Champ Truck Drivers To Practice Here

An event which should be of interest to all truck drivers in this area has been planned by the John B. Barbour Trucking company of Iowa Park for Saturday, October 1. At that time the two state champion truck drivers will practice for the national truck rodeo in the Barbour truck yard in Iowa Park.

The men will have two large trucks and put them through the driving and parking routine which is followed at the national rodeo, which this year is to be held at Boston, Mass., about the middle of October. As winners of the state championship, the men will represent the state of Texas in the Boston competition.

Hours when the men are practicing in Iowa Park and from 9 to 12 Saturday morning, and from 1 to 4 that afternoon. Again on Sunday at the same hours the experts will be seen in the 1000 block on Ohio street in Wichita Falls.

For the past week and continuing through next week, the Barbour company has been participating in a driving school for truck operators held at the Coca Cola auditorium in Wichita Falls. This school is being conducted by Russell Fitzpatrick, instructor from the Texas A & M extension service.

All persons wishing to witness the experts at work are invited by the Barbour company to come and see it free, both at their own yard and on Ohio street in Wichita Falls.

C of C Receives Pix For Photo Contest

Deadline for the Chamber of Commerce amateur photographer's contest is September 30 at midnight.

The Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce is offering three awards: $10, $5 and $5.

This contest is being held in connection with a similar competition sponsored by the West Texas chamber of commerce. The WTCC's top prize is a 4x5 Crown Graphic camera. Also $3 will be paid for the first print and $1 for additional copies. Negatives remain the property of the photographer. And proceeds from the sale of any pictures will go to the maker.

Salon prints will be made of prize winning pictures in the contest for hanging in the Fine Arts exhibit of the West Texas Museum institute and will be later available for traveling shows.

Prize winning pictures will receive extensive publication in newspapers and magazines with full credit being given the photographer.

Several typical West Texas scenes taken this year have been forwarded through the Iowa Park Chamber to the West Texas C of C for the two contests.

Mrs. W. B. Rolling of Levelland is at the home of her brother H. B. Watson and Mrs. Watson at 201 S. Yosemite. She is quite ill and expects to enter a hospital soon for a tonsillectomy.

The official family of Wichita County was host to 4-H and FFA Club members this week for a special dinner at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair. The Herald, wishing to honor them for their generosity and for the interest they have taken in the future generation of farmers and leaders, sent Bill Weiler to the county court house to round up all he could for a picture. The result was as above shown and includes the following, back row, left to right: Frank Ikard, district judge; Glen Haynes, district clerk; Hammett Vance, sheriff; Buck Voyles, commissioner of the third precinct; middle row: Arthur Tipps, county judge; Clyde Fillmore, district attorney; Ray Martin, county attorney; Dora Davis, county clerk; B. M. Dinsmore, county superintendent; front row: R. H. Nelson, district judge; Temple Shell, district judge; and Jim Robinson, county tax collector. Other men who had a part in feeding the youngsters were Joe Jandy, county auditor; Slim Holman, Lee Cooper and H. H. Haynes, commissioners from the other three precincts.

Southwest Sound Is Handling Fair PA

One of the busiest men on the Fair grounds this past few weeks and especially during the fair, is Ted Overbey, operator of Southwest Sound, Iowa Park.

He is responsible for the entire sound system at the fair and also does a great portion of the announcing.

Mr. Overbey's place of business in Our Town is across the railroad tracks from Barbour Trucking company, where he does all types of service and repair on sound equipment. He sells all the popular makes of recorders and furnishes a recording service.

Mr. and Mrs. Overbey live at 401 West Aldine with their daughter, Teddy Lynn and son Mike.

Crowell To Be Hawks' Next Foes

Undaunted by a fourth quarter upsurge of Burk Burnett to down them 13 to 0, the Iowa Park Hawks travel this Friday night to Crowell, where they hope to rack up their first district win.

The bugaboo of injuries has hit the Hawks this week, Jackie Banks having had his shoulder knocked down somewhat in the first half of the Burk game, while James Hair suffered a severe finger injury at the fair grounds on Monday.

A revamped offensive has been worked out by Coaches Tommy Beene and Bill Cook, and all Hawks fans are invited to make the trip to Crowell and see the Iowa Park boys take revenge on the school that outscored our team last year.

Plans Are Made For Poultry Show

The Iowa Park Junior Poultry Show will be held on Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15, at the T-O Fair Grounds.

The Chick Project committee of the Chamber of Commerce emphasizes the fact that any boy or girl who entered the chick raising project in April is eligible for prizes.

Prizes of cash, chicks and merchandise will be given for the grand champion pen, pullet and cockerel, and for the champion pen, pullet and cockerel of each breed. The top prize is a 26-inch Dixie Flyer bicycle.

Folders of information ready to be mailed to the contestants lists these points:

All boys and girls in the Iowa Park C of C project are eligible.

Four pullets and two cockerels are to be entered in the show.

(These birds will become the property of the sponsor.)

Pens are to bear name of raiser, name of sponsor, and record of chicks.

Exhibits must be in the show room before 5 p. m. Friday, Oct. 14.

Prizes will be awarded of cash, chicks and merchandise.

Judging will begin at 7:00 a. m. on Saturday, Oct. 15.

Judge will be George O. Stodghill, poultry supervisor of the Wichita Falls state hospital.

There will be no entry fee. Pens and feed will be furnished by the C of C.

A free picture show will be presented at the Parkway Theater on Saturday morning at 10:00.

Prizes will be awarded to poultry show contest winners at the theater showing the picture show.

Co-operation of the parents is requested in assisting chick raisers to select their birds and place them in the show.

Since a show cannot be successful without adult interest, sponsors are requested to visit the poultry exhibits.

Sponsors who cannot claim their birds at the close of the show are asked to have a representative authorized to take them for him.

Chicks left in the show room after 5 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 15, will be sold and the money placed in a revolving fund for the chick project in 1950.

Melton Gilbert of Belview was in Iowa Park recently and took home a bull from the George Hoge Hereford farm.

Jeanie Crockett, 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crockett, lost her mama at the Fair this week, but at last reports the pair had finally got together again.

Mrs. Herman Mahler was slightly crippled up Wednesday morning when she fell down the steps at the Fair auditorium. She was taken to the Park Clinic for emergency treatment and was found to have bruised both legs.

Fair Crowd Enjoying Fine Show

Governor Allan Shivers officially opened the Texas-Oklahoma Fair at 6:30 p. m. Monday before a large crowd of appreciative listeners. The governor of Texas was accompanied to Iowa Park by Wayne Hammon, General Kiel and Dr. Gordon G. Clark. He expressed great satisfaction that he would always be available whenever an audience with him was required by the people of the state.

Attendance records to the 21-year-old exposition at Iowa Park are being broken at Iowa Park with every turn of the main gate's two turnstiles, as hordes of fair enthusiasts flock to see the exhibits and to view the performances.

G. R. McNiel, manager of the fair, is well pleased with every feature of the biggest week in the life of Iowa Park citizens.

Of special interest to old timers was the Pioneer Day celebration on Tuesday, while the mothers and fathers got a real thrill from seeing the Iowa Park High School band march from school to the fair grounds, where it was featured on station KETL, Electra, in a fifteen minute concert and another fifteen minutes over the fair's public address system. It was the first appearance of the musical group in their new uniforms and the sight of those patrons who have watched the band and university to the Barbershop club in its fund raising campaign.

With two more days to go, the fair has had perfect weather, fine programs, with never a dull moment from the time the gates start turning in the early morning, till the last reluctant straggler lends his homeward way in the late hours of the evening.

Results of the judging for the various events will be carried from time to time in future issues of the Herald, along with a list of oldtimers registered for Pioneer Day.

Confectionery Bought By Burk Couple

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Holly and son Jimmy of Burk Burnett have moved to Iowa Park and are now in charge of the Park Confectionery which they bought from Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Compton.

Mr. and Mrs. Holly were both reared at Burk Burnett and have had experience in the business. They plan to serve butter toasted sandwiches, hot dogs, barbecue, and the very best coffee available.

Jimmy is six years old and has started to school this week at Iowa Park. The family attends the Baptist church.

Capehart and James Manage Tower Station

The Tower Station on the highway next to the Hav-A-Lunch Cafe is again owned by Vernon Loveall, formerly of here but now living in Vernon where he owns another oil business. He recently purchased the station from T. J. Sykes and has turned management of the business over to Billie Capehart and Billy Dean James.

The new management has established closing hours, which leaves Iowa Park without an all night service station. Hours the station will be open are from 6:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. and the young managers invite all their customers and friends to come in for gasoline, oil, battery and tire service.

Mrs. R. B. Chambers had a big scare the other day when the brakes on her car failed to take hold as she approached the curb in front of the Texas Electric office in Iowa Park. Her auto jumped up on the sidewalk and plowed into the front wall of the office. The wall was cracked but the plate glass window was not broken. No damage was done the Chambers car.

Mrs. Rowena Parker has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Abbie Warren and family in Clarendon the past two weeks.

The official car followed Sheppard's 147 marching Airmen and Base band. In the trim convertible were: Front: Governor Allan Shivers and Wayne Hammon, driver, prominent oil man and rancher. Rear: General Emil C. Kiel, Charles F. McGaha, President of City National Bank, and Senator George Moffett, State Senator of 23rd Senatorial District, from Chillicothe.

Strong feature of the Pioneer Day celebration at Iowa Park's Texas-Oklahoma Fair, was the old fiddlers contest which attracted the above six men and their beloved music makers. Many a dancer has jumped around to the tunes of these music maestros accompanied by the raucous calls of the emcees of yesteryear. Forgive it please if we have the men in back slightly mixed, but we understand that Jess Carter of Iowa Park is the gent with the faraway look sitting in the middle. He is flanked on either side by T. M. Mosier, 68, and E. Hixon, 72, both of Electra. In the front row, left to right are D. W. Nichols, 76, of Wichita Falls, John Thurmond, 90, of Vernon; and Joseph Lindsey, 81, of Iowa Park.

Iowa Park Post Office Has Been in Good Hands

Iowa Park's first postmaster, C. C. Davis, still lives in Iowa Park. He was born in Union county, South Carolina, Sept. 23, 1861. Ten years later his family arrived in Georgia and stayed nine years in Cobb county.

Not completely satisfied, they removed back to South Carolina and spent one year there. The urge to travel farther west caused the family to arrive in Texas Dec. 24, 1881.

As pastor of a small country church near Badwell, Mr. Davis met and married Ida Huff, who was then living in Detroit, Texas.

Mrs. Davis was born near Booneville, Tenn., in the year 1863 and met Mr. Davis in 1886, becoming Mrs. Davis in 1887.

That year was spent in the Gopher circuit, followed by a move to Dodd City, where their first child, Raymond, was born in 1888. In 1890, Hubert was born. From Dodd City the family moved to Petty and stayed two years. In 1892, Gera, was born.

For three years Mr. Davis served at Aubrey and then the family was called to Renner, where Ruth was born in 1893. The Terrell circuit was the field of Mr. Davis' activities for two years, and then he moved to Kemp on July 25, 1900.

On Dec. 6, 1900, the Davises entered the town of Iowa Park. Their first home here was the Methodist church, which now is the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sumrall.

While working with the Methodist church, he lived here four years. In 1903, Edwin, their fifth child, was born.

In 1908, Mr. Davis was made mail carrier on route one and stayed for five years. The carriers used mail wagons and horses for means of transportation. In 1913 Mr. Davis became postmaster. The office was located in the space now at the back door of the State National Bank. It was moved next door to the bank in January 1920.

Mr. Davis resigned as postmaster in 1927 because of ill health and after his recovery he preached occasionally in the absence of the regular ministers.

After a long and very worthy life Mr. Davis is now retired and lives with his daughter Mrs. James Sewell and Mr. Sewell.

Iowa Park's second postmaster, C. C. Burrows, was born in Bebee, Arkansas, in 1885. He lived there for a number of years until he moved to Waxahachie, Texas.

Mr. Burrows met his future wife in 1900. Her first look at him, he says, won his heart and they were married in 1904. She was his only sweetheart.

Mrs. Burrows was born in Dallas county in 1874. With her family she moved to Nash in Ellis county at the age of two.

In 1907, Mr. and Mrs. Burrows moved to Wichita county and in 1910 their only child was born. She is now Mrs. Ishmael Corder of Iowa Park.

At the time the Burrows couple moved here they first lived in what was known as the Cruse Place, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Johnson. They lived there two years and moved to Dr. Witt's Place and from there, after one year, they moved into town.

In 1911, Mr. Burrows went to work for the mail service as carrier for route 3, now route 2. Mrs. Burrows was his assistant carrier.

In 1919, Mr. Burrows opened a blacksmith shop which he operated seven years.

On April 21, 1927 Mr. Burrows was appointed postmaster and served approximately eight years. From that position he went into welding work for the Thompson Tool company.

In 1942, he moved two miles south of Iowa Park and started stock farming.

Mr. Burrows recalls that the six means of delivering rural mail from 1913 until 1927 were: mail wagon, horse and cart, bicycle, motor buggy, motorcycle and Maxwell car.

Camp Fire Girls

Pictures taken on vacation trips this summer were the main sources of entertainment when members of the Cha-Ki-Ka Camp Fire group met at the home of Mrs. Ishmael Corder last week.

After a business meeting, movies were shown by Mrs. Elmo Traylor. Scenes were shown which had been made by Mr. and Mrs. Corder and Mr. and Mrs. Traylor a few summers ago. The girls presented Mrs. Traylor a gift, with Maxine Cannon making the presentation.

Other girls present were Barbra Walker, Doris Harrington, Sandra Sue Banks, Artie Sue Mitchell, Lavona Hanaway, Sara Johnson, Mary Ralston, Roberta Butts, Sharon Reed, Beverly Sue Croft and Mary Roberts. Mrs. Mark Cannon, Mrs. John B. Barbour and Marjory Cannon were also present for the meeting.

Miss Ethyle Kidwell, Miss Betty Kidwell of Hardin college and Mrs. C. J. Simpson were recent visitors in Mineral Wells.

Soil Conservation

A county roadside ditch is now being sloped and shaped on the Wilbur Prechel farm of the Clara Conservation group this week. The work is being done by county equipment in Iowa Park precinct of Commissioner E. E. Voyles. The roadside ditch will take care of water from terrace outlets from cultivated field of Mr. Prechel.

Land leveling is now in process on the Cliff Brogdon farm southwest of Iowa Park. The work is being done by maintainer. New laterals have been constructed and borders are now being built. Length of borders are determined by soil type and the ability of the soil to absorb water. Mr. Brogdon plans to plant the area to alfalfa and Johnson grass. Most of the alfalfa hay will be used on his dryland farm to feed cattle during winter.

1.75 miles of terraces have been completed on the Jacob Roessler farm of Pumpkin Center conservation group. The terraces were of the broad base type and were constructed by equipment of the Electric precinct of Commissioner H. H. Haynes.

Borders are now in process of construction on the W. T. Wells farm and the Hardin college farm. The area being leveled and bordered will be planted to alfalfa and to cool weather grasses. Equipment owned by the irrigation districts is doing the work. Soil Conservation Service furnished technical engineering.

Several co-operators are finding alfalfa to be a very profitable soil improving hay and pasture crop on the sandy land along Red River. Hamilton, the family, with Mrs. J. R. Hamilton and his sisters Mrs. Good hay and pasture yields were Irvan Gregory and children, attended a family reunion at Childers last Sunday. There were 49

Wilbur Prechel, Oscar Klunkerman, Walter Mersiously and other farms, went to Odessa to visit his brother Frank and Ed Foster and Arthur J. R. Hamilton and his sisters Mrs. Lee D. Martin and Mrs. Jack Par. They also will visit Mrs. C. C. Hall and Mrs. Gene McComie at Andrews before returning to their home at Vancouver, Wash. District supervisors received ap-lications this past week on farms of P. M. Kotulek, C. E. Noll, Oscar R. Harris, Gail V. Mitchell and H. A. Grisham, a total of 724 acres for assistance of the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation district.

Approximately 80 acres of land are now leveled and bordered on the Wichita Falls Malabar farm. This acreage will be planted to alfalfa for hay and pasture. All irrigation lateral ditches are elevated above ground level to insure a good head of water. Permanent concrete checks and head walls and tile turnouts will be installed.

A new business by a long time resident of Iowa Park is the W. G. Steel Lumber and Building company. Mr. Steele opened his yard in January of this year and has on hand a large quantity of good building materials.

Mr. Steele is busy at present on the construction being done at Louis Bromfield's Malabar Farm. He has recently completed the 4-H Club building in Wichita Falls.

Beaver Creek Reunion Draws Iowa Parkans

Mrs. J. W. Matthews and Mrs. Otis Gay were local folk who attended the annual Beaver Creek community homecoming on Monday of this week. Pioneers from all over the state gathered at the little church and cemetery where a program and grave working was held. Mrs. Matthews reports that among the more than 100 attending she got to visit with pioneers she had not seen in 50 years.

Mrs. Matthews has lived in Wichita county since 1882 and her friends have scattered to all parts of the country.

The program was arranged by Rev. Finis Crutchfield of Mineral Wells, who was assisted by Rev. C. C. Davis and by Rev. Coburn of Electra. Mrs. Otis Gay played the organ for a sing song. The affair lasted all day, with a barbecue dinner served at noon.

Baptist Girls Meet For Study Program

The Girls Auxiliary of the Baptist church met Monday, Sept. 26, with Mrs. Lee Johnson for a short study program and refreshments. Those attending were Sue Croft, Shirley Jones, Kathryn Kelly, Margaret Schwabe, Patricia Paris, Derpha Keiningham, Frances Elaine McKinsey, Kay Quick, Barbara Tatom, Delores Hair, Bettye Tatom, Janelle Blaylock, Sheri Brooks, Sara Johnson, June James, Patricia Craft, Gladys Shelton, Betty Stewart, Doris Herrington.

SENIOR NEWS

Well, members of the Order of B B Brains, Numbkulls, Saps, Doodles and the rest whose names just couldn't be expressed in words—here it is. And brother, believe me, it's mighty potent stuff.

Excuse us, srs. for not saying a word about the Sr. Stand last week. We really didn't mean to forget but you know how excited you get when you have just two minutes to finish your news. But when you read this—rush to the Sr. Stand and buy a hamburger and a coke—we can rustle you up one. By the way, we also have pie, cake, coffee, milk, delicious plate lunches and sandwiches.

Say, srs., your stand is looking mighty neat also. Best of luck! (Pay me later.)

We sure have some swell workers at the Sr. Stand but it seems Barbara E. has been having difficulties. Who was the particular woman, Babs? Oh! well, don't cry, you can't please everybody.

If you see Pat or Peg with a new press out on the football field, you'll know they've been talking to those carnival girls. After all those girls do have some cute twists (that's what the big boys down at the pool hall told me).

All the band members have excellent reasons to strut. After all, their pert new uniforms came in this week. From all reports we hear that they are the berries.

The srs. of 50 now have a mascot. Who? Not who but what! Haven't you seen our little white and blue dog that just walked right into the paint brush James Hair was holding. I really don't know why. Could it be because James was holding a T-bone steak on the other side of the brush? Well, anyway, you did a good job, James, with the assistance of KMS.

If you think your eyes are deceiving you and you're in need of glasses, you're mighty wrong! It's just one of those streamline sr jalopies. Mary Ann, you just couldn't let Dale get ahead of you could you? By the way, Mary Ann or Maggie (if you want to know what it means, ask her) has a new boyfriend straight from the carnival. Handsome brute, I'd say. With a little flirting (so she assured me) he'll give you tickets too! I'll bet he has gained at least 10 lbs eating at the Sr. Stand just to sit and gaze at her. Miss Linton, would you please put Mary on the working list for every day. Thanks!

Speaking of carnival, I just don't know what they would do without the assistance of Gilmore. There's talk that Gilmore has been trying to find out what happened to the sword swallower by the Sword Lady. When you find out, Gilmore, tell us too, will ya?

LaVern Talley was seen making a diaper in bookkeeping (it was only out of Kleenex). Miss Linton promised to bring her a bottle this week. Can I have some too, Bessie? Wha happen last Friday night, boys? Jackie, do you want to make us all drop dead because of a heart attack? Be careful, will ya! You too, James. You'll wake up some bright morn with one less finger. As you all know, James is going to be a butcher when he grows up, or should I say when he reaches manhood.

Say have any of you lost any of your friends? Yes—then why not go out to the graveyard and dig up a couple of old friends (straight from Frankenstein). Tune in next week for the next exciting edition of sr gossip. Bye now.

Junior Department Given a Banquet

"Land of Storybooks" was the theme of the program when a farewell banquet was given last Thursday evening in the First Baptist church to honor pupils of the Junior department who were to be promoted into the Intermediate department last Sunday.

Favors depicting miniature characters from the well known children's stories were presented to the guests. China figurines of the storybook personalities were used in table decorations.

Rev. James N. Easterwood made the graduation talk. Mrs. Easterwood led the group in a sing song, and Supt. R. R. Brubaker presented diplomas to the graduation pupils.

Teachers in the department and mothers of the students were hosts for the party. They included Mesdames Earle Denny, R. R. Brubaker, R. E. Jackson, Curtis Hill, Roy Smith, Miss Maye Mitchell, Donald Hill and Joe Bell. Approximately 20 pupils were present to receive diplomas.

JUNIOR NEWS

I don't know what this world is coming to. Sandra, Lucille and Dorothy worked. Eva Nell did too but she had to catch up on all the gossip with J. C. and Darrel. They picked cotton, just in case you were wondering. Wonder how many rocks they put in the sacks? They aren't the only ones who worked. If you see some little blue boys and girls running around here, don't be too alarmed, just remnants of decorating the Junior Stand, Saturday morning.

By the way, if you're ever down that way just look for the blue and gold sign IOWA PARK JUNIORS. Of course we have delicious hot dogs, oozing with chili, home made pies, cakes and candy and above all PEANUTS.

Everyone is running around half gone. Wonder what it will be like by the time it is over.

Charlene, who is this you have been riding around on your head with? Not bad.

I think that Irvin's cats have been around her too long. They do some of the strangest things.

Joy has been having quite an exciting time with her romance life this week. Tune in next week to "We Love and Learn."

Joyce has been trying to skip school, so she just tells the teachers she is sick. Uh huh.

I don't think that Wanda and Wilma have recovered from Sunday yet. Don't ask them what they did. They might tell you.

Who would thank it of Elga Ann and Bobbie Ruth. They really made use of their vocal cords and really sold the peanuts last night.

No one has seen anything of Gene at school this week. He must have become part of the carnival—the freak show, maybe.

These 4-H boys really think they are privileged characters, just because they can miss school. Well... Lou Ann and Jackie saw some of their long lost ancestors (the monkeys of course) at the fair the other night and they have been acting very strange ever since.

Mary, Pat, Lucille and Ella Lou will really be strutting their stuff now. The band uniforms came in Wednesday.

Well, we've got to go if this is going to get in this week. If you gotta go, you gotta go.

—Wanda, Lucille, Lou Ann.

Stepped into Smith's Department Store the other noon and saw the strangest thing. "Sis" Davis was coming up the stairs from the basement with a bundle of wash.

"Is Smitty taking in washing these days?" I asked. "Not quite," she says. "He's just put in a new automatic washing machine, so the girls who work here can get their laundry done while they're eating lunch. Means more time to relax at night and on weekends."

I thought what a swell boss Smitty must be. Human relations between the boss and employees

There's something so litling and gay about it, and it brings up such pleasant memories. Once we heard a boy sing it at a club celebration. He wasn't a very large boy but he had an arrestingly beautiful voice.

The club house was decorated by the town's best florist, the women were decorated in their very latest formal, and the men were all handsome (well, nearly all of them were). The atmosphere of the occasion was quite precise and proper.

The program was good and everyone was having a nice time in a genteel sort of way when out on the stage appeared the smallest boy, his ruffled hair showing tracks of restless fingers and Oh horrors! his shirt tail sticking out. There was a faint gasp from the women in the audience and grins of appreciation from the men.

From the stage wing a woman's hand was hastily withdrawn as his mother's fingers reaching for him closed over air. Even the discreet throat-clearing failed to get the young man's attention.

Quite unconscious of all the commotion his appearance was making, the boy began to sing. People forgot that tousel hair and the truant shirt tail—they forgot business competition, financial pressure, home cares and child problems and the many other disturbing thoughts that come to live with us in our let-down moments—and went with the boy to the fair.

Others in the audience, too, will long remember how the song was sung that night. The boy has grown up since then, we do not know where he is, but whenever we think of a fair, we think of him, and all this week, we've been humming snatches of his song.

We feel that if he could attend the T-O Fair this year he would find the gay record-breaking fair which he envisioned that night as he sang.

The Pekingeses belonging to the Al Smiths gave birth to six puppies last Thursday night and her owners are rather proud of the accomplishment. Two or three are the usual litter for Pekes. Dr. V. R. Wigley attended the mother dog.

Disciples Doings

Launched from the Lord's Table will be the sermon subject for World Communion Sunday at the Christian church October 2. Francis E. Barnes, minister, announced late this week.

The installation service of elders and deacons, postponed last Sunday, will be held at the morning worship hour, 10:50.

"Millions of Christians throughout the world, gathering in their churches, will participate in a global observance of World Communion Sunday," states Mr. Barnes. "And the Iowa Park Christian church will join with 38 other churches in American church brotherhoods in this observance and to enter with them into a co-operative evangelistic crusade which has within it the possibility of being the beginning of the greatest evangelistic movement of the century to revitalize the moral and spiritual forces of the nation."

A statement by Robert Richardson on the purpose of the World Wide Communion says: "It is here we may revive the recollections of the past, and bid the burial places of the memory give up their dead that we may go with them even into the Holy City. It is here that Christ himself may commune with us, and that our hearts may burn within us while we gain larger views of the mystery of redemption, and comprehend what the prophets have spoken of the sufferings of Christ and the glory that should follow. And it is here, above all, that the films of error may be taken from our eyes that we may recognize the spiritual presence of our Savior, and that he may be made known to us in the breaking of bread. How precious, then, this opportunity!"

Mrs. Earnest Hartfield returned Monday from McKinney where Mr. Hartfield has gone to the Veterans hospital for a thorough check-up. Mr. Hartfield is a World War I and has been ill off and on for the past three years. Mrs. Hartfield reports her husband is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Are Typical North Texas Pioneers

One of Iowa Park's oldest and most beloved pioneer couples is Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lindsey, who have been in the county for the past 38 years.

Mr. Lindsey was born in Illinois in 1867. Mrs. Lindsey was also born in Illinois, in 1872. After meeting Mr. Lindsey at a famous necktie party in 1889, she was married two years later at the age of 19 on December 21, 1891.

From Illinois the young couple moved to Missouri and stayed two years. They were not completely satisfied here and decided to come farther south. By this time they had two daughters, Nina Grace and Maude. These two girls were then followed by a son William and another daughter Verna, who is now Mrs. John B. Barbour.

Traveling over the unsettled country, the Lindseys finally came into Texas and in the early fall of 1910 ended up in Lasalle county, 77 miles south of San Antonio. It was here Mr. Lindsey killed his first and only deer, which he had mounted. Mr. Lindsey considers the deer head one of his most precious possessions.

In August 1911, the Lindseys came to the Iowa Park settlement and took up residence in the Tom Mitchell home. The following spring they moved to a farm where they raised wheat, oats, sorghum, cotton, sudan grass and potatoes.

With the help of his family, Mr. Lindsey fenced and cleared the land. In 1911 they bought 640 acres at $15 an acre and two years later 160 acres more.

Mr. Lindsey recalls that all the wild game such as antelope and deer were killed out of the country at that time, but coons, coyotes and opossums ran wild.

One of the first impressions of Texas received by the transplanted Northerners was the Texas sandstorm.

Mr. Lindsey has always been a great student of economic and political conditions in the country and has drawn some profound conclusions. Of the depression he has to say, "The depression in 1929 was four times worse than any I had ever seen before." Goods were sold on the installment plan, but people still couldn't pay the prices. Factories were shut down and people were put out of work.

For the enjoyment of his friends and his own personal satisfaction, Mr. Lindsey has always had a violin and he loves to play it. This week at the fair he was entered in the Old Fiddlers contest and got a great deal of satisfaction out of playing and visiting with the other pioneers who have the same hobby.

Two things stand out in his life, he says: 1. He has never had a fight; 2. He has never been fined for misconduct.

Ed E. Reed of Canadian has moved to Iowa Park and started in business here as a painting contractor. He will take work on both interior and exterior decorating.

Two Year Bicycle Jaunt Being Taken By T-O Fair Visitors

Phil and Audrey Palaske of Denver, Colo., and Antioch, Ill., were at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair on opening day and really got a bang out of attending. To a young couple who have seen almost everything in 30 states and expect to see more, the Iowa Park fair offered their first opportunity to see a fair with all its attendant excitement and enthusiasm.

Phil and Audrey, dubbed by some newspapers as the Pedaling Palaskes, are on a two-year bicycle tour of the United States, and seem to be enjoying every mile of their trip. When they arrived in Our Town they were visiting their 30th state and were in the 14th month of sightseeing.

Audrey is a graduate nurse who took the cadet nurse training course at Denver during the war. Phil met Audrey when he was in the navy stationed at Denver. They were married and immediately began making plans for a wonderful trip which was to last two years. Their means of travel is by bicycle.

On being asked about their travels, the young couple revealed that they still had one of the original four tires on their machines. They have had very little trouble and have seen some interesting country. Everywhere the Palaskes go they are treated royally and have appeared on many radio programs, one of which was on a national hookup.

Except for three months spent in Florida last winter, the travelers keep pretty well on the go. They do not stop to work and make expenses, the planning they made at first included saving the necessary funds for the entire two-year program. However, in Florida, Audrey did work at her profession during their sojourn in the citrus country.

The bicycling duo are very personable young people and seem to have the vitality and outlook of typical Americans of their age. To meet them and talk with them is to renew one's faith in the future welfare of the country, as it will have soon to be left in the hands of just such courageous young folk with imagination and initiative.

From Iowa Park the Palaskes headed west, with the best wishes of all the Iowa Parkians with whom they had any dealings. Bon voyage, Audrey and Phil!
