Scriptures were read from Isaiah, Luke and Matthew. Carols were sung, and Rev. Leland H. Young of the United Evangelical Brethren church of Wichita Falls gave the closing prayer. That church also gave the treats.

Several carolers came from Wichita Falls to see the scene. Plans for the scene are in the making for a bigger and better project next year. This was the first performance.

ages on local option basis in wet areas. Campaign is pegged on drive for tourists and convention business and need for additional state revenue. Sowell and Jones say a 10-cents-a-drink tax would yield $80,000,000 in the next two years.

Texas Council of Churches, according to a headquarters official, opposes any change in law which would encourage increased consumption of intoxicating liquor.

Already we educate our children with liquor and tobacco tax money. Now should we get our out-of-state visitors drunk to help support the state? It may be good business, but not good business.

Gilbreath Cites Law on Tampering with Mail Boxes and Contents

Mailboxes are protected by Federal law, and pranksters or vandals who damage or destroy the boxes and their contents may be in for a heavy fine or imprisonment, Postmaster T. E. Gilbreath warned this week.

Gilbreath noted that 25,000 mail receptacles were damaged or destroyed in the past year. He said 2,641 persons were arrested in the year up to June 30 for damaging or destroying mail receptacles.

Gilbreath quoted from the law: "Whoever wilfully or maliciously injures, tears down; or destroys any letterbox or other receptacle intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on any mail route, or breaks open the same or wilfully or maliciously injures, defaces or destroys any mail deposited therein, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than three years."

This applies to all mail receptacles and the mail in them, even though the boxes are bought by citizens and are their personal property, Gilbreath emphasized.

Pranksters and especially children who do not know any better—should be made to realize the seriousness of their actions, the postmaster said. A $1,000 fine or a term in jail is enough to take the humor out of any prank.

Mrs. Ray Stubbs Dies After Long Fight; Service Held Wednesday

A Tribute
 by George R. Huckaby

When we came to Iowa Park almost 20 years ago, Eddie Lee was one of the first local persons we met. She was a high school girl and often worked in a local restaurant, where she always had a pleasant smile and a cheerful word for the customers.

A few years later she married Ray Stubbs and started making a home and raising their children.

A few years ago she was given a terrific jolt when doctors told her she had leukemia. But Eddie was made of the stuff that heroes are endowed with, and had a faith in God that sustained her and made her carry on with courage to the bitter end.

In saying "Hail and farewell" to Eddie, we are reminded of the words of William Cullen Bryant in his famous "Thanatopsis":

"So live, that when thy summons comes to join
 The innumerable caravan which moves
 To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
 His chamber in the silent halls of death,
 Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
 Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
 By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave,
 Like one that wraps the drapery of his couch
 About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Mrs. C. A. Hicks was program leader.

Pink, gold and purple were used in living room decorations. Serving table in dining area was draped with floor-length pink net cloth over pink satin accented with pink felt symbols outlined in gold sequins. Gold wooden candles, poinsettias, leaves and pink roses formed the centerpiece.

Gifts were exchanged from a tree decorated with gold-glittered red felt birds with long nylon tails.

Harold McDonald of Alice, Jimmy McDonald and family of Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis and family of Hurst visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McDonald for the holidays.

Holiday guests in the home of Mrs. M. J. McDonald have been J. M. McDonald of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Bob McDonald, Chuck and Robn of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Fritz McDonald and Sid of Pagosa Springs, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Manuel McCarroll and Pat of Decatur; Miss Dana McCarroll of Olney; Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Frazier, Robyn and Julie of Pasadena.

Guests in the Fieldon Britt home during the holidays were Thomas Britt and children of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Winters and family of Woodward, Okla.

Mrs. Donna Parsley of San Diego, Calif., visited her brother Mike Brockman here Monday and Tuesday and his mother Mrs. Maggie Brockman in Murray.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Farmer were his parents Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Farmer of Lawton, Okla.

Mrs. A. O. Robertson entered Wichita General hospital Wednesday of last week for observation. She is reported doing fine and hopes to be home for holidays.

Cynthia Luse, IPHS senior, has been selected by her classmates and the faculty to represent the school in state competition for the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Threet, 1006 Lincoln Drive.

the Alethian Class of the First Baptist Church, Wichita Falls.

World War II found Mr. Godfrey serving three years with the Air Force.

When visiting the Godfreys, either at home or their place of business, you will be greeted by Mr. Twinkles, their three year old poodle.

Real Christmas joy arrived a little late at the Godfreys' this year. Their daughter, Mrs. Jim Nash of Wichita Falls, presented them a 6½ pound baby girl on December 23, 10:56 a.m. Her name is Tracy Lynn.

A recent addition to First Baptist Church by baptism was:

Rubino and the late Will Rogers . . . Memories of days gone by.

Rubino and his $100,000 violin will appear in a popular concert sponsored by Noon Lions at 8:15 p.m. Monday, Jan. 16, in the IPHS auditorium.

Many times Will Rogers played

A Day with Rubino

When you see and hear Rubino and his violin in concert here Monday, Jan. 16, in the IPHS auditorium, you will share one day of the nine months he spends each year touring the nation.

These nine months will add up to some 125 cities visited, 250 matinee and evening concerts played with an additional 1250 free performances at service club luncheons, hospitals, radio broadcasts, and with at least 1000 of these free appearances before students in school assemblies.

A day with Rubino is a whirlwind of activity. He is up at four and five o'clock in the morning and as a rule travels 100 or 200 miles before breakfast. Weekends are usually spent in cross-country train and plane flights. If the schedule permits, he will visit four or five church services on Sunday morning.

Red Oak, Iowa, holds the record for the most churches visited in one morning. The Ministerial Alliance there presented him a beautiful Bible in recognition of his playing for seven churches.

square dance tunes on Rubino's precious Strad. In memory of Will, the Maestro provides a new unusual arrangement of "Square Dance Fiddlin'." He swings 'em high and swings 'em low in a panorama of melodies ranging from Arkansas Traveler to Turkey in the Straw.

To start his day Rubino arrives for a hurried greeting with sponsors, perhaps a picture for the local newspaper, and then he is off to an escorted tour of the whole city's school enrollment for free school assemblies with only breaks between for transportation.

Almost without exception he is guest speaker for a service club luncheon, but winds up "fiddling for his lunch."

The Student Matinee follows in the afternoon with an hour or two spent autographing for his young friends after the concert. Next routine is an interview for a local radio station and by then it is time for a change into full dress, dinner, and the big event of the day—the evening concert.

An ironclad rule with Rubino is to be at the auditorium an hour before the audience assemblies, for practicing on his beloved Stradivarius. The Maestro is often asked why he has to practice after having played the violin for 50 years.

His serious reply is that with all the many appearances he makes, that still does not allow him time to polish and perfect individual notes and passages. Difficult exercises also keep his fingers flying at the effortless speed maintained for hours at a time.

Even in his automobile or on the train, Rubino either uses his Strad or his specially built pocket fingerboard to keep up with his rigid practice schedule.

With all this, Rubino still finds time for collecting antique glass, dictating letters, long distance telephone calls, and enjoying life in general. This famous artist spends his days at a terrific pace, but he wouldn't trade it for any other life.

Each morning he looks forward with fresh enthusiasm and boundless energy to the new day to be shared with new friends in new places.

Mr. and Mrs. George Roy and children Franklin, Claud, Gary visited during the holidays with his mother Mrs. I. H. Roy in Hugo, Okla.

Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Butts have been their daughter Mrs. Jim Ane, Marla and Lisa of Princeton, N.J., and Mrs. O. J. Russell of Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Worey and Mark of Concord, Calif., are visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lowrey and family.
