$185,000 Budget For 1995-96 OK'd by Turkey Council Concern Focuses on Loss of Rural Fire Revenue

In regular meeting of the Turkey City Council July 20, 1995, the proposed budget of $185,000 for the year 1995-96 was approved. The action came after the council discussed and considered the loss of revenue previously received from the county for fighting rural fires.

Members present for the meeting were Mayor George Colvin, and councilmen Louis Randall, Ray Whitaker, Vicki Lindsey, and Rick Mullin.

Visiting were city manager Jerry Landry, Deputy Sheriff Steve Farley, Karen Yates, Pat Carnes, Kathy Farley, and Scott Johnson.

Carnes commented on the problems created in the street south of Allsups by large trucks using the street to turn around. No action was taken.

Johnson updated the council on the status of a grant application to Texas Department of Transportation. He also reported on the development being on the Trailway, by the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Following the disposition of routine monthly business, the council opened bids on city property advertised for sale. The highest bid on each property was accepted.

In other business, they approved adding an assessment of $.50 to the water bill to help defray cost of mosquito spraying chemicals and other expenses associated with its distribution.

The assessment will be effective on the September, 1995, billing.

Cemetery Board Meeting Held

Members of the Turkey Dreamland Cemetery Board met last week in the Senior Citizens Room.

It was reported that it is time to pay cemetery dues. Many people have commented on how nice the cemetery looks. In order to keep our cemetery looking nice, we must collect our dues. The dues are use to pay the employee who does all the mowing and keeping the grounds. They are also use for the maintenance of the equipment used. Remember, the employee does not maintain personal lots. That is the the responsibility of whoever owns the plots.

Several people are delinquent in paying their dues, please pay them as soon as possible.

To pay your dues, which are $10 a year, mail them to Arlowene Williams or call her at 423-1224.

Perry Says Prop 3 Can Have Three to One Job Return

Voters will have a chance November 7 to create jobs through Proposition 3, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said today. The proposition will help build the state's agribusiness manufacturing base by providing financing to help companies, such as food processors and apparel manufacturers, start up or expand their business.

"Being number three on the ballot is appropriate because about three additional jobs are created for each new ag processing job," Perry said. "For instance, a food processor may employ five people, but approximately 15 additional people will be employed through trucking, shipping, restaurant and supermarket position.

The Proposition 3 position was granted at a Wednesday drawing for ballot placement in the November 7 election, during which 14 constitutional amendments will be decided. Proposition 3 asks voters to approve transferring $200 million in existing bonding authority from the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority's Farm and Ranch Finance Program to TAFE's Loan Guaranty Program, increasing its funding from $25 million to $225 million.

"It's important to note... that it is not asking voters to approve new debt or new taxes," Perry said.

Caprock Youth Bicycle Race Scheduled for August 19

The Caprock Bike Club will sponsor a youth bicycle race on August 19. The Saturday event will be held to include boys and girls ages thru 12 years old with classifications divided by age groups. The planned derby is designed to be fun for participants, spectators and parents.

Although winners will be established, all participants will receive winner ribbons or participant ribbons.

The course for the event will be located on the old CoOp gin yard and participants will be in view of spectators throughout most of the race. Any kind of bicycle may be used or may be borrowed from other participants who are not participating at the time. All participants will be required to wear helmets and shirts. No open toed shoes may be worn while competing.

Cost to participants will be one dollar to cover costs and parents will be asked to sign a release waiver before the youth compete.

The course will be approximately one mile long and the older youth will be required to rider the course two or more times to complete the race. Experienced adult riders will lead the race and other adults will be positioned along the course to help insure safety and assist riders to stay on the correct route. The race will start at 9:30 AM. Parents are encouraged to be in attendance. Out of town participants are invited.

Relative of Area Residents Instrumental In Bringing Internet to Stephenville

(The following article was taken from the front page of the Stephenville Empire Tribune July 18. Mark Hamilton is the son-in-law of Ann Coker

Stephenville will have access to almost any location in the world via computer when hook-up is completed for the new full Internet access mode in a little over a month.

Clay Helms, Mark Hamilton, Michael Mooney and other employees of Eagle Information Systems are putting the computer system together. They are shooting for Sept. 1 for the general public to get on-line and start using the system.

By dialing a local telephone number, local users will be able to access anything within the Internet, which is a worldwide connection of thousands of computers using the telecommunications infrastructure.

"If you're sitting at home and you want to, you can connect to information that is archived at the University of Illinois," Hamilton said. "It's no more difficult to connect to Illinois, though, than to the university in Jerusalem."

Through a local telephone, users will be able to access computer services which previously were only available with a long distance telephone call, Helms said.

"People and businesses in Stephenville will have access to resources that previously were only available to people and businesses in large cities," Hamilton said. "As the Internet grows, more and more businesses are making business communications because it is a relatively inexpensive mode of transferring information."

He said that Tarleton State University has access to the Internet, but the equipment is not available to the general public.

Services that are available to the general public now are not used very much, because of the long distance bills that go along with the service. Now, subscribers to the service will only pay $29 to $49 a month, depending on the level of service desired, and will need a fairly modern computer, preferably with a Windows program, and a modem.

Hamilton said he uses the system to stay connected to all his friends he made in the military all over the world.

"Just like you would use a telephone or the U.S. Postal Service, I use E-mail..." Hamilton said.

"As far as what can be found on the Internet, it's only limited by what you can find in the world."

Benefit Luncheon For Sr. Citizens Said Successful

The food was good, and the crowd was large, as everyone enjoyed a good time and fellowship at the senior citizens benefit luncheon recently.

Many people assisted in the benefit, Grady Tyler, Methodist women, Catholic Church, and Dale Smith.

The senior citizens group reported that almost enough money was raised at the benefit to repair the roof on their building, and extend their appreciation to all who helped in any way.

We don't understand life any better at forty than at twenty, but we know it and admit it.

FHA NEWS

Cara Powell, junior at Valley High School recently attended the 1995 Future Homemakers of America National Leadership Meeting, July 9-13 in Washington, D.C.

She represented more than 36,000 members of the Texas Association as one of sixteen voting delegates. As a voting delegate, Cara had the opportunity to interview and vote for the national officer candidates for the coming year. She also was a part of the voting delegate session at the business meeting.

The theme "Youth Leading the Way" was carried out at sessions and activities held throughout the week that challenged members to inspire confidence, learn about opportunities for improving families and communities, community service, and membership involvement. The 50th anniversary of the organization was also celebrated.

Thursday, Cara was able to visit Capitol Hill and meet with the congressional representative, Mac Thornberry, along with the other Texas delegates from his district. The same afternoon all the delegates met on the Capitol steps to receive a commendation from the Secretary of Transportation concerning a national FHA project called FACTS (Families acting for community traffic safety) which has cut by 50% the amount of teenage deaths in automobile accidents in Oklahoma. The Texas delegates were then able to tour Arlington National Cemetery, view John F. Kennedy's grave, and participate in a wreath laying ceremony at the tomb of the unknown soldier.

Future Homemakers of America is a vocational student organization with the family as its central focus. The national meeting emphasized this theme.

Accompanying Cara was her advisor, Kathy Taylor.

Sizzling Summer Tips

(NAPS)—Don't let Summer heat "fry" your hair, nails or skin. Beth Barrick-Hickey, author of "500 Beauty Solutions" offers expert solutions to keep you "sizzling" all Summer long!

Q. How does salt water damage my hair, and what should I do to get it out of my hair?

A. When salt water dries on the hair, it creates a high-saline solution which can cause mineral deposits to build up on hair, resulting in hair that is weighed down and cannot grow. Hair should be washed as soon as you get out of the water. Action Pool and Spa Shampoo and Salon Care Ultra Moisturizing Anti-Chlorine Shampoo can remove salt water from hair.

Q. When should I shave my legs before going to the beach?

A. Wait twelve hours after shaving or waxing to plunge into the spa, pool, lake or ocean. Shaving stubble is the one drawback of shaving, although it is still the most popular method for removing leg and bikini hair.

Q. I am a lifeguard and am consequently in the sun a lot. What can I do to keep my nails from yellowing?

A. There are polish topcoats available that contain an ultra violet inhibitor to help prevent natural nails from yellowing. Also, these topcoats help prevent lighter polishes from changing colors or turning yellow. Try Beauty Secrets Fast Finish or Beauty Secrets Nail Hardener and Thickener.

Q. I never have time for deep-penetrating hair treatments. When is best, morning or night?

A. It doesn't matter. You can, and should, condition hair anytime. If you want a deep-penetrating treatment, you may want to shampoo at night and condition while showering, wearing a plastic cap on the head so the conditioner penetrates better. If it is a conditioner that dries in the hair, you could do this at night and re-wet hair to style it in the morning. A daily leave-in conditioner is a great answer to protecting hair from daily abuse of sun, wind and hot styling appliances.

Alzheimer's is a family disease

HEALTH FOCUS

You are not alone. Your loved one may have Alzheimer's disease, a degenerative disorder of the brain's nerve cells, but it affects every member of your family.

When someone you love has this tragic disease which leads to loss of memory and other thinking abilities and eventually death, it is crucial for the family of the afflicted person to take care of themselves as well. Alzheimer's can tear a family apart, and can wreak havoc on the mental and physical health of caregivers, in most cases, close family members.

According to Dr. Rachelle

Doody, clinical director of the Alzheimer's Disease Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, there are several things that can be done.

Most important — retaining a sense of "self." Caregivers often get so wrapped up in caring for the Alzheimer's patient, that they neglect their physical, mental and often, spiritual well-being.

Family members should aim to:

- Learn to lean on others. Don't be afraid to ask for help.
- Avoid social isolation as much as possible.
- Maintain a sense of humor. Laughter can be a strong medicine.
- Find a confidant to talk to.
- Participate in community support groups, counseling, and educational programs.
- Acknowledge feelings of depression and express feelings of anger, sadness, loss, love, hope, guilt, resentment, etc. Alzheimer's is no one's fault, and it's catastrophic. It's okay to feel a range of emotions.

• Define what can be "controlled." Much about Alzheimer's is uncontrollable. Control that which you can.

• Learn to talk with other family members. A disease like Alzheimer's can exacerbate long-standing family differences. Use the situation as a catalyst for change and for closer family communication.

Above all, realize that you truly are not alone. There are thousands of Americans suffering just as you are. Reach out for support and guidance by contacting the Alzheimer's Association at 1-800-272-3900. The group can locate the nearest chapter.

You don't have to do this alone.

Herrington's Tour Virginia

Ross and Patsy Herrington recently returned from a wonderful trip to Virginia where they visited with six groups of friends and stayed in the homes of four of them.

They were met at the airplane in Richmond, Virginia by Bill and Wendy Ellet and daughter Katie. They spent the night in their beautiful colonial home, and toured Richmond the next day.

They went through the capitol building and grounds and saw Edgar Allen Poe's home, old tobacco shops and beautiful plantation homes.

Next they went to Crewe, Virginia a town of about 3,000 and visited with Joe Flowers and Dianne. Dianne owns an antique shop and was helping with an estate sale, so Patsy had lots of fun there while Ross and Joe went fishing on their beautiful lake in the forest.

Later they were hosted to a fish fry in their honor at the lakeside home of Danny and Judy Flippins. Almost 25 people were in attendance.

A day later they went home with Bill and Lang Wilson to Covington, Virginia. Bill is an attorney there, and they had a lovely, spacious home in the forest. While there they toured Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, Appomatox, where the fighting between the North and South ended, the historical Greenbrier Hotel in West Virginia where they had lunch, and the historical Homestead Mansion Hotel where many famous families spent their summers. They spent three days there at Covington.

Returning to Crewe, Virginia they attended a chicken festival where thousands were in attendance. Chicken was served in every manner possible including rooster stew, fried, chicken casserole, barbecued and many more.

While at Crewe they saw the grave of Lottis Moon, famous missionary.

Another fish fry was on the agenda at the home of Ray and Harriet Lowry in the beautiful countryside by a lake where Ross again went fishing. Almost 30 people attended this one.

They returned home with Bill Ellet who took them to the airplane. It was a trip always to be remembered and treasured.

Memories To Give You Goosebumps

Joe Murray Commentary taken from Waco-Tribune Herald

In the good ol' summertime, there was nothing better than a good old-fashioned ice cream supper. Lee Hill-Nelson of Waco remembers...

"I held a spoonful of ice cream on my tongue and let it slowly slide down my throat. I wanted the taste to stay forever.

"For folk in the Texas Panhandle during the 1930s, an ice cream supper after a hot summer day was a welcome respite.

"My aunts, uncles and cousins populated at least half of the community, and so it was that when Grandpa and Aunt Sarah, my step-grandmother, hosted an ice cream supper, we made memories.

"One evening stands out in my mind, a night of dark shadows that danced to the flickering of a kerosene lantern.

"As the men cranked the freezers for what seemed an eternity, brothers, sisters and cousins played hide-and-go-seek, scary as it was.

"Grandpa's house sat close to canyons. Coyotes howled, and they seemed close.

"Some of us dared not hide too far from the light, and we were caught easier than those who were brave enough to go deep into the darkness.

"After we tired of the game, Aunt Sarah spread quilts and old blankets on the ground so that we could rest.

"We gazed at the black Texas sky with millions of stars and contemplated the nature of the universe.

"The Milky Way looked like an explosion of stars, all close together.

"My cousin Joe, already in high school, was the smart one. He pointed out star patterns and told us why they had certain names.

"Older kids also told ghost stories, inventing new ones each time we got together. Two people had died and were 'laid out' in Grandpa's house. This haunted house was perfect setting for scary talk.

"To me, the ghost stories seemed real, and I thought I could see white figures floating through the sky over a tall cottonwood tree and then past the house.

"As the freezers gradually became hard to turn, it was then the men decided the ice cream was ready, and there was a scurry to open the freezer cans and remove dashers so that we could be served.

"When the sun sinks in the Panhandle, nights cool. As we ate ice cream, some of us got the shivers and wrapped ourselves in the blankets and quilts.

"Coyotes howling from across the canyon...gazing at stars in a black sky...listening to ghost stories in front of a haunted house...eating ice cream with kinfolk...

"I am glad for the memories we made."

 This ice cream supper took place at the Bride Bit Community east of Turkey, Texas. Mr. E. L. Hill, Sr. was the grandfather of Lee Hill-Nelson, who did the speaking in this article.

None but a well-bred man knows how to confess a fault or acknowledge himself in an error.

Take Back The Night!

Take Part In America's Night Against Crime!

Tuesday, August first, Americans coast to coast will turn on their porch lights in recognition of National Night Out — a special night designed to raise awareness of crime prevention and take back the night. And you can join them.

Take the lead in your neighborhood. Organize a block party or barbecue. Encourage your neighbors to attend. It's a great chance to get to know them better.

Invite local police to come and talk about crime prevention and demonstrate safety procedures. Get your kids involved. Encourage them to make posters and yard signs.

Spend one night out for safety. You'll rest easier year-round.

BE SURE TO PUT FAITH ON YOUR LIST OF VACATION NEEDS

In preparing for your vacation this year, you have undoubtedly made a list of all the things you will need for the trip. Among other essentials, this will probably include swimwear, sports equipment, camera and camping gear if it is appropriate. However, there is one more item that you should make room for in your luggage: the Bible. Whatever your destination, you hope that God will protect you along the way and see that you return home safely. Since you may not be where you can find a House of Worship, you should pay Him homage by spending a few minutes reading the sacred passages. In fact, they will have even more significance if you happen to be in a scenic area where the wonders of creation are right there before your eyes. This is visible proof that God has been there before you, and that His love will guide you wherever you go on earth.

Setliff Reunion
Lorene and Arville Setliff were in Amarillo last week to attend the Setliff Family reunion.

The Setliff brothers and sisters met at the home of one of the girls, Chloe (Setliff) and Frank Stevens of Amarillo. Also attending were Doris (Setliff) Babb from Hollywood, Florida; Marlene (Setliff) Boyce from Dallas and Hubert and Dale Setliff from Plainview. All the survivors were there but one sister.

In the afternoon they toured one of the historical homes on Tyler Street in Amarillo. The daughter of the Stevens lives in this home.

Things Seen or Heard

Alpha (Mullin) Bonds is in Houston. Alpha is receiving treatment for a malignancy. We hope she is able to return home soon.

Beth Mills, who now lives in Amarillo and attending school, was in Turkey over the week-end visiting with her parents, the Jess Mullins.

Visiting in the home of Rita Guest last week was her brother, Olen Lane of Midland. After enjoying lunch with Rita, the two drove out to see the crops. They reported they looked good but were little.

Patrons of the Turkey Drive-In were at a loss last Monday. Linda Ferguson was unable to open the cafe as she had to stay with her Mother, Zona Lane. Marie Hurst had been staying with Zona but Mrs. Hurst became ill. Since Zona isn't able to stay alone, Linda had to stay with her.

Arlie Williams and Willie Grace Majors were in Lubbock last Monday to take Willie's Mother to the doctor for a check-up. Grace Mullins received a good report.

Joyce Guest moved into her home last week-end. After retiring from the teaching profession for several years in the Dallas area, she bought the former Crump home and retired to her old home town. She will also enjoy being close to her parents, Lillian and H.E. Mullin.

Danny and Laura Stewart and children, Katrina and Brandon, are enjoying the cool in South Fork, Colorado this week. Tessa Mullin is managing Laura's Beauty Shop this week.

B.J. Robinson was transported to Amarillo last Wednesday. He had gall-bladder surgery in Ft. Worth last week. At last report she was recuperating fine.

We have heard that Olga Mohon, a former Turkey resident who now lives at Lake Whitney, had major surgery in Ft. Worth last week. At last report she was recuperating fine.

Received a letter from Barbara Eudy recently. She reported that she and Jay are considering moving from Austin. They want to return to their roots in the Panhandle or close to it. Right now they are considering a move to Levelland where their daughter, Jill and Stan Roberts and daughter live. It will be good to have the Eudy's in our area again.

I want to thank all my readers who have been calling in their news. If you tell me your news on the street, chances are good that I will forget it if I don't have it written down. It's easy to call me as I have an answering service so if I'm not at home, I will get your message.

Our daughter, Linda Hamilton of Stephenville, arrived here last Thursday. A few miles from Turkey she was stopped by the Highway Patrol. Her excuse for speeding was she was in a hurry to see her two sons who were staying with us didn't carry any weight with the patrolman. She got the speeding ticket anyway. She and the boys returned to their home last Monday. She said it took her forever to get home as she had to drive so slow.

Visiting in the home of Thomas and Patsy Tynney recently were Patsy's sister and husband, Peggy and Craig Bender from Ft. Worth. Also visiting with the Tynney's was Patsy's niece, Jamie Mayes from Corsicana.

Lewis and Mozelle Eudy had a card from Bill and Cleo Green of Slaton, who are vacationing in Virginia with their daughter and family, Carol, Bill, Trey and Eric Wade of Pampa. Carol and Bill's son Shawn is stationed there in the Navy in Norfolk, Virginia. Shawn's wife and daughter, Lesa are there too.

Cleo says they were in Colonial Williamsburg this past week, just like the colonies, beautiful trees and Merchants Square is a contemporary shopping and dining area combining the 20th Century with the 18th Century atmosphere.

Stella Davis wrote a nice letter to Lewis and Mozelle Eudy. She is still the sweet Stella, goes to church there in Bartlesville every Sunday. She says to tell Byron "Hello" as she hears from all of us through Bryon. We all still miss her.

For several weeks we had been planning a trip to Canyon to see "Texas". Last Friday, Linda and boys, Zach and Joah, Coker and I drove to the canyon where we met our other daughter, Brenda and three of her friends from Sabin. The Sabin group had driven in from Red River where they had spent the week. After standing in line we finally received our tickets and found our seats. Just as the play started, it started to rain.

It rained off and on for a time then the lightening and thunder began. It was quite spectacular so when the make believe electrical storm began, it was anti-climax. When intermission came, we left for Turkey, leaving the Sabin group to watch the rest of the drama.

Saturday, Brenda and her group arrived at our house for supper and for Brenda to pick up her dog which we had had while she was in Colorado. They reported that it continued to rain after we left and they finally had to give up and leave before it was over. They were camping in the canyon. They returned to Sabin on Sunday.

FAITH INSISTS THAT ALL OF GOD'S CREATURES HAVE RIGHTS

"Every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused."

-1 Timothy 4:4

There is a continuing world-wide controversy over so-called animal rights, concerning the unnecessary or inhumane killing of some species, as well as the method of procuring animals for use in laboratory experiments and the extent to which these procedures are vital to the advancement of medical science. While no one denies that a great deal of progress has resulted from this work with animals, there have been instances of bizarre and cruel experiments which apparently serve no worthwhile purpose and subject them to much needless suffering. We have learned that God made all forms of life on earth, and while He gave man dominion over the animals, this authority does not give people the right to torture them. At your House of Worship, you will acquire the love and compassion needed to help abolish these excesses against the animals, which are the most innocent and helpless of God's creatures.

The Aging Process And Your Vision

(NAPS)—Next to heart disease and arthritis, impaired vision is the greatest handicap affecting older Americans, according to the Better Vision Institute (BVI). Fortunately, new medical, surgical and optical technologies make it possible for physicians to help people overcome many diseases and disorders that can affect their vision as they age.

Signs that a vision problem may exist include hazy or blurred vision and glare, recurrent pain in and around the eyes, double vision, flashes of light, halos around lights or sensitivity to light. Some conditions may be symptomless until the condition is already at an advanced stage. Regular eye examinations with an eyecare professional can help diagnose and treat problems, in some cases, before they become severe and more difficult to treat.

For more information concerning age-related vision problems, write to: the Better Vision Institute, P.O. Box 77097, Washington, D.C. 20013, or call 1-800-424-8422.
