

Frenship Carnival Is Monday Night

Barrow Sale Held Wednesday Evening

Judging of barrows in the barrow sale held Wednesday night, was completed Wednesday morning by Bob Robinson, assistant county agent of Potter County. Grand champion was a Chester White shown by Tom Durham and Son. Reserve Champion was a Hampshire shown by Denny Belew. Grand Champion Gilt was a Cross shown by James Mitchell. The Gilt will be given to the person or organization buying the greatest number of pigs.

There were 295 barrows in the sale. Herb Henderson of Wolforth was the auctioneer. The sale was held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 24 at the Frenship High school bus barn.

Kenneth Grissom Home Following Heart Surgery

Kenneth Grissom, Shallowater High school teacher for 14 years, underwent open heart surgery October 9, at Lubbock Methodist Hospital. Dr. Dalton and Dr. Bricker, two of the best heart surgeons in the Southwest, performed the surgery, which lasted over 3 hours.

Mr. Grissom had 3 small heart attacks in 1969 but had been able to continue with golf, school and daily living since then.

He was in the hospital for 2 weeks and will be home for 4 weeks before he will be able to return to teaching. He had no heart or muscle damage so will be in better shape after recovering than he has been in the last five years.

He surely has enjoyed your flowers and cards. He will be allowed visitors on a limited schedule, as he is supposed to rest and not become tired and exhausted.

What a beautiful day we had for the Harvest Festival Parade and activities. The sun was shining and everyone came out to have a good time.

The Lions Club wishes to thank everyone who participated in the parade. Cash prizes were given to many of the entries. $25 awards went to the Antique Car Club, the PTA Float, the Shallowater Band and the New Deal Riding Club.

VISITING LION DIGNITARIES—Mr. C. C. "Kip" Cutshaft, Lions District Governor for District 2-T2, at left, and Mr. Bill Payne, District Cabinet Secretary, were both on hand Saturday morning to witness the parade and opening festivities during the Shallowater Lions Club Harvest Festival.

OUTGOING FESTIVAL QUEEN AND PRINCESS, Tonya McAuley and Clare Stence enjoy the ride during the parade last Saturday.

Prizes also went to 3 of the bicycle riders. Rodney Burkett, First; Melonie Forester, second; and Billy Howell, Third. Parade Marshalls were E.B. Reeves and George Blackburn.

Capping off the days festivities Saturday was the crowning of the Lions Queen and Princess. Cynthia Stewart is the new Queen with Terri Dixon as first runnerup. Patti Middlebrook is the new Princess and Camie Stanton first runnerup.

Holding the winning ticket for the portable TV or shotgun was Marcia Poe of Shallowater.

Travel Broadens Tourists' Views on Food Prices

American tourists who traveled abroad this summer came home with a new appreciation for U.S. food prices.

Compared to what they paid for food in foreign countries, they're quick to admit that American food is still a bargain.

One tourist just back from a visit to Sweden reports his tab for five hamburgers, some French fries, and a soft drink added up to a

Vernon; and Marvin Sartin, area economist at Lubbock and Tom Beck with Diamond-Shamrock at Amarillo.

Extension Service district agents W.W. Grisham, Jr. of Amarillo and J.G. Simmons of Vernon will provide remarks at the morning and afternoon sessions, respectively.

R.B. Dawson, chairman of PEP, and Bob Hillery, chairman of RPEP, will preside over the sessions.

According to Hodges, the symposium will follow the annual meeting of the Texas Wheat Producers Association at the same location on Nov. 28.

whopping $27 in American money.

Another businessman who went to London said a dish of strawberries and a cup of coffee cost him $5.

Meanwhile, in Japan, beef costs range upward from $12 a pound.

Two Cotton Crops A Year Being Sought

Growing two cotton crops a year instead of just one is the goal of research under way in Missouri.

Plant breeders already have developed some new short-season varieties that could be grown during the interval between normal crops, reports the National Cotton Council.

While further testing is required before the varieties are ready for release, scientists hope they'll be perfected within a year or two. The new varieties produce short, coarse fibers which could be used in disposable clothing.

Other scientists involved in the project are working on cultural practices and harvesting machines to handle the new type cotton.

Plans are in full swing for the Halloween Carnival, Monday night, October 29 at Frenship High School.

The junior class is serving a spaghetti supper starting at 5 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Prices are $1.50 for adults and 75c for children.

The Carnival starts at 6 p.m. You can get married, divorced, go to jail, walk for cakes, play bingo and various other things.

The coronation of the Jr. High and High School King and Queen will start about 9 p.m. Master of Ceremonies is Jay DePanion. Crown bearer is Joe Donelson and flower girl is Gina Ford.

Queen candidates and escorts from the sixth grade are: Michelle Pettiet and Dennis Kirk, Tammy Hightower and Dean Hobgood, Rhonda Trull and Jeff Joiner. Denise Townsend and Steven Matthews, Monica Moore and Cecil Mandrell. Seventh grade candidates are: Sheri Gollaher and Kevin Mitchell, Jenifer Floyd and Joe Zarate, Vickie Mansell and Larry Allen, Tina McKenzie and Terry Osborn, Kelly Coleman and Todd McKee.

Eighth grade candidates are: Betty Tarter and Roy Cruz, Cindy Currey and Keith Ward, Joelene Schroeder and Jim Duesterhaus, Ladonna Howe and Donna Mandrell, Tammy Leist and Rodney Parker.

First United Methodist Women's Guild

The women of the First United Methodist Church met Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the church parlor for their regular meeting.

Mrs. Cleo Vaughan, president, gave the call to worship by reading a poem.

Mrs. James McMenamy, accompanied by Mrs. C.E. Pair at the piano, sang "Stranger of Galilee". Mrs. Paul Isbell led the devotional. Mrs. Wanda Evans gave the program by giving a book review on the book titled "Two From Galilee".

Mrs. R.R. Warren gave the closing prayer. Mrs. C.E. Pair was hostess to fourteen members and four guests. Mrs. Wanda Evans, Mrs. Dorris Vail, Mrs. Barbara Chandler and Mrs. Burnis Penny.

Accidental Deaths From Pesticides Under 200 Yearly

Accidental deaths from pesticides are actually less than 200 a year.

Dr. Wayland J. Hayes, Jr., of Vanderbilt University's School of Medicine, says these figures are based on actual reports and projections, and do not include deaths officially recognized as murders or suicides.

The doctor also states that to his knowledge no deaths have been reported as attributed to entry into pesticide treated fields by farm workers during harvesting.

November, 1973

The Wind From The North
Is Strong and Proud
And He Pounds On My Door
In A Fashion Loud
—Anne Lawler—

November, ninth month of the old Roman calendar, is the birthday month of five U.S. Presidents and the month in which President John Kennedy was assassinated (the 22nd in 1963). It's also the month in which the Allies invaded North Africa (the 7th, 1942) in World War II and in which World War I ended in 1918 (November 11th).

The 2nd is the birthday anniversary of both James Polk, 11th President, and Warren Harding, 29th President. Harding, a relatively recent President, was born in Morrow County, Ohio, in 1865, the oldest of eight children. He was first a newspaper man, buying a Marion, Ohio, weekly for $300. At his death it was a daily and a valuable property.

He served in the state legislature and as Lieutenant Governor and was then defeated in a gubernatorial race. He nominated William Taft at the Republican convention in 1912 he was nominated by the Republicans and elected President. However, he failed to survive his term, dying after a trip to Alaska, which he had promised to make in his campaign, in 1923.

On the 6th, in 1789, the Pope appointed the first American Catholic bishop, John Carroll of Maryland. At that time there were no Catholic schools in the United States and Carroll was educated in France and consecrated bishop in England.

On the 15th, in 1777, a committee of the Continental Congress which had adopted the Declaration of Independence, reported out the draft of the Articles of Confederation, the first Constitution of the new nation; it provided for a perpetual union. This draft was changed, in 1787, and there was controversy until the Civil War whether or not States were in a perpetual union under terms of the 1787 Constitution.

James Abram Garfield, 20th President, was born in Cayahoga County, Ohio, on the 19th in 1831, descended from Massachusetts ancestors. He was elected President as a Republican in 1880, and was assassinated in 1881.

Franklin Pierce (pronounced purse), 14th U.S. President, was born on the 23rd in 1804, at Hillsborough, N.H., and served his state in various capacities, resigning a U.S. Senate seat because the pay was insufficient. He was nominated and elected as a Democrat in 1852. He attempted to annex Cuba, tried to pacify North and South, but was not renominated by his party. He became very critical of Lincoln during the Civil War.

Zachary Taylor, 12th U.S. President, was born in Orange County, Virginia, on the 24th in 1784, preceded Pierce as President. He was a military hero in the Mexican war, son of a Revolutionary War officer of Virginia, grew up in Louisville, Kentucky (then Virginia), and won a great victory over the Seminole Indians in Florida, dying in office in 1850.

Thanksgiving, a truly American observance, falls on the 22nd this year.

Larry has been leading the music for the revival services which began Monday night. Rev. Tommy Phelps, an ex professional wrestler, has been the speaker for services.

The choir was accompanied to Parkway by several sponsors and adults from the church.

Austin, Tex.—Future development of major Texas water projects will come to a halt unless new standards laid down by the National Water Resources Council are reversed, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby says.

Hobby, joined by State Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo, and serving as spokesman for four Texas water advisory councils, urged President Nixon and Texas congressmen to alter the regulations.

"Unless this policy is reversed," said Hobby, "Texas stands to be harmed very substantially."

The new principles and standards for planning water and related land resources are effective October 25.

While acknowledging that they have merit, Hobby said, they would destroy "the long-established partnership between federal and state governments for development of water resources. For all practical purposes, the thrust of 'principles and standards' wipes out the present-day mechanics for use and control of water, and falls short of practical substitutes."

A proposed "discount rate" feature, claimed Hobby, precludes federal participation in traditional development of water projects. The standards, he maintained, would further force impractical planning for projects on an in-state basis.

In the last five years, more than $850 million have been invested by the local, state and federal governments in Texas water projects. About a fourth of that was federal money.

Refusal by the federal government to finance in the future "non-reimbursable features" such as fish and wildlife, recreational benefits and flood control provisions would ban parts of water projects that "tend to enhance the environment," said Hobby.

Double Header Convention Planned—Legislators are being polled on a proposal to split next year's constitutional convention into two sessions, one from January 8 to April 6 and the second after mid-June.

Sen. Bill Meier of Euless offered the suggestion, contending that the convention may be poorly attended just before May and June primary elections. Many legislators, who are delegates to the convention, will face opponents for re-election.

The recess, as proposed by Meier, would give legislators nearly a month to campaign before the May primary and another month before the June runoff.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. urged lawmakers to set a 90-day flexible and extendable timetable for the convention and try to finish the job of rewriting the constitution by early April. He said legislators can do it by making use of the research of the Constitutional Revision Commission as a beginning point. Daniel said taxpayers will be saved nearly $2 million if the convention winds up in 90 days rather than extending over the full 170 days allowed.

Courts Speak—A three judge federal court in Dallas adopted the so-called "Plan B" for Texas congressional reapportionment, which will require some readjustment of existing boundaries. Attorney General Hill said he has no plans for further appeals. Motions to intervene in the case were rejected as not "timely."

A Corpus Christi district judge set an October 26 hearing on a state motion to cite Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises for contempt in operating two youth care facilities without state licenses.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld four convictions, including two life sentences, of a Dallas man in the shooting of three.

A.G. Opinions—Counties may use federal revenue sharing funds to contract with private non-profit corporations to construct recreational facilities for the aged, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

•There is no authority and no appropriation for paying state employees who resign or are dismissed (except in case of death) in lieu of accrued, unused vacation time.

•Status of an area from dry to wet can only be accomplished by a "for" vote on a legalizing proposition, and transformation of a wet area to a dry area can only be accomplished by an "against" vote on a prohibitory proposition. A city prohibitory election which does not result in a vote unfavorable to the sale of alcoholic beverages has no effect at all upon the status of the city or any party.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

It was a good world series, maybe not great, maybe not one of flawless fielding gems, maybe not one of overwhelming power ball hitting, but a good series.

In the end, the team that really should have won did win. Oakland had depth in quality pitching. It had better hitting power. It had better fielding. The New York Mets got to the classic primarily because they apparently wanted to get there more than the other clubs.

I'm still impressed with John Matlack, the southpaw rookie, more or less. The Met lefty has a smooth, deceptive delivery, and he throws hard. He was, I thought, more impressive than Tom Seaver.

But you can't ignore Catfish Hunter. When the chips were down, he came through, as did Darrell Knowles and Rollie Fingers.

In the end, though, Oakland power and Bert Campaneris proved to be the difference. That Campy is something else.

I see where Dick Williams is touted as the next manager of the Yankees, a team that usually stays within its own ranks. If so, they have great potential in Elston Howard, who could become the first black manager. Want to bet that he's overlooked?

As this is being written, the national rankings have not been made public for this week and I hope that Texas Tech, as much as it may deserve it, doesn't get in the top 20.

Getting in the top 20 has been the kiss of death for the Raiders. They promptly go out and lose, thereby destroying much of the good gained by national ranking. If they could go through the next five games without a loss, they'd get national rating, and winning the next five games is the most important thing.

Speaking of Dick Williams, as I was, the thought occurred to me during the series that, with all the exposure on camera that he got, I'd just as soon sit and look at a walrus.

Jim Carlen at his Monday press conference: on Arizona. "It was the best offensive game of the season for us. Lawrence Williams had another big day...Andre Tillman did an outstanding job of blocking again...Joe Barnes had a good game. So did our tailbacks, Larry Isaacs, and Myers ran well, too. James Mosely had an outstanding game.

"The defense played well. I think you have to give a lot of credit to the Arizona offense. The secondary tackled well. Brian Bernwanger had a super game. Once again the defense came up with the big plays.

"As for injuries, we are beat up, but okay."

On SMU—"As good as anyone we've played. Their offensive line is their biggest improvement. Bobo (veteran quarterback) is hurt and probably won't suit out, but Wesson (backup) is super quick. They have a pair of outstanding halfbacks in Morris and Maxson.

"Their kicking game is solid. SMU's punter is leading the conference. Their linebackers are good, while their interior line is the best we have seen yet. Their secondary has been moved around a lot."

A word about the Arizona game. Until the fourth quarter, when Tech shut down the Wildcats, it sounded as though the defense was only half ready to play. But gosh, it deserved a letdown.

On the otherhand, the offense cranked up and did the best job of the year. Tech started moving with authority and, except for the first two possessions in the third quarter, moved steadily. But once again it was the "big play" defense that made the difference.

You can hardly go wrong with four fumble recoveries, a blocked punt, and an intercepted pass.

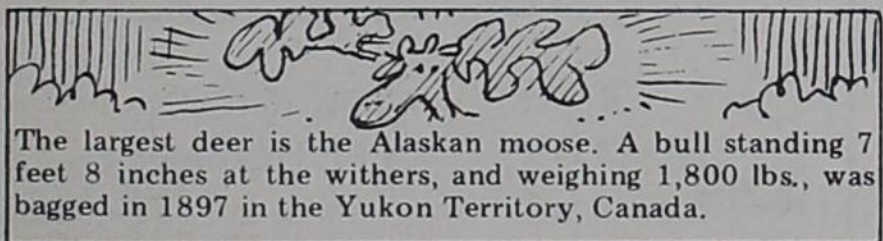

Note to Humble (Exxon) Broadcasting Dept.—Ugh! I've known Jim Wiggins for a number of years. He's a fine person, a good Christian gentleman. He doesn't drink, nor is he addicted to dope.

But Jim's woeful description of the Arizona game indicates green pastures are waiting. I tried to follow the action on paper, soon had to give up. I could overcome Grimes at quarterback, but when it was first and 10, Tech, at the Arizona 28; then a six yard gain, then third and three at the 19, I became a little confused.

Death has again robbed me of one of my dearest friends, Tonto Coleman. I could write an entire column about him and probably should. God has put some great men on this earth and Tonto was one of those who stood tallest.

To meet Tonto was to become his friend. When I first met him, he was toiling in the ACC vinyard, not the most fertile soil. But you can't keep greatness down and he went on to greatness in his own right. Tonto hadn't been retired long enough to enjoy leisure.

On second thought, Tonto wasn't the type to enjoy leisure in the first place. Oh, boy, how he will be missed.

Frenship Tigers Lose To Post

Out of the fat and into the frying pan for the Frenship Tigers, who this week must face always dangerous, powerful Denver City on the latter's field at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The Tigers challenged powerful Post last week and wound up on the short end of a 29-16 score. But Frenship, trailing 29-0, never gave up and earned the respect of foes and home folks alike.

Fullback Larry Van Gilder got the first Frenship points on a two-yard smash at the line and Davie Booher added a pair of extra points.

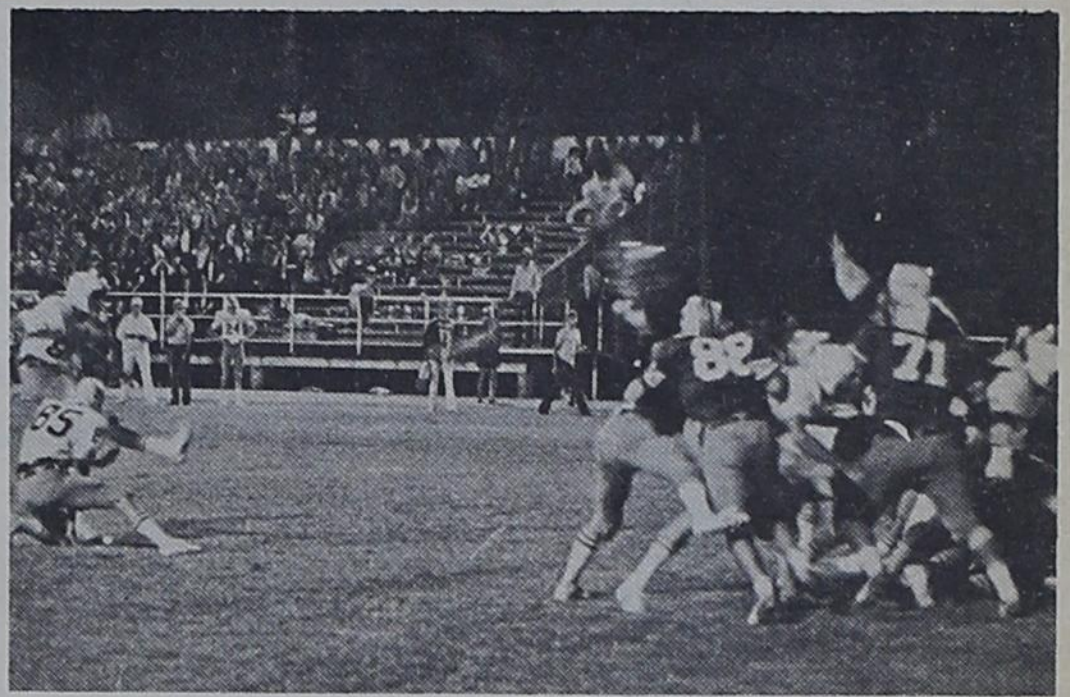

On the last play of the game, Booher passed to Jay Depanion and the latter raced all the way on a spectacular play that covered 75 yards. Booher added the extra points that cut the final margin to a respectable 13 points.

Post, which hasn't lost a game in seven tries, got on the scoreboard early when Tailback Jerry Tyler raced eight yards around end and Chris Wyatt added two points for an 8-0 lead.

Edward Price got the second Antelope score when he went 10 yards on an option play, with Tony Connor kicking the extra point that gave Post a 15-0 halftime lead.

The final two touchdowns were scored by Donnell Harper, who ran his point total for the year to 86. Harper went 14 yards for his first score and plunged one yard for the final score.

Post held a 22-8 edge in first downs and dropped the Tigers to 1-6 for the season.

Frozen Ingredients

Recipes often call for chopped, grated, diced or minced ingredients. Do this time-consuming work ahead of time—then freeze the various ingredients until needed.

For example, grate cheese a pound or two at a time. One pound makes about four cups grated cheese. Measure it in one cut units—or in the amount wanted most often. Place cheese in air-tight containers or wrap in moisture-vapor-resistant plastic wrap, and freeze. American process cheese freezes well.

Chop a pound or two of onions at a time, either with a knife or in a blender for finely chopped pieces. Wrap in 1/2 cup or 1/4 cup units in air-tight plastic wrap. Place packages in a glass freezer jar that can be tightly closed, to keep the onion odor from escaping, and freeze.

Green peppers also can be chopped and frozen. Mince parsley and then put in the freezer. Both should be packaged in convenient sized units, then placed in air-tight containers.

Keep bread crumbs on hand in the freezer, too. Save bread heels until you have several. Crumb them in the blender, or between two sheets of wax paper with a rolling pin. Store in an air-tight freezer container. If preferred, lightly butter the heels before crumbling to make buttered crumbs.

Services Held for Ben McWhorter, Jr.

Services for Ben McWhorter Jr., 51, were held at 10:30 a.m. Monday in the First United Methodist Church in Wolfforth. Rev. Richard Pittman, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park under direction of Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Home in Lubbock.

McWhorter died Friday night in West Texas Hospital after a brief illness. He was a member of the Farm Bureau and the Farmers Union. He had farmed in the Wolfforth area since 1928. He was a past director of the Frenship Co-op Gin, a veteran of World War II and a member of the Wolfforth First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Alpha Dene; a son, Rickie McWhorter of Wolfforth; a daughter, Sandy McWhorter of

PERSONALS

To All The Kind, interested friends of Shallowater. We say Thank You for the flowers, cards, interest, concern, love and prayers during Kenneth's recent surgery.
The Kenneth Grissoms

In Appreciation—We are humbly grateful to you and so greatly blessed to live among you, the good people who have been so gracious to us in our time of need. It seems that nothing possible to do was left undone. The flowers were beautiful, the food provided was in abundance, and your every expression of compassion and concern is a treasure to our hearts. We are grateful to each one who had a part in the farewell service for our Mickey and to each one who came to be with us. The young people were a blessing to our hearts. May God bless you and help us to be the kind of friends you have been to us.
The Smith Family

Card of Thanks—I would like to express my thanks to the ones that sent cards and flowers and the visitors and prayers that meant so much to me during my stay in the hospital. God bless each of you.
Thank You

Science Looks To Agriculture In Energy Crisis

Spurred on by the petroleum shortage, scientists are taking a second look at lubricants and lubricant additives made from animal fats and vegetable oils.

Recent studies at agricultural research labs in New Orleans and Philadelphia reveal that some of the derivatives from these sources are especially promising as lubricant additives.

Used as neats—that is, by themselves—they made superb lubricants, but their cost would be prohibitive for most applications.

Tests show they could be added at levels ranging from five to ten percent to improve the performance lubricants as paraffins, diesters, or silicones.

Some of the experimental fatty lubricants tested had weld points well in excess of the rating given for commercial automotive transmission fluid.

Homecoming Set for Nov. 2 at Shallowater

The Shallowater School is having a homecoming, November 2, 1973. There will be a taco supper, sponsored by the Band Boosters, prior to the football game. Guests will be served in the school cafeteria from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. The menu will consist of tacos, beans, home made pies, tea and coffee. The price of the supper will be $1.50 per person.

There will be a meeting of ex-graduates of the Shallowater High School in the auditorium at 6 p.m. The football game will start at 7:30 p.m. between the Shallowater Mustangs and the Ropesville Eagles.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the supper and the football game.

Sports Spotlight

Brad Simmons was born on December 2, 1956 in Lubbock, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simmons. Brad is the fullback on our varsity football team. He chose to play football because he likes it.

Brad's favorite color is red. His favorite food is spaghetti. His main dislike is school and his main interest is sports. Brad's favorite hobby is playing golf.

Brad had attended his first three years of high school in Shallowater. He plans to graduate and afterwards go to college.

Keep up the good work, Brad.

Varsity Football

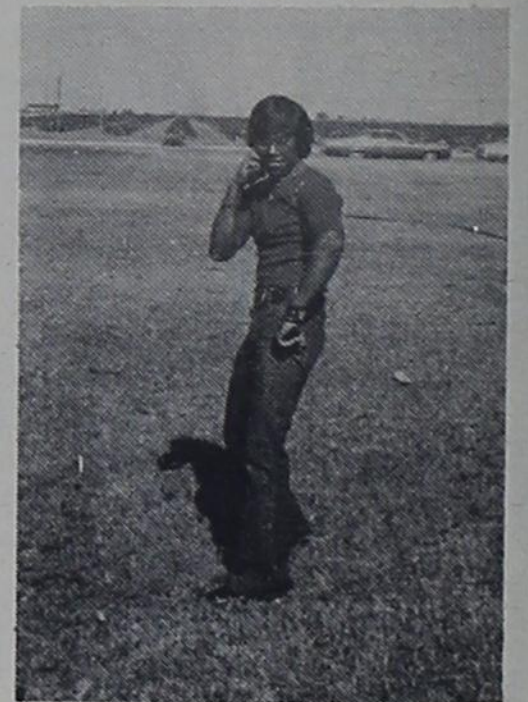

The Shallowater Mustangs fought hard against the Seagraves team but could not keep the Seagraves team from scoring. The Shallowater team, with the help of Ray Morris, Bobby Reeves, and Don L. Grimes, were able to get Shallowater a touchdown, but this touchdown did not help against the score of Seagraves 32. Ending score 32-8.
