NEW BUS SERVICE for city students who do not qualify for school transportation inside the city was begun this week. The commercial vehicles transport high school and junior high school students.

Student safety stressed

A safety program for students who walk or ride a bus to school was outlined for members of the Iowa Park school board during their regular meeting Thursday night in the junior high school library.

According to assistant superintendent Robert Palmer, the program, called "Hawk Walk," would be introduced in the classrooms on Monday and coincide with the new in-city bus routes that would begin on that day.

The object of the program is to stress safety in the minds of students, parents, bus drivers, and motorists.

Palmer said eight high school students would be in the classrooms at Kidwell Elementary, Bradford Elementary and the junior high school on Monday to go over the program with the students.

Kidwell, Bradford and Junior High PTAs voted to give money toward the purchase of the safety kits put out by the National PTA.

Preceding the meeting, a reception was held for the new teachers in the district. Keith Fisher, board president, introduced the board members to the group, and the new teachers were introduced by their principals.

Also recognized was Ron Woods, a retired principal of Kidwell Elementary. He is the new energy manager for the school district, filling the position vacated when Steve Harris resigned last spring.

Trustees set dates to administer examinations for acceleration (TEC 28.023 - Credit by Exam).

Senate Bill 1, TEC 28.023 says that school districts must offer credit by examination for acceleration in grades kindergarten through 12.

These examinations will be available for all required subjects and for some electives. Eligible students must have had no prior instruction in the course for which they are testing.

Credit will be awarded if a student makes a minimum score of 90 on the exam.

Dates set for the examinations are as follows:

High School: Nov. 9, 16, 23, and June 3, 4, 5.

Junior High: Nov. 9, 16, Dec. 14, and June 3, 4, and 5.

Bradford and Kidwell: Nov. 22, 25, 26, and June 3, 4, and 5.

In other business, Palmer brought trustees up to date on repairs being made at Hawk Stadium.

It was recently discovered that the soil had settled under a portion of the west end of the visitors stands, requiring a fill by 16 yards of concrete.

Board members approved a budget amendment which allows funds to be moved to cover the cost of a new public address system for the gymnasium. The Booster Club will donate $310 toward this purchase.

School district committees for the 1996-97 school year were approved, and include the following members:

Textbook Committee - Supt. Mike Caplinger - chairman, Asst. Supt. Robert Palmer - Textbook Co-

Early voting poll opens

Early voting for the Nov. 3 general election was begun Wednesday, at the county annex building on the corner of Wall and Bank.

And the ballot is filled with candidates, ranging from the local county precincts to the president of the United States, with several state offices thrown in to boot.

The local early voting poll is to be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. on weekdays, through Thursday, Oct. 25. Extended hours of 7-7 will be observed Oct. 26 and 28, and from 12-noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 27.

Area polls on election day will include: Pct. 32, First Baptist Church

Friday's football game may be title showdown

One down, four to go. That's what is ahead if the Iowa Park Hawks are to reach one of the goals set for the 1996 football season.

Back in August, when the team took the field for the first time in two-a-day practices, head coach Weldon Nelms' team set a goal of winning the District 5-3A race. But that was before the Vernon Lions moved into the top spot in the Class 3A State rankings.

In the latest poll released on Tuesday, Vernon 6-0, received 16 of the 20 votes for the top spot in the polls. The Lions started the season as the seventh-ranked team in Class 3A.

But despite all of that, this year's Iowa Park team has a certain confidence about themselves after a 42-7 thumping of Childress in a must-win game Friday night.

Tomorrow night's game, scheduled for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff, should be for the District Title if all things go according to plan. The four other teams in the district have a combined record of 6-16-2, with Bowie the only team with a district win other than Iowa Park and Vernon. Bowie's overall record is 2-4. The Jackrabbits beat winless Henrietta 34-20 last week while Vernon downed Jacksboro 45-13.

"Any time you go into a big ball game like the one this week, you need to carry some momentum with you," Nelms said. "Vernon's a very good football team that has a lot of tradition behind them and any time you play a team of this caliber, you know you're in for a tough game. We're a pretty good football team too and if we can limit their big plays, we are going to be right there at the end."

"Vernon is a big-play team," Nelms added. "They haven't had to drive the football on anybody this year. We need to play mistake-free football and control the ball on offense. If we can do that we'll be in the game. We're going to have to be able to run the ball as well as throw it to keep them off balance. We feel like we have the potential to make some big plays ourselves and if the game comes down to the kicking game I feel like we have a big advantage. They've struggled in that area and we have a lot of confidence in our kicking game."

The Hawks are riding a two-game winning streak in which they have outscored their last two opponents by the combine score of 92-21. Coach Nelms was very pleased with the effort he got from his team in the district opener against Childress last week.

"Going into the game, we thought Childress was a real good team from what we had seen on film," Nelms said. "We just came out ready to play. We took advantage of that early turnover and then our offense just took off. That's what you like to see in a big ball game. Our kids were focused and came out and executed and got the job done."

Iowa Park will come into the Vernon game not quite 100% as starting tailback Shawn Fulfer's status is still in question. Fulfer, who rushed for over 270 yards in his last

Golf course issue renewed

Following a presentation on how to build a golf course without a significant financial commitment, members of the city council indicated Monday night they were interested and will hold a special meeting to discuss its possibility.

The presentation was made by Steve Willet of Colleyville, regional manager for National Links of America.

Willet said his company has different methods of obtaining financing for the construction of golf courses, including 100 percent equity funding and a participating equity plan.

Mayor Tim Hunter said he would call a special meeting of the council, possibly before the end of the month to discuss the issue in greater depth.

"We want to make sure if we do something like this, we don't tie up a lot of money," he said.

Other highlights of Monday's lengthy meeting included passage of several ordinances, a plan to expand and writing off bad debts owed the city.

Aldermen approved amending an ordinance which affects consumption of alcoholic beverages at Lake Iowa Park.

The entire lake property is now included in the city's list of parks, and consumption of alcohol is prohibited at such locations.

In addition to the ordinance, the city now offers a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any persons found guilty of committing a crime of theft, destruction or vandalism to property and equipment at any park.

Theft of money reported

One case of theft and two of shoplifting were included on the past week's police blotter.

Police were notified Tuesday evening by authorities at IHS that money had been taken from a patient's room.

An employee of the rest home had found a purse belonging to a patient, but the money that had been in it was missing.

The case is being investigated. Shoplifters were taken into custody on two consecutive days at Wal-Mart.

Two female juveniles were caught with approximately $7 worth of merchandise Monday afternoon. They were issued citations to appear in municipal court, and released to their parents.

Tuesday afternoon, Stephanie Inell Barton, 19, was charged with theft under $50. She was released after paying a fine of $83.50, according to the police report.

Officers were called at 9:08 p.m. Friday evening to a disturbance at a residence in the 1100 block of Comelia, resulting in the arrest of Bernice Brookshire, 31, on a charge of Class C assault.

She was released at 12:58 a.m. Sunday, after signing a promise to appear in municipal court.

The owner of a 1994 pickup told police Sunday afternoon that his vehicle had sustained an estimated $200 in damage after being struck by another vehicle while parked at Wal-Mart.

NO SERIOUS INJURIES resulted from a two-car collision Monday afternoon at the intersection of Alameda and Victoria. Summer Ann Dewitt, 17, of Wichita Falls was driving West on Alameda and, according to the police report, failed to yield right of way to the South-bound car driven by Julie Renee Horton, 34, of Iowa Park.

Young anglers here Saturday

Hundreds of youthful anglers are expected to gather on the shores of Lake Gordon Saturday, for the second-annual KIDFISH event.

Last year's event was described as one of the most successful in the state by a spokesman for the sponsoring Parks and Wildlife Foundation of Texas, so even more young fishermen are expected this year.

Participants must be younger than 16 years of age.

State personnel will be stocking the lake with additional fish for the event, as they did last year.

Because of that, the city council acted Monday night to close the lake to all fishing today and Friday, regardless of age.

Youngsters must register prior to wetting their hooks. Registration will be in the Lakeview Church of God recreation building, which is located just East of the lake.

Participants can use their own fishing equipment, or KIDFISH will provide it upon request.

Releasing of fish caught is encouraged, and all state, federal and local game and fish laws apply and must be observed by all participants.

All participants will receive a KIDFISH goodie bag containing a participant ribbon, KIDFISH college diploma, Parks and Wildlife handbook, and an event program.

Special prizes of cash and other items will be awarded, based on the amount of sponsorship funds raised, but obtaining sponsors is not required to participate.

KIDFISH is an outreach program of the Parks and Wildlife Foundation, designed to educate and provide hands-on fishing experience to children of all ages.

Personnel from the state as well as area fishing organizations will be on hand to assist anglers when needed.

Family finds missing siblings

Sixty years ago in Lebanon, Ohio, a mother and father deserted their family of nine children. At the time the two older children were married.

The five younger children are still living. After the three older ones of that group finally located the two youngest, a brother and a sister they had had no contact with in almost 50 years, the group met here in the home of their sister, Judy Raybourne, 71.

Meeting here were Helen Wilson, 75, of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, Louise Pate, 73, from Valley Springs, Calif., Jim Barnhart, 68, from Kansas City, Kans. and Jean Leccrone, 66, also of Kansas City.

In June the search began for the two younger siblings. When Jean was finally located, she searched very hard for her brother, Jim, whom she had not seen in 10 years.

The big surprise when she did find him was that they lived only two miles from each other in Kansas City.

Four of the siblings lived with several families and worked for them and the three youngest were put in an orphanage, but the two younger ones lost contact with the rest of them.

The first couple of days together were spent looking at pictures, exchanging old photos and giving gifts. Jim had to return home early, but the three girls have stayed for a longer visit with Judy.

It has been an exciting time for them to be together and getting to know one another. They have been crafting and teaching one another to crochet, and passing it down to one of the great-great-grandnieces they didn't know they had. They also have been exchanging recipes and taking turns cooking.

The sisters are taking in some of the sights in the area and Wichita Falls.

The four sisters are planning to attend the Texas Gold Rush program at the high school.

A lot of pictures have been taken and they've been recording with the camcorder all of the stories they have. Copies will be given to each one for the wonderful memories of being together.

They are determined to keep in contact by phone, letters or visits. They also plan another reunion in one or two years.

They are all very thankful and feel blessed that they are all healthy enough to make the long trip to be together.

Because of the hard life they have endured, they have tried to make their own marriages strong and have good, healthy family values, as well as being good mothers to their children.

Each of them believe it is through the power of prayer and the grace of God, they could be here to heal old wounds and bad memories.

And each of them is ready to make some good memories, that the past has been put in the past, and that good memories will be in their minds forever.

NEWS OF THE IOWA PARK GENEALOGICAL & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Iowa Park Genealogical and Historical Society has completed its inventory of Highland Cemetery. Each of the grave sites has been surveyed, the stones have been read and the information transcribed for entering into the cemetery computer.

Numerous persons from all over the country contact the Highland Cemetery office each month in search of their relatives' grave sites. With this completed inventory it will be easier to respond to these requests for information.

One further comment on the Highland Cemetery inventory: there are approximately 40 grave sites that have been lost due to no permanent grave marking.

Members of the Iowa Park Genealogical and Historical Society have dug around grave sites and searched with metal detectors for the temporary markers placed by the funeral homes providing the funeral services.

We have been able to locate only one or two with intact temporary markers, while the bulk of the markers uncovered are only the metal rods that were once attached to the bottoms of the temporary markers.

If you are unsure of the appropriate markings of a loved one's grave site at Highland or any cemetery, it is imperative that you contact the cemetery or visit it in person to insure that the markers are in place and able to withstand the test of time.

Replace temporary markers as soon as reasonably possible; the weather and the mowers are not forgiving to the small, thin temporary markers. I currently have a small bag of letters that once represented the marker of one of Iowa Park's ancestors. Could they be the last remains of your ancestor's temporary marker?

Shirley Banks and Fil Spangler attended the Southwest Oklahoma Genealogical Society conference last Saturday. Leslie Smith Collier, president of the Dallas Genealogy Society conducted the seminar.

She provided much useful information about avoiding the normal pitfalls encountered by most genealogists. She indicated that a person can only accurately provide information regarding three generations.

They can provide information about themselves, their parents generation and their grandparents generation since they were alive during this period. Any information given prior to that time period would only be hearsay as it was not learned first hand.

She also stated that when one searches the census you must "play the census like you play the piano." You must go back and forth, and also look for their friends and neighbors on the census back and forth. Since most persons marry their friends and neighbors, and they tended to go throughout the new world as a group and not alone.

Ms. Collier also noted the growth in genealogy on the Internet and indicated that if a genealogist wasn't using the Internet to do their research, they were truly missing out, since it was the way of the genealogy future.

Two of the web addresses provided by Ms. Collier were <http://www.sirnet.net/~lgarris/swogs> the Southwest Genealogy Society as well as <http://www.connect.net/beau/fgs/fgs.htm> the address of the Federation of Genealogy Societies.

Fall gardening meeting topic

"Fall: It's a Great Season for Gardening" was title of the slide presentation and talk given Friday by County Extension Agent Mark Terning for the meeting of Iowa Park Garden Club.

Terning said that information could be obtained on home computers and for those not owning computers, he suggested visiting the local library.

Slides from many cities throughout the country were shown to illustrate the different types of gardens.

A monochromatic garden is one using several different flowers, all of one color.

Plants that are bright red or yellow are best for attracting butterflies, Terning said.

He commented that Lantana is one of his favorites and invited club members to visit the test plot in Lucy Park. It contains 16 varieties. The plant requires no pesticides.

An article on forcing bulbs was included in the handout entitled, "Over the Garden Gate."

A visit to the Will Rogers Arboretum in Oklahoma City was recommended by Terning.

During the business meeting led by Bonnie Illingworth, president, the club's entry of a green 1957 Chevrolet in the Homecoming Parade and their Annual Flower Show were discussed.

"Memories," an original poem by a Wichita Falls student, was read by Norma Fortner, chaplain, for the Thought of the Day.

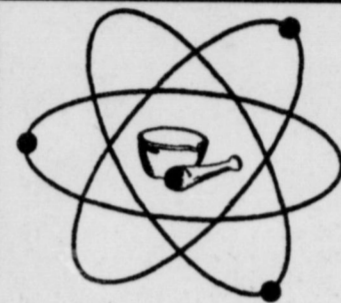

Stormy Mikkelson and Louise Clapp were hostesses for the meeting.

Joyce Short brought a beautiful Mexican Heather in a hanging basket for the horticulture display.

Pat Zeigler, daughter of Jo Gilbert, was a guest. There were 18 members in attendance.

The program is held each Friday that public schools are in session from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. for children ages two to six. Cost for the day is $6.00 or $1.50 per hour. For more information or to enroll your child, call the RAC at 592-4471.

Don and Jo Ann Taylor

Couple feted on 25th anniversary

Don and Jo Ann Taylor recently were honored in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary with a reception for family and friends in the home of Mrs. Taylor's mother, Lorene Mills.

Her sister Brenda Mills and niece Kayla Mills assisted with the reception.

Taylor, son of Mr. and Thurman Taylor of Abilene, and the former Jo Ann Mills were married Aug. 18, 1971 in Eden Hills Baptist Church in Wichita Falls.

Taylor is an inspector for Hartford Insurance Co., and Mrs. Taylor is a housewife.

They have two sons, Jeffery

Don, 19, and Thomas Ray, 14, a student in Iowa Park Junior High School.

Reusch gives political program for Amity

Annetta Reusch was program speaker for the Monday evening meeting of Amity Study Club held in the home of Mary Mynatt.

Program for the evening was titled, "The Presidential Election and Local Politics".

Roll was answered by each member naming a political candidate and the party he represents.

In depth research by Mrs. Reusch revealed a sobering note. Only 3,000 voters from a field of 73,000 registered voters exercised their constitutional right to vote in the last election.

"This low turnout reflects either apathy or a lack of trust in the voting process to make a real difference in our present government," Mrs. Reusch said.

The speaker gave the original definition of the two-party system. She said the Democratic party was for the common man, "A government by the people and for the people, the right to govern themselves."

The Republican party was for "Representatives being elected by the people to represent and speak for the people, usually the wealthy."

Mrs. Reusch said that voters in the 1990s are more apt to vote a mixed ballot, choosing between all parties.

A mock election was held with the presidential outcome: Dole 13, Clinton, 2. Other offices were mixed between both parties. A deep concern for the spiritual and moral condition of the nation was expressed by all 16 members present.

The meditation, "Ways to Get Along With Others," written by the North Dakota PTA, was given by Sheri Kennedy.

The Federation report was given by Mrs. Reusch, concerning the proper interaction and respect between officers and members conducive to a positive and enjoyable relationship. The treasurer's report revealed that the Whoop-T-Do was a success. Also volunteers for the Tom Burnett Memorial Library project "Santa's Castle" were requested of the members.

A joint meeting will be held Nov. 4, by 23 Study Club and Amity Study Club at the library. Justice of the Peace Janice Sons will be guest speaker.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mynatt and her co-hostess, Marilyn Hale.

Neighborhood Watch group meets

Pleasant Valley Estates Neighborhood Watch Association held its first meeting following summer vacation in the home of Brenda Gallitan and Valeta Givens. Neighborhood meetings usually are held monthly.

The PVE Chapter was reinstated in the fall of 1992. It is a very active membership, using a special decal to mark legal vehicles who belong in the area. Vehicles belonging to frequent visitors to the area also have identifying markings.

This tracking system enables persons living in PVE to be alerted to strangers or questionable movement in the area.

Neighborhood Watch programs are an excellent way citizens can have a direct hand in the function and safety of their neighborhood, and it is a definite plus on the War on Crime.

PVE Neighborhood Watch members urge others to investigate this positive action for their neighborhood.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

I suspect there are a great number of business people in Wichita Falls who would gladly trade all the members of their city council for those on the Plainview city council.

The reason? Plainview's elected leaders recently rejected a proposal to restrict smoking in "common areas" of stores, restaurants and most other commercial establishments.

And it wasn't defeated by a narrow margin, unless you count 5-1 against narrow.

I loved some of the quotes in the Oct. 9 issue of the Plainview Daily Herald that were attributed to some elected officials, concerning the proposal which had been made by the Health Department.

Frankly, I've said the same things after following the situation in Wichita Falls and other cities where such ordinances have been passed.

Plainview Mayor Lloyd Woods said "it's just another law on what businesses can do and can't do."

Alderman Gary Garrison, who owns a string of convenience stores in the area, was the most vocal.

He referred to the proposal as a "guise" masking the "real issue: control. Who should have control of a business? It's up to the customers to decide. They have the right not to trade with us."

He went on to say that "if health department inspectors need something to do, let them enforce the laws already in place (primarily on sales to minors). But let's not add another law. It just clogs up the system."

Then he added, "no merchants have ever been charged with selling tobacco to minors, apparently it's (the law) not enforced."

Congratulations to the Plainview city council members. They've recognized that government's place is not to interfere with businesses which are operating under the laws of the land.

And they don't need more interference from government -- home, state or federal.

suit by Burlington Northern Santa Fe Railroad, aldermen reluctantly voided its ordinances intended to regulate the speed in which trains can travel through the city, and another requiring advance notification that units carrying hazardous materials were to pass through.

Mayor Hunter explained that the city does not have the finances to do battle with the giant corporation in court, in hopes of protecting residents.

The federal government has taken away the city's ability to regulate a train's speed, aldermen were told.

Another ordinance approved changes the zoning of lots in the 500 block of West Washington, from convenience commercial to general residential.

After approving a resolution allowing the write-off of debts owed the city for fiscal year 1995-96, aldermen then approved a proposal to increase water meter deposits for any customers wishing service and who had previously moved while still owing a bill.

Bad debts for the year amounted to $2,665.42. A list of those customers and the amounts owed the city will be printed in the Iowa Park Leader.

City personnel keep a record of all who leave owing the city, and if and when they return seeking new connections, they will be required to put up a $100 deposit for service in the city, or $150 outside the city.

In addition, efforts are continued to contact anyone who moves while owing a debt, in an effort to collect it, aldermen were told.

Administrator Mike Price was given authorization to seek voluntary inclusion into the city's extra-territorial jurisdiction, which can extend three miles outside the city limits.

Such action by property owners would prohibit their property from being included in the jurisdiction of Wichita Falls; should it expand further toward Iowa Park.

Aldermen also held a lengthy session which was closed to the public, for the purpose of "... considering appointment, employment, evaluation, reassignment, duties, discipline or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges against a public officer or employee."

No action was taken once the council returned to open session.

Other actions taken during the meeting included:

- * approved increasing rental fees to use facilities of the Tom Burnett Memorial Library;
- * approved granting a waiver for Cub Scouts to place solicitation notices on residential doors, asking for donations to the local Food Bank;
- * held the third and final public hearing concerning the city's curfew ordinance;
- * approved authorizing the administrator to advertise for bids to purchase a truck;
- * approved execution of a contract with Governmental Service Agency to administer the 1996 Texas Community Development Program grant;
- * authorized prohibiting fishing at Lake Gordon today and Friday, in preparation for the annual KIDFISH project which is to be held Saturday.

Did'ja hear about the boss who was always curt and doctoral?

His style of management was to give orders and expect workers to follow them with no questions asked. He asked a new employee about his previous employment. "I worked in a barbershop," came the employee's nervous reply.

"OK, give me a haircut," commanded the boss, calling for his secretary to bring scissors and a comb. The new worker was stunned but did as he was commanded and administered the haircut.

When the employer saw the results, he was infuriated.

"You call this a haircut? My gardener could do better!," he stormed.

"He probably could," agreed the employee. "My job was shining shoes."

August good business month

August proved to be a good month for businesses in Iowa Park, according to a report from the state comptroller's office.

In fact, businesses here experienced a greater increase over the same month in 1995 than those in the other cities in Wichita County.

Iowa Park received a sales tax rebate check this month for $17,792.91, which was 3.48 percent greater than October's rebate in 1995.

Only Burkburnett, with a 1.70 percent increase, was on the "plus" side, according to the report. Electra was down 9.48 percent and Wichita Falls 1.22 percent less than last year.

For the year, Iowa Park has received $218,740.50 in sales tax rebates, and that is 5.13 percent greater than the same period last year, according to the report.

Holiday is up 9.54 percent for the year, having received $55,897.05 thus far.

Letters to Editor policy explained

The Leader receives numerous letters which cannot, for one reason or another, be published.

Letters will not be printed unless they are signed. A typed name will not do. And, for the sake of verification, the writer's telephone should be included.

Should the writer not wish his/her name printed, it will be omitted upon request. However, the letter will be kept on file to be read upon request.

Letters also must be free of libel. If not, they will not be published, because we will not edit the content of any letter.

In letters supporting political candidates or issues, the Leader reserves the right to limit their lengths.

We encourage your Letters to the Editor, and offer the paper space as your forum for discussions of ideas and observations.

WORTH QUOTING

Flash.

"Rush Limbaugh announces boycott of all movies starring John Wayne."

Obviously that's an example of a totally false news item.

But wouldn't a headline like that catch your attention? Wouldn't it seem extremely strange, if not impossible, if you read it or heard it somewhere?

The late John Wayne was not only a movie star legend during his years in Hollywood, he was also a life-long, right wing, conservative activist who had very close ties to the Republican Party. It wouldn't make sense for ultra-conservative Rush Limbaugh to boycott John Wayne movies, would it?

"Rush boycotts Wayne."

No way. It's just too contradictory. It's kind of like saying "dry water" or "tiny giants." The two things just don't go together at all.

If my memory serves me correctly, I believe my former English teachers called this type of speech, "oxymoron."

I always thought that just plain "moron" would have been a better word for it but they never asked me.

Anyway, it's fun to come up with your own contradictory sentences or newspaper headlines that stretch the boundaries of the possible.

Okay, I have another one for you. Here it is:

"Jesse Jackson and supporters picket the Academy Awards Show."

Wouldn't that be strange? Doesn't that stretch the boundaries of the possible?

Jesse Jackson, a former and possibly future Democratic Party presidential candidate, protesting the Hollywood Industry's biggest and most popular night of the year. How ludicrous.

I mean we're talking about an industry that year after year blatantly supports the Democratic Party over the Republicans.

We're talking about the Hollywood elite who dished out $615,000 to the Democratic Party last year while investing a whopping $5,750 into the GOP.

Yes, the Hollywood industry run by the likes of David Geffen, Steven Spielberg, Lew Wasserman and Syd Sheinberg who each kicked in $100,000 to the Democratic National Committee last year.

"Jesse Jackson and supporters picked the Academy Awards Show."

Ha!

Sound contradictory?

So ludicrous.

So insane.

So true.

As we all know by now Jesse Jackson and supporters did stage a protest Monday night during the Oscar presentation. Jackson was upset about the low percentage of black nominees this year and about the low percentage of roles that were available to black actors and actresses in general in 1995.

Whether you agree with him or not, you have to admit it must have put almost everyone in an awkward position.

Steven Spielberg probably had to say something like this: "I fully support Jesse Jackson's fight against the racist Hollywood elite. I join with Jesse in his hatred of me and all of my friends. We're despicable."

And as for Jesse Jackson, talk about biting the hand that feeds you.

It's ironic though that in the magical world of movie make-believe, truth is definitely stranger than fiction.

But when you really think about it... I guess it's always been this way.

SEAN McBEATH
Burkburnett Informer/Star

Having set down the course of enforced remodeling of our home because of the failure of the ceiling in one bedroom, a strange phrase keeps popping up in my head.

"Beware of the $10,000 throw pillow!"

The throw pillow tale had a very simple beginning. Two friends of mine who lived outside Houston were out driving on a beautiful spring day. As they sailed down a nearly deserted country road they passed a yard sale in progress.

Having nothing better to do, the couple swung their truck around and decided to have a go at some "recreational" shopping. As is the usual at such events, Bob took off in one direction to look at the "guy stuff" -- worn out tools, broken lawn mowers, out-of-date sporting goods and such.

His wife, Julie, invested her time in pawing through piles of "gal stuff" -- clothes, knickknacks, kitchen utensils and other household "treasures."

After they were separated for a while, Bob heard Julie calling him. "Bob, you have got to come over here! You can't believe what I found!"

Thinking she might have uncovered a priceless antique or a rare gem, Bob rushed to her side. She was standing there holding a nearly new throw pillow at arm's length, turning it slowly in the light.

"Look at those colors, Bob," she said. "Isn't that the most beautiful combination that you have ever seen?"

Bob had been married long enough to know that it was very hazardous to the health to question the decorating expertise of a spouse. So, he heartily agreed with his wife.

After a few moments of haggling with the sponsor of the yard sale, Julie was able to get the price of the pillow down to 50 cents. Cheerfully paying her half buck, Julie became the owner of a nearly new throw pillow.

Bob carried the new purchase to the truck and placed it on the front seat for the ride home. Little did he know what that four-bit pillow had in store.

Once they got to their home, Julie placed the new pillow on the living room sofa. Again she marveled at the way the colors interacted. "I have been looking for that all my life," she said.

All through the next week, Bob noticed his wife was sinking into a deep funk. Finally, he asked her what was the matter.

"Well," she said, "that new pillow is so pretty. If we could just find some new furniture in those colors it would make our livingroom just beautiful."

After a little persuasion, Bob was talked into going furniture shopping the next weekend. Touring all the stores in a 50-mile radius, Bob and Julie finally found the proper combination of colors and pieces to fill their livingroom.

Once the new sofa, loveseat and side chair were delivered and put in the proper place, Julie immediately brightened. By then, Bob was getting into the redecorating spirit.

In a few days they decided that the new furniture made their old carpet look somewhat shabby. Sample books were hauled in from the stores and a selection made.

The new carpet matched the new furniture perfectly, but on closer inspection the couple decided that the walls of the room could use some work. Applying a little paint and wallpaper fixed that problem.

A few days later, Bob came home from work and Julie was busy with a bundle of fabric scraps. When he asked her what she was doing, she replied, "Everyone knows you need new drapes when you paint or wallpaper a room."

After hearing the story of the $10,000 throw pillow over dinner at Bob and Julie's home one evening I had to admit that the final result was very nice. But the tale has stuck with me in the reforming of an old adage:

"From small throw pillows, large home improvement projects grow and grow and grow."

JIM HUDSON
Perryton Herald

Got a minute? The likely answer is, "No." Everybody is in a hurry.

In a national poll, 59% of Americans describe their lives as too busy. Some of the people surveyed said managing time is a bigger problem than managing money.

A lot of people go to work early, trying to make up the time they know they're going to waste later in the day. Some of the wasted time has to do with interruptions by others, and some of it lies in our own management.

"Leisure time" seems to be a popular phrase these days. Leisure time requires money. If you're working, you don't have time to spend. If you have time off, there are all kinds of ways to spend money you don't have because you're not working enough.

Another survey says many Americans are stressed out and need to learn to relax during their free time. "Free time" is not in the dictionary, but I don't think it's the same as "leisure time." I believe free time means mowing the grass, pulling weeds and watering the lawn.

Everything, including time, is relative. A man scolded a fisherman who had been sitting on a river bank for hours.

"I've been watching you for two hours and you haven't caught a thing. What a waste of time!"

"Shoot," said the fisherman, "Wasting time is watching for two hours when you could've been fishing!"

Cemetery workday scheduled

Update on expansion of the cemetery was discussed at the quarterly meeting of Highland Cemetery Association held Sunday at the RAC., and a workday was scheduled.

The meeting opened with prayer by Taylor George. Garland Lehman, president, presided.

The workday was slated for Saturday, starting at 8:30 a.m. on the cemetery grounds. Survey stakes are in place on Lehman Gardens, and workers are needed to drive permanent stakes and pour cement around them.

Volunteers are asked to bring sledge hammers, posthole diggers and wheel barrows. Anyone who can help, give your name to Sandra at the cemetery office, 592-4412.

Some trees have been felled to make room for fence construction. These will be given to anyone who would like to use them for firewood. Those who would like to have them should call the cemetery office.

The pavilion will be painted in the near future. Plans for a new storage area for tractor equipment and new gates at cemetery entrances were discussed.

A nominating committee with Herb Adcock as chairman was elected. Those serving with him are Pat Aulds, Reat Spuiell and Larry Dutton.

COOK of the WEEK

Kristy Hale

Kristy and Brett Hale recently moved to Iowa Park from Lubbock after he decided to open a law practice in his hometown.

The couple have a two-year-old daughter, Bethany, and are expecting a second child in February.

Brett opted to open his own practice, instead of working for a large law firm, so he would have more time to spend with his family. Also, the couple's parents live close by, and Bethany will be able to spend more time with them.

Kristy grew up in Henrietta and is a 1988 graduate of Henrietta High School, where she ran track and played basketball.

She met Brett, a 1987 graduate of Iowa Park High School, when she was a junior and he was a senior high school student.

They both went to Texas Tech University where Kristy received a BS degree in Exercise and Sports Science. She said eventually she would like to be a teacher and coach.

At Tech, Brett earned a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration and Accounting, and his Doctorate in Jurisprudence.

Kristy's favorite pastimes are walking and reading. She is also a sports fan and likes to watch athletic events.

She and Brett like to play tennis, and although they are fans of all Texas Tech's athletic teams, Kristy said they always get season tickets for the women's basketball games.

Kristy said she didn't learn to cook until after she married. "Being the youngest of four children, I always got the job of setting the table," she said.

Kristy likes shrimp, and included in her recipes is a favorite for "Marinated Shrimp & Vegetables."

Marinated Shrimp & Vegetables

- 1 lb. cooked shrimp
- 1 cup cauliflowerets
- 4 ozs. whole mushrooms
- 1 cup sliced zucchini
- 1 large green pepper, cut in squares
- 1 large red pepper, cut in squares
- 3/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 Tbsp. green onion, chopped
- 2 tsps. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. dried dill weed
- 5 drops hot pepper sauce
- 3/4 cup vegetable oil

Place shrimp, cauliflower, mushrooms, zucchini and bell peppers in large shallow dish.

In small bowl, combine all remaining ingredients except oil; mix well. Add oil; whisk or shake well. Pour over shrimp mixture. Cover; chill 6 hours or overnight, stirring occasionally. Garnish as desired.

Savory Glazed Meatballs

- 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
- 8 oz. can water chestnuts, drained and finely chopped

- 2 eggs
- 1/3 cup dry bread crumbs
- 1 Tbsp. beef flavor instant bouillon
- 16 oz. jar peach preserves
- 12 oz. bottle chili sauce
- 1.5 oz. pkg. onion soup mix

In large bowl, combine beef, water chestnuts, eggs, crumbs and bouillon; mix well. Shape into 1 1/2-inch meatballs. Brown meatballs. Combine all remaining ingredients; mix well. Over low heat, cook and stir 5 minutes. Add meatballs; simmer uncovered 10 minutes. Garnish as desired.

Wild Rice Salad

- 9 oz. pkg. long grain and wild rice
- Cook according to directions and chill.
- 1 lb. mushrooms, thinly sliced
- 1 bunch green onions, tops and bottoms chopped
- 1/4 cup oil
- 3 Tbsps. tarragon vinegar
- 1/4 tsp. Dijon mustard
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. sugar

Combine the rice, mushrooms and onions; mix well. Combine all remaining ingredients and toss with rice mixture. Chill before serving.

Baked Squash

- 1 1/2 lbs. squash
- 2 Tbsps. butter
- 1/2 cup cracker crumbs
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 egg
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 onion, sauteed
- 1/4 tsp. paprika

Cook squash until tender then drain. Add beaten egg, onions, cracker crumbs, milk and butter. Put in greased baking dish. Sprinkle top with paprika. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees.

Swiss Chicken Quiche

- 1 - 9 inch unbaked pastry shell, pricked
- 2 cups cubed cooked chicken
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
- 2 Tbsps. flour
- 1 Tbsp. chicken flavor instant bouillon
- 1 cup milk
- 3 eggs, well beaten

- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 2 Tbsps. chopped green bell pepper
- 2 Tbsps. chopped pimiento
- Preheat oven to 425 degrees.
- Bake pastry shell 8 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees.

In medium bowl, toss cheese with flour and bouillon; add all remaining ingredients. Mix well and pour into prepared pastry shell. Bake 40 to 45 minutes or until set. Let stand 10 minutes before serving.

Mixed Greens with Raspberry Vinaigrette

- 1/2 cup walnut pieces
- 1/3 cup vegetable oil
- 2 1/2 Tbsps. raspberry vinegar
- 1 Tbsp. chopped shallot
- 1/2 tsp. sugar
- 2 cups torn Romaine lettuce leaves
- 2 cups torn spinach leaves
- 2 cups torn red leaf lettuce leaves
- 1 cup halved red seedless grapes

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. To toast walnuts, spread in single layer on baking sheet. Bake 6 to 8 minutes or until lightly golden brown, stirring frequently. Cool; coarsely chop; set aside.

Place oil, vinegar, shallot, salt and sugar in small bowl. Whisk together until mixed. Cover; refrigerate 6 hours up to 1 week. Combine greens, grapes and walnuts in large bowl. Just before serving, add dressing; toss well to coat.

JAKE DILLARD CATCHES 36-YARDER TO SET UP SECOND TD OF THE GAME

Hawks humble Bobcats, 42-7

What was billed as the biggest game of the season quickly turned into an Iowa Park rout as the Hawks jumped out to a 35-0 lead, then cruised to a 42-7 district opening win over Childress Friday night at Hawk Stadium.

The Bobcats, 2-3-1 overall and 0-1 in league play, were never in this one after they fumbled on the game's first play.

Jed Taylor pounced on the loose ball at the Childress 38 and four plays later on a fourth-and-1 from the Bobcat 26-yard line, quarterback Todd Yeager called his own number on a bootleg play and went in untouched for the score. Keith Trammell kicked the first of his six extra points to give Iowa Park the 7-0 lead with only 1:27 gone off the clock.

The Hawks put up 21 big points in the second quarter to take control of the game with 14 of those points coming in a span of only 10 seconds.

Brandon Holley's interception, his second straight game with a pick, set up the Hawk offense at the Bobcat 48 with 10:44 left in the half. Seven plays later Yeager dove over from a yard out to make the score 14-0 with 7:26 remaining. The big play of the drive was a 36-yard completion from Yeager to Jake Dillard that moved the ball to the one. Dillard finished the night with two catches for 58 yards, including a 22-yard touchdown in the third quarter.

Leading 14-0 with 2:01 left in the first half, Iowa Park took over at its own 21-yard line and marched 79 yards for the score when Brandon Brown scored from 3 yards out to cap a nine-play drive. Big plays in the drive included a 20-yard run by Shawn Fulfer, who had to leave the game in the third quarter with an ankle injury, a 21-yard completion from Yeager to Tres Beisch and a 22-yard scamper by Yeager on a third-and-11. Brown's touchdown, his eighth of the season, gave Iowa Park a 21-0 lead with just 13 seconds left in the first half in which the Hawks rolled up 177 yards in total offense to only 34 for Childress.

The Bobcats took the ensuing kick-off at their own 41-yard line and on the first play from scrimmage, Brown stepped in front of a pass intended for Mark Evans and saw nothing but end zone in front of him as he went untouched 43-yards for the touchdown to give his team a 28-0 halftime lead.

Iowa Park built the lead to 35-0 when the Hawks took the second half kick-off and marched 80 yards in seven plays for the score when Yeager hit Dillard with a 22-yard scoring strike with 9:31 left in the quarter. Fulfer had a pair of big runs in the drive, a 21 and a 24 yarder, to set up the score.

Childress got on the board with 5:48 left in the third on a 17-yard screen pass on a fourth-and-9 play. Justin Keys took the pass from K.C. Murray on a middle screen for the touchdown. Cody Favors added the point after for the Bobcats.

Childress had the ball first-and-goal from the Hawk 6-yard line with 8:30 left in the game but fumbled it away as Jonathan Club covered the loose ball for Iowa Park to end the scoring threat.

The Hawks made the score 42-7 when Calvin Galliton, who came on for the injured Fulfer in the fourth quarter, scored his first touchdown of the season on a 2-yard run with 1:22 left in the game. Galliton's run capped a 94-yard 15-play drive, all on the ground, that chewed up 7:08 off the clock to slam the door on the Bobcats.

The Hawks ran for 296 yards in the game with Yeager leading the way with 79, Brown finished with 76, Fulfer with 69 and Galliton with 58.
