ALFALFA MILL COMING

Machinery Ready to Ship and a Location Being Selected—First Year's Product Will be Sold at $17.00

J. O. Kuykendall returned home from his eastern trip last week, and reports that the alfalfa mill machinery is ready to ship and will probably be here by the time he has secured a location for the mill. The bulk of the machinery is in St. Louis and will be shipped out of that place in carload lots so as to make the best time possible.

The outlook for the mill is very encouraging, Mr. Kuykendall says and there is absolutely no doubt as to the good it will do the town and the farmers. One firm in Ft. Worth has made Mr. Kuykendall an offer to take all the alfalfa meal he finds the first year at $17 per ton, delivered in Ft. Worth. With this mill located in Artesia the farmers will have a good market for their alfalfa at home, and there will be no risk of broken bales and spoiled hay like when the alfalfa is shipped to distant points.

The Board of Directors of the Commercial Club met Monday evening to consider the question of the Alfalfa Mill. It seems that other towns in the Valley have realized the need of some enterprise of this sort, and are after Mr. Kuykendall to locate his mill with them. Hagerman is willing to donate 250 tons of alfalfa for the mill and Dexter would come up with nearly the same amount if Mr. Kuykendall started his enterprise at that town. While Mr. Kuykendall did not ask the Club for any donation to keep the mill here in Artesia, he called the matter to their attention to see what they thought about helping it along. After due consideration the Directors decided they would furnish a site worth $600, which Mr. Kuykendall was satisfied with, as he liked Artesia better than the other towns.

Lots were selected Tuesday morn

ANDREWS IS THE MAN

"The Man Who Does Things" Will Succeed Himself as Delegate to Congress—Notes on the Road

Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 18.—Delegate W. H. Andrews was nominated at the convention here today on the first ballot, the vote standing: Andrews 116, Spiess 44 and Mann 20. The nomination would have been unanimous had not a few of the counties cast complimentary votes for Spiess and Mann. Neither of these gentlemen expected the nomination after the Andrew forces began to line up Tuesday morning.

Tom Catron did most of the fighting against the Mr. Andrews in a speech late Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Catron has been advertised for some time as a receptive candidate for the nomination, and when he saw the convention was so much in favor of Andrews he could contain himself no longer, but broke loose in a flood of frey oratory in an endeavor to scorch the life out of the opposition. His efforts did not bring one man to his side.

From the expressions of the delegates to the convention, it seems that New Mexico is really to witness a united Republican party this fall, and that Andrews will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

Santa Fe, N. M., August 16.—The Pecos Valley contingent, consisting of Messrs. Reed, Newkirk, Sr., Bolton, Graves and Hamilton, from Eddy county; Messrs. Fulton, deFreest, Miller, Martini, Robinson, C. Hamilton, Kellahin, Martini and White from Chaves county; Lindsay, Putnam and Curran from Roosevelt county, arrived here at noon today, amid a blare of trumpets, the playing of bands, and the cheering of the people of the ancient. All of the fuss was not on account of the Pecos Valley delegation, as a few other county delegations got in at the same time, but they are serene in the fact that they had the star delegation in the points of looks anyhow, and deserved the reception on their own account.

It was a great journey, though the great leader, E. A. Cahoon, left the bunch at Clovis and went on to Denver with his bride, Miss Laura Hedgecoxe of Roswell, to whom he was married the night before. His going left a yawning chasm, but under the circumstances the yawn was all right. What of the delegation had not been there themselves were in hopes they would have a chance to quit the delegation sometime themselves under the same circumstances, and the long trip over the Belen cut-off was put in watching the wonderful panorama of mountain and plain and by a select Sunday school service which lasted all day on the part of the members devotionally inclined. That is a great line of road that cut-off, for it passes through historic Fort Sumner, John Pardue's town of Vaughn (where you eat a cracking good dinner in a box car), Willard at the opening of the wonderful Estancia Valley, and lastly Albuquerque, the town of the Alvarado, that great hotel of magnificent service and the rare facility of guessing any man's pile. Here the delegation joined others from all parts of the territory, and were welcomed by Mr. Andrews himself.

Monday morning the journey was taken up to Santa Fe, in a heavily loaded special train, and arrival was had at noon, headquarters being taken up at the Palace, which is a little on the touch itself.

Even at this early writing, it was apparent that there was nothing to it but Andrews. A total of 118 votes was pledged to him and there was none of the talk of trading and swaps that are usually rife at such times.

The platform is practically agreed upon, and of it the following is a digest:

It indorses the splendid administration of Theodore Roosevelt, retiring President of the United States, and acknowledges the great debt of the nation to him for his administration, coming at a time when the country needed his firm hand and his wise policies.

It cordially endorses the wise, efficient and economical administration of Gov. George Curry, under which the territory has prospered as never before, its institutions being wisely and properly managed, and its business and commercial institutions in every sense prosperous and progressive.

It endorses the policy of the national administration in regard to the Reclamation Service and the Forest Reserves, but insists upon a more reasonable regulation of them, as well as their curtailment to the smallest necessary area, along with the widest liberty in their use consistent with the intent of the department.

It absolutely commits the party against the appointment by the Governor of any member of the Territorial Legislature to any office while a member of such body.

It endorses the nomination of William Howard Taft and James S. Sherman for President and Vice-President.

It contains a strong plank for Statehood, urging the admission of New Mexico at the earliest possible date.

It endorses the services of W. H. Andrews, Delegate to Congress, and freely acknowledges the debt of the territory to the man of accomplishments.

The convention convenes tomorrow (Tuesday) at the State House, and Mr. G. E. Klock, of Albuquerque, will serve as temporary chairman, and will also have the honor of presenting the name of Mr. Andrews.

WILL ROBINSON.

Four Council Meetings

The Council held a meeting in the City Clerks office last Thursday night and passed a resolution levying taxes for general purposes, waterworks bonds, and sinking fund. The levy is for 5 mills general purposes, 7 1-2 mills interest on waterworks bonds, and 1 1-4 mills for sinking fund.

Council met Saturday night to elect a city attorney to fill the unexpired term of G. U. McCrary, resigned. J. C. Davis was unanimously chosen for the place. Marshall Cooper was appointed street supervisor with full power to fix amount of work and have it done.

Council met Monday evening and passed under suspension of to Richardson avenue; along Richardson avenue to 5th street and back to the intersection of 5th and Chisum.

ARTESIA WILL BE THERE

When we Go Home to Albuquerque Artesia Will Have the Finest Exhibit of all—Hope is Coming Along

The Artesia Alfalfa Growers and Shippers Association held a meeting in the club rooms August 15th, and after the regular business had been attended to the subject of an exhibit to Albuquerque was brought up and was given the hearty endorsement of the association. The boys did not stop after endorsing the proposition, but appointed committees to get out and rustle the exhibits and the dinero to defray expenses. From the latest reports of these committees, everything is moving along nicely and the Artesia district will be represented at the Congress in a way which will make the other neighborhoods look sick.

COMMITTEES: Finance—Wm. Dooley, J. F. Atkeson, H. I. Bloomfield. Alfalfa—W. E. Kanala, B. A. Bishop, Otto Nelson. Fruit—E. R. Gesler, W. M. Watterscheid, E. J. Feemster. Miscellaneous—J. K. Hastie, J. R. Hodges, Geo. Kline.

The association invited the Hope district to assist in the exhibit, and of course what display Hope sends will be labeled Hope and not Artesia, but it was thought by going together the two communities could save money on the deal. E. J. Feemster was appointed to go to Hope and consult with the residents there. An account of his trip will be found in another column of THE NEWS.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET
For President WILLIAM H. TAFT
For V. President J. S. SHERMAN

SOMETIMES, as we look upon the rottenness of our own party as portrayed in the Democratic Journals of the Territory and elsewhere, and at the same time contemplate the purity and holiness of the Great Minority, also as told by our democratic friends, a wave of regret sweeps over us as we realize that the great slingers of the bull con in the Democratic party have passed into history and the present generation is a picunish bunch who at best can only imitate the old masters. Especially is this true in the present campaign: the democratic newspapers with but few exceptions, are calling down the wrath to come on the devoted heads of the Republicans, charging them with being a party of bosses, charging them with gross election frauds, and in fact attributing every crime known to the civilized world to the Republican party. At the same time they point out the Commoner as a model of political manhood as defined by the silver tongued orators of their party. They declare the Democratic party is the peoples party, and that the people run it. Have they so soon forgotten the rock crusher at the Denver Convention?

Just a few facts in regard to this "Party of the Common People." The real thinkers of the Democrats, know that unless they win this fall their party will be a dead letter in American politics, and its place will in all probability be filled by the new Hearst party. In view of this they attempted to nominate a strong man for the leadership who would not only be qualified to fill the highest office in the gift of the American people, but would also not be dragged down by two overwhelming defeats. This move was for the good of the party, but Boss Bryan totally disregarded the rights of the "Peoples Party" and forced the Denver convention to nominate him for President, well knowing that he had no earthly show to win the race. But he did not stop there. He dominated the Convention and forced his personal wishes on his party against the better judgment of the really brainy men. Not once did he take the "Common People" into consideration. The majority of the members of the Committee on Permanent Organization wished to have Champ Clarke of Missouri for permanent chairman. Before the convention assembled Bryan had notified Clayton to get up his speech, and Clayton went in as permanent chairman. The Southern delegates wished to have a federal prohibition plank in the platform, but Bryan totally ignored them and refused to allow prohibition to be mentioned. When Bell, the temporary chairman wrote his speech, he was forced to turn it over to Bryan to edit, before he was allowed to deliver it. Alton B. Parker wanted resolutions of eulogy on the late Grover Cleveland, the greatest man Democracy has produced in half a century, but Bryan fixed up a resolution of his own, which was passed, and the real respect which Parker wished to pay to Cleveland was left out. Tom Johnson wanted a municipal ownership plank, Bryan didn't. There is none in the platform.

Yet our friends the enemy cry aloud to heaven that the Republican party is run "bosses," and their party is run by the "Common People."

Then we hear so much concerning the election frauds in all parts of the country, but mainly of course, in the northern part of New Mexico. This is the greater part of Democratic stock this year, but their stock does not include a mention of primary frauds in Chaves county, and their most rabid organ in that section has never denied that the gang candidates were boosted into the nomination with illegal votes. They swear the republicans of other counties steal unrestrictedly, but they say nothing whatever about the gangs and corruption in the Democratic counties.

But the strangest thing of all these is that a man who is relying on the support of the common people, who expects to win solely on his merits, and who scorns the facilities and corruptions of wealth, must need spend $1,000,000 to get a job that will pay him just $50,000 per year for four years.

It is worthy of notice that of the three men who are bending their energies and talents toward locating the new high school building on the College land west of Artesia, one is a stockholder and director in that institution and all are real estate agents. THE NEWS does not believe the Board of Education will allow themselves to be buncoed into buying the college site, for the reason that all three members are men of good judgment and no doubt realize the impracticability of locating the school building at such a distance from town.

The building now on the College grounds was never designed for a school house, but was erected for a dormitory. It will require considerable extra money to fix it up for school purposes. While the distance from town may not be of much importance in ordinary weather, how could the children have reached the school out there after one of last week's rains? We would also like to inquire of the learned and dignified gentlemen who are advocating this site, if it is their intention to have the school children take care of the crops on the playground.

The college grounds may be worth all the stockholders ask for them for other purposes, but for the location of a high school for Artesia this site is simply an educational gold brick which a few self sacrificing individuals are endeavoring to pass off on the town.

ONE thing which the City Council should look after is the low-hanging branches of willows and other trees which extend out over the sidewalks. These limbs are bothersome enough at any time but in rainy weather it is impossible to get along the street without a good wetting. If there is not already an ordinance providing for trimming the limbs which extend out over the walk there should be one.

The old proverb about dogs baying at the moon no longer holds good. The pups have taken to serenading the Sun.

The ladies of the Christian church will give a Merchants' Carnival the first night of the Alfalfa Festival.

A Pleasant Reception

The lawn party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Phillips had to be postponed from Thursday to Friday night on account of the rain, and just as the evening's pleasure had begun Friday night, another New Mexico shower came up and drove the guests indoors.

Notwithstanding this unpleasant interruption the evening was enjoyed by all who were fortunate to arrive before the storm. The evening was spent in playing games in which the old people present took part as well as the younger crowd, and in partaking of the elegant refreshments which were served.

Mrs. Dr. Graham and Miss Glenna Kelsey presided at the punch bowl, and Miss Phillips and Mrs. Idler assisted Mrs. Phillips in receiving the guests. Mrs. Corbin had charge of the fortune tellers booth, which proved quite popular during the evening.

The Political Ball Game

The Republican Elephants beat the Democratic Burros at the great American game, Friday afternoon, to the tune of 11 to 6. A much better brand of baseball was put up than was expected and until about the seventh inning the game stood 3 to 2 in favor of the Elephants. Then the Republicans took a batting streak and all hope for a Democratic victory went up in smoke.

At one time it looked like the game would be called off, as the Democrats put in Nichols, the Lake Arthur catcher, but this was finally settled and the game went on like a real up-to-date love feast.

We understand the Democrats will issue a challenge to the Republicans for another game before long, and if such is the case we hope our friends will be able to get up a team from the few democrats in Artesia, without going to Lake Arthur or El Paso.

New Tailoring Firm

Cleo Kackley has sold his tailor shop to Messrs. Lockney & Gage, and the new firm will take charge of the establishment today. Both of these young men are well known in Artesia, and will no doubt get their share of the trade.

Mr. Kackley has not yet decided what he will do, but is considering several offers to go on the road with musical troupes. He is a fine musician and a pleasant gentleman and we would like to see him engage in some business in Artesia.

E. A. Cahoon is Married

E. A. Cahoon, the well known Roswell banker, was married Saturday night to Miss Laura Hedgcock, of Roswell. The couple left Sunday morning on a two weeks wedding trip to Denver and Salt Lake City.

THE Chaves County Republicans will have a full ticket in the field this year, and as the Democratic administration in that county is very much distrusted by the people, there is a good chance for a wholesale cleaning out. The present Chaves Administration has skinned the people for many years, and the said people are about to the last ditch.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN has been tendered the nomination for president by the Democratic party. He accepted.

COMMERCIAL CLUB FOR HOPE.

Belle of the Foothills is Up and Going. Will Have an Exhibit at the Irrigation Congress.

Elmer Feemster was in the Hope district Saturday to see how the citizens of that neighborhood would like to co-operate with Artesia in getting up a big exhibit to the Irrigation Congress at Albuquerque. The people of Hope were very much pleased at the idea, and will do all in their power to make the display a success.

A mass meeting was called Saturday night to see what Feemster had to say, and was first addressed by Prof. Boots, who stated the object of the meeting and then called upon Mr. Feemster to explain the plans. The meeting at once saw the advisability of this plan and the whole proposition was endorsed by those present, who were the representative men of Hope.

An executive committee, consisting of White, Botts, Johnson and Riley was appointed to look after the matter and to appoint sub-committees to take up various parts of the work. The Hope people have the finest fruit in the Pecos country, and their display will be interesting, to say the least. Among other things they will show will be pears weighing up to 2 lbs and apples weighing up to 1-2 lbs.

Arrangements were made to form a Commercial Club, and a committee was appointed to fix up a constitution and by-laws. This committee will report Saturday night of this week, and at that time the final steps will be taken in the matter. With a Commercial Club to get the citizens together and help boost the town, Hope is entering a new era of progress, and with the advertising secured from her Albuquerque exhibit, more settlers will be attracted to that section of the country than ever before. Hope is certainly on the highway to success.

Harry W. Hamilton and D. L. Newkirk, the Artesia delegates to the Republican Convention at Santa Fe, returned home last night after a pleasant trip and many exciting experiences.

"The Sights of Santa Fe."

THE NEWS has received a copy of a neat little booklet entitled, "The Sights of Santa Fe," which was distributed by the New Mexican Printing Co. during the convention. The booklet describes the various scenes in and near the historic old city and is invaluable as a guide to those who expect to visit Santa Fe.

By far the most interesting part, to the editor of THE NEWS at least, is the description of the New Mexican Printing Company, the publishers of the oldest paper in the great Southwest. The first printing press set up west of the Missouri was brought to Santa Fe along about 1820, and the first newspaper, The Dawn, was started in 1835. The first English newspapers appeared in 1847, and the New Mexican was one of them. From the small paper published at that time has grown the Santa Fe New Mexican, one of the greatest, if not the greatest, factors in the upbuilding of the Southwest in general and New Mexico in particular. In size and completeness the plant of the New Mexican is so far out of proportion to the average town the size of Santa Fe, that it may well be listed as one of the sights of that interesting city.

As "The Sights of Santa Fe" is

MONEY BELONGS TO FIRE BOYS

City Has No Right to the $160 Insurance Commissioner Says

At the meeting of the City council last week, it was decided by the Fathers that the $160 which the city used and which the fire-boys claimed, could not be used by the company except in case of sickness, and therefore the money must remain idle until such time as the boys get sick.

When D. L. Newkirk was in Santa Fe the first of the week he went to the office of the Insurance Commissioner and asked about the case, and Mr. Chaves replied that the city had absolutely no right to touch the money as it belonged to the fire boys to do as they please with. The sick fund is an entirely different fund and is only used in case of sickness. Mr. Chaves remarked during the interview that he would write at once to the city and direct them to return the $160 to the fire company.

Joe Bradshaw returned to Newton, Kansas, Wednesday morning after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw, and his sister, Mrs. Clarence Wilson.

from the New Mexican press, it is needless to say that the booklet is well printed and edited.

Lake Arthur is to have a sure enough socialist address a meeting August 24, at which time the S. E. S. will tell them why it is and how it ought to be.

From the Lake Arthur Times we learn that a new school house is to be erected on the plains seven miles east of Plainview. Over eighty scholars have been enrolled and the lumber is now on the ground for the building.

The County Commissioners of Chaves county have given $150 to assist the people of precinct No. 7 in keeping the roads in good condition. The Precinct is the one in which Elk and Lower Pecos are located. B. Cleve and T. W. Cadenhead were appointed a committee to see that the money was judiciously used.

The school levy in Chaves county runs from 3 to 17 mills on the dollar in the different precincts, the usual amount being five mills.

It is evident that Artesia's good example in driving out the saloons is having its effect on the other valley towns. The Hagerman Messenger is leading a fight on the saloon in that place and in a short time we may hope to see another prohibition town in the Pecos Valley.

NEW MEXICO ALL RIGHT

Peter Jesson Writes an Interesting Letter to the Sunbeam

Woodrider (Neb.) Sunbeam.

Dear Sir:--I notice in the Sunbeam of the 8rd of July an article under the headline, "New Mexico is Dry" which may be misleading and may give some of your readers a wrong impression of New Mexico. It may be that way at Roswell, but Roswell is not all of New Mexico. I am located about forty-five miles south of Roswell, five miles south of Artesia, three miles north of Dayton and 1-4 miles from a spur where we can load our alfalfa hay. There has been twenty-three cars loaded here at this spur this season from two cuttings. From Artesia there has been shipped out several train loads of from twenty-five to twenty-eight cars each. We have had several good rains each month and now it is very wet as it has rained here off and on for a week and a half. Oats are mostly threshed and some made sixty-five bushels to the acre but some of the oats were hurt last winter by the green bugs. Some farmers have begun to cut alfalfa for the third time. The second cutting made from one and a half to two tons to the acre and this cutting will be just as good or better. The sun gets pretty warm right in the middle of the day but the nights are cooler here than in Nebraska and one must always sleep under a cover. I can stand the heat better here than I could in Nebraska as there is always a cool breeze going. With best regards to all and wishing you success in your new home, I remain yours truly,

L. Peter Jessen. Artesia, New Mexico, July 23, '08.

Military Opening

Cora J. Callans of Chicago will have her millinery opening, Saturday, Aug. 29th. Her parlors formerly conducted by Miss Crawford have been enlarged and redecorated making one of the neatest places of the kind in the Valley. On the above date she will not only have the largest stock, but will have the latest creations, and most up-to-date styles ever displayed in the Pecos Valley. The public generally and the ladies in particular are requested to be present on the above date.

Light refreshments will be served.

Don't forget the date, Saturday, August 29th.

Wanted--Tarps and Wagon Sheets

The committee in charge of the Alfalfa Festival have decided to build an alfalfa palace in which to house the exhibits in, and as of the which the building is to be constructed must be returned uninjured to the owners, the committee requests the loan of all the tarps and wagon sheets which are available. Care will be taken to return these to the owners as soon as the Festival is over and all which may be damaged while in use will be settled for. If you have a tarp or wagon sheet you can let us have, leave your name at the News office and the favor will be greatly appreciated.

Another Festival Committee

In looking over the list of committees appointed to take charge of the various exhibits at the Alfalfa Festival, it was found that no provision had been made to put up prizes and look after a show of the fine vegetables for which the Middle Valley is noted. Accordingly this week the executive committee appointed H. C. Lawyer, M. Schenck and H. L. Muncy as a committee on vegetables, with Mr. Lawyer as Chairman.

This leaves just one committee to be appointed yet, the reception committee, and it will probably be ready to announce by the time THE NEWS goes to press next week.
