Church Ushers Review Duties

Ushers of the Baptist church had their quarterly meeting Thursday night under the leadership of A. L. Halbert, general chairman. On the invitation list were Joe Exater, Allen Guthrie, Wesley Davis, Orville Deary, T. E. Gilbreath, Bud McDonald, F. W. Wright, Donald Hill, A. R. Watson, Malcolm Mills, Truman Manes, Herman Felty, Junior Guthrie, Ted Averitt, H. L. Kingcade, Fred Parkey and Richard Hill. The meeting consisted of a review of past performance of duties and a refreshment period.

HOUSE NUMBERING

With the exception of several new streets, the streets of Iowa Park have been marked clearly by the marker committee—Chairman J. K. Bradshaw, W. R. Pastussek and the FFA boys.

Several months ago the house numbering committee composed of Chairman Earle L. Denny and representatives of the utilities: Carl Walsh, Rodney Weaver, W. I. Pastussek and Miss Doss Smith worked out a map with the houses correctly numbered.

And now the suggestion has been made that the C of C devise some plan to furnish every person with the correct number of his house. How best to do this is being considered by the house numbering committee. So—more about this later.

Your C. of C.

By Ruth Hill Yeargan

Speakers at the West Texas C of C 35th annual convention in Wichita Falls this week gave pertinent facts that were most challenging. Theme of the convention was the "Conservation of Soil, Water and Oil."

Among the outstanding speakers was Dr. Harold G. Cooke, president of McMurry college, Abilene, who was guest minister at the First Methodist church in a union church service the first evening of the convention. Mr. Cooke spoke here last summer in the Starlight Worship series.

J. Everts Haley, director of the Institute of Americanism at Texas Tech, brought the keynote address "Americanism without Apology," on Monday morning. At luncheon on Tuesday, Joe S. Bridwell of Wichita Falls, past president of WTCC, spoke on "Soil Restoration in West Texas," and Paul Walsler, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, discussed "Soil Conservation under Drought Conditions."

The afternoon convention session had three speakers on water management and conservation projects in operation in West Texas: Sam W. Cooper, manager, Central Colorado River Authority; Joe Pickle, secretary, Colorado River Municipal Water District; and Tom McFarland, manager, Hi-Plains Underground Water District.

J. E. Thomas, chairman, state-wide water committee and president, Texas Electric Service company, talked on "Objectives of the Statewide Water Committee."

The breakfast for directors, presidents and managers Monday morning was attended by WTCC Director Ted Overbey, President W. R. Pastussek and Manager Ruth Hill Yeargan.

Attending the Action Meetings during the day were Pastussek, industrial committee; M. C. Yeargan, highway; Fred Parkey and L. E. Brooks, agricultural and livestock; Mrs. Yeargan, community services committee; and A. L. Reed, water resources.

Dr. James W. Fifield, Jr. of Los Angeles was speaker at the dinner Monday evening at the Midwestern university Student Center. His subject "Immorality in Government is Your Business. Dr. Fifield placed responsibility for moral revival in America squarely on the individual.

Fifield is considered one of the great inspirational speakers of today. He is a leading member of the citizens committee of the Hoover Commission, founder of Freedom Club and the Spiritual Mobilization movement. He has a weekly radio audience of 250,000 and at times his mail is so abundant it has to be delivered by truck.

Top West Texan awards at the dinner were presented to J. S. Bridwell of Wichita Falls for soil conservation; J. B. Thomas for water conservation; L. Col. Ernest O. Thompson for oil conservation. Retiring President Frank H. Kelly was given a plaque for his outstanding activities as president and as chairman of the taxation and legislation committee.

Tuesday's speakers were Colonel Thompson on "Oil and Gas Conservation Significance in West Texas," and Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman discussed "UN Agreements Abridge US Constitution."

In the closing business session R. Wright Armstrong of Ft. Worth, vice-president of the Fort Worth & Denver railway, was elected to head WTCC. Fred H. Husbands of Abilene was re-elected executive vice-president and general manager; and Ed S. Stewart of Abilene was named treasurer.

San Angelo was selected as convention site for 1953.

SPECIAL WEEKS
It seems that every week is getting to be a special time for something: We recently observed Fire Prevention Week, then celebrated Oil Progress Week, and now there comes to our office posters promoting National Rice Week. "Eat rice today and every day," says the poster; "write for the rice recipe book" too.

Well, we'll write for several of the books—and if you like rice you may have one. There may be some good eating in it.

UN Sponsors Training Of Foreign Airmen At Sheppard AFB

Capt. George H. Ingle, foreign training officer at Sheppard Air Force Base, discussed highlights and functions of United Nations activities on the Base before members of the Lions club here Tuesday.

"Training of foreign students is not new in this country; we have been doing work along that line for 25 years," Mr. Ingle said. "In earlier years it was done on an exchange basis."

Students from 40 nations receive training under the Mutual Defense Assistance program. Since the plan has been in effect there have been some 900 students from 23 countries trained at Sheppard, Ingle revealed.

Teaching foreign students democracy and the customs of America specially interests Mr. Ingle. It is our job to get these students out into our communities and let them see how we live, work, worship and vote, he explained.

After completing about half a year of training in the United States, these students return to their native countries and carry on as instructors and leaders. Only the best men are sent here for training.

A. L. Reed, Lions club president, announced annual Ladies Night will be Tuesday, Nov. 18, and appointed Sam H. Hill and George R. Huckaby as program committee.

Many Stockmen Buy Drought Relief Hay

Bob Crocker, PMA officer for Wichita county, has been advised that orders placed now for hay under the drought emergency program will not be delivered for approximately six weeks.

Mr. Crocker said the delay is caused by the tremendous number of orders for hay for use in Texas. Shipments will be arriving daily in the county from orders already placed, he said.

The feed has been arriving here at the rate of two or three cars a day. Tuesday 17 cars had been delivered to Burk Burnett, Electra, Wichita Falls and Iowa Park.

Quality of the hay is good, and farmers are finding it a lifesaver for their stock.

Musician Honored

Miss Caroline Sewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sewell, represented the Hawk band last Monday afternoon at the West Texas C of C convention in Wichita Falls. One student from each area band was a visiting student playing with the Midwest band in a parade for the visitors.

Caroline has won honors at Waukegan and Denton as student director and in solo and ensemble with the flute and piccolo. She has been exposed to music all her life, as her mother is a music teacher and choir director.

"Besides band instruments she plays the piano and organ and is a member of the Methodist choir.

Caroline is an honor student in high school and was valedictorian of her class in junior high. She has always taken time out from her music and study to play football, baseball and run races with her three brothers Pat, Mickey and David.

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Simpson have returned from a visit to his old home in Hartselle, Ala.

Farmers Union speaks

Nearly 75 officers and members of District 3, Farm Bureau, met in the YWCA building, Wichita Falls, Monday with their state convention and the dry weather principal topics of discussion.

It was the annual meeting of the presidents and secretaries of 14 counties.

On the program were discussions of the state convention, resolutions and laws by Lois Barbour of Iowa Park, district director, and talks by H. A. Blevin, president of the Wilbarger Farm Bureau; Garland Eubank, secretary of the Wichita Falls Production-Credit association; and E. F. Hornback, alternate director of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Mary Eckelkamp, Mrs. John Wesley and Mrs. Gene Tonn.

County Farm Bureau directors in a called session Monday elected to serve as a nominating committee to report at the county annual meeting Nov. 3 were: Carl Greene, Mrs. Arthur Evert, Terrell Graham and Herbert Detmer.

Sol Tuttle, Electra, membership chairman, designated the directors as leaders in their respective areas and they will select four teams of two or more, who will meet with the director Monday night, Oct. 27, for last minute details. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be membership drive days. Friday will report, and Monday, Nov. 3, a caravan of Farm Bureau members will make a cleanup of those missed.

Tuesday night, Oct. 28, the resolutions committee with T. J. Pace acting as chairman, will meet at the Farm Bureau office in Iowa Park. The committee is composed of 20 or more representatives from all over the county. State Representative Tony Fenoglio of Nocona will feature election of officers and directors and the adoption of resolutions which will be sent to the State Convention that will be held in San Antonio, Nov. 10-12. The County Annual Meeting will be in the auditorium of Iowa Park High School and the public is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Tuesday night of this week T. H. (Dutch) Eckelkamp, president of Wichita County Farm Bureau; Mrs. Eckelkamp, publicity chairman; and Mrs. John Wesley, secretary-treasurer, attended the Tillman County (Okla.) Annual Meeting at which the state president, John I. Taylor, was principal speaker. The meeting opened with a barbecue supper. About 200 were in attendance.

Water Use Restricted On Irrigated Farms Rotation Plan Used

Due to the shortage of water, directors of Wichita County Water Improvement Districts 1 and 2 have found it necessary to pass certain rules and regulations in order to conserve water in Lakes Kemp and Diversion.

To explain these regulations there will be meetings at the following locations:

Community House, Monday, Oct. 27, at 8:00 o'clock.

City View School, Tuesday, Oct. 28, at 8:00 o'clock.

Valley View School, Thursday, Oct. 30, at 8:00 o'clock.

The rules are substantially as follows:

1. No user shall be entitled to the use of water without having presented a request therefor to a designated employee of said District.
2. Upon request for water, the District will not be bound or obligated to furnish water except pursuant to the rotation arrangement of certain designated days.
3. The District may, after request has been made for the delivery of water, reserve the right to withhold delivery for a reasonable time, until in the sole discretion of the management, sufficient users in the area covered by the request shall have presented their requests for water.
4. Each and every user of water shall be required to maintain his ditches or watering system on his land in such manner that said land may be watered without waste. If, at any time, a ditch-rider deems the ditches or system of the user of such nature as to permit waste and defeat the plan for conservation of water, the ditch-rider may notify the user, and until such condition is remedied the District shall have the right to refuse water to such user.
5. That not more than four inches of water per acre will be permitted a single user at any one watering and no user shall be permitted to water for more than two hours for each acre of land except when, in the sole discretion of the ditch-rider, a sufficient head of water is not continuously available.
6. The District shall have the right to refuse to deliver water to any land other than irrigable land as indicated by the records of said District.
7. No water shall be turned out of any ditch, canal or lateral to any user unless such user is present at the point of delivery at the time he is notified that such water will be turned on.
8. Each user shall be required to continuously remain upon the land for the purpose of manipulating the water from the time the water is turned into the system of the user until his demand has been satisfied, except as is herein limited.
9. All water furnished the user shall be rotated in such manner as to conserve and prevent waste.
10. All requests for water will be considered only according to the rotation schedule available for inspection on file in the District office.
11. No user shall suffer a condition to exist on his land nor shall he do or perform any act thereon while watering, which will permit water to be wasted by drainage into roads or ditches or to be wasted in any other manner.
12. No user shall be permitted to manipulate the flow of water from the District's canals or laterals, the regulation of any gate, check, lock or turnout belonging to the District except with permission of or at the instruction of a ditch-rider of the District.
13. No user or any other person shall inactively tamper with, destroy or damage any gate, check, lock or any other property of any kind belonging to the District, whether the same be located upon property belonging to said District or not.
14. All requests for water shall be tendered in such manner that the District shall have at least three days time in which to deliver water.
15. In the event of a violation of any or all of the above rules and regulations, the ditch-rider may cause the delivery of water to such user to be stopped and such user shall not thereafter be entitled to receive water until his next regular rotating period.

Red Cross to Have Openhouse Sunday

J. T. Dotson, chapter chairman of the Red Cross, Wichita Falls, announced this week an openhouse to be held next Sunday from 4:00 to 7:00 p.m. This event honors the fifth anniversary of the opening of Wichita County's blood bank.

People of Iowa Park are especially invited to attend the openhouse, since our citizens have always shown great interest in the program, and have been some of its heaviest blood donors.

Soil Conservation

The Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District includes the Wichita irrigated valley. To develop this valley to its potential would increase the food and fiber available for human use many times and its cash returns a like amount.

The supervisors of the District would like to point out some of the things that should be considered in a conservation irrigation system. The objective is to provide for the maximum use of rainfall and for safe disposal of the excess; to apply the required amounts of irrigation water without waste or erosion; and maintain soil productivity. To obtain this, work should start with consideration of suitability of soils for irrigation. This includes soil depth, rate at which it will take water, slope, size of soil particles, the way soil particles form together, the amount of water the soil will hold, chemicals in the soil, underlying layers, drainage and quality of water.

The soil must be open to permit the removal of and control accumulations of harmful salts, if such salts are in the water being used. It must absorb water fast enough to prevent water standing on the surface long enough to cause water logging or drowning of crops.

It must absorb and store large amounts of water for crop usage. It must have sufficient drainage to remove salts and leave a deep feeding zone for plants.

It should be productive and respond to good soil management. It must have little slope, to permit uniform application of water. Soil Conservation Service men furnish district co-operators this information when planning and applying conservation irrigation.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To: Ercelin Summers, Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 30th District Court of Wichita County at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 1st day of December A.D. 1952, then and there to answer Plaintiff's First Amended Petition filed in said Court, on the 13th day of October A.D. 1952, in this cause numbered 50,789-A on the docket of said court and styled Junita Summers, Plaintiff, vs. Ercelin Summers, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

After alleging jurisdiction, plaintiff further alleges that she and defendant were married on or about February 10, 1945 and continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about June 5, 1947, when the defendant without any cause and without any intent to return to plaintiff, left her, and that since said time they have not lived together as man and wife, the plaintiff also alleges that defendant did not support her during the time that they were married and has not supported her since they separated, and that by reason of disagreements and quarrels, plaintiff was forced and compelled to leave defendant, and since said time she has supported herself and that such treatment has rendered their further living together insupportable; that there were no children born of this marriage and that there is no community property;

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein, and that upon trial hereof, she have judgment for divorce and for such other and further relief, in law or in equity, to which she may show herself justly entitled.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The Officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas this 16th day of October A.D. 1952.

Mrs. T. R. Horine led the study period for a meeting of the WSCS Monday morning, Oct. 20, at the Methodist church. Theme was "The Truth Will Make You Free."

Others taking part in the study presentation included Mrs. L. A. Wilcox, Mrs. John Mixon, Mrs. Albert May Jr., Mrs. Otis Gay, Mrs. Fred Widmoyer, Mrs. Dave Harbourn and Mrs. Guy Perdue.

The chapter on "Respecting Minorities" was presented by Mrs. C. B. Smith, Mrs. James Todd, Mrs. Joe Bell, Mrs. James Sewell and Mrs. Horine.

WHY SHOULD YOU BE A TITHER?

Because of what it will do for you. The tithe is not so much God's way of getting money as it is God's way of growing men. Tithers are the happiest Christians you will find. If you want a sense of partnership with God, tithe. If you want joy in your Christian life, tithe.

Because of what it will do for your church. Take your pencil and paper and figure what the income of your church would be if everyone in a Sunday morning congregation were tithers. Can you imagine the new financial power your church would have and the new fields of service for Christ it could enter?

Because a lost world expects it of you. Millions of men are staking their lives to deliver the world from bondage. But the world will be delivered from bondage only through the power of our Lord Jesus Christ. Do you believe that? Yes! Then how much are you giving?

Because God's Word requires it. Four hundred years before Moses and the Law, Abraham tithed. Jesus noted that the Jews were tithing and he told them not to neglect it. He taught men to put God first, being assured that necessary things would be added unto them. Buy a diamond and you get a little box, but buy a little box and you don't get a diamond. When we put primary things first, secondary things will be added.—Paul S. James.

Mrs. R. Y. Smith of Electra was here Saturday and Sunday to see her granddaughter Mrs. Stanley Williamson and grandsons Jeff and Bert.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cockerell of Seymour were here Monday for a visit with her sister Mrs. Bud Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stanley and baby Mike are moving to Chanute Field, where he will be stationed. On their way they will stop in Huntington, Ind., to visit parents of both.

Mack Williams has leased the John A. Hoff dairy farm and has imported a herd of registered jerseys from Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Shook returned from Seattle, Wash., a week ago after a visit with their son and daughter in law Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shook. Ray is stationed there in the navy. They had a nice visit and think Washington is pretty, but will stick to good ole Texas.

Mrs. Charlie Helms and Mrs. Roy Underwood spent Tuesday at Seymour with Mrs. Pete Cooper.

After talking to Joe Cope for a long period of time, he came out with this thought: He said he has 249 rows of cotton and needs 250 pickers—249 to pick and 1 to carry water. Anyone seeing cotton pickers in this quantity, please direct them to the Cope farm.

Producers of Grade A milk in our vicinity are pleased with the conditions of the market since the outside markets are bidding for the milk here. Producers of the North Texas Producers association are asking for the federal order to control milk to be extended to cover the Wichita Falls milk shed. This will improve the dairy condition in our shed since it has been on the decrease since about 1950 on account of market conditions.

Jim Bob Hamill Describes Climbing Trip On Mount Fujiyama, Saw Beautiful Sunrise

Mrs. J. S. Owen recently received a letter from her grandson Jim Bob Hamill, who is serving with the armed forces in Japan. The letter was written to his mother Mrs. Ermagene Hamill of Fort Worth and was sent on to Mrs. Owen.

Young Hamill left the States in March and expects to be overseas about 30 months. The letter, in part, follows:

"I have just finished climbing an ulcer. An ulcer 12,396 feet high, an ulcer so gigantic that it can be seen for 100 miles, and in the past its gangrenous influence was felt by millions.

"This ulcer I speak of is the famous sacred mountain Fujiyama, or Mount Fuji (yama means mountain). And an ulcer is the only thing you can call it. It is a great cone of slag ashes and volcanic rock. You can count three lava flows and the ashes must be thousands of feet thick. As you no doubt know, Fuji was a sacred mountain to the Shinto religion. It was especially sacred to the military and played a part in the war. That is why I say that its gangrenous influence was felt by millions during the war.

"My two roommates and myself had talked about climbing it for some time. But somehow we had put it off. Then the other day we heard that the climbing season would close soon. So we decided to do something about it. I called the special service officer and told him what we wanted to do. He told us that if we would get a three day pass, he would furnish us a jeep for transportation to the base of the mountain, rations and equipment. We got our passes and picked up the jeep and equipment last Saturday and started out. We spent Saturday night camped on one of the fine natural lakes that have formed around the base of the mountain. And early Sunday morning we started our climb.

"At first the going was easy, like walking uphill in a woods, but as we reached the 5,000 foot level, the vegetation thinned out, and the incline became steeper and we began to climb over great lava flows which ran down from the top of the mountain.

"By the time we reached the 7,000 foot level all vegetation was gone and we were standing in volcanic ash and slag. Thousands of acres of it, and towering above us, great frozen rivers of lava. The incline was about 60 degrees now, and the going almost impossible because of the loose ashes under our feet. You had to watch your step now — one misstep and you would fall and roll a thousand feet over jagged volcanic ash and rocks. Here at the 7,000 foot level we left the last sign of civilization we were to see until we reached the top, except a first aid station maintained by the Japanese government. Now it was a slow tortuous trip, one step and if you were not careful, five steps back down. Try to stick your Alpine axe in what looked like solid rock and it would disintegrate and fall down on you. With steps which were oftentimes no more than six inches long, we edged our way up the incline.

"Our packs became so heavy that we thought the strings would cut through our shoulders. But they contained our heavy winter clothes and blankets, also our food, and it was already getting cold. We knew that it would not be long until we would need those heavy clothes to keep us warm.

"Struggling along, already very tired, we saw her lying off to our right—the very still form of a girl. Sgt. Mick and myself dropped our packs and slid down the incline to where she was. We could see where she had fallen—about 75 feet. Her clothes were torn and she was badly bruised and skinned. At first we thought she was dead, but as we turned her over we saw that she was only unconscious. There was only one thing to do—get her back to the first aid station. Luckily she had a climbing staff which the Japanese use when climbing the mountain. Also Sgt. Jones, the other man in our party, had one too.

They are about five feet long and by putting two Army field jackets between them, they made a fairly good litter, especially for a short Japanese. We left our gear there and started down to the first aid station. We made it fairly easy by swapping off now and then, letting one man rest. When we reached the first aid station we also found her friends—two other Japanese girls who had started, but upon reaching the 7,000 foot level, had decided not to go on. But this one girl had elected to go on alone. The attendants examined her and said that she had possible internal injuries, but no broken bones. However, they took her on down the mountain.

"We started back up, and although we were relieved of our packs, we had very hard going. When we reached our packs, we knew we could never make the top for it was already beginning to get dark. There was, however, a shelter at the 11,000 foot level, and we decided to try to make it before bedding down.

"The trip on to the shelter was a nightmare. It grew colder and colder. We walked by patches of snow. We had our field jackets on now but we would not stop to put on heavier clothing because we wanted to make use of every bit of daylight we could. Just before it turned completely dark, we made the shelter—a pile of volcanic rock with a tin roof and a floor—open on one side. We were so exhausted that we struggled into our heavy clothing, wrapped in our blankets and were soon asleep. We were too exhausted to eat.

"We woke up about four Monday morning and found enough wood to build a small fire to heat some water for coffee. We decided to leave our packs where they were and go on to the top, picking them up on our way down. We each had a can of beer with which we were going to toast our success when we reached the top. So we took this out of our packs and put it in our pockets, and started climbing. We got to the top in time to watch the most beautiful sunrise I have ever witnessed.

"It was so cold on the top that we spent only time enough to take some pictures. Then we moved down into the crater, a great hole in the ground, some two and one-half miles across and a thousand feet deep. A few pictures there and we were moving back down the mountain. In all we were there only about three hours."

Seniors

This has been Twirp Week. Most of the girls have enjoyed and made use of it by taking THE MAN out. Just about everyone had a date Tuesday night, which was car ride at the drive-in. We all come to the simple conclusion that it's pretty hard to finance about three dates a week. I don't know how some of these Romeos get by. The sr. boys will probably declare Twirp Week when we go to Carlsbad so we girls will have to pay for everything they do. (Praise be!)

With the absence of our loving principal, W. D., Monday through Wednesday, we had a gay time. There were no tortured screams coming from downstairs—instead, you could only hear the laughter pouring from the rooms and the teachers screaming "You'll get a zero for this!" Only teasing of course, Mr. J. We really missed you.

Cheerleaders and some of the girls have been working like fiends on homecoming posters and football colors. Our homecoming will be next week—Hallowe'en night, too! We play Henrietta—here, of course.

This week the boys play Newcastle there. If some of you don't mind driving that far, why don't you go and yell for the Hawks. There's not much to say about last week's game except I hope they do better this Friday night.

By the way, someone ask Jackie what he's been passing Howard every day in government. I don't think it's the football plays.

Oh yes—Lee Roy has been absent every day this week, so far. Hope he's back in time to play Friday. He's supposed to be pretty sick, but since he's a Sr, he'll probably pull through. In case you're interested, he's still going steady with an ex-Sr.

We got a report on our financial success at the Sr. stand at the T-O Fair, and it looks as if we're going to have to have about four plays instead of two.

The poor children in cell 22-23 all look so skinny (Who wouldn't after missing two weeks' lunches?) Every day when we go in Mrs. O's English class, she has to stop about 15 minutes early. We can't even hear what she's saying after 11:45 because we're so hungry. We've all promised to be more quiet but they won't give us a second chance.

Curtis, Bill and Mrs. T. all had a discussion in chemistry Tuesday, which left Estelle, Jewell, Buddy, Mary Gayle, Donald and myself dazed. I think Cleida and David understood it, but I don't know about the Jrs. They aren't supposed to comprehend, I guess. Anyway, we poor Srs didn't know what to think about it all. I didn't know we had any brains in our class, but by golly we sure do! Mary Gayle and I are going to hire them to teach us chemistry after hours.

Speaking of M. G., Jackie and Clyde don't speak to her but about half of every day. They don't think she tells them the truth, for some reason.

Why does Howard spend most of his time at Adams' drug store in Burk? Could it be that he's a traitor to I. P. High girls? He better behave this week, cause we have some gruesome dates planned for him and a few others!

This news comes to you this week from the 7th period study hall. Mr. D. of CDEV is absent. We have another teacher, and it's almost too quiet to study.

Next period is my favorite class, so I'll quit and get an early start. If I don't freeze while marching, I'll see you at Newcastle!

—Ruth Mary.

P.S. Ask Martha who the dark and handsome Fresh is she's always talking about.

P.P.S. The football boys just elected Wennie for their queen and Martha for the Sr attendant! Congratulations to both of you Srs. Now Mr. V. can have another "queenie" in his majorette line.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Wonder How Miss Gilbert Is in "History"?

By now I guess you've heard about the spelling errors in the kids' report cards this week.

A typical card looked like this:

Arithmetic.....	B
Geography.....	B
Spelling.....	C
Grammar.....	B

I don't know if Miss Gilbert, the principal, actually wrote those cards, but she took full responsibility. This morning I hear she got up in the Assembly Hall—before all the students—and started writing GRAMMAR with two "a's" on the blackboard 100 times!

From where I sit, I'll bet this makes her even more popular with the students. It's nice to see an expert admit she occasionally makes a mistake. Too many so-called "experts" claim they're never wrong on such subjects as what you or I ought to eat... what we should wear... whether we should enjoy beer or butter-milk. A really wise person never claims to "know all the answers" all the time.

TEXANS — Remember the Alamo OKLAHOMANS—Remember the Grapes of Wrath
Vote Republican with the Oil Barons, Gas Tycoons and the Money Lenders
REMEMBER HARDING, COOLIDGE AND THE TEAPOT DOME!

The Good Old Days Under Republican Rule

I am an 80-year-old business managed tax paying cotton farmer, I have been around for a long time, I can remember some thirty years ago when Republican rule was in evidence. I remember Harding, Coolidge and Hoover Especially well.

- | | |
|--|--|
| When cotton was selling for 5c a pound. | When we were told to sell apples—but we had no apples. |
| When potatoes were 75c a sack. | When Chicken dinners were 20c. But no one had 20c. |
| When red beans were $1.00 a sack. | When we were promised a chicken in every pot. But we didn't even have a pot to put it in. |
| When wheat was selling for 20c a bushel. | When we were promised a car in every garage—but we didn't even have a garage. |
| When corn brought only 10c a bushel. | When Prosperity was "just around the corner" (How did he know the Democrats would win in '32?) |
| When livestock was selling for 5c a pound. | When farmers didn't have 90 per cent parity for crops. |
| When a bank went broke, brother you were broke. | When Jack-rabbits were known as Hoover Hogs. |
| When no farmer had rural electrical service. | When they told us "prohibition was a noble experiment." It was. |
| When bankers and Chambers of Commerce were fighting these benefits. | |
| When Social Security was unheard of. | |
| When the Valley had thousands of visitors. But they all came on freight trains—hunting jobs. | |
| When you could get a room at any hotel for 50c a night. But no one had fifty cents. | |

Don't Let Them Take It Away

- Don't be a sucker; I hear a lot of you complaining that you want a change. If a Republican is elected, you'll get a change but you won't have any change in your pocket. Again they are promising you anything you want to vote Republican. You can't live on promises, we tried it.
- Don't let them change our production lines to soup lines.
- Don't let them force you to change that farm tractor for an Ox team.
- Don't let them make you change that Cadillac for a one horse shay.
- Don't let them make you change that TV set for a magic lantern.
- Don't let the Mortgage Bankers take your home and farm again.
- Don't let them hide Tea Pot Dome behind a Mink coat.
- Don't let them put another DULLES in Our State Department.
- Don't let them turn your Bank Account into Bankruptcy.
- Don't let them turn the clock of progress back a half Century.
- Don't let them tell you that a cheap dollar won't still buy more than NO $$$.
- Don't let them make you believe that it is immoral for the farmer and laboring man to have a decent standard of living.
- Don't be deceived by Republican propaganda, they even accused "Ike" of being a Communist before the Convention.
