Almonds Glamorize Baked Apples

Baked apples, a standard favorite in so many American homes, go glamorous for "Almond-Glazed Apples." A two-tone effect comes from partially paring the apples before baking. Basting with a tangy orange syrup provides interesting flavor as well as a beautiful glaze. Toasted slivered almonds sprinkled atop each apple add crunchy goodness to give the finishing touch to this appetizing, nutritious dessert.

Whole, slivered, dried or chopped almonds revive interest in numerous oft-served desserts, vegetables, main dishes, salads and sandwich fillings.

ALMOND-GLAZED APPLES

6 medium-size baking apples  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind  $\frac{1}{8}$  teaspoon salt
1 cup orange juice  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup toasted slivered almonds

Core and pare apples  $\frac{1}{3}$  the way down; arrange in shallow baking pan with pared ends up. Blend orange rind and juice, sugar and salt; bring to boil. Pour over apples. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 30 minutes to 1 hour, until done, basting often with syrup. About 5 minutes before apples are done, cover tops with almonds. Baste and return to oven. Serve with whipped or sour cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

country and its institutions, must not be laid to rest in history until every last splinter of truth is revealed. We must know, know beyond the last shadow of doubt, the identity of each person connected with this national tragedy, his — or their — motives; and know, too, the reasons why security precautions failed so shockingly.

Americans cannot rest until these facts are developed fully and completely. Every step must be taken to conduct an investigation of unparalleled scope. President Johnson gave his personal order to the Justice Department and Federal Bureau of Investigation to move with all dispatch to find the answers. Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr ordered a Court of Inquiry. Here on Capitol Hill, a full-scale investigation by the Congress by now seems assured. If these probes do not produce the truth, and all of it, the search must go on—and on. There are so many, so very many unanswered questions. They are being asked by private citizens as well as by trained investigators and legal authorities. Surely we Texans have a vital stake in seeing that the truth is made apparent to all, whatever that truth may be. Our State pride has been damaged. There is a dark stain on the reputation of one of our principal cities. But the larger cloud is over America, and only the sunshine of truth can remove it.

The assassination of President John F. Kennedy was a crime of such unbridled vengeance that the Nation is still numb in unbelieving shock. That this could happen here! That an American President out among the people could be shot down, here, in the United States, in the mid-Twentieth Century! Why? Why?

John Fitzgerald Kennedy carried the burdens of his office with courage, intelligence, dignity, grace and good humor. He was loved by the people, despite raucous calumny directed at him from the left and right fringes of politics, from persons whose political positions are deep in the end zones instead of out on the field. Beyond considerations of his position as the Nation's Chief Executive, the tragic death of this young husband and father, whose family was such an inspiring example of decency, was a source of deep grief for his countrymen.

Let us not forget that the target of the assassination was all for which his country stands, that the bullets were aimed also at the institutions of freedom, of democratic government, of justice under law. We are living in a day when destructive assaults from extremists of every kind are made on our government. The unspeakable horror of the President's murder is bringing home to many Americans how poorly our country is served by the hate and invective that has been heaped not only upon the President and his office but also upon our system of courts, the legislative process, and provisions of the Constitution itself. Did this disorientation from American fundamentals, I ask, help establish a climate in which the vile distillate of sheer contempt could strike down our President?

Let Americans now study their heritage. The development of this country has been shaped by moderation—not by extremism. The Constitution itself was the product of moderation; in its formulation it represented the coming together of ideas as to an establishment of government under which free men could live out their lives in liberty and justice. On the one bleak occasion in American history when the coming-together processes of moderation failed us, and differences remained unreconciled, a bitter and bloody civil war resulted. In the century since then, our institutions of government were strengthened along with all other phases of our national life, and it seemed to most citizens—until that black hour on November 22, 1963—that we the people of the United States had formed a more perfect Union, had established Justice, had insured domestic Tranquility, had provided for the common defense, had promoted the general Welfare, had secured the blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity. The assassination of the President should demonstrate to all that the ideals expressed in the preamble to the Constitution remain unfulfilled.

Unless and until it is proved beyond all reasonable doubt, I cannot accept the theory that one single man, one solitary twisted extremist, one lone monster with a mail-order rifle could contrive by himself to bring death to President Kennedy and rattle the foundations of the government. We must learn with certainty all that lay behind this dreadful act. As President Johnson said in his sorrowing Thanksgiving Day message to America, "Let us today renew our dedication to the ideals that are American."

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go—6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

While none can deny that there are commercial aspects to our modern-day celebration of Christmas, it must be remembered that each of us observe Christmas in our own way. Gift-giving is in keeping with the spirit of Christmas—if it is done with emphasis on giving and sharing, rather than on being sure that we give each individual a gift that is as good or better than the one we receive from them. It is even more in the spirit of Christmas if we give to the less fortunate, with no expectation of receiving something in return. Let us enjoy the practice of gift-giving by keeping it in its proper place. We'll enjoy the holiday if we give wisely. We will give with pleasure if we give no more than we can afford.

NEWS from the High Plains
Research Foundation

Research Foundation Presses Study of Midge

Delbert Langford, Agronomist for the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, Texas, reports that a long-term research study of the over-wintering habits of Midge has been set into motion at the Foundation. On November 16, 1963, Delbert made selections of heads of grain sorghum that contained larva and pupa of Midge. Some of the heads will be put into cold storage at temperatures ranging from above freezing to below freezing, as well as field conditions.

The purpose of the study is to find at what stage or stages midge can over-winter under field and experimental conditions. Delbert said that this study will help to determine the time of hatching after over-wintering occurs, and thus will be able to get an idea of the size of the population of midge for the next year. Langford reports that this

Many Communist countries, after unsuccessful efforts to rename "Father Christmas," the Russian Santa, "Father Winter" have greatly relaxed efforts to prevent the celebration of Christmas as a Christian holiday.

Father Christmas is as popular as ever, as is also the legendary female gift giver, Babuska, which means grandmother. According to tradition, Babuska purposefully gave wrong directions to the Magi when they requested directions to Bethlehem. Babuska repented and, in atonement for her bad deed, has since wandered about the world on Christmas Eve, looking for the Christ Child and distributing gifts to all the children she meets on the way.

Use Right Bulbs To Illuminate Outdoors

For outdoor floodlights to illuminate Christmas displays, your best bet is to stick to the 150-watt PAR-38 bulbs. These are the weatherproof reflector type, like the kind used to light doorways. You can get 300- and 500-watt reflector bulbs for outdoor use, but those are likely to explode in a cold rain or snow unless protected by expensive fixtures. So just use two or more of the PAR-38's when you wish more light. Indoors, you can use the 150-watt R-40 or 75-watt R-30 reflector spots and floods.

project will give information as to how long midge can live and at what temperatures the insect will survive or die. This will give research information for further studies of control measures. From this, predictions can also be made as to how far north the midge can live as well as midge movement in other areas. This report will aid in the prediction of the possible seriousness of the midge problem for the next growing season.

Dr. Earl H. Collister, Director of the High Plains Research Foundation, said, "This research on midge is something that the area must have now. If some control measures are not found soon that can successfully eradicate this insect (midge), the economy of the entire state of Texas will be seriously affected. We believe that Delbert's study will aid and speed the control of this threat."

MISTLETOE

Some believe the ancient Druids gave mystical significance to the mistletoe because it grows high among the branches of oak trees, touching neither heaven nor earth. It was believed to be immune, therefore, to the malignant influence of evil spirits.

The Druids, from Gaul, settled in the northwest section of France now known as Brittany. The mistletoe is still popular in France, where it is called "gui."

celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Billy McWilliams. Cake and Cokes were enjoyed by all.

Christmas shopping need not be such a chore. Like anything else, it can be made much easier with some planning and forethought.

Shop first in stores where you regularly trade during the year. You know where everything is to be found. Plan your trip through the store, on paper. Make a list of the items you are interested in, separating them by the departments in which they are located.

Don't spend too much time "looking" for a particular item. Pass over it. Get the other items on your list. During this time you may run across the item you "missed." If not, don't continue looking. Ask for help. One question directed to a store clerk can save you several minutes of valuable time.

If the store gift wraps, and most do during the holiday season, don't be fooled into thinking you can do a better job. Maybe you can—but you'll have more time for other necessary things if you let them do it.

HOLIDAY PANCAKE TREAT

Do cranberries always belong with the turkey? Not so. From the Revere Ware consumer kitchens comes a new idea—and a nice surprise—for a holiday treat.

Holiday Pancakes With Cranberry Sauce
3 cups pancake batter (homemade or packaged)
2 tablespoons orange juice concentrate

Combine pancake batter and orange juice. Bake in small cakes, using about 2 tablespoons batter per cake, on a lightly greased griddle until bubbly and browned underneath. Turn to brown the other side. Serve hot with cranberry sauce. Makes about 24 small pancakes.

CRANBERRY SAUCE
2 cups water
2 cups cranberries
3 tablespoons orange juice concentrate
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water

In saucepan combine the 2 cups water, cranberries, orange juice concentrate and sugar. Bring to a boil and simmer for 10 minutes. Stir in cornstarch mixed with the 2 tablespoons cold water and cook, stirring, until liquid is clear and slightly thickened.

Lately, their message has been Keep Freedom in Your Future with U.S. Savings Bonds. These ads have sold an impressive number of bonds in Texas. And they have helped, and are now helping, your government defend freedom at a moment in history when freedom urgently needs defending.

Toys are designed to please the hearts of children, and they do. But all toys are not always completely safe for children of all ages.

If you have youngsters of varying ages in the home, toys selected for an older child may be the source of an accident or illness in the hands of a toddler.

When you shop for toys this year, avoid toys made of lead or colored with lead-based paints.
 Small children sometimes chew off the lead paint and swallow it, and serious illness could result.

Be careful, too, about small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys and toys with rough or sharp edges.

Electric toys are for older children—and be sure that these bear the UL (Underwriters Laboratory) label on the cord and the toy itself.

Missile-throwing toys, particularly air rifles and sling shots, are dangerous, particularly to the eyes. Toy archery sets can also cause injury. If your child receives a missile-throwing toy for Christmas, for his own safety, and for the welfare of other children, set down rules for safe use and be sure they are enforced.

Increased Sample Receipts Not
 To Deter USDA's Prompt
 Cotton Classing Service

The farmers and ginners are actively engaged in harvesting and ginning this season's late crop and this makes the Agri-ton classing office a very busy place, says K. E. Voelkel of the Memphis office.

Until the latter part of the week, sample receipts were light. However, over the weekend the larger gins were ginning around the clock and a back-log of trailers with seed cotton were crowding most gin yards.

The killing frost two weeks ago, and the second frost last Tuesday morning plus the high wind on Thursday did much to get the cotton ready for mechanical harvesting.

With heavy sample receipts anticipated this week the Cotton Division has assigned two additional classers to this office, making 8 classing tables in operation. We will also inaugurate a third micronaire set-up.
 This will mean the micronairing of over 4,000 samples a day.
 All these additions will result in an increase of personnel and this will make it possible to continue a prompt and efficient classing service for the farmers and ginners of the Memphis office classing territory.

This week, which was a short one, we classed only 8,841 samples for a season total of 79,251. This represents roughly 40 percent of the predicted production. As of this date last year 72,002 samples had been classed.

As mechanical harvesting increased, samples reduced in grade because of Preparation, Bark and Grass also increased. More than 6 percent of the cotton classed during the week was reduced in grade compared with slightly over 3 percent the previous week.

Several inquiries were made as to the CCC loan rate and penalty on cotton reduced in grade

because of Bark, Grass and Preparation. The bale will go into the loan on the basis of the grade shown in the grade box on the Form 1 or green class card, and a penalty of 1 cent a pound is assessed against the bale because of Bark or Grass.
 There is no penalty against a bale that is reduced because of Preparation, and it is eligible for the CCC loan on the basis of the grade shown in the grade box of the Form 1 or green class card. A Gin Cut bale, which reduces a bale 3 or more grades is not eligible in the CCC loan.

Texas is the leading agricultural state in the nation.

Hereford, Texas, is known as the "town without a toothache" because of the flouring in its water.
