War dead honored at Gruver

Hansford area residents gathered at 3:00 P.M. Sunday, 26 May 1985 at the Gruver Cemetery to honor our war dead who rest there alongside pioneers and contemporaries who also rest there.

The service, under the direction of the Gruver Ministerial Alliance, led by Pastor Gary Bruns of the Oslo Lutheran Church, was held in the memorial circle at the center of the cemetery in the shade of the memorial Ash Tree which was presented by the late Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Thoreson, 9 May 1946. At the base of the tree, mated by two small American flags, is a memorial plaque "Dedicated to those who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II" and inscribed with the names of Harland Roper, Ira Lee Tomlinson, Gunder Stavlo, Jess Ralston, Walter M. Hart, John T. Utley, Jr., and Bill Turk.

Words of welcome and a meaningful prayer were offered by the Reverend Kerry Hurst, minister of the Gruver United Methodist Church, which was followed by the raising of the Stars and stripes to half mast in commemoration of those honored war dead by Matt and Will Etheredge of the Gruver Cub Scout Pack #55.

The assembled group was led in singing the "Star Spangled Banner" by Mrs. Roy Mayhew and words of remembrance were offered by Pastor Bruns reminding those present of the importance of this day in time and their legacy from the past.

With the echoing of Taps presented by Sissy Smith and the benediction offered by Reverend Larry Miller of the Gruver Baptist Church, the 1985 memorial service was concluded.

Each of those attending was given a "Gruver Cemetery Veterans' Memorial Map, May 1985" by Wynn and Wylee Maupin as they arrived for the service. The maps were typed and printed by Mrs. Aubrey Peddy.

Small American Flags marking the graves of the 78 veterans of several wars and many branches of service now resting in the Gruver Cemetery were placed at the graves Friday for the Memorial weekend under the direction of the American Legion Sullivan R. Spivey Post with John and Ynesse Williams, Pete and Fran Maupin, and Weslyn Maupin assisting.

--And a hush fell upon this place where those who rest so peacefully are disturbed only by the melodious songs of soaring birds and the winds of the Panhandle -- a hallowed spot for remembrance -- the Gruver Cemetery 1985.

Museum will be ready to celebrate

Welcome to Stationmaster's House (Museum)!

Board members along with auxiliary members have rushed to get the "house" - part of the facility ready for visitation by this weekend, June 1, when Spearman stages the annual celebration.

Visitors can enjoy a display of antique toys and children's clothes on loan from various friends of the museum. This display will remain contact for a short time before being changed into another interesting assortment. It is hoped that this rotating display will keep the public coming to the museum often. (Ideas are welcome).

Work will begin soon on the Depot-part of the museum. The Spearman Fire Department men have volunteered to paint the inside. This is so appreciated since money is the shortest in supply of anything around. Spearman Jay-Cees helped in moving cases and furniture. "Volunteer" is the sweetest word museum board members hear! Ray Devers built shelves and hung peg boards and donated his labor.

Thanks to all who have helped in so many ways in what is only the beginning of a community effort on a project the entire country will one day be proud of.

Steve and Kevin were impressed with the friendliness of the Gruver citizens and hospitality shown them in their travels. When asked about how long it would take them to reach home, they replied that they hoped to be in Dalhart that evening. Boulder, Colorado--?

Hansford County among top 100 in U.S.

In U.S. farm sales...

Hansford county and three North Plains neighbors -- Dallam, Sherman and Moore counties -- are in a select company, listed among the top 100 agriculture-producing counties for 1982 in the United States.

Hansford county with sales of $194.7 million is 54th in the nationwide ratings while Sherman county ranks 8th with sales of $157.6 million.

Dallam county makes the top 100 listing in 95th place with sales totaling $151.7 million.

Only seven other counties in Texas -- six of them are in the Panhandle -- are among the select group of agriculture producers.

The listing includes Deaf Smith county, ranked 12th in the nation; Parmer, 25th; Castro, 32nd; Swisher, 51st; Lamb, 63rd, and Randall, 84th.

The only other Texas county to make the top 100 is Hidalgo county in the Rio Grande Valley.

The primary agriculture products from Hansford county are grain -- wheat, sorghum for seed and cattle feed, and corn -- and cattle from cow-calf operations to commercial feeding operations at several large feedyards.

The Texas Crops and Livestock Reporting Service lists the area of the county at 580,000 acres with an estimated 569,000 in farms and ranches.

The report listed several thousand head of cattle in the county on ranches, farms and in feedyards.

According to Southwestern Public Service Company for 1985 Hansford County had 386,000 in feedlots. Caprock #1, Caprock #2, Colbert Cattle, DGC Feeders, Frontier Feeders, Palo Duro Feeders, Whitaker Cattle Co.

Crop production for Hansford county in 1983 was listed at 7,312,000 bushels of wheat making Hansford county the number one wheat producing county in the state of Texas. In 1984 Ochiltree county was number one and Hansford county was number 2 in the state of Texas. Agricultural experts think it will be a toss up between Hansford and Ochiltree for the number one wheat producing county in 1985. Ochiltree county is not even listed in the top ten agricultural producing counties in Texas. In 1983 Hansford county produced 2,248,000,000 lbs. of milo. Number of acres planted to wheat in 1983 was 268,000 acres. Total number of grain sorghum acres was 51,000. There is some corn and alfalfa in Hansford county.

Crop land in Hansford county totals 338,000 acres. 200,000 of this was irrigated in 1983. Hansford county has 230,000 acres of ranch land.

Range Round-Up will be May 31

The Henry C. Hitch Ranch will be joining 11 other historic Oklahoma ranches at the First Oklahoma Cattlemen's Association Range Round-Up on May 31 and June 1, at the Lazy E Arena near Guthrie.

Ranch teams participating this year will be competing in wild cow milking, wild horse racing, wild cattle penning, team doctoring, cattle branding and "ride as ride can" bronc busting.

"We think the history of the cattle industry is important," said

Ellis Freeny, executive vice president for the Oklahoma Cattlemen's Association. "That's why we invited ranches like Hitch's. They were here 100 years ago when this was No Mans Land and they are a part of the history of this area."

"The Hitches have had a great impact on cattle producing and feeding in the Southwest," Freeny added, "and they continue to be leaders in the industry. Ladd Hitch is a past president of the OCA and is a director of the board of the National Cattlemen's Association.

He is highly respected throughout the country for his experience and knowledge of the cattle business."

"By being on the Board of Regents for OSU he helps encourage and guide the research and experimental work that will help the future of the cattle industry," said Freeny.

The OCA Range Round-Up is history in the making and a first for Oklahoma, reported Freeny. "It will be the annual cowman gathering of the year. We hope to expand the event in the future, adding cattle shows and sales, maybe a beef cook-off or a carcass show."

Although women will compete in the First Lady Contest, the Round-Up planning committee reported that teams competing in the other Round-Up events can be composed of both men and women.

Cong. Boulter serves on budget committee

Washington - Thirteenth District Congressman Beau Boulter, the only freshman Republican on the House Budget Committee, has been chosen to serve on the Budget Conference committee which will reconcile differences between the budgets passed by the House and Senate.

"This is a great honor," Boulter said. "For a freshman to be put on that conference, and to have that kind of direct input into the final budget given to the President, is an honor. The opportunity to represent the views of the 13th District on the budget is outstanding, and I'm going to work to get what the people want - less federal spending."

The conference will begin meeting during the first week of June, and will hammer out a compromise between the budget passed by the Republican controlled Senate and the Democrat controlled House.

Congressman Del Latta (R-OH), Ranking Minority member on the House Budget Committee said that Boulter was chosen for the conference because "he has shown leadership and insight on the Budget issue. Beau is a hard worker, but more important, he is dedicated to cutting federal spending to reduce our deficit. We need that voice as we work out the details and fight for the best deficit-reducing budget possible." Latta concluded that "this is a major assignment for a freshman member of Congress."

Major differences between the two budgets fall into the categories of defense, social security cost of living adjustments (COLA's) and program terminations. Both budgets freeze defense spending for one year, but unlike the House, the Senate voted for the defense budget to increase with inflation.

"My major concern," Boulter said, "is the treatment of the Defense budget. Freezing without allowing for inflation will be destructive to our national defense. We need to reform and restructure defense, and find our savings there - but we cannot simply freeze. It's irresponsible."

On the Social Security COLA issue, the Senate chose to freeze all COLA's for one year while the House left the current COLA plan untouched. Boulter, who has always supported maintaining the current COLA plan, explained that "we need to cut spending in other areas, and protect the needs of our Senior Citizens. There are plenty of reforms that can be made in our federal spending, and programs that can flat out be eliminated, for us to be able to avoid touching COLA's."

"The Senate identified 13 programs for elimination or phase out. The House only came up with 1. That's the difference. The Senate has begun, by making these eliminations, facing the tough decisions. The House, instead, has decided to take 50% of its savings from defense to avoid touching special interests and domestic spending programs. As I've said before, the day of reckoning is here, and we are going to have to make the hard choices."

Boulter is one of seven Republicans named to the conference of 17 House members. Other Republicans include Latta, Jack Kemp (NY), Hank Brown (Co), Henson Moore (La), Bobbi Fiedler (Ca), and Lynn Martin (Il).

Work as if you were to live 100 years; pray as if you were to die tomorrow.

Roundup parade

On Saturday, June 1, the Hansford Roundup Parade will begin forming at 10:00 a.m., on the parking lot of the Plains Shopping Center. We are all looking forward to having the Antique Cars again this year. Helen and Irvin Boyd of Gruver, are in charge of this each year and invite the Antique Car Clubs in the area to attend.

We invite everyone to bring their antique auto to town and drive it in the parade. Everyone enjoys them and they add so much. This is just one of the many entries in the parade. The Rotary Club will be in charge of lining up the parade.

Mrs. E.A. Greever is the Pioneer Queen and she will ride in one of the Antique Autos. Look for Mrs.
Greever this year.

Surge valve irrigation

Irrigation system efficiency increases of 10-20% can be expected by using a surge valve controller on some soils in Hansford County.

The greatest efficiency increases usually occur on the lighter soils or those with a lower clay content. However, a 10% efficiency improvement on silty clay loam soils found in the county is quite common.

The surge valve controller is placed between the underground irrigation pipeline outlet and two sets of gated aluminum pipe. The irrigation water is then delivered to the two sets of gated pipe on an alternating basis. These surges of water condition the furrow and allow for a faster rate of advance for the next surge of water.

This in turn reduces the chances of irrigation water percolating below the root zone of the irrigated crop which would be of no use to the crop and therefore wasted.

P&R Surge Systems of Lubbock has donated a solar powered surge controller valve to the Hansford Soil & Water Conservation District for use on farm demonstrations.

Soil Conservation Service personnel will use the valve to compare the surge system to the convention furrow irrigation systems found in the county.

Irrigated farmers interested in trying this type system on their farms should contact the SCS office at 659-2330 to schedule an on-farm demonstration.

Stanfield Printing now has Minolta Beta 350Z

Guymon, Okla. -- Stanfield
Printing Co., one of Guymon's leading office equipment dealers, has just added the new Minolta Beta 350Z to its line of top-quality copiers. The EP 350Z is the latest in Minolta's revolutionary Beta series of copier systems designed to simplify complex office copying needs.

"The Beta 350Z offers companies with low-volume copying needs the technological advances Minolta originally introduced with the Beta 450Z," says John Reid, President of Stanfield Printing Co.,
"This new copier helps fill out Minolta's growing Beta line, which provides the right sized copier for every copying need."

John noted that the EP 350Z is a compact copier that includes most of the same features that have made the other machines in Minolta's Beta line outstanding successes.

"It is a compact copier that produces high quality copies and is user friendly, offering simple solutions to complex copying needs," said John.

Like its Beta series predecessors, the EP 350Z features a variable zoom lens that reduces or enlarges originals to any size within the range. It will reduce originals as much as 64 percent, or enlarge them as much as 142 percent in one easy step. It also has four pre-set sizing ratios -- one full size, one enlargement and two reductions.

He noted that the EP 350Z produces 15 copies per minute.
Options include a 10-bin mini-sor-ter and semi-automatic document feeder. The unit warms up in less than 35 seconds.

Other features include a 250-sheet paper drawer housed under the machine, and built-in manual feed table.

"Within the introduction of the Minolta Beta 350Z copier," said John, "offices with low-volume copying needs now can obtain the precise sizing and high copy quality provided by all the machines in Minolta's Beta series."

Minolta Corporation's Business Equipment Division was created in 1968 to market the company's line of copiers in this country. Last year it rose from sixth to fourth place in number of U.S. copier placements.
Its line of plain paper copiers includes the Ep 300, as well as the Beta 450Z, Beta 550Z, Beta 650Z and the new Beta 350Z. For information on Minolta product call 1-800-233-1247 and ask for John or the sales person in your area.

Export program worth $127.6 million

WASHINGTON -- U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm and Agriculture Secretary John Block have announced a $2 billion program aimed at drastically expanding the export of American agricultural products.

"This action will breathe new life into our export program," Gramm said, noting that the Texas share will amount to at least $127.6 million with the possibility of that figure climbing much higher.

The Export Enhancement Program, which will provide government-owned surplus commodities as bonuses to exporters who arrange sales of American agricultural products to foreign markets, begins

June 1. "The EEP is designed not to replace current sales, but to be used as an incentive to increase competition," Gramm explained. "This program will place American agriculture on a more even footing with our foreign competitors. It will be aimed directly at opening markets which have been taken over by nations which use unfair trade practices."

"This program should prove particularly helpful in regaining foreign markets for Texas agricultural products," he said.

The Export Enhancement Program, long anticipated by Texas farmers and agricultural exporters, will be administered by the Department of Agriculture.

"Regaining markets and opening new markets for Texas farmers and ranchers will go a long way toward making rural America not just a good place to live, but a good place to make a living again," Senator Gramm said.

Saved?

The trouble with many of us is that we would rather be ruined by praise than saved by criticism. -Telegram, Worcester.

George Shultz, Secretary of State, on Mideast negotiations:

"It's been obvious for a long time...that a peace process negotiation will have to include Palestinians, so that's point No. 1."

Bill Brock, Labor Secretary, on France's veto of international trade talks:

"The United States will start to do what Europe has done by subsidizing exports of agricultural products."

Cagle Kendrick elected chairman of TWB

Cagle Kendrick, who farms and lives northwest of Stratford, in Sherman County, was elected chairman of the state-wide Texas Wheat Producers Board at the regularly scheduled annual meeting and officers election in Amarillo yesterday, according to Otis Harman, outgoing chairman who had completed the Board's self-imposed two-year limit on officers in one position. Other officers elected were: Kenneth Keisling, Dumas, Moore County, Vice Chairman; Keith Spears, Vernon, Hardeman County, Secretary; and C.L. Edwards, Panhandle, Carson County, Treasurer. The treasurer's term is not limited and is for annual re-election in order to be of maximum assistance to the administrator as the Board's liaison in all financial matters. The original 34-county TWBPB area in its recent election, re-elected Leo Witkowski, Hereford, Deaf Smith County and Wiley Tabor, Quanah, Hardeman County to additional six-year terms. Scott McGarraugh, Perryton, Ochiltree County was elected to an initial six-year term, replacing Robert Graves, Perryton who did not run for re-election. In the two-hundred-twenty county "new territory", remainder of the state, added to the Boards' jurisdiction in the recent April 22 producer referendum and election of members to fill six new Board seats, the members drew for 2, 4, and 6 year terms and were seated on the expanded fifteen-man Board. The Board members include: Randy Justiss, Lancaster, Dallas County, 2-year term; Dennis Rabbe, Crawford, Coryell County, 2-year term; Jack Norman, Howe, Grayson County, 4-year term; Billy Vinson, Abilene, Jones County, 4-year term; and Bob Beakley, Ennis, Ellis County, 6-year term; Ben Scholz, Wylie, Collin County 6-year term. During the business session the Board adopted a $375,315 budget for fiscal 1985/86--up from $276,650, in 1984/85. Over one-third of the total budget is marked for direct expenditure for market development with other indirect market development-related activities such as foreign trade mission hosting along with staff and Board member travel for market development purposes. Other activities extended included co-sponsorship of disease and insect projects and new varieties and hybrid development. The TWPB is supported by a 1/2 cent per bushel state-wide self-assessment for the above purposes.

Marketing Firm Appoints Directors

The recently incorporated firm of Ron Roesler & Associates, Inc., announced the purchase of Option Education Services and the appointment of seven area businessmen to the Board of Directors. The corporation is located at 1302 Texas in Lubbock.

Named as directors were Ronnie Aston and Ricky Kellison of Lockney, Brett Gill of Silverton, Larry Heine of Dallas, Gary Hefner of Lubbock, and Jerry Keith of Dumas, Texas. President and chairman of the board is Ron Roesler of Lubbock.

At their May 15 meeting in Lubbock, the board approved the purchase of Option Education Services (OES), a business offering risk management seminars and schools in the new agricultural options. Options seminars are scheduled for June 12 and 27 and July 9 and 17 in Lubbock and June 18 and July 23 in Amarillo.

OES forms a major division of Ron Roesler and Associates along with Option Consulting Services

(OCS) and Option Management Services (OMS).

OCS provides consultation services to businessmen and their brokers to supplement their own risk management programs, whether in agricultural commodities, interest rates, currency values, or stocks.

OMS offers clearing services and actual implementation of hedge positions.

In further business, the board elected Kellison vice chairman of the board and Gill secretary/treasurer. Kellison is owner and operator of Kellison Fertilizer and Spraying in Lockney. He is a graduate of Texas Tech with a MS in agricultural science and worked at the Pantex Experiment Station in Amarillo for two years.

Brett Gill, owner of Gill Farms, Inc., received a BBA in accounting from West Texas State and has several years experience in public accounting.

Jerry Keith, vice president of the corporation, is an investment counselor with 25 years experience in farming and ranching. He is a graduate of Texas A & M and completed post-graduate work in finance at West Texas State.

"One of our major assets," explained Roesler, "is the breadth of experience of our officers and directors." Aston pursued an agriculture degree at South Plains College and at Texas Tech and for the last eight years has been in farming. Hefner is a retired army colonel who currently manages private investments, and Larry Heine is the owner of Heine & Associates, Inc., a bank consulting firm in Dallas.

Ron Roesler is a graduate of Kansas State University with a graduate degree in science education. He was in the teaching profession for six years and has over ten years experience in agribusiness. He is an investment counselor and specialist in options, serving as consultant to investors and agricultural lenders throughout the area.

CHICKEN TIPS — To intensify flavor, rub brandy inside and outside bird before roasting. If it's a light golden crust you crave, coat chicken with mayonnaise. To give fried chicken that attractive yellow hue you admire in restaurants, add a couple of drops of yellow food color to the cooking oil.

ACS encourages memorials

Memorial Day is a time for remembering someone held dear and the American Cancer Society announced today that it can also become a time for turning losses into victories.

According to Mrs. J. C. (Vivian) Harris, Hansford Unit Memorial Chairman, Memorial Day is an appropriate time to make memorial contributions in memory of a loved one lost to cancer. "We call them 'Living Memorials'," said Mrs. Harris. "A gift today may spare others tomorrow."

Contributions to the American Cancer Society are used to sponsor the organization's attack on cancer through balanced programs of research, education, patient services and rehabilitation.

The ACS is the largest source of non-government cancer research funds in the country. The current ACS research investment in Texas alone is more than $4.2 million in grants at hospitals, universities, and medical institutions throughout the state.

"The ACS is also very much a community-based organization, however," added Vivian. "Our programs and materials are managed by local volunteers...and I think that's important for the people of our community to realize when they contribute to this important cause."

According to the latest figures released by the Society this spring, cancer survival rates are rising steadily. The 1984 edition of its annual Cancer Facts and Figures indicates 48 percent of all cancer patients will survive 5 years or more after diagnosis. This compares with 41 percent just 5 years ago in 1979.

"We are winning the fight," said Mrs. Harris. "Progress is being made but we've still got a lot more to do. I think our memorial program, remains a convenient and dignified way of turning losses into victories."

Anyone wishing to contribute to the ACS through the memorial program may do so by sending their contribution to Mrs. J. C. Harris, Memorial Chairman ACS, Gruver, Texas, 79040.

Contributors should include the name of the deceased in whose name the memorial is being made, along with the name and address of the individual who should receive acknowledgement of the contribution. Give so others might live!

REMEMBER THESE SAFETY TIPS

- Watch for power lines when climbing in trees.
- Do not climb electrical poles, towers or structures.
- Do not trim trees near power lines.
- Do not set ladders or scaffolds near power lines.
- Do not shoot at insulators on poles, towers or structures.
- Never climb on or go inside a substation fence. Call SPS to help you retrieve anything thrown into the substation or caught in its fence.
- Avoid using electrical tools like lawn mowers or hedge clippers when grass and leaves are wet.
- Be careful when digging. Call SPS to find out if there are any buried electrical lines in the area.
- Electrical cords should not be spliced or taped. Repair by shortening them or replace them entirely.
- Beware of exposed wires.
- Don't touch portable appliances (coffee makers, radios, hair dryers, etc.) with wet hands or while standing or sitting in water.
- Don't post signs on utility poles. A lineman hitting a nail with his cleat could slip and fall. Also, nails can snag protective gloves and destroy their insulation value.

A SAFETY MESSAGE FROM SPS

SOUTHWESTERN
PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Christy Brown's valedictory speech

Good evening ladies and gentlemen. Thank you again for coming. This is a very special moment for each of us, and we appreciate your being here to share it with us. We look back with fond memories and ahead with excitement and anticipation. But as Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."

We are very fortunate to live in a caring community such as Gruver—where people are genuinely concerned about others—and where our teachers are of high moral integrity. They care not to simply see our minds develop with facts and figures, but they are concerned about us as individuals—about what is within each of us.

We must all realize that our attitudes and our goals are what will mold us as adults one day. Just as the Apostle Peter sank when he took his eyes off Jesus, so we too will sink as individuals if we don't set goals and keep our eyes on them. We'll meet many obstacles as we grow to maturity, but the reaching of goals is not so important as what we become by striving to reach them.

We are the only ones who can use our abilities and that is quite an awesome responsibility. We are each responsible for the kind of person we will be as an adult. Zig Ziglar said, "I believe you can get everything in life you want if you help enough other people get what they want." He also said, "You can go where you want to go, do what you want to do, and be what you want to be." Our choices in life are our own.

As Josiah Holland said, "God gives every bird his food, but He does not throw it into the nest." As we begin to fly and grow to maturity, we may fall, but in getting up and continuing to try, we'll succeed in finding our "food"—and ourselves.

We are all responsible for using the talents God gave us. If we don't try to use them to the best of our abilities, we are being unfair to ourselves.

I'm thankful for our parents—who'll be there to pick us up as we begin this process in the next four years of learning to fly.

We must remember, as Charles Jefferson said, "God has given to every soul the responsibility of deciding what its character and destiny will be." I would like to challenge not only myself, but each of my friends here on the stage to decide what they hope to contribute to society and set goals. As Henry David Thoreau said, I hope each one here will be not simply good, but be good for something.

Thank You

Be alert — school's out!

With school out, motorists are asked to be especially mindful of kids playing in or around the public streets.

"It's that time of year we all have to readjust our thinking," said Sheriff R.L. McFarlin, Chief D.J. Alberts and Steve Gaines, of Gruver. "For nine months, we have become accustomed to seeing an influx of children in the mornings and midafternoons walking to and from school. Now, the kids are everywhere and all through the day, not just the hours they're going to and from school. Saturday signalled the beginning of summer fun for the kids. And their play patterns change with the nice weather."

Sheriff McFarlin, Chief Alberts, and Steve Gaines, of Gruver, said residential neighborhoods throughout Spearman and Gruver can be playground havens. "Kids will be out from morning to nearly dark. Pay particular attention to areas around the swimming pool, city parks, and tennis courts. But you've also got to watch out as soon as you leave the driveway. To a youngster, chasing after a ball or frisbee out into the street, is not unnatural. We also see a lot of kids riding bikes and some of these young bicyclists land up in the street."

Sheriff McFarlin, Chief Alberts, and Steve Gaines, of Gruver, notes that young people on bicycles need to be aware of laws regulating their using the public streets or highways and that parents should take the time to make sure their children understand this. In a nutshell, bicyclists are required to obey all the laws that drivers of cars have to obey—such as stopping at stop signs and red lights, yielding at yield signs, and riding in the same direction as vehicular traffic.

Sheriff McFarlin, Chief Alberts, and Steve Gaines of Gruver, also alert parents to perennial problems that come with the beginning of summer. Vandalisms are apt to pick up, as young people have more time on their hands. Bicycle thefts, too, will probably be a problem. Sheriff McFarlin, Chief Alberts, and Steve Gaines, of Gruver, also said downtown parking lots will be congregating places for young people in the evenings and it will be a time of substance and alcohol abuse for many.

"We'd like to remind youth and parents that the legal age to drink in the state of Texas is 19. And that may go to 21. If a young person is under the ages of 19, he or she can be charged with minor in possession. If they're caught drinking with someone 19 or older, the adult will be charged with making alcohol available to a minor. Both sides of the fence are jailable offenses."

Sheriff McFarlin, Chief Alberts, and Steve Gaines have seen a reduction of three-wheel traffic in town and hopes this will continue through the summer months. "We've received less reports in the past month or six weeks. We think part of that is a result of apathy on the part of the public, thinking there is nothing that can really be done, as well as an actual reduction in three-wheel traffic. Several children already have been hurt on the machines and we would like to impress upon people that these bikes are not safe unless they're ridden under adult supervision."

Watch for kids

Watch for bicycles, three-wheelers, and remember don't run over a child.

These kids will be out of school this week—please drive extremely carefully—

Our Heritage of Faith

Describe the context of baptizing, preaching, and communing. The vast majority of these celebrations of the Word occur in divine service. Such services at churches may be very simple occasions filled with Scripture, prayer, and praise. They may be more formal observances. Lutherans originally kept most of what they could from Western Catholics services of their time. Roman Catholics often find many parallels between their worship and Lutherans for example.

Valedictory Address

Parents, faculty, friends, and classmates. Tonight marks a milestone in the lives of the 31 graduating seniors of Gruver High School.

Graduation is a sunrise and a sunset--an ending and a beginning. It is a stepping-stone from the past with all its happy memories to a future, with all its happy dreams.

We realize that the best things in life are appreciated most after they have come and gone. Even now we are experiencing these feelings and we know that they will become even stronger in the future.

It is only through labor and prayerful effort, by grim energy and resolute courage, that we move on to better things. An example of this grim energy and resolute courage was demonstrated by a very famous man on his road to success.

He Failed in business in 1831, was Defeated in Legislature in 1832, was Defeated for Speaker in 1838, was Defeated for Electors in 1840, was Defeated for Congress in 1843, was Defeated for Congress in 1848, was Defeated for Senate in 1855, was Defeated for Vice-President in 1856, was Defeated for Senate in 1858 and was Elected President 1860.

This famous man was our 16th President, Abraham Lincoln.

I believe that this is the determination we, as seniors, should have in planning our lives. A person has to work hard and have a lot of dedication to accomplish what he sets out to do. We all fail in certain areas, because we don't strive hard enough.

Ron Willingham wrote "Have you failed or just been defeated? The thing that separates failure from defeat is your attitude. Failure is permanent; defeat is only temporary."

It is not the mistakes we make, nor the number of roadblocks set before us, nor the situations surrounding us that make us what we are. It is the way in which we face these matters. Our attitude is the ingredient that makes us a winner or a loser. Success lies, not in achieving what we aim at, but aiming at what you ought to achieve, and pressing forward.

Many years ago a wise old king called his wise men together. "I want you to compile for me the 'wisdom of the ages'. Put it in book form so we might leave it for posterity. The wise men left their king and worked for a long time. They returned with twelve volumes which they presented to the king as the "wisdom of the ages." The wise old king replied, "Gentleman, I'm sure this contains all the knowledge we should leave mankind. However, it is too long, I fear the people won't read it. Condense it." The wise men worked hard and returned with one volume. The king commanded them to further condense their work. The wise men reduced the volume to a chapter, then to a page, next to a paragraph and finally to a sentence. The wise old king was absolutely thrilled "Gentlemen," he said, "this is truly the wisdom of the ages, and as soon as all men everywhere learn the truth, our problems will be solved." The sentence simply said, "There ain't no free lunch."--and there "ain't."

You can't get something for nothing. A wise man observed that the Success Family has Work as the father and Integrity as the mother. If you can get along with the "parents" you won't have any trouble with the rest of the family.

Work is the foundation of all business, the source of all prosperity and the parent of genius. When loved, work makes life sweet, purposeful, and fruitful.

Some advice I'd like to leave to the younger people is to try your hardest now, so you won't regret it later. Always do the very best that you can in every thing that you attempt.

Seniors, even though we may wish that we had accomplished more things during our years in Gruver High School, we have so many good thoughts locked in our memories. These memories we can keep forever. I hope that each of you will laugh often, love much, and take care always. And remember "ther ain't no free lunch."

Thank you

True

Opportunities might be more easily recognized if they didn't so often come disguised as hard work.

-Press, Grand Rapids.

Dee Dee Womack's salutory address

The Senior Class of 1985 is happy to welcome you, our parents, our teachers, and our friends, to our graduation exercises. We are truly honored by your presence and wish to express our appreciation for your coming to share this joyous occasion with us. Your just being here means a lot to each of us, for we feel that your presence is an expression of the interest you hold in us.

We are also grateful for all of the support you have given us throughout our many years in school. You have done much more than you could possibly know. It is because of you that we can stand here tonight knowing that we have finally achieved the goal we have been striving toward for 12 years. Our accomplishments would not have been possible without you. So for all you have done we say, "Thank You."

We can always look back on old memories that will bring a smile to our faces, but now our days at Gruver High School are over, and our time to enter into the adult world has come, for school was never meant to teach you everything you need to know. It merely equips you. An education is meant to give you all the mental tools you need to dig out the deep treasures of life. Still, you must do the digging. That's why graduation is called "commencement." Commence means begin, and tonight is just the beginning of the rest of our lives.

As each day goes by, our destinies will then come that much closer to us. We must anticipate the experiences each new day will bring, and from these experiences we will gain the knowledge and wisdom that we need to prepare ourselves for the life God has planned for each of us.

Although we may never be together again as a complete class, we will be bound by the memories we share from our years at Gruver High. We can only pray that our future lives will be as wonderful as the years we have had thus far. Again I speak for the Senior Class of 1985 when I say "Thank you for sharing this night with us."

Trio convicted on mail fraud

On May 17, 1985, RICHARD L. HUNT of Dallas, Tx.; MARY E. TUBBS of Irving, Tx.; and SUSAN MADDOX of Arlington, Tx., appeared before U.S. District Judge Jerry Buckmeyer, Northern District of Texas, in Dallas, for sentencing in connection with their April 8, 1985, conviction of 14 counts of mail fraud. They had been indicted in October, 1984, for their participation in a scheme to defraud people who are interested in obtaining Mastercard and VISA credit cards.

According to Postal Inspector in Charge D. C. Strader of Fort Worth, Tx., between December, 1983, and August, 1984, the trio operated FIRST SECURITY CREDIT, 13500 Midway Road, Suite 208, Dallas, Tx. 75234, and placed ads in national publications which led readers to believe that VISA, Mastercard, and other cards were available, regardless of credit, to anyone who would telephone an 800 telephone number for free details and application. Upon responding to the 800 number, respondents were mailed a "Dear Future Cardholder" lead letter, signed with an assumed name, and an attractively colored brochure/application in which they were instructed to complete and return with a $35 fee. The brochure also said "The rest is up to us!" Those who sent money were mailed an eight-page booklet entitled "TEN EASY STEPS TO GOOD CREDIT," but never a credit card.

In June, 1984, a second company called CREDIT SAVER, INC., 1100 East Airport Freeway, Irving, TX. 75062, was formed and persons who had not, after a reasonable time, responded to the First Security Credit offer were mailed the Credit Saver, Inc., offer for $25. Those who sent money to Credit Saver were mailed a smaller book with similar contents entitled "THE CREDIT HANDBOOK", but never a credit card.

Judge Buckmeyer postponed sentencing for approximately 45 days in conjunction with his unique request that the defendants submit plans for making full restitution. Plans for restitution are to include the refund of each $25 or $35 fee that the defendants received from victims as a result of the scheme. In addition, Buckmeyer requested that the defendants submit plans for informing the public about similar schemes by advertising in the same national publications originally used to promote their own scheme.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Cheryl Wattlely, who prosecuted the case, indicated there were over 10,000 victims of the scheme from all across the United States, who were defrauded of more than $355,000. On August 16, 1984, Postal Inspectors obtained Temporary Restraining Orders to hold mail addressed to First Security Credit and Credit Saver, Inc., which prevented delivery of mail to the two firms. At the conclusion of the six-day jury trial, the court ordered the return of over 2,600 peices of mail, containing approximately $91,400, which had been held as a result of the Temporary Restraining Orders.

Postal Inspector E.D. Odom, one of the investigators in the case, stated that those who respond to similar ads found in newspapers and magazines, are told that for fees ranging from $25 to $40 anyone can be guaranteed a Mastercard or VISA credit card, regardless of credit history. Those who pay the fee are either sent complicated lists describing ways to improve credit so that the financial institution will eventually issue a card or are told to place $300 to $2,000 in a pledged savings account at a financial institution which issues credit cards. Those who respond to such ads, Odom noted, usually do so because they do not have that amount of money available for savings accounts.

Strader indicated that investigations are continuing nationwide by Postal Inspectors to prosecute promoters of such schemes who prey on those people who can least afford to lose money on fraudulent offers. He added that the public should contact Better Business Bureaus and Postal Inspectors regarding questionable promotions, and encouraged the victims of such schemes to contact their local postmaster or the nearest Postal Inspector.
