OUTSTANDING CONSERVATION FARMER REX SHAPLEY

An enthusiastic crowd was on hand at the annual Bankers Award Banquet, held in Spearman Tuesday evening. The outstanding farmer award went to Rex Shapley of Gruver, and the outstanding homemaker award went to Delinda McLaughlin of Spearman. Willard McCloy, who has spent 20 years with the Soil Conservation Service, received the Outstanding District Service Award.

Rex Shapley, along with Tony Shapley, his brother and Arnold Beck, his brother-in-law, operate seven sections of dryland cropland located six miles west of Gruver.

In 1980 Rex requested technical assistance through the Hansford Soil & Water Conservation District from the Soil Conservation Service personnel at Spearman to correct some erosion problems. A Great Plains Conservation Program contract, which provides costshare assistance for installation of conservation practices, was then developed.

Under this program, assistance is being provided for shaping and vegetating waterways as well as constructing diversion and parallel terraces. To date 45 acres of waterways have been shaped with 5 acres being seeded to western wheatgrass and sideoats grama and 3674 feet of diversion terraces also being constructed.

In the near future an additional 19 acres of waterway will be shaped, 59 acres of waterway seeded to grass and 30,000 feet of terraces constructed.

The farm is continuously seeded to wheat which is either grazed out by stocker cattle or cut for grain. An excellent job of conservation tillage is done utilizing large sweeps to maintain crop residues for moisture painting. conservation and soil protection.

Rex, also, farms an additional 21/2 sections of irrigated crop- interest, time and support of resources.

Rex, his wife Marion, their children Bart, 15: Dala, 13 and Tara, 5, reside in Gruver. Marion's cousin, Chuck Morgan, also lives with Rex's family and attends W.T.S.U.

Mrs. Danny McLaughlin is an outstanding young homemaker, mother of one son and wife of an active local farmer. Actively involved in Extension Homemaker's Clubwork for six years. Her involvement has been for the betterment of the community, home, and family life.

Delinda has exhibited outstanding qualities of devotion, trust and leadership in this community through her activities in church, social and service projects.

As a member of Extension Homemakers, her roles have been many. She is presently Education CHairman of the Hansford County Council. Delinda has worked to provide service to the community by coordinating efforts of the Bloodmobile, Veteran's Day Program and Hansford County Extension Homemaker's Annual meeting and Membership Tea. She has assumed responsibilities in her club and on the county level, serving as 4-H and Finance committee chairman, Council Delegate and Secretary from her club. She has been

After being registered by Mary Jane Henson, the guests were served refreshments of cake, nuts, mints and coffee or punch. The serving table was covered with white lace over white cloth with a three tier anniversary cake as the center of attention. A golden punch bowl and coffee service and golden candle holders with white candles also decorated the table. Golden yellow silk flowers and greenery enhanced the cake. Speial white napkins engraved with "Golden Wedding Anniversary Eva & Si 1932-1982" were used. Servers for the happy occasion were great nieces of the couple and included Juanita Ward, Sandra McDonald, Ginger Deevers, June Roberts, Betty Nelson, Lita Springfield and Mary Arnold.

TURKEY IN ABUNDANT SUPPLY THIS SEASON

Turkey, now a year-round favorite, is a traditional holiday food. It's protein-packed, low calorie, flavorful and economical, and consumers should find an abundant supply of fresh. wholesome birds this season. Turkey is one of the most economical meat sources available.

Fresh turkeys displayed in meat counters are USDA inspected for wholesomeness and most are Grade A, indicating they are fully fleshed and meaty, well-finished with no parts missing and no skin defects.

Lower grade turkeys are equally wholesome and nutritious, but may not be as visually appealing in the package.

Processed turkey offered at meat counters is inspected again to label information and ingredients.

Tenderness of the meat is determined by the age of the bird, rather than the sex, grade or size. A 25-pound turkey is just as tender as an eight-pound bird of the same age. Toms are generally as tender as hens of similar age. For greatest tenderness, look for the words "young" or "fryer-roaster" on the label.

To determine how much fresh turkey to buy, plan for threefourths pound per person, or for Cub Scout Pack #550 of Gruver toured the County Jail in Spearman.

On Monday, November 15, 1982, the Cub Scouts were treated to a mini-version of the movie "Scared Stiff." Approximately 20 boys and their Den Mothers traveled to Spearman for a quick tour of the County jail where Sheriff McFarlin and Deputy Gary Evans pointed out the cells where prisoners were kept and explained some of their equipment.

As the boys gathered in the room where the prisoners are finger-printed and pictures are taken, Sheriff McFarlin answered questions from the boys which were very often sharp and to the point. Then, each boy had the experience of having his finger-print taken and received a Junior Deputy Card. As the tour was completed, Sheriff McFarlin asked the Cub Scouts

Greyhounds' Coach Rick Nix resigns

At the end of the Gruver-Sunray football game Nov. 5, two men met on the field and shook hands, then one of them followed his defeated team to the locker room while the other lingered on the field ...

Finally, the other man left the field on leadened feet--for "finally" was the key word for Rick Nix, Athletic Director and Head Football Coach for Gruver High School Greyhounds the past five years.

He had quietly tendered his resignation Oct. 8 just before the Stratford game.

"I knew before the Sunray his greatest disappointment. game started it was my last at some very poignant times out of his five years at Gruver, naming the Sunray game as the one he would remember most--for obvious reasons. Fortunately, it was a victory to close out his final season at Gruver.

For the next few minutes, Rick Nix fielded questions covering everything from his greatest players down the gamut to his greatest frustrations. The spectrum of contrast was displayed between Nix' greatest thrill of his five-year tenure and Biggest dissappointment? Nix said it would have to be a chain reaction thing beginning with the 1981 Stratford game and the dissention and the animosities that infiltrated the Greyhound squad. "I do not believe I was the cause of it," Nix declared, "but I blame myself for not handling the situation better." While he speaks proudly of the good life at Gruver, Coach Nix' greatest moments centered around his players. Asked about different 'Hounds he had coached, this was his lineup: BEST BACKS: Darrell Mes-

BEST DEFENSIVE GAME?--

How about the 1979 win over Dalhart; over Stratford this season--or even the 1979 close loss to Panhandle. That was a good defensive game.

Before closing the interview, we went to two other extremes. The first was to ask Nix' biggest thrill in coaching. Here the answer really reveals the man: "Watching a kid develop into a mature young man mentally and physically and feeling that his coach might have had a hand in it," Nix said. "I have a very deep feeling for athletes that perform up to their abilities and am in awe of those that perform beyond their abilities to do so!"

His biggest coaching disappointment?

"It is exactly at the opposite end of the stick! The biggest disappointment, the biggest frustration to me as a coach is the kid with a natural, Godgiven talent, is perfect physically and mentally ... and refuses to produce!"

Nix said one of the handicaps to a coach are those parents who think the coach should raise

"I think these are the responsibilities of the parents, not the coach," Nix said emphatically.

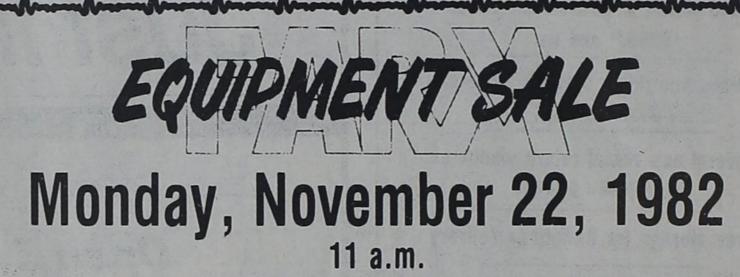

Then the resigning coach voiced a strange frustration for a coach: the parent or other adults who think athletics are the single most important part of the lives of young people. This man who has dedicated his life to the athletic phases of the lives of young people said he thought more important was God, country, family, education and consideration for their fellow man.

The interview was drawing to a close. The coach had touched on friends, remembrances away from athletics, many things. Then he ended with perhaps the greatest revelation of hurt to a person in the public eye:

"My final frustration is the person that blames my family for decisions that I make!" Which just might be Rick Nix' way of saying: remember him as his own man.

Workday for farmers

Costs are increasing and prices are low, forcing farmers to operate on narrower dollar margins than in past years. These narrow margins make planning increasingly important. Errors are very costly when there is a low profit margin. In order to help Hansford County farmers along these lines, we are holding a financial management workshop that will help crop producers develop 1983 crop operating budgets and annual cash flow. These will help identify low profit The workshops are four
