GRAND LAKE, Feb. 14 .- Colorow is dead. He, who has been threatened with every imaginable death under the sunwho has been the pest and torment of these people, who was never known to do a lick of work, a snap of good, or share a bite with any creature, whose voice resembled a snarl, and his laugh a whine-has lived to die in his bed, such as it was, forsaking all, and by all forsaken. Colorow has been at Grand Lake for the last four months, having stayed behind when a small party encamped near here last September on their way south. He was a monomaniac, but to call that bright particular faculty by the lenient title of kleptomania, would cast the basest libel on the memory of the most celebrated sneak-thief that ever went unhung. Colorow loved darkness rather than light; The people of Grand Lake have suffered in more ways than one from his natural talent, but, be it said to his credit, he generally confined himself to taking "for his stomach's sake." His disposition was quarrelsome and vindictive-he was forever kicking up a row-and he generally came out of it as he deserved, being the biter bit. How old he was is not known, but it is currently believed here that he died of sheer old age and general cussed ness.

Small-Pox Cure. Mazomanie (Wis.) Sickle.

Many of the papers are republishing populated by all kinds and classes from an old remedy for the small-pox, which all parts of the earth, an able council is it is claimed has been very successfully needed to rule upon questions relative to used for the cure of that loathsome disease. It is also said to be equally good During the coming season, there will in cases of scarlet fever. The following is the prescription:

"Sulphate of zinc, one grain; foxglove Not one member of the council shall every hour. Either disease will disappear in 12 hours. For a child, smaller doses, according to age."

A great many well attested cases of cure with this remedy are given, and it personal interest in the welfare of Rico is certainly worth the while of physicians to try its effects. Speaking of it, one physician said: "When Jenner discovered cow-pox in England, the world of science huried an avalanche of fame upon his head; when the most scientific school of medicine in the world-that of Paris -published this panacea for small-pox it passed unheeded. It is unfailing as fate, and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by well persons. It is remarkable that this remedy should not be more widely known if it is what it is claimed."

RICO'S SALARY QUESTION.

Shadows of Public Opinion Reflected. The town of Rico was incorporated in the earlier part of 1880, when the board of trustees begun to frame the city government. The first general election held at Rico, was on the 6th day of April, 1880, when the "salary" question was voted upon, resulting 214 "for" to 14 "against" salary. It was expected at that time that the increase of Rico's population, etc., would so greatly increase the duties of the councilmen that it would not only be right and proper but an absolute necessity to compensate the members of the council to get them to serve at all. It has since been clearly shown that there are many who would serve as mayor or confirming it had the report been true. councilmen without compensation. It is not reasonable to suppose that the city clerk would serve without salary, as the person who shall act in that capacity has which may be appreciated by those of to do nearly all the work incidental to the our readers who are acquainted in Lake: ing the figures of a certain assay.
