WHICH ONE WILL BE THE PRINCESS AND QUEEN?—One of these darling little girls and one of these lovely young ladies will reign as the Lions Club Princess and Queen for 1977-78 when the final tabulation is made at the annual Harvest Festival Saturday night, Oct. 8, following the auction at the Community Building where the event will be held.

The Princess contestants are all first graders and the Queen contestants are senior students. Escorts for the Princess are Darla Ellis, escorted by Matt Burgett, Brandi Kiz Ratliff, escorted by Trey Wolski, Cari Schatzle, escorted by Darren Procter, Sherry Schumann, escorted by Blain Oden and Kymber Tuttle, escorted by Chad Tubb. The Queen escorts are Lesa DuLaney, escorted by Tom Sinclair, Lori Harrison, escorted by Lance Morris, Cindy Jackson, escorted by David Levins, Jamie Myers, escorted by Rod Warren and Belinda Seale, escorted by Billy Glenn.

Harvest Festival To Kick Off Saturday With Variety of Games, Entertainment

Everybody is welcome and there will be fun galore for everyone, both young and old, when the annual Lions Club Festival is kicked off Saturday, Oct. 8, at 10 a.m. down the main part of Shallowater.

The parade committee is urging all persons that would be interested to enter a float in the parade. A prize of $25, $15 and $10 will be given for the best float in the parade.

There will be prize money of $10-$7.50 and $5.00 for the best decorated bicycle in the parade, and something new has been added this year when a first, second and third prize will be given for the best clown costume. Riding Club groups are especially invited to attend and enter the parade.

Also antique car enthusiasts are urged to polish up that pride and joy and enter it in the parade.

A delicious barbecue dinner with all the trimmings will be served by the members at noon. There will be various games and entertainment throughout the afternoon and evening.

There will be a raffle during the evening when the winner will have their choice of one of the three prizes, a portable television, 12 gauge shotgun, or a beautiful painting. The prizes are displayed at the Shallowater First State Bank. Also the princess and queen contestants pictures are on display and for each penny spent, you may vote for the contestant of your choice. The raffle tickets sell for a dollar each, and provides 100 votes for each ticket towards the contestant you wish to vote for.

Highlighting the full day of entertainment will be the announcement and crowning of the princess and queen to reign for a year as the Lions Club Royalty.

Make your plans now to attend as there will be plenty of fun for everyone and you will be helping the Lions Club in raising funds for worthy causes they sponsor.

Dub Bowlus of KCBD-TV will be leading the Harvest Festival parade this year as parade marshal as it makes its way down main street to the Community Building where everybody is welcome to be present for the all day affair. Bowlus, who tries real hard to predict the weather, finds that Mother Nature can play tricks on him and what he predicts for the weather at 6 p.m. may very well be different at 10 p.m. and sometimes it makes him want to just wait and see what kind of weather we're going to have and that way it will be a surprise to everyone, himself included.

Party Line

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robertson of Golden City, Mo., spent a couple of days last week with their daughter, the Darrell Boswell family enroute to Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. Harry Guiberson from Rome, Texas, a longtime friend of the Jack DuLaney and Cecil DuLaney families, is here visiting in their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burgett were in Amarillo over the weekend visiting their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Conner and children, his mother, Mrs. Jennie Irwin, and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. George Burgett.

In Ralls Saturday for an all day Sunday School workshop were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Masten, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Deavours, Mrs. Donna Arnold, Mrs. Debbie Martin and Robert Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. M.T. Stanton were hosts Monday night for a birthday dinner, honoring their son, Jay Stanton. Others present were Mrs. Jay Stanton and daughters.

The new father is a self employed building contractor.

City Council to Have Special Meeting

A special meeting of the City Council is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday, October 3 to consider the rate increase requested by Southwestern Public Service Co. The mayor would like the public to attend.

Notice

A PTA meeting will be held at 7 p.m. October 6, at the cafeteria for a panel discussion.

Diabetes Detection Booth At Fair

The Greater Lubbock Chapter of the American Diabetes Association is conducting a detection booth at the South Plains Fair September 24-30. The booth will be located in the Fair Park Coliseum and is being run in conjunction with the American Heart Association.

Everyone is invited to drop by for a visit, pick up some literature and be tested free. This test involves a prick of the finger and does not diagnose diabetes, but shows if a person might need to see a doctor.

For more information call the Association's number, 792-4597.

Shallowater Newcomers
Newcomers to the Shallowater community are Jesse Madry of 1205 6th, Phil Martin of 709 Ave. L, Howard Pyatt of 1318 5th. Also Larry Byrd of 706 13th, and Patricia M. Nixon of 907 7th.

Constipation: relief without fear

School Board Members, Wives Attend Convention

School Board members and their wives attending the Texas Association of School Boards Convention in San Antonio over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Newman Lusk, Mr. and Mrs. Butch Pair, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Pointer, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Burgett, and Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Gates. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hohertz.

The convention started with a general assembly at 10:30 Saturday, September 24th with approximately 3,000-4,000 board members and administrators present. The primary speakers were Dr. Norman Hall, President Elect of American Association of School Administrators, and Mr. Will Davis, President of the National School Board Association. For the remainder of the day topics on Promising Practices in Education were conducted for board members and administrators. Presenting these topics were people from the following schools: Odessa Schools, Corpus Christi Independent School District, Copperas Cove I.S.D., Irving I.S.D., Kerrville I.S.D., and San Antonio I.S.D. Board members also had an opportunity to attend some of the twenty-five mini-clinics conducted on Public Relations for schools on Sunday afternoon.

The schedule for Monday, September 26th consisted of 21 different topics. These topics covered almost all phases of school boards responsibilities to include School Law, Instructional Leadership, Meeting Accreditation Standards, Financing, Tax Problems, Educating the Handicapped, Discipline, Budgets, Vocational Education, and many others.

At 12:15 on September 26th all

Shallowater I.S.D. board members and administrators attended a luncheon at which approximately 5000 board members and administrators from all over Texas heard remarks by the Honorable Bill Clayton, Speaker, Texas House of Representatives and an address by the Honorable Dolph Briscoe, Governor of Texas.

The board members and wives returned home via Southwest Airlines, 7:30 p.m. Monday, September 26th.

Youth House Reopens Here

Robert Cooper, Minister to Youth at First Baptist Church, has announced the reopening of the church's Youth House. It began on Saturday evening, September 24th. At various times, 14 Shallowater youth, grades 7-12, played pool, air hockey, or just talked. Highlights of the evening were the Tech-A&M game by radio, and a half-time devotional brought by Robert.

Members of the church Youth Committee assist in the operation of the House. This past week Truman and Bobbie Ellis were a great help.

Yet to be set up are more game tables and root beer in the soft drink vender donated by Julia Hohenberger when she changed business locations.

The Youth House is open to all Shallowater youth in grades 7-12. It is open most Saturday evenings, plus some other times. Saturday, October 1st, it will be open from 2-10 p.m.

4-H Week Highlights "Freedom To Be"

COLLEGE STATION — The 1977 National 4-H Week theme, "4-H—Freedom to Be," embodies the belief that young people across the United States have the freedom to develop into the person they want to be.

National 4-H Week is Oct. 2-8 and this year's theme will be the core behind the special events designed to promote 4-H and its organizational activities.

"National 4-H Week is scheduled annually by the Cooperative Extension Service to bring public attention to the values of 4-H as an informal, youth educational program that stresses development of practical skills, leadership and citizenship," notes Dr. John T. Pelham, state 4-H and youth leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"4-H uses the American free enterprise system through the combined knowledge of 4-H leaders and the involved youngsters to create a better environment to live and grow in," adds the 4-H leader.

According to Pelham, the 1977 theme means the freedom to set goals and reach for opportunities. "While it is the freedom to understand one's own aspirations and needs, it is also the freedom to appreciate people of other cultures and other lands."

As President Carter explained in a message to 4-H members and volunteer leaders: "4-H—Freedom to Be" is the most appropriate theme for an effort that reaches out to all young Americans — rural and urban — from all racial, cultural, economic and social backgrounds. For many, 4-H is the door to a lifetime of personal growth and self-fulfillment."

Girl Scouts Make Plans

Girl Scout Troop 89 is off to a bang this year. The junior troop has enrolled 19 girls so far and has big plans for the year.

On Sept. 21, at their first meeting, they were divided into patrols. Leaders for the patrols are Tammy Tischler, Sherri Fairhurst and Kim Fairhurst. Assistant leaders are Debra Brock, Shawnda Dewbre and Anna Masten.

The patrols decided on names for each patrol and designed a flag for each patrol.

Tammy Tischler was elected troop scribe for three months.

After a game inside the girls ate watermelon outside and had a seed spitting contest. Linda Schropshire won the seed spitting contest and won a beautiful watermelon to take home to the folks.

In the Feely Bag contest Rani Schatzle came in first place. This week the girls will have a Scrapbook Cover Contest.

Come join the fun! For any information call Judie Tischler at 832-4339 or Shirley Tipton at 832-4092 or Paulette Lamb at 873-3487.

"King's Kids" Program Begun

The United Methodist Church has begun a Children's Ministry Program that will meet each Wednesday afternoon, after school.

Titled "King's Kids," it is for children ages kindergarten through third grades. The kindergarten and first graders will be picked up on Wednesday evening at 2:30 and the second and third graders at 3 p.m. with leaders providing free transportation.

Lasting until 4 p.m. the purpose of the Children's Ministry Program is to reach out and get the children involved. There will be singing, scripture memory, Bible stories, arts and crafts.

APPLE CIDER AND DOUGHNUTS

Cool apple cider and fresh warm whole wheat doughnuts make a perfect snack for autumn days. These are economy foods, but in addition they offer an impressive array of nutrients as well as good eating. The doughnuts are made of yeast and whole wheat flour and are good plain, though they may be sugared, glazed or frosted. Top off the snack with a fresh, crisp apple and you'll add more nutrients, take sugar off your teeth, and exercise teeth and gums as well. How can anything so delicious be so good for you?

WHOLE WHEAT DOUGHNUTS

(Makes about 20 doughnuts)

- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons Fleischmann's Margarine
- 1/4 cup warm water (105° F. - 115° F.)
- 1 package Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
- 2 eggs
- 2 to 3-1/4 cups unsifted flour
- 1 3/4 cups whole wheat flour
- Planters Peanut Oil
- Granulated, confectioners' or cinnamon sugar

Scald milk; stir in 1/3 cup sugar, salt and margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large bowl. Sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, eggs and 1 1/2 cups flour; beat until smooth. Add enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 5 to 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Punch dough down; turn out onto lightly floured board. Roll out and shape as desired. Place on greased baking sheets. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Handle doughnuts as little as possible to prevent falling.

Fry in deep hot (375° F.) peanut oil 2 to 3 minutes, turning once, or until golden brown. Drain on paper towels. While slightly warm, toss in granulated, confectioners' or cinnamon sugar.

VARIATIONS:
Crullers: Prepare as recipe directs. To shape, divide dough in half. Roll each half to a 9 x 12-inch rectangle. Cut each piece in strips 1-inch wide and 12-inches long. Fold each strip in half. Twist strands together. Seal ends. Proceed as above.

Glazed Doughnuts: Blend together 2 cups unsifted confectioners' sugar, 1/3 cup milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Dip warm doughnuts into glaze. Drain on rack set over waxed paper.

Chocolate Covered Doughnuts: Blend together 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup and 1/3 cup confectioners' sugar or enough to make a thick pouring consistency until smooth. Spread over tops of cooled doughnuts.

Confectioners' Sugar Frosting: Blend together 1 cup confectioners' sugar with 1 tablespoon milk or enough to make a thick pouring consistency. Drizzle over doughnuts as desired.

FHA Places First at Fair

Shallowater Future Homemakers of America placed first with their fair entries at the South Plains Fair this year. The girls made and entered a variety of items in the various categories of linens, sewing, crafts, canning, and baked goods. In return, they received many ribbons for their outstanding work and recognition as the FHA Chapter with the most points. Records are kept on each chapter and each participant with blue ribbons receiving three points, red ribbons two points, and white ribbons one point.

Dee Ann Cobb through her endeavours became the second high point entrant. She has been a very busy person this last year making and preparing entries of all kinds and descriptions. Congratulations, Dee Ann!

The Shallowater entries are on display in the Women's building at the Fair. Please go and look at the exhibits. It is an opportunity to see the interests, talents, and capabilities of all these girls. They are to be commended for their contributions. Next week pictures and a list of all winners will appear in the paper.

The National Honor Society of Frenship High School is currently working on expanding the Wolfforth Merchants Scholarship Fund established last year. Members of the NHS will contact merchants to acquaint them with the program. The purpose of the program is to help a deserving senior attend college.

Last year the merchants gave a $100 scholarship to Glenn Cottrill. This scholarship is awarded on graduation night. All area merchants will be contacted by the middle of November.

By Georgia Doherty Serve That Watermelon Rind

I judged the Dawson County Fair a couple of weeks ago and one of the ladies had exhibited delicious watermelon rind pickles. Watermelon rind is a favorite for pickles and preserves — and they're easy to prepare.

Watermelon Rind Preserves

1 pound watermelon rind
1 1/2 teaspoons pickling lime
2 cups sugar
2 quarts water
2 tablespoons ginger root
1/2 lemon, thinly sliced

Use only white part of rind. Cut into 1-inch pieces.

Soak 3 1/2 hours in lime water. Use 1 1/2 teaspoons pickling lime to 1 quart water. Drain and place in clear water for 1 hour. Then drain and boil for about 1 1/2 hours in fresh water. Drain.

Make a syrup of 2 cups sugar to 2 quarts water. Drop watermelon rind and ginger root into boiling syrup. Boil for about 1 hour. As syrup thickens, add lemon—and spices if desired.

When somewhat thick, pack in hot canning jars with fruit to 3/4-inch of top and add syrup to 1/2-inch of top of jar.

Remove air bubbles with a knife. Wipe top of jar with a clean, damp cloth. Close with jar lids. Process in boiling water bath for 10 minutes.

Watermelon Pickles

Rind of 1 (20 lb.) watermelon
1 gallon cold water
2 tablespoons pickling salt
2 cups white 5% acid strength vinegar
7 cups sugar
1 tablespoon whole cloves
2 or 3 sticks cinnamon

Trim off outer green skin and pink flesh of thick rind. Cut with small cookie cutter, cut in 1-inch squares, or any desired shape.

Place in a large container. Combine 1 gallon cold water and 2 tablespoons salt. Add to watermelon rind. Let stand overnight. Drain and rinse in cold water. Cover with ice water. Let stand 1 hour.

Drain rind and place in a large kettle. Cover with boiling water. Bring to boiling; reduce heat and simmer until tender. Drain well.

Combine vinegar and sugar in large kettle. Tie cloves and cinnamon sticks in cheesecloth bag; add to kettle. Bring to boiling. Add rind. Cook gently until rind is clear and transparent. Remove spice bag. Turn rind and syrup into a crock or glass container and let stand 24 hours.

Drain rind; reserve syrup in a large saucepan. Bring syrup to boiling. Pack rind in 6 hot sterilized pint jars. Pour boiling syrup over rind filling to within 1/4-inch from top. Wipe top of jar with clean, damp cloth. Adjust lids.

Process in boiling water bath 5 minutes. Start to count the processing time when water in canner returns to boiling. Remove jars. Cool on wire rack overnight. Check jars for airtight seal. Makes 6 pints.

How We Spend

Of 214.5 million Americans, no two have exactly the same spending habits. Yet most of us are at least mildly curious how other people use their money.

According to the Bureau of Labor, here's how families spend: Housing—20-26% of income; food—20-30% of income; transportation—7-9% of income; clothing and personal care—9-11% of income; medical care—4-9% of income; other family consumption—5-6% of income; personal taxes—8-19% of income; social security and disability withholding—4-6% of income; other items—4-5% of income.

A sure way to determine where your dollars go is to work out a spending plan and then keep track of your expenses in a record book.

Athletic Booster Club News

by Dale Jackson

The Mustang Athletic Booster Club held its weekly meeting on Tuesday night, Sept. 27, in the high school auditorium.

We had a good turnout present along with all four football coaches in attendance. We were also very pleased to have two members of the school board present.

More discussion was made toward the purchase of the Hydra Gym training equipment which if finalized will be approved about mid-October. A game film of the Shallowater-Hale Center contest was shown and narrated by Coach Wolski.

Refreshment of iced lemonade was served by President Doyce Middlebrook and Mrs. Joe Cox.

High school principal Mr. Beryl Harris made the announcement that he would like to invite everyone to the pep rally at the high school gym this coming Friday, Sept. 30 at 2:30 to cheer the team for the game against the state ranked Farwell Steers. We believe our young men will play to win against Farwell.

"Fearless Frederick's" pick for this week's game is: Shallowater 21, Farwell 14.

Are you a wise shopper?

Of course you want to shop wisely so that you make the best use of your time and your fashion budget. A few guidelines will help you to do just that.

The wise shopper looks and reads.

A bit of comparison shopping never hurts. It's smart to check out fabric and workmanship and aim for the best buy for the price. Hangtags and labels should be read with care. Should the dress be machine-washed or dry-cleaned? Will it need ironing? Questions like these, and the answers to them, will help you make the right buying decisions.

The wise shopper checks fit.

It can't be said too often—clothes don't look their best if they don't fit well. Anything too snug, too loose, too long, or too short just isn't becoming.

One way to help determine proper fit is to wear the underfashions and the shoes that you'll be wearing with what you're buying. Study your image from all angles in front of a dressing room mirror. Then test the fit by sitting and moving.

As you check the fit of a coat, remember that it will top several layers of clothing. Coat armholes, for example, shouldn't be too high and sleeves mustn't be too snug.

Trousers can be another common fit problem. They should hang straight from the hipline, touch the top of the shoe in front and cover the top of the shoe in back. Trousers that stop at the anklebone or completely cover the heel just don't fit properly.

The wise shopper spends carefully.

Do plan to put sufficient money into items that must take hard wear and be worn for several seasons to come—like coats and shoes. Instead of spending for fad items that come and go, give a fresh look to your wardrobe with inexpensive accessories like scarves and belts. Realize that well-made classic clothes will defy style changes.

Do check out the sales.

But never buy an item just because it's a special or a markdown. That beautiful white blouse on sale at half-price, for instance, is really no bargain if it can only be dry-cleaned. As a general rule, it's best to judge a sale item by the same standards you apply to regular-priced clothes.

The wise shopper sometimes breaks the rules.

Every so often, once in a season perhaps, you'll discover something totally irresistible that takes you (and your wardrobe plan) by surprise. If you look and feel marvelous wearing it, if you're sure it's not just a whim, and if it won't bend your budget—go right ahead and buy it.

Helping promote Shallowater Commerce.

It is difficult to measure the impact that White's Stores, Inc. has made for Shallowater area residents. General Manager of the Distribution Center, Emmett Coffelt, and Western Region Retail Division General Manager, Ken Clements, have fit right into the community as well as numerous other employees. Economically, the taxes paid by this giant corporation have given a real boost to Shallowater Independent School District funds and revenue paid into the city of Shallowater doubled the first year the Distribution Center was opened. All this with very little fanfare and strain on the school system or the city's facilities and services.

The White's organization's largest Distribution Center opened in Shallowater in 1973 and serves 132 stores located in the five states of Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, western Texas and western Oklahoma. White's presently employs 78 full time employees and eight of these are in managerial and supervisory capacities. Their payroll pumps over one million dollars per year into the local economy.

Mr. Coffelt, with his pleasing personality and positive attitude immediately found a place of leadership in Shallowater and has a reputation in the Whites organization of running the best Distribution Center among all their locations including Wichita Falls, Texas; Lufkin, Texas; Jackson, Mississippi; and Macon, Georgia.

Mr. Clements has been active in the South Plains Shrine Club and is on the Industrial Development Committee of the Shallowater Chamber of Commerce.

The First State Bank of Shallowater is pleased to have played a major roll in securing a corporation of this caliber for Shallowater and we congratulate White's on their high quality personnel and the active roll they play in the socio-economic standards they have helped create.

Home Buyers Should Not "Wait 'Til Next Year"

The average cost of a new single-family home has increased more than 100 per cent in 10 years, and this trend is likely to continue, says Kenneth E. Graeber, economist in real estate with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. His information is based on recent U.S. Department of Commerce reports.

Given population and inflation trends, Graeber projects an average home appreciation rate of 8 per cent annually. "If the trend continues, homes selling for $35,000 today might sell for $63,000 in 10 years," contends the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Many families have postponed purchasing a home in hopes of saving up to buy or build their 'dream' home. However, inflation may prevent these individuals from ever owning their own home," notes Graeber.

Studies indicate that buyers of similar income levels who previously owned homes pay 20 to 30 per cent more for homes than buyers who previously rented. "This is, in part, due to an accumulation of equity in the first home which can be reinvested in the next," points out the economist.

"Other individuals have postponed purchase until interest rates decline. Any benefits gained by waiting for lower interest rates could be offset if homes cost increased.

"A properly selected and cared for home will remain one of the better investments for most families," contends Graeber. "The motto of 'Wait 'Till Next Year' might best be reserved for football."

Church of Christ Has Camp Out

The first annual father and son camp out was enjoyed by men and boys of the Church of Christ Friday night and Saturday at White River with 17 people attending.

The group enjoyed fishing, boating and camping out. Those attending were J.W. Tuttle and sons, Layne and Tim, Carl Jones and sons, Richard and Ronnie, Rayburn Garten and son, Randal, Richard Hopson and son, Cameron, Billy Hayslip, Darrell Boswell, Tom Barton, Ronnie Sherwood, Ed Cole, Len Richey and Bruce Cody.

The group reported a very good time, and are already planning for next year's camp out.

KELLY'S HEROES

By JOE KELLY

Texas A&M literally kicked Texas Tech out of Jones Stadium and the Southwest Conference lead. More particularly, it was a combination of David Appleby and Tony Franklin.

Appleby's booming punts, especially in the second half, along with Franklin's kickoffs and field goals did more to puncture the Raider dream than anything else. And the Aggie defense, given that kind of kicking, kept Tech bottled up.

Indeed, the Raiders never got past their own 26 yard line in the second half. Everything they tried failed and the only thing that kept them in the game was an Aggie fumble recovery and Mike Mock's heroic punting.

Eventually, Mock tired and the Aggies managed to get close enough for Franklin to drive the final nails in the coffin. There was little or nothing Tech could do about it.

Franklin is incredible. I was on the sidelines for the final five minutes or so. Standing near Tech bench I had a good view of the go-ahead field goal.

It was typical. Franklin got his foot into the ball and it took off like a rocket. Franklin gets unbelievable height in his kicks. Opposing teams have little or no chance of blocking a kick unless they get there about the time the ball leaves the ground.

There will be those saying that the season is all but over for Tech. That's nonsense. It was a defeat, but it wasn't the end. There are a lot of games left—for both teams.

It was a big victory for the Aggies, but they still have seven tough games left. And the Raiders, with one loss, are far from out of the race. Sure, it slowed the team down, but it sure isn't the end. Tech can come back and still win or tie.

A lot of folks forget that, even without Rodney Allison, the score was 17-17 with five minutes left to play. Thus, you have to give credit to Tres Adami for doing an adequate job. When the Raiders grabbed a fumble, they capitalized on it and Adami was at the throttle.

An Allison Adami isn't, but how many quarterbacks in the country are there that are that good? Adami can do an adequate job and, for most of the games, that will be enough.

"We're going to have to regroup," a solemn Steve Sloan said after the game. "We'll have to modify our offense. We have two non-conference games, Rice and then a week off before Texas. I hope that Rodney will be back by that time."

Sloan and Adami will have a lot of intensive work together this week, along with a sophomore Tech hoped to red shirt.

"We had hoped to red shirt Johnson," Sloan said, "but we can't now. He's our backup."

Adami took Tech on one 69-yard drive late in the second quarter. That ended in Blake Adams' missed field goal. Outside of that one thrust, the Raiders couldn't move the ball.

Indeed, they were fortunate to be tied with five minutes left. A&M picked up 88 yards rushing and 99 yards passing the last half, while Tech had a minus six yards rushing and only 33 passing. Tech lost 35 yards attempting to pass the last half.

Defensively, the Raiders were brilliant and that goalline stand has to be one of the most impressive performances. And George Woodard was held well in check. He average "only" 3.2 yards and Dickey, the most dangerous, averaged only 2.8 yards.

Mock's kicking was more than adequate and Adams set a new Tech field goal record. But Mock spent most of the second half kicking from the back end zone line.

Offensively, the Raider were inept. They had enough drive to turn a fumble into a touchdown. Otherwise, they could not move the ball. They had only two first downs the last half.

You have to give credit to the Aggies, who obviously were more determined to win. Their defense didn't give Tech a chance to get out of the hole and the kicking game kept Tech there. It was a disappointing performance, even though the Raiders were in the game with less than four minutes remaining.

Would Allison have made the difference in the outcome? That question can never be answered. You have to believe that he would have and that Tech probably would have won with Allison on hand.

But, you don't KNOW that and there never will be a chance to prove it. In the final analysis, A&M won because of brilliant kicking, stout defense and absence of enough big plays by Tech.

So, as Steve said, Tech must regroup, fit the offense to what Adami can do and play with inspiration. Anything less than 100 per cent from now on could spell a drought at Raiderland.

Steve's humor was blunted a bit, but he wanly came up with some to relieve the tension. And fans had better get their "I Believe In Steve" buttons out, because you I know that he's going back to work with his staff and they, for sure, haven't given up. Tech can still have a great season and on that you can make book.

Sheridan's Ride

By JACK SHERIDAN

Readers of this column may remember back to the Wednesday, Sept. 7, issue of the West Texas Times. This contained an article, a "Tribute to Ethel Waters," on the day following her funeral at the Church of the Resessional, Forest Lawn, Glendale, Calif. It was a few words of love for a woman known to me as "Mom" and to whom I was "Son Jack," proudly so.

Many of you know that Ethel Waters had been ill for many years, heart and progressive complications. What you do not know is that following her August, 1975, appearance as soloist in Jones Stadium with the Billy Graham Crusade, she became steadily worse and her public appearances were curtailed. She was 80 when she died on Sept. 1 and she died in the home of a Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeKorte (Julie) in Chatsworth, California, after a torturous and cruelly drawn-out final span.

Rarely has devotion and the following of the precept of Christian living been so flamingly underscored as it was during the nine months period that the DeKorte family harbored, nursed and cared for the ailing, great star. That they did and unstintingly. Those are sparrows that His eye must surely be on constantly.

This weekend I received a letter from Julie DeKorte, along with a couple of superb glossy photos of Miss Waters and a copy of the funeral arrangements at Forest Lawn (Paul DeKorte sang at the services, "Finally Home" and a duet with Dick Bolks, the organist, "Just a Closer Walk with Thee" and the service was conducted by Dr. Grady Wilson of the Billy Graham Association). Also in the funeral folder, which listed the birth, in Chester, Pa., October 31, 1896 (Hallowe'en — or "Hallowed Eve" to use the proper term— and certainly it was) and the death Sept. 1, 1977.

Included in the folder was the verse and chorus of the song most identified with Miss Waters, the rock of her faith, the title of her autobiography, "His Eye Is on the Sparrow."

"Why should I feel discouraged, why should the shadows come, why should my heart be lonely away from heaven and home, when Jesus is my portion? My constant friend is He: His eye is on the sparrow, and I know He watches me; His eye is on the sparrow, and I know He watches me. I sing because I'm happy, I sing because I'm free, for His eye is on the sparrow, and I know He watches me."

And the blessed Julie DeKorte took time this week to write to me of the past months leading to the passing of Miss Waters and there are a couple of excerpts that I want to share with you.

"It hurt me how everyone was saying she died in poverty. She paid her own way until the end, and although she didn't have a large bank account, still she did have a little nest egg to give to Billy Graham Associates. As you know, she was extremely generous in her lifetime, and gave away most of what she had—she did not waste it.

"This summer was very difficult. Mom (Miss Waters) suffered a great deal. The last two weeks—I hardly left her bedside. We prayed (she and I) so hard that the Lord would release her from her worn out body, and Praise the Lord, He did. The last night was particularly difficult. I sat by her all night and when dawn came—the Lord took her. I wish you could have seen the peaceful look that came over her face. I resented not being able to see what she was seeing after we talked about it so much. I felt cheated.

"I feel at loose ends. For nine months my life has revolved around caring for her. I couldn't leave the house without a nurse here. Now the children are in school, and Mom is gone. The room looms dark and there's no smile as I pass—no noise from the TV and radios to fill the house. But NEVER would I wish her back."

Loving kindness is what it's all about and Paul and Julie DeKorte carry that proud jewel with them and the gratitude of so many of us who knew Ethel Waters as Mom and to whom we were Sons and Daughters, unforgettably and gratefully, for all time.

I went off to the Civic Center Friday night solo and stag unfortunately to attend the dinner dance that Civic Lubbock, Inc. put on in the cavernous Exhibit Hall featuring the Glenn Miller Orchestra which has gone on as a big band operation all the 25-plus years since the band leader disappeared on a flight over the English Channel during World War II.

It was a packed downstairs at the tables but sparse in the no-meal, seats only fringing balcony. The cocktail hour at 6:30-7 p.m. was a bust, no service at the tables mainly, and the dinner was good and varied (prime rib and all the fixin's). Table service (coffee, etc.) was carried out by young, pretty and well-meaning ladies with a modicum of experience. But, they tried, bless 'em.

The band appearance was preceded by some 1940s film clips of newsreels that apparently nobody paid any attention to whatsoever and the decor consisted of some varied-color hangings from the girders with some pseudo-crystal chandeliers and the inevitable mirrored sphere turning over the heads of the dancers.

From where I sat (a long way away from the dance orchestra platform) it looked as if the dance area was too small and jammed, packed like sardines in a can. The music was Miller all the way and listenable, bringing back memories of a schoolday past for me and those college dances so long ago. The hall is girdered and that means echoes and the reliance on amplification, which did not help much. The effect was about the same as is achieved in the lofty, metal-laced Municipal Coliseum whenever a musical organization has moved onto that stage.

Seems to me it would have been a happier thing if the Banquet Hall, with its stage and its good acoustics, had been utilized, but Mickey Yager and company know what they are doing, I assume, and I was grateful to be on hand.

Ah, well. It's back to the Civic Center come next week when the Lubbock Symphony launches its Mondays-Tuesdays 1977-78 season with Lenus Carlson, baritone, as soloist. An event to be anticipated.

And Showplace 4 will bring back the Clint Eastwood success "The Outlaw Josey Wales" on Friday, while Home Box Office on television will be showing the same film for those who have the facility from Lubbock Cable-TV right in one's own living room. And when the newspaper ads for the commercial networks tout "Rooster Cogburn" and "Gable and Lombard" as "first time on TV," don't you believe it. We've been HBO-ing those films for months now. Without commercials or editorial cuts, either.

Mustangs Lose To Owls 17-12

By Melissa Epperson

The Mustangs built up 205 total yards to the Owls 171 yards. The Mustangs had 13 first downs to Hale Center's 8. Although the Mustangs out-hustled the Owls Friday night, the Mustangs remained scoreless throughout the first quarter.

In the final seconds of the first half, the Mustangs pushed on in for their first touchdown.

Later in the fourth quarter

Pete Alvarado returned an Owl punt 80 yards for an exciting Mustang touchdown. Needless to say this really fired up the team and the crowd.

Some of the outstanding players of the night were Andy Blackmon, Pete Alvarado, and Clay Dixon. These guys really helped the Mustangs!

Coach Wolski says "the team needed to play the entire game, not just the last three quarters."

Senior Spotlight

By Robin Truelock

The Senior Spotlight shines on Dana Vickrey and Craig Wheeler.

Dana Vickrey came into this world on August 12, 1960 under the zodiac sign of Leo. Dana's parents are Clyde and Wana Beth Cook living at 1014 13th Street.

Dana's hobbies are horseback riding and backpacking. She loves to eat all kinds of food and her favorite color is sky blue. Her favorite subject is Home and Family Living.

Dana is active in Pep Squad and holds the position President of National Honor Society and Senior Representative of Student Council. Her plans after graduation are to spend the summer in Taos, New Mexico, and attend Texas Tech in the fall.

When asked about this year Dana commented, "It's pretty nice and I think it will get better."

Craig Wheeler was born into the family of William and Judy Wheeler on January 24, 1960. They live at 1305 10th Street.

Craig's hobbies include giving piano lessons, photography, drawing, and his favorite hobby "pretty girls." Craig loves to eat anything and everything. His favorite color is blonde. He has no favorite subject to speak of.

Craig is in the Annual Staff and is the assistant photographer. He is also part of the Mustang Band.

His plans for after graduation are to get a job during the summer and start college at Texas Tech in the fall. Craig plans to be a geologist. When asked about this year Craig remarked "Doodah, Doodah."

Notice

School Day Pictures for students K-12 will be taken on Friday, Sept. 30. Students are asked to dress appropriately for these color photographs.

Owls Win 2

By Terri Stanton

The Junior High Teams had a couple of tough games against Hale Center.

The 8th grade lost 41-0. The 7th grade lost 34-12. Even though both teams were beat, they will be ready for Farwell, Thursday night here at Todd Field. I wish them all the luck!

Blimp Covers The J.V.

By Cindy Jackson

The Mustangs met up with the Hale Center Owls last Thursday night. The main problem that the Mustangs had was a blimp wearing the number 72.

The Mustangs defense and offense both played a good game, but when a 300 pound obstacle is face to face with you, it's hard to get around.

The Mustangs suffered many injuries, not by hard hitting men, but by an Owl whose game was lay and stay.

The final score was Hale Center 35 Shallowater 0. The next game is against Farwell, so let's go out and support these Mustangs.

No School Oct. 7

Students will not be required to attend school on Friday, Oct. 7. This will be a student holiday. Teachers, however, will be on duty during a workday at the end of the first six weeks.

FHA Enters Fair

By Donna Evans

Each year all the FHA Chapters have girls that enter a variety of items into the South Plains Fair. They are judged and put in the Women's Buildings. The Chapter with the most points wins and receives $5.00. The girls that place first, second, or third receive a sum of money, also.

We wish everyone the best of luck that entered.

Farm Flashes

By Tony Heinen

The Future Farmers of America are led by President Robin Krebbs, he is assisted by Vice President Billy Glenn. The secretary is Celeste Potter and Mr. Money Bags is Joe Beaver. The reporter is Barry Randolph. The sentinel is Roddy Thomas.

The Future Farmers consist of Vocational Agriculture I, II, III, and Ag Mechanics. They are kept busy by advisor Kenneth Carr.

We wish this organization the best of luck this year.

FHA News

The Shallowater FHA had its first meeting September 13th. Seventy girls attended.

September and October will be very busy months with the girls participating in the South Plains Fair and Lions Harvest Festival. Plans for the Formal Candlelight Invitation of new members were announced for Oct. 3rd. Patterns for the quilt block were distributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boone and Mr. and Mrs. Clois Cobb were elected chapter parents.

Mrs. G.W. Gales Jr. was the guest speaker. She spoke on fair entries, submitting acceptable items, and standards of the judges. The club members displayed much interest in the fair and the desire to enter quality items.

Fighting Mustang Band

By Terri Stanton

The Fighting Mustang Band began marching Monday morning at 10:00, down Broadway and then back to the Fair grounds. The hot sun was shining brightly on the band during the entire march, but that didn't keep them from marching straight and proudly.

There were 45 bands in the parade. Our band didn't place in the competition, but they made an excellent showing.

Be sure and come to all the Mustang football games and see the band march at half-time.

KIDS KORNER

The Hawaiian alphabet has only 12 letters.

Football Spotlight

By Tony Heinen

The Football Spotlight shines this week on our last two senior players, Tim Reep and Jesse Longoria.

Tim Reep is a 6'3", 280 pound tackle who really makes the opponent shudder. He has been hampered the last two years by various injuries, but should be a fierce competitor this last year.

It also shines upon another senior, Jesse Longoria. Jesse tips the scales at 165 pounds and stands at 5'9". He plays in the backfield for the Mustangs. Jesse has proved to be a tough competitor these last two years and we are expecting the same results this year.

Keep your eyes on numbers 18 and 70 if you want to see two really tough Mustangs.

Pick a fight with your neighbor.

The cancer fight.

You won't have to start this fight, but you can help finish it.

The American Cancer Society needs volunteers to help knock out this dreadful disease. Call or visit your local ACS office to see what you can do to help.

And, don't forget your neighbor.
