Law-Making Body of the United States Convened Yesterday.

THE MANY NOTABLE FIGURES

Henderson of Iowa Again Elected Speaker of the House--Tons of Rare Flowers.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Dec. 2.—A prouction of floral offerings, quite unusual in quantity, in variety and in beauty today transformed the senate chamber into a veritable flower show. Almost every member of the body was the recipient of one or more of these evidences of the regard of his friends and the atmosphere of the chamber was heavy with the odor of rare plants and blossoms. The display of chrysanthemums was notably beautiful, many of the specimens being of the choicest varieties. Since the adjournment of the senate last spring, the chamber has been re-decorated and re-carpeted. The principal features of its beauty and individuality have been retained, but they have been added to by the artistic decorations. A bright green carpet with old gold figures has taken the place of the old gold carpet and the desks and furnishings of the chamber have been notably improved.

An hour before noon both the public galleries were thronged with spectators, every available inch of standing room being occupied. Shortly after 10 o'clock, Mr. Keane of New Jersey, being the first senator to appear in the chamber. He was closely followed by Mr. Tillman of South Carolina and Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts who soon after took his seat and buried himself in a newspaper. The venerable Senator Vest of Missouri was in his seat twenty minutes before the time being called to order. He was accorded a most cordial reception by his colleagues. By noon practically every senator in the city had arrived in the chamber. Many of them made no attempt to reach their seats on account of the wealth of floral offerings which fairly filled the desks and tables.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, Mr. Frye of Maine, president pro tem. of the senate, rapped for order. The blind chaplain of the senate, the Rev. Mr. Millburn then delivered the following invocation: "God of our Fathers, thy servants of this chamber are come together for the opening of the Fifty-Seventh congress with kindly feelings each for the other and a sense of duty as their tasks are opening before them. And yet there comes to us the oppressive sense of an unmistakable loss, the departure of our friend and brother, our father and the cheer of the nation, by the hand of the assassin."

"Oh Lord God, let thy pity and grace come to all the people of our land by reason of this unspeakable calamity. And as thy servant, the widow, sits alone and bereft, may thy comfort and consolation come to her."

"And grant, O Lord, that we may duly feel the loss and sorrow attendant upon the departure from earth a member of this body, a senator from South Dakota. Hear our devout prayers in behalf of thy servant, the senior senator from New Jersey, (Mr. Sewall) and grant that the means that are used for his recovery to health may be blessed by thee and may he come to his place upon this floor again crowned with thy loving kindness."

"Grant thy grace to every member of this body and to all who are dear to them and so may the light and favor of God, our Father, be with us all now and evermore. Amen."

Credentials were presented of Charles H. Dietrich and Joseph H. Millard of Nebraska; Alfred B. Kittredge of South Dakota and Kit Gibson of Montana. Mr. Frye administered to them the oath of office.

Formal resolutions were offered by Mr. Cullom of Illinois that the house be notified that the senate was ready to proceed to business; by Mr. Allison that the meeting of the senate be 12 o'clock noon, and by Mr. Hale of Maine, that a committee of two senators be named to join a similar committee of the house to inform the president that congress was in session and prepared to receive any message that he might desire to submit.

Mr. Hale and Mr. Morgan of Alabama were named as the committee.

Mr. McLaurin of South Carolina, offered a joint resolution authorizing the admission free of duty of imports of articles intended to be exhibited at the Charleston exposition.

Mr. Hoar objected to immediate consideration, saying it was the universal practice of the senate to transact no business until the president had been informed that congress was prepared to do business. The resolution was withdrawn temporarily.

Recess was taken until 2 o'clock, but no report of the organization of the house being received at that hour Mr. Gamble of South Dakota, formally announced the death of Senator Kyle of that state on the first of last July. He offered the usual resolution expressive of the sorrow of the senate, and after its adoption the senate, as an additional mark of respect, adjourned until tomorrow.

HENDERSON RE-ELECTED SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

By Associated Press.
Washington, Dec. 2.—The opening day of the first session of the Fifty-seventh congress in the house of representatives, furnished a spectacle that delighted the crowded galleries. The machinery of the house is cumbersome and is set in motion by a laborious process. Many of the spectators today evidently did not consider it tedious, as they clung to their places through the entire proceedings which lasted four and one-half hours, probably half the time being consumed in the monotonous calling of the roll. The organization of the house was accomplished according to time honored precedents. Speaker Henderson was sworn in by General Bingham, "the father of the house," and after delivering a very graceful speech in recognition of the honor bestowed upon him he in turn administered the oath to the members-elect. The usual committees were appointed to inform the president and the senate that the house was organized and ready to do business; a committee of five members, Messrs. Messrs. Payne, Bingham and Richardson, was appointed to join a similar committee of the senate and wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to receive any communication he might have to make; the rules of the last house were adopted after a slight jar and then the biennial seat drawing occurred. This last ceremony was robbed of much of its interest today by the fact that under the new arrangements of seats there are more than enough to go around, and those whose names are drawn last do not suffer as they did on former occasions.

The flower show, which is the great feature of the opening day was not as imposing as usual. More flowers than ever before were sent to members but after the seat drawing the house adjourned before a large number of them were brought into the hall.

At 11:30 o'clock one of the assistant doorkeepers, standing at the clerk's desk warned those on the floor that those not entitled to invade the huzz of conversation ceased and the clerk announced that prayer would be offered. The members and many of the spectators arose and stood with bowed heads as the Rev. Mr. Couden, the blind chaplain, invoked the divine blessing. He

Opinions Rendered in the United States Supreme Court.

"FOURTEEN DIAMOND RINGS"

Should Have Been Free From Duty—Dooley Number Two Case—Chief Justice's Opinion.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Dec. 2.—Opinions were rendered in the United States court today in the last two insular test cases. One of them was that known as the "Fourteen diamond rings case," involving the relationship of the United States to the Philippine islands from a tariff point of view and the other what is known as the Dooley case No. 2, involving the constitutionality of the collection of duty on goods shipped from New York to Puerto Rico. In the former case, the court through Chief Justice Fuller held that the diamond rings brought in from the Philippines and over which the case arose, should have been exempt from duty under the Paris treaty of peace, as that treaty made the Philippines American territory. The decision in the Philippine case followed closely that of the Chief Justice in the Dooley case. In the Dooley case decided today it was held that the duty collected on goods carried from New York to Puerto Rico was permissible, but that it was in reality a tax for the benefit of the Puerto Ricans themselves rather than an export duty, as was claimed by the merchants who antagonized the government.

CHARLESTON EXPOSITION

South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition Formally Opened

WITH IMPOSING CEREMONIES

Senator Chauncey M. Depew the Orator of the Day--President Roosevelt Sends Congratulations.

By Associated Press.
Charleston, S. C., Dec. 2.—With imposing ceremonies embracing a parade of federal forces, state militia and confederate veterans, beautiful women and cheering collegians, a program of exercises graced by distinguished speakers and with words of greeting from the president of the United States the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian exposition was opened officially this afternoon. The day was set aside as a holiday and all places of business were closed.
In the auditorium at the exposition grounds where today's exercises were held, an audience of 4,000 people cheered the name of the president of the United States, gave hearty applause to Senator Chauncey M. Depew the orator of the day, listened attentively to the afternoon exercises, and then joined the crowds inspecting the grounds.
About 300 people, including the governor of South Carolina and staff, the officers of the exposition, the board of lady managers and the city council of Charleston, were on the stage of the beautifully decorated auditorium when the exercises began. Senator Depew on entering, was given an ovation by the audience and cheering continued for several minutes. After welcoming addresses by F. W. Waggener, president of the exposition company, and Governor M. B. McSweeney, Senator Depew was introduced and said, in part:
"This exhibit is the triumph of revolution and evolution. There has been a great change in the world since the first of the century. It is a half of struggle and preparation before there existed an industrial and manufacturing south in the United States and Spanish islands in the Caribbean sea, free and independent to meet upon the common ground of united welfare and reciprocal benefits."

Mr. Depew emphasized the importance of foreign trade and said: "We are sailing the seas and craving entrance for the surplus of our labor among strange peoples on the other side of the globe. All the nations of Europe are striving for a share or possession of the markets of the east and we are eagerly claiming a place in the race. Mystery and distance have so fired our imaginations and filled our minds that we have neglected the opportunities at our doors. Our trade with the West India islands has received little encouragement. In 1900 our exports to the West Indies were greater than to all the republics of the South and Central America together, greater than to all the far east and greater than to all the countries of continental Europe combined, leaving out Germany and France, yet while Canada buys 60 per cent of all her imports from the United States the West Indies purchase only 20 and South America 10 per cent."

"Reciprocity has been a popular, but undefined idea in American politics. With the West India islands and most, if not all, the South and Central American republics and Mexico, it is our plain duty to offer such mutual advantages by tariff concessions as will draw them to us, and give us in return the better position for our products among their people. We cannot expect that the British colonies in the western hemisphere will forever purchase 60 per cent of their importations from the United States with little corresponding buying on our part from them. We are proposing a better trade. This is not a proposal for recognition. The balance of trade in our favor with Canada last year was $62,588,807, while the balance against us with South America was $61,468,000. We are breaking down barriers and

AMUSEMENTS

"KING OF THE OPIUM RING"
 The "King of the Opium Ring," which enjoyed an engagement of six weeks of uninterrupted prosperity at the Academy of Music, New York, last spring, comes with its thrilling story of Chinese-American life of the Pacific coast to the Opera House tomorrow evening. One of the chief attractions with the "King of the Opium Ring" company this season is the Chinese women and children, who are both intelligent and pretty and whose clothes are a wealth of oriental splendor. The women have pretty feet, and belong to the better class of their race. The performance is well worth seeing.

"RUDOLPH AND ADOLPH"
 A new idea in musical farce is indeed a rarity, but in "Rudolph and Adolph," which Mason and Mason and an excellent company will present at the Opera House on next Saturday, the author seems to have discovered one. "Rudolph Dinkenspiel," played by that widely known and extremely clever director of eccentric Germans, Dan Mason, is a horse doctor. He makes the acquaintance of "Adolph Dinkenspiel" (Charles A. Mason), a ladies' tailor, and purchases an interest in Adolph's business so that he can "measure 'em round and round." The last act of the play shows Adolph's dressmaking establishment with Rudolph as a partner in the venture. He is unable, however, to divest himself of his horse phraseology or methods and the result furnishes comedy scenes said to be funny in the extreme.

"PRIMROSE AND DOCKSTADER"
 Local managers in theaters, whether in large cities or small towns, are now being held responsible for the class of entertainment they offer in the houses they control, and make or break with their patrons accordingly. This is as it should be. The public has altogether too long been patient and gullible. However, in some parts of the country, managers have been badly fooled themselves by irresponsible traveling managers and consequently are now becoming very particular, especially so with regard to minstrel companies; these having so often proven mere itinerant showmen, causing the managers of more pretentious organizations to suffer by their misrepresentations. Of course when a thoroughly first-class company, headed by men as well known as Primrose & Dockstader, announces a date in any town, it is an entirely different matter, as neither a manager of a theater nor his patrons have any doubts as to the worth of such a company, its world-wide reputation being all sufficient. Let the local theater managers keep the cross-road shows out of their houses and more readily book their expensive organizations with them, being assured thereby that the receipts of the house will pay for the expensive combination they maintain. With this view of the question in mind Manager Nye of the Opera House announces that on next Monday Primrose & Dockstader's Big American Minstrels will prove the worth of the choice in the line of minstrelsy.

MRS. BOOTH MADE THREE ADDRESSES

Spoke to Students in the Morning, to Ladies in the Afternoon and the Public in the Evening.

"Some purest water still the mire may hold, Is there no hope for him--no power to save? Yes, once again to draw up from the clay The fallen rain-drop, till it shines above, Or, save a fallen soul, needs but one ray Of heaven's sunshine or of human love."

Certainly every woman present yesterday afternoon felt the privilege an inestimable one while listening to the graphic, heart-touching story told by Mrs. Maude Ballington Booth, wife of General Booth of the Volunteers of America.

Mrs. Booth spoke here three times yesterday. In the morning she addressed the chapel meeting at the college and in the evening made a public address at Perkins Fine Arts hall, to a large audience. The afternoon address was in some respects, however, the most interesting of the day.

With her accustomed many-sided philanthropy, Mrs. Francis W. Goddard threw open her spacious residence to Mrs. Booth might talk freely, as one woman with another, of her unique labors along the lines of prison reform. Clad in the simplest of gowns, a pale gray crepe, devoid of ornament save that the simple bodice was caught at the throat with the silver star of the order she has founded, she was indeed a typical "little mother," full of the tender humanity of him who ever went about doing good, an intensely interesting object lesson of a beauty within, which makes beautiful without.

While very winning, Mrs. Booth is also wonderfully strong. Her every word and gesture indicates rare executive ability and consecration to her work. These qualities coupled with self-effacement and great adaptability causes her to be revered and beloved by the thousands of men whose welfare she has made her own; one for whom when ill, they pray as they never have prayed for themselves; that her life may be spared, with the result that prayer, thereafter, becomes the habit of their lives.

Mrs. Goddard presented Mrs. Booth with a few timely, well-chosen words. Mrs. Booth said in part:

"Far removed from the lives of most people is the problem that when understood must be met, one which is a dark blot upon our beloved country. There are now 84,000 men branded as criminals, looked down on as hardened and depraved. What they need is a personal friend, one who, in order to aid them, must feel as they have felt, suffer as they have suffered.

"What concerns the prisoner should concern others and to judge of them from the standpoint of the cell and not the other aspects of their lives.

"Only those who have carefully investigated the subject know this--the remedy is from within, for the people outside to go into the prisons and touch the hearts of those there; to help by hope, inspire ambition instead of despair; for prisoners have no new ideas, no secret influence to help them to a hopeful incentive to reform. Setting aside all the ideas upon heredity, formation of the criminal skull, etc., the men must be aroused on their spiritual side, encouraged to look up and trust in the fatherly heart which yearns for all.

"The world is not as merciful as the law." In the world it is often whispered of a released prisoner, what he has done, and how and when.

"I was a prisoner and ye came unto me." Alas, alas, it has not been so, I am amazed that this work has not been done, for by neglecting it habitual criminals have been manufactured because they cannot be anything else.

"What encouragement has there been for a man but to go back again and again? Who released he has $10 or $5, in some states only $1, and a suit of clothes, soon gone, what then?"

"It do not condone the offense, if the law is broken the offender should be punished, but every state should watch over these men when they leave the prison walls, provide them with tools and a chance to take a fresh start in life. Then crimes will not be so apt to be repeated."

"Seeing the great need of a refuge for released prisoners, Mrs. Booth has founded two homes called "Hope hall," one at Flushing, L. I., accommodating 60, and another at Austin, Ill., accommodating 40. Everything is made as home-like as possible and the men appreciate and love the place. Never has there been any one at Hope hall whom any crime has been traced.

"Two thousand have already passed through the Flushing Hope hall to places of trust."

Mrs. Booth is in touch with 20,000 "boys," as she affectionately calls them all, and is in receipt of from 200 to 300 letters a week from them. Her next work lies in the state's prison at Leavenworth, Kan., where next Sunday she expects to adopt 1,000 more "boys."

Mrs. Booth has organized the "Volunteer Prisoners League," numbering 2,000 members. The badge is a white button bearing the American flag and the motto "Look up and Hope."

Desiring to assist Mrs. Booth in her work the "boys" have themselves started what is styled the "Maintenance League." They contribute $1 per month toward the expenses of the work inaugurated by Mrs. Booth. Fired by their zeal Mrs. Booth conceived the plan of appealing for outside members. Upon the matter being brought up yesterday, several joined the league. Others wishing to do so can address Mrs. Booth at her headquarters, 28 Cooper Square, New York city.

Everyone who has had the opportunity of learning about Mrs. Booth's wonderful work will heartily re-echo these prophetic words of Lady Henry Somerset:

"It seems to me that there never was a time when the voice of God spoke more clearly to the hearts of men. His new commandments--that we love one another as he loved us--comes to us as a new revelation, as if a new light had been shed on the infinite extent of that love which bids us embrace the sorrowful, the sinful and the outcast with the outstretched arms of him who gave his life for every storm-tossed soul."

CARTER A MASTER OF THE BLACK ARTS

The magician, Carter, appeared at the Temple theater last evening as the third of the series in the Lyceum course and entertained a good sized audience with his jugglery. He performed many of the tricks which he gave last year, and these were received with hardly any less appreciation than the new ones which he introduced, so cleverly has he succeeded in mastering the black arts. In the final part of the program, dressed as a Chinese fakir, he performed many mystifying illusions which won him much applause. Mr. Carter is one of the cleverest of the sleight-of-hand performers who are now touring the country, and some features of his entertainment, although they may be less spectacular than those attempted by others, have a slightly different character which enables him to entertain even those who are familiar with the work of his confreres.

IT IS A PARASITE.

That Causes Itching Scalp, Dandruff and Finally, Falling Hair.
 The itching scalp, the falling hair and the dandruff that annoys are the work of a parasite hidden in the scalp. This parasite must be killed to cure dandruff; and the only preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. Destroy the cause, you remove the effect. C. H. Reed of Victor, Idaho, says: "Myself and wife had dandruff and falling hair several years. Two bottles of Newbro's Herpicide completely cured us, after several other hair preparations had failed to do good." Makes hair grow glossy and soft as silk. Hundreds of other testimonials just as strong.

CONGRESS IN SESSION.

CONGRESS is once more in session, and the attention of all interested in public affairs will be turned from local and state matters to national affairs.

There is no other representative body in the world that does its work under such a glare of publicity and public interest as does the congress of the United States. No other country in the world has such a body of newspaper readers as this one, and in no other country is there such a number of newspapers determined to keep their readers fully informed upon all public questions.

That such a condition is occasionally not for the best public good cannot be denied, but on the whole the effects are good and the general condition is very much more to the public interest than if congressional proceedings were kept secret or the public took no interest in them.

No congressman can fail to be known for what he is and his sincerity, his ability, his follies, and his faults are all made known to his constituents and to the great body of Americans.

On the other hand the educational value to the people of the publication of congressional debates, and the newspaper discussion of measures pending in congress is immeasurable. It is not true that every American is a congressional substitute ready and able to take a place in the national legislature whenever the opportunity comes, but it is true that there is in this country a wonderfully large number of people who are well informed upon national affairs, who have opinions upon them that are the result of intelligent reading and thought, and who are competent to vote intelligently and in so doing to pass judgment upon the course of their representatives in congress.

The space in the newspapers devoted to congressional proceedings is not wasted. It tends to make the congressmen better, which is one great thing gained, and it tends directly to promote that interest in and knowledge of public affairs that is one of the great safeguards of our republic.

THE LIVE STOCK INTERESTS.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Chicago is in fact the metropolis of inland America. With the great prosperity of the country, with the Pacific trade reaching unprecedented proportions, with a president at Washington whose heart is with the west, with the splendid plans being embodied into laws by the present congress for the reclamation of millions of acres of arid lands, it is small wonder that the enterprising inhabitants of this marvelous city see a future which will make it the greatest inland commercial city on the face of the earth if not really the greatest without regard to location.

The International Livestock exhibition opened here today with the finest display of live stock ever witnessed by any people any place. England and Canada are well represented in the exhibits, but nothing which they have shown surpasses the carefully bred stock of the Americans. One man remarked today as he passed the stalls filled with the perfect specimens of animal life: "Isn't it too bad that as much pains is not taken with the breeding of people as with the breeding of cattle?"

Colorado is well represented in the exhibition and better represented in the strong delegation of those interested in the cattle industry. Everywhere is heard the assertion that if the arid plains and valleys of Colorado were reclaimed by irrigation that it would be the richest agricultural and grazing state in the union.

Strangers are amazed when they are told that already our agricultural and live stock products greatly exceed in value, per annum, the output of the mines and that these products are superior in quality to those of any other section of the country. The men here are doing splendid service for the state in distributing information and it all falls upon friendly and interested ears.

No state in the union is attracting so much attention to its vast and varied resources as Colorado is. If the president urges national aid for storage reservoirs and the construction of national irrigation canals to reclaim the government lands in the west, all Colorado values will appreciate fully fifty per cent. Such works would mean a million and a half of population in the next decade and a stimulus to all development that would make us the richest community in the world at the end of the next twenty years. Every place one goes these days he is proud to acknowledge he is from Colorado and if he is indifferently inclined the universal song of praise will bring the color of pride to his cheeks.

The National Livestock convention which meets here tomorrow and the international exhibition will do a vast amount to stimulate the cattle industry throughout the west and Colorado will receive its due share of benefits. Springer, De Riegels, Ballentine and others are carefully looking after every Colorado interest, and after all states are more made by men than by conditions. One of the subjects to be announced at an early date in the Gazette will be the "Live Stock Industry of Colorado" and our own people will be amazed at its value and extent. I. N. STEVENS.

"The price that staggers humanity" is being paid in gold as well as blood. The London Bankers' Magazine says that the net decrease in the value of 325 selected securities amounts to the enormous total of £143,946,000.

And now Servia has a rebellion to contend with. Some of the European kings are enough to turn the hearts—or the stomachs—of the most loyal.

The dispute in the Democratic-congressional caucus is fresh illustration of the irreconcilable party differences.

IN-LINE WITH HIS RECORD.

NO ONE who has any personal knowledge of President Roosevelt's character or familiarity with his past record could have any doubt as to what his policy would be in regard to appointments by merit, or the qualifications necessary for federal officeholders. President Roosevelt's standing as a civil service reformer is thoroughly established and he is not the sort of a man to go back on it.

It was also equally certain that the president would not approve of that "pernicious activity" of federal officeholders which consists in using official position as a vantage ground upon which to establish a dictatorship over party affairs or in employing official power to control and direct the party policy. Such a practice is almost as much a contravention of the principles of good civil service as is the appointment of incompetent or corrupt officials as a reward for party services.

In the letter recently sent by Attorney General Knox to the United States marshal and district attorney at Kansas City, the views of the present administration are set forth with unmistakable force and precision.

To All Officers and Employees of the Department of Justice:

Your attention is directed to a circular of this department issued August 20, 1900, in which section 2 of the civil service act of January 16, 1883, forbidding any executive officer or employe, among others, to solicit or receive political contributions from any officers or employes of the United States, was quoted, and all persons serving under this department were required to observe strictly the prohibitions of this law and were recommended to refrain from service on political committees charged with the collection and disbursement of campaign funds.

I now repeat the injunctions of that circular and add the following further directions on the subject:

Rule No. 3 of the civil service rules provides that no person in the executive civil service shall use his official authority or official influence for the purpose of interfering with an election or controlling the result thereof. The spirit of the civil service laws and rules renders it highly undesirable for federal officers and employes to take an active part in political conventions or in the direction of other parts of political machinery. Persons in the government service under this department should not act as chairmen of political organizations nor make themselves unduly prominent in local political matters. It is expected and required that all officers and employes of this department shall act in entire conformity with the views herein set forth.

The principles herein set forth will undoubtedly receive the approval of the great majority of American citizens, and they will result not only in the improvement of the public service but also in the bettering of the prospects and standing of the party that is responsible for their setting forth and enforcement.

"THE OPEN PARLIAMENT."

NOTABLY successful feature of the Gazette has been the Open Parliament in which the public has been invited to discuss matters of current and public interest without regard to whether the opinions therein expressed agree or not with the sentiments and policy of the management of this paper.

That such discussion is a real benefit to the public cannot be denied, and the truth of it has been demonstrated on more than one occasion.

In the coming months a special effort will be made to make the Open Parliament more than ever the vehicle for public sentiment upon topics of general interest in the state. With this end in view contributions have been solicited from various persons prominent in political and social life and these will appear from time to time in forthcoming numbers of this paper. At the same time the general invitation to all is repeated.

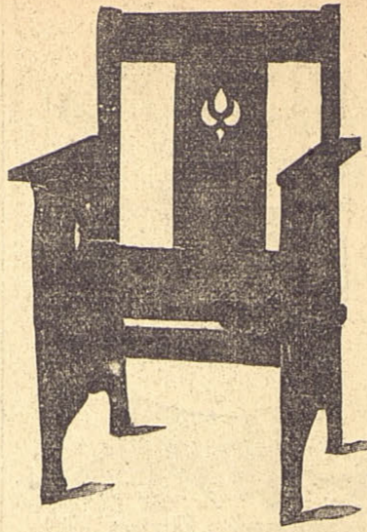

The New York Evening Post gives some sensible advice to horse owners which is as applicable to this latitude and altitude as it is to Manhattan:

It was a curious illustration of the unconscious cruelties of fashion that while a number of well-known gentlemen were yesterday expressing their enthusiasm for the horse by their presence in Madison Square Garden, the agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals were removing from the mounds of the horses which had drawn these ladies to the horse show certain instruments of torture called "burs." The burr is a pad, studded at the best with bristles, at the worst with metallic points, which is inserted between the cheek-piece and the tender part of the horse's mouth. The constant pressure of the burr makes the horse fretful, and this fretfulness gives the necessary style which a carriage horse should show. Now, of course, the dozen people of importance from whose horses these ingeniously cruel instruments had been taken were probably ignorant that such a thing existed; just as many American residents in Paris are ignorant of the horrors of the servants' quarters in the "sixieme etage." But the incident shows that we do well to follow our vanities to their remotest effects. If we are too indolent for this not very agreeable task, it is fortunate that there are societies like the "S. P. C. A." to bring us to book. One may imagine, as a result of yesterday's incident, that a number of ladies will learn that horses wear bits, and that a few will see to it that the bits of their horses be not made instruments of torture.

The current number of Science contains a short article by Professor Florian Cajori of Colorado college on "The Unexplained Southerly Deviation of Falling Bodies." Contrary to the general belief a falling body does not drop straight down towards the center of the earth, but somewhat to the east and south of the point on the earth's surface immediately beneath the starting point. The easterly deviation is well known to be due to the earth's rotation, but the smaller southerly deviation is a problem for the scientists. In this article Professor Cajori considers the possibility of deviation due to magnetic currents and concludes that such effects would be much too small to cause a deviation measurable in an experiment. He also suggests that the problem needs reinvestigation experimentally and perhaps also theoretically.

Former Senator Allen of Nebraska is trying to rally the remnants of the Populist party of that state along the original lines and for the advancement of the political principles it once possessed in the ante-fusion days. Evidently Mr. Allen has yet to learn that the hope of springs chickens does not lie in last year's bird-nests.

"The danger of the electric headlight" has new interest since the Wabash disaster. According to one account the engineers could not tell whether it was one mile or five distant.

SEEKS TO EXTEND THE CAR LINES

Mr. Stratton Asks the Council For Privileges Which Would be a Boon to East and West Side Residents.

Mr. W. S. Stratton intends to extend his street car line on the east and west sides of the city. An ordinance was introduced at last night's council meeting granting him right of way over parts of certain streets not contained in the original franchise.

Mr. Stratton is asking for the privilege because the residents of the sections concerned have asked him to run his cars along these streets. The new rights of way include the following parts of streets: commencing at the intersection of Wahsatch and Platte avenues, thence east on Platte to El Paso street; commencing at the intersection of Pike's Peak avenue and Hancock street, thence south on Hancock to Cimarron street; commencing at the intersection of Walnut and Pike's Peak avenue, thence north on Walnut to Platte and east on Platte to Spruce; commencing at the intersection of Yampa and Walnut, thence north on Walnut to the city limits; commencing at the intersection of Pike's Peak avenue and Weber street, thence south on Weber to Costilla street.

The Walnut street extensions provide for a car line that will cover practically the whole of the west side north of Huerfano street and will be a great boon to those living on Walnut and further west. The extensions over there also provide for a car line covering the extreme northern part of the west side. The Platte avenue extension will be a boon to that section of the east side. The Hancock street extension is to be a temporary line. The city and Santa Fe are at present tied up in the courts over the Costilla street undercrossing and until that is settled Mr. Stratton cannot go ahead with his cemetery and Prospect Lake line. This Hancock street extension will permit him to run south to Cimarron from the East Pike's Peak avenue line and thence pursue the course outlined in the original franchise to the cemetery and lake. Hancock street is the easternmost street in the city limits.

Mr. Stratton has decided not to run clear down Wahsatch to Costilla but instead will run his "Wahsatch" cars around the loop from Pike's Peak avenue and thence down Weber to Costilla. It is intended ultimately to connect with the east side cemetery line at Costilla.

The city council last night ordered the new ordinance printed.

Council Is Cautioned Against Extravagance

"The taxpayers of this city are under a heavy burden and we should do our utmost to cut down expenses," said Alderman Clark, chairman of the finance committee, at the council meeting last night.

This remark came about through the discussion of some bills and had reference to all departments of the city council. Mr. Clark had earlier in the evening called the council's attention to the $904 telephone bill which the city pays every year and he thinks this is one place where some expense might be cut down. He later urged the head of every department to give very careful attention to the bills contracted and see if something cannot be done to cut down the city's expenses.

Mr. Clark urged the health commission to be particularly cautious in contracting bills in connection with the past house this winter, for it was over a health commission bill that the discussion arose. The other members of the council echoed the sentiments expressed by Mr. Clark and while there is no probability of reducing the tax levy now it is probable that when the appropriations come up next March the various departments will find they can get along on a little less money. Retrench is to be the motto of the city government, if last night's meeting is to be taken as indicative of the future.

Jeff DeAngelis Is the Whole Show

Jefferson De Angelis entertained a large audience at the Opera house last evening with very genuine comedy. "A Royal Rogue," which is the vehicle for expressing his talents, and another of the run of musical extravaganzas which have been seen here this year, is hardly more pretentious in construction or content in development than the rest; and, in some respects, inferior; but it furnishes a character which Mr. De Angelis can assume and carry through with a rollicking swing which has always distinguished his work. The first act is in the cafe, and the introductory table d'hote song started off very well; but after that the action dragged until the comedian appeared, and even he could not rescue the piece from a flat failure, so far as action, lines or music was concerned. There were no situations of an essentially comedy flavor, the lines were dull and the music so ordinary that it was simply harmonious noise.

STEAM FITTER HURT AT NEW COURT HOUSE

Alonzo Bainter sustained a severe accident at the new county court house yesterday morning, by falling from the upper part of the first story of the building to the basement.

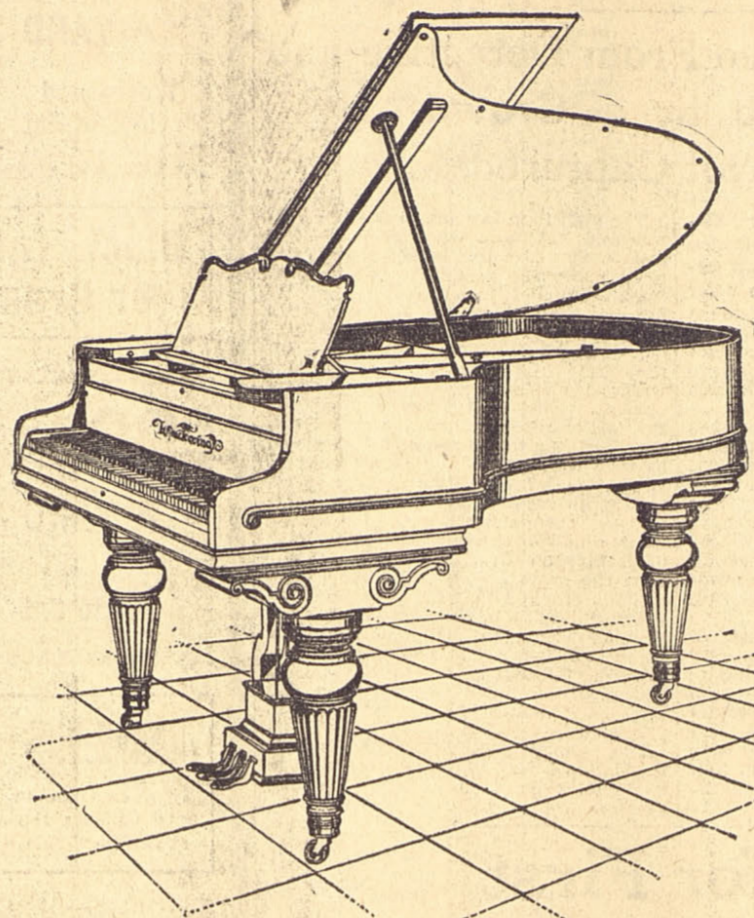

Mr. Bainter is a steam fitter, and while testing the pipes which are being put in the court house, his wrench slipped, causing him to lose his hold. In falling his head struck the brick trench in the basement, inflicting an ugly wound on the left side of his head and on his chin. He was taken to his home, No. 268 Cimarron street, where Dr. Reasner attended him. While the injury was very painful, it is by no means serious. Mr. Bainter will be able to resume his work within a week or so.

CHARLESTON EXPOSITION

winning industrial triumphs in Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia, but are still unsuccessful beggars in our own hemisphere.

"Our failure to capture or hold what is legitimately our own is due to the fact that we have abandoned the sea. Until ships under the American flag are carrying American merchandise and establishing routes and ports and banking facilities for American commerce we cannot possess or enjoy our inheritance. When the isthmian canal is opened, built, owned and controlled as it will be by the United States, our poverty on the ocean will make it the opportunity of our rivals. The day ought to be near when American fleets, carrying the surplus of the harvests of the south from her fields, her forests, and factories, and returning with responding cargoes from the West Indies and South and Central American countries will utilize for our national wealth, patriotism and pride the superb harbor and convenient location of Charleston.

"These conditions make it important and imperative that we maintain the Monroe doctrine. The Monroe doctrine in its integrity is peace. A navy so strong that none would care or dare to test its force and validity will keep the peace.

"The east is surrendering its spindles and the middle states its furnaces and they are giving a new and broader and healthier life to the south. Sectional lines have disappeared and jealousies and prejudices have worn away. The Nineteenth century has opened exhausted avenues for spiritual, mental and material progress in the United States. Our mission in the Twentieth century is the extension over the new world."

Then the exposition, on a signal from the White House, where President Roosevelt touched a key connecting with the exposition, was declared open. Greetings were exchanged between Captain Waggener and President Roosevelt.

The president asked Captain Waggener to "please accept for yourself and convey to your associates, my hearty congratulations upon what has been achieved, and my earnest wishes for the complete success of your undertaking. I hope it may prove of great and lasting benefit to our industries and to our commerce with the West Indies."

The principal object of the exposition is to make a fully representative display of the manufacturing progress and commercial possibilities of the country and particularly of the southern states. A commercial problem at this time confronts the south, and, perhaps, the supreme purpose of the fair is to solve it. The great advance in the number of cotton mills constructed and the output of food products has created a surplus of cotton goods. Of this product China was at one time the largest consumer outside of the home markets. The recent disturbance in that country, however, has virtually paralyzed the markets and the home surplus multiplies. The principal undeveloped markets in closest touch with the south are in the West Indies and it is hoped through the medium of full displays at the exposition to establish isthmian trade relations with that part of the world.

The exposition site occupies about one hundred and sixty acres of land on the bank of the Ashley with a frontage of 2,000 feet on the river. The architecture of the buildings follows closely the styles which were introduced at the Chicago World's Fair.

Close Finish in the Popularity Contest at St. Mary's Church Fair--Fair Netted More Than $4,500 for the Church.

MISS MANETTE SPILLANE, Winner of first prize, young lady's popularity contest, St. Mary's fair.

Miss Spillane won, but Miss Marso didn't lose. For two days the committee who managed the Catholic fair has been unable to come to an agreement as to the week of the fair one young lady would be ahead for a day, then the friends and the other would rally her support and the other would lead. So close has been the contest that the committee has decided to make two awards, pending the ladies to take their choice of the prizes.

It was late in the afternoon when the decision was made, and the surprise of the fortunate young women was beyond expression. They were overwhelmed with congratulations from their friends here and that of their friends in California.

Miss Marso will go to California, for she had half made up her mind to do so before the decision was made. It was this that spurred her on to get several hundred votes on Saturday afternoon.

The net profits of the fair were approximately $4,500. The first ward made $1,044.75, the second $744.37, the third $522.62, the fourth $356.19, the fifth $1,518.83.

The fair just closed has been the most profitable ever given by a religious society in this city. All the articles for the fair were donated by patrons and church members.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO COLORADO RAILROADS

Special to the Gazette. New York, Dec. 2.-Interest in final developments in the Colorado railway field is again revived by the unexpected arrival today of Mr. W. K. Gillette.

Mr. Gillette, president of the Denver & Southwestern, and Frank Trumbull, of the Southern, in view of what has already happened in connection with the Colorado roads, in which these two officials are directly or indirectly interested, the fact that they should come to New York at practically the same time is regarded as especially significant.

It is expected that President Trumbull will be re-elected, but as two of the directors who were replaced by Gould men at the recent annual meeting were officers, it is known that their places will be filled by representatives of George Gould.

Mr. Dalzell then offered the resolution agreed to by the Republican caucus on Saturday for the adoption of the rules of that house with certain specified amendments, as the rules of the present house.

Mr. Dalzell said the proceeding was similar to that taken in the last congress. He pointed out that the rules were practically identical with those of the 51st, 52nd and succeeding congresses and practically identical with those of the intervening Democratic congresses.

NEW HAVEN ANNUAL MEETING

Was Held Yesterday---Treasurer Shows About $1,600 in the Treasury---Good Development Work Is Being Done.

The annual meeting of the New Haven Gold Mining company was held yesterday in the offices of the company in this city and the old board of directors and officers was re-elected by a good representation of the stockholders, represented at the meeting in person or by proxy. The reports submitted to the meeting showed that there was about $1,600 in the treasury, and that good work was now going on in the property. The company owns the Eclipse No. 1 claim on Raven hill, adjoining the Joe Dandy; and during the last two years something like 100 tons of ore has been produced. Of this amount $4,000 was produced in 1900 and $8,000 in 1901. A good strike was made some time ago in the first level of the new workings, from which most of the ore has been shipped; and the lessees are still making occasional shipments from that part of the mine. There is a lot of 10 tons of smelting ore out now which has not yet been settled for, and some ore is now being saved. The lessees recently started to sink the shaft below the 200-foot point, and sinking is now in progress. No further stop will be made until the 300-foot point is reached. The prospecting which has been done in the 200-foot level has failed to disclose the ore shoot from which the operators have been producing in the first level. There are several good veins crossing the New Haven property and good ore has been found in several different places to a depth of 30 feet where the values have been more of a sensational than a substantial nature. It is thought that when greater depth is acquired, the ore will be more regular and permanent. The property is in the hands of strong lessees who are working with a plant of machinery.

C. C. CONSOLIDATED MEETING

Was Held Yesterday and the Old Board Re-elected---Property on Gold Hill Is Showing Up Encouragingly.

The annual meeting of the Cripple Creek Consolidated company was held yesterday noon in the offices of the company in this city and the following board of directors was re-elected to serve for the ensuing year: J. F. Humphrey, Irving Howbert, J. A. Hayes, John G. Shields and D. I. Christopher. This is the board which has managed the affairs of the company for several years. A large representation of the stock attended the meeting, and reports were presented by the different officers which showed the affairs of the company to be in a satisfactory condition. The reports are to be printed and given to the public at a later date. Briefly the report shows the property to have been fairly well developed during the year, although the Florence claim, under the company's work, had shown no ore. The strikes on the Colorado Boss claims furnished some very agreeable information to impart to the stockholders. Lessee Terrill on the No. 1 is now sinking a shaft on his ore and is now down to a depth of 30 feet where he finds that the shoot is pitching out. He will probably follow the ore to sink a straight shaft later, after he has got it developed. He is also going to cross-cut from the bottom of an old 50-foot shaft. On the No. 3 claim the lessees have opened a good body of ore and are now saving a second shipment. Returns from this ore were received a week or so ago which indicated values of about one and one-half ounces. Several papers in the state in mentioning the reports confused them with those of the other lease which runs much higher. The new board of directors has not yet met to elect officers, but it is thought that the old officers will be re-elected.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

There has been some complaint that the figures for the November production of Cripple Creek are too low. The majority of papers in the state gave them as a little less than $2,200,000, which is accepted as a fair and conservative figure. The calculation was based on data furnished directly by the mine and is as nearly correct as any approximate calculation can be. The amount produced in November fell somewhat below the output of October, where it was expected that an increase would be made; but the showing is so extraordinary for a camp of the size of Cripple Creek that no one is disappointed because it cannot be exceeded.

seven blocks of ten acres each are being worked. Some good ore is being mined on block 9 on the La Nonatige lease at the 350-foot level and steady shipments are being sent out.

WOODS INVESTMENT CO. START ON MAYBEL TUNNEL.

The Woods Investment company has had an electric motor installed on the property of the Maybel tunnel which is located on Wilson creek. It is the intention of the Woods company to commence operations on that ground at an early date. They will do a large amount of development work. The work that has already been accomplished upon this property has disclosed good ore and a fissure vein has been located in the workings. It is the favorable indications that warrant the carrying forward of more work on the tunnel. It is thought that with systematic working such as is characteristic of the Woods people the mine will enter the shipping list within a very short time.

WATER IN MARY MCKINNEY HAS RECEDED.

Some time ago the water in the Mary McKinney mine was a serious problem and the manner in which this company solved the water problem has been watched with a great deal of interest. Some six weeks ago the manager, Mr. George L. Keener, stated that the water was receding so fast that should it continue at that rate there would not be enough water in the mine to run the boiler to the engine on the first of January. An officer of the company now states that the water has almost entirely disappeared from the fifth level of the workings and the flow in the lower level is about 200 gallons a minute and this is scarcely nothing and is very easily handled by the pumping facilities. The mine is in splendid condition and is keeping up its steady production.

MUCH DEVELOPMENT WORK DONE ON BOB LEE.

Heavy development work is being carried on by the Bob Lee Mining company in its property on the north side of the hill. Energetic and systematic operations are being pushed along. At this time a crosscut is being driven from the 300-foot level. The drift has been run south from the shaft to a length of 100 feet where a crosscut has been started east to intersect the dikes that are known to exist in the property. The company employs two drifts alone in the driving of the shaft.

FORTY-TON SHIPMENT FROM HAPPY DAY CLAIM.

The Cripple Creek-Colorado Mining company which owns and operates the Happy Day lode located on Gold hill, sent out a shipment of 40 tons of ore yesterday. The ore that composes this shipment was not taken out in stopping but simply in the course of development. In the lowest levels of the property that have been so far explored a cross vein was encountered. This new vein has been found to carry some very high grade ore and the width of the vein so far has been found to be two feet. The assays that have been taken from the vein and some of the ore that composes the shipment just sent out run as high as $40 in gold to the ton. The local manager of the property is Mr. R. G. Miller and the majority of the stock is controlled by capitalists in Grand Rapids, Mich.

NOV. PRODUCTION FOR WILD HORSE AND INDEPENDENCE.

The gross value of the production from the Wild Horse mine, on Bull hill, during the month of November, was $210,000. This large value in gold ore was taken out by five men. The vein matter is of such a character that a large proportion of it can be easily picked down. The production for the month from the Wild Horse shoot, it is calculated, will be even greater than last month, and will reach close to $250,000 gross.

GOOD INDICATIONS ON COW MOUNTAIN PROPERTIES.

Good assays are being obtained from a number of Cow Mountain properties which is the northeast locality of the camp. It is reported from Denver that on one of the properties that is being worked by the Bedford company has obtained assays from a body of ore reported to be six feet in width that runs from a few dollars a ton to about $30 per ton. There is another persistent rumor current to the effect that a large body of ore has been cut in the Cow Mountain, but details are still lacking. Cow Mountain of all the promontories outside the belt would seem to be more advantageous for mineral bearing rock than any that could be mentioned for the reason that numerous phonolite and porphyry dikes cut the formation. On school section 16, north of Grassy.

During the two last days of November 770 tons of ore was shipped out from Stratton's Independence. The total for the month from this mine amounted to $,900,000 value.

On Saturday alone the Independence shipped a little more than 400 tons of ore. The Cripple Creek Sampling company during the month of November from its Bull hill sampler in November. The ore averaged $45 a ton.

SOME SHIPMENTS MADE IN THE PAST FEW DAYS.

The total output from the Burns of the Acacia company made by lessees will approximate 250 tons of an average value of $90. The best showing has been made by the Monarch Leasing company, operating on the main workings. This concern has recently started to prospect at a depth of 600 feet for the ore shoot in the 300-foot level. The lessees sent out a good-sized shipment on Monday.

The True Blue Leasing company, working on the Mitchell, owned by the Pinnacle company, and situated on the north slope of Bull hill, sent out a shipment yesterday of about 50 tons of ore. This block of ground was worked for a long time under lease by Charles J. Moore, the mining engineer, who managed to take out enough ore to pay the running expenses. According to assays the ore will run in the neighborhood of $70 a ton.

A 35-ton shipment was sent out yesterday from the St. Clair lease on the Wilson of the Free Coinage company. The average value of the ore will be about $80 to the ton. A small shipment of ore will go out tomorrow from the Santa Rita, on Squaw Mountain.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Dec. 2.—The market opened this morning with prices inclined to be stationary, remaining at the low marks reached last week, and in some cases declining fractionally lower. The trading was good only in isolated instances; and the activity in the preferred prospects list had considerably subsided, giving the mines list again the most conspicuous position in the distribution of the trading. The first trading was done in Acacia which sold at 15, and A-J came next selling very low at 5 1/2. Consolidated was low at 8 1/2, but "Butterfly" manifested much strength at 22 and Doctor was firm at 54. Elkton was very active, selling to the amount of about 20,000 shares, and fluctuating considerably during the call. The opening sale was at $1.50, after which the shares declined as low as 1.00, and the close was a few points higher. Findley sold at 8 1/2, Gold Dollar at 11 and Isabella recovered to 33 1/2, under excellent trading. El Paso was in considerable demand at the lower prices, and closed stronger at 6 1/2 and Lexington advanced to 6 1/2. Work was very low at 3 1/2. Calera sold at 31 and Sunset-Eclipse at 10 1/2. Sedan was stationary at 4.

By Associated Press. —Decided weakness developed in the stock market today after some early exhibition of strength, and the last prices for the day show considerable net losses and all of the earlier gains wiped out. The principal factor in the early strength was the recovery in Amalgamated Copper and aided rebound in the price of raw copper in London. The reaction was based on the gold exports and apprehensions that the president's message to be sent tomorrow would contain combinations of grounds against great combinations of corporations with unfavorable effect upon the market values of their shares.

WHAT IT IS GOING TO COST TO WASH

Alderman St. John Submits His New Water Ordinance. A SCHEDULE OF RATES. Measure of Great Interest and Importance to Consumers—Not Yet Up for Action.

TWO VALUES. HERE are two values to every purchase—what it costs and what it pays you. Cork costs 8 cents a pound, but if you are drowning half a mile from shore, its value would be "not what you pay for cork, but what cork saves you." When a woman buys soaps she often confuses the two values. She sees only what she pays. She overlooks what she receives. Now a single cake of Ivory Soap pays back from ten to twenty times its cost in the saving it effects. Test it yourself! Vegetable Oil Soap. Ivory white. It floats!

STRIKE IN THE MIDGET

Smelting Grade Ore in the 600-Foot Level—Steady Output From Lease on Eclipse. Special to the Gazette. Cripple Creek, Colo., Dec. 2.—An excellent strike has been made in the Midget company's property. At the 600 foot level the winze sunk from this depth is in smelting grade ore and the high values that are at present found in the bottom appear to be permanent throughout. So far little work has been done on the Midget outside of a small amount of sinking and it is difficult to determine the full extent of the strike. Cunningham, Wilson & Co., leasing the Eclipse of the New Haven at the summit of Raven hill, are making a steady output of screenings, which represent values of about two ounces in gold to the ton. The lessees sent out a carload last week, and have another carload of the same grade ready to go out tomorrow. The ore is coming from the 300-foot level, where the lessees have done a small amount of work. Sinking has just been resumed in the shaft, it being the intention of the lessees to get to the 400-foot depth as quickly as possible. Wood & Conners, leasing on the Twin Sisters on Raven hill, are prepared for some rapid sinking in their new shaft, which is down to the 75-foot depth. The new plant of machinery is in good working order. The shaft is to go to a depth of 175 feet, where the lessees expect to cut the main Twin Sisters vein and ore shoot on its dip. The Sunset-Eclipse company is installing a new 200-gallon pump. The output from the Stratton's Independence for the month of November amounted to 8,900 tons of ore of a grade about 35 average. The mine is increasing its rate of shipments, and has sent out an average of about 275 tons during the past three or four days. The Bull Hill sampler of the Cripple Creek Ore Sampling company settled for 11,000 tons of ore during November. DOYLE-BURNS MINING SUIT

By Associated Press. —When Judge Green re-opened court this morning he handed down his rulings on both motions presented last week by the defendant in the Doyle-Burns mining suit. The motions were to strike out part of the evidence, and to take the case from the jury and direct a verdict. Both were overruled. The evidence for the defendant, Burns, was then begun. Mining Engineer Hills made the official survey of the three disputed claims was the first witness called and illustrated his evidence by charts and maps of Battle mountain. Hills testified that Burns in person paid him for surveying the Bobtail, Tidal Wave and Devils Own claims. Hills taking stock in the Blue Stocking claim as payment for his work. Witness said Thomas Burns had told him at one time that his brother, James F. Burns and himself owned the Tidal Wave. An important part of the evidence introduced was the record of the Washington land office and a certified copy of an affidavit made in support of the application of Burns for a patent on the Tidal Wave. These affidavits require the signature of two men who swear they are disinterested parties. The one introduced is signed by Doyle under oath that he has no interest in the Tidal Wave claim. Charles Moore testified that he had worked the claim in controversy for two months under lease signed by defendant and his brother, and that Doyle was not consulted in the transaction. James C. O'Dell, a resident of Cripple Creek, said he had examined the location stake on the Tidal Wave claim and that it bore the name of James F. Burns. Ex-Governor Thomas is conducting the active examination for Burns.

INTERNATIONAL LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION

By Associated Press. —Chicago, Dec. 2.—The International Live Stock exposition was formally opened here tonight before an appreciative throng that crowded the Dexter park amphitheatre. Mayor Harrison, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Governor Yates spoke. A parade of prize-winning horses and a concert preceded the formal opening. The exhibition is being conducted by the Chicago Live Stock Association. Secretary Wilson was greeted with loud applause. His remarks were largely on the importance of the cattle business in the United States. He said that while the cattle exports from this country were worth $8,000,000, the great market was at home, "among our own people, and under our own flag." The audience was still applauding when the formal closing of the exhibition was announced. The exhibition will continue the week of admiring of domestic animals till the close of the show on December 7.

School Bond Bids to Be Opened Today

The secretary of the school board will today open the bids that have been received for the $100,000 worth of school bonds of school district number 11, authorized by the people at the recent election held for the purpose.

The bids have been numerous and it is expected that some good figures will be included among those opened today. The district will in all probability realize a good premium on the bond sale.

Council Kills Dana Railway Franchise

The Dana street railway franchise is "deader than a door nail," unless it is like a cat with the proverbial nine lives. It was killed last night by a unanimous vote of the city council.

Frank L. Dana and associates asked for a street railway right of way from the center of the city out to Prospect lake and the cemetery. It was urged in behalf of this franchise that competition in the street railway business in this city would be a good thing for the city's interests.

thought the city's rights and interests were being pretty well protected by Mr. Stratton, who already has a right of way over this route. He said he could not recommend the passage of the new franchise ordinance at the present time. It was the sense of the majority of the council that definite action should be taken last night so that Mr. Dana might know just what the council intended to do.

Important Routine Business in Council

At the regular meeting of the city council last night all the aldermen were present except Mr. Ashworth, of the Fifth ward. A number of matters of importance came up.

Upon recommendation of the water committee, the council decided to lease the two ranches on Bear creek which are owned by the city. The Glen Dale ranch will be leased to Mr. Goettler for a period of five years at a yearly rental of $500.

committee stated that he had seen the owners of powder houses in this vicinity and they had promised to move their powder houses further out as soon as they can get them partially unloaded.

Alderman Clark, of the finance committee, called the attention of the council to the fact that the city is paying $904 a year for telephones. He was instructed to take the matter up and see if the bill cannot be reduced.

Alderman St. John reported that the water system is in first-class condition, all the reservoirs being full or nearly full. It is very dry on the peak at present, but snows are expected and even should they fall the city now has water enough to last next summer.

The monthly reports of the fire chief, health commissioner, city engineer, police magistrate and building inspector were read and placed on file or referred to the finance committee as they required.

NEW MEXICO STATEHOOD AND NATIONAL IRRIGATION

Special to the Gazette.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 2.—Delegate Rodey of New Mexico, today introduced a bill to establish statehood for New Mexico. It authorizes the governor of New Mexico to call an election for delegates to a constitutional convention, which shall formulate a constitution to be submitted to the people of the territory preliminary to admission to statehood.

atives Newlands and Shafroth contended for national control of irrigation works which might be constructed through government aid. Representative Mondell and others favored adoption of a measure placing control of diversion of the distribution of water so stored in hands of state authorities.

Representative Shafroth re-introduced the bill submitted by him in the last congress providing for adoption of the metric system of weights and measures.

A consensus of opinion was that western members must harmonize their differences and agree upon some general measure. A motion proposed by Senator Dubois and seconded by Senator Kearns, prevailed, authorizing the chairman of the meeting, Senator Warren, to appoint a sub-committee, representing the arid and semi-arid states, of which he should be a member with authority to formulate a bill to be presented soon to an adjourned meeting for consideration and possible adoption.

Representative Newlands, of Nevada, introduced a bill providing for reclamation of arid lands through use of a special fund derived from sale of public lands. His bill authorizes the secretary of interior to let contracts for construction of irrigation works, payment to be made from this fund, cost of each storage project is to be fastened upon the land reclaimed and is to be repaid by settlers in 20 annual payments, the land only to be entered under homestead act in tracts of 80 acres.

The attention of Senator Clark of Montana, and Thomas F. Walsh of Colorado, was today called to a telegram from Denver, published here, announcing that they will, in connection with the Rock Island and Pacific build a new trans-continental line to the coast. Both said there is no foundation for the report.

INSULAR TARIFFS

from and five concurred, though not on the same grounds in this conclusion. The justice who delivered the opinion in DeLima case was one of the majority, and was of the opinion that although by the cession Puerto Rico ceased to be a foreign country and became a territory of the United States and domestic, yet that it was merely "appurtenant" territory and not a part of the United States within the revenue clauses of the Constitution.

States within the revenue clauses of the Constitution.

"This view placed the territory, though foreign, outside the restrictions applicable to interstate commerce, and treated the power of congress when affirmatively exercised over a territory situated as supposed, as uncontrolled by the provisions of the Constitution in respect of natural taxation. The distinction was drawn between a special act in respect of the particular country and a general and prior act only applicable to countries foreign to ours in every sense. The latter was obliged to conform to the rule of uniformity which was wholly disregarded in the former.

"The ruling in the case of DeLima remained unaffected, and controls that notwithstanding four members of the majority in the DeLima case were of the opinion that Puerto Rico did not become by the cession subjected to the exercise of governmental power in the levy of duty unrestricted by constitutional limitation.

"Decree reversed and cause remanded with directions to quash the information. Justices Gray, White, Shiras and McKenna united in dissenting from the court's opinion in the Philippine case but they filed no written statement beyond a mere note in which they said that they dissented for the reasons stated in their opinions in the case of DeLima vs. Bidwell, Dooley vs. Bidwell in the last term of the court."

DEFENSE IN BONINE MURDER CASE BEGUN

By Associated Press. Washington, Dec. 2.—The defense in the case of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, charged with the murder of James Seymour Ayres, today began the introduction of testimony and placed 15 witnesses on the stand before the court adjourned for the day. The line of examination showed that the purpose was to establish that Mrs. Bonine evinced no particular partiality toward Ayres and that her conduct and bearing toward him differed in no respect from that displayed toward other guests of the hotel.

The first witness called was William C. Hay, who with his family, lived at the Kenmore at the time of the tragedy. He testified that the dances at the Kenmore were usually arranged by Mrs. Bonine and that at these dances her bearing toward Ayres was nothing out of the ordinary. It had been her habit, he said, when the dancers were not prompt in their attendance, to go to their rooms and urge them to come down. He said, on cross-examination, that he understood that it had been Mrs. Bonine's intention to leave the hotel, but after the tragedy he had advised her that it would be improper to do so until the affair was cleared up.

Richard T. Jenks testified that he heard Mrs. Bonine giving Ayres advice against drinking to excess. George B. Gardner, assistant attorney in the interior department to whom Mrs. Bonine first told her story, and who was one of the government witnesses, testified that on the night of the tragedy he had seen Mrs. Bonine and Ayres dining together and had seen nothing unusual in their conduct.

David C. Mooney, a clerk in the sixth auditor's office, said he had seen Mrs. Bonine dance with Ayres, but saw nothing in her attitude toward him differing from that towards others. Similar testimony was given by others.

Hansel and Gretel.

The most charming of all modern operas will be performed at the Antlers hotel next Tuesday evening under the direction of Mr. Crampton.

Its exquisite melodies have won favor everywhere. The dainty and vivacious opening of the first act, which ends with the weirdly dramatic scene in which the father, horror-stricken, rushes out to seek his children.

The lovely forest scenes, which will be accompanied by orchestral accompaniment, the piquant cuckoo duet, the beautiful evening prayer, the fine dream music and the charming fairy songs of the sandman and dwarfman. The brilliant finale, in which the parents at last find the children, completes an opera which for exquisite melody, dramatic power and picture-queness is unapproachable in modern music.

Special scenery and new costumes will be used on this occasion. The program will conclude with "Cups and Saucers," one of the brightest musical comedies ever written.

Sale of seats opens this morning (Tuesday) at Hext Music Co.

Over $400,000 in cash was paid last Saturday by the owners of the beet sugar factories at Loveland, Rocky Ford, Sugar City and Grand Junction to the farmers of the territory surrounding the four places.
