer heat. In fact, shade trees will reduce the time the inside temperature is 75 degrees and above by 60 percent.

Evergreen windbreaks can lower winter heating bills by 15 to 20 percent.

Trees also provide a valuable living environment for people and wildlife. You would be very surprised at the appraisal value of an established shade tree in good shape.

For example, a 12-inch diameter red oak in an urban landscape setting in strong health could be appraised at $2,347.75 according to formulas used by the International Society of Arboriculture.

Trees are an asset to landscape.

Nursery professionals are aware of the value and benefits of fall planting which has resulted in excellent tree selections at area nurseries and garden centers.

Most trees you will find will be in containers. Containerized trees are easy to transport and install.

Selecting the right tree for planting in the Texoma region has been made easy through the development of a recommended tree list.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, nursery professionals and research staff have all helped develop this list of trees which are proven performers in Wichita County and the surrounding areas.

Trees are categorized by size: small, medium and large. The size of your home and property will often determine which tree size is best for your landscape. You must consider mature plant height and width when selecting a tree.

The following are recommended trees for fall planting:

Small Trees (Up to 20 feet)
Oklahoma Redbud, Eastern Redbud, crape myrtle, desert willow, deciduous holly, forest pansy redbud (plant in afternoon shade), Japanese maple (plant in afternoon shade) and yaupon holly.

Medium Trees (20-50 feet)
Chinese pistache, Bradford or Aristocrat ornamental pear, goldenrain tree, Afghan pine and Japanese black pine.

Large trees (50 feet or above)
Bald cypress, bur oak, pecan, shumard red oak, cedar elm, live oak, southern magnolia, river birch and water oak.

Complete recommended plant lists including shrubs, vines and ground covers are available at the County Extension Service, 1626 Midwestern Parkway in Wichita Falls.

Wichita SWCD slates director election Tuesday

An election for a director to serve in Subdivision 5 of the Wichita SWCD board of directors is scheduled Oct. 5 at Iowa Park High School Vocational Agriculture Building.

The Young Farmers of Wichita County will sponsor a hamburger feed before the election at 7 p.m.

To be able to vote in the SWCD director election, any person, including the designated representatives of family farm corporations who are eligible voters, must be 18 years or older, reside within Wichita County, and hold title to farm or ranch lying within the Wichita SWCD.

To serve as a director of subdivision 5, one must be an eligible voter and own land within subdivision 5 as described below.

Subdivision 5 is bounded by U.S. 287 on the north, FM 368 on the east, the Archer County line on the south and the Wilbarger County line on the west.

Soil and Water Conservation District directors serve a term of four years. The term of office of a director begins the day after elected providing he/she qualifies; state law requires that a Soil and Water Conservation District director take an oath of office before he is officially qualified to serve as a director.

Current members of the Wichita SWCD board of directors are Fred Dwyer, Wichita Falls, chairman; Bill Brockriede, Burkburnett, vice chairman; Barry Mahler, Iowa Park, secretary; Freddie Daume, Iowa Park, director, and Rex Wells of Iowa Park, director.

Purpose of the Wichita SWCD, with headquarters in Iowa Park, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of land owners.

The district board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purpose.

All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator. They are available to everyone regardless of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age or physical or mental handicap.

United Way donations reported

Iowa Park donations to the 1993 United Way of North Texas campaign reached $6,505, when reports were made last week.

Other campaign divisions reported: Agriculture - $0; Business and Industry - $8,568; Burkburnett - $18,000; Combined Federal Campaign - $240,000; City of Wichita Falls - $0; Commerce - $126,742; Health Care - $31,951; Metro - $6,260; Oil and Gas -

$4,775; Professional - $10,764; Public Service - $14,602, and Special Gifts - $45,800.

The $513,967 total represents 28.7 percent of the $1,792,000 goal, according to Warren Silver, campaign chairman.

The campaign will continue through Oct. 29, with the first regular reporting meeting scheduled Oct. 8.

Bad news about approaching flu season

The U.S. Public Health Service has bad news--followed by more bad news--about the fast approaching flu season:

First, the influenza expected to be prevalent this fall and winter is the nastier variety.

Second, it has mutated--changed--so that, unless you caught it at the end of the last flu season, you and a lot of other people probably have no immunity to it.

That could mean many more cases and three to five times the usual 10,000 to 29,000 flu deaths.

But there is some good news in all this, according to Philip R. Lee, M.D., head of the PHS, the flu vaccine has been tailored to protect against the new flu.

"The new vaccine has been manufactured and most of it has been distributed. And--for one very susceptible group--people 65 and older, Medicare for the first time will pay for flu shots." He said Medicare also pays for the "lifetime" pneumonia shot that can also prevent many hospitalizations and deaths.

"We're urging the elderly--and anyone else at special risk for complications--to get the vaccine between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15," said Lone Simonsen, M.D., of the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, a PHS agency.

"Flu can be especially virulent in any year for these folks, she said. "The elderly are particularly prone to complications from the flu and when they occur, many are hospitalized and die."

She said close family members and caregivers for all high risk people should make an effort to get them to a doctor or health clinic before Nov. 15. They should also get the vaccine themselves.

Even though the last flu season began mildly, the harsher Beijing strain appeared in February and mutated in the spring. This meant that even vaccinated people were unprotected because the virus had become genetically different from the one that had been incorporated into the vaccine.

Card of Thanks

Words are so inadequate, at a time like this, to try to express our deepest and most heartfelt thanks. Iowa Park is a very special place to live. Thank you all for your love and concern for our daughter and mother during her illness and death. The outpouring of love by phone calls, money, offers to help, flowers, food and visits.

The season lasted well into May--about two months longer than average--with nursing homes along the East Coast particularly hard hit.

Dr. Simonsen, a member of the CDC team that investigated an outbreak at a Georgia nursing home last April, said about 50 of the 100 residents contracted the flu.

"We saw many examples of what can happen when the elderly aren't protected against influenza. Several of these patients were hospitalized with complications and at least two died.

"We hope seniors will get their flu shots before the influenza arrives and that nursing homes won't have such severe cases this fall and winter.

Only about 30 percent of those 65 and older get the shots annually, but that could change once word gets out that Medicare is paying for them. The PHS goal for the year 2000 is 60 percent."

Specifically, she said those who should be sure to be immunized besides the elderly include anyone with heart, kidney or lung disorders, including children with asthma, and persons requiring medical follow-up during the past year for chronic metabolic diseases, kidney dysfunction, blood disorders or impaired immun systems.

Those with immune system problems include transplant or chemotherapy patients, HIV-infected persons, and children and teens on long-term aspirin therapy who are at increased risk for Reye syndrome if infected with influenza.

The new flu variant, called Type A Beijing 3292, has been incorporated into the current flu vaccine. Some 50 million doses have been prepared for doctors, clinics and hospitals. This supply, six million more doses than last year, is expected to be plentiful.

STATEMENT OF FAITH
One God in three persons - Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
The verbal inspiration of the whole Bible as God's infallible revelation to man.
Jesus Christ's deity, virgin birth, sinless humanity, substitutionary death, atoning blood, bodily resurrection, and ascension to heaven.
Salvation by faith in Christ alone, without works, and solely by grace.
The need of works to express gratitude and give a living demonstration of God's transforming power.
The resurrection of the body: eternal glory for believers in heaven, and everlasting punishment for unbelievers in hell.
The one true church, the body of Christ, consisting of all believers, regardless of race or social standing.
The need for spiritual growth through Bible study, prayer, witnessing, and involvement in a Bible-believing church.
Obedience to our Lord's command to lead people of all nations to faith and maturity in Christ.
The imminent rapture of the church, and Christ's personal return to establish His kingdom on earth.

Bad news about approaching flu season

The U.S. Public Health Service has bad news--followed by more bad news--about the fast approaching flu season:

First, the influenza expected to be prevalent this fall and winter is the nastier variety.

Second, it has mutated--changed--so that, unless you caught it at the end of the last flu season, you and a lot of other people probably have no immunity to it.

That could mean many more cases and three to five times the usual 10,000 to 29,000 flu deaths.

But there is some good news in all this, according to Philip R. Lee, M.D., head of the PHS, the flu vaccine has been tailored to protect against the new flu.

"The new vaccine has been manufactured and most of it has been distributed. And--for one very susceptible group--people 65 and older, Medicare for the first time will pay for flu shots." He said Medicare also pays for the "lifetime" pneumonia shot that can also prevent many hospitalizations and deaths.

"We're urging the elderly--and anyone else at special risk for complications--to get the vaccine between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15," said Lone Simonsen, M.D., of the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, a PHS agency.

"Flu can be especially virulent in any year for these folks, she said. "The elderly are particularly prone to complications from the flu and when they occur, many are hospitalized and die."

She said close family members and caregivers for all high risk people should make an effort to get them to a doctor or health clinic before Nov. 15. They should also get the vaccine themselves.

Even though the last flu season began mildly, the harsher Beijing strain appeared in February and mutated in the spring. This meant that even vaccinated people were unprotected because the virus had become genetically different from the one that had been incorporated into the vaccine.

Card of Thanks

Words are so inadequate, at a time like this, to try to express our deepest and most heartfelt thanks. Iowa Park is a very special place to live. Thank you all for your love and concern for our daughter and mother during her illness and death. The outpouring of love by phone calls, money, offers to help, flowers, food and visits.

The season lasted well into May--about two months longer than average--with nursing homes along the East Coast particularly hard hit.

Dr. Simonsen, a member of the CDC team that investigated an outbreak at a Georgia nursing home last April, said about 50 of the 100 residents contracted the flu.

"We saw many examples of what can happen when the elderly aren't protected against influenza. Several of these patients were hospitalized with complications and at least two died.

"We hope seniors will get their flu shots before the influenza arrives and that nursing homes won't have such severe cases this fall and winter.

Only about 30 percent of those 65 and older get the shots annually, but that could change once word gets out that Medicare is paying for them. The PHS goal for the year 2000 is 60 percent."

Specifically, she said those who should be sure to be immunized besides the elderly include anyone with heart, kidney or lung disorders, including children with asthma, and persons requiring medical follow-up during the past year for chronic metabolic diseases, kidney dysfunction, blood disorders or impaired immun systems.

Those with immune system problems include transplant or chemotherapy patients, HIV-infected persons, and children and teens on long-term aspirin therapy who are at increased risk for Reye syndrome if infected with influenza.

The new flu variant, called Type A Beijing 3292, has been incorporated into the current flu vaccine. Some 50 million doses have been prepared for doctors, clinics and hospitals. This supply, six million more doses than last year, is expected to be plentiful.

Shaping children's value-where can we start?

Kids and violence, gangs, drugs in schools, confusions that school children have about sex, children giving birth to children--these all add up to a terrifying social reality. We are faced with a generation spinning wildly out of control.

The majority of youngsters are now affected. According to a survey by the Joseph & Edna Josephson Institute of Ethics, 61 percent of all high school students say they have cheated on an exam once or more during the last year. As well, 33 percent admit to having stolen from relatives at least once in the last year.

Whether it is kids owning guns to threaten and, on occasion, kill their classmates, whether it is high school students joining in "Spur Posse" games that keep track of how many different sexual conquests the players can rack up, or whether it is simply lying and cheating, these are all the symptoms of one fundamental disease--the moral decay in society.

Or perhaps moral decay is the wrong way to describe it. More factually, at least where our children are concerned, the biggest problem since the 1970s has been the utter lack of instruction in morals and values in our schools.

The idea back then was that children should grow on their own and should be encouraged simply to decide for themselves what they should believe.

"(This was) based on a materialistic idea that the development of the child parallels the evolutionary history of the race; that in some magical way, unexplained, the 'nerves' of the child will 'ripen' as he or she grows older and the result will be a moral, well-behaving adult," author and humanitarian L. Ron Hubbard pointed out in the widely distributed booklet, "The Way To Happiness."

"Although the theory is disproven with ease--simply by noticing the large criminal population whose nerves somehow did not ripen--it is a lazy way to raise children," said Hubbard. "A child is a little bit like a blank slate. If you write the wrong things on it, it will say the wrong things. But, unlike a slate, a child can begin to do the writing; the child tends to write what has been written already."

Today, the good news is that schools are beginning to get back into the character development business in a big way. In this, they have the overwhelming support of parents. A 1992 study showed 86 percent of Americans favored schools teaching moral values while only 12 percent were against the idea.

However, working out the best way to build character and to instill important values in our children still lies ahead. We have learned in recent decades that recognizing problems in our school system does not mean that these problems are easily fixed.

There are a number of ideas about the best way to teach moral values to children in the classroom. Some schools have started to use videos that show the terrible consequences of dishonesty, intolerance and crime.

One, for instance, starts out with the vivid, highly dramatic street arrest of a teenager.

However, whether any of these approaches will work is still open to question.

Hawks thump Cyclones for season's first victory

The Hawks earned their position in the win column Friday night, defeating the Memphis Cyclones 38-7.

Not only did the victory give Iowa Park a 1-3 record for the young season, the game also satisfied the returning players from 1992 who suffered a 37-27 loss at the Cyclones' home field.

And to make Friday's win even more impressive, Iowa Park gave the Cyclones a seven-point cushion, as Memphis took the opening kickoff, returned the ball to the Hawks' 35, and scored eight plays later for a 7-0 lead.

But it was virtually all Iowa Park from that point.

The Hawks evened the score on their initial possession, sending senior Scott Byrd over from the one-yard line less than five minutes later, for the first of his four touchdowns of the evening.

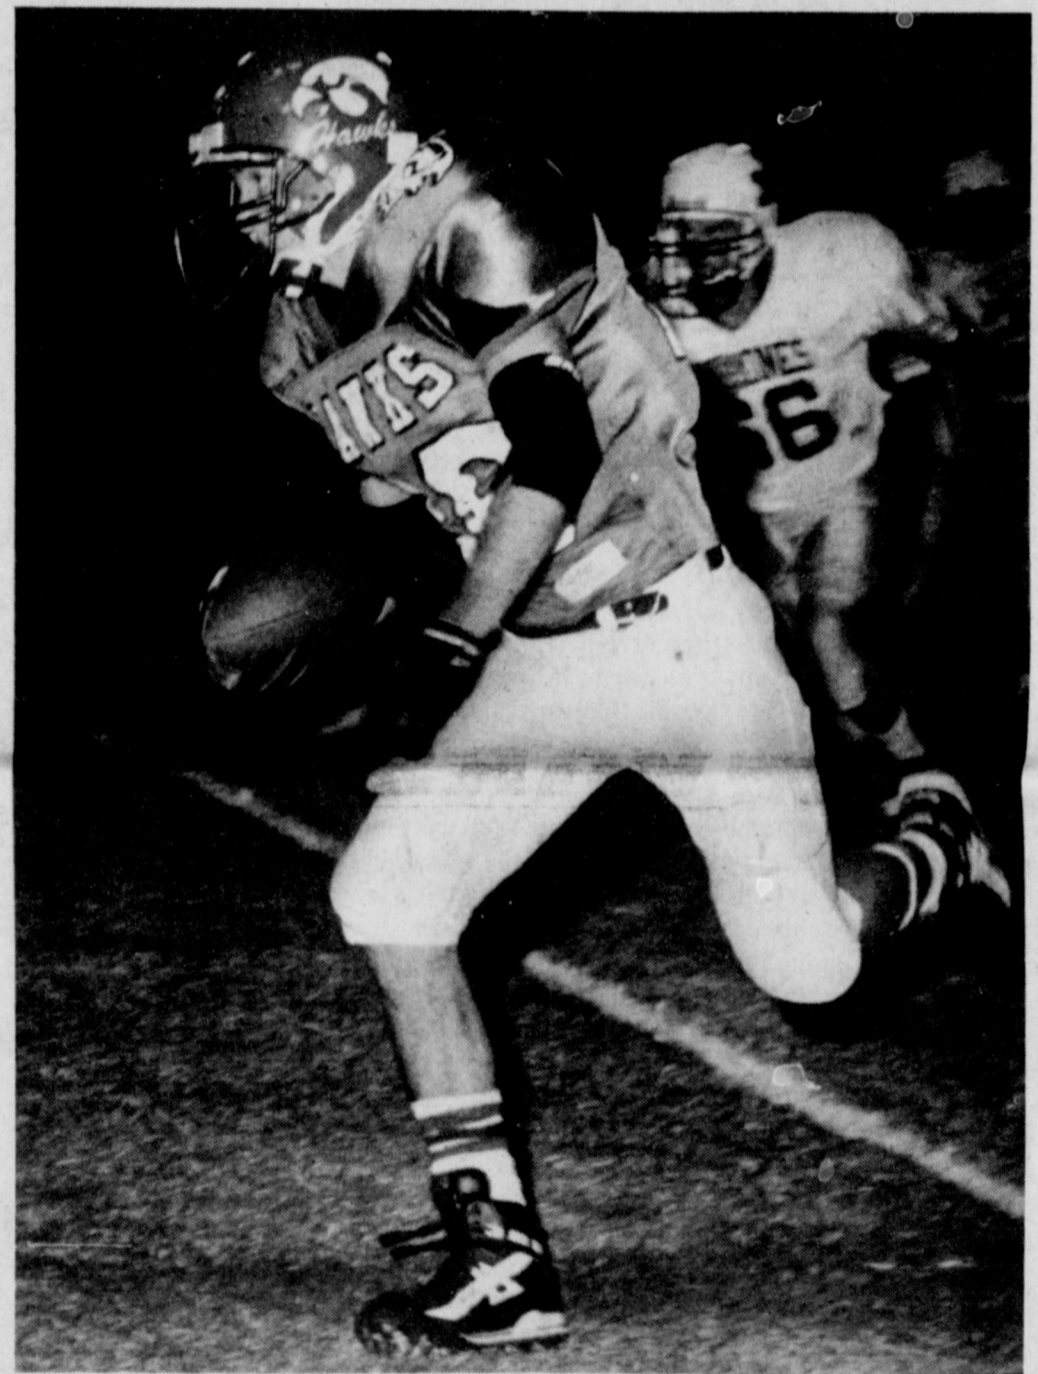

Byrd scored on another one-yard plunge in the second quarter, another from the seven in the third period, and tacked on his final TD with 1:46 remaining in the game.

That final touchdown was set up when Jimmy Fallon covered a Cyclone fumbled pitch on the Memphis four yard line. Byrd scored on the next play.

Besides being perfect in the extra point department, as well as splitting the uprights for a 43-yard field goal, Don Ellis also had a touchdown, scored on a one-yard plunge. Ellis' spiraling field goal was booted in the third quarter, but he had missed two other attempts in the second, pushing the first and pulling the second, though both had more than enough distance to clear the crossbar.

Scott's second touchdown was set up by a determined, 34-yard run around right end by junior quarterback Jason Young. The big back was hit by a head-on tackler at the 19, but the Cyclone literally bounced off his big body and he continued until being pulled down from behind at the one.

Young had two perfectly-thrown passes dropped in the end zone, the first by Brent Brown and the other by Jayson Houston.

SCOTT BYRD RAMBLES FOR 23 YARDS

Unlike their three previous losing efforts, the Hawks did not have a single turnover. Instead, they forced three by their visitors, the fumble and two interceptions. Tony Lozppone and Billy Flippin stole the two aeriels. The Hawks scored following two of the three Cyclone turnovers.

The game's duration was lengthened by an unusually-high number of penalties against both teams, 24 in all for 223 yards.

Byrd, who didn't return to the playing field until the Childress game, having broken a foot during two-a-day sessions, finished the night with 98 yards rushing on 17 carries. Ellis added 71 on 14 totes, Young had a net 36 yards and Lozppone 10.

The Bradford Fourth Grade Adventures, Koda-Na-Ya, is a Camp Fire group in their second year of studying the world's different cultures.

Members of the group are: Amy Rust, Lindsey Latimer, Mandy Daniels, Ashli Cook, Kristin Barker, Lauren Ress, Leah Hall, Mindy Rennhack and Jennifer Wood. Their leader is Cheryl Rust, and Jackie Latimer is the co-leader.

This is the second year that the group has been working on the program, "Many Cultures Make Up Our World." Last year, they learned about the music and games played in other countries, and their current project is learning about the food of other cultures.

At their meetings they have made French Bread Pizza, Swiss Chocolate Fondue, and Mexican Nachos. At home, each girl helped prepare an ethnic recipe for her family and brought the recipe to her Camp Fire leader. They are the recipes we are featuring this week.

The Fourth Grade Adventures meet at 3:15 each Thursday at the Recreational Activities Center (RAC). Other activities the girls said they enjoy include camp-outs, swimming, bowling, skating, and going caroling at Christmas time.

This week the group's focus is on "Our Community," and they are baking brownies for the Cake Walk at Whoop-T-Do this Saturday, and they will share their recipe with the public.

Salmon Croquettes

1 can salmon
2 eggs, beaten
1 tsp. salt
Crushed corn flakes
1 tsp. baking powder
Drain salmon, reserve liquid. Flake salmon, remove skin and bones. Combine salmon, reserved liquid, eggs, salt and corn flake crumbs to make a firm mixture; blend in baking powder. Shape into croquettes, roll in additional crumbs. Fry in small amount of oil in skillet until lightly browned.

German Potato Salad

6 potatoes
1 large onion, chopped
4 strips bacon, fried crisp and crumbled
1 Tbsp. vinegar
Boil potatoes with jackets on. Peel and dice. Fry onion in a small amount of bacon grease left in skillet. Add diced potatoes and crumbled bacon and vinegar into skillet. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve hot.

Egg Rolls

3 or 4 chicken breasts
1 large cabbage
2 carrots
6 cups bean sprouts
8 oz. can mushrooms
Soy sauce
3/4 cup cooking wine
2 pkgs. egg roll wrappers
1 egg
Shred all vegetables except bean sprouts and wash thoroughly. Heat wok and add 1 tablespoon peanut oil. Add chicken, thinly sliced, and season with salt and pepper, cooking wine and soy sauce. Remove chicken when cooked and let cool.
Add cabbage, carrots and mushrooms. Cook 3-4 minutes with lid on wok, then add bean sprouts and cook 2 minutes.
Shred chicken while vegetables cook. Add chicken to mixture.
Use 2 Tbps. mixture in each egg roll wrapper. Beat one egg and use to seal edges of wrapper. Deep fry until golden brown.
This is a great family project. We kids love to help make egg rolls!

Tacos

1 lb. hamburger meat
1 pkg. taco seasoning
Cheese
Lettuce
1 tomato
Green onions
Pam or butter
Flour or corn tortillas
Brown meat with seasoning. Grate cheese, chop lettuce, tomato, and green onions.
Heat up tortillas in skillet using Pam or butter. Fill tortillas with meat, top with cheese, lettuce, tomatoes and onions.

Mexican Casserole

1 - 1 1/2 lbs. ground chuck
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 small jar picante sauce
1 med. pkg. tortilla chips
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
Crumble meat in large skillet and cook until brown. Drain meat; add both soups, picante sauce, and stir.
Crumble a layer of chips in bottom of 9x13 baking dish; add layer of meat mixture. Do this twice and then top with grated cheese.
Bake at 400 degrees until cheese is melted (approx. 20-25 min.)

Beef Stroganoff

1 Tbsp. oil
1 1/2 lbs. cube steak, sliced into strips
1/2 onion, sliced or chopped
1 - 8 oz. ctn. sour cream
1 can cream of mushroom soup
2 Tbps. catsup
2 tsps. Worcestershire sauce
1/8 tsp. garlic powder
1 small jar mushrooms, drained
1 pkg. wide egg noodles, cooked

Heat oil in large skillet; add meat and onions and cook until meat is browned and onions are tender.

In bowl, combine sour cream, soup, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, garlic powder and mushrooms. Add to meat and stir until hot and bubbly. (If sauce is too thick, a small amount of milk may be used to thin it.)

Serve over hot egg noodles.

Italian Meatballs & Spaghetti

2 lbs. ground beef
2 eggs, beaten
Chopped onion
Chopped green bell pepper
Bread or cracker crumbs
4 small cans tomato paste
4 cans water
1 pkg. dry spaghetti mix
1 pkg. spaghetti, cooked

Make sauce by adding tomato paste and water to sauce mix and simmer 3-6 hours.

For meatballs, combine ground beef, eggs, onion, bell pepper and crumbs. Shape into balls and bake at 350 degrees until done. Add to sauce and serve over hot spaghetti.

Steak Diane Down-Under

My Dad travels all over the world and this is a famous dish that he ate in a well-known Australian restaurant. It is done quickly at the table by the maitre d'.
4 minute steaks
3 Tbps. butter
2 scallions, chopped fine
2 Tbps. brandy or 1/4 cup Marsala
1 Tbsp. parsley
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup espagnole sauce or basic brown sauce
2-3 Tbps. tomato sauce

Heat half the butter in a large frying pan and, when hot and foaming, put in the steaks. Fry quickly on each side until brown. Add scallions (green onions), pour brandy into the pan; set it on fire and let the flames burn out. Add Worcestershire sauce, espagnole and tomato sauce. Simmer 1-2 minutes until blended. Add remaining butter in small pieces, and the parsley. Shake the pan to blend the butter into the sauce without boiling. Take from heat and serve at once.

Baked squash and parsleyed new potatoes are typical Australian side dishes.

HIGH SCHOOL

District Choir Results

District Choir auditions were held Sept. 18 with several members earning positions.

Those selected for District Choir include Brandon Herder, baritone, first chair; Charlie Bradberry, baritone, seventh chair; Angela Cook, second alto, eighth chair; Brandi Catlin, first alto, second alternate; Kassie Dutton, second soprano, fourth chair; Veronica Lane, second soprano, sixth chair; Jennifer Murphy, second soprano, eleventh chair; and Melissa Muse, first soprano, second alternate.

JUNIOR HIGH

Proud of Staff

We would like the citizens of Iowa Park to know that we have a very professional staff with whom we are very proud to work.

We recognize the difficulty students have moving from elementary to junior high school, and also how traumatic it appears to be for some parents.

Following is a list of some of the things we planned and implemented last spring for our current sixth graders:

1. History fair in the spring of 1993 to invite elementary students to the junior high.

2. Tour of the junior high for fifth graders in the spring of 1993.

3. Parents' night for parents of fifth graders in the spring of 1993.

4. Visit to fifth grade classes at Bradford by our counselor in the spring of 1993 to familiarize fifth graders with rules and opportunities at the junior high.

5. Joint staff development meetings with fifth and sixth grade teachers to find ways to ease students into the junior high. (Many ideas were implemented by the fifth grade teachers, and we appreciate their help.)

6. Early preparation of locker and lock assignments so that sixth graders and their parents could come to the junior high before school started this past summer and feel confident about using lockers and opening combination locks.

7. Teachers have modified assignments and worked together to help reduce homework for the 1993-94 school year.

We recognize the need to continually improve our school, and we welcome any suggestions or constructive criticism. Every year we evaluate our student, staff, and overall campus performance and develop a plan to improve our school. Parents are encouraged to call the junior high any time they have a problem or concern.

Report Card Dance

A Junior High Report Card Dance will be held from 7 to 10 p.m., Saturday night at the RAC.

The dance, to be held following issuance of report cards each six weeks, is open only to junior high school students. Students who make the honor roll will be admitted free, and admission for all others will be $1.00 each.

A disc jockey from Young Country Productions will be there to play all types of music.

The dance is sponsored by the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center to encourage honor roll achievement and provide local socializing for early teens.

BRADFORD

Zoo Trip Today

Twenty-five students from Bradford are making a field trip to the Fort Worth Zoo today.

They are third, fourth and fifth grade students who are enrolled in the Gifted and Talented Program. Mrs. Keven Robertson is the teacher.

Students are assigned to visit with different employees at the zoo and find out what duties their jobs require.

The bus will stop at City View to pick up G.T. students at that school. For the next trip City View school will furnish a bus and pick up the Iowa Park students.

Students will be accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Robertson and four or five parent sponsors.

Bradford PTA News

Bradford PTA will meet Tuesday, Oct. 5 at 7 p.m. at the high school auditorium. An evening of fun entertainment has been planned.

For those who remember such songs as the one-eyed, one-horned flying "Purple People Eater" and "Mairzy Doats and Dozy Doats", will have a chance to sing along, clap and tap their toes.

The fourth grade musical performance is titled, "A Night of Novelty," and will be under the direction of Ms. Karen Lamberth, music teacher.

The Bradford t-shirts are in and will be passed out today. If you have not yet purchased one, they will be available before school on Friday for $10 each.

Remember to go by the Bradford PTA booth at the Whoop-T-Do on Saturday. They will be having a clam dig, and also be selling t-shirts.

The sucker sales on Tuesdays are going very well. The PTA plans to use the money made on these suckers to purchase picnic tables for the school.

No school Monday

Students won't attend classes next Monday, because the day has been scheduled for teacher's in-service day.

Bumper stickers given to honor roll students

Students who make the honor roll will receive bumper stickers stating that they are Bradford Honor Students.

Principal Pat Cravens said about one-third of the students make the honor roll each six weeks. "The first time they make the honor roll, the student receives a bumper sticker, and the ones who repeat get a pencil, bookmark, or personal note," she said.

Classes making world globes

The fourth grade social studies students are making papier mache world globes. After shaping the globes, they color in the continents and oceans.

This is their current geography project.

KIDWELL

Teacher of the Week

Mrs. Debbie Gruber, Early Childhood teacher, has been selected as Kidwell's Teacher of the Week.

Born in Fort Worth, Mrs. Gruber has lived in Iowa Park since she was in the fourth grade. She has taught 14 years in speech therapy and early childhood education, and received her degree from Midwestern State Univ.

She and her husband, Tom, have a son, Dwayne, and IPHS senior, and a daughter, Dalena, a sixth grader.

In her spare time, Mrs. Gruber enjoys crafts, sewing and reading.

Aide of the Week

Holley Dawn Sanders, Pre-Kindergarten and Early Childhood Aide, has been selected as Kidwell's Aide of the Week.

She and her husband, Scott, have two sons, Rusty, a sixth grader, and Ryan, a kindergartner.

When she isn't busy with her children's sports, Holley enjoys doing crafts.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Young Farmer Endowment Program

The Comptroller of Public Accounts is accepting requests for refunds of the special $5 license fee on farm and ranch vehicles that agricultural producers have been required to pay to their County Tax Assessor-Collector before August 30, 1993.

If you believe you are eligible for this refund, contact the Comptroller's Office at 1-800-252-1382 for a refund claim form, or obtain one at your County Tax Assessor-Collector's office.

The Comptroller's Office is authorized to make refunds only for claims received by November 1, 1993. Claim forms and refunds of the $5 special license fee paid on or after August 30, 1993, will be available only from County Tax Assessor-Collectors.

G.R.I.N. Grades

All students with "perfect conduct" and/or "all A's" will get to go to Mrs. Bowling's office for a special treat.

Learning to Sign

Second graders have been studying a reading unit entitled Learning About Each Other, for the story, "I Have a Sister, My Sister is Deaf." Each of the classes invited special guests to teach the children about sign language.

Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Padgett invited Beekie Lovelady to their classrooms for the lesson. Dianna Britt gave signing instruction to Mrs. Bauer's and Mrs. Cleghorn's classes; and Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Wright invited Dee Godbye. Mrs. Hefti presented the lesson for her class and Mrs. Brandt's.

The children enjoyed learning how to sign the alphabet, count and sing a silent "Happy Birthday."

The next story in their reading unit, "The Wolf's Chicken Stew," will be celebrated by the children making chicken stew.

The Sharks are Coming!

The sharks are coming but the only thing in danger of being gobbled up will be books!

SHARKS stands for Super Happy Accelerated Reading Kids.

This program, which begins in October, encourages recreational reading and develops reading skills for Kidwell students.

After each book is read, the students takes a test on the computer. Rewards are given for each successfully completed book test.

Last year, Kidwell students read 2,380 books. This year, Kidwell's goal is to read at least 1,000 more than last year.

Kidwell PTA is sponsoring this program.

Administrator speaks on prisons

Ted Paddock, administrator of the Wichita County Family Court Services, was speaker Tuesday for the Evening Lions meeting. He was introduced by Melvin McWhorter.

The speaker put major emphasis on the adult and juvenile probation system as it relates to the criminal justice system, and the problem of knowing what to do when a person commits a crime.

Paddock said that the prisons in Texas are overcrowded which explains why so many people get out early and many of them commit the same crimes again that they served time for. He also said that many lawbreakers prefer a penitentiary sentence to probation because of the intensive supervision probation program. He said that the present situation presents a challenge to the public because enough prisons cannot be built or enough law officers hired to solve the problem. He also remarked that all people do not see criminal justice the same way.

"Texas is no longer a probation state and Texas sends more prisoners to prison than any other nation," he said. He is strongly in favor of supervision and corrective restitution centers, and is pleased that Wichita Falls will have one in the near future. It will be a minimum security program center where the offenders will do community work.

To conclude the program, he showed a 20-minute orientation film for people who come to probation.

Harvey Troutman was in charge of the period devoted to business where members devoted most of the time to planning their booths at Whoop-T-Do.

TAX TIPS

by Lori M. Shierry, CPA

OIL AND GAS WORKING INTEREST AND ROYALTY OWNERS. Are you taking advantage of the higher percentage depletion rate for marginal oil and gas production? For 1993 this rate is 19%. It was 18% for 1992. This means that if you have wells producing 15 barrel equivalents or less daily of domestic crude oil or natural gas then you can use the higher depletion rate of 19% rather than the standard depletion rate of 15%.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX. If you are subject to the alternative minimum tax you will be glad to hear that there are some easings regarding percentage depletion and intangible drilling costs as tax preference items.

Consult with a CPA experienced in oil and gas taxation to take advantage of possible tax savings in regard to these items. Also, don't forget to fill up your car before Friday due to increased excise taxes on gasoline becoming effective October 1, 1993.

RELIEF AND PRIDE - Head Coach Robert Clensay beams as last week's game with Memphis came to a successful, 38-7 conclusion. It was his Hawks' first win of the season, and third since taking over as Head Hawk.

Hawks

four opponents in total yards gained, also, 809-852.

One of the reasons is the return of Scott Byrd to the playing field. The senior, who missed all but one game last year and didn't return until the Frederick game this season because of foot injuries, has taken the defensive heat off Don Ellis in the backfield.

Both Byrd and Ellis are now averaging over four yards per carry. Byrd has 29 carries for 139 yards, a 4.8-yard average, and Ellis has carried 49 times for 222 yards, a 4.5 average.

Additionally, Byrd has caught three passes for another 48 yards, and Ellis has one snare for 10.

Brent Brown and Tim Denton are the two leading receivers of alternating quarterbacks Tony Lozicone and Jason Young. Brown has caught 11 passes for 151 yards and Denton five for 60.

The proud Hawk defense has kept Iowa Park in every game they've played, primarily by causing opponents to commit turnovers. Iowa Park has taken the ball away from their four opponent 10 times, while giving up possession only seven times.

The main difference has been in fumbles lost, where Iowa Park has coughed up only two fumbles, while their opponents lost it five times, one that turned into a Hawk touchdown.

SPORTS

Shorts

Only three teams on Iowa Park's season schedule won their games last week. Scores included: Graham 42, Burkburnett 13 Breckenridge 28, Sonora 7 Frederick 35, Lone Grove 6 Bishop Dunne 33, Wellington 18 Pampa 14, Vernon 6 Boyd 49, Bowie 20 Canadian 21, Childress 10 Holliday 70, Henrietta 27

SS SS SS SS SS

"The people in this town can't remember the last time it happened," Vernon coach Leo Brittain was quoted in Saturday's issue of the Wichita Falls paper, about Friday's 14-6 loss to Pampa when the Lions failed to score a touchdown. "Brittain said he's not sure it has happened since he's been here." Well, as far as Iowa Park's record with the Lions, they were shut out 5-0 in 1986 by the Hawks, 0-0 in 1984, 3-0 in 1982, 12-0 in 1981, 28-0 in 1974 and 24-0 in 1971.

Cheerleaders' Point of View

The Cheerleaders would like to say great job to the Hawks on their 38-7 victory over the Memphis Cyclones.

This week is homecoming and to start things off the bonfire is going to be on Thursday. The bonfire this year has been moved to the field behind the football field. Parking will be in the parking that you park for the game. We hope to see everyone there.

There is going to be a dance at the RAC following the game from 10:30 to 1:00 (high school only). No admission and refreshments for everyone.

Friday there is going to be a pep rally at the high school at 9:50. We encourage everyone to be there. This is going to be a pep rally you won't forget. Bring your video cameras and come join the fun.

Also students don't forget there will still be gym decoration on Thursday at 3:45. Be there with your tape and signs and let's decorate the gym. Hey Sophomores let's see if you can try to put up signs this week and show some spirit the Hawks will lead them to victory.

Hope to see everyone at the bonfire, the pep rally and then again at the game to see the Hawks to victory against the Wellington Rockets. Good luck Hawks! Beat those Rockets!

Saugeye recaptured in Gordon Lake

By SCOTT ROBINSON
Parks & Wildlife Department

Some of the first saugeye stocked in Texas were recently recaptured at Gordon Lake, by the Wichita Falls Inland Fisheries crew of Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept.

These were the first saugeye to be successfully recaptured by biologists since they were stocked last May as part of a state-wide research project.

Gordon Lake is one of only five lakes in Texas to be stocked with saugeye, a hybrid of the sauger and the walleye.

Fisheries biologists hope the saugeye will create an additional sport fishery in Gordon Lake and also improve the fish community balance by preying on the overcrowded, slow-growing crappie populations.

Saugeye have been credited with improving crappie populations (i.e., increasing the number of crappie longer than 10 inches) in Oklahoma.

The saugeye in Gordon Lake are growing quite rapidly and are already consuming small prey fish.

They were only one and a half inches long when stocked. The eight fish captured averaged over eight inches in length.

The saugeye is an elongated, cylindrical shaped fish of an olive-brown to greenish yellow color with three or four dark "saddles" along the back.

The dorsal fins are separated and will usually have small black spots. The lower edge of the tail fin will have a white tip.

Saugeye also have sharp, canine type teeth and should be handled with care. Saugeye are protected by an 18-inch minimum length limit and a three-fish daily bag limit.

All saugeye less than 18 inches in length should be carefully returned to the water. The Gordon saugeye will probably reach 18 inches sometime in 1995.

In addition to saugeye, quite a few largemouth bass and sunfish were captured in the Gordon electrofishing sample.

Bluegill, green sunfish, warmouth and longear sunfish can provide lots of fishing fun at Gordon, particularly for young people.

These fish also provide forage for the larger predator species such as largemouth bass and saugeye.

Although there appears to be good reproduction and growth of young largemouth bass in Gordon, most of the bass sampled were under the 14-inch minimum length limit.

It is particularly important that anglers observe length and bag limits in a small lake such as Gordon. Fish populations in smaller lakes can quickly be overharvested when limits are ignored.

Gordon Lake is a productive lake that has the potential to provide some good fishing for people of this area. Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept.

plans to maximize that potential with management techniques such as length and bag limits and introduction of saugeye.

Little League sets annual meeting

Iowa Park Little League will hold its annual meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 10, at the Recreational Activities Center, according to Mike Dozier, president.

The meeting is primarily held for the election of officers and board members to serve during the 1994 season.

All residents interested in youth baseball are encouraged to attend, Dozier said.

FM 369 project near completion

Weather permitting, the long-awaited opening of FM 369, between Allendale and Seymour Highway in Wichita Falls, was set to take place Wednesday morning.

Hot mix pavement was to be installed Monday and Tuesday, and the barriers removed as early as 6 a.m. Wednesday, according to a news release from the Texas Department of Transportation.

The mile-long project got underway June 29, 1992, and was to have been completed the first of this month. Penalties amounting between $10,000 and $20,000 are to be deducted from the $1.291-million payment to Altas-Tuck Concrete of Oklahoma.

Runners find competition tougher north of river

Iowa Park High's cross country teams found competition slightly tougher than they had faced in their earlier meets this season.

They ventured into Oklahoma, and besides being competitive, the course also was muddy.

In the girls' division, the Lady Hawks placed third behind defending Sooner State champion Plainview and Marlow.

Medalists included Christi Welch, 17th; Randi Tigrett, 19th; Brandi Catlin, 20th, and Dusti Welch, 24th. Lori Spruiell, Amanda Thompson and Briana Stalker also represented the Green and White.

In the boys' division, Michael Fallon was Iowa Park's only medalist, placing 25th. Tim Estrada finished a strong 30th, with Shawn Phillips and David Waterbury close behind.

The next meet will be Oct. 9 at Archer City.

Bad day at Memorial

Iowa Park's Junior Varsity and Freshman teams were stonewalled Thursday in Wichita Falls' Memorial Stadium.

Both teams were shut out. The JV lost 28-0 and the Frosh 42-0.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Six former employees of the Texas Department of Commerce took Democratic Gov. Ann Richards to federal court last week in Austin, accusing the governor of violating their rights by firing them because they are Republicans.

Richards, former Commerce Department board chairman Alan Khan; Cathy Bonner, executive director; and Margaret Donaldson, human resources director, are defendants in the civil action.

Plaintiffs are Jim Mikus, Eddie Aurisupa and Raymond Barnes, all of whom worked in a division of the department that administered the Job Training Partnership Act. All three reportedly supported Republican Clayton Williams, a Midland businessman who ran for governor in 1990.

Mikus, Aurisupa and Barnes were dismissed after Richards took office. They seek more than $2 million in back pay, future lost earnings, attorneys' fees and damages for mental anguish.

Derek Howard, an attorney for the plaintiffs, said Richards devised a scheme to fire only Republicans and to fill the vacated positions with her friends and political supporters.

Richards said her accusers were terminated as part of a program to streamline the troubled department. She called the allegation that the firings were political "absurd" and the lawsuit a waste of taxpayers' money.

Former Ag Officials in Court

Three top aides to former Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower went on trial last week in federal court in Austin for an alleged conspiracy to collect illegal campaign funds for Hightower.

On trial for committing theft and bribery from programs receiving federal funding and conspiracy to commit theft were former Deputy Agriculture Commissioner Mike Moeller, special assistant Peter McRae and division chief Billie Quicksall.

Hightower, who could be called to testify, has not been accused of any wrongdoing in the case. The trial is expected to last about four weeks.
