Sixth grade may be bussed to Valley View next year

The possibility that the entire sixth grade class would be bussed to the Valley View campus next year for classes was discussed during Tuesday night's regular meeting of the school board. But no decision will be reached until a complete study is prepared by the administration. Bussing of an entire class to the Valley View campus was discussed last year, but the board at that time decided to take the position it did, and retain grades one through eight there. Enrollment of the area was supplemented by bussing several students from the Valley Farms area, plus some volunteers from here in town. Supt. Faris Nowell, during the discussion, told the board that having an entire class the size of the sixth grade in the one school would permit departmentalizing by teachers, where they do little of it now.

5 or 20. This is the third time the trial dates have been set, but the previous dates were postponed due to ease load in court. Two new janitors were hired by the board. Raymond Davis was hired at a $300 monthly salary and Jackie Blagg for $375. The meeting was closed to the public about 10 p.m., when the board chairman Hoyt Watson announced the need for discussing personnel.

Group seeks abolishment of City View school district

That feverishly-active group of citizens in the City View School District has changed its plan of attack.

Instead of filing an injunction against the school board, as originally planned, the group has now decided to petition an election which would abolish the district.

At a called meeting last Thursday evening, attended by about 70 persons, the five-member committee elected to represent the discontent taxpayers reported the original avenue of attack was rocky and filled with legal pitfalls. The committee then proposed the election to abolish the district.

Most of those at the meeting signed the petitions as the meeting closed, and then took them to obtain other signatures from those not attending.

The petition quotes Section 19.361 of the Texas Election Code of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas which calls for the abolishment of the district. This is altogether different from the petition for detachment and annexation which was presented by residents living in the western portion of the district last summer.

A telephone conversation Wednesday morning with one of the committeemen confirmed that the petitions had not yet been presented to the County Commissioners' Court.

As explained by Lynn Darden, Wichita Falls attorney who spoke to the group, should the petition be accepted by the court, the election held and passed, the district would then be operated by the county court. The commissioners, it was explained, could operate the school as its official board, or appoint it to one or more bordering districts, which is what the group wants.

There are approximately 1,300 registered voters in the district, thus requiring some 130 signatures to be on the petitions before they can be presented, as the law requires 10 percent of the voters to sign such election applications.

No date has been set by the committee for presentation of the petitions.

During a discussion on the future plans it was brought out that if the election for abolishment of the district should happen to fail, the group could legally petition for an annexation election in early September, which would exceed the year's waiting period required since the last such petition was presented and hearing held.

Those voicing desires as to what school district they wanted to annex with, Wichita Falls or Iowa Park, said they hoped the lines would be drawn similar to those set down during last summer's detachment hearings. Two men who live east of the dividing line, Springlake Road, said if they were to be forced to go into the Wichita Falls district they were against the abolishment election.

The citizens' group organized recently, after notices were mailed by the school board that a 53 percent tax increase would be necessary to meet the increasing cost of education.

Several are planning to meet with the district's Board of Equalization, which will convene June 14-18, it is reported.

The group voted to let the elected committee use money which was originally donated for attorney and court costs, to promote the abolishment election.

According to Claude Draper, treasurer for the committee, more than $525 remains in the account after $104 was spent for legal fees, printing and postage.

Al Griest, chairman of the committee, reported that attorney Darden, while working in Austin on behalf of the citizens' group, had learned and confirmed that the City View District has filed a loan application requesting $100,000. Griest said he not no one else in the room knew what that money was for.

Drouth loan time extended

News of additional financial relief for farmers in the drouth-stricken areas of Texas was announced Monday by Congressman Graham Purcell's office in Wichita Falls.

The statement proclaimed that Sec. of Agriculture Hardin will soon announce the president's authorization to extend drouth assistance payments to farmers and ranchers in the drouth area, if necessary.

Additional time is made available for applications from those who have scheduled interest and principal payments and are unable to make them due to lack of income due to the drouth.

The amount of time extended will be determined by circumstances of each individual case and each case will be received again this fall at the end of the crop year.

Drouth payment loans are available under the FHA program.

Additional information on the drouth program can be obtained by contacting Don Brock in Sec. Hardin's office, the announcement stated.

Should the entire class be there, he said a strong intermural program could be set up in athletics.

The sixth grade was moved from the elementary campuses last year to the junior high building, because of crowded conditions.

Supt. Nowell said he and his staff were making a thorough study of the proposal, and it would be complete soon. He said the board might want to hold a called meeting when completed to make its decision.

Should the sixth grade not be bussed to Valley View, the same program as was carried out this past school year would probably be repeated.

Carl Catlin, Gulf petroleum jobber here, was awarded the contract for next year to supply gasoline and oil to the district. He was low bidder of three submitted.

Under terms of the bids, Catlin must have new gasoline tanks set and ready for use at the bus barn by July 1.

Approximately 17 transfer students from the City View school district were approved for next year by the board. However, a written contract must be completed which stipulates the tuition fees must be paid at the end of each month, according to the board.

Tuition fees must be paid at the end of each month, according to the board.

Tuition fees for students from other districts which are paid by the parents, must be paid monthly in advance, according to board policy.

It was pointed out that the City View district still has not paid the tuition fee for transfer students for the spring semester.

Initiation of an art class for junior high students is proposed for this fall. Supt. Nowell said the furniture would cost approximately $1,500, and the students taking the course would pay a fee for supplies.

Some further study is yet to be made to determine scheduling students for the class, and which students would be eligible for it.

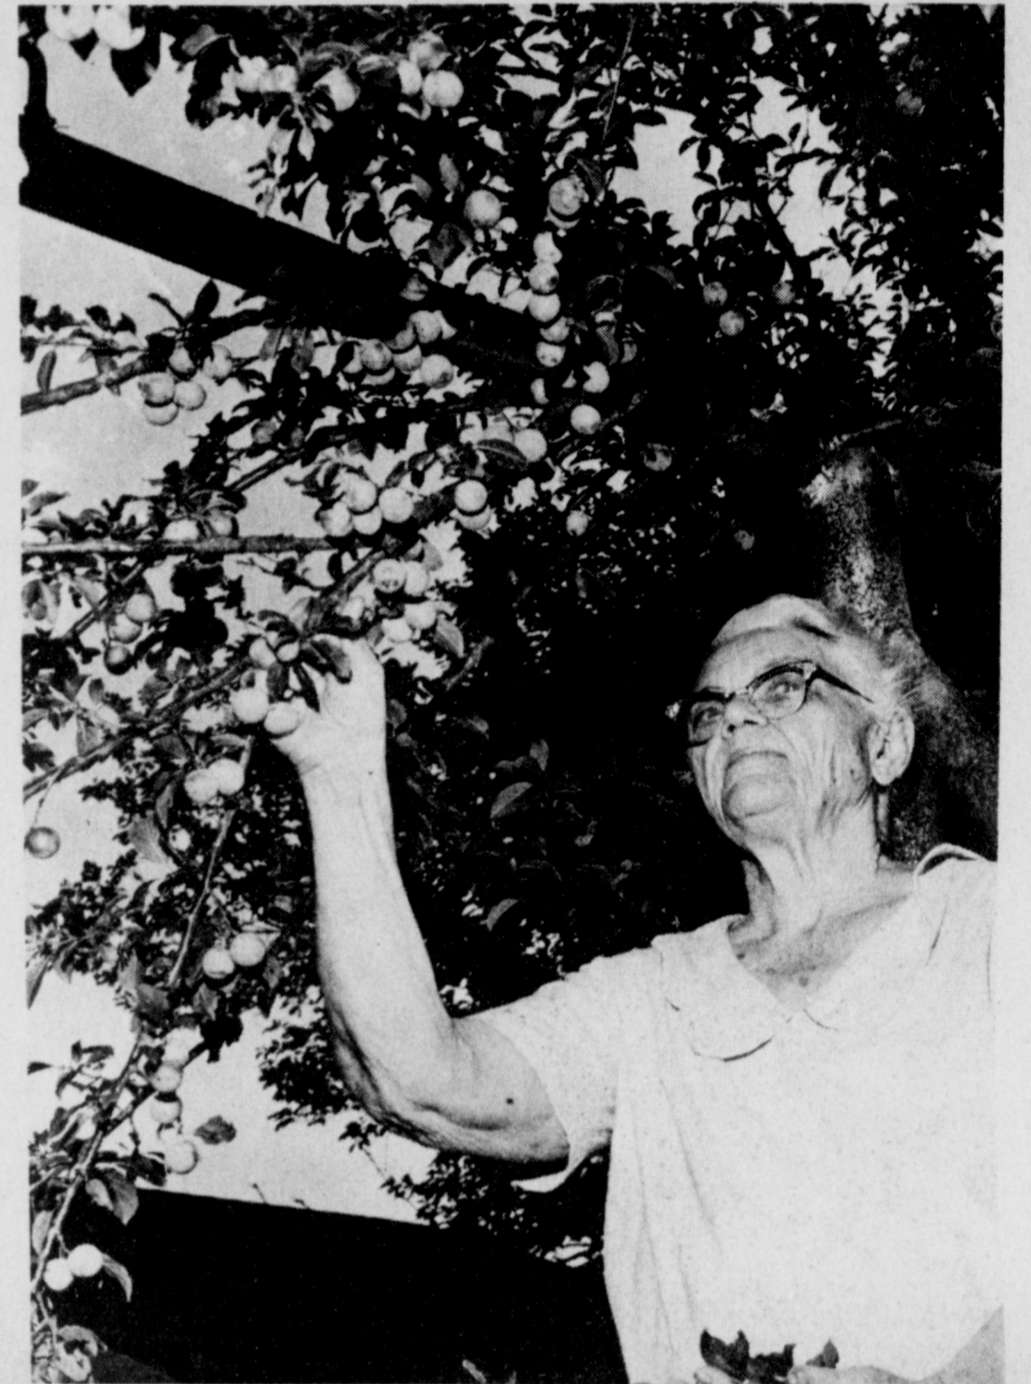

Nowell reported summer school was now in operation at the high school building. Seventy one students are enrolled. Forty one are enrolled in English and 39 in math. Twelve of the students are from junior high.

The regular meeting of the board in July was changed from the 13th to either the 8th or 9th, due to conflicts.

Board members voted approval to sell a surplus, 1959 Chevrolet bus acquired in the annexation of the Valley View district. Following the required approval from the Texas Education Agency, the bus will be advertised for bids.

Nowell reported to the board that he still has not received any word from the state agency on the seven new teachers of vocational courses for this fall. He said the agency had taken no action until the legislative session was ended, and he now expected approval or disapproval in the very near future.

Reading a letter from the board's legal advisor, it was pointed out that the court suit of Guthrie Construction against the school was set for the jury weeks of Sept.

MRS. BILLY MORGAN

Broyles-Morgan

A wedding performed Saturday evening in the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church by the Rev. Jerry Thornton, pastor, united in marriage Miss Joan Elaine Broyles and Billy Fairl Morgan.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Billy W. Broyles of Route Two and the groom's parents are Mrs. Joann Morgan of Kama and F. T. Morgan of Iowa Park.

The nuptial area was centered with branched wrought iron candelabra in which cathedral candles shed illumination and pedestal baskets of white gladioli were used on either side.

Mark Williams, vocalist, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer". He was accompanied by Mrs. George Taylor, pianist, who also played the other wedding selections.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. Her formal white bridal satin gown was designed with an Empire bodice covered with Alencon lace, and the lace also formed the sleeves which were cuffed with bridal satin trimmed with self-covered buttons. The chapel train was attached to the gown at the waistline of the A-line skirt and its daintiness was enhanced with lace appliques. The sheer illusion fingertip veil cascaded from a pearl crown. She carried a bridal bouquet of yellow rosebuds, baby's breath and white carnations on top of a pearl Bible.

Miss Judy Powell was maid of honor. She wore a street-length yellow peau de soie Empire dress with lace sleeves. A matching veil de soie bow held the short veil and her bouquet was daisy mums nestled in moss and lime green net.

The bride's table, laid with a floor-length white peau de soie cloth swagged with garlands of smilax held at either extremity with nosegays of daisies, was an exquisitely impressive picture. The beauty was accentuated by the wrought-iron candelabrum which held white stock and Majestic daisies. The four-tiered cake decorated in yellow and white was topped with yellow roses and white doves. The third tier was decorated with wedding bells from which yellow and white sweet peas cascaded to the roses and cherubs around the base.

The groom's table was covered with yellow peau de soie and centered with a branched ornamental candlestick holding yellow tapers and cascading clusters of grapes.

The registration and memory candle tables were also set apart by distinctive decorations. The table holding the bride's book was appointed with a nosegay of white wedding bells, yellow daisies, white satin bows and streamers on a background of ruffled yellow tulle and a bouquet of small white daisies. YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

John L. Maples, minister, Church of Christ, Iowa Park.

QUESTION: Does the Bible have scientific foreknowledge?

ANSWER: Herbert Spencer (1820-1903) first announced that there are only five "manifestations of the unknowable" in existence - time, force, action, space and matter - and that all else is based on these fundamentals. This was hailed as a great announcement, but when God had that great scientist, Moses, write the very first verse in the Bible, He said, "Moses, 3,400 years from now men will think they have discovered everything so you just put it all in Genesis 1:1 and we will begin with everything man can discover." Moses wrote: "In the beginning, time; "God", force; "created", action; "the heavens", space; "and the earth", matter. Thus Moses put all five scientific fundamentals in the very first of Genesis and they are in the same order as announced by Herbert Spencer. How could Moses do this? The answer must be that God told Moses what to write.

If you would like to have a question answered please write to "Bible Questions and Answers," P. O. Box 520, Iowa Park, Texas, 76367.

TO GET THE MESSAGE

Make your air conditioning work better, cost less.

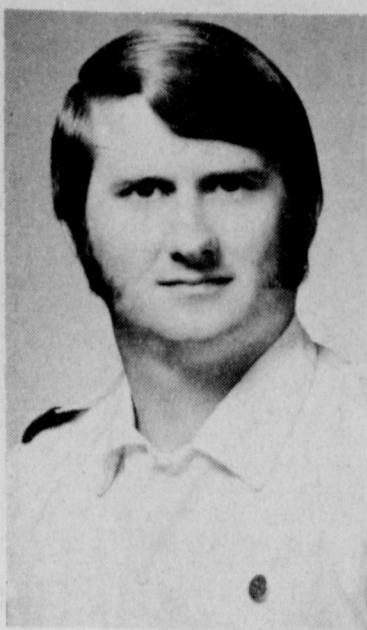

Here are six tips that will help you get the most comfort from your air conditioning at the lowest possible cost.

- Set the thermostat properly: Set the thermostat no lower than necessary for your personal comfort. Most air conditioning specialists recommend a thermostat setting of 76° to 78°. Remember, the lower the setting, the more electricity the unit uses.
- Inspect filters often: Clogged filters make the unit work harder and use more electricity. Replacement of disposable filters - or cleaning of permanent types - will help keep the system running more efficiently.
- Have regular maintenance checks: Have the unit checked at least once a year by a qualified air conditioning serviceman. Do this in the spring, prior to your need for cooling. It pays!
- Trim shrubbery: The outdoor unit needs free air circulation. Help it maintain full efficiency and keep operating costs down by trimming nearby shrubbery and by checking to make sure compressor coils are clean.
- Keep sunlight out: Direct sunlight increases the heat in your home.
- Reduce the air conditioning unit's load by using awnings, blinds, shades or draw drapes.
- Insulate: Proper insulation keeps the hot air out, the cool air in. It reduces the cost of winter heating too. Ceiling insulation is particularly important.

With the assistance of high school principals and counselors from across the nation, the Society of Outstanding American High School students strives to further the pursuit of academic achievement and civic responsibility on the part of American youth.

The Society accepts for membership only young men and women who have distinguished themselves as their school's highest achievers.

These students are now competing for over $262,000 in renewable college scholarships offered by the Society.

These scholarships consist of unrestricted cash awards to colleges and universities across the nation. The Outstanding American High School Students awards program is one of the largest of its kind in the country.

Society members are recognized annually in a published volume entitled Outstanding American High School Students, which is distributed nationally to colleges, universities, corporations and libraries.

Adams retires as city postmaster

"I'm just going to relax and do a little fishing," commented Leland C. Adams who retired as Holliday's postmaster May 31, after more than 25 years of service in that position. Adams, known to many of his friends as Shorty, took charge of Holliday's postal services Jan. 1, 1945, after teaching in the Holliday school system ten years. He served as principal of the school for two years and has the distinction of being Holliday's first football coach. "I started teaching history and math here in 1936 and in 1938 when the school decided to have a football squad I was appointed coach," stated Adams who was first-string quarterback at Abilene Christian College for four years.

He was also a member of the varsity basketball and baseball teams at ACC. Adams, who will celebrate his 70th birthday June 19, taught school at Perrin, Brownwood, Sherwood and Cordelle Christian College in Oklahoma before coming to Holliday.

"It was quite a thrill helping Holliday take up the gridiron sport. I'll never forget our first game of the season when we defeated Archer City by one touchdown," added Adams. The Eagles played where the new school cafeteria is now standing.

Adams stated receipts of the city's post office have tripled since he started to work there in 1945. He also witnessed the postal operation move from its old quarters in a section of the now White's Store to its new building on the corner.

Although Adams has officially retired, he still drives to his old place of occupation each day to take his wife, Genevieve, to work. Mrs. Adams was appointed officer-in-charge (postmaster) to succeed her husband. She has been a postal worker here since 1948. The reason for Adams having to visit his place of retirement is because his wife can't drive.

The Adams have one son who is a chemist for the Goodyear Chemical Plant in Beaumont. Adams is also looking forward to seeing more of his granddaughter, Leah (three years old) and six month old Aaron.

BASEBALL PROGRAM CREATES FRIENDSHIPS

Talley "Hobos" collect win against Archer City, 14-9

Holliday's "Hobos" evened their season record at one and one with an impressive 14-9 victory against Archer City's First State Bank squad. However, the ballgame wasn't over until the final inning of play. The Hobos led 14-7 as Archer City came to bat for the last time. They scored two runs and loaded the bases with only one out. Pitcher Junior McKay appeared to have trouble controlling the ball after fanning six batters in the first two innings and limiting the First State Bank squad to six runs.

Relief pitcher Wade Shirley took up the pitching chores for Holliday and struck out two of the next three batters to secure the win for the Hobos.

Center fielder Mike Hewitt shared batting honors with a long double in the first inning with the bases loaded. All three runners scored. Catcher Joel Mankins unloaded the bases in the second inning with a blast to center field and crossed home himself only to be called out for missing second base.

First baseman John Dyer and third baseman Wade Shirley also collected hits for the Hobos who are sponsored by Long, Lee and Talley Insurance.

The Hobos will have their work cut out for them Monday night as they face Steve's Repair Shop who are among the undefeated ranks.

Bud Wilmot gets contract

Wilmot's Welding Service of Holliday has been awarded a $20,000 contract to design and build two drive-in movie screens in Denton.

Buddy Wilmot, owner of the welding service, was contacted early this week by the Texas Cinema Corporation of Ennis and told his bid for the job had been accepted.

Wilmot and five employees will construct the 80 ft. wide and 40 ft. high screens on the ground and then have them raised by a crane. They are expected to build the screens according to specifications which will enable them to withstand 90 mile-an-hour winds.

Three years ago Wilmot built a custom welding shop here and started building drive-in movie screens. "This will be 12 screens we have constructed once we complete this job," stated Wilmot.

HOLLIDAY HAPPENINGS

Ten table tennis enthusiasts participated in Holliday's Open Tournament in the First Baptist Church recreation center Saturday. Larry Finnell took top honors in the singles competition and teamed up with Scott Slack to capture first place in the doubles event.

Some 100 boys and girls are attending Vacation Bible School at the First Baptist Church. The school started Monday and will last through Friday.

Commencement services will be held at 7:30 p.m., Sunday. "This is our parent night where fathers and mothers may see what their children have been doing and learning in vacation Bible school," stated the Rev. Darius McKay.

Twenty-four seventh and eighth grade students attended a Bible study and prayer meeting at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night.

Helping the young teenagers in this program are Mrs. Carrie Stegall and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Todd.

MESQUITE MUSINGS

By Ruby L. Robertson

Grow old along with me/The best is yet to be-/ The last of life for which the first was made.

These beautiful words from the pen of Robert Browning are even more true today than when they were written. This is truly a delightful world for people who have passed their middle age and still enjoy good health.

Today grandparents can hop a jet plane and go clear across the country to see a grandchild without tiring themselves; a feat impossible a generation ago. With all the wonderful medicine available now, a person can often remain active to the age of ninety.

Senior Citizens clubs and other similar organizations create a social atmosphere that makes life more pleasant for the Golden Age gals and boys.

With social security benefits and income from pensions the threat of poverty is not as prevalent as it was once. So people in their golden years are not compelled to be a fire ball in the business world but can be content to be a live coal which sends out a comfortable glow.

Older persons have so much to contribute to the world by helping younger ones. Instead of feeling left out, they are in a position to be in the middle of the activity because they are no longer bound by work or family schedules. Our way of life could not continue without our friends who have passed their three score and ten years.

These lines from the writing of the late Gen. Douglas McArthur, sum up some of the problems we face as we grow older: "In the central place of every heart there is a recording chamber; as long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer and courage, so long are you young. When the wires are all down and your heart is covered with the snows of pessimism and the ice of cynicism, then and then only are you grown old."

STATE CAPITAL NEWS

Citizens to vote on 14 amendments

AUSTIN--Legislature in regular session agreed to submit 14 more proposed constitutional amendments to voters in November, 1972.

Among major ones is HJR 61, which would authorize the 1973 Legislature to serve as a constitutional revision convention.

Two others (HJR 58 and HJR 95) would provide for raise in salaries of legislators (to $8,400) and lieutenant governor and House speaker (to $22,500).

Other amendments on the general election ballot in 1972 will be:

- * SJR 1--Providing four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials now limited to two-year terms.
- * SJR 16--Guaranteeing that no rights will be abridged because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.
- * SJR 7--Permitting local governments on popular vote to exempt $3,000 of assessed value of resident homesteads of persons 65 or older from all ad valorem taxes.
- * HJR 68--Providing for advertising (twice) of proposed constitutional amendments in clear, concise language in all legal newspapers in Texas.
- * HJR 35--Authorizing a tax exemption for disabled veterans and a partial exemption for partially - disabled veterans.
- * HJR 57--Permitting county commissioners to reduce the county permanent school fund and provide for payment of money to independent and common school districts on a per-scholastic basis.
- * SJR 29--Providing that state employees can serve on non-paying school boards and city governing bodies without forfeiting state pay.
- * SJR 20--Exempting soil and water conservation district directors from dual office-holding prohibitions.
- * HJR 61--Relating to rates of interest to be borne by bonds.
- * HJR 41--Requiring that justices of the peace be compensated on salary basis.
- * HJR 31--Abolishing Lamar County hospital district.

JOBLESS ROLL DROPS--Number of unemployed in the state decreased 6,000 during April to 181,000, Texas Employment Commission reports.

TEC said the jobless rate was only 3.8 per cent of the total labor force, thus the decline may signal a "possible end to the doldrums of the past year."

Mid-April figure was identical with December, 1970 and considered probably the lowest of the year.

Thirteen labor areas reported improvements. Austin enjoyed the lowest rate of unemployment in the state -- 1.8 per cent of labor force.

APPOINTMENTS--State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert named William Skelton of Lubbock as a member of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. Senate confirmed the appointment.

Charles W. Horan Jr., Fort Worth, is the new chairman of Texas Tourist Development Board, succeeding John R. McCarty of Dallas. George Dillman of Dallas is vice-chairman.

Appointed branch pilots for Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries were Capt. James William Thornmont of Groves and Capt. Daniel Joseph Bromley also of Groves. Gov. Preston Smith asked the Senate's approval of the nominations.

LIQUOR TAX PASSED--Tax on liquor -by-the-drink passed in the first days of the special legislative session.

Measure (HB 3) will place a 10 per cent gross receipts levy on sales and service of mixed drinks in bars and private clubs. Cities and counties each will get 15 per cent of the revenue collected within their boundaries.

Bill also boosted the tax on liquor from $1.68 to $2 a gallon and upped the wine gallonage tax depending on strength of the wine.

Beer tax on July 1 will go up from $4.30

As I See It . . .

By BOB HAMILTON

Every session of the Texas legislature ends with howls of unfair treatment, misuse of tax money, claims of a few individuals controlling activities, bottling of important bills, etc., etc.

This one was no different. I don't know if I'm just paying more attention to the gripes, or if the disappointed are being more vocal, but the past session seems to have set a record on gripes.

Most of the complaints, naturally, have been centered around the appropriations bill and changes in congressional districts. There doubtlessly has never been an appropriations bill passed in Texas which wasn't challenged as being loaded with special interest groups being favored.

Rep. Lane Denton of Waco was so upset with the final windup of the session that he sent out press releases to all the newspapers in the state. And some of his claims could raise a few eyebrows.

Denton didn't like the Rules Committee's holding of bills until the final days and then dumping them on the floor for votes. Neither did he like the final appropriations bill being written by 10 members in "secret meetings", which he claims resulted in a $24-million increase over the original version. And he said there was only a 30-minute debate on the bill before it was passed.

Pointing out also some of the issues he didn't like, Denton mentioned:

1. The governor's salary increase from $55,000 per year to $63,000 by 1973.
2. $150,000 in tax money for a state park in Rep. Bill Heatley's district.
3. The LBJ Park near the Johnson ranch being equipped with "guests" cabins and a pitch and putt golf course. This will cost a million dollars.
4. $200,000 in tax money to be used to defend a "heinous redistricting plan" in court.

Denton also claimed a bill had struck from it the requirement to log all passengers and destination of state airplane trips.

He mentioned several other complaints about the session, but we've not got the space of a book in which to report them.

In an effort to increase the facilities of the area to accommodate the needs of Sheppard AFB personnel during off-duty time, a survey of the base's military people has been made as to their likes and dislikes.

Gen. Jerry Page, base commander, has often spoken of the need for more recreational facilities in Wichita Falls and area communities, and encouraged financial investments be made which could accommodate the men in blue and their green dollars. Investors wanted to know more about what was desirable, and, hence, what would make the greatest return for them.

A portion of the survey's results was released at a luncheon meeting for the press, which I attended.

The released information was a list of activities suggested, placed in their order of acceptance. Many of the placings were anticipated, but some were surprises to those making the study.

Four columns were used in the report, breaking down age groups under 21 years of age, 21 to 25 and 25 and over, and the fourth column the average of all.

Care to guess what was first, and which activities made up the top 10. Straight across the columns, the most popular activity was swimming. From there on through the 10th selections, in the average columns, were: 2. spectator football; 3. picnicing; 4. bowling; 5. pool billiards; 6. spectator baseball; 7. card games; 8. fishing; 9. boating, canoeing; 10. baseball, softball.

A big surprise to me was that social dancing ranked 14th on the average; 17th in the first two age categories and 19th in the older group. Others included ranch and farm tours, 43rd; Bible study, 51st; track and field, 62nd; drag racing, 66th; dramatics, 73rd; and square dancing, 76th.

Stamp collecting and boxing rounded out last of the 80 selections chosen by the groups.

A full list is available here in my office in case anyone wants to see it. Those looking at a possible investment in recreation facilities, both for military and civilians in the area, are welcome to it.

That spectator football interested me. I'd like to suggest that the Chamber of Commerce work out an arrangement with the high school to move in some temporary bleachers from the baseball fields, place them on the track so as to not interfere with view from the permanent bleachers, and invite as the city's guests a certain number of young trainees at the base to our Hawk football games.

This would not only provide entertainment for the young airman, but it would strengthen our ties with the base, as well as expose the excellent brand of football played here to young men from all over the United States.

WORTH QUOTING...

The Lyndon Johnson Library was dedicated in Austin Saturday.

It cost the people of the United States $18.6 million. That's only a fraction of what the man for whom it is named cost his fellow countrymen during a career launched toward its zenith by the infamous Duval County long count in 1948.

In treasure expended we can count in the billions.

In the blood of our sons, husbands, and brothers there is no price tag.

America can forgive Mr. Johnson the mistakes which squandered our money and left us in spiraling inflation, yet on the brink of depression.

We shall find it harder to forgive his taking us into a war politicians, including Mr. Johnson, had no intention of winning resulting in 55,000 dead and at least another 30,000 walking dead.

I shall try to remember Mr. Johnson without rancor. I do not think that I shall ever remember him as a great Texan.

James Thomas, who does the preaching at First Baptist Church, had barely gotten to the fishing hole when he pulled out a five pound bass the other day at the preachers' fishing tournament sponsored by the Soil Conservation district. Naturally Jim was rather proud of his catch and was willing to give anyone who listened a play-by-play account of his skill with a casting rod.

Finally someone asked to see the lure Thomas was using.

"You have this thing on backwards," Thomas was told.

Sure enough, the preacher did have the lure on wrong and he decided to change it. His detractor looked at the big bass again, shook his head and declared, "No, I wouldn't change it Jim. It could be the rest of us have just been doing it wrong."

As an upperclassman at Texas A&M, Billy Chumney, Hamilton High School science teacher who is known as one of the harsher disciplinarians, was required to go back and pick up a basic course in agricultural education he has missed in his earlier scheduling. It was required for his degree. Billy found the course extremely boring and he developed a habit of sitting in the back of the room reading a newspaper while the class was going on. This irritated the professor.

One day the prof simply quit instructing and said, "Mr. Chumney, since you know so much about the subject, you can just take charge of this class."

Billy put down the newspaper, walked to the podium and announced, "On such short notice, I don't think I could do justice to the subject. Class dismissed."

Before the startled professor could do anything about it, the classroom was empty.
