...is joked
...predicted
development of a bomb that would wreck havoc and destruction the likes of which the world had never seen. Boy, what these guys won't dream up next, we told one another.
Then, along came the bomb.
We began to follow reports of each new explosion with increasing credulity and no more joking. You have to get dead serious about something that might well blast you right off the face of the earth.
Now science, which has long envisaged space travel and man-made satellites floating along in outer space, predicts such things are waiting for us around the next bend in the road of scientific progress.
We're practically off on a junket to the moon—and nobody's laughing. You might snicker when a guy sets down to play, but when he opens up with Chopin and Beethoven, you have to stop snickering and listen. Science has made good on so many of its earlier predictions a smart operator could undertake a going business selling tickets right now for the first pleasure cruise into the now unknown.
While I am for progress in most any form, I sincerely hope that the conquest of outer space does not come before we are ready for it—and we are not ready for it now.
Mankind has shown a pitiful inadequacy when it comes to living in peace and harmony. If there be life on other planets, then this old world is but one small neighborhood in the cosmos. If we can't live on this one planet without fighting continually among ourselves, why go out looking for trouble somewhere else—where the guys are probably bigger and meaner than we are?

Flies Need Controlling

The fly situation in Quitaque needs immediate attention! Dr. Black, our town doctor, said the flies should be killed soon as possible to prevent possible disease.

The Lions Club discussed this matter at their meeting Monday night. The Club and Dr. Black thought it would be best if the people would kill the flies at their own home.

There is a good fly killer on sale at your local stores that is doing a good job of eliminating these disease-carrying insects. This poison can be placed around trash cans, back doors, outhouses, chicken yards and other places where flies breed and live. The poison will not kill animals or fowl.

If the people will do their part in trying to kill the flies around their homes the Lions Club can spend their time at killing flies in other areas.

Your cooperation is needed - - - please act soon.

Yours Truly Herb Byars, Lion Boss

We have been placed in the Lost and Found Department —

WE HAVE LOST —

.....the ability to secure enough news each week.

WE HAVE FOUND —

.....your name being left out when it should be put in.

It is our realization that during the summer months there is very little news in a community of this size..... this is brought about by the discontinuance of many club meetings and school activities all of which provide much news during the time they are in process. This means therefore, we must now rely upon the principal every-day happenings, with which you are associated.

At the present time we are in a position where we are unable to employ extra help. In the future there will be no time available for the phoning of news. This means we will need your help and cooperation. This does not mean we do not want your news. We will be most appreciative of receiving all the news you have and put it in free of charge if you will submit it to this office in time for that weeks paper.

In order for us to receive your item in time for publication it is best we have the information as soon as possible after it has occurred. The deadline for all news copy is being set for Wednesday morning. Therefore, if any up to the minute items originate, there will be enough time allotted for their editing.

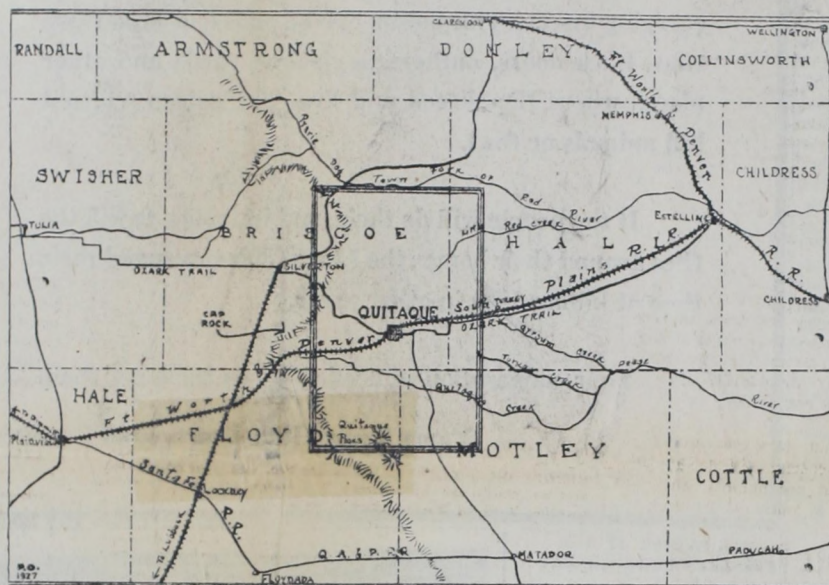

Everyone has news, whether it be you, your neighbors, in-laws, out-laws, or whoever it may be.

Details concerning each item should include the names and relationship of those participating, time it took place, where it happened and if there's a why the reason for it to be done.

The more details you give, the better story it will make.

Your complete cooperation is being solicited. If and when the Post gets back on its feet financially we then will be able to afford a news editor for you. Thank you for your cooperation.

NYC Xplorer Train Speeds Service

Strreaking across Ohio's countryside between Cleveland and Cincinnati on regular scheduled runs starting June 3 will be the New York Central's Timken-bearing-equipped Xplorer train. The dramatic new train speeds along smoothly and quietly, with the latest techniques and devices in railroad transportation working for the comfort and safety of the passengers.

Fiberglass insulation deadens outside sound from the tracks to a whisper, tinted glass in the big picture windows softens the light for easy reading, and comely hostesses are on hand to assist passengers. Only one-third as heavy as conventional equipment, and two feet lower, the Timken-bearing-equipped speedster can carry a passenger load of 392. Its light weight, 1,000 horsepower locomotive is capable of a top speed of 120 miles per hour. A unique self-banking air suspension system allows the train and its passengers to "lean" into curves, permitting The Xplorer to maintain higher speeds with more comfort to the rider.
