Jackie Sampson Weds Perryton Girl in Impressive Church Rites

Miss Louise Dragoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dragoun of Perryton, became the bride of Jackie Sampson of Iowa Park and Odessa, in a double ring ceremony held in the Immaculate Conception church of Perryton Friday, July 25.

Roy M The bridegroom is a son of Mrs.

The vows were exchanged before an altar banked with baskets of white gladiolas and asters and potted palms. White tapers in candelabra marked the pews.

Mrs. Jerral Allred, organist, provided the traditional wedding music. Mrs. Jake Schwab sang "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a waltz length gown of white chantilly lace and tulle. The molded lace bodice was designed with a mandarin collar and tulle yoke outlined in sequins. The bouffant skirt of tulle and lace was worn over lavers of tulle.

The elbow length veil of illusion fell from a crown of lace sprinkled with seed pearls and sequins. 1c She carried a crescent bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis noon after a year of illness. showered with white satin stream-

Some days ago a real good told me that he was really enjoying reading this column and asked me to sound off on the kid baseball program. It made me happy that this particular man asked me to do so because he is vitally in terested in the program and is manager or something, but he would not express himself as to what he wanted me to say, but only wanted me to express myself More years ago than I care to count W. H. Knowles and myself tried to interest this community in kid baseball and raised over $200 toward getting it started. The money went somewhere, I don't know where and maybe Mr. Knowles doesnt' know either. Neither of us cares, as the program is going good now and many men who were 6:30 not interested are doing a good job of helping get it over.

I have tried to keep in touch to see if I could evaluate the good or harm that might result from the program. My conclusion is that the men handling it, managers, study subject for adults will be umpires and what have you, are a A look at the outreach organiza sacrificing bunch of good fellows. tion and an introduction to "Mis-They are teaching the boys first sions Follow New Frontiers." My position is then that if these good men who are handling this program teach these youngsters to play hard and fair, to be honest and truthful in their dealings, and to play together well (team work) they have gone a long way in making better citizens for the future.

The parents are as a whole, I hear, co-operative and many of the boys and girls are the cream of the crop to begin with. It is my humble opinion that neighbors have been drawn closer together and that a better spirit among us prevails as a result.

Therefore, I am "fur" it and personally thank these men who are leaving their own TV, and in some instances their families at home, to make the thing. It is so easy for me to sit at home by the air conditioner and let someone else do it. But the frost of many winters has settled not on my head but just over my ears; hence my excuse.

3 "I's" Cause Traffic Mishaps By Jeanne Smith,

ONLY TWO PERCENT of all automobile mishaps are true accidents, according to police officials in Berkley, California. In fact, police there no longer use the term "accident." Instead, says Sergeant George A. Rennacker, they refer to those mishaps involving cars as "caused occurences," resulting from the three "I's" -Indifference, Incompetence and Irresponsibility.

Rennacker, Berkley's veteran police traffic expert, keeps com-prehensive accident reports to substantiate his claim that the three "I's" cause 98 percent of all

And, he says, these reports also show that there is a ratio between law enforcement and traffic mishaps — the more tickets, the less accidents — and, conversely, the less tickets, the more accidents. "There seems no question that notorists will drive more carefully and avoid accidents," Rennacker says, "if they feel the police department enforces its traffic leve strictly." fic laws strictly.' Therefore, he has set a policy of strict law enforcement as a major solution to traffic prob-lems. As an example, Berkley has used radar as a traffic law enforcement tool for five years with rewarding results. Last year, 5588 speeding citations were handed out as a result of radar checks. Within a few days after radar check points were set up in a specific locale, speeds de-creased and "caused occurences" dropped—because drivers knew the police were on the job.

In view of the success he has had in Berkley, Rennacker offers this safe driving suggestion: "Al-ways drive as though there were a motorcycle officer behind you."
