Hawks top Dogs 29-11, Follett next

The Gruver Greyhounds lost a heartbreaker football game to Phillips, at Gruver Friday night, 29-11. It was no disgrace, as the Hawks played an outstanding game, and just outscored the fine Greyhound team.

Brent Heatley posted two touchdowns and Dwayne Kinsch ran for one, plus kicking three extra points to give the Hawks the win.

Gruver's points came on a 62 yard pass from Tim Stedje to Kip Pittman and Trevor Williams' 39 yard field goal.

In district play, the Greyhounds are 2-1 and 3-2 for the season.

The Greyhounds travel to Follett Friday night for a game that definitely will have a bearing on the district race.

Quilt Show at Museum

On Display at the Stationmaster's Museum in Spearman is an assortment of beautiful old quilts. Some date back to the 1800's, but most date 1900-1930.

In making of patchwork quilts is one of the most picturesque of all folk-arts. It is the only one of the home-craft arts that has withstood the machine age. Needlework was the one art which women could claim as their own. In every household, rich or poor, womensewed. In mansion house or frontier cabin, every scrap was saved for bed quilts.

The whole country- once again- is "Quilt Conscious"- as the making of quilts has become astonishingly popular. Everybody seems to love beautiful old and new bed cloths.

Museum auxiliary members hope various women's clubs, school students, etc. will plan to visit the exhibit.

The public is invited any time Tuesday Thru Saturday afternoons.

When you visit the Museum, plan to leave a donation in the little wooden barrel. Public donations is the only source of income for the struggling Stationmasters House.

To assist you in viewing the exhibit, a history of each quilt is available at the desk.

Cancer Center adds bank to endowment fund participants

Marilyn Van Petten, Felma Evans and First National Bank president Don Townsen are pictured above. Marilyn is presenting the bank with a plaque for joining the Cancer Center Endowment fund.

The First National Bank. Spearman will assist in helping to stamp out cancer, with their endowment fund.

The Endowment Fund is a plan designed to raise money for the cancer center while helping local community economies, said Stephanie Young, communications director for the center. Participating banks or savings and loans associations serve as local depositories for the fund. Money contributed to the Endowment Fund remains at local participating banks—only interest earned is forwarded to the Cancer Center.

Each bank also helps support the fund by pledging .02 of 1 percent of current their deposits over a three-year period.

The benefits of such a fund are felt by everyone involved, said Marilyn Van Petten, director of development for the cancer center. Local banks and communities benefit by keeping the money at home, and contributors have the opportunity to help fight cancer through the convenience and ease of their own banking institutions. The Harrington Cancer Center is assured on-going financial support for expanded patient care, research and education.

"Above all, is the benefit to the more than 4,000 patients who have received treatment at the out-patient facility since it opened in 1981. Before that, cancer patients often traveled to Houston, Dallas or Oklahoma City for treatment. Often, this meant a drastic change in their lifestyles and severe financial burdens," Mrs. Van Petten said.

Mrs. Young said patients who receive treatment at the cancer center also benefit from the center's intent and commitment to treat the whole person—physically, emotionally and spiritually. In addition to treatment services, the Cancer Center offers a network of supportive care services, including social work, pastoral care, dietary counseling, enterostomal therapy and pharmacy.

Gifts of any size, including memorial contributions, may be held in the bank's Endowment Fund. Each bank informs the cancer center as contributions are made so that proper acknowledgment is made to donors. Kathrine Wilson serves as director of the center's development council.

Too Many?

In Denver a firm has come up with a device which prevents one from starting his or her car if inebriated.

The driver breathes into a mouthpiece attached to the dashboard, which "decides whether to allow the car to start. If the driver has had too many, the ignition doesn't turn on.

It's a great idea if the driver follows the gadget's advice. If there are several in the car, the device might result in a switch of drivers.

The next step, we assume, will be a pocket device to analyze breath. Asked at a party if one wants a refill, the answer might be: "Let me check with my pocket analyst!"

The twins spell double trouble and they are selling calendars for the Museum... Please buy one from them to help finance our local museum projects. Drop by this week and see the display on quilts at the museum.

Mr. & Mrs. Johnnie Waggoner, Mr. & Mrs. Irwin Delk and Mr. & Mrs. Harry Stumpf organized and sent invitations to all Northern Natural Gas retirees for a party held at the Home Demonstration Room Saturday, October 12th.

Joining the organizers were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham, Mr. & Mrs. Doug Maupin, Mr. & Mrs. Allen Richetts, Mr. & Mrs. A.F. Holland, Mr. & Mrs. Herbert Miller, Mr. & Mrs. Glen Bohanan, Mr. & Mrs. Granville Boyd, Mr. & Mrs. Norman Brack, and Mr. & Mrs. Jack Lovett from Perryton.

The group met at 5:00 P.M. for visiting, card playing and dominos. A delicious Bar-B-Q meal was served at 6:30 P.M. by Ivey's Hungry Cowboy then visiting, card playing and domino playing was resumed.

An enjoyable time was had by all present and the group decided to make it a semi-annual event with the next party to be in April.

Halloween safeguards

Modern-day Halloween can be more hazardous for the "tricker" than the "treater."

Certain safety precautions taken by parents, motorists, and homeowners can help prevent accidents, says the Texas Medical Association.

Parents should check all costumes and wigs for flameproof labels. Apply a natural mask of cosmetics or grease paint rather than have a child wear a mask which might restrict breathing or obscure vision.

Make sure a costume is not so long that a child can trip on it, or so loose that it may catch on fences or other obstacles.

Since dark costumes are difficult for motorists to see, insist tricksters wear light-colored or reflectorized costumes. Children also should carry flashlights to see, and be seen, more easily.

Parents should accompany young tricksters on their rounds while it is still light, and older children should travel in groups. Make sure children have enough change with them to call home if necessary.

As an alternative, parents might encourage home parties and celebrations in place of trick-or-treating Motorists should slow down and drive with extra caution while in residential areas on Halloween.

Homeowners receiving trick-or-treaters should have outside lights on as a sign of welcome. Remove anything that could be an obstacle from steps, lawns, and porches.

Finally, parents should emphasize that tricksters return home with their treats untouched until all candy has been thoroughly inspected for foreign material. Only wrapped candy and packaged baked goods should be eaten. Fruit should be thoroughly washed and cut open before being consumed.

Following these guidelines will help children enjoy a fun-filled yet safe Halloween.

Family Health Seminar offered

Ways to meet the challenges of family fitness and the stresses of illness will be presented Thursday, October 17, during the annual Family Living Seminar of the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP).

The all-day program at the Villa Inn in Amarillo will stress family health and fitness, said Karen Babitzke, Hansford County Extension agent. It also will include five workshops to help families cope with five common chronic health problems, she said.

The workshops will focus upon arthritis, diabetes, Alzheimers disease, allergies, and heart conditions.

Hansford County residents wishing to take part in the workshop can register at the County Extension Office, Basement of Courthouse, the agent said. The $10 registration fee includes lunch.

The seminar will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 3:30 p.m. Complete information about the speakers and subjects is available at the Extension office.

PEP is a regional program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is designed to help families in 20 counties attain a better way of life through better management of their available resources, Babitzke said.

Turkeywalk for Heart Association

This fall, thousands of people across Texas will get out of their cars, off of the elevator, or bus and into their comfortable walking shoes to take part in a unique walking event. It is called a Turkeywalk, an event that benefits both the walker and its sponsor, the American Heart Association.

Participants in a Turkeywalk obtain pledges from friends and neighbors based on the number of miles they expect to walk in the event. The event is usually held in November, around Thanksgiving. Walkers who turn in $100 or more in pledge money win free Thanksgiving turkeys or other great prizes. Thus the name "Turkeywalk."

A Turkeywalk can be held in both large and small communities and is fun, family-type event. It promotes walking as a good everyday activity that helps develop and maintain physical fitness. 68 Turkeywalks held throughout the state in 1984 raised $289,850 for the research, community service and public education programs of the American Heart Association in Texas.

New Vaccine

A new vaccine prevents children between the ages of two and five years from developing meningitis and other diseases caused by Haemophilus influenzae, type B bacteria (HIB). This childhood disease vaccine is the first new immunization recommended for use in children over 18 months, according to the Texas Medical Association.

usually quiet and with drawn, and turns away or tries to shield the eyes from bright lights.

The bacteria that cause meningitis live in children's mouths and noses. They are spread through droplets, like colds, but most people exposed to the bacteria will not develop the disease.

Only about one child out of every 200 exposed to meningitis during the first five years of life will become sick. The rest develop a natural immunity to the disease, but there is no way of telling before hand who will get sick and who will become immune.

That is why the new vaccine has become so important. It is the first time physicians have been able to gain some control of this condition. The only serious limitation of the vaccine is that it is ineffective in children under the age of 18 months. New vaccines to protect this age group are being developed. In the meantime, vaccines for all two-to five-year-olds are recommended.

percent of meningitis cases are fatal.

Symptoms of meningitis in child include fever, intense headache, nausea, and often vomiting. The child's neck is held stiffly, or even arched backwards, and attempts to bend the head forward will be resisted. The child becomes un-

MICROWAVE BASICS

Make It Brunch

When you're tired of week day breakfasts of cold cereal and milk it's time for something interesting on the week-end. Boring breakfasts can turn into easy brunches by using your microwave oven and frozen prepared convenience foods.

When preparing for any brunch whether it's for two or twenty, a little pre-planning is the key to a relaxed meal for everyone. The night before cut up fruit, bake muffins or rolls and prepare any other foods which hold well. When it's brunch time assign each friend or family member one food that they are responsible for serving. Use your microwave for reheating other dishes and preparing the main dish of Eggs 'N Cheese developed by the Banquet Foods Test Kitchens. A boring breakfast is now brunch made easy.

Eggs 'N Cheese

- | | |
|--|---|
| 4 eggs, slightly beaten | 1/4 cup (1 oz.) shredded Monterey Jack cheese |
| 1/4 cup milk | 1/4 cup (1 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese |
| 1 can (4 oz.) mushroom stems and pieces, drained | 1/4 cup bacon bits |
| Dash pepper | Parsley (optional) |
| 1 package (4 oz.) Banquet Cookin' Bag Creamed Chipped Beef, thawed | |

In medium bowl, combine eggs, milk, mushrooms and pepper. Pour into 1-quart greased baking dish. Bake in 325°F oven 10 minutes. Stir egg mixture; spread creamed chipped beef on top. Sprinkle cheeses and bacon on top. Bake an additional 20 minutes or until filling is set. Garnish with parsley, if desired. Makes 2 servings.
