New Supper Sandwich
by Betty Crocker

Here's a new twist to the submarine sandwich called the mini-sub, a mighty meal on a little round loaf of bread. The delicious difference — the mini-sub's made with its own special quick bread, sprinkled with poppy seed and baked in a custard cup. You slice each loaf into thirds, spread with tangy dressing, layer on the ham and cheese — and enjoy a triple decker banquet on bread. Children love the mini-sub, likewise hungry husbands. And especially when it's served with Icy Lemonade Tea. To keep things casual all the way, use disposable plates and move to the backyard. Then the mini-sub supper is fun for the cook, too.

MINI-SUB SANDWICH

- 4 cups New Bisquick
- 1 envelope (about 1 1/2 ounces) sour cream sauce mix
- 1 3/4 cups milk
- 2 eggs
- Poppy seed, if desired
- 2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 1 pound sliced boiled ham
- 1 package (8 ounces) sliced Swiss cheese
- Lettuce leaves

Heat oven to 400°. Grease six 10-ounce custard cups. Mix New Bisquick, sauce mix, milk and eggs. Beat vigorously 1/2 minute. Spread into prepared cups. Sprinkle with poppy seed. Bake about 20 minutes.

Cool. Slice each loaf horizontally into thirds. Blend cream cheese, sugar, orange peel and juice. Spread cut sides of bread with cream cheese mixture. Fill layers with ham, cheese slices and lettuce. Makes 6 sandwiches.

LEMONADE TEA

- 6 teabags
  - 1 quart boiling water
  - 1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate
  - 2 quarts cold water
  - 1/4 cup sugar
- Steep teabags in boiling water 15 minutes. Add lemonade concentrate; stir until melted. Stir in cold water and sugar until sugar is dissolved. Chill. Serve over ice. Makes twelve 8-ounce servings. Dessert? Ice cream, of course.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barrett, from Hart on Thursday of last week. He had just arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Seaney, about five minutes before, he told the Baretts. WHEAT IN SORGHUM MAY CREATE PROBLEMS and the troublesome pests can foul up profits for producers.
College Station, — Weeds in grain sorghum this year may cause some problems for harvesters. Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer with Texas A&M University, says.

The engineer suggests a slower speed to take care of the tough, high - moisture weeds and more care in cleaning the combine.

Each morning the operator should check all grates and sieves for "honeydew" or "syrup" which can collect and cause buildups of dust and trash and cause throwout losses of grain. Straw - walkers should also be checked before fore starting work each morning.

Before going into a weedy field, it is best to adjust the machine according to the operator's manual and then make secondary adjustments as field conditions warrant, O'Neal points out.

To cover the ground as quickly as possible and avoid seed losses, both in uncleaned heads and cracked seeds, the operator may have to maintain a compromise speed. When the combine "grows" it is an indication of excess speed and probable seed losses.

Losses in profits for the producer can be caused by grain left in the field, cracked seed, or dockage at the elevator.

In most fields, there is usually one spot which is weeder than the rest. The clean portion of the field should be combined first to get out the high quality seed. The weedy part can wait a longer period as it will usually result in higher moisture grain, O'Neal concludes.

PRISON RODEO PREPARATION CAUSING EXCITEMENT

Huntsville — Visitors in the vicinity of the Ferguson Unit, Texas Department of Corrections, have recently been wondering what was going on inside the prison after hearing what seemed to be pistol shots.

First, some believed it to be target practice by custodial officers, while others even went so far as to believe that officers may have been chasing an escapee.

Prison officials were quick to dispel these ideas by announcing that the so - called pistol reports were nothing more than a group of young Ferguson inmates practicing on unusual thrilling whip - cracking act to be featured each Sunday in October at the 1968 edition of the Texas Prison Rodeo. According to David Price, Rodeo Supervisor the whip - cracking

New higher interest rates on Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares

Now U.S. Savings Bonds pay 4 1/4 %, new Freedom Shares pay 5%.

Today, Savings Bonds are a better investment than ever. Now they pay 4 1/4 % when held to maturity. And new Freedom Shares pay a full 5% when held to maturity.

Freedom Shares are still sold on a one-for-one basis with Series E Bonds, but now you can buy the combination any time at your bank—and not just on a regular monthly plan as before.

The higher interest rate on Savings Bonds applies not only to the new ones you buy, but to your older ones too for their remaining period to maturity—generally effective with the first full six-months interest period beginning on or after June 1. (Outstanding Freedom Shares are not affected).

NEW BISHOP APPOINTED FOR UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The Rev. Dr. Alsie H. Carleton, 58, became a bishop of the United Methodist Church on the 13th episcopal ballot taken July 25 at United Methodism's South Central Jurisdictional Conference July 24 - 27 in Oklahoma City.

Bishop Carleton received 280 votes, with 221 needed for election.

Since 1964, the new bishop has been professor of church administration and director of field education and conference courses of study at Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

The episcopal election gives the South Central Jurisdiction its full complement of 10 bishops who were assigned to the jurisdiction's 10 episcopal areas, including the newly created area with headquarters in Albuquerque, N.M. Bishop Carleton was appointed to the new Area, named the Northwest Teras - New Mexico Area.

Bishop Carleton ran strongly on all ballots and was never below third in the voting. The decisive turn came on the 12th ballot, when he received 205 votes, with 223 needed for election (the requirement for the election was 60 per cent of the votes cast on a particular ballot.)

Upon announcement of his election by Bishop Noah W. Moore, Jr. who was presiding, the bishop-elect was escorted to the conference platform by two Dallas bishops under whom he had served. They were Bishop William C. Martin, retired, and Bishop W. Kenneth Pope of the Dallas - Fort Worth Area. Mrs. Carleton was escorted to the platform by Mrs. Pope and Mrs. Paul E. Martin, wife of the bishop of the Houston Area.

A native of Texas, the bishop was educated at McMurry College (bachelor of arts), Abilene, Texas; Southern Methodist University (bachelor of divinity), Boston University and the University of Chicago. Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth, awarded him an honorary doctor of divinity degree in 1952. He was ordained to the Methodist ministry in 1938 and his pastorates included First Methodist in Big Spring, Texas and University Park Methodist in Dallas. He was superintendent of the former Dallas Northeast District from 1961 to 1964.

Dr. Carleton joined Perkins in September, 1964, and is currently professor of Church Administration there.

Bishop Carleton was a man who didn't think he could be elected bishop of The United Methodist Church and said immediately after his election that "you can't help but feel inadequate" when it happens. "It's a very sobering feeling," he said.

However, looking forward to his new duties in the episcopacy, the bishop praised the new structures being implemented by the church following its union with the Evangelical United Brethren Church this spring. "I've already been teaching my students the new structure," Bishop Carleton said. "They (the structures) are a great step forward, and I don't think I will have any problem adapting to them."

But he added his explanation of the function of structures.

"I'm interested in structures only as structures relate to faith and action," he said. "This," he said, was "the church fulfilling its mission."

The new bishop indicated he is ready to try to bridge the "gaps" in our society, including the generation gap.

"The last four years have really made me keenly aware of the generation gap, the theological gap and the social gap," the new bishop said. "I hope my experience in the seminary will enable me to bridge these gaps," he said, noting that his close connection with the young ministers in Perkins puts him in a position of being able to work closely with youth in ministerial recruitment. "There has been a gap between the church and youth," he added.

Bishop Carleton assumed the duties of resident bishop of the Area upon his consecration Saturday noon, July 27, in St. Luke Methodist Church in Oklahoma City. He and his wife, the former Artha Blair Crutchfield, will be moving to Albuquerque about the middle of August.

Bishop Carleton told of humorous "family" sidelights in connection with his election as bishop. For more than the first half of the balloting he trailed Dr. Finis Crutchfield of Tulsa, and was elected on the 13th ballot. Dr. Crutchfield and Dr. Carleton are brother-in-law. "Dr. Crutchfield really knows how to hurt his brother-in-law," Dr. Carleton said laughing. "When he announced his withdrawal, the delegates gave him a standing ovation. When he sat down he wrote me a note that said, 'Blessed is a man who standeth not in the way of sinners.'"

Shirttail Sermon

The question that is asked most often today is: "How can I live in this confused world without becoming confused myself?" Jesus says nothing specific about this subject because it did not exist in His day, yet He would say something like this.

First, stop grieving over things that you have lost and miss. The good old days were not nearly so good as some people think they were. They are gone; let them go; remember the good in them, but do not waste time wishing for their return.

Second, He would tell us to fix our eyes on the eternal things. The Cross is eternal; it has not moved from where it was on the first Good Friday. It stands where the goodness of one Man is crossed out by the blindness of other men. It is at that very intersection that the love of God breaks through to us and at the same time binds up the wounds made by the break. God himself has not changed. He is still the Center of every living thing. He is still the loving Father, awaiting the Prodigal's return. The Gospel has not changed. It is the good news that God not only made the world, but that He came into the world to be with us, for better or for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and health, in life and in death, that we might be with Him.

Hold fast to those eternal things. You will be in the minority. But you will know where you are going and what is more important, how you are going to get there.

Cook Cool With Electric Cookware

Beat the heat this summer by cooking cool. We're not suggesting a summer diet of lunch-eon meats and salads, but rather that you plan tempting menus around your low-heat automatic electric appliances.

With the marvelous variety of aluminum electric cookware, you can fix hearty, one-dish meals like Jiffy Dandy Stew, or a casserole or even a roast without adding range or oven heat to your kitchen. In fact, you can set up your electric cookware in the patio or terrace, wherever you have an outlet handy. Just indicate the cooking temperature on your appliance and let it do the rest. If you're not ready to serve when cooking time is up, turn it to the lowest setting and it will keep the food hot till serving time.

This kind of effortless cooking is possible with today's aluminum electric cookware because aluminum's high, even heat conductivity assures the accurate performance of the thermostat, which is why the whole process can be automatic without any fussing on your part. Even cleanup is a snap with the non-stick coating on most new aluminum cookware. There's no scraping or scouring; crusted-on food particles wash away with the swish of a sudsy sponge.

Whatever type of summer cooking or entertaining you prefer, there's an aluminum electric appliance to do the job for you — graciously and effortlessly. In addition to the electric skillet, saucepans, griddles, wafflemakers, coffee makers and food warmers, two new aluminum electric have just made the scene — a 5-quart Dutch oven for large quantity cooking, and an elegant casserole that comes to the table for company.

The Dutch oven can serve as a roaster or an oven — for roast pork, ham and chicken, as well as pot roasts and stews.

It's handy as a deep fat fryer, for French frying potatoes, or as a food warmer at a buffet table. Its generous size, non-stick surface on sturdy aluminum for heavy duty cooking, plus its automatic controls, make it a versatile summer-time aid.

The electric 2-1/4 quart casserole is a beautiful new way to cook and serve your favorite casserole recipe. Its unique double-wall aluminum construction insulates the appliance, holding the heat in and around the removable inset containing the food. This means it can also act as a small oven, for baking fish, potatoes, vegetables or desserts. The inset, incidentally, can be used as a separate range-top utensil. Its striking design, fitted vented cover, and dark non-stick coating, contrasting with the polished aluminum outer shell, win for it a prominent serving place at the company table.

For cool summer cooking, try this mouth-watering recipe in your electric Dutch oven:

JIFFY DANDY STEW

- 1 can (1 pound) carrots, drained
- 1 can (1 pound) potatoes, drained
- 1 can (1 pound) onions, drained
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 3/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Set an aluminum Dutch oven at 325°. Melt butter. Add chopped onion and celery. Cook for 3 minutes. Add beef. Stir and cook until all redness has gone from the meat. Add remaining ingredients. Turn heat control to simmer. Cover and simmer for 25 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SOCIAL SECURITY NOTES —

Many clergymen in the Amarillo area are asking how recent changes in the social security law will affect them, according to Travis C. Briggs, manager of the Amarillo social security office.

"The income from a clergyman's ministry is covered by social security beginning with 1968," Briggs says, "unless the minister signs a statement that he is opposed to being covered by reason of religious principle or conscience."

"Clergymen who elected coverage under the previous law will not be affected by the new amendments and will continue to be covered. Members of religious orders who have taken a vow of poverty will not be affected by the new provisions.

"Clergymen who may be opposed to this coverage must file an application for exemption and a special statement with the Internal Revenue Service by April 15, 1970. If he enters the ministry in 1969 or later, he will have until April 15 of the second year after the year in which he became a clergyman to request exemption.

"A clergyman will report his income and make his tax contributions as if he were self-employed, even though he may be working as an employee."

Further information about this new change in the law is available from the Amarillo social security office.

District Directors for the various states or areas hand out a lot of good tax advice. Some of the best advice is — "Keep good records and save tax dollars."

Every year thousands of Texans resolve to stop costing themselves money and to keep good records at the beginning of the year or as soon as they start to worry about their income tax during the year. It is not too late to make a July resolution to go on top of the New Year's resolution and to at least do a good job of record keeping for the rest of the year. You may have missed some tax savings already, but maybe you can also make some tax savings during the rest of the year.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER SIX ON THE BALLOT (SJR24)

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 2-a. (a) The Legislature may, by General Law, exempt from ad valorem taxation by the state and its political subdivisions all or a portion of any equipment, device or improvement installed or constructed on real property, which is designed to eliminate or abate the harmful effect of air emissions or water effluents on the air and water quality in this state, to the extent that the capital investment in such property is made to comply with or to exceed air or water quality standards established by law.

"(b) Legislation which may be enacted in anticipation of the adoption of this Section is not void because of its anticipatory nature."
Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 1968, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment giving permissive authority to the Texas Legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation by the State of Texas and its political subdivisions equipment installed on real property to eliminate or abate the harmful effect of air emissions and water effluents, provided that the capital investment in such equipment complies with the air and water quality standards established by the State of Texas."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment giving permissive authority to the Texas Legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation by the State of Texas and its political subdivisions equipment installed on real property to eliminate or abate the harmful effect of air emissions and water effluents, provided that the capital investment in such equipment complies with the air and water quality standards established by the State of Texas."

among the "must-see" items at the San Antonio World's Fair.

The movie "US" has drawn most of the comment — some good and some bad — but the 25-minute film is the last part of an interesting trip through history and future promise contained in the beautiful structures.

Attendance in the Exhibits Building is equally as high as that for the movie. Visitors climb a hardwood ramp named "Discovery Trail" onto the deck of "All People's Ship," a section complete with rigging, sounds of the sea and waves.

Through the arc-shaped hall, visitors trace the development of America, ending with a slide show that has drawn praise on its own. As fair-goers leave the building they can see themselves on two closed-circuit television screens — each with its own place in the continuing attempt to involve the person.

Across the migration courtyard is the film drawing all the attention and comments from every dignitary visiting the World's Fair.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson was the first to comment after viewing "US" on opening day. To the first lady, the film told too many problems and gave no hint of the solutions.

There has been plenty more, but the favorable comment is outdistancing the criticism. Most foreign dignitaries praise the country for being "big enough" to air its problems to the unique presentation in which three 400-seat theatres suddenly become one with 1,200 seats intrigues everyone.

As many people are enjoying the exterior as the interior of the huge complex, walking leisurely through the sculpture garden backgrounded by the migration fountain.

The garden provides a relaxing contrast to the modern architecture of the two buildings. Many fairgoers relax in the grass under long-standing pecan trees, listening to the mockingbirds singing.

More than 10 pieces of modern sculpture await art-lovers. The collection contains works by such well-known artists as Pablo Picasso, Isamu Noguchi and Ruben Nakian.

The fountain has 60 metal birds and splashing waters giving them the illusion of actually flying.
