Cap Rock Soil Conservation News

It is important to a rancher or farmer to know if his pastures are becoming better, just holding their own, or going downhill. Anyone with a little practice can determine this by looking if he knows what grasses and forbs should be growing on any particular soil.

To make this system easy to work with we have what we call Range Sites. These sites are tied directly with the type of soil we find in a given area. In the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District we have six range sites. All of them are different in some way, and all are capable of supporting different types of vegetation.

These range sites are: smooth hardland, Shallowland site, Cap Rock site, Mixed Land Site, Rough Broken Site, and Sandy Land Site. On all the above the vegetation is a little different, and with some overlapping occurring. Below by sites, are listed the best grasses that a site will support.

1. Smooth hardland site—Little and Feather bluestem, Western wheatgrass, Sideoats and Blue grama, and some Buffalo grass.

2. Shallowland site—Little and feather bluestem, Blue grama, Sideoats grama, and a small amount of Hairy grama.

3. Cap Rock Site—Little, Big and Feather bluestem, Switchgrass, Indiangrass, Canada Wildrye, Sideoats, and Blue grama.

Mixed land site—Little and Feather bluestem, Western wheatgrass, Canada wildrye, Sideoats and Blue grama.

5. Rough Broken site—Little bluestem, Indiangrass, Switchgrass, Western wheatgrass, Canada Wildrye, Needle-and-thread, Sideoats and Blue grama.

6. Sandy land site—Little, Big, and Feather bluestem, Indian and switch grass Canada Wildrye, and Needle-and-thread.

If any of the above sites have from 75-100% of the grasses listed, they are considered to be in excellent condition. From 50 to 75% is in good condition, from 25-50% is in fair condition and 0-25% is in poor condition.

If a farmer or rancher knows what should grow on a particular site, he can watch the grass and know what is happening to his pastures.

The Soil Conservation Service personnel at Silverton would be glad to help any rancher or farmer to understand this better by going over his place with him.

Increase Due In October In Old Age Assistance

All persons receiving Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind will get a $5.00 increase in their grants beginning in October, according to Mrs. Johnnie Weaver, Area Supervisor for the State Department of Public Welfare. Exceptions will be those who are receiving both Old Age Assistance and Old Age and Survivors Insurance, since the automatic increase will be received by them through Social Security. A lesser increase will be available for youngsters who are receiving Aid to Dependent Children.

This increase in grants is provided for by recent Congressional Legislation which raised the federal contribution $5.00 beginning in October. This now makes a maximum grant of $55.00 instead of $50.00 available for Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind. Naturally, this does not mean that everyone will receive the maximum grant of $55.00 any more than they are now receiving the maximum grant of $50.00. The amount of each grant is determined by the basic recognized needs of the individual less his income, and varies according to the individual situation. It simply means that beginning in October no grant can go higher than $55.00 instead of $50.00.

To assure that each eligible person on the Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind rolls gets the full amount of the increase the first month it is available, John H. Winters, Executive Director of the Welfare Department, has ordered that checks beginning in October be written for $5.00 more than the amount authorized on that date.

Supervisor Weaver explained that since these increases are to be automatically taken care of in Austin, it will not be necessary to get in touch with the local or Austin office of the State Welfare Department.

By way of illustration, Supervisor Weaver explained that an aged person who is not receiving Old Age and Survivors Insurance and has been getting, for example, $34.00 Old Age Assistance will receive $39.00 beginning in October.

BUFFALO ONCE ROAMED THE STREETS OF AUSTIN

Those vanishing Americans, the buffalo and the Indian, left their mark on the Texas capital, a University of Texas historian reveals.

Dr. H. Bailey Carroll, Texas State Historical Association director and University history professor, has collected extensive data on early Austin.

Buffalo probably made a trail which the earliest explorers found leading to the original fording place on the Colorado River, Dr. Carroll says. The trail was used by Spanish explorers, Mexican traders, Indian peace and war parties, and freebooters before the area was settled by Anglo-Ameri-

Mirabeau B. Lamar, second president of the Republic of Texas, is said to have killed a buffalo near the site of the present capitol.

The French Embassy, which still stands, was built in 1841 by Alphonse de Saligny, after the French representative had recommended recognition of Texas by France.

"The count did not spend much time in the legation," Dr. Carroll comments. "Indians, frequent and unfriendly visitors to Austin, affected the pulse of the Old World representative."

In April, 1844, a large herd of buffalo traversed the principal streets of Austin, going north, and several were killed near the present Capitol grounds. Never before or since have buffalo stampeded up the main thoroughfare of the regular designated capital of a nation, Dr. Carroll said.

Aunt Hetty: "Sakes alive! I don't believe no woman could ever be so fat."

Uncle Hiram: "What y' readin' now, Hetty?"

Aunt Hetty: "Why, this paper tells about an English lady that lost two thousand pounds."

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 38
 providing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of a new Section to be known as Section 50a, providing for the establishment of a State Medical Education Board and a State Medical Scholarship Fund from which grants, loans or scholarships may be made to students desiring to study medicine; providing that such students shall agree to practice in rural areas of this State; providing certain restrictions and limitations; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
 Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 50a which shall read as follows:

"Sec. 50a. The Legislature shall create a State Medical Education Board to be composed of not more than six (6) members whose qualifications, duties and terms of office shall be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall also establish a State Medical Education Fund and make adequate appropriations therefor to be used by the State Medical Education Board to provide grants, loans or scholarships to students desiring to study medicine and agreeing to practice in the rural areas of this State, upon such terms and conditions as shall be prescribed by law. The term 'rural areas' as used in this Section shall be defined by law."

 Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1952, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon (or in counties using voting machines the machines shall provide for) the following:
 "For the Constitutional Amendment providing for the establishment of a State Medical Education Fund from which grants, loans or scholarships may be made to students desiring to study medicine."

"Against the Constitutional Amendment providing for the establishment of a State Medical Education Fund from which grants, loans or scholarships may be made to students desiring to study medicine."
 Each voter shall mark out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment; and if it shall appear from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. The expense of publication and election for such amendment shall be paid out of proper appropriation made by law.

A San Francisco advertising man made reservations by mail at a Phoenix hotel for the midwinter sales conference. When he checked in, the desk clerk displayed both surprise and consternation. The gentleman's first name was Numa and the hotel clerk, assuming it to be a woman's name, had arranged for Numa to share a room with an advertising lady from Dallas. Another room was arranged, however, and all seemed well.

The following day, during pre-luncheon introductions, one young lady exclaimed, "You are Numa—?" Assured that he was, the young lady looked him straight in the eye.

"You darn fool," she said. "Where were you last night?"
 Preacher Jenkins' sermon was full of fire and brimstone. Mandy punctuated his sermon frequently with "Amen," and "That's sure tellin' 'em." She enthusiastically echoed the preacher's denunciations of lying, gambling and drinking.

When the preacher switched his disapproval to petty gossip, Mandy eased back into the pew and muttered: "Now he's done quit preachin' and gone to meddlin'."

Tired after a busy day, a distinguished congressman in Washington handed the menu back to the waiter and said: "Just bring me a good meal."

A good meal was served and the congressman gave the waiter a generous tip. "Thank you, suh," the waiter said, "an' if you got any friends what can't read, you jes' send 'em to me."

He appeared before the commanding officer, charged with using insulting language to his sergeant.

"Please, sir," he protested, "I was only answering a question."
 "What question?" snapped the officer.
 "Well, sir, the sergeant said: 'What do you think I am?' and so I told him."

Judge: "Do you wish to challenge any members of the jury?"
 Defendant: "Well, I think maybe I could lick that little guy there on the end."

She: "I see that in some parts of India a wife can be bought for $2.00. Isn't that awful?"
 He: "Oh, I don't know. A good wife might be worth it."

FW&D TO CONVERT SHOPS TO DIESEL MAINTENANCE
 Childress—As if in celebration of the 50th anniversary this year of the establishment of the main shops of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway in Childress, George S. Robertson, Superintendent of Motive Power of Burlington Lines in Texas, announced today from his Childress headquarters that approval has been given to a $350,000 expansion of the Childress shops to equip them for the servicing of diesel-electric motive power.

Heretofore it has been necessary to maintain only a small installation for light, running repairs and road servicing of diesel locomotives at Fort Worth.

It is explained by Robertson, however, that the rapid replacement of steam locomotive power with newer type diesel-electric locomotives requires a reconversion of the Childress shops so that heavy maintenance and repairs can be accomplished there.

Childress is approximately midway on the FW&D between the Gulf Ports and Denver, which makes it the most practical location for the railroad's shops.

The South Plains and North Plains Lines of the FW&D also converge with the main line of the railroad at Childress, which lends emphasis to its location from that standpoint also; moreover, the Wichita Falls-Ablene-Spur subdivision of the FW&D are not too far removed from Childress for maintenance of locomotive power used on those branches to be accomplished in the Childress shops.

The conversion from steam locomotive to diesel-electric shops will not be accomplished in one move; however, completion of this project will amount to practical conversion of the Childress locomotive shops into diesel repair unit.

The rate of retirement of the old steam power and the acquisition of new diesel power will be a factor in this work, however, it is expected to get underway by the end of August or early in September.

This improvement at Childress is a part of the recently announced plans of the Burlington Lines to purchase sufficient additional diesel power to amount to a practical complete dieselization of the entire lines of railway in Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, and Wyoming. Delivery on these new locomotives is expected to begin by January 1st.

A 70-ton, overhead, traveling crane will be installed so that the diesel repair work to be done in the reconverted Childress shops may be with the dispatch necessary to keep the large volume of traffic moving over the railroad's entire route from the Gulf Ports to Houston, Galveston, and Texas City to its northern junctions in Colorado and Wyoming.

THESE ARE RESPONSIBILITIES OF INDIVIDUAL CITIZEN

Is there a counterpart of our American "Bill of Rights?" Texas lawyers believe that for every guaranteed RIGHT, there is a corresponding RESPONSIBILITY on the part of every citizen.

Recently the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar was presented an award by the Freedom Foundation for its work during 1950-51. One of its projects during that time, and one factor in earning the award, was the development of the following "Bill of Responsibilities:"

I. It shall be the duty of every citizen to render undivided allegiance to the Constitution of the United States, to work for its betterment and perpetuation, to respect the sovereignty of the people's government, and to defend the nation against all its enemies whomsoever.

II. It shall be the duty of every citizen to be familiar with the Constitution of the United States and to be informed as to what rights and liberties are his, and to use these rights in such manner as is consistent with his own welfare and the welfare of his fellow citizens.

III. It shall be the duty of every citizen to defend with his life the rights and liberties granted to him and to his fellow citizens by the Constitution, to obey the laws of the land and aid in their enforcement, and to oppose vigorously any persons whose intention is to transgress the law or to oppress the rights of others.

IV. It shall be the duty of every citizen to make honest, wise and courageous use of the free and secret ballot at every election; to exercise freedom of thought, speech, and worship; to protect the freedom of the press, to safeguard the right of trial by jury and to render willing jury service when called upon, and to perform all other acts conducive to the perpetuation of the rights set forth

AREA EDUCATOR DIED AT HOME IN CANYON

Canyon—Funeral services for F. E. "Pop" Savage, for 30 years a member of the West Texas State College faculty, will be conducted at 10 A. M. Thursday (Aug. 14) in the First Christian Church of Canyon.

Joe Watson, minister of the Church of Christ, will officiate. Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus of West Texas State, also will speak.

Mr. Savage, 69 years old, died at 7:30 A. M. today in his home, 602 22nd Street, in Canyon. He had been ill for the past year.

Mr. Savage was born Feb. 8, 1883, in Montague County, Tex. His educational and teaching career parallels that of many leaders of the profession of his generation. He attended rural schools in Montague County, later completed his secondary education at the old North West Normal School in Denton. He was graduated from North Texas State Teachers College (now North Texas State College) in 1908, taught rural schools in Dallas County before coming to Memphis as grade school principal.

From 1911 to 1918 he was superintendent of schools in Floydada and in 1918-1919 was principal of Johnson Street School in Amarillo. He was superintendent of Tulsa schools from 1919 to 1921, when he joined the faculty of West Texas State as teacher of mathematics, a position he held until 1924 when he became director of the demonstration school and a member of the department of education staff. He served as head of the department of education in 1946 and again in 1949.

Mr. Savage held the bachelor of arts degree from West Texas State and the master of arts from George Peabody Teachers College. He did further graduate study in 1936 at New York University. During World War II he returned to his original major field to teach mathematics to Air Force students enrolled at West Texas State.

In addition to his work with professional organizations, Mr. Savage was active in civic affairs. He was a member of the Canyon Rotary Club for 20 years and was a past-president of the club. He had served as a member of the Canyon Public School board and was a member of the chamber of commerce. He had acted as both district and regional director of the Interscholastic Leagues and was organizer and director of numerous teachers' institutes.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Dr. Donald Savage, a member of the University of California faculty at Berkeley, and Winston Savage, of the University of Texas, and eight grandchildren. Mrs. Winston Savage is the former Lucile Persons of Quitaque and several relatives from here plan to attend the last rites.

DOUBLE IDENTITY

Two men were visiting a cemetery, looking for the grave of a relative, when one called to the other to look at the inscription on a head stone. "You'd never think there was room in that little grave for two people, would you?" he asked.

"What do you mean, two people?" replied the other.

"Well, look at what it says: Here Lies A Lawyer And An Honest Man."

TRUE BELIEVER

"I can't marry him, mother; he's an atheist—doesn't believe there is a hell."

"Marry him, dear, and between us we'll convince him he's wrong."

DATES ARE SET FOR BOYS' RANCH RODEO

August 31 and September 1 are the dates set for the big Eighth Annual Boys' Ranch Rodeo.

All the boys from America's First Boys' Ranch will take a two-day rest from their chores and sports to give the people of this area a first-hand look into what kind of cowboys they really are when they present their Eighth Annual Rodeo in Amarillo, Tex., over the Labor Day week end.

Two performances will be held at 2:30 on Sunday, August 31 and at 8:00 on Monday, September 1 at the Tri-State Fair Rodeo Arena in Amarillo. The Will Rogers Range Riders of Amarillo are sponsors of the rodeo, but the show will be put on entirely by the young cowboys from the Ranch.

The boys participate in every event that is seen in any professional show plus added special attractions such as trick riding and roping and the clown acts. There will not be any absence of thrills and spills because the boys are competing for prize money and for the honor of being named as the best all around cowboy of the year, which is judged according to points received in the various events.

Also on hand to entertain the audience will be the world famous and highly colorful Bit and Spur Riding Club of Kansas City, Bud Lucas with his troupe of rodeo acrobats, and the well-known stars of stage, screen, radio and television, the Whippoorwills and Georgia Brown, who appear with Roy Rogers on all his programs and in the movies.

Excitement is running high at the Ranch because many of the boys will be participating in their first rodeo. The boys represent 26 states and two foreign countries and many of them had never been close to a horse or steer before coming to Boys' Ranch, let alone participate in a lively, western rodeo. But they have learned quickly and well and they promise the spectators an action studded show.

All proceeds from the Boys' Ranch Rodeo will be used for the Boys' Ranch expansion program which will help provide for many more boys. General Admission tickets for adults are $1.50 and children's tickets are $.75. Reserved seats are priced at $2.25. Tickets will be available by mail, at B. F. Goodrich, Vance Hall Sporting Goods and Henry Blackburn's Sporting Goods stores in Amarillo or at the arena on the two days of the Rodeo.

BIG CONSTRUCTION JOB STARTS ON HIGHWAY 66

McLean—Gravel trucks are rolling and cars loaded with sand and gravel are taking up every available foot of railroad siding at Alanreed and McLean as work begins on the largest single highway construction job in the history of the state.

It's the building of 11 1/4 miles of paving to make a four-lane divided highway of Route 66 beginning at the Gray-Wheeler county line and extending to a point at the eastern city limits of Alanreed.

The contract, let to the Austin Road Company of Dallas and West Construction Company of Fort Worth, calls for expenditure of more than $1,563,000.

When his health began to fail, an easterner decided to go west to the wide open spaces. In a small town in Arizona, he approached an old man sitting on the steps of the local store. "Say," he asked, "what's the death rate around here?" "Same as it is back east, brother," replied the old fellow, "one to a person."

What sign were you born under?

It makes a difference, some folks say! But whatever your sign — one thing you probably have in common with most Americans is that either directly or indirectly you're an owner of one of America's electric light and power companies like the West Texas Utilities Company.

It's like this: about three million people from all walks of life — teachers, housewives, doctors, mechanics, farmers — put their savings into companies like the West Texas Utilities. They're direct owners.

Another seventy-five million people, through their life insurance policies and savings bank accounts, are indirect owners. For their banks invest a substantial part of their premiums and savings in the securities of the nation's electric companies.

So, you see, these companies, like the West Texas Utilities, that serve nearly everybody are owned by nearly everybody!

more than 275,000 square yards of concrete slabs is the largest single concrete paving job ever to be contracted in Texas.

The new section of Highway 66 will have a built-in center stripe, made on an iron oxide mixture in the concrete which will be one inch deep. The concrete slabs themselves are 10-inches in thickness.

Also new is the flexible road joint—corrugated steel strips to be installed at 15-foot intervals in the highway to add strength to the road and eliminate the black asphalt joints.

The new highway will be wide—six feet of asphalt on the shoulders on both sides of the concrete strip.

Give what you have. To some it may be better than you dare to think.

A visitor in a Scottish city was surprised to find the streets deserted and asked the reason why.

"Tag Day" was the reply. Two weeks later the visitor returned and found the streets jammed with people.

"Tag Day was a failure," it was explained to him, "so they're conducting a house-to-house canvass."

GLENN LEWIS AND HIS MOTHER APPRECIATE SUPPORT

A letter from Mrs. Nora Lewis at San Angelo conveys her appreciation and that of her son Glenn Lewis for the splendid vote which he received from this area in his race for the state supreme court in the recent democratic primary. Mrs. Lewis says friends there feel that he ran a fine race and even tho' he did not win they do not regret the help they gave him. She says that Glenn felt very badly over his friends disappointment in the outcome of his race, and he appreciated deeply their fine loyalty and help that they gave him. She says that he realized when he was solicited to make the race that he would have a difficult one because the other candidates came from much more densely populated parts of the state and were more widely known than he was. Mrs. Lewis says she is feeling very well but a bit disappointed because she will not get to make a trip to Quitaque this year—she says "I look forward each summer to coming up there like a kid looking for Santa."

BIRTHDAY AT THE BRADLEYS

BLOOD!

We want to know if you have any blood!

The American Legion, Wise-James Post, No. 525 is sponsoring a drive to get each and everyone to have their blood typed at no cost to you.

The program is to get a permanent record to be kept at the Quitaque hospital, of the owners of the various types so that in case of an emergency blood types can be matched without the long delay of hunting and typing each person, until it's too late.

Blood typing will start about September 1, and you can make the appointment now to get yours typed. The process is painless and will take only a few moments of your time.

There is always the possibility that it may be your loved one in some hospital needing the assistance of this program in the years to come—so please cooperate by making your appointment in the near future. Thank you.

FARM INFORMATION

L. R. ARMSTRONG
 Quitaque FFA Adviser

I wonder if rotation of cotton fields doesn't help to control harmful insects to a certain extent. A number of our insects winter in old cotton stalks, field trash and in grass and weeds at fence rows. Gerald Smith and I looked in his cotton last Saturday on J. T. Person's land south of town. We found very few insects and it is on land that was in wheat last year.

We are careless sometime by not keeping the weeds in our fields under control for quite a few of them are host plants to various insects. The purple nite-shade (white weeds) is host to the cotton flea hopper particularly before cotton is up and the careless weed is host to the careless weed worm.

I was particularly gratified while down town by one of our young men, Lynn Rhoderick, of the interest he showed in the activities of the FFA Chapter. A young man who has finished high school can still remain a member of the FFA Chapter until he is 21 and take an active part in its operations. I would like to see more young farmers here in our Chapter. I plan to have interesting programs this next year.

If enough farmers would be interested I would be interested in seeing an Agriculture Club formed which could do a lot for the betterment of our farming industry in our Community. We could bring in experts on the various subjects we would want to study. The farmers are the least organized of all segments of our society and an organization is what a Politician will listen too, not the voice of a single individual.

A Cause Found For X-Disease

The mystery of X-Disease is rapidly being unraveled through research. Dr. Dennis Sikes, veterinarian with the University of Tennessee Agricultural Experiment Station has induced the condition with small quantities of penta-chlorinated naphthalene compounds sometimes found in lubricants, penetrating oils, wood preservatives, insecticides, and elsewhere. Many cattle may come in contact with these products in modern farm practices. All such products do not contain Chlorinated Naphthalenes, however an animal might get enough of this to cause death by licking out an empty grease can. A more complete discussion of this may be found in the August issue of the Progressive Farmer.

Bapt. Women To Stage Book Pickup Drive

Women of the Baptist church will launch a pick-up drive for books for the free library which they are sponsoring, on Tuesday August 19. From 9 until 10 a. m. and 4:30 to 6:30 p. m. committees will cover the town soliciting books or donations.

The library is for everyone to use. Books may come under these classifications: general works, philosophy, religion, social sciences, languages, fine arts, literature, fiction, juvenile and youth books. All will be appreciated. Books of any kind may be given as a memorial, preferably encyclopedias, concordances, atlases, dictionaries, etc.

The town will be divided into districts and committees will be responsible for each, as follows:

The northeast section: Mmes. Wayne Hunter, O. R. Stark, Jr., Leon McCracken, A. E. Gragson, John Rogers, Earl Wise.

The northwest section: Mmes. Ed Dunavant, Buddy Morris, Marion Wilson, J. C. Rhoderick, Jr. and J. W. Lyon.

The southwest section: Mmes. Ray Persons, E. E. Berry, Odell Johnston, Alvin Hamm, B. F. Rhoderick.

The southeast section: Mmes. Hubert Gilbert, Reg Cushmanberry, Rog Burgess, Orlin Stark, Scott Bolton.

IN KOREA

With The 2nd Infantry Div. in Korea—Charlie B. (Brittain) Parker, nephew of Mrs. W. W. Merrell of Quitaque, recently was promoted to sergeant first class while serving with the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea.

The division was one of the first to fight in Korea and gained fame last fall by its conquest of "Heartbreak" and "Bloody" ridges.

Since joining the division in October 1951, SFC Parker has been serving as chief of the field artillery section in the 38th Field Artillery Battalion.
