area. The county maintainer was used to help shape up the area for the plot.

LIGHT makes a difference
 by Nancy Evans Residential Lighting Specialist
 General Electric, Nela Park

Recessed downlights not only promote security and safety, but also dramatize a home's architectural detail, and extend a friendly welcome to guests.

"Every one that doeth evil hateth the light." (John 3:20)

Well-planned lighting is a deterrent to crime. Improved lighting of streets, parking lots, and playgrounds has reduced night-time crime from 10 to 87-percent.

In residential areas as well, according to law enforcement agencies, the use of light, both inside and outside the home, is one of the most effective methods of protecting property and preventing crime.

Light offers you a simple, economical means of protecting your two most valuable possessions — your family and your home.

Well-planned lighting of the home and its surroundings silently welcomes visitors, and discourages intruders. It can provide many benefits. Not only does it protect against burglaries, vandalism and personal attacks, but it also offers security against injury due to stumbling and bumping into objects in the dark.

Inside the home you should leave lights on in principal rooms when at home or away. Timers may be used to control operation of the lighting when you are away for extended periods of time.

Outside the home you should provide sufficient light for entrances, driveway, walkways, and yard. Photoelectric cells are desirable for automatically turning on post lights at dusk and off at dawn.

The commonly used porch light, surface-mounted wall fixtures, and post lights generally supply sufficient illumination for walkways and entrances. However, some conditions may indicate the need for supplemental lighting by low-mounted "mushroom" units.

Simple spot or flood lights can be the answer to many outdoor lighting problems. They are especially suitable for lighting driveways, yards, and walkways. The units can be mounted easily on outside walls, on roofs, in trees, or can be spiked into the ground. Because they are resistant to damage by rain or snow, 150-watt PAR-38 lamps are your best light source for these applications.

You can make your own home, family and neighborhood much safer against night-time criminals by lighting your own property and urging that your neighbors do likewise.

But remember that your outdoor lighting is for you and should in no way interfere with the privacy of your neighbors.

Want to know more about outdoor lighting? Write for "Light for Living . . . Outdoor" — a publication containing additional facts for your guidance. Single copies are available free from the Inquiry Bureau, Dept. 405, General Electric Company, Park, Cleveland, Ohio.

TURKEY FHA GIRLS PRESENT STYLE SHOW

The Turkey FHA Style Show was presented for the P-TA Tuesday night, May 11. Signs of Astrology was the theme this year, and each girl modeled according to the sign under which she was born. Pictures of the astrological signs were on the wall as a background for the models as they showed the garments they have made during the past year in class and as home experiences.

Jana Driskill, born under the sign of Aries, modeled as class project, a blue and white polyester double knit dress, and a home experience a multi-colored scooter skirt and maroon sleeveless blouse.

Laura Lane, a Taurean, wore her classroom project, a white cotton dress, featuring contrasting blue stitching on collar, front and pockets.

Charmaine Fuston, also born under the sign of Taurus, modeled a grey jumper of wool made in the Fall class. A pink blouse was worn with the jumper.

Annie Faye Polley, also a Taurean, wore an A-line midi-skirt of red-purple wool; this was also a classroom project last Fall.

Doris Carlile, a Gemini, modeled an A-line midi-skirt of brown multi-colored wood, also made in class last Fall.

Darlene Hale, born under the sign of Cancer, wore a blue wool jumper, a classroom project. The jumper featured top-stitching at neck and armholes.

Joan Ferguson, a Leo, modeled an A-line shift of permanent press fabric with a floral design. She also modeled a second class project, a knit striped tunic top worn with white bell bottom pants.

Juana Cotten, also a Leo, wore a brown and white A-line shift of permanent press fabric. She also modeled a home project, a peasant blouse and skirt of green dotted swiss accented with a yellow and white flocked design.

Linda Bolton, born under the sign of Virgo, wore her class project, a multi-colored shift accented with a navy blue tie at the neckline. She also modeled a peasant blouse worn with white bell-bottom pants.

Jean Green, a Virgo, modeled a green polyester cotton dress featuring a centerfront zipper. She also modeled a flowered maxi-skirt with a peasant look, worn with a white blouse.

Elaine King, a Libra, wore a class project, a double knit dress of polyester. A blue collar and flaps on the pocket accented the blue patterned dress. Elaine also modeled a white double-knit scooter skirt, worn with an orchid tank top.

Karen Eudy, a Scorpio, modeled two class projects, a circular skirted jumper of purple wool and a peasant blouse of polyester fabric in aqua.

Thrifty Beef Casserole

Penny-wise cooking for a family is a challenge; you must not only meet the budget but please family tastes as well. Here is the dish to do both: a generous and hearty beef and macaroni casserole that combines favorite foods deliciously, attractively and inexpensively.

In Beefy Macaroni Casserole, two 12 ounce cans of roast beef with gravy, bolstered by the addition of cottage cheese, provide eight hefty protein servings at pennies a serving. The dish is fine eating, too, being flavored with parsley, Worcestershire and thyme, while bright green peas and tender mushrooms add additional color and flavor interest. A garnish of tomato wedges and bread crumbs adds vitamins and color.

BEEFY MACARONI CASSEROLE

- 1 package (7 oz.) elbow macaroni
- 1 cup creamed cottage cheese
- 2 cans (12 oz. each) roast beef with gravy
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas, cooked
- 1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 tomatoes, peeled and sliced
- 1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs

Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain. Press cottage cheese through food mill or strainer or beat until smooth. Combine roast beef with gravy, cooked peas, mushrooms, cottage cheese, parsley, Worcestershire sauce, thyme and salt. Fold in macaroni. Turn into shallow 2-quart baking dish. Top with tomato slices. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake in a 350 degree oven about 25 minutes or until hot. Makes 6 servings.

sign of Sagittarius, modeled a red, white and navy bell-bottom pants outfit with a white sweater. She also modeled a high blue, gold and white short and shirt combination with a tie belt.

Peggy Fuston, a Capricorn, modeled a midi brown vest featuring two side pockets and worn with checked bell bottom pants and a tan blouse.

Vicki Ham, another Capricorn, wore a multi-colored wool skirt featuring a wide waistband and worn with a gold blouse.

Marilyn Maxwell, also a Capricorn, modeled a blue polyester double knit dress featuring top-stitching on the collar and pockets.

Debbie Lane, Janice Bolton and Darlene Jouett, all Senior FHA members, narrated the style show.

Lt. Danny Fuston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Fuston of Turkey, is now serving with the U. S. Army stationed in Fort Knox, Kentucky. He is with the First Battalion Armor School. Dan has received a bachelor of arts degree from Texas Tech this past year.

He has visited many places of interest in Kentucky, one being the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln. On the boundary marker at Lincoln's birthplace, he noticed the following quotation, written in March 1864: "Property is the fruit of labor, property is desirable; it is a positive good in the world; that some should be rich shows that others may become rich; and hence, is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another. But let him work diligently and build one for himself. Thus by example, assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

(Ed. Note: We feel this still applies to the present generation and if heeded, the world would be a much better place to live.)

Dan says Kentucky is beautiful but he still likes Texas best.

CREATIVE CRAFT IDEAS

Make a Piggy Bank

Did you ever wish you had formed the habit of saving loose change to have handy when a need arises or for a specific special purchase? A piggy bank makes a cute reminder to save and is also an attractive room decoration.

Since the purpose is to save, make the bank yourself using papier mache mixture. What you will need, you probably already have at home: a balloon, cardboard tube, egg carton, tape, newspaper, tissue or paper bags, a bowl and instant laundry starch. Gather all materials together on a protected work surface.

Begin by making a frame. This will be covered with paper dipped in a starch papier mache mixture that hardens when dry for a rigid shape. Blow up the balloon for body shape. Cut the cardboard tube into 4 equal leg size shapes. Tape legs to balloon. Tape one section from an egg carton to one end of the balloon for a snout. Tear paper into strips. Then prepare papier mache mixture. Mix equal parts of Niagara instant laundry starch and cool water (about 1 cup of each) in a bowl. Let stand a few minutes to thicken.

Dip paper strips into mixture, remove excess mixture and wrap around frame. All surfaces should be covered with one layer before starting next layer. To easily tell if layers are complete before starting the next, alternate with different type strips for each layer. Coat completely with 4 to 5 layers and let dry thoroughly. Note: If you want to paint the bank when dry, end with a layer of white paper or make last layer of colored tissue or strips of a printed paper.

When completely dry, cut slot for coins in top. Balloon will break when pierced, slowly pulling away from the sides, leaving a rigid shape. To finish the piggy bank, glue on a length of coiled twine for a tail and pieces of cut felt for ears. Draw on eyes and other features with a felt tip pen or paint. Now all it needs is a few coins to make the bank complete.

Although the pig seems to be the traditional shape for banks, tradition need not be followed. This starch mixture could be used for an elephant bank or maybe even a striped tiger bank. When you make it yourself, you can create just what you want.

her son, Monte, and Mrs. Jean Pope, all of Tulla.

Planned Parenthood Clinic In Operation Here

Did you know that Briscoe County now has an organized Planned Parenthood Clinic? Family planning services are available through the cooperation of the doctor and pharmacists in the county. These services include education, physical examinations, Pap smears to determine if cancer cells are present, and all medically and church approved methods of birth control.

The Planned Parenthood organization believes that spacing children is important to promote better health in mothers and children, to give mothers more time and energy to devote to each child and to provide greater harmony in the home. The goal of the clinic is: "Every child a wanted child."

The Briscoe County Planned Parenthood Clinic is a part of the Panhandle Planned Parenthood Association in Amarillo which was organized in 1968. The Amarillo Planned Parenthood organization is chartered to conduct work in a 26-county area and now have clinics in 11 counties, including Potter, Randall, Collingsworth, Childress, Hall, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Swisher and Dallam. It is supported by local contributions as well as funds from Washington. Mrs. Helen Strange is in charge of the local services and received her training in Amarillo. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Strange at her office in the Courthouse in Silverton or by calling 823-6181.
