Train-Truck Accident Injures One Seriously

A catering truck and a Texas-Pacific train collided about 3:15 Monday, just east of Broadview Steel near Highway 84, leaving one woman in serious condition.

The truck, which was driven by Ms. Phyllis McFadden of 3418 East 3rd Street in Lubbock, was heading south, and the train was moving east when the two

The train struck the rear of the truck, splitting the truck in half and throwing the rear of the truck some 120 feet. The cab was stopped by the signal light at the

First Killing Freeze Passes Through Area

Shallowater received its first killing freeze last week. The low on November 12th was 29 degrees, and a low of 25 degrees came on November 13th. The freeze was long overdue, and was a welcome relief to area farmers who were waiting for the freeze that would kill off vegetation in their fields, and allow for harvesting of the cotton crop.

The freeze now signals full operation of harvesting, after a 10 day waiting period, allowing for drying of the plants. Area farmers will begin harvest and gins will begin full operation. The Shallowater Co-op Gin will run 4 complete crews working around the clock.

Dalton Potter had predicted the first freeze would come on November 7th. He missed it by six

At a town meeting held last Thursday evening, Shallowater residents voted to change the Industrial Foundations committee to the Shallowater Chamber of Commerce, and listened to a presentation from a Tech medical professor concerning the establishment of a medical clinic in the

The new chamber of commerce will appoint a committee to study the possibility of locating a medical clinic in Shallowater.

The reason for the switch, according to discussion at the meeting, was to establish a non-profit corporation with a charter conforming to standards necessary to gain federal assistance which would be used to change the old bank building into a medical clinic.

The motion changing the name was passed unanimously by the 27 people at the meeting.

Mabry Brock, author of the resolution, said the project to locate a doctor in the old bank building was two years old.

About a year ago, the building was sold to a hospital administrator from Littlefield who tried to locate a doctor in Shallowater. That attempt, however, fell through.

While Debbie Turner and other Shallowater residents discussed the possibility of a medical clinic, David Turner, Jr., fourteen months old, dreamed of another, quieter world in the safety of his mother's arms.

Then a citizens group contacted the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) about obtaining unds for the clinic, but they were told the city did not qualify because of its proximity to Lubbock.

Soon after, the city was contacted by the Tech medical school which was interested in establishing clinics for resident doctors in nearby cities.

The Tech medical school would provide two full-time physicians, pay their salaries, and assign students in the later stages of their residency to the clinic for four months at a time.

Dr. Thomas Nicholas, chairman of the school's Department of Family Practice, told citizens that there is a "terrible need for family practitioners" in West Texas.

Family practitioners are trained to handle 85 per cent of illnesses which normal people experience, and to know where to send a patient afflicted by the remaining 15 per cent.

"In developing a medical clinic in this area, that's the type of

Shallowater Resident Graduates From EMT Course at LCC

Since the end of August, J.D. Young of Shallowater, has been spending his Monday and Thursday evenings at Lubbock Christian College learning about such things as cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, splinting, and emergency childbirth.

Besides his 80 hours of classroom instruction, Mr. Young has spent another 40 hours in a hospital, 16 in the emergency room observing doctors, and another 24 in assisting doctors in intensive care units, recovery rooms, the coronary care unit and in obstetrics.

On November 4th, J.D. Young completed the requirements for Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) and was certified as an EMT by the state of Texas.

In order to achieve state certification, J.D. took a written test concerning child care, medical terminology, and vital signs. He also passed a skills examination concerning such categories as splints, extricating people from accidents, lifting and moving injured persons, mechanical aids, and pulmonary resuscitation.

In addition, Mr. Young had to make five emergency ambulance

Lubbock County has purchased ten ambulances wirth $17,500, each equipped with another $3,000 in medical supplies, and will furnish one at no charge, to give area cities, provided the cities have a place to store the vehicle and six trained volunteers to operate it.

Shallowater has the place to store such a vehicle, however, they do not have the six trained volunteers. More are needed desperately.

Continued On Page Two Mustangs Loose Basketball Opener to Ropes by 67-54 Margin As the football season drew to a close and basketball season started, Coach Joe Tubb, head coach of the Shallowater roundball varsity team, was worried that his team wouldn't have time to prepare for their first game. The last football game was Friday night, which left only two days of preparation for the first basketball game against Ropes Tuesday night. Ropes, who is placed on top of their district this season, had a full week and one game of practice, before meeting the Mustangs.

"The team effort and hustle on the court was good," according to Coach Tubb, concerning Tuesdays's game, but it wasn't enough as Shallowater dropped its first 67 to 54.

The Mustangs have two lettermen returning from last year's championship team, Morris and McMenamy, but they saw very limited action, and according to Coach Tubb, his team is "inexperienced."

Coach Tubb, however, is optimistic for the season and feels that all his team needs is more practice and a lot more game experience.

Members of the varsity team are: Bill Dixon, Chris Hutchings, Ray Jackson, Benny Judah, Chuck Luck, Kim McMenamy, David Monteith, Daryl Morris, Jackie Randolph and Steve Wilson.

The JV team consists of Curtis Lester, Rod Warren, Clay Dixon, Clay Lusk, Lane Giles, Steve Waller, Kenneth Young, Tony Hienen, Loyd Price and Steve Martin.

The Shallowater Mustangs ended their football season last Friday night with a loss to Stanton 18-0. It was also the last performance for the 1975 fighting Mustang Band. The band's last show was dedicated to their director, Rusty Sherman. The junior high band also participated in the halftime show. The twirlers of the band dedicated their show to Geneise Grawunder, senior twirler for the band. Carol Shropshire was named football queen and her court included, (1 to r) Carol, Laura Thompson, Kim Young and Jeanye Hunter.

Mrs. Joan Grimes Honored by Girl Scout Troop 89 for Efforts

Mrs. Joan Grimes was recently honored with a presentation of the "Hidden Heroine" award, by Girl Scout Troop 89.

This award is given to a very special lady, who, in the Girl Scouts opinion, has done much to help many people in the school and community.

Mrs. Grimes, who is our school nurse, was presented with a plaque, a green and gold corsage, and the following poem, which expresses the feelings of us all.

We Love You, Nurse Grimes! We all have wondered, many times,

What we would do without Nurse Grimes.

Notes From the Mayor

Football is over for our high school this year, and we have some bumps and bruises on the boys bodies, as well as their pride. We all like to win, and in many ways, we have, even though it was not in the score. I am talking about things like the closeness of the coaches and players, disappointment of defeat; but with the ability to keep their heads up and the confidence that next game things will be different.

I watched all of our games and I feel like our coaches and boys are winners and should be treated as such. Coaches Wolski, Baker, Goodin, Tubb, and the entire Mustang team, we appreciate your efforts and are really looking forward to next year so we can reverse that record, because we know you are truly winners.

In closing the program, everyone read their place cards which were Bible verses of thanksgiving.

The next meeting of the Shallowater Study Club will be at 1:30 p.m., December 9th in the home of Mrs. Jack Dulaney, for the Christmas program.

Shallowater 4-H Club Meets Monday

The Shallowater 4-H Club met for its regular meeteing on Monday night, Nov. 17 at the Clubhouse.

Mr. Ken Carr, ag teacher, gave the evening presentation on parliamentary procedure.

Plaques for top salesmanship were presented to the two top boys who sold the most pecans. They are Craig Conners and Chad Woodruff. Second place gifts were presented to Lisa Gates and third to Robin McMenamy.

The pecans were being sold by the club to help raise money for their community improvement project. In the past the club has contributed money to the Lubbock State School and has provided picnic tables for the Clubhouse. At this time the 4-Hers are searching for a new project which they hope to undertake before the end of this doctor I think you need," Nicholas said.

Nicholas explained that it is "hard to get physicians to come to small towns." The solution, he said, was to train people from a small town, and give them a residency in a small town area. This increased the chances of the physician remaining in a small town after he completed his training.

In order for Shallowater to qualify for the Tech clinic, citizens would need to raise the money necessary to rennovate the old bank building, buy medical equipment, and stock medical supplies. He estimated the total cost at $12,000.

The three methods under study for raising the money are for people to loan the clinic the sum, SPAG funds if the chamber of commerce conforms to federal standards, and for the community to raise the money.

Mission in Africa

by Boyd Pearce, Pastor First Baptist Church, Shallowater

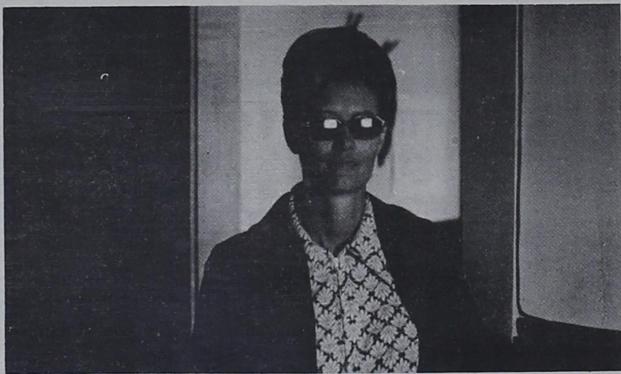

It was almost midnight on November 22, 1963. We were living in Nairobi, the beautiful capitol of Kenya in East Africa. There was another missionary by the name of Marshall Phillips living across town. Marshall had one of those overseas radios with a ship cord antenna, and he regularly tuned in the U.S. and picked up ball scores and occasionally even a ball game. When he called as late as midnight I knew one of two things had happened. Either the University of Kentucky (where he was from) had won a football game or Baylor had lost. When the phone rang and Marshall was on the line, I let him know that which ever of these two things had happened, I had rather hear about it in the morning. But that wasn't what he was calling about. The announcement had just come on the radio that President Kennedy had been assassinated in Dallas.

There is nothing quite as sickening for Americans living overseas as the feeling that the foundations at home are crumbling. The next morning there was a dull, sad hurt among us all, as if someone dear had passed away back home and we were not able to get back to the funeral. What bothered me most was that while I would be hurting inside, no one else in Nairobi, except a few Americans, would know why or even care. I was wrong.

When I drove downtown that morning, all the flags were at half-mast-even the East African Railways banner flying over the depot. Traffic seemed to be moving slower and quieter than usual. The morning paper carried the news in somber headlines. Across town an Englishman called one of our missionaries, whom he did not know and said, "You're an American, aren't you?" He said, "Yes, I am." The Englishman started crying and said, "I had to

by Joe Kelly

You have to feel sorry for Grant Teaff, almost as much as you have to feel joy for Steve Sloan. For one, it is a story of riches to rags. For the other, a pleasing comeback in a season that threatened to be dreary. Baylor's Bears last year ruled the Southwest Conference. This year the sweet taste turned sour. Dame Fortune smiled kindly on the Bears last year, she frowned this year.

Injuries and turnovers can have a tremendous bearing on the success of any team. Last year the Bears had few injuries and few turnovers. This year, the opposite has been true.

In all probability, the Bears have better depth and material this year. But injuries to key players and a sudden plague of fumblitis has cut the Bears down to pre-1974 status. The best they can finish now is fifth.

On the otherhand, the Red Raiders have come back after four heartbreaking losses to become one of the better teams in the conference.

Last Saturday, after beating Baylor, Steve commented on his admiration for this year's Tech team.

"They were sick after the Arizona loss, but they worked harder the next week than they had worked all season," he said. "This team has a lot of character."

Arkansas is a major test of how far the Raiders have come. The Razorbacks are in outside contention for the league crown and in good position for a bowl berth. Only Tech and A&M stand in the way of, say, second place and a major bowl.

The 1975 Razorbacks are bigger, stronger and faster than a year ago. They have everything going for them. As of last Saturday, the Hogs had a strong offense and a strong defense.

Arkansas ranked third in total offense and the same on defense. They were tops in rushing offense and third in rushing defense.

But while Tech was second in passing offense, the Raiders used a ground game to beat Baylor. Defensively against the pass, Tech and Arkansas were almost even.

Based on defense, which generally wins games, the Hogs appear to be a little stouter. Still, anything can happen and it should be a great battle in Fayetteville.

Regardless of the outcome of the year's final game, the Raiders have been pleasing in one important aspect; they have shown consistent improvement throughout the season.

The offense has come along faster than the defense, but the offense now is on a par with any team in the league. The defense was much clower to improve, but it has come steadily of late and it's capable of putting it all together Saturday.

The question of fumbles came up again at the press conference Saturday and Steve still is at a loss for a concrete answer, as are most coaches and observers.

"I had a long talk with Donnie Anderson," Steve said. "He thinks it could be the artificial surface. He mentioned that he didn't have any problem with fumbles until he started playing pro ball."

Steve went on to say that Donnie found that he eliminated much of it by putting his arm all the way around the ball, especially when he was going down.

"We talked it over with the coaches and players," Steve said. "As a result, we're trying it."

Tech had only a pair of fumbles last Saturday, so it may be working. None on Saturday would be great!

I had to feel sorry for Field Scovell and Wilbur Evans of the Southwest Conference. They were in Pittsburgh, pens in hand, to sign Notre Dame for the Cotton Bowl. Instead, Pitt ruined it by winning.

So, they apparently did a quick evaluation of the situation, realized that the chances of getting one of the top powers was lost and took Georgia. The Bulldogs are tied for second with Florida in the SEC, have an 8-2 record and always play tough in bowls. (ask SMU).

The bowls are starting to shape up. Two Big 10, two Big 8 and three SEC schools are assured of berths, with the SWC landing two, maybe three, and the Pac. 8, two.

The Independents haven't fared well so far, but Penn State, West Virginia and Georgia Tech still are possibilities.

And, should Tech beat Arkansas, there's no reason to think that the Raiders might not get a bid. A strong case certainly could be made—so long as buying tickets isn't involved!

Bystanders are those who can do the job better.

Mission in Africa

Perhaps the most remarkable thing that happened was 2 or 3 days later. We had gone into a beautiful but hard to get to area about 150 miles from Nairobi. The people there are friendly but very primitive. The first morning we were cooking breakfast over an open fire and a Masai warrior came into camp just to greet us and talk awhile. When he found out we were Americans he immediately told us how sorry he was about our President. That surprised me. I could understand the shock and sympathy of a metropolis like Nairobi, but out here in the "bush"? What did they know about Kennedy, or for that matter, what did they know about America? It turned out that one of the brothers had a transistor radio and they had heard the news from Nairobi. He explained further, "Last year, the rains did not come. We had no food. It looked like we might starve, and President Kennedy sent us food. He saved our lives. We knew him well." Sitting around the fire that morning I guess I had never been prouder to be an American.

Sometime later, on one of the main streets of Nairobi, Tom Mboya, the dedicated young statesman of the Kenya government, was assassinated as he was leaving a drug store. I was sympathizing with a sad African friend. He said, "First it was President Kennedy and now it's Tom Mboya. Bwana, why is it we always kill our best men?" I've never figured out the answer to that one, but I have thought about it often, usually when I look at a cross.

Bottle Gardening For Busybodies

If you don't have the time to take care of an indoor garden, why not try bottle gardening, suggests a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"All you need to turn a dull dark corner of your home into a bright colorful spot is a water proof container, tap water and cuttings of some favorite plants," says Everett Janne.

Beverage bottles, vases, canning jars, fish bowls and aquariums make good containers.

Use cuttings from any plant with a thick stem, such as a myrtle, geranium, oleander, wax begonia, coleus or hibiscus.

"First, clean out the bottle with hot water and detergent. Then add tap water. Make a clean cut on the branch or stem you want to use and remove the lower leaves so that none will be below the waterline. Put the cuttings in the water and arrange them any way you like," says the horticulturist with the Texas A&M University System.

Change the water about once a month and wash the container

Trefoil plaques were presented to individuals and organizations who had made special contributions to the program. Mrs. Mogens Kruse of Denmark was presented a Green Trefoil friendship pin and a Caprock Council patch.

Mrs. F.N. Robinson received the 25-year tenure pin, and Mrs. Gigi Hill received the 20-year pin. Fifteen-year pins went to Mrs. Jo Helton and Mrs. Jean Dunlap, both of Levelland; and to Mrs. Pat Prather and Mrs. Ada Ruth Green, Lubbock.

with hot water and detergent to kill any algae or bacteria. Also, scrub the plant stems and make a fresh cut on the stem to improve water uptake. Turn the container about once a week to make sure all angels of the plants get sunlight.

"When stems start deteriorating, replace them with fresh ones," says Janne. "Also, any of the cuttings that develop roots can be planted in pots or in flower beds."

Senior Spotlight

by Melissa Martin

This week's senior spotlight includes Bill Dixon and Carol Shropshire.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Reed. He is 17 years old and looking forward to his 18th birthday February 4.

Bill participates in many school activities including football, basketball, and track. His hobby is football and "special interest" is a "special" girl.

Office help is his best school subject. One could easily see how ambitious Bill is. When asked what his favorite things are, he replied, "color - red and blue; drink - Coke; and food - ALL."

After graduation, Bill plans to go to college and have a good time. "It has been all right, because Carol of her senior year.

there isn't anyone who really bothers me and all the teachers are nice to me."

Carol Shropshire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shropshire, fills the other half of the spotlight this week.

Carol is a 17-year-old Leo. Her special interests are water skiing and tennis. Her favorite things are, color-blue, and food-steak. Cheerleading is another favorite thing of hers.

Carol takes part in many of our school activities such as FHA, pep squad, annual staff, and cheerleading. Last year Carol was elected head cheerleader for 1975. She has been elected candidate for Homecoming Queen and Football Sweetheart.

After graduation, Carol plans to attend Texas Tech.

"I have enjoyed going to Shallowater High and plan to A comment on his senior year is, make this last year the best," says

Junior High Ball Teams Close Season

Getting ready to leave for game against Stanton are some of the boys: right to left, Marcus Lara, Frank Olivarez, Neil Luck, Ricky Servantes, Raymond Longoria, David Holleman, Pete Alvarado and Mark Youngman. These young men had an early start Thursday for their final game of the season.

The junior high boys had a good vear with the leadership of coaches Joe Tubb and Gary Goodin.

The seventh graders closed their season with 5 wins, 1 loss and 2 tied. The eighth graders won 5, lost 3, and tied 1.

"The eighth grade looks good for a freshman team next year, if they keep up the good work and work together as a team," commented Coach Goodin.

Players who will seek places on the freshman team for the 1976-77 school year are: Neal Luck, QB; Pete Alvarado, TB; Norby Anaya, WB; Scott Laurence, Def. HB; Sigifredo Valverde, WB; Scott Penny, WB; Walter Harrison, FB; Rodney Jackson, FB; Frank Olivares, C; James Hicks, C; Allan Judah, SG; Randy Middlebrook, TG; Charles Vickery, ST; Randy Garrett, ST; Ricky Servantes, TT; Steve Roberts, SE; Hank Bean, SE; Charles Harris, TE; Ramon Perez, SE; Curtis Bledsoe, LB; hard to say, for many reasons. One is, it is my first year here. Another is most of the players are still in football. We have two lettermen back. We have height with Chris Hutchings at 6'5", Kim McMenamy at 6'3", and Chuck Luck at 6'2", and more people coming from football. We will run a different offense and may press extensively. It doesn't look like a bad season."

Coach McKennon commented on the girls, "We have a young team. We need a lot of improvements. There are two starters back this year, Kim Young at forward, and Jeanye Hunter at guard. There are also a lot of juniors and sophomores that will produce. We are a young team, but I think we will give our opponents a run for their money."

The Shallowater Mustangs and Fillies are looking for a good season, and hope everyone will boost them to victory.

Basketball Spotlight

by Chris Hutchings

This week the Mustang Staff are starting the Basketball Spotlight, all the varsity girls and boys will be featured.

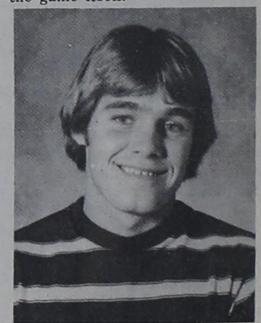

Jeanve Hunter and Ray Jackson are this weeks spotlight. Terry Franklin, Def. T; and Mitchel Cody, Manager.

Seventh graders looking toward another year of junior high ball are: Robert Sanders, QB; Auggy DeAnda, WB; Mark Jungman, SE; Marcus Lara, FB; Tracy Simmons, WB; Joe Caballers, TB; David Holleman, C; Willie Johnson, E; Rufino Maldonado, WB; Raymond Longoria, WB; Ray Scale, WB; Julian Olivarez, Manager. Tory McAuley, SG; Ernie Morales, ST; Ricky Schoor, TG; Buster Lamberson, ST; Kelly Blair, TT; Ronnie Rosas, TG; Billy Howell, SE.

Coach Tubb said of seventh graders, "These boys have shown a lot of ambition which can lead to ones individual future as an athlete.

These young mem have had a good year and have represented their school and community as a sportsman and hardworking players. We are all proud of these boys."

Jeanye Hunter is five foot five inches tall. She plays guard on the team. She was All-District guard last year. Jeanye commented on why she likes basketball. She said, "Because I like to be a part of the team and play with all my friends. I like the competition and I like the game itself."

Ray Jackson is five foot six inches tall. Ray plays guard and is very good at it. He is fast, can dribble good and has a great shot. Ray will help the team immensely.
