The QUITAQUE TRIBUNE

VOLUME2 - NUMBER 24 -

CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER SAM RAYBURN

"It is now my sole purpose here to help enact such wise and just laws that our common country will by virtue of these laws be a happier and a more prosperous country.

have always dreamed of a country which I believe this should be and that is one in which the citizenship is an educated and patriotic people not swayed by passion and prejudice, and a country that knows no East, no West, no North, no South, but inhabitated by a people liberty-loving, patriotic, happy, and pros-perous with its lawmakers having no other purpose than to write such just laws as shall in the years to come be of service to mankind yet handwriting, appear on a portrait which hangs in my office. They were pinned in March, 1913, shortly after the author's election to the United States House of Representatives from the Fourth District of Texas. To me, they allow a clear vision into the integrity and un-changing character of the man who attended the services for Speaker Rayburn at Bonham at a nation mourned the passing of a great Texan and an outstanding American. Tributes to the Speaker have been offered from every corner of the world. They will form part of a memorial, the greater part of which will be an eternal monument in the annals of American government where the imprint of Mr. Sam's character will be long felt. Sam's character will be long feit.

I shall a lways count it a privilege to have served in the greatest legislative body in the world with Mr. Rayburn. We sometimes did not see eye to eye on a given issue, but I never doubted that his sole motivation was to serve America and the cause of freedom with every ounce of his energy and strength, which attitude he always raciprocated.

Last summer the House observed the long tenure of Mr. Rayburn as Speaker, after 16 years, 273 days, more than twice as long as any other Speaker in the history of the United States. The compilations of tributes on that occasion form a booklet entitled "The House will be in order." I have obtained a limit-ed number of these booklets and will be happy to forward copies upest until the supply hausted. I quote from the foreward of this publication a particularly appropriate characterization:

"Those of us who served with Speaker Rayburn and under his guidance for the whole of a politi-cal—and often a natural—lifetime, never for a moment lost the feeling of being in the presence of a great and a good man whether we had his agreement or his opposition, or whether he had ours. Where he sat there was authority and dignity, highly warranted seniority, but never the adamant or arrogant mani-festations of naked power. For perhaps a quarter of a century, his was one of the strongest, and not infrequently the strongest single voice in Congress. But always Speaker Rayburn accepted for him-tax under ruling No. 13 include SEVENTH GRADE democratic process. Above all there was the Constitution of the United States and for him personally the posts of unaggrandized command It was he, at the peak of his legis-lative eminence, who said:

'You can't be a leader, and ask you know how to follow, too!'

One fact of the greatness of Speaker Rayburn is that neither opportunity nor invitation of circum-stances to the cause of an immense

WHO NAMED BAYLOR

UNIVERSITY?

Baylor University, at Waco, was named for an outstanding Judge. He was Dr. Robert Emmett Blen oe Baylor. How that came to pass is an interesting story.

The man who placed the Baylor name on this great educational in-stitution was William Melton Tyron. He was the second missionary sent to Texas by the American Bap tist Home Mission Society. He was a leader in church and state and was the chaplain in the Congress Tyron, who first originated th idea of a Baptist university in Tex as, was made a member of the com mittee appointed to secure the un versity charter from the Republic of Texas.

Tyron rejected Judge Baylor's uggestion that the school be named Tyron and into the application vrote "Baylor", Tyron then served as the first of Trustees of Baylor University.

A Fun Food for the gay days HOLIDAY MINCEMEAT FANCIES

Among the sprightly features of the holiday season are the gay, rich and fanciful foods we eat for sheer fun. For example, these Holiday Mincemeat Fancies.

These tarts are frankly frivolous. The pastry shells, tender and flaky, are filled with cooled mincemeat after it's been blended and simmered in apple juice to the point of being almost winey in its fragrant apple tang.

In serving, you can top the tarts with a dollop of whipped cream, or ice cream, or with sharp cheddar cut in fancy shape with a cookie cutter—all depending on the occasion, the guests, the time of day and your mood. And among their charms is the cheery fact that they're simple to make:

3 cups apple juice
2 tablespoons sugar
2 9-ounce packages condensed mincemeat
8 individual baked pastry shells
Toppings (optional)—whipped cream, ice cream or cheddar cheese

Bring apple juice to boiling point. Crumble mincemeat; add with sugar to apple juice. Boil 6 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool slightly. Spoon into pastry shells. If desired, top with whipped cream, ice cream or sharp cheddar cheese. Makes 3 cups mincemeat mixture; 8 servings.

ALL-COTTON STRETCH YARNS AND FABRICS DEVELOPED BY USDA SCIENTISTS

College Station, Nov. 29 otton producers could profit mater ially from recently announced U S. Department of Agriculture re and fabrics have been developed according to Dr. C. H. Fisher, who heads the Department's Southern Utilization Research and Developnent Division, New Orleans.

He listed the methods as slack mercerization of fabric to impart specific amounts of stretch; back wisting resin-treated yarns, which causes them to take the shape of iny helical coil springs and crimping yarns first made thermoplasti by chemical treatment.

The first method is now undergo ing industrial evaluation by one company for use in plastic-coated automobile upholstery and interior inings. Other manufacturers plan to evaluate the three methods i naking fabrics for knit bathing suits and dresses, hosiery, foundation garments, sweaters, kni shirts and furniture slipcovers.

Consumer demand for high stretch fabrics is increasing rapid y, and imparting stretch to cotto can help increase consumption this agricultural commodity, Dr Fisher said.

These developments are a resul of the broad program conducted by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service to find new uses and new

"THE OLD RUGGED CROSS" IS AMERICA'S FAVORITE HYMN "The Old Rugged Cross" still i America's favorite hymn.

More than 61,000 newspaper read

Hymn Poll and 10,482 of them chose 'The Old Rugged Cross'', vivid nymn which describes the tradition dearest song.

Bill McVey, Christian Herald Gos bel Singer, who directed the sur ey to determine the hymns Amer ca loves best, and Audience An alysts, Inc., Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., the independent reseach organization which tabulated votes from reader:

of more than 1,000 newspapers, re ported that "How Great Thou Art" as a close second to "The Old Rugged Cross.'

"How Great Thou Art", a dy amic gospel song describing God's mnipotence, received 8,449 votes Audience Analysts said this large vote doubtless was due to the song' popularity at hymn sings across the ountry. "How Great Thou Art", avorite selection of baritone Mo Vey and Billy Graham, was fourth in last year's Christian Herald hymn poll and McVey attributed part of its current populartiy to its moving evangelistic feeling and strong melody

The third favorite hymn disclosed y the National Newspaper Hymr Poll was "What A Friend We Have In Jesus", a song which has earn ed a place in Americans' hearts by its warm expression of faith search. Three methods for manu-facturing all-cotton stretch yarns held by Protestants of every deomination, McVey said.

McVey, who has sung all the Community Sings across the coun try, reported that "In The Garden" a hymn which tells of God's com passion and guidance, received 3,868 votes for fourth place in the National Hymn Poll and was especially preferred in the mid-west.

The Christian Herald Singer notes ng Grace" among American chur ch-goers. This gospel song, which relates how faith provides confi lence, moved from ninth place in the 1960 Christian Herald hymn poll to fifth place with 1,816 votes the National Newspapers Hymr Poll.

The sixth favorite hymn of the 61,445 Americans who voted was 'Rock of Ages'', a religious song which describes man's confidence in God. "Rock of Ages" in McVey's Christian Herald poll received 1,511 votes in the July October National Newspaper Hym and, "Whispering Hope", 741 votes. | A Friend We Have In Jesus' McVey said the vote received by 'Whispering Hope' was the big gest surprise in the nationwide balloting. This hymn was 27th in the Christian Herald Poll but mov papers Hymn Poll.

This year's poll, co-sponsored by the Christian Herald Magazine he nation's largest interdenomin ational Protestant publication, and ewspaper editors in every state xcept Hawaii and Vermont, reorded more than 1,900 hymns and gospel songs. Last year, Christian Herald readers voted for 1,666 reigious songs.

McVev said the most importan point disclosed by this first definite urvey to determine the hymn America loves best was that Amer can churchgoers do not prefer one

The last two years have seen nal editors, who downgrade hymns they feel are too sentimental and poorly composed and sometime eliminate those religious song from hymnbooks, and churchgoers who prefer hymns that have been the most inspiring to them and the easiest for them to understand. "The National Newspapers Hym

Poll results show that American churchgoers want to sing senti top 50 hymns at Christian Herald Community Sings across the counlike 'The Old Rugged Cross',' Mo Vey said. 'If we are to get al Americans singing the hymns or gospel songs of the church again choir directors, organists and min isters should note the favorites o newspaper readers across the country and encourage religious sing ing of every variety," he said.

"A silent faith is not as strong as a singing faith," McVey said. Singing our favorite hymns is natural way to create a nationa bond and brotherhood and moral strength in the face of the mount ng Communuist threat." the Chist an Herald singer said.

McVey pointed out that readers who voted in the National News-papers Hymn Poll divided their ballots almost equally for gospel songs such as "How Great Thou Art" and for hymns such as "What

"Even though many of these nymns and gospel songs have been orn out of the hymn books, they can't be torn out of the hearts of said. "Americans are inspired by he simple melodies and sentim of their favorite hymns and gospel

"The enthusiastic response to the National Newspapers Hymn Poll hy men and women in almost every choir directors should encourage more hymn singing in their church es and at the same time urge song every day," Bill McVey said.
