SRO Crowd For Boll Weevil Meeting

The Boll Weevil Control meeting held Tuesday night in the Bank Community Room resulted in a large majority of those attending the "standing room only" session signing permits to allow the spraying of their cotton fields this fall.

The government-sponsored spray program is designed to help control the diapause (overwintering) boll weevil.

Favorable response is being given by local and Plains farmers.

'Permit to spray' forms are available at the First National Bank for those who have not yet signed.

It is very important that all cotton farmers sign a permit in order that the program be successful.

SILVERTON ART EXHIBIT WAS WELL ATTENDED

Approximately 250 people viewed the more than 110 paintings and sketches on display at the Art Exhibit in Silverton last Thursday, the first day of the annual VFW Rodeo.

The paintings and sketches were done by students of Mrs. Louise Vaughan and ranged from still-life to scenery, animals, western scenery and portraits.

Two out-of-town judges Mrs. C. L. Helms and Mrs. W. A. Doan, stated that it was very hard to pick a winner since all the work was exceptionally good; therefore many ties were evident and many fourth places were given.

Due to the hot weather, the exhibit, which was scheduled to be shown on the courthouse lawn, was moved indoors.

Following is a list of the winners.

Adult division: Lanelle Montague with "A Venetian Street Scene." Second place was won by Maybelle Davis Francis, "A Violin Painting." 3rd, Maybelle Francis and Lanelle Montague, tie.

First place in still life painting was won by Mary Stark of Quitaque. Her painting was of a wine jug and fruit in an impressionistic technique.

Tying for first with Mary was Lanelle Montague with a painting of pink azaleas.

Second place winners were Nina Martin and Jewel Lyon.

Fourth place winners, another tie, were Polly Montague and Lanelle Montague. Polly, "A copper vase with yellow chrysanthemums," and Lanelle with "A red rose on black velvet."

Adult portrait division: first place winner was Polly Montague with an advanced study of a Burmese girl and harp; 2nd place went to Lanelle Montague with a portrait of her daughter.

The enormity of the Jamboree is appalling. Tents as far as the eye can see; yellow tents, red tents, green tents, blue tents, brown tents, white tents and even black tents could be seen. Each troop was divided into 4 patrols, and each patrol did its own cooking and housekeeping. The food was brought to the Jamboree grounds beginning at about 2:00 a. m. and never stopping until about 6:00 p. m. It was estimated that the number of weiners consumed at the Jamboree, laid end to end, would stretch over 50 miles.

The Jamboree was climaxed by another Jamboree-wide campfire at which President Johnson was speaker.

We left for home bright and early the next morning, and the trip that had taken ten days going, took only 4 days returning.

Boys in our troop were Rex Harmon and Jamie Johnson. Quitaque: Max Barton, Kenneth Pitts, and Mark Hill, Matador; Rusty Williams, Steve

LOCAL SCOUT DESCRIBES TRIP TO NATIONAL JAMBOREE

(Jamie Johnson and Rex Harmon returned week before last from a trip to the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. We wish to thank Jamie for this interesting account of their trip.)

We left Plainview about 9 a. m. Friday, July 7. There were seven buses from the South Plains Council, which includes counties around the Lubbock area, making the trip to the Jamboree. With 37 boys and 3 leaders in each bus, that made a tour group of 280 Scouts and Scouters. We drove hard all day and made it to Dodge City, Kansas about 5 o'clock. We spent the first night there and it rained (which got to be a regular thing).

From there on, it was driving all day, with occasional sight-seeing side trips, and resting all night. We visited the Mark Twain Cave, Lincoln's Tomb, the steamboats on the Mississippi, Greenfield Village, and the Henry Ford Museum. We spent one night at the Dunes State Park near Gary, Indiana. The Park was near Lake Michigan and we swam there one afternoon. The sight of so much water, as far as the eye could see, was an awesome sight to us Texas boys.

We spent the next night in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, and found the Canadians to be the most friendly we met. The first Sunday services were held on the Canadian side at Niagara Falls. Although it was raining, the magnificence of the Falls was not lessened.

It was also raining in New York City when we arrived, so we saw few of the sights. The World's Fair was wonderful. There was so much to see and so little time. The Bell Telephone, General Motors, and Ford exhibits were the chief attractions. For once our sight-seeing wasn't marred by rain.

We arrived at Valley Forge the day we left New York, and then spent the next day at Washington, D. C.

The Jamboree officially opened July 17, with a huge campfire; and 52,000 Scouts spread across a hill is quite a sight. There was a professional fireworks display afterwards, and then to bed, ready for the first full day at Valley Forge.

There was much to do during the week. A rifle range and shotgun range, archery ranges, orienteering areas, nature hikes, conservation exhibits, and historical hikes consumed much of our time. We found time to trade and visit, however. There were 3 skill-rama areas where each Jamboree troop exhibited a Scout skill. These ranged from a bucking barrel to cooking "hush-puppies" or Louisiana fantail shrimp. Our troop did a fire by flint and steel exhibit.

The enormity of the Jamboree is appalling. Tents as far as the eye can see; yellow tents, red tents, green tents, blue tents, brown tents, white tents and even black tents could be seen. Each troop was divided into 4 patrols, and each patrol did its own cooking and housekeeping. The food was brought to the Jamboree grounds beginning at about 2:00 a. m. and never stopping until about 6:00 p. m. It was estimated that the number of weiners consumed at the Jamboree, laid end to end, would stretch over 50 miles.

DO YOU HAVE A PERSONAL RxMAN?

It's important to select one because your pharmacist is your physician's consultant about new products—is interpreter of your physician's prescriptions—is responsible for insuring that various drugs are compatible when you have more than one prescription—is responsible for the safety of product and dosage in relation to your age and condition. Your pharmacist should in fact know almost as much about you as your physician.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Mack Truelock was pleasantly surprised Wednesday afternoon of last week when a group of friends called upon
her bringing iced tea and cake
to help her celebrate her birthday.

Mrs. Truelock's brother, Guy
and Mrs. Hammons of Flomot, stopped by the laundry where Mrs. Truelock works and told her that they believed they would go with her to her home
and drink a glass of iced tea,
wall plaques. Mr. Ham-mons hung them for her, then
sat down for a visit.

Mrs. Truelock's daughter,

Mrs. Morris Stephens, came a few minutes later, and told her mother that her grandson,
Monte, was coming for a visit.
In a short time, Mrs. Warren
Payne arrived with a birthday cake and iced tea, and the other guests arrived in rapid succession. Those calling in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Hammons and Mrs. Stephens, were Mrs. Warren Payne, Darrell, Lynn and Mrs. Patsy Martin and Donna, Mrs.
Delbert Phelps, Mrs. Orval
Cobb, Mrs. O. E. Chandler,
Mrs. W. O. Johnston, Morris
Stephens and Monte. Others sending gifts were Mrs. Billy McWilliams, Gary Payne, Mr.
and Mrs. Bob McWilliams and children, and Mrs. Bonnie Wag-
non. The gifts included a hand
painted fruit bowl and pitcher,
lingerie, pillowcases, a table
cloth, wall plaques, a flower
arrangement, a crocheted hat
with cleaning tissues, the birthday cake and tea pitcher, and a pearl necklace and earrings.

Certainly you do, that's because your air conditioning system is working harder, your refrigerator is working harder and all of your other electric appliances are performing tasks which, without them, you would have to do. Let's face it---there's no substitute for all the comfort and convenience
that electricity can give. Besides, the average WTU residential customer is paying an average of 17% less per KWH than in 1953---isn't that a happy thought?

Electricity costs so little you can use lots of it.
