Numerous Awards Given At Court of Honor

The Boy Scout of America Court of Honor, which was held in the back yard of the First Baptist Church Annex Tuesday evening, was well attended by parents and friends of Scouts.

Scouts are taught how to start a fire without matches but this night the onlookers were treated to a very unusual demonstration of firestarting. In the center of the yard, wood for a fire had been laid. An Indian Chief and several of his young braves stalked into the back yard. The Chief faced in the direction of the Four Winds, then called on the Great Spirit for fire and fire blazed immediately where the wood was laid. Then three of the braves put on an Indian dance around the blazing campfire.

Jack Johnson gave a report of the activities of the Scouts on their recent visit to Camp Post.

Special recognition was given to several of the local men who have been giving financial aid to Troop 64.

At the Court of Honor, the following awards were made: Rickey Boggs was awarded the Tenderfoot badge; Dusty Bailey was awarded the Second Class Scout Badge and Fishing Merit Badge; Jamie Johnson and Walter Taylor earned the First Class Scout Badge; Jack Johnson was presented with a Life Saving Merit Badge; Rex Harmon was presented with the Hiking, Art and Home Repair Merit Badges; and Mike Baird earned the Life Saving Merit Badge.

Among the Explorer Scouts the following awards were presented: Joe Hamilton was presented the Tenderfoot Badge; Kenneth Vines, the Second Class Badge and Cooking and Home Repair Merit Badges; Ray Gene Hutcheson, who had already won the award but was recognized as Life Scout, was given Merit Badges for Swimming, Citizenship in the Home, and Citizenship in the Community; and Rex Anderson the Merit Badge for Hiking.

Several other skits were presented by the boys.

CORRECTION!

Supt. Leroy Scott has asked the Tribune to clear up a story or a line that was in error in a story in one of our daily papers which concerns the accreditation of the Quitaque Schools.

Quitaque's name appeared under the paragraph that read: "Schools not recommended for requested accreditation."

The next paragraph was as follows: "Warned to correct predominantly minor violations of accreditation standards," and it was under this paragraph that the name of the Quitaque Schools should have appeared. Supt. Scott called Austin to verify this fact.

STOCK OWNERS ARE REMINDED

The Texas Department of Public Safety reminded Texas cattle owners today that a new law went into effect July 1 aimed at controlling livestock on designated US and state highways.

The new law makes it illegal for a person knowingly to permit his domestic livestock to roam at large and unattended on state and federal highways. It applies regardless of whether or not the highway right-of-way is fenced. Maximum fine for such violation is $200, and each day the violation occurs may be considered a separate offense.

Farm to market roads are excepted from the law. The new law also gives law enforcement officers the authority to have such livestock picked up, when unable to locate the owner, and turned over to the sheriff or constable in the county.

The law does not prohibit the driving or hearing of livestock across or along highways. It gives peace officers the authority to enforce provisions of the act without a warrant.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said patrolmen will enforce provisions of the law in an effort to reduce the traffic hazard caused by animals on designated state and US highways. He said that during the year 1959 a total of 1406 rural traffic accidents occurred in Texas involving animals of all types. In these accidents 216 persons were injured and 4 persons were killed.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

James C. Holman, pastor of First Methodist Church, will attend the one month summer pastor's school at Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University, July 18-August 18. This Sunday, July 24, the Rev. W. B. Vaughn, retired Methodist minister of Matador, will bring the morning message, and Mrs. Johnnie Williams, wife of the pastor of First Methodist in Turkey, will bring the evening message at 7:30. Mrs. James C. Holman will direct the singing.

First Methodist has begun a "Parsonage Fund" toward the construction of a new parsonage pastor's home. Sunday morning, July 11, when Brother Holman spoke of it to the congregation for the first time one hundred thirty dollars was placed in the plate on the vestibule table as the people left the sanctuary. The congregation is enthusiastic about this project and it is hoped that the fund will rapidly grow and the new parsonage soon become a reality.

The Methodist Choir elected officers last Wednesday night. Geneva Curtis was elected President, and Mr. I. L. Edgar was elected Secretary-Treasurer. The choir rehearses each Wednesday night and is increasing in interest and numbers.

News From The County Agent's Office

Its no news to most of the farmers in the Quitaque Valley that crop prospects are better than in ten or more years, but it might be revealing that the cotton here looks better than the irrigated cotton on the plains at this time. Willie Woods and Ober Johnson have indicated that they will conduct a cotton fertilizer demonstration in cooperation with the County Agent. We hope these materialize. The addition of nitrogen fertilizer looks very favorable this year, although the time is getting late. Allen Matthews, should have some interesting results this year as he has made soil test and will fertilize according to these tests.

Beef Cow numbers in the last ten years have increased 30 percent over the entire nation. There is now an all time high of slightly over a hundred million, compared to 70 million in 1950. Now these cattle have increased largely in the South, far West and North. To no one's surprise, East and South Texas is the cattle center of the State of Texas. The quality is good in much of the cattle there. This is evidenced by some of the Club steers our boys get from there.

Mosquitoes! These pest are really having a field day on we humans and other warm blooded animals. The addition of Malathion to toxaphent or any of the other hydrocarbons insecticides will increase the mosquito killing powers. Malathion is one of the safer insecticides. Use it according to dealer directions.

MAKE YOUR FISHING TRIP A SAFE ONE

"Gone Fishin'."

Bing Crosby made the song popular years ago. A nation with lots of leisure time on its hands has made the sport—fishing—one of today's summer pastimes.

The National Safety Council estimates that more than 30 million Americans—about 1 out of every 5 persons strong enough to hold a fishing pole or cast a line into the water—will go fishing this year. Fishermen should think of safety so their fun won't be spoiled by an accident. Unfortunately, the unwary do get hurt or, worse, killed.

More than 900 drownings a year involve boats with a capacity of fewer than 10 persons. This would include boats that carry fishermen to their favorite spot.

And while the toll of persons injured in fishing accidents is unknown, the Council reports that a "large number of persons are injured each year from careless handling of fishing tackle."

From Ralph Kuhl, the Council's director of public safety, come these tips for fishermen:

On the dangers of hooks—

1. Try not to carry lines with hooks attached.

2. Don't fish too near other anglers.

3. Be careful casting your line.

4. Handle with special care bait-casting plugs that contain clusters of double or triple hooks.

5. If a hook gets imbedded in you or one of your fishing companions, see a physician, unless you're sure the wound is extremely minor.

6. Try never to back a hook out of a wound. It's best to push the point of the hook through the skin.

On Wading —

1. Test each step in advance.

Many streams and pools have underwater shelves or other dropoffs. Rocks usually are slippery.

On Boat Safety—

1. Check your boat for leaks or other defects before leaving shore.

2. Take along life preservers, an extra oar or paddle and a bailing can.

3. Don't overload the boat.

4. Never stand in a boat or sit or stand on the bow or stern.

5. Be cautious about changing places in a boat while in deep water. Better to come into shallow water first.

If Your Boat Capsizes?

"Stick with it," Kuhl said

"Even most small boats will support several persons for hours. Keep calm. Wait for help to arrive rather than try to swim to shore."

HINTS ON SUMMER CARE OF HEN FLOCKS

Although the hot weather of late spring, summer and early fall increases the feed efficiency of laying flocks, it can also be detrimental to them, reports Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, head of the Texas A & M Poultry Science Department. Reduced shell quality, decline in production and drop in interior egg quality are the major poultry problems of summertime, but they can be solved or reduced by an alert poultryman.

In hot weather the bird's ability absorb and utilize calcium is impaired, resulting in an increased number of cracked and broken eggs. Quisenberry says that the

WALTER ROGER'S NEWSLETTER

PAYING THE PRICE

The national figures for the 1960 census will tell a story that most of us have known for some time. In what may well be the greatest and most significant American migration in recent history, millions of people are forsaking the farm and crossroads to stream toward the great urban centers of our nation. And at least by the time children of these restless, mobile Americans reach high school, a map of the United States will be covered with huge waltz-like markings to denote the most complex and awesome cities the world has ever known. Many of these city dwellers will work and use of improved ventilation, pad and fan or spray nozzle cooling system and increased calcium level in the ration will help solve the problem of shell quality.

Decline in production is perhaps the most important economic problem of hot weather. The higher environmental temperature, however, reduces the amount of feed needed to keep the body warm. Therefore, if the rate of egg production can be kept up, feed efficiency increases considerably, Quisenberry explains. Egg production may be kept up, Quisenberry says, by use of the following management practices: use of economical cooling system; provision of unlimited cool, clean drinking water; increased ventilation; maintenance of a constant or increasing light period in the house; feeding at least twice daily and stirring feed up to three additional times daily; and painting the roof white to increase radiation.

Heat is the worst enemy of egg quality. The following practices will pay off in higher grades and longer shelf life which means more income for the poultryman: gather the eggs at least three, and preferably five times daily; place in coolers immediately; gather the eggs in a wire basket and do not fill over half full; separate the clean eggs from the dirty and spray with a light oil of wax; wash dirty eggs with a sanitizer detergent and cool quickly after drying; if possible, transport eggs in a refrigerated truck; gather and store eggs on small end.

play in "towns" which range across hundreds of miles without interruption.

The trend has been obvious in many ways. The most casual glance at wedding announcements in Panhandle newspapers will reveal that many young couples choose to abandon their home towns in favor of larger cities. An hour in the bus and railroad stations of a large metropolis will uncover a portion of the millions who set out for the big city each year with their high hopes—and often their every possession—carried with them. Just a short ride along the outskirts of even a moderately large community will uncover row upon row of mass produced, FHA financed homes—the hallmark of sprawling suburbia.

These are the hard facts of an important feature in American life since World War II. In some ways, the massive "urge to move" is perhaps inspiring insofar as it demonstrates that we have not lost the pioneering spirit which made America great. Our people still have the courage to venture into new environments and test new ways. Many of them, I am sure, are hopeful of benefiting their countrymen as well as themselves. We are not, as our enemies would have us believe, such an entirely contented and declining nation at all.

Nevertheless, the uncomfortable feeling remains that much of this surging movement toward our urban complexes is inspired by rather grandiose propaganda. To say that our smaller communities offer no opportunities is, in most cases, sheer fiction. To complain that the more rural areas of our country are "dull" displays an unpleasant modern neurosis, an unhealthy grasping for "something to do" And to paint universally rosy pictures of life in the metropolis is particularly deceptive, for the individual tragedies that can sometimes occur are as old as O. Henry's writings.

Old men whittling in front of the country store are as much a part of America as the high pressure brokers on Wall Street. We should be as proud of the kindly old general practitioner as we are of the most eminent heart specialist. And the man who rides a tall, bumpy tractor has fully as much stake in the American experiment as does the man who rides from directions meeting to directors meeting in a low, smooth limousine.

We have, I think, committed a fundamental error in emphasizing a certain brand of success all out of proportion to its true worth. We have too often dwelt upon the slick, the super-sophisticated, the "gee-whiz" type of endeavor. We have sometimes been willing to exchange quick, easy fame and success for slow, difficult, but profound satisfaction. This attitude has not been without effect.

We are now beginning to pay the price, and the amazing rush of so many of our people to urban areas is perhaps not the only toll. The source of many of our worries, such as conformity or trend toward bureaucracy, can also be traced to a shift in values. We would do well to remember that American strength lies to a great extent in its diversity and depth. The 1960 census, in revealing a partial loss of this vibrant quality, might well remind us of our duty to keep faith with all facets of our life.

HIGHWAY PATROL REPORT

The Highway Patrol investigated 3 rural traffic accidents in Briscoe County during June, according to Sergeant D. R. Dowdy, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

Property damage wrecks accounted for 1 of the total, personal injury for 2 and none were fatal accidents. These wrecks caused a total property damage of $1,195.00 with 2 persons injured and no lives lost.

Sergeant Dowdy pointed out that this brings the total for the year in this county to 0 killed, 7 injured, and property damage in excess of $6,130.00. This compares with 0 killed, 10 injured, and property damage of $8,010.00 during the first six months of 1959.

"Prior to July 1 there had been a total of 784 fatal accidents in Texas," Sergeant D. R. Dowdy said. "From these accidents, 962 persons have died needlessly," he added.

During the summer months thousands of motorists are on the highways, and too many of them are intent on cramming as much activity as they can into one brief vacation, and the result is often tragedy. In appealing for increased vigilance to cut down accidents, the Sergeant cautioned vacationers to be on their guard against speeders, drinking drivers, and drivers who disregard traffic laws. Above all, he warned them to make sure they are not guilty of such offenses themselves.

Many vacationers get into trouble by not allowing enough time to cover the trip comfortably, the Sergeant pointed out. Then they try to make up time by driving too fast for conditions, by driving too far, or by disregarding traffic laws.

"Traffic accidents take no vacations," Sergeant D. R. Dowdy said.

Step up your vigilance in order to stay safe on the road, and enjoy your trip or vacation without an accident.

Those who stand for nothing usually fall for anything.

Vows Exchanged July 9 At Snyder

Miss Lou Nell Burgess became the bride of James Edwin Stegall Saturday evening, July 9, at 7:30, in the Colonial Hill Baptist Church, Snyder, Texas. The Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor, read the double ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Burgess are parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edwin Stegall, Austin, Texas.

The church was decorated with an arch covered with greenery, flanked by candelabra and gladiola sprays. First four pews on each side of the aisle were decorated with greenery and white bows. Candles were lighted by Judy Greene of Snyder and Linda Peterson of Austin.

Miss Sue Ann Burgess, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Louise Cate, Snyder, Miss Danny Callaway, Snyder, and Mrs. Buddy Everett, Abilene. The attendants wore gowns of turquoise swiss nylon over taffeta with bouffant skirts, three-quarter length sleeves, and a lowered neckline. They carried bouquets of pink sweetheart roses. Flower girls were Lynda Rae Burgess, Snyder, niece of the bride, and Judy Kay Brown, Dallas. Their costumes were fashioned of pink swiss nylon over taffeta and the collar and skirt were trimmed with lace.

Robby Harrett, Austin, cousin of the bridegroom was best man, and groomsmen were David Burleson, Austin, James Irby, Austin, and Jan Stanley, Lubbock. Ushers were Tim Williamson and Danny Tankersley, both of Snyder.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace over nylon tulle and taffeta. The sabrina neckline and fitted bodice were dotted with seed pearls and formed a "V" just below the waist-line. The back of the skirt consisted of a cascade of ruffled tiers of tulle and lace. The front of the skirt had an arch-shaped scalloped panel set into lace. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of lace, dotted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Traditional wedding music was played by organist Ralph Wesson of Snyder, and soloist, Harold Davis of Abilene, sang "Because" and "Wedding Prayer".

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a swiss linen cutwork tablecloth and set with crystal and silver appointments. Mrs. Jan Stanley of Lubbock served the three-tiered cake with bridal decorations. Mrs. George Harwood of Big Spring presided at the bride's book. For a wedding trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride chose a beige sheath with beige and green accessories and a white orchid corsage. After a week, the couple will be at home at 1316½ Trice, Waco, Tex., Waco, Texas.

The bride attended school at Baylor University, Waco, and Nixon Clay Commercial College, Austin. The bridegroom attended school at Baylor University, Waco, where he will resume his studies.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were from Austin; Dallas; Lawton, Oklahoma, Abilene, and Big Spring.

The bride was recently honored with a gift tea at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

A color scheme of turquoise, pink and white was carried out.

Approximately 40 guests registered, along with many friends who sent gifts.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Fred C. Stanley, Sr. and Mrs. Betty Stanley of Lubbock.

CAVERNS OF SONORA OFFICIALLY OPEN SATURDAY

SONORA, TEXAS. A fabulous new one of the worlds most beautiful caverns near Sonora, Texas called one of the world's most beautiful and fantastic, opened for public viewing July 16. Official dedication Sonora has been set for Saturday, and opening of The Caverns of July 23, with a week-end of celebration planned for official dignitaries, members of the press and cave enthusiasts.

The Cavern is located 15 minutes west of the West Texas town which is on two major transcontinental highways, and is the largest cave in Texas open to the public.

Holding an constant temperature of 70 degrees, the cavern is described by speleologists as having beauty and color in profusion and variety not known to exist anywhere else in the world. Names given some of the caverns spectacles by their discoverers indicate the sights to be seen: Devil's Delight, Antler Room, War Club Room, Hall of the White Giants, Halo Lake, and the Diamond Room.

No other cave has helictic loops, the perfect "butterfly" formation, giant calcite crystals with perfect crystalline faces, six-foot "soda-straws" (3-16 inch in diameter with paper-thin walls constantly dripping water). Formations are fluorescent and phosphorescent and are still growing since this is a live cavern.

A full 90-minute tour will be conducted this year by developers Jim Papadakis and Jack Burgh who plan to supplement this with an alternate "long" tour in 1961. Broad smooth trails in the cool, quiet atmosphere of the cavern afford easy viewing of one of nature's greatest masterpieces.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Morris of Edinburg, Texas visited in Quitaque Wednesday and Thursday. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hooks.

Mr. A. L. Tarter and boys of Lazbuddy, brother-in-law of Mrs. Clarence Barrett, visited in the Barrett home Sunday.

PLANT DISEASE OF THE WEEK

Are your garden vegetables poor producers? If so, the plants may have been damaged by root knot.

Root knot occurs in all areas of Texas, and is usually more common in sandy soils. The disease is caused by nematodes. Nematodes are small, microscopic worms belonging to a group of animals known as roundworms.

Plants damaged by nematodes show a lack of vigor as indicated by stunting, wilting and yellowing of the leaves. Loss of leaves often occurs. Plants may die. Vegetables are usually small and unfit to eat.

To examine suspected plants, carefully remove roots and soil with a shovel. Diseased roots have abnormal galls or knots. Avoid confusing root knot with beneficial nodules or legumes. Root knot swellings are a part of the root itself. Nodules are easy to push off of the root.

Nematodes are controlled by a combination of cultural practices and the use of nematocides.

For further information contact your extension agent and ask for a copy of MP-356, "Plant Nematodes--Their Identification and Control."

NEW LAW WILL AID DISABLED VETERANS

Austin, Texas, July 18--A large number of Texas veterans who have serious handicaps resulting from active military service will benefit from a law recently enacted by Congress and signed by the President. This announcement was made today by Charles L. Morris, Executive Director of the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission in Austin.

Veterans who have disabilities resulting from service in the Armed Forces may receive compensation from the Veterans Administration for these disabilities. If the service-connected condition is disabling to a degree of 50 percent or more, additional allowances are payable to the veteran on account of his wife, dependent children and dependent parents. Prior to passage of the new law, this additional allowance was payable on behalf of three of the veteran's children.

The new law provides for an additional allowance for all dependent children of the veteran, if the veteran has disabilities of service origin evaluated at 50 percent or more. Those disabled veterans who are receiving compensation at 50 percent or more, and who have more than three dependent children are advised to contact their nearest Veterans Affairs Commission office or Veterans County Service Officer for additional information and assistance in obtaining these additional benefits.

Morris stated that this new law became effective on July 1, 1960 and benefits payable as a result of the new law will be effective from the date the Veterans Administration receives proof that the disabled veteran has such additional dependents.

Rev. and Mrs. Ben Adams and grandson, Frank Ballard of Hale Center visited Monday with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cain.

First Hand Report From Convention

The following story appeared in the Plainview Herald. We thought it would be of interest to our readers.

Editor's Note: Frank Moore of Plainview, a farmer, as a field representative in interest of Lyndon Johnson's nomination for president of the Democratic ballot "beat the bushes" for the Texan in mid-Western states. Moore was a spectator at the convention.

At the Herald's request he prepared observations and comments on turns of the party conclave.

By Frank Moore
There is nothing more exciting than a political convention with all its organized and unorganized confusion. My trip to Los Angeles started with my field trips to Iowa, Kansas, and Nebraska for Senator Johnson.

Senator Kennedy had been to these states numerous times and most of the delegates knew him personally, so you can see that the work of getting a delegate to switch to Johnson was extremely difficult.

The delegates were either committed to Symington or Kennedy for the first ballot. Our hopes were in getting by the first ballot and getting the delegates to switch after that. This strategy was not good as Kennedy proved by the first ballot that he had enough delegates who were already committed to him.

The experience of talking to the delegates was very interesting. I had been talking agriculture only visited with attorneys, businessmen, government workers, housewives, farmers and professional politicians. There weren't over three farmers who were delegates out of the 33 that I contacted. If I had been talking agriculture only it would have been just as well that I stay at home because actually I had to talk to people from the precinct to the Governor level.

The Kennedy organization was far better than ours. He had visited some states as many as 15 times and had traveled 160,000 miles in the last four years. They had 36 telephones to the different delegations in the sports arena and we had only five, (I might add there could have been a Kennedy on each of their phones!) Robert Kennedy was working the Nebraska delegation on the floor along with the other Kennedys who were working on the floor among the delegates.

The selection of Lyndon Johnson came as a complete surprise even to his own family. One daughter was out at Disneyland, and even his wife was surprised at his selection.

However, I understand Lady Bird and Mr. Sam urged him to accept the nomination. The Texas delegation was scattered and caught unaware by this development. Everyone was pleased and believe that the Kennedy-Johnson ticket will be a winner except a few. These few are the ultra liberals of the north.

Lyndon Johnson has three strings in his bow. If elected Vice President he will be majority leader even with a Republican President. As Vice President, Lyndon Johnson, will have a great influence in both the Legislative and Executive branches of our government. He will add considerable prestige to the office of Vice President and will be more than a figurehead in the Senate.
