Longhorns Just Too "Tuff" as Texas Tech Drops Conference Opener at Austin 28-12

by Joe Kelly

An intercepted pass, a missed field goal, failure to complete a two-point play and the general toughness of Texas proved to be Texas Tech's downfall in Austin last Saturday night as the Longhorns rebounded from an opening game loss to Miami, 28-12.

The score isn't indicative of how close the Raiders played the defending conference champions. Texas jumped into a 14-0 lead before the big red express found the mark.

Texas came up with a formation it hadn't used since the glory days of the early 60s and it upset Tech's defense. Still, if a Joe Barnes pass to Lawrence Williams hadn't gone awry, it could have been the game of the 70s in the conference.

Texas used that interception deep in Tech territory to build a 7-0 lead and it was all uphill from there. The Raiders finally got going in the second half and Barnes found Williams in the end zone to cut the margin to 14-6.

Every Tech fan knew it would be 14-7, for Don Grimes hadn't missed in 56 tries during his college career. But miss he did and, when James Mosley scampered 21 yards on the first play of the final period, Tech had to go for two points.

It didn't come up roses as Barnes pass was short of its mark.

If the game had ended then, all would have been well. But Texas staged one of its typical ball control drives to widen the gap to 21-12, and the "gift" touchdown on the ensuing kickoff really had no bearing except on the final score.

So, it's out of the fat and into the frying pan as the Raiders go to Stillwater, Okla., Saturday to take on awesome Oklahoma State. The Cowboys have rolled over three opponents, including Arkansas, with an impressive ground game.

"They're bigger than Texas," Coach Jim Carlen said Monday. "Are they better than Texas? I don't know, but I'd like to see that game. It would be some contest. They're deeper in talent than Texas. Their quarterback is better. Their halfbacks are faster. They have an experiences team, and don't forget, they play about 45 more more players each game."

Frenship Tigers Victorious Over Morton Team

Frenship Tigers played the Morton Indians Friday night in Morton, defeating them by a score of 9 to 7. The Tigers played a good defensive game. Their offense was not as good as in previous games. However, the great kicking ability of Jay DePanion, who kicked field goals of 45, 44 and 35 yards, allowed them to come out victorious.

Brad Berger and Paul Mason played a great defensive game, along with several other Tigers. Travis Harney and Louis Garza intercepted passes for the Tigers.

The Tigers will play Roosevelt in Tiger Stadium this Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Boy Scouts Announce Fall Recruiting Plans - Governor's Roundup Campaign

The annual fall membership campaign in the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, began September 1 when 331 Scout troops and Cub Scout packs started enrolling new members.

Called Governor's Roundup, the Scout council expects to give an opportunity to 4500 boys to join the Boy Scouts of America, Jack Baker, council commissioner, said.

Governor Dolph Briscoe, Honorary Chairman of the Fall Roundup in the State of Texas, is giving his personal leadership by awarding an individual recruiter patch, which incorporates the Seal of Texas, to each boy that recruits a new member.

Special events scheduled for this fall include School Nights, Troop Rally Night, First Nighter, Uniform Day, camporees, and individual recruiting.

A boy may become a Scout when he is 11 years old or has completed the fifth grade or a Cub Scout when he is 8 years old or has completed the second grade, Baker said.

In addition to the boys who join existing packs and troops, Baker said, the Scout Plains Council's organization and extension committee expects to organize about 59 new packs and troops in the Council's 22 county area.

The Boy Scouts of America provides a program for boys and young adults that is designed to develop desirable qualities of character, to train in the

Plains National Bank to Host Open House at New "Tower of Plains" Sunday

A ribbon cutting at one p.m. Sunday, Oct. 7, will open ceremonies as Plains National bank hosts the official introduction of their five-story "Tower of the Plains" with an open house to which the general public is invited.

Two years in the making and touted as the tallest office building in southwest Lubbock, the tower featuring Solarban mirror glass, was designed to be functional, as well as to complement the contemporary design of the original building.

The bank is served by three and one-half acres of off-street, paved and lighted parking areas. These spaces are reported to accommodate as many as 500 cars.

Present at Sunday's festivities will be Lubbock Mayor, Morris Turner; incoming President of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Bob Brummel; general contractor on the tower, H.R. Bundock; and Chairman of the Board of Plains National Bank, Joe Kirk Fulton.

Plains National Bank President, Jim Ed Waller will serve as Master of Ceremonies. Assisting him will be a bevy of Texas beauties including Miss Texas, Judy Mallet, making her first official visit to Lubbock; Miss Lubbock, Sherry White and the South Plains Maid of Cotton, Ginger Whitacre.

Refreshments will be served and each lady attending open house will be presented with an orchid, courtesy of Plains National Bank.

National 4-H Week Is October 7-13

4-H youth and their volunteer adult leaders throughout Texas and the nation are "getting it all together" as they observe National 4-H Week, October 7-13.

Traditionally, since 1927, National 4-H Week has been a time for 4-H'ers, their leaders and friends to take stock of the year's accomplishments and achievements. 4-H Week has been a time to look to the future of 4-H in each community, the state and nation.

"4-H Gets It All Together" is the theme of this year's observance and in countless ways, 4-H has "gotten it together" by involving more young people between the ages of 9 and 19 than ever before. Latest available figures show some 5.5 million young people across the nation participate in 4-H annually. About 146,000 of these are in Texas.

Begun after the turn of the century as an educational program for rural youth, 4-H today brings Company officials, local citizens, and representatives of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and leading firms in that city all took part in ribbon cutting ceremonies last Sunday afternoon at the new Whites Stores, Inc. local distribution warehouse here in Shallowater. About 350 citizens were led through the huge facility during the 4 hour long celebration, marking the opening of White's newest facility. The $2 million complex will serve 110 local and out of state stores, and employ approximately 80 local employees and transportation people.

On hand to cut the ribbon was Mr. W. Dean Stewart, president of Whites, Inc., from Wichita Falls, Texas. Also present at the ceremonies were such dignitaries as H.G. Preston, Mayor of Shallowater; Verlon Bigham, representing the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; Mr. M.J. Williams, "Mr. Chamber of Commerce of Shallowater"; and N.B. McCullough, Lubbock City Manager.

Officials from Wichita Falls included Ray Parks, Lawrence Smith, Bill Roberson, and Lucian Young, accompanied by their wives. Mr. Emmett Coffelt is the manager of the new Whites facility here.

The huge new warehouse, employing more than 80 people, will unload and distribute from Shallowater, more than 600 boxcar loads of merchandise per year to Whites Stores in West Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Colorado, with the projected number of stores and outlets expected to exceed 120 in the near future.

TGSPB Meeting Set October 9

The Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board will have its first meeting of the new fiscal year October 9, 1973. The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Arnett Room of the Texas Commerce Bank in Lubbock, Texas.

The four board members who were elected by producers in the September 15th directors' election will be sworn in at the meeting. Elected to six year terms were incumbents E.C. Witten of Edmonson, John Gilbreath of Hart and A.W. (Dub) Anthony, Jr., of Friona. In addition, Don Nelson of Tulia was elected to his first term, replacing Don Marble of South Plains.

New executive officers of the board will be elected, research and marketing projects for the coming year will be discussed and a budget for the fiscal year established.

Present executive officers are K.B. Parish of Springlake, Chairman; C.C. (Pap) Reed of Kress, Vice-Chairman; and Larry Witten of Olton, Secretary-Treasurer.

Lions Club Meets

The Shallowater Lions Club met Thursday at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 27th at Vardeman's Restaurant for their regular meeting and supper.

Guest speaker was Mr. Joe Cox of Shallowater who presented an interesting program on the Canadian River Water Project.

Plans were discussed on the Harvest Festival, which will be held Saturday, October 20th.

Approximately 18 members were present.

Shallowater 4-H Club Meeting Held

by Debra Crowther

The meeting of the Shallowater 4-H Club was called to order by Tom Sinclair, president, on Monday, September 17. The inspiration was given by Stuart Pettiet. Jana Cobb, the county extension agent, gave the program. She talked to parents and members about what is done in 4-H.

Plans were made for the annual pecan sale to be held in October and for the group to work at the watermelon booth at the fair.

Refreshments were served by Donna and Dannie Wiggins. The members who came were, Jordon Cox, Andy Blackmon, Gabi and Gary Miller.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

It would be easy to say "I told ya so," but what good would it do? Texas prevailed and that's that. The Longhorns are off and running towards No. 6 and Tech faces the usual uphill battle.

One game doesn't make a season and the Raiders still have a respectable 2-1 record. A victory over Oklahoma State would make the chart look that much better and the rest of the conference race still lies ahead. The Texas loss didn't end the season.

Certainly the Raiders have nothing to be ashamed of in that loss. They fought the favored Longhorns well and, had they been on the receiving end of some breaks, could have become winners.

All of which sounds familiar. I know I've written it before, but I agree with Coach Jim Carlen. The Tech coach said Monday that this was the first time in his four years here that he felt that there really wasn't too much difference between the two teams.

No one would have dreamed, for instance, that Don Grimes would miss both a field goal attempt and an extra point, both well within his reach.

The field goal actually hit an upright and could have made an interesting difference, had it been good. But even if things had remained the same as they turned out and Tech had held a 15-14 lead, the way the Longhorns stormed to their third touchdown might have been the equalizer.

Texas got its third score the way Texas teams get most of their scores. They drove nearly the length of the field. And the big thing was that they could overcome third down situations.

It wasn't that Tech was fooled as much as it was that Texas simply executed well, maybe exceptionally well. The Raiders were caught off guard in the first half when the Horns dug up a formation they hadn't used in 10 years, but the Raiders fought back. Power to 'em!

Haven't things happened in a hurry in baseball? And once again they're calling them fantastic, the New York Mets. In last place Aug. 30 and winners of the National League East Oct. 1. That was some kind of drive against heavy odds.

The 'Mays-ing Mets?' Well, Willie wasn't really that much help at bat and in the field, but who knows how much his savvy, his enthusiasm, his leadership played in that stretch drive?

It's funny, too. Ralph Houk (Yankees) and Leo Durocher (Astros) both resigned, back to back, and Boston fired Eddie Kasko. And not much more than a month ago it was whispered, pretty loudly, that Yogi Berra was on his way out as manager of the Mets!

Houk's Yankees were supposed to win American League East, with Boston a good possibility to win. Durocher's Astros were given a big boost at winning the National League East, and failed dismally.

So, here come the playoffs and they should be among the best ever. It will be those amazing Mets against power-laden Cincinnati and slick Baltimore against rambunctious Oakland.

Anyone care to wager a quid or two that the Mets don't surprise again and wind up in the World Series? They shouldn't, but no one knows what will happen to an inspired team. Personally, I think the Orioles will topple pitcher-rich Oakland. Either way, it should be a great World Series in the making.

Bobby Riggs got his com-uppance recently, much to the delight of all the Women Libbers and a lot of male chauvinists, too. I wasn't one of them. I wanted Bobby to win.

It became apparent, early, that the finely trained Billie Jean King was the master (mistress?) of Bobby. She ran the poor old man's legs off and Gatorade probably didn't do much for him.

Now, let's get a 55-year-old woman to play a 29-year-old man!

The Roundup—Friend of mine went to White River last week, reported small bass, and not too many, at the North end....Gerald Myers, Tech's capable basketball coach, merely smiles and says that Tech's cagers can't work until Oct. 15. Is the smile significant?...Report we have is that Baylor's defensive line is pretty leaky....Donnie Anderson is having a great year, despite Dallas. But I still think he's not being played at his best position....Wouldn't it have been great if a television station had brought us the Tech-Texas game....Carlen says Texas is better right now than it has been at the same time the last four years....Don't look for Cliff Hoskins of Tommy Duniven in Tech uniform this fall. They're among the stud players being red shirted.

P.T.A. Rummage Sale to Be Held Friday and Saturday to Benefit School Air Conditioning

The Shallowater P.T.A. is sponsoring a Rummage Sale, Friday and Saturday, October 5th and 6th, at the Shallowater Community Clubhouse. The proceeds of this sale will go into the fund for air conditioning for the school.

Dig out what you don't want or use anymore. You may take it to Mrs. Clois Cobb at 904 9th St. or call Mrs. Billy Kerchner, 832-4086, or Mrs. Roy Pool at 832-4662 and they will be glad to come by and pick it up.

Anyone wishing to make a cash donation may do so by contacting any of the above mentioned women

Senior Spotlight

by Janie Serna

This weeks senior spotlight is Lynn Crowther. Lynn was born on May 21 under the zodiac sign of Taurus the bull, which would make him a shy boy.

His favorite food is steak and his favorite color is red. Lynn's favorite hobby is raising sheep. He is an active member in F.F.A.

Lynn plans to attend South Plains College after he graduates. Good luck.

F.H.A. Freshman Initiation Held

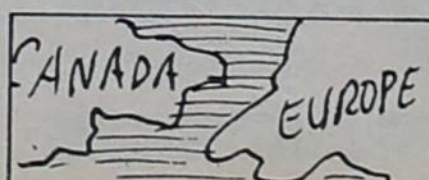

At 7:00 last Saturday morning, Sept. 22, the new Freshmen members were initiated into F.H.A. The upper classmen went to their houses and got the Freshmen out of bed and brought them in their pajamas up to the Homemaking Cottage.

First we ate donuts and drank hot cocolate. Then we were entertained by the Freshmen. They sang a song where everyone joined in. The Freshmen played a few games. After that, it was "requested time" where the upper classmen made them do imitations, dance and sing. This was very funny. Kim Myers sang her Dick Song which was pretty cute. Then a well known senior, Sandra Hardin, demonstrated very professionally how to was and elephant. Each Freshman had to show the next one how to do it. When it got to the last Freshman, you couldn't even tell what it was, but we all got a few good laughs from it.

Actually, the whole breakfast and initiation was a lot of fun and our sponsor, Mrs. Brinlee, also had a very enjoyable time.

College & Vocational Night Scheduled in Lubbock October 8th

Shallowater juniors and seniors will have the chance to meet with representatives of over 50 colleges and vocational-technical schools. The Lubbock Public Schools are sponsoring a College and Vocational night to be held at Estacado High School at 7:30 p.m., Monday, October 8.

Students can visit with the representatives about entrance requirements, different subjects, offered by different colleges and the cost involved. Parents are invited to attend along with their junior or senior child. Rides will be provided for those students who do not plan to attend with their parents.

If you plan to attend and would like to go in a group, meet in front of Shallowater High school at 6:45 Monday night. If you have any questions about college night, contact Mrs. Witcher for further information.

lost to the Sudan team with a score of 12-7.

Bobby James, with the help of the blockers Malcom Terry, Rusty Lusk, and Gary Green, made a 45 yard gain against the Sudan defense.

In the defense for Shallowater, the most tackles were made by John Gates and David Bedingfield. Both tackling a score of 10.

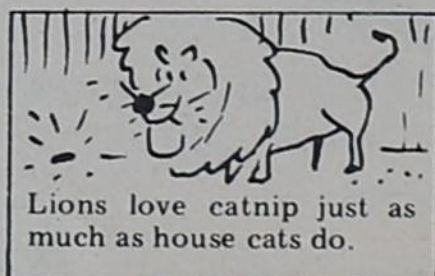

Football Spotlight

by Letty Anaya

Larry Schoor was born on December 4, 1955, in Lubbock, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Schoor. In football this year, Larry plays offensive end. Larry chose to play football because its a nice sport and he likes it.

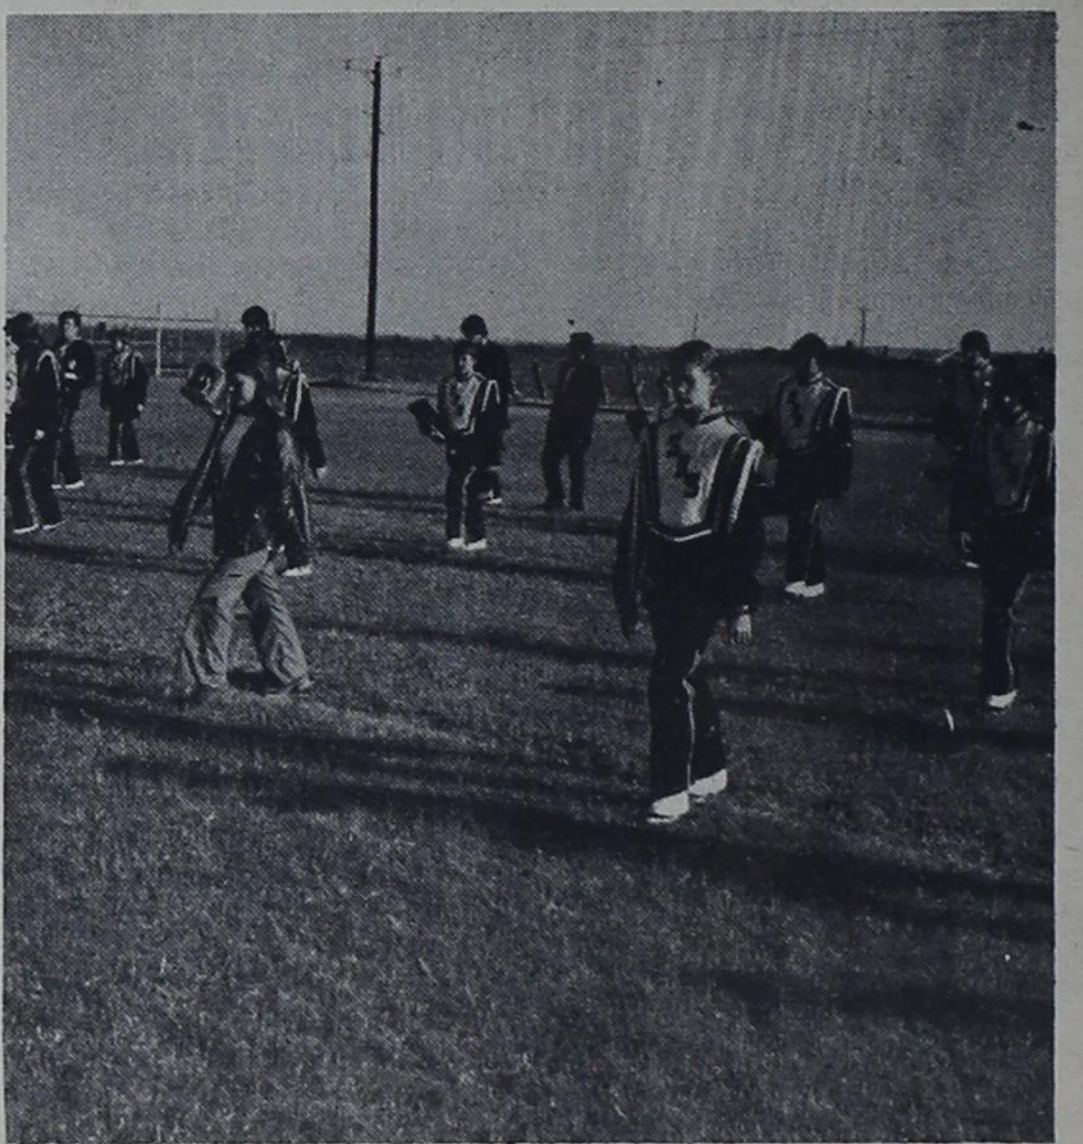

Larry's favorite color is red. His favorite food is pizza. Larry does not have a favorite hobby, but he does a little of everything. His main like is girls and his main dislike is school. Larry's favorite subject this year is Consumer Math. Larry has attended Abernathy school, but will graduate from good old Shallowater high.

Larry plans to go to college after he graduates. Good luck, Senior 74.
