Horse Owners Urged To "Get The Jump" On VEE

Horse owners throughout Texas are urged to "get the jump" on VEE, Venezuelan Equine Ence-phalomyelitis, that deadly sleep-ing sickness of horses. All horses the disease swept into the state from Mexico, killing hundreds of

The 1972 campaign against VEE calls for vaccination of all equidae (horses, mules, donkeys) not vaccinated last year. In addition to Texas, the vaccination campaign will include the Gulf Coast states and states adjoining Mexico. All these states have been designated "high risk" states by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The four categories of horses that should be vaccinated now are (1) unvaccinated horses that have recently been moved into the state (2) foals born since last year's vaccination drive, (3) foals vaccinated under six months of age, (4) horses that were overlooked and never vaccinated.

Officials of the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Service believe that VEE will break out again even though the disease was con-fined to 25 Texas counties in 1971. So, it's important to vaccinate now before mosquitoes which transmit the disease emerge in the warm months shead.

This year the vaccination program will be conducted at the horse owner's expense. Commercial vaccine is available and must be administered by a veterinarian.

While everyone else is waiting on installation, central GAS air conditioning will be quietly and efficiently cooling your whole house. And another benefit of installing now is you have the time to consider the advantages that GAS air conditioning has over the other kinds. A GAS air conditioning system is ruggedly built and operates on a simple principle. Heat from the steady blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. There are fewer major moving parts and no compressor to break down or wear out. It's this simplicity that gives GAS air conditioning its low operating costs its long life with no loss of cooling capacity, and its easy maintenance with few repair bills.

GAS air conditioning also filters the air to reduce dust and pollen. If you have a forced air heating system, you may be able to use the same ductwork for GAS air conditioning. So, be foxy. Call Pioneer Natural Gas Company for a free air conditioning survey of your home or business.

The Night The Man Bombed Turkey, Texas

by Rick Anderson

The following story appeared recently in the Seattle (Wash.) Post-Dispatch. The story was sent to Mrs. U. F. Coker, sr. sent to Mrs. U. F. Coker, sr. by Mrs. Elnita Reys, niece of Mrs. Coker, who lives in Se-attle. We thought it would be of interest to all of our readers, many of whom pro-bably don't know that Tur-key was ever "bombed." We hadn't heard about it!

Yes. yes, true, there have been some rare, thrill-packed moments in my life, but that night — a Thursday, and they're usually pretty slow—all other thrills dropper back a notch. Yes, I am putting this event above even the time I was introduced in a spotlight to an audience at a Roller Derby contest, and even above the time I ran into Eugene McCarthy in a men's room, and even above the time Joe Namath stepped on my foot getting out of an airplane at Ocean Shores. I still have that same foot.

But now, this! Somehow fate had chosen me to have the same foot.

The squadron passed over the bomb range. High above Turkey the big Cessnas prepared to roll and dive back towards the militarget area; The Man was

Furthermore, the event itself was almost missed. As the man across from me got up to go to the bathroom, he just happened to casually mention to the man next to me, "Hey. tell Anderson about the time you bombed Turkey, Texas."

What made tounding is the fact The Man works at the same sweat mill I do I can't tell you his name, because of the small town and only one casually was reported: A cow. Remembering that a war once was the exception of a few pardonable evenings at the Bavarian Gardens. Probably you've never heard of Turkey, Texas.
