First Homecoming Set For Valley High As Patriots Host Wheeler Mustangs

VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL CHEER- School Patriots this season— and LEADERS: The five young pretties doing a real fine job, we might add. They will be trying to root the boys on to a big Homecoming win Friday as they tangle with the Wheeler Mustangs. The girls are (left to right): Jana Turner, Dottie Lane, Jane Duncan, Kim Ham and Juana Coffen.

Valley High will host the Wheeler Mustangs Friday night at 7:30 in its first actual homecoming game. A game was designated last year as homecoming but since Valley High had not had a class to graduate since the two schools consolidated, that game was a homecoming of graduates of Quitaque and Turkey. Now that VHS has graduated a class of students, this one can be an official homecoming game.

Pre-game activities Friday night will include the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. This is scheduled to take place between 7:00 and 7:30.

Fans are urged to try to get to the game a little early in order to see the crowning of the Queen.

Last Friday night at Turkey the Patriots tangled with last year's Class A state - finalist Clarendon Bronchos, with the Bronchos winning it 33-7.

The Patriots came to play and did not roll over and play dead for the Bronchos. The game was a pretty good one to watch.

The Patriots took the opening kickoff, Brian Wheeler returning it five yards to the 20 yard line, but the Patriots could not pick up a first down and had to kick. The Bronchos were set up for their first offensive action on their own 39 yard line. Their first play netted them one yard, the second play added six more yards. The third play resulted in a loss for the Bronchos due to a fumble and the Bronchos had to kick to the Patriots, who got possession on their own 20.

Brian Wheeler picked up five yards on the first play, then ramed for five more on the next play, giving the Patriots the first first down for either team on the 30. On the next play the Bronchos were offside, giving the Patriots a first and five but the bigger visitors stiffened and stopped the Patriots at that point. Gary Meacham, back to punt, got a bad snap from center and by the time he recovered the ball he was surrounded by hoses but somehow eluded them and got off a kick on the run and the visitors took over on their own 48 yard line. On the first play the Bronchos' speedy Kenneth King got lose for the longest scoring play of the game, a 52 yard run for the TD. The extra point try was good and the visitors led 7-0. Just before the quarter ended Kenneth Reese scored for the Bronchos and again the extra point try was good and the Bronchos led 14-0 at the end of the first period.

Gary Shields scored for Clarendon from two yards out to give the Bronchos a 20-0 lead and later in the period Johnny Gerner ran in a TD from the 11 yard line to give them a 26-0 lead as the kick try failed for the second time. That was the score at half-time.

Clarendon Coach Clyde Noonkester started his reserves the second half and the Patriots held their own with them, in fact the Patriots moved the ball downfield against the smaller Bronchos, moving to the 20 yard line. The Bronco coach then sent his big boys in to stop the Patriot threat, and stop them they did. Coach Noonkester then sent in his smaller boys to take the offense at about the 15 yard line. On the second play, the Patriots recovered a Clarendon fumble on the five yard line. In came the big Bronchos to stop the Patriots again, but this time they did not stop the Patriots as Brian Wheeler punched in a TD from two yards out. Steve Eudy kicked the extra point and the Patriots were on the scoreboard.

Noonkester left his first string in following that bit of action and the big boys scored once again to make it 33-7. The Bronco reserves played the remainder of the game, which was scoreless. It was a pretty good ballgame to watch and except for the one 52 yard run and the last pass-run play which covered 36 yards, the Bronchos had to pretty well work for what they got and the Patriots scrapped them all the way in a good team effort.

The Mustangs will come to Valley Friday night with one win, three losses and one tie on their season's record. Last Friday night the Mustangs tied Wellington 0-0. The Mustangs, according to Coach Matt Chalmers, will not be very much bigger than the Patriots, who usually have to give away a lot of weight almost to a man. Coach Chalmers also says that the Mustangs are not too fast and quick, but in Lewis Britt the Mustangs have a very fine running back. The Wheeler team is mainly a running team, although they will throw on occasion.

The game figures to be a good one and you can bet that the Patriots will be fired up for this homecoming game, and are looking for their first win ever, and this just may be the one.

There will be a big pep rally and bonfire at the Valley School Thursday night and it will be staged around 7:30, between performances of the Fisher Bros. Circus, which will present two shows Thursday, the first at 6 o'clock and the second at 8 p.m.

Everyone is urged to attend the big pep rally and bonfire and help get the Patriots "up" for a big effort against the Mustangs Friday night.

Coach Chalmers says that the squad is in pretty good condition for Friday night's game. There are some bruises and one or two boys who are doubtful perhaps, but most of them are hale and hearty and "rarin to corral a Mustang!" Your presence and support will mean a lot to these youngsters. See you there!

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

Coach Matt Chalmers has named his players of the week for their efforts in the Patriot - Broncho game.

Offensive Player of the Week is Pepper Jones, who plays end on offense.

Coach Chalmers said that Pepper turned in a good offensive performance against the Bronchos, carrying out his assignments well, blocking well, and he caught a pass for a nice gain on one occasion.

Defensive Player of the Week is Brian Wheeler, who plays linebacker on defense.

Brian was in on a lot of tackles in Friday night's contest and since he is a two-way performer, playing fullback on offense, he was a tired bruised Patriot Saturday and Sunday, but he is a tough Patriot, to, and is ready to take on the Mustangs Friday night.

Both Players of the Week this time are only sophomores, and still growing and will get better every game, thus making their coaches smile.

Shirttail Sermon

by Rev. Bill Green
Fairmont Baptist Church

Imagine you are looking at a circle. Everyone has heard of the cycle of life. Today, let us look at a different cycle: the cycle of an eternal life. If a man stands in the middle of a circle facing one direction (let us say at the number 360) and begins to turn and then stops at 90 degrees, he is facing another direction. But, it is not directly opposite from the way he was first looking. If he turns around on the number 270, he is looking in another direction, but is still not opposite the way he started. If this man, or any man, turned in a totally opposite direction from the way he or she started, he would be looking in a totally different way.

What I would like to get across is this: A person that has not been saved by accepting Jesus as personal Savior, is looking down the road to Hell. If he turns partially to one side, and leads a clean life, but does not accept the Lord, he is looking in a different direction, but he has not gone far enough. If he passes up salvation, but goes to church and lives on the right road, he has still not gone far enough.

There is only one way left to go, the number 180. If you will look at the drawing of a circle opposite and is the way through salvation to eternal life. You must accept Jesus as your personal Savior to be saved. Ephesians 4:22-24, "That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man which is corrupt according to the deceitful lists, and be renewed in the spirit of your mind; and that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness."

Chandler, Vivian Merrell and Mrs. Johnson, and Misses Gladys Stroup and Minnie Mae Robertson. Mrs. J. E. Chandler had observed her 87th birthday anniversary the week before.

The honorees received several nice gifts and many good wishes. Refreshments of cakes, coffee, tea and lemonade were served. A very delightful time was enjoyed by all attending.

After roll call, a very interesting program on "A President's Country," was given by Mrs. Gordon Bain, Mrs. R. C. Green and Mrs. Paul Meacham. Refreshments were served to 17 members.

The club will meet at the home of Miss Amy Davis on October 25 with Mrs. Denver Powell as leader.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Josh Smith this week are their grandchildren, Cody and Shawn, children of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Smith of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Woods took a foliage tour through New Mexico last weekend. They left here early Saturday morning leaving Amarillo for Tucumcari, Las Vegas, Tres Ritos, Taos, Red River, back by Cimmaron Canyon, Springer and Clayton, where they stopped for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ike Smith, parents of Joe Edd Smith of Quilake, and former residents of this area. They returned home Sunday night.

W. W. Merrell returned home Monday from the hospital in Plainview where he had spent several days. He is feeling some better, according to reports.

Launch Bicentennial Star Program In All States Of The Union

"The Spirit of '76 - Let It Begin With Me" is the slogan of the international group of licensed pilots, the Ninety-Nines, who recently launched their Bicentennial Star program in Atchison, Kansas. The 99's "Bicentennial Star" program focuses on the five points of the star which is the heart of the Bicentennial symbol. The programs were held at all 50 state capitals.

The project, which was granted official recognition by the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, is extremely broad in its scope, encompassing all three national themes and involving close cooperation with several other organizations. Creating lasting living monuments to friendship, cleaning and beautifying the airports of the country, and celebrating with festivities throughout the land - the 99's will be celebrating America's 200th birthday in a spirit of work, cooperation, dedication and fun.

The Spirit of '76 - of 1976 - as envisioned by the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission is a new spirit, one which honors our past, celebrates our way of life, and makes a firm commitment to our future.

The spirit is embodied in the three thematic areas in which the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission is encouraging observances during the Bicentennial Era: HERITAGE '76 - in which we recall our past, all 200 years of it, and place it in its historical perspective; FESTIVAL USA - a nationwide opportunity to travel, celebrate and enrich our understanding of our country, and to extend a particular welcome to visitors from different parts of the United States and from abroad; and HORIZONS '76 - a challenge to every American, acting individually or with others, to undertake at least one project which manifests the pride, the priorities and the hopes of his community as we enter our third century. Implicit in Horizons '76 is the commitment to create something during the Bicentennial Era which will be of lasting benefit to the future.

The 99's Bicentennial Star Program took off with groundbreaking ceremonies for the International Forest of Friendship. The Forest is located on a 15-acre tract of park land along Warnock Lake near Atchison, Kansas, and it will, upon reaching maturity, provide a pleasant stopping place for travelers in America's heartland, in addition to being an ideal place for the study of trees of the world.

Seedlings of state trees from each of the 50 states were sent to Atchison for the ceremony. The groundbreaking was attended by ARBC Commission Member Lt. General Daniel A. (Chappy) James (USAF) who presented the official ARBC Flag and Certificate of Recognition; Ms. Susie Sewell, International President of the 99's; Kansas Governor Robert B. Docking and Atchison Mayor David R. Laurie. Also present was a representative of the American Forest Institute and several 99's members from abroad. Among the countries were England, Canada, France, Italy and Brazil.

After the groundbreaking and festivities planned by the city of Atchison, five charter members of the 99's took off in private aircraft, starting a chain which reached to the capitol of every state, and other cities, carrying seedlings of Kansas' state tree, the Kansas cottonwood, for planting at the airports of scheduled cities. The 99's presented the cottonwoods to state and city officials upon arrival at the airport. Activities planned at many state capitals in honor of the presentation of the cottonwoods included tree plantings and square dancing.

These ceremonies in the states marked the beginning of another point on the 99's Bicentennial Star. Working in cooperation with the Johnny Horizons '76 "Let's Clean Up America for our 200th Birthday" program, the 99's have determined to see every airport in the United States cleaned up and beautified by 1976. A major aspect of this section of the project, interlocking with their international airmarkings plans, involves an effort to have each airport's name spelled out in evergreens or flowering plants, making it clearly visible from the air. The group feels that the airport is the place where many visitors receive their first impressions of a city, making it an important target for a major cleanup and beautification effort for the Bicentennial.

The International 99's will carry Kansas cottonwoods and an official "Invitation to the World" - another point of the Bicentennial Star - to nations in Europe and the East. Ninety-Nines attending the ceremony from abroad carried the message of friendship and invitation home with them.

All planes participating in the Flyaway bore the official American Revolution Bicentennial Commission symbol on the fuselage.

Amelia Earhart was a charter member of the 99's, and her birthplace and birthdate was chosen to launch the Bicentennial Star Program. Born in Atchison, Kansas on July 24, 1897, Miss Earhart was one of the leading women in American aviation until her disappearance during an attempted trans-Pacific flight in 1937.

Ten years ago, the Ninety-Nines held their first Flyaway from Atchison on her 66th birthday, to observe and publicize the Amelia Earhart Commemorative 8¢ Air Mail Stamp, issued in her honor by the U.S. Post Office Department. This stamp has come to be known as the Stamp of Friendship. Updated First Day covers of the Earhart stamp were also part of the cargo for this Second Flyaway. Many of the women participating in the 99's Second Flyaway were piloting the same aircraft they flew 10 years ago; and, as mentioned earlier, at least five participants were charter members of the organization. Two of the charter member participants in the Flyaway, Pauline Glasen of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Virginia Richardson of Yakima, Washington, have logged over 21,000 hours of flying each. Both women own and operate flying schools. Mrs. Blanche Noyes of Washington, D. C., another charter member, is the FAA's only Chief of Airmarking, a position she has held for over 30 years.

The Ninety-Nines' plans for celebrating the Bicentennial aren't only vast and far-reaching - they are also outreach. They will involve working with federal, state and local authorities, with social and professional organizations with youth and with private individuals. But, with their sights set toward the farthest star, with their own "Bicentennial Star" guiding them and with the commitment implicit in their Bicentennial slogan, there can be little doubt about the success of their endeavors.

BREAD OF LIFE

Sunday, all over the world, Christians will unite in Holy Communion. They won't all agree on the meaning of this sacred act. Nor will they all worship in the same way. Yet they will draw close to the Lord whose truth and blessing they share. They will come to Him. And in their hearts He will come to them. No one knows how this communion is possible. Yet each, according to his own faith, believes that it happens. Mystically, symbolically, miraculously, spiritually—men use these different words to express the SOMEHOW that enflames their hearts. At a Table that spans the centuries, girds the globe, we partake of the Bread of Life—as ONE.

CANCER ANSWER

Your skin is the largest organ of your body, and is the most likely one to develop cancer. Fortunately, skin cancer is highly curable. While over 110,000 Americans will develop skin cancer this year, over 90 per cent of them will be cured.

Skin cancer is readily visible, so it is usually discovered in its early stages. If not neglected, the tumor is easy to treat because it is accessible. In addition, skin cancer is highly curable because the most common form does not spread to other parts of the body.

The sun's ultraviolet rays have been strongly linked with skin cancer because the disease often develops in persons who have had prolonged or excessive exposure to the sun. Farmers and sailors, with their continuous sun exposure are prone to develop skin cancer.

Americans from the southern and southwestern states develop skin cancer more often than their northern counterparts. Similarly, elderly people have been exposed to more sun in their lifetime, and they are the most frequent skin cancer patients. Their skin is often delicate and weathered.

Fair-skinned persons have less resistance to the sun's rays than dark-skinned persons, and must be more careful about exposure to the sun.

EARLY SIGNS

The first evidence of a skin cancer is a dry scaly patch or growth which persists. The lesion may also be an inflamed area with a crusting center or a pearly or waxy nodule. These sores grow slowly, but gradually affect deeper layers of skin.

In later stages, the surface forms a crust or scab while the area underneath is moist and raw, and will bleed when irritated.

Early skin cancer can be cured by surgical removal or by radiation. Some small lesions can be treated by electrodesiccation—the sore is burned out by an electric needle.

While skin cancer can develop from normal skin, many arise where abnormal changes or conditions have been apparent for a long time. These conditions are called "precancerous" because they are not themselves malignant, but possess a tendency to become cancerous.

Senile (actinic) keratosis, the most common precancer, is a dry, scaly patch or clump of patches, usually darker than the surrounding skin. It appears on exposed surfaces, such as the face, neck, ears and hands of older people, especially those constantly exposed to the sun. When the top layer is removed, the base is seen to be made up of red thickened "new skin."

Freckles, skin-colored moles, and reddish birthmarks are not usually precancerous. But dark brown and blue-black, flat or slightly raised moles have the potential of developing into a rare but very serious skin cancer, malignant melanoma. These moles are most likely to become malignant if they are irritated often by friction. For this reason, moles that are rubbed by a belt, collar or shoe should be watched carefully.

Leukoplakia, the white scaly thickening of the lip or mouth membrane, predisposes to cancer. Also, burn scars, chronic skin ulcers, or other inflammatory skin lesions which do not heal may be precancerous.

Any of these lesions should be considered a warning signal, to be examined by a doctor.

OTHER CAUSES

Over exposure of the skin to certain chemicals favors the development of skin cancer, but usually only when the exposure has been excessive as in a factory, or when the skin is extra-sensitive.

The connection between tar compounds and skin cancer dates back to 1775 when English sweepers discovered "chimneysweep cancer," a condition resulting from long exposure to soot.

Lengthy contact with coal tar, pitch, paraffin, certain lubricating oils and compounds containing arsenic have produced precancerous skin changes. Industries using these chemicals will have to find means of protecting the workers from harmful exposure levels of these elements.

Skin cancer is easy to cure when discovered in time. As with most cancers, the key to cure is early detection and prompt treatment. Too many fatalities result because the patient ignores a sore or treats it himself with ointments or quack "cures". Self-treatment may alter the appearance of the lesion, making accurate diagnosis more difficult.

PREVENTION

The American Cancer Society says the way to prevent skin cancer is simply take care of your skin. People who constantly work outdoors should wear protective clothing and lotions to shield their skin from the rays of the sun.

Men with scaly patches or moles on their faces should shave carefully so they won't injure these areas.

The person who works with substances that are suspected as cancer-producing should wear clean clothes and avoid long use of sooty, tarry or greasy clothing. He should use soap and water frequently to cleanse the skin of these substances.

If you have skin blemishes which are often irritated by clothing, these blemishes should be seen by a doctor.

Heed your body's warning signals. If you have a change in a wart, mole or birthmark, or if you have a sore that does not heal in ten days, now is the time to show it to your doctor. Delay or self-treatment only gives the cancer a chance to grow.

For more information about skin cancer, contact your American Cancer Society.

Youthful Trailblazers

Learning early to move farther from home, step by step, brings a child the independence and confidence he'll use to approach life.

These qualities take as long to learn as math, reading or writing—in the short span of time from childhood to adolescence.

Parents need to start early helping their youngsters learn to tackle new things and places.

They do this by showing they're clearly confident that youngsters can get to school okay by themselves on the second or third day—or that a child can take a trip to a nearby park with lunch and bicycle in the company of another child who already knows how.

An established pattern serves as a guide: the child learns to go with someone who has gone there before. He shares the experience with one or two friends. And he has his parents' confidence that he is sensible and won't get into trouble.

The child knows he's not adrift. He knows what the limits are and has no doubt he can get all the help he might need to face anything he can't handle.

Also, while he has many of the beliefs of his parents, he can develop some of his own—with which parents might disagree—without losing their love.

In this step-by-step trailblazing, the maturing boy or girl discovers how to find the way, what to look for in a companion, and how not to over-extend himself.

He learns to be resourceful, to avoid emergencies and to meet them when they occur.

These are lessons to learn by late childhood. Then the adolescent finds that he can safely cross an assumption or a continent—that he can take a job far away from home. He becomes an adult who knows he has the competence to take his own path in thought and action.

Women for Wayland To Meet October 23

Women for Wayland will meet on the campus of Wayland Baptist College Tuesday, October 23, according to Mrs. O. R. Stark, Quitaque, president of the organization.

Women for Wayland is a group of West Texas women banded together to promote Wayland Baptist College. The women begin their day with coffee at 10:00 a.m. in Slaughter Memorial Center and then visit classes. Members of the Student Foundation will serve as guides to the classes and conduct campus tours.

At noon the group will be guests for lunch in the bandhall of Haral Music Center. Dr. Roy McClung, president of the college, and a member of Student Foundation will speak.

Following the luncheon, excerpts from "The Would Be Gentleman" by Moliere, will be presented. This first production of the year by Wayland Baptist College Theatre will be presented October 25-27. Mr. Everett Robertson, instructor in speech and theatre, is the director.

All women in the area who are interested in supporting Wayland are invited to attend this meeting.

McGee Retires As District Engineer

State Highway Engineer B. L. DeBerry today announced the retirement of Virgil J. McGee as district engineer of the Texas Highway Department in Childress and named Lewis H. White as his successor.

McGee has been in charge of Highway Department operations in 13 Northwest Texas counties since 1964. "Virgil has served his entire highway career in the northwest area of the state," DeBerry said, "and the fine system of Interstate and primary highways and Farm to Market Roads stand as evidence of a job well done."

McGee began with the Highway Department in 1935 as a roadman in the Moore County residency. He became district engineer in Amarillo before becoming district engineer at Childress two years later. His retirement is effective on November 30.

4-H Photographers Say It Thru Pictures

"Communicate the sure way—with photographs," advise 102,000 4-H boys and girls in the national 4-H photography program. And they follow their own advice with a double assist from the Cooperative Extension Service and Eastman Kodak Company.

Armed with a camera, these young people are ready to share their thoughts, ideas and creativity with others. They also share their photographic skills with younger 4-H members in meetings and field trips.

Some youths, like Fred Gurley of Jefferson, Ga., are using their photo know-how to help people in their communities learn about 4-H and its activities.

Recognizing that his local newspaper didn't carry much information about 4-H events, he landed a job as a part-time photographer for the paper. With young Gurley taking pictures of local 4-H activities and his editor running them in the paper, both have become active 4-H communicators.

And young Gurley's efforts in promoting 4-H through photography paid off another way with a $1,000 scholarship as one of six national winners, last year, in the 4-H photography program.

Another 1972 national winner and scholarship recipient was Vicki Lynn Bain, of Lawton, Okla. Using her skills she learned through the 4-H photography program, she expressed herself by creating visual demonstrations and exhibits showing, not only her 4-H story, but the story of her club as well.

Currently teaching photography to 4-H'ers in a four county area, Miss Bain has also created a short course on photography, using slides, that proved so successful it was presented at both the county and state fairs.

Along with awarding six $1,000 scholarships to national winners in the program, Eastman Kodak Company also provides recognition to outstanding 4-H photographers at the county and state levels.

Up to four county winners receive medals of honor, while one winner in each state receives an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29, courtesy of Kodak.

For more information on 4-H photography, contact the county extension office.

Things aren't going TOO well

Adults see the intensity of a child's emotion—but seldom understand. Our natural tendency is to assume a child is small and his feelings are just "miniatures" of our own.

To the contrary, many childhood emotions are more intense than anything we feel . . . stronger because the child hasn't yet learned to understand and curb his feelings.

This is the ideal time to begin religious education. Then a child's understanding of himself grows with his perception of spiritual values.

Sunday morning in church is the high point in thousands of "little lives." Things that aren't going too well have a way of straightening out when you're grasping the central truth of Christianity:

JESUS LOVES ME!
This I know!

You can't live on love forever.

Okay, you're young. You've got all the love in the world and you're doing your best to live on it. Retirement? That's for when you're old, right?

It's for when you're old if you can afford it.

The kind of retirement you're after isn't the typical rocking-away-on-the-front-porch variety. You probably picture yourself taking extended vacations, pursuing hobbies, or buying that forty acres and living off the land. Pipe dreams? Not if you prepare now.

There's an easy, painless way to make your retirement dreams a reality. Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. That way, an amount you specify will be set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's an easy way to save.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Now is the time to start saving. Money's a nice thing to have while you're living on love forever.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

New School Classifications Coming In November

An announcement concerning the classification of Texas high schools into conferences and districts for the 1974-75 and 1975-76 school years will be forthcoming from the University Interscholastic League office in November. Many coaches anticipate this biennial announcement of the "new" arrangement of districts in hopes that perhaps their school will be assigned to a conference or district more favorable to their level of competition or geographical location.

The 1973-74 "Constitution and Contest Rules" of the Interscholastic states that Texas will be divided into districts for Conferences AAAA, AAA, AA, A, B, Six-man, and Eight-man football. On even-numbered years all participating schools are assigned to a conference for a period of two years. The only exceptions to the rule are newly-created schools and consolidated schools, which can be assigned to a conference on a one-year basis during the odd-numbered years.

ADM SETS ASSIGNMENT

Member schools are assigned to a conference on the basis of the number enrolled in the last four grades in high school as determined by the figures given in average daily membership of the Superintendents Annual Report. Without exception all high schools must play in the conference for which their average daily membership qualifies them.

In the spring of 1973 all member schools reported their average daily membership for the 1971-72 and 1972-73 school years. These figures will be used for assigning schools to conferences for the 1974-75 and 1975-76 school years.

TWO-YEAR AVERAGE

This information is reported to the University Interscholastic League office, where it is compiled. The same information is also figured at the Texas Education Agency from reports submitted by the superintendents and principals each year. The average for the two years is computed and punched in data cards. The computer is used to rank order the schools from the largest average daily membership to the smallest.

In Conferences AAAA, AA, and A it has been determined by committee that there will be 32 districts. This dictates that there can be no more than ten teams per district. This also means that there can be no zoned districts where a district playoff is necessary. An attempt is made to keep the districts to six or eight teams, or an average of 224 teams in each of these conferences. In some instances it is not feasible to maintain these figures.

COUNTDOWN SYSTEM

To determine the minimum enrollment figure in Conference AAAA, a countdown is made from the top of the list—the largest school—to approximately the 225th largest school. Whatever the enrollment is at that school helps to determine the cutoff or minimum enrollment for Conference AAAA. This countdown procedure is also followed for determining the minimum and maximum enrollment figures for Conferences AAA, AA, A, and B. What the enrollment figures for each conference will be for the 1974-75 and 1975-76 school years cannot be determined until the above procedure is completed.

AAAA VARIANCE GREATEST

The top two-year average figure for Conference AAAA was 4,445. This figure was based upon that school's average daily membership for the 1969-70 and 1970-71 school years. The minimum enrollment in Conference AAAA was 1,120, which leaves a difference of 3,325 between the largest school and the minimum enrollment. This variance is considerably larger than in the other conferences.

Conference AAA average daily membership figures range from 500 to 1,120, a difference of 620. Average daily membership figures in Conference AA range from 230 to 500, a difference of 270. In Conference A the average daily membership figures range from 120 to 230, or a difference of 110, and the Conference B average daily membership cutoff is 119 and under. A high school with less than 100 may enter a team in six- or eight-man football.

Eight of the 1973 championship and runnerup teams were in the upper third in enrollment within their conference, and the other two schools were in the upper half in enrollment in their conference.

No matter where you make the cutting point, there will always be differences in school size, and those with fewer will perhaps be dissatisfied.

There is no simple solution to the problem of classifying schools and assigning them to districts. The University Interscholastic League office and Legislative Council are open for suggestions for any method that might improve the system of classifying schools. Coaches should make any such suggestions through their superintendents to the UIL office. If a solution is offered that the Committee feels is feasible and will help the situation, it will be put into operation.

DR. JOHN H. BOYD

Dr. Boyd Releases Statement On Federal Hearings

As round two of their hearings with the federal government comes up on October 18 in Dallas, Texas physicians and hospital administrators are charging that the Professional Standards Review Organization (PSRO) guidelines arbitrarily limiting the number of physicians in a PSRO area will result in an expensive administrative nightmare and higher health care costs to the general public, according to Dr. John H. Boyd, of Silverton, president of Texas Osteopathic Medical Association.

Region VI of the Department of Health Education and Welfare has called a second meeting on PSRO area designation for Thursday, October 18 at 10:00 a.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Statler Hilton in Dallas. At the first hearing they held August 24 in Dallas they received only one presentation and it was for a statewide PSRO designation with the Texas Institute of Medical Assessment, a nonprofit corporation, as the contractor with DHEW. TIMA was specifically created to implement the PSRO amendment passed a year ago by the Congress, Dr. Boyd said.

TIMA is seeking a single contract from the Secretary of DHEW to administer peer review under the PSRO amendment in Texas. Membership and participation in TIMA is open to all licensed physicians in Texas, including both D. O.s and M. D.s, as required by the PSRO statute.

Spokesman for the TIMA plan at the October 18 meeting in Dallas will be Dr. Joseph T. Painter (M.D.) of Houston, chairman of the TIMA Steering Committee; Dr. John H. Boyd (D.O.) of Silverton, president of the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association, and Dr. Charles B. Dryden (M.D.) of Wichita Falls, president of the Texas Medical Association.

Peer review under the PSRO statute is designed to determine the appropriateness and medical necessity of care rendered Medicare and Medicaid patients, he stated. The staff of the U. S. Senate Finance Committee and DHEW are insisting that there be a 2500 limit on the number of physicians included in a designated PSRO area. Texas physicians and hospital administrators contend that Texas should be designated a single PSRO area with peer review function being carried on at the local level by utilization review committees in hospitals, nursing homes and other health care institutions, according to Dr. Boyd.

"We are encouraged in our drive to secure the single area designation for the state by an amendment approved by the U. S. Senate Finance Committee this week as presented by Texas Senator Bentsen, which would allow for a statewide area designation and would prohibit the Secretary of DHEW from refusing to designate any qualified organization as a PSRO contractor solely on the basis of the number of physicians practicing in the area designated," Dr. Boyd stated.

"Our main concern is to save the taxpayers money and deliver the best possible care to the patient," he declared.

TWO NEW VETERANS BENEFITS NOW AVAILABLE

Two new veterans benefits, part of the National Cemetery Act approved by the President June 18, became effective in August and September, according to Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office Director.

For veterans who died on or after August 1, 1973, the Veterans Administration can pay a plot or interment allowance of $150 in addition to the $250 maximum already authorized.

Starting September 1, payment of funeral expenses up to $800 is authorized for veterans who die of service-connected causes.

Coker pointed out that VA has funeral directors or other persons for some time paid allowances to who bore veterans' burial expenses, provided claims were filed within two years of permanent burial or cremation.

The agency also pays transportation costs of veterans whose deaths occur in its hospitals or domiciliarys, or who died while hospitalized or being treated at the agency's expense.

Coker said the current maximum $250 burial allowance has been in effect since 1958, and traced this history of burial allowances:

- War Risk Insurance Act of 1917 provided up to $100 toward burial expenses of certain persons whose deaths occurred before discharge from military service.
- In 1923, allowance extended to veterans with insufficient funds to cover burial expenses.

- Economy Acts of 1933 reduced $100 allowance to $75.
- Allowance restored to $100 by executive order in 1934.
- Assets limitation on allowances removed in 1936.
- Maximum allowance increased from $100 to $150 under Public Law 79-529 in 1946.
- Public law 85-674 increased allowance to current $250 maximum in 1958.

Hospital Association and the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association met in Washington last week with 22 Texas Congressmen and Senator Bentsen.
