New Indian War.

Trouble Near Home, and War in the Blue Mountains.

Reports from all over the western country indicate that the Indian troubles are again assuming a threatening aspect. In the country south of Gunnison City small bands of mounted Indians are using all their efforts to bring on a fight. They have run off a herd of horses belonging to a Mr. Hotchkiss, on the Powder Horn, and the animals of many ranchmen are missing.

Scouts have been sent out to scour the country to the South. A special from Gunnison City to the Denver News says: "Through a messenger who arrived here this morning from the vicinity of Cline's ranch, only a short distance from the reservation, news has been brought of a well laid plan by the Utes to make a bold dash in force upon Gunnison City, the avowed object being the liberation of Cline, now in jail here for complicity in the murder of young Jackson. Shortly after the receipt of this startling news a general meeting of citizens was held, at which the mayor of the town presided. Much indignation was expressed over the dilatory manner in which the Ute business has been handled by the Government, and a general belief was expressed that the Governor had connived with the authorities at Washington in smuggling Agent Berry out of the country."

A midnight fight with the Ute Indians occurred near "Jack's Cabin" in the Gunnison district, by a small body of volunteer rangers, commanded by Jack Harrison, a noted Indian fighter, and a band of Utes, about fifty in number. Sentinels had been put out, and about twelve o'clock the presence of the Indians was made known. In the darkness a successful fight was next to impossible, but it is supposed that at least two Indians were killed. This much for the Gunnison country.

Turning nearer home we see the events which have transpired within a few miles for the past six weeks. They are sufficient to indicate that the Indians have resolved to wage war upon the isolated miners and ranchmen. It is evidently their intention to steer clear of towns and large settlements, but to kill single families, who are separated by miles from their nearest neighbors, and capture their stock. All of our readers know of the expedition which lately started out from Parrott City, to prospect the Navajoe country. Rico contributed twenty-five men to the party. The report was current in Rico this week that it was probable that the entire party had been massacred. The last issue of the Southwest brings this intelligence in regard to the subject:

"A Navajoe Indian brought word into Parrott City this week, that the prospecting party which left that place a few weeks ago, to prospect in northeastern Arizona for silver mines, had been massacred near the Carriz mountains. As this rumor is entirely unsupported, except by Indian evidence, no reliance can be placed upon it. It is known, however, that all the animals belonging to this prospecting party had been stolen by the Indians over two weeks ago. The country through which these prospectors attempted to travel is overrun with renegade Pi-Utes and Navajoes, and a conflict has been apprehended."

While the rumor is discredited in the above, it states that the party has lost all its horses, which is sufficient to show that the intrepid prospectors are doomed. To be set on foot in a wild Indian country is almost certain death, as the mounted savages can harass them at every turn and ultimately destroy the entire number, and it is hardly probable that any of them will escape. The chances are that they are all slaughtered long before this time. Newspapers are very lavish in their advice of war and extermination, but the Utes don't exterminate any more rapidly than if the paper had never left the press. Newspaper comment on his actions has but little weight with the average Ute. It neither breaks his heart, nor shuts off his wind. After a thorough investigation of the subject, we find that history will tell us that explosive bullets have more influence with savages than folios of vigorous editorials. We cannot appeal to an Indian's sense of justice or cause him to feel the pang of remorse. Let us substitute Winchester rifles for brains and note the result. Samuel Colt may not be a learned man, but one of his weapons will be found more effective in quelling a war than the most logical and convincing effusions of all the educated professors of metaphysics.

Many newspaper enterprises have been born in Colorado lately. The latest addition is the Hueffano Herald, published at La Vets by J. B. King, formerly of Kas

There has been a riot in Denver and the washee washee houses have suffered. But one man was killed, although many were injured more or less severely. The Chinese were nearly all driven from their homes by the mob, but they have now returned under the protection of U. S. Deputies.

The inhabitants of New York city are slowly learning that all the money made by the Chinese is sent out of the country. They transmit the money first to San Francisco, from whence it is shipped to China. A like experience may safely be assumed in Denver beyond fear of contradiction.—Denver News.

We regret to learn that the New York Daily Mining News has suspended publication. This was undoubtedly the best eastern supporter that Rico has had and has done good work in advertising the honest merits of our camp. It was well edited and should have had a support that would have insured its success. It certainly deserved it.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company has issued a circular to shippers of California freight, announcing that that road and the Southern Pacific will be completed and connected about July 1, 1881, thus opening up a through route between the East and San Francisco, Sacramento, San Jose, Los Angeles and other points in California.

The past two months has surpassed any equal period in the history of Colorado for its record of lawlessness and crime. There has been a wonderful number of atrocious murders, arson cases, burglary, lynchings, and every species of hideous crime has been prevailing in all portions of the state, leaving a dark blot on the fair name of our state.

Mrs. Ralston, the widow of the late W. C. Ralston, who suicided after the breaking of the Bank of California by the bonanza firm of Flood & O'Brien, has filed a complaint in the Superior Court, in which she demands that Senator Sharon may be directed to render an account of the property of her late husband, who was the Senator's partner in business.

Colorado's cities and towns owe their growth and prosperity to the rich mines that are daily pouring out their hidden wealth to the toiling miners. Were it not for the discovery of Leadville the population of Denver to-day would not exceed 20,000, and the terminus of the South Park railroad would be somewhere in the vicinity of Morrison.—Denver Mining Review.

Wm. H. Berry is now occupying room 80, of the American House, Denver. He is still in the hands of the government and has not done himself the honor of calling on the governor. The following noted legal gentlemen have been retained to defend the murderer; they all prefix their names with "Hon.": Thos. M. Patterson, Thomas Macon, Bela M. Hughes and Jas. B. Belford.

The snow which caused such a rush from the western camps is nearly all gone from the mountains and the valleys are all bare, so that no impediment whatever is now presented to travel in any of its modes. Old timers state that a snowfall in October is not followed by another until Christmas Day. Every person who has lived here three days becomes a self-established weather prophet, but point us to the man who can successfully prognosticate San Juan weather and we will show you a greater than Tife or Vannor.

The Two Colorado Artesian Wells.

Congress having decided that artesian wells will open up a vast amount of territory in the West, that is now rendered useless on account of the lack of water, concluded to sink two wells in Colorado. Le Duc, the commissioner of agriculture has selected two spots on the banks of the Arkansas river to try the experiment. If there is a well watered district in the west, it is the valley of the Arkansas, yet one well has been put down at South Pueblo, and the other is now under course of construction at Fort Lyons, four miles from West Las Animas, where water is pumped by the inhabitants from a depth of four feet below the surface. In commenting on the scheme the West Las Animas Leader makes the following observations:

"The location of the well in the valley so near the river, causes general surprise, and it is believed as an experiment, will prove nothing, even though a flow of water may be secured. Any land within ten miles of the river is already available either for agriculture or stock by the aid of the river. To put a well there is no better than to put it in Missouri or any other country where water is furnished to land by nature.

Away to the north, towards the Carson or the Bijou country are stretches of fertile plain, covered with rich grasses, but where there is no water for any purpose. There are many such divides to the south and west of us. With water all this land could be occupied by stock. Be it understood cattle and sheep must have water daily and cannot go beyond certain limits for grass and return.

The well at South Pueblo cost something like $7,000. It is practically on the bank of the river. Should a similar well be put down on the Fort Lyons reservation at a cost of $7,000 to $10,000, of what utility will it be to the country, and what will it demonstrate more than is already known? Is it likely to induce a ranchman to undertake a new experiment on the plains north, with the probability of a still greater expenditure?"

Fire at Alamosa--One Man Burned.

Alamosa has suffered from a disastrous conflagration, which occurred on the 1st instant. The alarm was sounded about 8 o'clock, p. m., of that day and the fire was found in the Cricket saloon or dance-hall. The Red Light dance-hall was consumed with the former and an attendant of the "Cricket," B. Van Zandt, perished in the flames. He had retired to his bed and was probably smothered without awakening, as his body was found in the bed charred and burned almost to ashes, and retained but little semblance to humanity. The cause of the fire is supposed to be an incendiary, although some believe that the explosion of a lamp originated it. There was no insurance on the destroyed property and the trunks and valuables of the inmates were all burned, except two trunks belonging to Senator Marie. 12 extra policemen were placed on duty to watch the smoldering embers and prevent theft. It was a narrow escape for the town and the Independent extra calls for an organized fire department with an engine to cope with the flames in later instances.

We clip the following from the Roman Citizen, of Rome, New York, under date of October 15, 1880: Miss Sadie Thompson, late principal of Liberty st school in this city, was married on Thursday of last week to Mr. B. A. Taft, of Silverton Colorado. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother, in New London, Rev. C. M. Lewis officiating. On Monday the happy couple left for their home in Colorado. They bear with them the good wishes of a multitude of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft arrived in Silverton on last Saturday evening, the 30th ult., and immediately became the recipients of hearty congratulations from their many friends in Silverton. We extend to the happy man and wife our best good wishes for their future happiness and prosperity and trust they may enjoy many years of contented wedded life in our midst.—Silverton Miner.

GOOD NEWS!

We are informed that Barlow & Sanderson have taken their stock from Del Norte around to Chama, for the purpose of putting on a line of coaches from Chama to Animas City, which will run tri-weekly, until the mail service for this section is changed, to the lower route, when they will run a daily coach. This is the best of good news and insures a speedy adjustment of our mail annoyances, in the near future.—Silverton Miner.

McClelland--Mullenix.

The two brutes that head these lines, presume to be physicians, and they reside at Leon, Iowa. These ignorant quacks in attempting to perform upon a plain and simple case of surgery, amputated the arm of one Amanda McQuilty, in which case amputation was as useless as severing a human head to cure headache. Thus they blighted the life of a promising young lady, and should be hung as murderers.

Another Theory as to How Jackson Came to His Death.

The Denver Republican states that no further doubt can be entertained as to whether or not young Jackson is dead, and says that positive evidence is now in the hands of the authorities as to his death and that his body can be produced whenever it is required.

Proceedings Against Berry & Hoyt.

At 2 o'clock, p. m. of the 4th instant, Agent Berry and S. N. Hoyt were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Braze at his office over 383 Larimer street, Denver.

Before me, J. W. Schenck, United States Commissioner for the district of Colorado, personally appeared this day J. D. Smith, Jr., who after being duly sworn according to law, declares on oath that upon reasonable and credible information, which information he believes to be correct, and he charges that one W. H. Berry did on the 27th day of September, A. D. 1880, unlawfully, wilfully and with malice destroy the life of one Jackson, and commit murder in that district of country known as the Indian reservation, and in the district of Colorado, against the statutes in such cases made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the United States.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 4th day of November, A. D. 1880. (Signed) J. W. SCHENCK, U. S. Commissioner, District of Colorado.

The roasting of ores at the smelter has been going on continually for the past two weeks and night and day shifts have been engaged in preparing everything for the first actual mill run. Everything is now in readiness and the finishing touches are being administered to-day. It may be possible that the smelter will blow in some time to night. Two 12-hour shifts will be put on at once, it being deemed better policy to pay extra for long time than to put on another shift of green hands and run three 8-hour shifts.

The San Juan towns polled a light vote on account of the lateness of the season. The following is a statement of the number of votes polled by our leading towns on the day of the late election:

Table with 2 columns: Town Name, Votes. Rico: 327, Ouray: 292, Silverton: 221, Del Norte: 217, Lake City: 485, Animas City: unknown.

From Mr. Hess, who resides near the Big Bend, we learn that the Indians continue to kill and steal cattle and horses, and threaten violence to the whites in that vicinity. They will kill the finest of animals and cut their tongues out, and let them lay to show the work of their spiteful hellishness.

The trails and roads into Rico are in good condition yet, as no snow is on the ground. It is hoped that we will not have any severe weather before the latter part of January. Some prospecting is going on in this camp at present, and a great amount of work also.

Supposed Suicide.

A report came into town last Tuesday that the dead body of a man had been found in a house on the ranch of Sam and Jud Burghardt. We at once sought an interview with the former gentleman and elicited the following facts: The name of the deceased is Ericson, who has resided in Horse gulch this summer and was employed by the Elgin company in cutting logs; about the time of the October snow-storm Burghardt made arrangements for Ericson and family to live on the ranch during the winter and they moved down. John Phillips was hired at the same time to work on the ranch. It has been the custom of Ericson to get up the team in the morning and to go to work on a ditch which was being cut through the ranch. On the morning of the 4th inst. he rose as usual and did not go to work, saying that he was going away. Phillips hitched up the team and after breakfast he, together with the children, drove over to the ditch, leaving Ericson sitting on the woodpile. Just before leaving, Ericson said: "Goodby; I may not see you again." On returning in the evening the dead body of Ericson was found lying on the bed with a bullet hole in his stomach, just to the right of the navel. But little blood was seen, but bleeding from such a wound is frequently altogether internal. His clothing around the wound was burnt by powder, so close must have been the weapon which did the fatal work. It is strange that a person should select such a place in which to fire a shot, as it is known to be the most painful of all gunshot wounds, and that death only follows after very severe agony, which is often prolonged for many hours. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide. No cause is assigned for the rash act, but it is generally supposed that trouble in domestic matters had something to do with it. The deceased was a Mormon and is about 50 years of age. He came to Rico from Mini, Utah, and the wife who was with him here was Mrs. Ericson No. 2. The ranch is located on the Mancos, 30 miles from Rico.

Another Good Lick for Rico.

Mr. Stuedeman, of the San Francisco Assay Office, has been busy the past week in sampling large quantities of ore and assaying the same for Mr. W. A. Koneman, of Chicago, Illinois, the ores being from mines owned by that gentleman. Mr. Stuedeman pronounces the ores as among the best that have come under his notice in the camp, not on account of a high grade alone, as that indispensable quality is coupled with a wonderful purity and the ore carries an abundance of lead for flux. The amount of brittle silver shown by some of the specimens is certainly astonishing when it is taken into consideration that none of them were obtained from a greater depth than 20 feet. Mr. Koneman has been in Rico since last spring and has acquired interests in many valuable properties during his sojourn. We are indebted to Mr. Stuedeman's reports for the following returns and omit the locations and names of the lodes by special request:

Table with 3 columns: Lode Name, Silver, Gold. L. C. Paystreak No. 1, silver, 162 ozs., gold, 356 1/2; M. Q., " 2., " 104.8; M. Q., " 3., " 208; M. Q., " 4., " 277 1/2; selected ore, " 1,136; E. B. Paystreak, " 240; H. T. Paystreak No. 1, silver, 84 ozs., gold, 216; E. D. LODE, " 333; R. W., " 265.3

In addition to the above magnificent showing in silver, every specimen shows gold, from a trace up to 1 1/2 ounces. This is one of the best average showings we have seen. There have been many single assays that show a far greater number of ounces, but sampled ores from so many different locations seldom give such uniformly encouraging returns.

J. P. Lamb says that he has purchased a controlling interest in the wagon road and will put it through in 40 days after the opening of spring. He now owns a two-thirds interest and intends to work the scheme to suit himself. He does not wish to build the road any further than the mouth of Scotch creek, saying that he does not want to interfere with travel up and down the river and a toll gate between the mouth of Scotch creek and Rico would necessarily do so. Our citizens can construct a good road to Scotch creek (a distance of 2 1/2 miles) with little trouble or cost, as there is a natural road bed to that point. But will you? It will be money in your pockets.

Hudson's majority for representative is 50. Letcher received 79 majority in this county, counting every precinct except Rico. Hudson's majority in his county was 75. Rico gave Hudson 54 majority, leaving his majority even 50.

Jim Sullivan has resigned his position as marshal at Animas City and is now city marshal of Durango. He will have a hard crowd to deal with, but he is equal to the emergency.

As there are a great many assays being made, there must be as much prospecting going on.

Stevens majority for county judge of this county was 47.

CLERK—D. MCGRAW. A. H. MUNDEE, acting.

J. GAULT, J. P.
TOWN MARSHAL—J. W. CART.

Ike Yoho is in Rico again.

Note change in town board.

Rico ought to have a school.

Rico will soon produce bullion.

How about that militia company?

Read the advertisements in this issue.

Perry Ghrist is able to walk—just a little.

Weather rather too cool to snow for some time.

The Johnnie Bull is being worked with a good force.

L. Alderman is out buying cattle for the Rico market.

Joe Castello will put a force on the Nora Lilly in a few days.

The News is among the best advertising mediums of the west.

A great amount of freight has arrived in Rico during the past week.

There are at least three kinds—mines, prospects and new discoveries.

Al Rogers has been seriously ill during the past week, but is regaining now.

The News' circulation is increasing in Leadville, and should rapidly increase.

It seems that it is necessary to proceed to procure title to Rico town property.

A fellow in New York writes us a command to give his mine a send-off. Give us ice water.

D. McIntyre has just returned from a little trip of recreation, and is now ready for business.

A. L. Baker, the popular tobaccoist, who has been seriously ill for several days, is recovering.

Messrs Alderman & Gault will soon have a new lot of meats. That is the place to trade.

The boys will be coming in within two months. They will get tired of losing time at home.

There is a grand opportunity to gain riches by bringing butter, eggs and vegetables into Rico.

Freights are now shipped from Boyleville, about forty five or fifty miles this side of Alamosa, so we are informed.

With the burros the Grand View now has they will be able to carry all the ore that is needed to run with this winter.

Some of the boys in Rico are talking of going to the Blue Mountains to aid our white adventurers into that region.

Who will put up ice when it freezes? All that was put up last season was consumed long before cool weather came.

Election is probably nearly over, and we are no richer nor poorer, for we have neither lost nor won a single bet. Got a stand-off.

Some people in the East see by the Dolores News something that concerns them, and then ask that we write them a long letter.

Geo. Howard, well known to most of our citizens as the Utah superintendent of Blake & Meserole's mail line, has been in town a couple of times this week.

If you are not a subscriber to the Dolores News, you should be. If your time of subscription has expired, we would be pleased to have you renew.

A Krille has purchased a one-fourth interest in the Johnnie Bull mine, for which he paid $8,000 cash. Hull & Boazo gave their receipt for that amount Oct. 26th.

Charles Forsberg has sold all his interest in the billiard table, wines liquors and cigars and stock, in the Bon Ton saloon, to F. L. Downs, who is sole proprietor, and will hereafter conduct the business.

W. L. Hull left for Pueblo last week, where he spend the winter. Anthony Boaro, his partner in the Johnnie Bull location, has gone east and will stop at some place that suits him. The boys strike it once in a while.

Where is registered mail held between Alamosa and Rico? We know of registered mail which is undoubtedly held on the route, somewhere.

Messrs. D. McGraw, George O. Gilbert and L. J. Allen, all well-known in Rico, left on Tuesday morning for the east, Wisconsin being their objective point. Messrs. McGraw and Gilbert spend the winter in Delavan, while Mr. Allen is headed for Madison. They, like all San Juaners, will return "in the spring."

Wm. C. Gilmer returned last evening from his trip in search of pack animals. After over two weeks constant traveling he managed to collect a packtrain of 51 burros, purchasing most of them at Timber Hill. He loaded them with flour and provisions and Dave Swickhelmer will get in with the outfit some time to-day. Some teams and saddle animals were also purchased, so that the Grand View company will now have a constant supply of ore from the Johnnie Bull and its own mines.

The News does not want it understood that the article in last issue was calculated to insult the respectable industrious honest working class of Irish in this camp. The item referred to a certain gang, and as far as the matter of feeling in regard to hanging was concerned, not the Irish alone, but there were a few of the several nationalities in favor of hanging Knappen. The article was intended for the few who opposed Cart because he did his duty, and not to those who had other reason. With this definition or explanation the article stands unchanged.

OLD BRUIN

Takes a Ramble on the Mountain and Scares Some of the Boys.

Friday night as Frank Thompson, Tom Carroll, Nath Robinson, and Zenas Robinson, commonly called the "kid," all employees of the Grand View mine, were coming to town, an ancient and respectable looking member of the bear family, crossed their path, and as may be expected caused consternation among the crowd. They were coming from the Grand View cabin, and encountered brain a short distance from the old slaughter house, on the hill side. Nath Robinson was the first to see the unpleasant neighbor, and gave the alarm, at the same time running like a streak of lightning; Frank Thompson, ran, but observing a convenient tree, climbed it, and soon found himself nestling among its branches. Carroll jumped into a prospect hole from which he did not emerge for two hours, but the "kid" bravely stood his ground, drew his pistol and sent six leaden pellets in hot haste, in the direction of the bear. Brain surveyed the crowd and seeing them all gone but the "kid," probably took compassion on him, and departed in the direction of the Grand View, in which vicinity is a dead burro, on which brain had her Friday night banquet.

NOTICE

During my absence in the east, the business of town clerk and treasurer will be left in the hands of A. H. Mundee.

Chapt'r of English History.

The New York Graphic quotes each of the following paragraphs. We reproduce it, as it presents truth, sarcasm, bosh and more humor than wit, hoping that in the variety something may be found to suit the various feelings of a various people.

Mr. English is gloomy. Mr. English is made the scapegoat of the defeat. Mr. English fought the nomination. Mr. English got it because his friends said he would put in $100,000. Mr. English did not put in $100,000. Mr. English demanded he should conduct the campaign. Five hundred letters per day asking for more dollars. Mr. English never saw such a big hole to drop money in before. Mr. English is a prudent man and didn't drop much in. The worst managed canvass in the history of the State. English miserably inefficient. Outgeneraled at every point. Personal unpopularity loses hundreds of votes. Never had the state properly polled. Miserly English habits. Doubts if he put a dollar in the campaign. Landers also a dead weight on the ticket, and spent very little money. Loss of Indiana due to incompetence and avarice of English. Only thing that would annoy English, -loss of a little money. No organization, no management, no money, no nothing. No money on hand even to buy postage stamps or even to pay salaries. English said no money was needed. English a hog and a brute. A base brute.

A lawyer who was badgering a colored witness in a District of Columbia Court, by asking him if he had not been convicted of larceny, assault and arson, receiving a negative reply in every case, finally inquired: "Have you ever been in the penitentiary?" "Yes sah." Attorney smiled complacently and resumed: "How many times have you been in the penitentiary?" "Twice, sah." "Where?" "In Baltimore, sah." "How long were you there the first time?" "About two hours, sah." "How long the second time?" asked the attorney, rather crestfallen. "An hour, sah; I went there to whitewash a cell for a lawyer who had robbed his client." The attorney sat down amid the laughter of the spectators.

The Electoral Vote.
