Officials gear for meeting with Railroad Commission

In the wake of a called meeting last night when the Iowa Park City Council was expected to make final a city-imposed natural gas rate ordinance, municipal officials continued mapping strategy for a hearing Friday before the Texas Railroad Commission (RRC) concerning the gas rate controversy.

Spearheading a battle waged by several cities which are protesting new rates requested by Lone Star Gas Co., Iowa Park city officials are scheduled to appear before the RRC in Austin Friday morning.

The hearing will be at 10 a.m. Friday in Room 812 of the Ernest O. Thompson Building.

Lone Star is expected to ask the RRC to set aside the city's rate ordinance and have the state commission establish rates for Iowa Park consumers.

However, the city has filed an injunction against the RRC in federal district court, challenging the commission's authority to establish rates in cities served by interstate pipelines. The City of Iowa Park claims the gas used here falls under federal jurisdiction, not state control.

By late Wednesday afternoon it did not appear U.S. District Judge Robert Hill would rule on the city's request for an injunction prior to the hearing scheduled in Austin.

City officials travelling to Austin Friday are expected to report the results of the hearing at a called council meeting set for 7 p.m. Monday in the council chambers here.

Also at Monday's meeting the council will hold a public hearing on proposed uses of federal revenue sharing money the city expects to receive in fiscal year 1978.

The city anticipates it will receive $52,836 in the federal windfall tax monies during the 1978 fiscal calendar.

Big relief; to graduate

Iowa Park High student council president Jim Stevens was concerned for a while that he would be able to graduate, but everything appears all right now.

No, it wasn't his grades that concerned him. Stevens was bitten by a rattlesnake Saturday evening.

Young Stevens and his father, Jack, decided they'd go out on the front porch to look at a threatening cloud. Jack didn't see the snake when he stepped over it. Jim didn't either, stepped on it.

The snake paid the price for biting Jim on his bare right foot big toe. Jack killed it.

Jim was rushed from his home south of the Wichita River to a hospital in Wichita Falls where, to the parents' surprise, rather than being administered an anti-venom serum he was given a penicillin and tetanus shot. After being held a couple of hours under observation to see if there was to be any reaction from the bite, he was released.

The foot swelled and turned dark, according to Mrs. Stevens, but other than his body being sore he suffered no further discomfort. He went to school Wednesday to get some books, but returned home.

Mrs. Stevens said their pet dog was bitten by another rattler Monday night. The dog killed the snake, and survived.

Controversy arises over zone changing

Claims that Bobby Johnson is alive were fueled this week when a federal grand jury meeting in Wichita Falls indicted the missing Iowa Park grainman for interstate transportation of stolen grain and merchandise.

With the indictment federal authorities said they will intensify their investigation into the Johnson mystery begun Jan. 3 when the Iowa Park man reportedly fell from a fishing boat and drowned in the Gulf of Mexico near Port Aransas.

The grand jury's action will enable federal authorities "to go into a number of other areas with the leads that have developed," Ron Eddins, assistant U.S. attorney, said during an interview Tuesday at the Federal Building in Wichita Falls.

The eight-page federal grand jury indictment charges Johnson with 13 counts of knowingly transporting stolen grain and merchandise across the state lines in June 1976.

Each of the counts is styled similarly, but with different dates for the alleged offenses.

On the first count, the federal grand jury charged:

"On or about June 1, 1976, in the Wichita Falls Division of the Northern District of Texas, Robert M. Johnson, defendant, knowingly, wilfully and with unlawful and fraudulent intent, did transport and cause to be transported in interstate commerce from the State of Oklahoma through Bowie, Texas, to Fort Worth, Texas, goods, wares, and merchandise of value in excess of $5,000, that is, a quantity of wheat which had been stolen, unlawfully converted and taken by fraud, knowingly such goods, wares, and merchandise to have been stolen, unlawfully converted and taken by fraud.

"A violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 2314."

The indictment accuses Johnson of the same offense on or about the dates of June 1-12 and June 14, 1976.

Monday's action marked the culmination of at least five full days of hearing testimony and investigation into the case in Wichita Falls in February and in Abilene in March.

Eddins said the grand jury's participation and investigation into the case will continue.

An investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation into Johnson's activities also will continue, Eddins said.

While Johnson's family and other persons claim the Iowa Park man is dead, the grand jury's action supports the theory that law enforcement officials continue to pursue -- the theory that Johnson is alive and in hiding.

The facts of the case, Eddins said, show Johnson disappeared.

"There is no proof the man is dead," Eddins said. "The grand jury's indictment speaks for itself."

A warrant for Johnson's arrest had been issued earlier.

There have been reports that Johnson may have been hiding in Mexico and Belize, and that he underwent plastic surgery to alter his appearance.

Monday's action by the grand jury also opens the door for possible prosecution of other persons involved in Johnson's activities.

"If someone is abetting him (Johnson) in alluding arrest and harboring him -- and knowing he is wanted on a warrant after indictment by the federal grand jury -- they would be possibly in a position of being guilty of harboring a fugitive," Eddins said.

While federal authorities continue their search for Johnson, the missing man's wife, Anita, is scheduled two weeks from today for a hearing in 78th District Court to ask control of the couple's community property.

Mrs. Johnson is scheduled to appear June 2 in 78th District Court in Wichita Falls at 2 p.m. to ask the court to grant her authority to "manage, control and dispose" of the couple's community property, including the lease of the 48,648 acres McFaddin ranch in King and Knox counties.

In a published legal notice, Mrs. Johnson claims her husband is dead, "but there has been no judicial determination of that fact, and there may be substantial delay in securing such a judicial determination."

Iowa Park Planning and Zoning Commission recommended rezoning a portion of property along the east bound expressway access road, but nixed a request to rezone for industrial use a block along West Highway.

Meeting in special session Monday night the planning commission's recommendations -- both decided by split votes -- now will be relayed to the Iowa Park City Council for final action.

Also at Monday night's meeting there were indications the city council will be pressured to more clearly define its ordinance on "commercial convenience" zones.

Larry Ford and Karl King, both representing Pioneer Real Estate, finally won approval to build an office building along the expressway's eastbound access road, but only after the commission took two roll call votes.

Pioneer Real Estate asked to have an area east of Peppy's superette rezoned from single family residential to convenience commercial.

David Springer, a member of the audience, told the commission he would like to see the area remain residential.

In a symbolic gesture, commission member Dr. Erwin Soell left his official seat in the council chambers to join the audience and voice his opposition to further commercial development in that area.

"I can't see this meets any type of planning process," Soell said. He claimed the area could be better used as residential, possibly for an apartment complex. He also aired the need to maintain the one-way eastbound access road for safety reasons.

Commissioner Robert Nolen argued an office observing 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. business hours would create less traffic problems than an apartment complex with 24-hour traffic.

The discussion turned to the fact that the municipal ordinance outlining "convenience commercial" is too broad, and presently does not allow the city to limit construction to "professional offices" such as insurance, physicians, dentists and real estate.

"It just seems to me the ordinance is too broad," said commissioner Tom Neely, who said he hopes the city council will consider rewriting its zoning ordinance on convenience commercial establishments.

Nolen made another motion to rezone the area, and Neely seconded.

By a 3-2 vote the commission voted to recommend that the city council rezone the area in question.

By a 2-3 vote the commission turned down a request to rezone an area northwest of Singleton's TV and Communications on West Highway.

Four persons appeared to protest the proposal which would have rezoned the area from automotive commercial to light industrial.

Most outspoken of the opposition was Wichita County Commissioner Buck Voyles of 710 W. Alameda.

Iowa Park Industrial Development Corporation (IDC) made the rezoning request in hopes that Mowrey Gun Works could construct a new manufacturing facility north of Singleton's.

The IDC had promised Mowrey a construction site, according to Soell. The original site had been part of the old fair grounds, west of Park West Shopping Center.

However, another firm has expressed interest in building a shopping center in Iowa Park and would need the entire fair ground property.

Therefore, the industrial board is seeking another construction site suitable for Mowrey which manufactures handmade muzzle loading rifles and cannons.

"If you put anything on that corner besides residential, you're going to jeopardize that area (near Singleton's)," Voyles argued.

"The people who live there are a little bit concerned," he said, pointing out noise and traffic. "It doesn't look like industrial development property to me."

Commission chairman Don Hill pointed out the area currently was zoned "automotive commercial", not residential.

"You wouldn't want a gun shop banging around in front of your house," Voyles continued to argue.

Opposition pointed out the possibility of increased traffic problems, however, commissioner Gene Lowery explained an automotive commercial business would create more traffic than light industry.

Explained the adjoining property already is zoned for light industry, Soell motioned to rezone the controversial area also for light industry.

"Dr. Soell didn't want this in front of his house. I don't see how he could vote to put it in front of mine," Mrs. Kenneth Glenn Garrett of 716 W. Alameda protested.

"We're extending a zone rather than creating a new one," Soell countered.

Commissioner Vern Horsky seconded Soell's motion which fell by a 2-3 vote.

Engagement reception Sunday fetes couple

One of the most outstanding social events of the spring season was the engagement reception given Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Teel Jr. to present their daughter, Susan Annette, and her fiancé, Randy Carl Lind.

They also used the occasion to introduce the future groom's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Roy Lind of Verden, Okla. and his sister, Miss Angela Lind.

Family intimacy governed the selection of reception and house-party members. Composing the group were the bride-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George McClarty and Mrs. Norma Teel of Burk Burnett, her brother, George Teel, two aunts, Mrs. Joyce Nunn of Burk Burnett and Mrs. Charles Good of Petrolia, a cousin Alan Nunn and a close friend, Mrs. Clark Lemond of Wichita Falls.

Approximately 125 guests from Burk Burnett, Wichita Falls and Iowa Park who called were greeted by the host and hostess, the betrothed couple and parents of the groom.

Emphasizing Miss Teel's chosen color of blue, decorations for the reception were accentuated with candlelight and pastel hues.

Guests registered in the bride's book at a round table covered with blue linen where the center of interest was an engraved message from Mr. and Mrs. Teel and Rev. and Mrs. Lind thanking friends and relatives who called for enhancing their happiness by their presence and good wishes. The message was encased in a keepsake frame on a carved easel.

The table also held a soft green candle uprising from a ring of blue and green silk rosebuds.

The beauty of the refreshment table in the dining room was accentuated by the unusually lovely cloth featuring an ice blue linen floor length skirt overlaid with flocced candlelight chiffon. Giving the cloth a delicate airy appearance was another cloth, a combination of exquisite candlelight lace and sheer squares, gracing the chiffon cover on top of the table and extending to points at the corners.

The centerpiece was a gold and crystal epergne with dangling prisms filled with multi-colored pastel silk flowers consisting of white shasta daisies and tea roses, pink geraniums, ice blue baby's breath, white apple blossoms, large soft green majestic daisies and yellow daisy poms. The refreshments reflected the pastel hues.

The buffet near the table held gold and crystal candelabra to match the epergne on the refreshment table. Blue and white candles burned in the candelabra centered with a hand-painted decoupage keepsake book, a gift to the honoree from her maternal grandmother, Mrs. George McClarty. Each guest was given an engraved message of thanks from parents of the engaged couple.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Teel and Mr. and Mrs. McClarty hosted a supper for the relatives to dimax the day.

Friends honor Miss Frederick

A backdoor supper held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gratan Eiben Saturday evening was given in honor of Miss Cheryl Frederick, senior at Iowa Park High School.

Table decorations carried out green and white, the school colors through mortar boards, diplomas and the wise owl.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick, parents of the honoree, were special guests.

Miss Frederick is a member of the pep club and vice president of O.E.A. She plans to attend Midwestern State University and will enter this fall.

ABOUT TOWN

Approximately forty three young people from Faith Baptist Church will spend Saturday at Six Flags Over Texas. The group will include youth from 7th through 12th grades.

Shower fetes Miss Nipper

The home of Mrs. G.R. Rusk was the setting for a prenuptial shower Monday evening honoring Miss Diana Nipper. The other hostesses for the courtesy were Mmes. O.N. Newman, J.O. McCullough and Thurman Reitz.

The impressive decorations for the party were governed by apricot and candlelight, popular colors for weddings this spring and those chosen by Miss Nipper when she and her fiancé, Dane Ridenour, recite their nuptial vows May 29.

True to form, the refreshment table stood apart in the decorative appointments. The table was laid with candlelight lace and centered with an arrangement of apricot and candlelight carnations.

The honoree was assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Dwight Berry and Miss Karla Nipper as she unwrapped her handsome assortment of gifts. Among these was an electric broom, a gift from the hostesses, who also presented her a corsage of apricot carnations to complement her formal candlelight gown featuring an apricot floral design.

Mrs. C.A. Nipper and Mrs. Bessie Nipper, mother and grandmother of the bride-elect, were remembered with corsages by the hostesses.

To show her appreciation to the hostesses for the courtesy, Miss Nipper gave each a fine piece of crystal.

Mrs. George Boles brought a program on "How to Increase Your Inner Energy" for the TOPS Club winner of the contest which ended with the meeting and returned most of the gifts that she received for another contest.

The current contest entails each member contributing a kitchen linen item for the TOPS member who loses most weight by June 9.

Other members attending were Mmes. Harry Moore, Paul Callaway, A.O. Beall, Lloyd Lowe, A.J. Wood Jr., Lee Whetstone, Richard Lunney, Wilbur Garrels, Betty Merriman and Pauline Steele.

Cook of the Week

Bread - its place in the diet of people dates back almost as far as any food. It nourished the people in Old Testament times and it was the cornerstone of the early American diet. It is indeed the Staff of Life, the symbol of home, hope and hospitality.

Mrs. Charlie Lee has already gained the reputation of being a very efficient and dependable person in many areas of the life of the community since moving here with her husband, who is manager of Cryovac, three years ago. She has also established herself as a Blue Ribbon winner in the cuisine department, especially in bread making. Her enthusiasm for bread making and a taste of any of her delicious breads could easily be a tinder to ignite one's dreams of "someday learning to bake bread" into immediate action.

"Working with something alive is so exciting", Mrs. Lee stated. She said that it was something that the children of the family could help with, and she let her sons do just that when they were growing up in the home. Her love for it must have been contagious because some of the boys still make their own bread.

Mrs. Lee uses unbleached white flour because it is not as refined, has not been chemically tested and has higher gluten rate than all-purpose flour. She also uses whole wheat and rye flour in some of her breads.

A native of Iowa, she was graduated from Le Grand High School and attended the University of Northern Iowa. She taught school for five years before her marriage.

The Lees are members of First United Methodist Church where she is vice president of United Methodist Women. She is president of the Iowa Park Garden Club, member of the Friendly Door advisory board, city parks board and the P.E.O. in Wichita Falls.

Their sons are Don, Don Nelson, Iowa, Charles, a student at State University of New York at Buffalo, James, who is attending graduate school at Duke University and Lindsay of Toronto, Iowa. They have one grandchild.

Shower fetes bride elect

The rich and brilliant colors of candlelight and apricot were attractively combined in decorations for a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday afternoon feting Miss Phyllis Lowry, bride-elect of Tim Hunter. The colors will be emphasized in the couple's wedding June 4, at Conway, Ark.

The home of Mrs. Mike Leath was the setting for the party. Serving as co-hostesses were Mmes. Preston Leath, Jim Adams, Clyde Patterson, Eddie Sasser, Glen Miller, Herbert Davis, Ken Hines, Floyd Heard, Gilbert Mueller, Keith Aulds, Charles Heaux, Pete Hughes, Jack Railsback, Bill Curry and John Cummings.

Sharing the joy of the occasion with the honoree were Mrs. Alton Hunter, mother of the groom-elect, and his grandmothers, Mrs. Ed Johnson of Munday and Mrs. Ruth Hunter of Iowa Park, and sister, Miss Tammie Hunter, who registered guests who called between four and five o'clock.

The honoree was presented with a corsage fashioned of apricot carnations to grace her long candlelight crepe gown, trimmed with matching crocheted lace. Mrs. Alton Hunter wore apricot carnations also.

The refreshment table was covered with a delicate candlelight lace cloth which contrasted prettily against the apricot underlay and table appointments highlighted with a wicker basket filled with candlelight and apricot silk roses in the center.

A tall white pillar candle banked with wedding bells, doves, silk flowers and leaves, and the refreshments which repeated the chosen colors completed the decorative pattern.

The table where guests registered held framed silhouettes of "Phyllis and Tim" and an all-white candle arrangement.

Friends shower couple Saturday

A lovely miscellaneous shower inspired by the approaching nuptials of Miss Chriselda Thompson and Mike Hord was given in her honor Saturday afternoon in the Fellowship Hall of First Christian Church.

Decorations for the affair followed a color scheme of pink and white with emphasis on pink, the honoree's chosen color.

The combination was noted especially on the refreshment table which was gracefully draped with an intricately patterned white lace cloth which fell to floor length. Centering the table were pink candles burning in crystal hurricane globes surrounded with pink rosebuds and roses.

The same shades were noted in the punch and cookies centered with pink frosting roses. The napkins adorned with wedding bells continued the decorative theme.

Mrs. C.O. Dodd was on duty at the bride's book during the party which rested on a table covered with a cloth identical to the one on the refreshment table. A white ceramic holder painted with pink roses held a votive pink candle.

The honoree, dressed in a long white gown complemented with a corsage of pink carnations, greeted her guests as she unwrapped her lovely assortment of gifts to be placed on display for guests to view. She was assisted by Miss Jan Spruiell and Miss Carrie Andersen.

Book on Africa reviewed

Miss Ethyle Kidwell continued the study of "Torment to Triumph in Southern Africa" for the meeting of United Methodist Women Tuesday morning.

She explained that the book was written by two missionaries who saw and witnessed the situation in today's Africa as the apartheid attitude developed into a bad situation for the black Africans.

Miss Kidwell stated that the National Convention of 1908 only turned out to be for white Africans to hold complete power over Southern Africa which meant separate developments for blacks and whites. She gave facts attesting to how the blacks were still being pushed back, divested of all their rights and privileges and warned that the situation could end in holocaust.

Continuing, she discussed the Bantrusan Trust Land Act which appeared to be a public effort by Europeans to help educate, give complete freedom to the blacks in Africa and how it turned out to be a farce. She gave facts to show that U.S. business was not free of exploitation.

In closing she stressed the responsibility of Christians to stand up and be counted and to support the movements for the independence of the blacks in Africa.

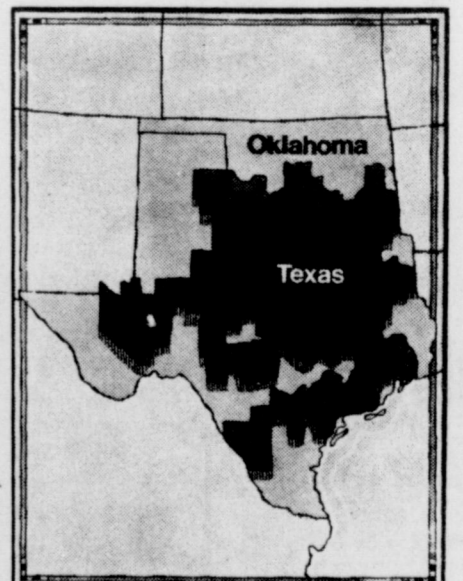

Announcement was made that Larry and Mickey George, former missionaries to Africa, would be guests at the church Sunday.

Twenty-four members and one guest attended the meeting.

WITH OUR CONNECTIONS, WE CAN SUPPLY ALL THE GAS YOU'LL NEED.

Lone Star's transmission pipeline system traverses or extends into counties shaded on this map.

Lone Star's existing gas reserves will meet the requirements of all of our customers for the next 12 years, based on 1976 consumption rates.

What about the future years — when these reserves are depleted?

Fortunately, Lone Star is in a position to buy new gas reserves that could last our customers far into the 21st century.

We're in the right place at the right time. And we have all of the right connections.

Lone Star's pipeline system enters eight of the nine major gas producing areas in Texas and Oklahoma.

Our transmission lines reach areas which contain over 50% of the remaining on-shore gas reserves in the continental U.S.

This strong network puts Lone Star in one of the most favorable buying positions of any natural gas company.

All we need is the money to buy ahead.

The price of gas will keep increasing, because producers will have to drill much deeper and more costly wells to develop new reserves.

It's going to take a lot of money to secure this area's share of these reserves. Unfortunately, Lone Star's ability to bid successfully for new gas reserves hinges greatly on the existence of adequate rates for the gas we sell.

The time to begin an aggressive resupply program is now, while we have a competitive buying edge and while economical gas is available.

With a fair return on our necessary investment, we can make the long-term financial commitments that will assure our customers all the natural gas they'll need for decades to come. And we will.

Injuries said minor from wreck

An Iowa Park youth escaped serious injury Monday afternoon when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile in front of Iowa Park High School.

The accident occurred about 4:30 p.m. Monday near the west entrance to the circle drive in front of the high school.

Driver of the automobile was Jody Frazier. She was not injured.

Driver of the motorcycle, high school student Perry Schroeder, was taken to Wichita General Hospital by Gold Cross Ambulance.

Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schroeder, was treated for minor injuries and released from the hospital later Monday evening.

A large dent was put in the front of the Frazier car, while Schroeder's motorcycle sustained heavy damage to the front end.

Monday's mishap marks the third incident in less than two weeks where Iowa Park youths were injured while riding motorcycles.

In other police activity this week, officers here are investigating the Sunday night burglary of Bill Bates Chevrolet, 216 W. Yosemite, where a window on the west side of the building was broken out.

On Friday Richard Lehman reported the radio antenna to his pickup truck was broken off while he was on horseback and the vehicle was parked alongside Harmony Road west of Iowa Park.

As I See It... by BOB HAMILTON

A lot of publicity is being given to a problem facing congress these days, concerning the Postal Service.

At issue, as I understand it, is whether to raise the first class postage rates from 13 cents to 16 cents, or close the post offices on Saturdays, or maybe even both.

Seems the cost of operation keeps going up, despite all the automation programs bought and put into use, replacing all that high-priced manpower.

From this layman's standpoint, the problem is the government's policy of built-in salary increases, along with all the side benefits that seldom are ever mentioned.

And also the retirement benefits, which are probably costing a big percentage of the total budget.

Of course, the Postal Service isn't the only group hiring people under such a program. But it's a simple observation of why everything is increasing in its cost annually.

Whether it be the post office, schools, clothing store or corner service station, when you establish a policy of raising salaries five percent or so each year, and pick up more and more on your retirement benefit payments each year, your cost of operation will increase each year.

I think the Postal Service could cut its costs dramatically, not have to raise the price of a letter and not have to close the offices on Saturdays, if they'd just reverse one stupid policy they have.

Start charging people to have mail delivered to them, and give the post office box use free.

No one has ever satisfied my question of how it was right to charge someone for the use of a box, but deliver the mail to my hands free.

We have five street carriers, two rural carriers, two window workers and a postmaster and assistant postmaster working in the office here.

If all the mail were put up in boxes, except for those few who paid for having mail delivered to their homes or businesses, the same volume of postage could be handled by seven, or fewer.

Knocking off the cost of vehicle purchase, fuel and maintenance would offset the cost of a larger postoffice.

But until we go to something as simple as that, we are going to experience the built-in increase in cost of the Postal Service from year to year.

Let me throw in this observation while I'm on the subject. I've knocked the Service from time to time about delivery time, and when something is good, it should be brought out.

Last week and this week I've had occasion to mail pictures to various newspaper friends of mine, in all parts of the state. As far as I know, each received his photo Tuesday morning, and I put the envelopes in the outdoor box about 5 p.m. both Mondays.

That's a job well done. And I've got to admit, it was worth more than the 13 cents for each I had to pay.

Friendly Door meals popular

Mryna Robinson, director of Friendly Door, reported this week that an average of 35 had been eating lunch at First United Methodist Church since the official opening of Friendly Door May 9.

Forty-nine ate lunch Monday and during the meal special music was furnished by Mrs. Otis Gay, pianist, and Danny Parkerson, vocalist.

Forty members attended the picnic at Lucy Park in Wichita Falls Wednesday.

A special program will be given Monday by Mrs. Floyd Adams' Little Folks School.

Community auction planned by Chamber

Plans to sponsor a community auction are in the making by the Chamber of Commerce.

Keith Aulds, president, will head a committee of five to set a date and details of the auction, which will probably be held in August or September.

Discussion of the project was held during the Chamber's monthly board meeting Monday. Aulds named H.M. Nipper, Bob Hamilton, Tommy Key and Harrell Sullivan to the committee.

Mrs. Oscar Singleton was appointed to fulfill the unexpired term of Cleo Nipper on the board.

A report on the Chamber-sponsored Clean Up Day was made by Richard Davis, chairman of the project. He said he was impressed by the number of telephone calls, 75 or 80, the office receive from citizens asking for pickup of large items.

Other discussions held during the meeting included the annual banquet, Christmas decorations, sponsoring a carnival and Whoop-T-Do.

Extended area services nears for rural towns

The possibility of extended area telephone service between Valley View and Kamay with Iowa Park and Wichita Falls is being increased with installation of new underground cable being installed.

Southwestern Bell Telephone must first be approached by Continental Telephone Company, but first citizens of the rural communities must indicate a desire to Continental.

Information on the new cable project was given Tuesday at the weekly meeting of the Noon Lions Club by Grover Cleveland, Engineering Project Supervisor for Bell.

He said his firm was presently putting cable under south of Iowa Park, to be joined by a new cable installation of Continental's.

Continental customers will be able to use "one-plus dialing" when the new cable is completed and hooked up to a computer system used in the operation.

Cleveland's talk was mainly on work his department carries out, which is the engineering of all projects for this area, between cities.

When the new cable was laid between Iowa Park and Wichita Falls, the capability of 96 channels was installed, which will permit between 14,000 and 15,000 conversations at one time.

Iowa Park has approximately 2,500 lines in service presently, but has 4,243 telephones, indicating multi-phone installations in homes and businesses.

Bell has plans for all telephone lines between cities in this area to be underground by 1982, Cleveland said. The area system serves 128,890 telephones.

During the business portion of Tuesday's meeting, John Sibley reported the annual broom and home products sale Saturday was not as successful as it had been in the past, grossing $400.44, and netting only $71.54.

The net has been donated to the Parks Department for improvements at Oscar Park.

HELL - WHERE IS IT?

The Bible tells us, "The heaven, even the heavens, are the Lord's; but the earth He hath given to the children of men." [Psalm 115, v. 16].

We know that heaven is the dwelling place of God. And we know that God created the earth as a home for men. But what about hell? Where is it, and who lives there?

We have already seen that when a man is dead he returns to the dust of the ground. He can no longer think or feel - he has no more life than an insect that you have crushed between your fingers.

Some people have thought that the wicked are sent to a place of punishment when they die; and that this place is called "hell." But let us see what the Bible says about it.

The Old Testament was first written in the Hebrew language; and afterwards translated into English. The Hebrew word "sheol" means "a covered place" - and that is the word which has been translated "hell" 31 times. The covered place referred to is the grave; and it is interesting to note that the translators have actually put "grave" for "sheol" 31 times, too. Hell and the grave are one and the same place.

BUT WHAT OF GEHENNA FIRE?

In Mark 9 we read,

"It is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands, to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched." [Mark 9 v. 43].

Just as the Old Testament was first written in Hebrew, so the New Testament was first written in Greek language. The Greek word for "hell" in verses like the one quoted is "gehenna."

Gehenna is the name of a valley just outside Jerusalem - a place which would be well known to the Jews who listened to Jesus. It was the place where the rubbish from the city was burned. In times of siege and war, the bodies of the dead were also flung into Gehenna to be burned. It was a place of destruction; and so to "cast into Gehenna" meant to destroy utterly. Jesus was warning men to cut out from their lives those things that tended to lead them away from God, and so avoid the complete destruction of everlasting death.

No need yet to spray pecan trees in area

By DON D. DECKER
County Agent

The telephone has been ringing off the wall with folks inquiring about the dates for spraying in the control of the pecan nut casebearer.

Let me assure you that the county Pecan and Fruit Committee headed by Virgil Woodfin is keeping close tabs on the development and egg laying of the casebearer. Growers as far south as Seguin in South Texas have not started to spray yet, and our spraying here will be many days behind theirs.

We can expect our pecan spraying dates sometime between May 25 and June 5. With the cooler spring the moth egg laying may be delayed until the first part of June. Some of our growers are trying to correlate the tips of the pecan nutlets turning brown as the time to start spraying. However, spray dates must be based upon the egg laying of the casebearer moth.

We have placed bands on pecan trees at the Research Center in Iowa Park. I will remove those bands this week keeping the captured pupa in a cage out in the pecan orchard. When these pupa begin to hatch into a moth, this will indicate a time to start spraying.

In addition, there are numerous pecan trees on the campus of Midwestern State University which is very near my office. I will be inspecting those trees daily for egg laying which will help to increase the accuracy of the spray dates we recommend. Sprays must be applied after eggs are deposited on the tips of the pecan nutlets by the casebearer moth but before the eggs hatch and the tiny worm enters the pecan nutlet. After the worm enters the pecan nutlet, it is too late.

Homeowners can spray for this pest with a mixture of Malathion and Sevin. It is also advisable to add NZN and Benlate to the spray for the control of pecan rosette (zinc deficiency) and scab (fungus infection). You commercial growers can use Zolone for the casebearer plus the addition of NZN and Benlate for rosette and disease control.

A preliminary evaluation of the grain sorghum herbicide demonstration by Frank Morton of Burkburnett indicates good weed control with slight crop damage.

Corky Redden and I walked over the field the other day and we concluded the Milogard had given the best results with the least damage to the seedling sorghum. The Igran had yellowed the sorghum some and the Mow Down had browned the margins and tips of some leaves. All of the damage was slight, and I expect the sorghum to make rapid recovery. We will measure yields at harvest time with a combine to determine if there is any yield difference between the herbicides.

The broadcast rate of the herbicides in this demonstration included Milogard at 1 1/2 pounds per acre, Igran at 2 1/2 pounds per acre and Mow Down at 2 pounds per acre. There are a lot of options open to weed control in sorghum. We can apply Aatrex and crop oil as a postemerge application if we get into a weed problem on the untreated portion of this field.

I'm proud of this demonstration because we have a good stand and the crop is off to a good start. We don't have the grain in the trailer yet, but a goal of 3,000 pounds per acre looks realistic.

"It is the rare pleasures that especially delight us."

WANTED - FBI agents are requesting public assistance in identifying the persons responsible for stealing and transporting cattle which were recovered near Vernon in late March. Composite drawings of the men believed to be responsible for the crime are John Steel, left, and John Dunn. Some of the cattle were recovered at a farm near Iowa Park, although their names are being withheld because the purchaser's appear to be victims of a fast order cattle theft ring, according to investigators.

4-H CLUB

News

Wichita County 4-H Camp will be held on Aug. 5 at Camp Perkins. This will be open to all 4-H members in Wichita County. This should be one of the best camps Wichita County has ever had.

Anyone interested in a three or four day horse clinic in July, contact Corky Redden, Assistant County Agent. This clinic will be directed toward all phases of horsemanship.

The Wichita County 4-H is striving to help any youth between the ages of 9-19. There are numerous projects that can be done in 4-H. There is always a need for adult leaders to supervise the youth in our area. Any adult that would like to help with an existing project or start a new project, contact Redden at 766-0131.

Roundup is an achievement event for district winners in demonstrations, contests and illustrated talks.

Mrs. Ruth Smith, City View 4-H leader, has been chosen as one of 28 4-H adult leaders to receive the Distinguished Volunteer 4-H Adult Leader Award. This award is presented by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation during 4-H Roundup in June.

The Youth Fair was a huge success. There were 1,034 entries in divisions of dogs, pets, arts, child care, clothing, collections, needlework, foods, horticulture, physical fitness and puppets.

Winners in district eliminations for Roundup are Cindy Lewis who will give a clothing demonstration and Jana Arnold who will give a cake decorating demonstration. They will be going to Roundup in College Station this June 7-9.

Two girls have applied to go to Texas 4-H Congress. Representing Wichita County at the annual event to be held this year in Corpus Christi, will be Kathy Serimpsher and Tam Garland of Burkburnett.

Anyone wanting information about joining a 4-H Club or being a 4-H leader, contact Dianne Townsend, Assistant County Extension Agent, at 766-0131.

compares to $5,976.34 in payments for the same period in 1976.

Partly because of a new system of figuring the percentage of rebates to cities, current collections represent a 30 per cent increase.

Finnell recognized for voting record

State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday has been officially notified that he is one of six members of the House of Representatives who have a 100 per cent voting record this session of the Texas legislature.

Other representatives who have not missed a vote include Rep. Ben Grant of Marshall, Rep. Don Cartwright of San Antonio, Rep. Fred Head of Athens, Rep. James Kaster of El Paso, and Rep. Bob Close of Perryton. It was further observed that Finnell has been present and voting on every bill during his entire 10 year service as a state legislator.

In other action, the House passed legislation sponsored by Finnell which gives the authority to deputize court bailiffs in Wichita County to the District Judges rather than the County Sheriff. The bill now returns to the Senate for concurrence and then to the Governor for his signature. "Local elected officials requested this bill to streamline the local judicial system," Finnell explained.

Also, H.B. 1772 which establishes a five-day grace period for acquiring automobile inspection stickers, passed out of the Senate State Affairs Committee and now awaits action by the full Senate.

With fewer than two weeks remaining of the 140-day legislative session and over 3,000 bills and resolutions still pending, Finnell observed that now is the most crucial time for legislators to remain in Austin and represent the needs of their districts.

Squirrels destructive

By DEENA BALL.
Tree squirrels are the most interesting and frequently the only wild animal commonly encountered by the urban dwellers. However, they can be quite destructive. They may dig up garden bulbs, raid fruit and nut trees, damage standing grain crops, kill or deform ornamental and forest trees by cutting buds and debarking and can cause considerable damage to buildings and electric cables by gnawing.

There are four different groups of squirrels in Texas: Flying, Rock, Gray, and Fox squirrels.

There are three main periods of daily activity: before sunrise, during the middle of the day, and in the late afternoon. The rest of the time, they are resting or just sitting up in the trees. Fox squirrels are essentially tree-dwellers, but they also spend considerable time on the ground foraging. They travel principally by hopping, but when in a hurry, can take long leaps. They go both up and down a tree head first. Fox squirrels usually live alone but pairs may stay together for a while at the beginning of mating season. Squirrels do have an economic value in that those nuts that are not recovered eventually germinate and furnish timber as well as increase the crop production in the future.

Squirrels can be controlled simply by following some of the measures mentioned below.

Observe the routes taken by squirrels to find the places where they are entering and leaving a house. Close the holes with 1/2 inch mesh or 26 gauge or heavier metal. Check for openings under the eaves and where wires enter the house. Look for loose knots that have fallen out of the wood. Inspect for loose chimney flashings. Place meshed wire screen over chimney openings, particularly if the building is to remain unoccupied for a period of time. The best time to mend holes is when the squirrels are out foraging, depending on the type squirrel you are dealing with.

Squirrels can be kept out of isolated trees by encircling the tree with a 2 foot wide band of metal 6 feet off the ground. Overhanging branches within 6 feet of the ground or roof line should be trimmed. Winter damage to

"At Texas Electric, where I work, our job is to provide you with the electricity you need.

But higher construction and fuel costs are making it more expensive to do.

I can tell just by looking at my electric bill.

One thing I do at home is to keep a checklist right on my air-conditioning/heating unit. I have the months listed, and every time I clean the filter I check off that month—so I make sure I check it at least once a month. I couldn't remember it otherwise, and it's important.

A dirty filter limits the air flow through there—and that uses more electricity."
