L. Lorick, Pastor

Noon and evening Lions received reports from the 40th annual Lions International convention held in San Francisco, Calif., the last week in June.

Delegates from the two clubs were:

Keith Swim, who reported on the largest parade ever held in Frisco, and on John Foster Dulles' speech, and told of the hospitality of the host city.

Jimmy Stewart and Otis Gay, who told of the attendance forum and the fund raising forum.

Rollins Woodall, who gave some of the statistics of the club. He said 82 nations now have Lions clubs. The 1956-57 swell the membership to 566,183.

At the convention Texas had the largest state delegation next to the host state.

He also reported on the Texas breakfast with retiring president John L. Stickle as special guest.

Lester Brooks, immediate past district governor of 2-E and presently an International counselor, emphasized that the convention was the most international gathering he ever had attended.

Brooks declared that in Lionism there are no barrier of religion, politics or language. But in our nation there is a barrier to co-operation and understanding that must some day be breached—the barrier of race and color.

Curtis Sewell, program chairman for the noon club, called on Mrs. Lester Brooks for a few words. She told of the wonderful year of visiting all over the district with Lions clubs, and of the friendships they have formed.

Chester Gleason of McPherson, Kans., a former member of the noon club, was a visitor.

R. B. Faulkner, new president, will serve as program chairman for next Tuesday's meeting.

Pat Sewell Weds New York Girl; to Study at University of California

Wedding of Miss Judith Caroin Rutherford and James Patrick Sewell was held at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, July 6, in the Episcopal church of St. Joseph of Arimathea in Elmsford, N.Y.

Rev. Hugh Walter McNeely performed the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George Herdman Rutherford of Scarsdale, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. James Alfred Sewell of Iowa Park.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Richard Rowland Lower, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids and bride matron were the Misses Caroline Cynthia Sewell of Iowa Park, sister of the groom; Susan Flint of Scarsdale; Anne Washbourne of Peru, N.Y.; Nancy Palmer of Weston, Mass.; and Mrs. Courtney Peterson of Newton Centre, Mass.

The groom's brother, Michael Walker Sewell of Iowa Park, was his best man. Ushers and groomsmen were David Huff Sewell of Iowa Park, another brother; James Herdman Rutherford of Scarsdale, brother of the bride; John King Sargent of Winchester, Mass.; William Sechrist of Pottstown, Pa.; Thomas Kelly of Annapolis, Md.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin appliqued in chantilly lace and seed pearls. The fitted bodice was designed with an off-the-shoulder neckline and full skirt with a cathedral train. She wore a mantilla of imported heirloom lace.

The crescent bridal bouquet was of white cymbidium orchids and snowball pompons garlanded with ivy.

The bride is a graduate of Scarsdale high school and received the BA degree from Mount Holyoke college in 1956. She has been a member of the elementary school faculty in Norfolk, Va., the past year.

Pat was valedictorian of his class at IPHS in 1947. He attended Midwestern university one year before transferring to NTSC in Denton, where he received the BA degree in 1951. He also received the master of education degree from the same college and did advanced study at Columbia university in New York City.

Entering the navy, he took officers training and was commissioned an ensign. After three years of service he was separated with the rank of lieutenant (jg).

The spring semester of this year he was a teacher in Norfolk.

The young couple will reside in Berkeley, Calif., where they plan to continue their studies at the University of California.

Inter-city Alcoholics Anonymous Have Monthly Meeting Here

Iowa Park was host to an Inter-city monthly meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous last Sunday afternoon in the Fair Park Auditorium.

Members from all over this area which includes northwest Texas and southwestern Oklahoma, were present for business and inspirational talks by rehabilitated alcoholics.

Since names are never emphasized in Alcoholics Anonymous, it suffices to say that members come from every walk of life—all bound together by a common purpose, the welfare and strengthening of each man or woman as an individual.

Principal speaker at Sunday's meeting, an eloquent and dedicated man, reviewed briefly the founding and growth of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Some of the theories and practices of this movement were started about 100 years ago, but did not have the individual in mind and failed to make good.

Then came the Oxford Movement which stressed group activities and did a great amount of good.

But none of these early efforts at reclaiming victims of the disease of alcoholism had yet hit upon the religious concept of the problem.

Only recently was discovered the key to success. Put in a few words it is a method by which the sick soul is encouraged to create its own conception of God—a God that individual can understand—a God who can come into that individual's life and help him effect a three-fold cure.

An alcoholic is sick in three ways. He is physically sick; he is mentally sick; he is soul sick.

With the aid of another alcoholic who has been aided to find God and his individual cure, the disease can be cured, and the patient then is ready to come back into society and be of value again.

In the words of one AA member: "If I can stay sober long enough to give strength and courage and a better understanding of God to someone else in need of Him; together we can stay sober."

The speaker then pointed out that members need not be ashamed of the organization. Its members are the soberest of any organization in the world! At one time they were sick, but now they are well.

In closing the speaker declared, "God is no longer my master, but my companion."

Official literature of Alcoholics Anonymous brings out the following interesting points:

Alcoholics Anonymous is a fellowship of men and women who share their experience, strength and hope with each other that they may help their common problem and help others to recover from alcoholism.

The only requirement for membership is an honest desire to stop drinking. A.A. has no dues or fees. It is not allied with any sect, denomination, politics, organization or institution; does not wish to engage in any controversy, neither endorses nor opposes any causes. Our primary purpose is to stay sober and help other alcoholics to achieve sobriety.

HOME OF THE MONTH
Mrs. C. J. Thurbr, chairman for the July Home of the Month selection, and her assistant Mrs. E. E. Wallis, Mrs. Curtis Hill, Mrs. F. E. Hill, Mrs. Mabel K. Stetter, Mrs. O. E. Lochridge, remind us to be on our toes, in keeping our yards beautiful.

The committee wants you to contact them, if they have overlooked anyone's yard that you know deserves their attention. They are doing their best to judge fairly according to the Score Card printed in last week's Herald.

One resident over 70 years of age has proved what can be done by work and little expense, by having a well planned, beautiful front and back yard. She has mowed her lawn 19 times to date this spring and summer. She is to be commended, for she has done all of this yard work by herself.

WEED CONTROL MONTH
The city beautification committee is asking every homemaker to keep plugging away, making war on those weeds, for not only do they harbour pests which during the hot months help spread disease, but weeds rob your lawn and flowers of moisture, so essential to their growth.

Weeds use three to four times as much moisture for growth as do flowers or vegetables, thereby robbing flowers and shrubs.

Try weekly weed control. Tho it almost breaks your back!

Dividends will show in your flowers and shrubs as they continue to grow.

Also, the City is still on duty to help mow weeds and grass on vacant lots and roadside ditches, if you will only call them.

Repairs and redecorating are progressing nicely at school, as reported by Supt. Keith Swim.

Outside doors have been painted, and new locker space has been completed in the first grade rooms. Outside bleachers have also received a new coat of paint.

The new gymnasium and band buildings have been completed and a formal opening will be held at a later date. These two buildings are the first major additions to the local school facilities in many years.

Swim and Miss Ethyle Kidwell, principal of the elementary school, remind parents of first graders that they must have birth certificates, vaccination certificates for smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough before entering school in September.

And all first graders must be at least 6 years old on or before Sept. 1 to enter school. This is a state ruling and not a local one.

COUNTY AGENT SUGGESTS . . .

Many farm lakes and ponds have been constructed in the county over the past few years. These ponds are providing a source of recreation as well as water for livestock.

B. T. Haws, county agent, says these acres of water can be made the beauty spots of the farm and provide camping, swimming, boating and fishing for the family and friends.

Size and depth of the pond are important. A surface acre of water makes a good family-sized fish pond. Some ponds are too small to grow many fish.

Kinds of fish used to stock the pond is a consideration you will want to think about. Your likes and dislikes will be the prime factor in determining just which kind you want in the pond.

Once the fish are in the pond, you want to be sure they stay and are well fed. The pond will need to be fertilized. You may need to clear the pond of unwanted fish. Then weed and moss control usually becomes a problem.

Local county agents have a bulletin called "Farm Fish Ponds" that covers all the considerations you will want to make about a farm fish pond. This bulletin also has pictures and descriptions of five kinds of fish used in Texas. Check with your county agent for copies of this bulletin.

Permit me to express my appreciation and thanks to the senior class of '51, the room mothers and teacher sponsors for their recent love gift. The ivory earclips, bracelet, handkerchief and autographed book mark are indeed lovely.

They will constantly remind me of each of you and of the sweet friendship which inspired the presentation of the gift. Friends constitute our real treasures on earth, and you have certainly added to my storehouse of treasures.

Mrs. W. R. Bradford

Mrs. Lella Grace Livingston was dismissed from Wichita General hospital this week after surgery. She also had a birthday Wednesday, so "Happy Birthday, Lella Grace," from all your friends.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my appreciation to the many friends who were so kind and thoughtful while I was in the hospital and since my return home.

The flowers, cards, visits and especially your prayers and other kind deeds have meant so much to me and my family. May God bless each of you.

SCHOOL CHILDREN are rescued by civil defense workers at Chattanooga, Tenn., from flood waters which had marooned their school bus. Even harder hit were the three states of Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia, where 31 counties were declared a major disaster area and allocated $900,000 in Federal Civil Defense Administration disaster funds. The money will pay for emergency restoration of more than 300 bridges, as well as temporary repairs to roads, schools, and other public facilities destroyed or damaged by flood waters. These five figures illustrate, from top to bottom, the steps in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation now being taught in Red Cross First Aid courses.

- (1) Mother, using middle finger of one hand, clears child's mouth of any foreign matter. With same finger, she holds the tongue forward.
- (2) Mother places child in a face-down, head-down, position, and pats him firmly on the back with the free hand, to help dislodge any foreign object in the air passage.
- (3) The child is placed on his back, and the mother, using middle fingers of both hands, lifts the lower jaw from beneath and behind so that it "juts out."
- (4) With one hand only, the jaw is held in this jutting-out position.
- (5) The mother, covering the child's mouth and nose with her mouth, breathes into the child with a smooth, steady action. The free hand applies continuous moderate pressure to the child's abdomen, between navel and ribs, to prevent the stomach from being filled with air.

Downs in Ditch

Several members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire department went to Lake Diversion dam last Thursday, July 4, in answer to a call for assistance in locating S-Sgt. Ernest B. Acosta, 46, of SAFB, who had disappeared in the irrigation ditch about a mile below the dam.

The alarm came while the boys were fighting a grass fire at the Ed Hennig farm.

Teddy Ray Fickle, nine-year-old Wichita Falls boy, discovered the body of Acosta after the gates of the dam had been shut to lower the water level.

Firemen used the resuscitator belonging to the local fire department, but the body had been in water nearly an hour when recovered, and all attempts at reviving him were futile.

Mr. Acosta had lived in Wichita Falls since 1951 and was survived by his widow and seven children. Funeral services and burial were in Wichita Falls, Saturday afternoon.

PROGRESS IN PIPELINING made great strides during Humble's history. It's a cry from the back breaking hand labor (pictured at upper right) to the side boom tractor on today's spread. Humble's pipelines have grown from a 55-mile system when the company was founded to a network of more than 8000 miles that laces Humble's production, manufacturing and product outlets into a unified operation throughout the state.

Hawk Bandmen Play and Sing

The group of loud noises met at the old band hall Tuesday evening and had a wonderful time playing their instruments and vocalizing.

Even though it was only a get-together for fun, the theme song "Laura" was played as if it were a regular show.

There were 14 band members and ex-members present.

The band in Iowa Park has a lot of spirit and let's support them this year. The band has a new hall to start with this fall, and a 65-piece band.

Sounds good? Well, just wait until they have practiced together this summer and start football season this fall.

Be sure and give them all your support. It will really help their egos. I know, I was a member of this band and I know what it stands for. The band carries the school traditions and good practices at all times.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farmer went to Stamford, Tuesday for a several days visit with relatives and to transact business.

Mrs. Frances Stoermer is here from Victoria for a several weeks stay with her daughter Mrs. A. L. Scheibal and family.

WORTH THINKING ABOUT

Between the great things we cannot do and the little things we will not do, the danger is that we shall do nothing at all.

The gospel of Christ is free but it isn't cheap.

Worship is an attitude rather than an act; an emotion rather than a notion.

We worship because we love, and without love worship is impossible.

The answer to religious error is in New Testament truth.

We should govern our lives and thoughts as if the whole world were to see the one and read the other.

One's greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.

Our talents are best nurtured in solitude, but our character is best formed in the stormy billows of the world.

Mrs. Maud Kinnard and daughter Betty; a son Joe Kinnard and daughter Candy, were here the first of the week from Dallas, visiting Mrs. Kinnard's sister Mrs. E. L. Hartfield and family.

Mrs. Ola Moulder and son Jackie Moulder and his wife left Tuesday for their homes in Harrison, Ark., and Great Bend, Kans., after a few days visit with their daughter and sister Mrs. Ancil Baker and Mr. Baker.

Mrs. J. B. Cissell of Pleasant Valley was hostess to a group of friends Tuesday noon in her home, for a social meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Watkins and daughter Karen of Wichita Falls and his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Watkins have returned from a week's vacation in Colorado.

Texas Produce in 'Senate Salad'

Representative Joe Kilgore (center) and Mrs. America of 1958 toss "Senate Salad" in the largest—3 feet wide and 14 inches deep—salad bowl in the world at the U. S. Capitol. Representative Kilgore supplied the green onions from Texas that were used in the All-American salad. Mrs. America is Mrs. Lynwood Findley, 32, of Arlington, Va.

A new salad, "Senate Salad" was created and served recently at the U. S. Capitol. Representative Joe Kilgore (D. 15th Dist.) saw to it that green onions from Texas were among the principal ingredients.

It is unusual for a new dish to be created in the nation's Capitol. Here's how it happened:

Representative Kilgore and eight other Members of Congress who come from states that produce or manufacture ingredients important in salad making decided to serve an original salad to their colleagues on Capitol Hill.

"The result was 'Senate Salad.' To meet the need of the occasion, it turned out to be the largest of its kind ever served in the world.

The ingredients for "Senate Salad" were: 10 heads of iceberg lettuce and 10 heads of romaine lettuce from California and Arizona, 20 bunches of West Virginia water cross, 14 bunches of Texas green onions, 75 pounds of Maine lobster meat, 20 bunches of California celery, 156 New Jersey tomatoes, 78 California avocados, 1 gallon of California ripe olives, 40 Arizona grapefruit, 2 quarts of Michigan vinegar, 5 1/2 quarts of Louisiana salad oil and 30 envelopes of garlic-type salad dressing mix.

To serve the largest salad in the world, the Members, naturally, needed the largest salad bowl in the world. The bowl, hand turned and made of solid walnut, was 3 feet wide and 14 inches deep. Heaped, it held 320 servings of delicious "Senate Salad." The salad fork and spoon each were 3 feet long and the

Yarborough Says Parity Principle Still Is Vital to Farm Economy

Referring to letters from Texas farmers, Sen. Ralph Yarborough has called to the attention of the U.S. Senate the increasing problems confronting the nation's farmers.

In strongly emphasizing the inadequacy of the soil bank program, Yarborough stated on the floor of the Senate, "I have long advocated the parity principle, and believe it to be the soundest solution to our agricultural problems."

Yarborough praised the Progressive Farmer for its editorial in the July issue stating that it "clearly shows the grave need for retention of the parity principle."

He read the last paragraph of the editorial: "Secretary Benson has not proved that the parity principle has failed. He has simply proved that there has been too much looseness in enforcing or carrying out the parity principle. We ought to mend parity. A vigorous fight by farmers at this time may save the parity principle, even though it may be necessary to change the methods by which fair or parity prices are obtained. If we do not save the parity principle, farm prices may drop to bankruptcy figures any year."

Yarborough concluded: "Every passing day brings new evidence in support of the principle of fair parity prices for farm products."

Tommy Reid Jr. suffered a heart stroke this week while working at a gravel pit northwest of town. He was taken to Wichita General hospital in a Tanner ambulance.

THIS WEEK —In Washington

With
Clinton Davidson
Nearly 2,000 years ago the Master Teacher, Christ, asked: "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

About 1500 years before Christ, Esau, the grandson of Abraham, sold his birthright—his inheritance—for one meal, called in the Bible, "a mess of pottage." Through the centuries, millions of mortals have answered the question asked by Christ by exchanging their souls for alluring promises which turned out to be merely "messes of pottage."

Powerful labor leaders who have sold their souls are finding that Judgment Day is here for them. They are accused of the abuse of the power and confidence entrusted to them by Congress and by millions of workers.

Today, millions of labor union members are asking two questions: "Have our leaders sold their souls and the souls of our unions?" and "if so, what price will we have to pay?"

Dave Beck is paying a big price. Apparently he has done great damage, not only to himself but to the Teamsters Union which he has headed for many years. If he has violated the law, if he has caused his Union to lose its integrity, not only he but millions of honest workers will also suffer greatly.

If the investigation reveals that leaders of many unions have sold their souls, the entire labor union movement may have to join in paying the price.

What is the price? Let's be specific and try to answer the Master's question that was asked at the beginning of this column. The price could result in setting the labor movement back to the pre-Franklin D. Roosevelt days. Does that seem impossible? Well let's examine the situation.

Congress vested great powers in labor unions. Most important of all, it gave them the special privilege of acting as national monopolies. Because labor unions are exempted from the monopoly provisions of the Anti Trust Laws they are able, through nationwide strikes to halt such vital national functions as steel production, gasoline production, railroad transportation, international shipping, etc.

Such powers are not entrusted to the owners and managers of those great industries. It is doubtful that even the President of the United States has such power. But labor, you will remember, used this power to practically close all steel production in the United States during the Korean War. If Congress becomes convinced that labor officials and labor unions have lost their souls—their integrity, their morality—then Congress may withdraw labor's special privileges, principally the legal right to act as monopolies. If this were done, nationwide strikes would cease to exist and the sanctity of the picket line would become a theory.

It appears, however, that Congress will not be forced to take such action. George Meany, President of the AFL-CIO, and other labor leaders of unusual integrity already have taken positive actions to clean house of racketeers and other dishonest union officials. They will not stand by idly while other officials sell the souls of labor. They are taking positive action. For example, the AFL-CIO Executive Council, on recommendation of an Ethical Practices Committee, has ousted Beck as an AFL-CIO Vice-President, suspended one union and placed two others on probation on charges of corruption. It will be far better for labor, and for the country, if labor cleans its own house. Commandably, it shows every indication of doing just that.

Firemen Finish Study Course

C. R. Andrews, chief drill instructor of the Wichita Falls fire department, has just completed teaching the Iowa Park Volunteer Firemen a course in fire techniques, prevention, attack and causes.

Andrews has been with the Wichita Falls fire department for 19 years, and has served the past four years as drill instructor, teaching new firemen everything he can to make them better and safer fire-fighters.

Andy, as he is affectionately called by all who know him, began the class in Iowa Park 20 weeks ago, and the fireboys have worked with him faithfully, learning better techniques—how to attack a fire and best possible treatment for each fire.

Every one of the boys who attended these classes expressed deep gratitude to Andy for a job well done.

The department gave a barbecue supper in the backyard of Buddy Tanner's home last Monday night, honoring Mr. Andrews. He was made an honorary member of the IPVFD and was presented a gift of appreciation.

The boys have been kept busy fighting grass fires the past week. Since it is now quite dry, weeds and grass are expected to be a major cause of fire calls, but if everyone will practice safety precautions these fires can be avoided.

Fire Chief Oscar Singleton asks all citizens to be careful with burning cigarettes and matches.

New High-Energy Fuel Industry For U. S.

STORAGE SPHERE: The operator in the foreground is shown tightening a cap on freon cylinders used for pressure testing during production of high-energy fuels at the Niagara Falls, N. Y. plant of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation. This sphere is filled with nitrogen, which is used in the production of high-energy fuels. The Niagara Falls plant is the first in the United States to produce high-energy fuels on a semi-commercial basis. High-energy fuels are chemical fuels as opposed to conventional petroleum-based fuels.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation today announced it had become the first company in the United States to produce high-energy fuels on a semi-commercial basis. The fuel is now being shipped to the U. S. Air Force.

An interim facility, scheduled for completion at the end of this year, will turn out three times the amount of fuel now being produced in the semi-commercial plant. An Air Force-sponsored plant, expected to "come in" within the next 20 months, will increase output many times current volume, according to an Air Force spokesman. This plant is the result of an Air Force contract awarded to Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation for construction of a $36,000,000 facility.

High-energy chemical fuel significantly increases the range of aircraft and missiles powered by air-breathing engines. It does away with engine failure problems at high altitudes. The result of five years of research and two years of production testing, the fuels, called HEP-2 and HEP-3 (High-Energy Fuel-2 and 3), had been made in small laboratory pilot units by Olin Mathieson as far back as 1952. It is now being produced in the Niagara Falls plant which was built solely by the company at a cost of $5,500,000. First shipments of the fuel have already been delivered to the Air Force, Dr. L. K. Herndon, head of the high-energy fuels operation at Niagara Falls, reported. Shipments, which began less than a month ago, are being made in increasing quantities.

The fuel now being produced is expected to be the forerunner of a $1,000,000,000 industry in the next ten years. This estimate, made by W. C. Foster, executive vice president of Olin Mathieson, is projected on the basis of the tremendous quantities of the fuel needed for military aircraft and later for long-range civilian flights. At the present time, the fuel is considered to be suitable for aircraft only.

Brig. Gen. C. H. Mitchell, deputy director of production of the Directorate of Procurement and Production at Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, said Olin Mathieson's breakthrough on high-energy fuels signified greater strength for the United States. The General said that he could visualize use of this fuel in the not-too-distant future for transporting civilians non-stop from one given point to another over distances heretofore considered impossible.

Try These Onion Recipes

By Julia Hunter
Home Economics Director
Lone Star Gas Company

Onions are so often used for seasoning or served as a relish, but they are usually overlooked as a real leafy green vegetable. They are just that and may well fill the need for a leafy green vegetable in a well balanced diet.

Mild yellow red or white Bermuda onions are best for serving raw. Smaller or "hot" onions have a stronger flavor and are more satisfactory for cooking. Dry onions should be bright, clean, well shaped and have a hard, dry skin. Green onions should be crisp and tender with fresh green tops, medium sized necks and they should be white two or three inches from the root.

It is not necessary to cook onions in a large amount of water in an uncovered pan. Cook them in just half an inch of water in a covered pan. Bring the water to a boil, reduce the flame and simmer the onions until tender, 20 to 40 minutes, depending on size. One pound of onions makes four servings.

Onions Polonaise are easy to prepare. Brown 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs in 1/3 cup butter or margarine. Add 2 T lemon juice, 1/4 t salt, 1/4 t pepper, a dash of paprika, and mix well. Sprinkle mixture over hot cooked onions. Makes four servings.

Quickly dress hot cooked onions for four by sprinkling with with 1/2 cup grated American cheese and 1/2 t celery seed. Toss lightly until mixed and serve at once.

Recipe of the Week

Glazed Onions: Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine over a low gas flame. Add hot cooked onions to serve four. Sprinkle onions with 6 T brown sugar. Cooker over low gas flame 10 minutes, turning and basting frequently. Sprinkle with coarsely ground black pepper.

EXTRA SUMMERTIME CHORES ARE A SNAP FOR REDDY

when you have FULL HOUSEPOWER HOME WIRING

Summertime is Reddy Kilowatt's busiest season. There's more washing and ironing to be done. Your electric refrigerator works harder keeping foods fresh and tasty. And you depend on Reddy to keep you cool with electric fans, evaporative coolers and air conditioners.

Because of these extra summertime chores, your home wiring may not be adequate to let Reddy do his best work. If your lights dim when the refrigerator goes on... if your TV picture shrinks when your air conditioner is operating... if your electric iron heats up slowly, it's a sign of low HOUSEPOWER. You may need larger wire, an additional circuit or more outlets to get the most efficient and convenient service from your electric appliances.

Your electrician will gladly make a check of the wiring in your home and suggest the additional wiring you may need for full HOUSEPOWER. See him about it soon. Live better... electrically.
